1 An exhortation to praise God, and to seek out his works. 2 The story of God's providence over Abraham, 16 over Joseph, 22 over Jacob in Egypt, 26 over Moses delivering the Israelites, 27 over the Israelites brought out of Egypt, led in the wilderness, and planted in Canaan. 28 Give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name; make known his deeds among the people. 29 Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him: talk ye of all his wondrous works. 30 Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord. 4 Seek the Lord, and his strength: seek his face evermore. 5 "Remember his marvellous works that he hath done; his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth: 6 O ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye children of Jacob his chosen. 7 He is the Lord our God: his judgments are in all the earth. 8 He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations. 9 "Which covenant he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac; 10 And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant: 11 Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance; 12 When they were few in number; yea, very few, and strangers in it. 13 When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people;
14 "He suffered no man to do them wrong; yea, he reproved kings for their sakes;
15 Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.
16 Moreover he called for a famine upon the land: he brake the whole staff of bread.
17 He sent a man before them, even Joseph, who was sold for a servant;
18 Whose feet they hurt with fetters: he was laid in iron:
19 Until the time that his word came: the word of the Lord tried him.
20 The king sent and loosed him: even the ruler of the people, and let him go free.
21 He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance:
22 To bind his princes at his pleasure; and teach his senators wisdom.
23 Israel also came into Egypt; and Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.
24 And he increased his people greatly; and made them stronger than their enemies.
25 He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal subtilly with his servants.
26 He sent Moses his servant; and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 They showed his signs among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.
28 He sent darkness, and made it dark; and they rebelled not against his word.
29 He turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.
30 Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the chambers of their kings.
31 He spake, and there came divers sorts of flies, and lice in all their coasts.
32 He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land.
33 He smote their vines also and their fig-trees; and brake the trees of their coasts.
34 He spake, and the locusts came, and caterpillars, and that without number.
35 And did eat up all the herbs in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.
36 He smote also all the first-born in their land, the chief of all their strength.
37 He brought them forth also with silver and gold: and there was not one feeble person among their tribes.
38 Egypt was glad when they departed: for the fear of them fell upon them.
39 He spread a cloud for a covering: and fire to give light in the night.
40 The people asked, and he brought quails, and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.
41 He opened the rock, and the waters gushed out; they ran in the dry places like a river.
DEATH OF THE FIRSTBORN.

42 For he remembered *his holy promise, and Abraham his servant.
43 And he brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with gladness;
44 *And gave them the hands of the heathen: and they inherited the labour of the people; 45 *That they might observe his statutes, and keep his laws. *Praise ye the Lord.

PSALM CXLII.

1 The psalmist exhorteth to praise God. 2 He prayeth for pardon of sin, as God did with the fathers. 2 The sins of the people are bound, and God's mercy. 4 He concludes with prayer and praise.

RAISE *ye the Lord. *O give thanks unto the Lord: for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever,
2 *Who can utter the mighty acts of the Lord: who can shew forth all his praise!
3 Blessed are they that keep judgment, and he that doeth righteousness at all times.
4 *Remember me, O Lord, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people: O visit me with thy salvation:
5 That I may see the good of thy chosen, that I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation, that I may glory with thine inheritance.
6 *We have sinned with our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt; they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies; *but provoked him at the sea, even at the Red Sea.
8 Nevertheless he saved them *for his name's sake, *that he might make his mighty power to be known.
9 *He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up: so he led them through the depths, as through the wilderness.
10 And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
11 *And the waters covered their enemies:
there was not one of them left.
12 *Then believed they his words; they sang his praise.
13 *If they soon for-gat his works, they waited not for his counsel:
14 *But trusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.
15 *And he gave them their request: but sent leanness into their soul.
16 *They envied Moses also in the camp, and Aaron the saint of the Lord.
17 *The earth opened and swallowed up
Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.
18 *And a fire was kindled in their company: the flame burned up the wicked.
ISRAEL'S REBELLIONS AND GOD'S MERCY.

PSALMS.

GOD'S PROVIDENCE OVER TRAVELLERS.

19. 'They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.
20. Thus 'they changed their glory into the similitude of an ox that eateth grass.
21. They forgot God their armour, which had done great things in Egypt:
22. Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red Sea.
23. Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had not Moses his chosen 'stood before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.
24. Yea, they despised 'the pleasant land, they believed not his word:
25. But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord.
26. Therefore he lifted up his hand against them, to overthrow them in the wilderness:
27. 'To overthrow their seed also among the nations, and to scatter them in the land.
28. 'They joined themselves also unto Baal-peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.
29. Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.
30. 'Then stood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and so the plague was stayed.
31. And that was counted unto him 'for righteousness unto all generations for evermore.
32. 'They angered him also at the waters of strife, so that it went ill with Moses for their sakes:
33. 'Because they provoked his spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips.
34. 'They did not destroy the nations, concerning whom the Lord commanded them:
35. 'But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.
36. And 'they served their idols, which were a snare unto them.
37. Yea, 'they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils.
38. And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with blood.
39. Thus 'were they defiled with their own works, and 'went a whoring with their own inventions.
40. Therefore 'was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, insomuch that he abhorred 'his own inheritance.
41. And 'he gave them into the hand of the heathen; and they that hated them ruled over them.
42. Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were brought into subjection under their hand.
43. 'Many times did he deliver them; but they provoked him with their counsel; and were 'brought low for their iniquity.
causest them to wander in the wilderness, where there is no way.
41 Yet setteth he the poor on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.
42 The righteous shall see it, and rejoice; and all unrighteousness shall stop her mouth.
43 Whoso is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving-kindness of the Lord.

PSALM CIII.
1 David encouraged himself to praise God. 2 He prayeth for God's assistance according to his promise. 3 His compliance in God's help.
A Song or Psalm of David.
4 GOD, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise, even with my glory.
5 Awake, psalter and harp; I myself will awake early.
6 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people; and I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.
7 For thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds.
8 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; and thy glory above all the earth;
9 That thy beloved may be delivered: save with thy right hand, and answer me.
10 God hath spoken in his holiness: I will rejoice, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Sichon.
11 Gilead is mine; Maanasseh is mine; Ephraim also is the strength of mine head;
12 Judah is my lawgiver;
13 Moab is my washpot; over Edom will I cast out my shoe; over Philistia will I triumph.
14 Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Edom?
15 If I will not go, O God, who hast cast us off? and will not thou, O God, go forth with our hosts?
16 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.
17 Through God we shall do valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our enemies.

PSALM CIX.
1 Decal, complaining of his shameless enemies, under the person of Judas devorish them. 2 He sheweth their sin. 3 Complaining of his own misery, he prayeth for help. 4 He promiseth thankfulness.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David. 5 GOD, not thy peace, O God of my praise:
6 For the mouth of the wicked and the faimouth of the deceitful are opened against me: they have spoken against me with a lying tongue.
3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred; and fought against me without cause.
4 For my love they made me an adversary: but I gave myself unto prayer.
5 And they rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.
6 Set thou a wicked man over him: and let his prayer become sin.
7 When he shall be judged, let him be condemned: and let his prayer become sin.
8 Let his days be few; and let another take his office.
9 Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.
10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg: let them seek their bread also out of their desolate places.

11 Let the extortioner catch all that he hath; and let the strangers spoil his labour.
12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherless children.
13 Let his posterity be cut off; and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.
14 Let the michty of his fathers be remembered with the Lorp; and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.
15 Let them be before the Lorp continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.
16 Because that he remembered not to shew mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even slay the broken in heart.
17 As he loved cursing, so let it come unto him: as he delighted not in blessing, so let it be far from him.
18 As he clothed himself with cursing like as with his garment, so let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.
19 Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him, and for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.
20 Let this be the reward of mine adversaries from the Lorp, and of them that speak evil against my soul.
21 But do thou for me, O God the Lorp, for thy name's sake: because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.
22 For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.
23 I am gone like the shadow when it declineth: I am tossed up and down as the locust.
24 My knees are weak through fasting; and my flesh faileth of fatness.
25 I became also a reproach unto them:
5 He hath given i meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.
6 He hath shewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.
7 The works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are sure.
8 They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness.

9 He sent redemption unto his people; he hath commanded his covenant for ever; how and reverend is his name.
10 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: and all the understanding have they that do his commandments; his praise endureth for ever.

PSALM CXII.

1 GODLINES hath the promises of this life, and of the life to come.
2 The prosperity of the godly shall be an eyecomore to the wicked.

1 RAISE ye the Lord. *Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.
2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed.
3 Wealth and riches shall be in his house: and his righteousness endureth for ever.
4 Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness: he is gracious, and full of compassion, and righteous.
5 A good man sheweth favour, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with discretion.
6 Surely he shall not be moved for ever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance.
7 He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the Lord.
8 His heart is established, he shall not be afraid, until he see his desire upon his enemies.
9 He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor; his righteousness endureth for ever: his horn shall be exalted with honour.
10 The wicked shall see it, and be grieved: he shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

PSALM CXIII.

1 PRAISE ye the Lord. *Praise, O ye servants of the Lord, praise the name of the Lord.

PSALM CXIV.

An exhortation, by the example of the dumb creatures, to fear God in his church.

1 WHEN Israel went out of Egypt, the house of Jacob from a people of strange language;
2 Judah was his sanctuary, and Israel his dominion.
3 The sea saw it, and fled: Jordan was driven back.
4 The mountains skipped like rams, and the little hills like lambs.
5 What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest? thou Jordan, that thou wast driven back?
6 Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams; and ye little hills, like lambs!
7 Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob;
8 Which turned the rock into a running water, the flint into a fountain of waters.

PSALM CXV.

1 Because God is truly glorious, 2 and abides are vacancy, 9 he exhorteth to confidence in God. 12 God is to be blessed for his blessings.

1 NOT unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake.
2 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is now thy God?
3 But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatsoever he hath pleased.
Psalm CXVI

The psalmist professeth his love and duty to God for his deliverance.

1 I love the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications.

2 Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.

3 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow.

4 Then called I upon the name of the Lord; O Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.

5 Gracious is the Lord, and righteous; yea, our God is merciful.

6 The Lord preserve the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me.

7 Return unto thy rest, O my soul; for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee.

8 For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

9 I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living.

10 I believed, therefore have I spoken: I was greatly afflicted.

11 I said in my haste, All men are liars.

12 What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me?

13 I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord.

14 I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all his people.

15 Precious is the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.

16 O Lord, truly I am thy servant; I am thy handmaid, and the son of thine handmaid: than hast loosed my bonds.

17 I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord.

18 I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all his people.

19 In the courts of the Lord's house, in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

Psalm CXVII

An exhortation to praise God for his mercy and truth.

1 O praise the Lord, all ye nations; praise him, all ye people.

2 For his merciful kindness is great toward us; and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever. Praise ye the Lord.

3 Give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: because his mercy endureth for ever.

4 Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

5 Let them now that fear the Lord say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

6 I called upon the Lord in mine distress: the Lord answered me, and set me in a large place.

7 The Lord is on my side: I will not fear: what can man do unto me?

8 The Lord shall keep thee from the good in distress: the Lord answered me and set me in a large place.

9 It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in man.

10 It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in princes.

11 They compassed me about: yea, they compassed me about; but in the name of the Lord I will destroy them.

12 They compassed me about 'like bees; they are quenched 'as the fire of thorns: for in the name of the Lord I will destroy them.

13 Thou hast thrust sore at me that I might fall: but the Lord helped me.

14 "The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation.

15 The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous: the right hand of the Lord doeth valiantly.

16 "I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

17 "The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation.

18 The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous: the hand of the Lord doeth valiantly.

19 "I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

20 The Lord hath chastened me sore: but he hath not given me over unto death.

21 "Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will go into them, and I will praise the Lord:

22 'This gate of the Lord, into which the righteous shall enter.

23 "I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

24 The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation.

25 Save now, I beseech thee, O Lord: O Lord, I beseech thee, send now prosperity.

26 Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord: we have blessed you out of the house of the Lord.

27 God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light: bind the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee: thou art my God, I will exalt thee.

29 O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

For I am become like a bottle in the smoke: yet do I not forget thy statutes.

How many are the days of thy servant? when wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?

The proud have digged pits for me, which are not after thy law.

PSALM CXXII.

Psalm professeth his joy for the church, 6 and prayeth for the peace thereof.

1 A Song of degrees of David, was glad when they said unto me, 'Let us go into the house of the Lord.
2 Our feet stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem.
3 Jerusalem is builded as a city that is compact together:
4 Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord.
5 For there are set thrones of judgment, the thrones of the house of David.
6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem:
they shall prosper that love thee.
7 Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.
8 For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee.
9 Because of the house of the Lord our God will seek thy good.

PSALM CXXIII.

The godly profess their confidence in God, 3 and pray to be delivered from contempt.

1 A Song of degrees.
1 UNTO thee lift I up mine eyes, O thou that dwellest in the heavens.
2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress; so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until he have mercy upon us.
3 Have mercy upon us, O Lord, have mercy upon us: for we are exceedingly filled with contempt.

4 Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scorning of those that are at ease, and with the contempt of the proud.

PSALM CXXIV.

The church blesseth God for a miraculous deliverance.

5 A Song of degrees of David.
1 If it had not been the Lord who was on our side, now may Israel say;
2 If it had not been the Lord who was on our side, when men rose up against us;
3 Then they had swallowed us up, quick, when their wrath was kindled against us:
4 Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul:
5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.
6 Blessed be the Lord, who had not given us as a prey to their teeth.
7 Our soul is escaped 'as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are escaped.
8 'Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth.

PSALM CXXV.

The safety of such as trust in God.

1 The safety of such as trust in God.
4 A prayer for the godly, and against the wicked.

1 A Song of degrees.
1 THEY that trust in the Lord shall be as Mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever.
2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so is round about his people from henceforth even for ever.
3 For 'the rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous; lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.
4 Do good, O Lord, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.
5 As for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, the Lord shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but 'peace shall be upon Israel.

PSALM CXXVI.

The church, celebrating her incredible return out of captivity, 4 prayeth for, and proffereth the good success thereof.

2 A Song of degrees.
1 WHEN the Lord turned again the captivity of Zion, "we were like them that dream.
CHILDREN ARE GOD'S GOOD GIFT.

PSALMS.

6 Ye, thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.

PSALM CXXIX.

1 An exhortation to praise God for saving Israel in their great afflictions. 5 The latter of the church are cursed.

¶ A Song of degrees.

1 MANY a time have they afflicted me from my youth, many Israel now say: 2 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth: yet they have not prevailed against me.

3 The ploughers ploughed upon my back: they made long their furrows.

4 The Lord is righteous: he hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.

5 Let them all be confounded and turned back that hate Zion.

6 Let them be as the grass upon the house-tops, which withereth afore it grows up:

7 Wherewith the mower filleth not his hand; nor he that bindeth sheaves his bosom.

8 Neither do they which go by, say, 'The blessing of the Lord be upon you: we bless you in the name of the Lord.'

PSALM CXXX.

1 The psalmist professeth his hope in prayer, 8 and his patience in hope. 7 He exhorteth Israel to hope in God.

¶ A Song of degrees.

UT of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, hear my voice: let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications.

3 If thou, Lord, shouldst mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared.

5 I wait for the Lord, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.

6 My soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning: I say, more than they that watch for the morning.

7 Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption.

8 And he shall redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

PSALM CXXXI.

1 David, professing his humility, 3 exhorteth Israel to hope in God.

¶ A Song of degrees of David.

1 LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty: neither do I exercise myself in great matters, or in things too dubious for me.

2. Surely I have behaved myself as a child that is weaned of his mother; my soul is even as a weaned child.

3. Let Israel hope in the Lord from henceforth and for ever.

PSALM CXXXII.

1 David in his prayer recommended unto God the religious care he had for the ark. II His prayer at the removing of the ark, II with a repetition of God's promises.

1 A Song of degrees.

1 LORD, remember David, and all his afflictions:

2 How he sware unto the Lord, and vowed unto the mighty God of Jacob;

3 Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my house, nor go up into my bed;

4 I will not give sleep to mine eyes, or slumber to mine eyelids.

5 Until I find out a place for the Lord, a habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.

6 Lo, we heard of it at Ephratah: we found it in the fields of the wood.

7 We will go into his tabernacles: we will worship at his footstool.

8 Arise, O Lord, into thy rest; thou, and the ark of thy strength.

9 Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness; and let thy saints shout for joy.

10 For thy servant David's sake turn not away the face of thine anointed.

11 The Lord hath sworn in truth unto David; he will not turn from it; Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.

12 If thy children will keep my covenant and my testimony that I shall teach them; their children also shall sit upon thy throne for evermore.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion; he hath desired it for his habitation.

14 This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell; for I have desired it.

15 I will abundantly bless her provision: I will satisfy her poor with bread.

16 I will also clothe her priests with salvation, and her saints shall shout aloud for joy.

17 There will I make the horn of David to bud: I have ordained a lamp for mine anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame: but upon himself shall his crown flourish.
Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.
10 "Who smote great nations, and slew mighty kings:
11 Sion king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kings of Canaan:
12 And gave their land for a heritage, a heritage unto Israel his people.
13 "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever:
14 And let the memory, O Lord, throughout all generations.
15 "For the Lord will judge his people, and he will repent himself concerning his servants.
16 "The idols of the heathen are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.
17 They have mouths, but they speak not; they have eyes, but they see not;
18 They have ears, but they hear not; neither is there any breath in their mouths.
19 They that make them are like unto them: so is every one that trusteth in them.
20 "Bless the Lord, O house of Israel; bless the Lord, O house of Aaron:
21 Bless the Lord, O house of Levi: ye that fear the Lord, bless the Lord.
22 Blessed be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth at Jerusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSALM CXXXVI.
An exhortation to give thanks to God for particular mercies.

"GIVE thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
2 O give thanks unto the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.
3 O give thanks to the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.
4 To him who alone doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.
5 To him that by wisdom made the heavens: for his mercy endureth for ever.
6 To him that stretched out the earth above the waters: for his mercy endureth for ever.
7 To him that made great lights: for his mercy endureth for ever:
8 The sun to rule by day: for his mercy endureth for ever.
9 The moon and stars to rule by night: for his mercy endureth for ever.
10 To him that smote Egypt in their firstborn: for his mercy endureth for ever.
11 And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercy endureth for ever.
12 With a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm: for his mercy endureth for ever.
13 "To him which divided the Red Sea into parts: for his mercy endureth for ever.
14 And made Israel to pass through the midst of it: for his mercy endureth for ever:

15 "But overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea: for his mercy endureth for ever.
16 "To him which led his people through the wilderness: for his mercy endureth for ever.
17 "To him which smote great kings: for his mercy endureth for ever:
18 "And slew famous kings: for his mercy endureth for ever.
19 "Sion king of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for ever:
20 "And Og the king of Bashan: for his mercy endureth for ever:
21 "And gave their land for a heritage: for his mercy endureth for ever:
22 Even a heritage unto Israel his servant: for his mercy endureth for ever.
23 Who remembered us in our low estate: for his mercy endureth for ever:
24 And hath redeemed us from our enemies: for his mercy endureth for ever.
25 "Who giveth food to all flesh: for his mercy endureth for ever.
26 O give thanks unto God of heaven: for his mercy endureth for ever.

PSALM CXXXVII.
1 The constancy of the Jews in captivity. 7 The prophet exulteth Edom and Babyl.
1 BY the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion.
2 We hanged our harps upon the willows in the midst thereof.
3 For there they that carried us away captive required of us a song; and they that wasted us required of us mirth, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zion.
4 How shall we sing the Lord’s song in a strange land?
5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.
6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy.
7 Remember, O Lord, the children of Edom in the day of Jerusalem; who said, Rise it, raise it, even to the foundation thereof.
8 O daughter of Babylon, who art to be destroyed: happy shall he be, that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us.
9 Happy shall he be that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the stones.
PSALM CXXXVIII.

1 David praiseth God for the truth of his word. 4 He propheseth that the kings of the earth shall praise God. 7 He propheseth his confidence in God.

1. A Psalm of David.

2. I will praise thee with my whole heart: before the gods will I sing praise unto thee.

3. In the day when I cried thou answeredst me, and strengthenedst me with strength in my soul.

4. All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord, when they hear the words of thy mouth.

5. Yea, they shall sing in the ways of the Lord; for great is the glory of the Lord.

6. Though the Lord be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off.

7. Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.

8. The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever; forsake not the works of thine own hands.

PSALM CXXXIX.

1 David praiseth God for his all-seeing providence. 17 and for his infinite mercies. 19 He dealeth the wicked. 33 He praiseth for sovereignty.

2. To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David. L ORD, thou hast searched me, and known me.

3. Thou knowest my down-sitting and mine up-rising, thou understandest my thought afar off.

4. Thou compassest my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.

5. For there is not a word in my tongue, but lo, O Lord, thou knowest it altogether.

6. Thou hast set me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me.

7. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.

8. Whither shall I go from thy Spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

9. If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.
of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea: 10 Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me. 11 But say, Surely the darkness shall cover me; even the night shall be light about me. 12 Yea, the darkness shall hide thee; the light and the day shall be dark about thee. 13 For thou hast possessed my reins; thou hast covered me in my mother’s womb. 14 I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well. 15 My substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth. 16 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being unperfect; and in thy book all my members were written, even the days of them that were to be made. 17 How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them! 18 If I count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee. 19 Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O Lord; depart from me therefore, ye bloody men. 20 For they speak against thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain. 21 Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee? 22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies. 23 Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: 24 And see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.

PSALM CXL.

1 David prayeth to be delivered from Saul and Doeg. 2 He prayeth against them. 3 He comforteth himself by confidence in God. 4 To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David.

1 DELIVER me, O Lord, from the evil man: preserve me from the violent man. 2 Which imagine mischief in their heart; continually are they gathered together for war. 3 They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent; adders poison is under their lips. Selah. 4 Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from the violent man; who have purposed to overthrow my goings.

5 The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords; they have spread a net by the way side: they have set gins for me. Selah. 6 I said unto the Lord, Thou art my God: hear the voice of my supplications, O Lord. 7 O Lord, the Lord, the strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of battle. 8 Grant not, O Lord, the desires of the wicked; further not his wicked device: lest they exalt themselves. Selah. 9 As for the head of those that compass me about, let the mischief of their own lips cover them. 10 Let burning coals fall upon them; let them be cast into the fire; into deep pits, that they rise not up again. 11 Let not an evil speaker be established in the earth: evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him. 12 I know that the Lord will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the poor. 13 Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name: the upright shall dwell in thy presence.

PSALM CXL.

1 David prayeth that his soul may be acceptable, 2 his conscience sincere, and his life safe from snares.

2 A Psalm of David.

ORD, I cry unto thee: make haste unto me; give ear unto my voice, when I cry unto thee. 2 Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense; and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice. 3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips. 4 Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practise wicked works with men that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their dainties. 5 Let the righteous smite me: and it shall be a kindness: and let him reprove me; it shall be an excellent oil, which shall not break my head: for yet my prayer also shall be in their calamities. 6 When their judges are overthrown in stony places, they shall hear my words; for they are sweet. 7 Our bones are scattered at the grave’s mouth, as when one cutteth and cleaveth wood upon the earth. 8 But thine eyes are unto thee, O God the Lord: in thee is my trust: I have not made my soul destitute. 9 Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, and the gins of the workers of iniquity.

DAVID'S COMFORT IN PRAYER.

10 Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst I withal escape.

PSALM CXLII.

David shewed that in his trouble all his comfort was in prayer unto God.

* * Maschil of David: A Prayer when he was in the cave.

1 I CRIED unto the Lord with my voice: with my voice unto the Lord did I make my supplication.
2 I poured out my complaint before him; I shewed before him my trouble.
3 When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou knewest my path.
4 In the way wherein I walked have they privily laid a snare for me.
5 I cried unto thee, O Lord: I said, Thou art my refuge and my portion in the land of living.
6 Attend unto my cry; for I am brought very low: deliver me from my persecutors; for they are stronger than I.
7 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise thy name; the righteous shall compass me about: for thou shalt deal bountifully with me.

PSALM CXLIII.

1 David prayeth for favour in judgment. 2 He complaineth of his griefs. 3 He strengtheneth his faith by meditation and prayer. 4 He prayeth for grace, for deliverance, for sanctification, for destruction of his enemies.

A Psalm of David.

I All my prayer, O Lord, give ear to my supplications: in thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness.
2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant: for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.
3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul; he hath smitten my life down to the ground; he hath made me to dwell in darkness, as those that have been long dead.
4 Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed within me; my heart within me is desolate.
5 I remember the days of old, I meditate on all thy works; I muse upon the work of thy hands.
6 I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land, Selah.
7 Hear me speedily, O Lord: my spirit faileth; hide not thy face from me, lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.
8 Cause me to hear thy loving-kindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk: for I lift up my soul unto thee.
9 Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies; I flece unto thee to hide me.
10 Teach me to do thy will: for thou art my God; thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness.
11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy name's sake: for thy righteousness sake bring my soul out of trouble.
12 And of thy mercy rent off mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soul: for I am thy servant.

PSALM CXLIV.

1 David blesseth God for his mercy both to him and to man. 2 He sheweth that God would powerfully deliver him from his enemies. 3 He prayeth for the happy state of the kingdom.

A Psalm of David.

BLESSED is the Lord my strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight.
2 My goodness, and my fortress; my high tower, and my deliverer; my shield, and he in whom I trust, who subdueth my people under me.
3 Lord, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him? or the son of man, that thou makest account of him?
4 Man is like to vanity: his days are as a shadow that passeth away.
5 Bow thy heavens, O Lord, and come down; touch the mountains, and they shall smok.
6 Cast forth lightning, and scatter them; shoot out thine arrows, and destroy them.
7 Send thine hand from above; rid me, and deliver me out of great waters, from the hand of strange children:
8 Whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.
9 I will sing a new song unto thee, O God; upon a psaltery and an instrument of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee.
10 It is he that giveth salvation unto kings; who delivereth David his servant from the harvest sword.
11 Rid me, and deliver me from the hand of strange children, whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.
12 That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth: that our daughters may be as cornerstones; polished after the similitude of a palace:
13 That our garners may be full, affording all manner of store; that our sheep may bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our streets.
14 That our oxen may be strong to labour, that there be no breaking in, nor going out; that there be no complaining in our streets.
15 Happy is that people, that is in such a case: yea, happy is that people, whose God is the Lord.

PSALMS CVXLV.
1 David praise thee, my God, O King; and will bless thy name for ever and ever.
2 Every day will I bless thee; and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.
3 Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable.
4 One generation shall praise thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts.
5 I will speak of the glorious honour of thy majesty, and of thy wondrous works.
6 And men shall speak of the mighty thy terrible acts: and I will declare thy greatness.
7 They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness.
8 The Lord is gracious, and full of compassion; slow to anger, and of great mercy.
9 The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works.
10 All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord; and thy saints shall bless thee.
11 They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power:
12 To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his kingdom.
13 Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.
14 The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that are bowed down.
15 The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season.
16 Thou openest thine hand, and satisfishest the desire of every living thing.
17 The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and his holy in all his works.
18 The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth.
19 He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him; he also will hear their cry, and will save them.
20 The Lord preserveth all them that love him: but all the wicked shall be destroyed.
21 My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever.

PSALM CVXLVI.
1 The psalmist exalthe his praise to God. 2 He exalteth not to trust in man; 3 God, for his power, justice, mercy, and kingdom, is only worthy to be trusted.

RAISE ye the Lord. Praise the Lord, O my soul. 2 While I live will I praise the Lord: I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being.
3 Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help.
4 His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth; in that very day his thoughts perish.
5 Happy is he that hath the Lord for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God:
6 Which made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever:
7 Which executeth judgment for the oppressed: which giveth food to the hungry.
8 The Lord loseth the prisoners.
9 The Lord openeth the eyes of the blind: the Lord riseth them that are bowed down: the Lord loveth the righteous:
10 The Lord preserveth the strangers: he releuieth the fatherless and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upside down.

PSALMS CVXLVII.
1 The prophet exalthe to praise God for his care of the church. 4 He power, and his mercy: 7 to praise him for his providence: 12 to praise him for his blessings upon the kingdom, 15 for his power over the nations, 19 for his ordinances in the church.
1 PRaise ye the Lord: for it is good to sing praises unto our God; for it is pleasant: and praise is comely.
2 The Lord doth build up Jerusalem: he gathered together the outcasts of Israel.
3 He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds.
4 He taketh the number of the stars; he calleth them all by their names.
5 Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite.
EXHORTATIONS TO PRAISE GOD.

He giveth him up:
like a
He scattereth the wicked:

7 Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving; sing praise upon the harp unto our God:
8 'The Lord lifteth up the meek: he casteth down to the ground.
9 'He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry.
10 'He delighteth not in the strength of the horse: he taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man.
11 The Lord taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy.
12 Praise ye the Lord, O Jerusalem; praise ye the God, O Zion.
13 For he hath strengthened the bars of thy gates; he hath blessed thy children within thee.
14 He maketh peace in thy borders, and filleth thee with the finest of the wheat.
15 He giveth snow like wool; he scattereth the hoar-frost like ashes.
16 He casteth forth his ice like morsels: who can stand before his cold?
17 He sendeth forth his word, and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.
18 He sheweth his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel.
19 'He hath not dealt so with any nation: as for his judgments, they have not known them. Praise ye the Lord.

PSALM CXLVIII.

1 The psalmist exhorteth the celestial, the terrestrial, and the rational creatures to praise God.
2 Praise ye the Lord. Praise ye the Lord from the heavens: praise him in the heights.
3 Praise ye him, all his angels: praise ye him, all his hosts.
4 Praise ye him, sun and moon; praise him, all ye stars of light.
5 Praise him, ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens.
6 Let them praise the name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.
7 Praise the Lord from the earth, ye dragons and all deeps:
8 Fire, and hail; snow, and vapours; stormy wind fulfilling his word:
9 Mountains, and all hills; fruitful trees, and all cedars:
10 Beasts, and all cattle; creeping things, and flying fowl:

11 Kings of the earth, and all people: princes, and all judges of the earth:
12 Both young men, and maidens: old men, and children:
13 Let them praise the name of the Lord: for his name alone is excellent; his glory is above the earth and heaven.
14 He also exalteth the horn of his people, the praise of all his saints: even of the children of Israel, a people near unto him. Praise ye the Lord.

PSALM CXLIX.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praise God for his love to the church, and for that power which he hath given to the church.
2 Let Israel rejoice in him that made him: let the children of Zion be joyful in their King.
3 'Let them praise his name in the dance: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrel and harp.
4 For the Lord taketh pleasure in his people: he will beautify the meek with salvation.
5 Let the saints be joyful in glory: let them sing aloud upon their beds.
6 'Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and a two-edged sword in their hand:
7 To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and punishments upon the people;
8 To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron;
9 To execute upon them the judgment written: his honour have all his saints. Praise ye the Lord.

PSALM CII.

1 An exhortation to praise God, with all kind of instruments.
2 Praise him for his mighty acts, praise him according to his excellent greatness.
3 Praise him with the sound of the trumpet, praise him with the psaltery and harp.
4 Praise him with the timbrel and dance, praise him with stringed instruments and organs.
5 Praise him upon the loud cymbals, praise him upon the high-sounding cymbals.
6 Let every thing that hath breath praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.
CHAPTER I.

1 The use of the proverbs. An exhortation to fear God, and believe his word. To avoid the encumbrances of sinners. Wisdom commends her comforts. She threatens her enemies.

1 THE proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel:

2 To know wisdom and instruction; to perceive the words of understanding;

3 To receive the instruction of wisdom, justice, and judgment, and equity;

4 To give subtlety to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion.

5 A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels:

6 To understand a proverb, and [interpretation]: the words of the wise, and their dark sayings.

7 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction.

8 My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother:

9 For they shall be a ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

10 My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause:

12 Let us swallow them up as the grave; and whole, as those that go down into the pit:

13 We shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil:

14 Cast in thy lot among us; let us all have one purse:

15 My son, walk not thou in the way with them; retain thy foot from their path:

16 For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood:

17 Surely in vain the net is spread if the sight of any bird.

18 And they lay wait for their own blood; they lurk privily for their own lives.

19 So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain; which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.

20 Wisdom crieth without; she uttereth her voice in the streets:

21 She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates; in the city she uttereth her words, saying:

22 How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and will ye scoff at prudence? and the scorner delight in his scorning, and fools hate knowledge!

23 Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

24 Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded:

25 But ye have set at naught all my counsel, and would none of my reproof:

26 I also will laugh at your calamity: I will mock when your fear cometh:

27 When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish cometh upon you.

28 Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer: they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me:

29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the Lord:

30 They would none of my counsel: they despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whose heart searcheth me shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil.

CHAPTER II.

Wisdom promiseth goodness to her children, 10 and safety from evil company, 20 and direction in good ways.

Wisdom crieth without, and she is heard in the streets; 10 and she is near in the utterances of the simple.

2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding;

3 Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding;

4 If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures;

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord, and find the knowledge of God.
WISDOM PROMISETH SAFETY.

CHAPTER I.

1 My son, forget not my law; but thine heart keep my commandments: 2 For length of days, and long life, and peace shall they add to thee. 3 Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart.

CHAPTER III.

1 An exhortation to obedience. 2 To faith, 3 to meditation, 4 to devotion, 5 to patience. 6 The happy sum of wisdom. 7 The power, 8 and the benefits of wisdom. 9 An exhortation to character, 10 steadfastness, 11 peaceableness, 12 and contentfulness. 13 The cursed state of the wicked.

4 So shall thou find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and man.

5 Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. 6 In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.

7 Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from evil.

8 It shall be health to thy navel, and marrow to thy bones.

9 Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase:

10 So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine.

11 My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; neither be weary of his correction:

12 For whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.

13 Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getheth understanding.

14 For the merchandize of it is better than the merchandize of silver; and the gain thereof more than fine gold.

15 She is more precious than rubies: and all the things thou canst desire are not to be compared unto her.

16 Length of days is in her right hand; and in her left hand riches and honour.

17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths peace.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: and happy is every one that retaineth her.

19 The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.

21 My son, let not them depart from thine eyes: keep sound wisdom and discretion: 22 So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck.

23 Then shalt thou walk in thy ways safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.

24 When thou shalt heast down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.

25 Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the Lord shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken.

27 Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.

28 Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to-morrow I will give; when thou hast it by thee.

29 Devise no evil against thy neighbour, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.
PROVERBS.

30. Strive not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm.
31. Envy thou not the oppressor, and choose none of his ways.
32. For the froward is abomination to the Lord: but his secret is with the righteous.
33. The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the just.
34. Surely he scorneth the scorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.
35. The wise shall inherit glory: but shame shall be the promotion of fools.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Solomon, to persuade obedience, sheweth what instruction he had of his parents, to study wisdom, and to shew the path of the wicked. 20 He exhorteth to truth, 23 and sanctification.

1 Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.
2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law.
3 For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.
4 He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words; keep my commandments, and live.
5 Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not; neither decline from the words of my mouth.
6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee; love her, and she shall keep thee.
7 Wisdom is the principal thing: wherefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.
8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee; she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.
9 She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.
10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many.
11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom: I have led thee in right paths.
12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.
13 Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go: keep her; for she is thy life.
14 Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.
15 Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away.
16 For they sleep not, except they have done mischief: and their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.
17 For they eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.

18 But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.
19 The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble.
20 My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings.
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart.
22 For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh.
23 Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life.
24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and perverse lips put far from thee.
25 Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eye-lids look straight before thee.
26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established.
27 Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: remove thy foot from evil.

CHAPTER V.

1 Solomon exhorteth to the study of wisdom. 3 He sheweth the mischief of whoredom and riot. 15 He exhorteth to contentess, liberality, and chastity. 22 The wicked are overtaken with their own sins.

1 My son, attend unto my wisdom, and bow thine ear to my understanding:
2 That thou mayest regard discretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge.
3 For the lips of a strange woman drop as a honey-cob, and her mouth is smoother than oil:
4 But her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.
5 Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on hell.
6 Lest thou shouldst ponder the path of life, her ways are moveable, that thou canst not know them.
7 Hear me now therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.
8 Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house:
9 Lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel:
10 Lest strangers be filled with thy wealth, and thy labours be in the house of a stranger;
11 And thouourn at the last, when thy flesh and thy body are consumed.
12 And say, How have I hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof;
13 And have not obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me!
14 I was almost in all evil in the midst of the congregation and assembly.
15 Drink waters out of thine own cistern, and running waters out of thine own well.

16 Let thy fountains be dispersed abroad, and rivers of waters in the streets.
17 Let them be only thine own, and not strangers' with thee.
18 Let thy fountain be blessed: and rejoice with the wife of thy youth.
19 Let her be like the loving hind and pleasant roe; let her breasts satisfy thee at all times; and the thou ravished always with her love.
20 And why wilt thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger?
21 "For the ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his goings.
22 "His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sins.
23 "He shall die without instruction: and in the greatness of his hell shall he go sorely astray.
24 Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eye-lids.
25 Deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
26 "Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise:
27 Which having no guide, overseer, or ruler,
28 Provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest.
29 How long wilt thou slumber, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thine sleep?
30 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep:
31 So shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy wants as an armed man.
32 A naughty person, a wicked man, walketh with a froward mouth.
33 He winketh with his eyes, he speaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his fingers:
34 Frowardness is in his heart; he deviseth mischief continually; he sows discord.
35 Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly; suddenly shall he be broken without remedy.
16 ¶ These six things doth the Lord hate; yea, seven are an abomination unto him: 17 "A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, 18 "A heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mishief, 19 "A false witness that speaketh lies, and him that soweth discord among brethren.
20 ¶ My son, keep thy father's commandment, and forsake not the law of thy mother:
21 "Bind them continually upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck.
22 "When thou goest, it shall lead thee; when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee; and when thou awaketh, it shall talk with thee.
23 "For the commandment is a light; and the law is right; and reproves of instruction are the way of life:
24 ¶ To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattering of the tongue of a strange woman.
25 "Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take thee with her eye-lids.
26 ¶ By means of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: and the adulteress will hunt for the precious life.
27 "Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burned?
28 Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be burned?
29 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife; whosoever toucheth her shall not be innocent.
30 ¶ Men do not despise a thief, if he steal to satisfy his soul when he is hungry;
31 But if he be found, he shall restore seven-fold: he shall give all the substance of his house.
32 But whoso committeth adultery with a woman, backeth understanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his own soul.
33 A wound and dishonour shall he get; and his reproach shall not be wiped away.
34 ¶ For jealousy is the rage of a man: therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance.
35 ¶ He will not regard any ransom; neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Solomon persuadeth a sincere and kind familiarity with wisdom.
2 ¶ Keep my commandments, and live; and my law as the apple of thine eye.

My son, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee.
2 ¶ Keep my commandments, and live; and my law as the apple of thine eye.
4 Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister, and call understanding thy kinswoman:
5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words.
6 For at the window of my house I looked through my casement,
7 And beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the youths, a young man void of understanding,
8 Passing through the street near her corner; and he went the way to her house,
9 In the twilight, in the evening, in the black and dark night:
10 And behold, there met him a woman with the attire of a harlot, and subtile of heart.
11 She is loud and stubborn; her feet abide not in her house:
12 Now is she without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner.
13 So she caught him, and kissed him, and with an impudent face said unto him, 14 I have peace-offerings with me; this day have I paid my vows.
15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee.
16 I have decked my bed with coverings of tapestry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt.
17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.
18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning: let us solace ourselves with loves.

19 For the good-man is not at home, he is gone a long journey:
20 He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed.
21 With her much fair speech she caused him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forced him.
22 He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the stocks;
23 Till a dart strike through his liver; as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.
24 ¶ Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth.
25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths.
26 For she hath cast down many wounded; yea, many strong men have been slain by her.
27 Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.
CHAPTER IX.  X. MORAL VIRTUES, THEIR CONTRARY VICES.

RICHES, AND ETERNITY OF WISDOM.

1. The discipline, and doctrine of wisdom. 2. The custom, and error of folly. 3. Wisdom hath built her house, she hath hewn out her seven pillars: 2. She hath killed her beasts; 3. She hath mingled her wine; she hath also furnished her table. 3. She hath sent forth her maidsens: 4. Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither; as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him, 5. Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled. 6. Forsake the foolish, and live; and go in the way of understanding. 7. He that reproveth a scorner getteth to himself shame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man getteth himself ailot. 8. Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee; rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee. 9. Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in learning. 10. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is understanding. 11. For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased. 12. If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thyself: but if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it. 13. A foolish woman is clamorous; she is simple, and knoweth nothing. 14. For she sitteth at the door of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city. 15. To call passengers who go right on their ways: 16. Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither; and as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him, 17. Stolen waters are sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant. 18. But he knoweth not that the dead are there; and that her guests are in the depths of hell.

CHAPTER X.

From this chapter to the five and twentieth are sundry observations of moral virtue, and their contrary vices.

The proverbs of Solomon. 1. A wise son maketh a glad father: but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother. 2. Treasures of wickedness profit nothing: but righteousness delivereth from death. 3. The Lord will not suffer the soul of the righteous to perish: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked. 4. He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand; but the hand of the diligent maketh rich. 5. He that gathereth in summer is a wise son: but he that sleepeth in harvest is a son that causeth shame. 6. Blessings are upon the head of the just: but violence overcometh the mouth of the wicked. 7. 20 The tongue of the just is as choice silver: the heart of the wicked is little worth.
21 The lips of the righteous feed many: but fools die for want of *wisdom.
22 *The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it.
23 *It is as sport to a fool to do mischief; but a man of understanding hath wisdom.
24 *The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him: but *the desire of the righteous shall be granted.

27 *The fear of the Lord prolongeth days: but *the years of the wicked shall be shortened.
28 The hope of the righteous shall be gladness: but the *expectation of the wicked shall perish.
29 The way of the Lord is strength to the upright; but *destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.
30 *The righteous shall never be removed: but the wicked shall not inhabit the earth.
31 *The mouth of the just bringeth forth wisdom: but the froward tongue shall be cut out.

8 *The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead.
9 A *hypocrite with his mouth destroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge shall the just be delivered.
10 *When it goeth well with the righteous the city rejoiceth: and when the wicked perish, there is mourning.
11 *By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that *is void of wisdom despiseth his neighbour: but a man of understanding holdeth his peace.
13 *A tale-bearer revealeth secrets: but he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth the matter.
14 *Where no counsel is, the people fall: but in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.
15 *He that is surety for a stranger satterat for it: and he that hateth *suretiship is sure.
16 *A gracious woman retaineth honour: and strong men retain riches.
17 *The merciful man delighteth in his own soul: but he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.
18 The wicked worketh a deceitful work: but *to him that soweth righteousness shall be a sure reward.
19 As righteousness tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death.
20 They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the Lord: but such as are upright in their way are his delight.
21 *Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but *the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.
22 As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout, so is a fair woman which *is without discretion.
23 The desire of the righteous is only good: but *the expectation of the wicked *is wrath.
24 *There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is met, but *it tendeth to poverty.
CHAPTER XII.

A man loveth instruction, and his ears shall be open to doctrine; but whosoeteth in opposition thereto, shall be shamed.

17 "A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity.

19 He loveth transgression thatloveth strife; and he that exalteth his gate seeketh destruction.
20 "He that hath a froward heart findeth no good: and he that hath 'a perverse tongue falleth into mischief.
21 "He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow: and the father of a fool hath no joy.
22 "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine: but a broken spirit drieth the bones.
23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom to pervert the ways of judgment.
24 "Wisdom is before him that hath understanding; but the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.
25 "A foolish son is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her that bare him.
26 Also to punish the just is not good, nor to strike princes for equity.
27 "He that hath knowledge spareth his words: and a man of understanding is of an excellent spirit.
28 "Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: and he that shutteth his lips is esteemed a man of understanding.

CHAPTER XVIII.

THROUGH desire, a man, having separated himself, seeketh and intermeddleth with all wisdom.
2 A fool hath no delight in understanding, but that his heart may discover itself.
3 When the wicked cometh, then cometh also contempt, and with ignominy reproach.
4 "The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters, and the well-spring of wisdom as a flowing brook.
5 It is not good to accept the person of the wicked, to overthrow the righteous in judgment.

7 "A fool's mouth is his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his soul.
8 "The words of a tale-bearer are wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.

11 "The rich man's wealth is his strong city, and as a high wall in his own conceit.
12 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humility.
13 He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him.
14 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity; but a wounded spirit who can bear!
15 The heart of the prudent geteth knowledge; and the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.
16 "A man's gift maketh room for him, and bringeth him before great men.
17 He that is first in his own cause sevieth just; but his neighbour cometh and seeketh him.
18 The lot causeth contentions to cease, and parteth between the mighty.
19 A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city; and their contentions are like the bars of a castle.
20 "A man's belly shall be satisfied with the fruit of his mouth; and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.
21 "Death and life are in the power of the tongue; and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

23 The poor useth entreaties; but the rich answereth roughly.
24 A man that hath friends must shew himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

CHAPTER XIX.

ETTER is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.

8 "He that getteth
CHAPTER XX.

NE a mocker, strong drink is raging; and who soever is deceived thereby is not wise.

The fear of a king is as the roaring of a lion: who so provoketh him to anger sinneth against his own soul.

It is an honour for a man to cease from strife; but every fool will be meddling.

°The sluggard will not plough by reason of the cold; therefore shall he beg in harvest, and have nothing.

°Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water; but a man of understanding will draw it out.

°Most men will proclaim every one his own goodness; but a faithful man who can find?

°The just man walketh in his integrity: his children are blessed after him.

°Who can say, I have made my heart clean; I am pure from my sin!

°Divers weights, and divers measures, both of them are an abomination to the Lord.

Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.

°The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them.

°Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty; open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

°It is naught, it is naught, saith the buyer; but when he is gone his way, then he beareth.

°There is gold, and a multitude of rubies; but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

°Take his garment that is surety for a stranger: and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.

°Every purpose is established by counsel: and with good advice make war.

°He that goeth about as a tale-bearer revealeth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that lieth with his lips.

°Whoso carreth his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness.

°An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning; but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

°Say not thou, I will recompense evil; but wait on the Lord, and he shall save thee.
CHAPTER XXI.

The king's heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will.

2 A wise man will utter words of knowledge; the opening of the lips is right for such a one.

3 To do justice and judgment is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice of rams.

4 A high look, and a proud heart, and the lifting up of the head, is to the Lord an abomination: but a meek spirit, he delighteth in it.

5 The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteousness; but of every one that is hasty, only to want.

6 The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shall destroy them: because they refuse to do judgment.

8 The way of the wicked is strait strait; but as for the upright, his work is right.

9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house-top, than with a brawling woman in a wide house.

10 The soul of the wicked desires evil: his neighbour finds no favour in his eyes.

11 When the scorner is punished, the simple is made wise: and when the wise is instructed, he receives knowledge.

12 The righteous man considers the house of the wicked; but God overthrew the wicked for their wickedness.

13 Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard.

14 A gift is better than sacriiifice of ram: and a reward is better than the fruit of the field.

15 It is joy to the just to do judgment: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

16 The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead.
†in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it.
7 'The rich ruleth over the poor, and the borrower is servant †to the lender.
8 'He that soweth iniquity shall reap vanity: †and the rod of his anger shall fail.
9 †He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed; for he giveth of his bread to the poor.
10 'Cast out the scorners, and contention shall go out; yea, strife and reproach shall cease.
11 'He that loveth pureness of heart, †for the grace of his lips the king shall be his friend.
12 The eyes of the Lord preserve knowledge, and he overthroweth †the words of the transgressor.
13 'The slothful man saith, There is a lion without, I shall be slain in the streets.
14 'The mouth of strange women is a deep pit: †he that is abhorred of the Lord shall fall therein.
15 Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child; †but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.
16 He that oppresseth the poor, to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, †shall surely come to want.
17 Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge:
18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them †within thee; they shall withal be fitted in thy lips.
19 That thy trust may be in the Lord, †I have made known to thee this day, †even to thee.
20 Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsel and knowledge.
21 'That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; †that thou mightest answer the words of truth †to them that send unto thee!
22 'Rob not the poor, because he is poor: †neither oppress the afflicted in the gate:
23 'For the Lord will plead their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoiled them.
24 Make no friendship with an angry man; †and with a furious man thou shalt not go:
25 Lest thou learn his ways, and get a snare to thy soul.
26 'Be not thou one of them that strike hands, or of them that are sureties for debts.
27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why should he †take away thy bed from under thee?
28 'Remove not the ancient †landmark, which thy fathers have set.
29 Seest thou a man diligent in his business? †he shall stand before kings; †he shall not stand before †mean men.
CHAPTER XXIII.

W

HFN thou sittest to eat with a ruler, consider diligently what is before thee:
2 And put a knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite.
3 Be not desirous of his dainties: for they are deceitful meat.
4 *Labour not to be rich; *cease from thine own wisdom.
5 *Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themselves wings; they fly away as an eagle toward heaven.
6 *Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, neither desire thou his dainty meats:
7 For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he: *Eat and drink, *saith he to thee; but his heart is not with thee.
8 The morsel which thou hast eaten shall return into thy stomach, and lose thy sweet words.
9 *Speak not in the ears of a fool: for he will despise the wisdom of thy words.
10 *Remove not the old landmark; and enter not into the fields of the fatherless:
11 *For their Redeemer is mighty; he shall plead their cause with thee.
12 Apply thine heart unto instruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge.
13 Withhold not correction from the child: for if thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die.
14 Thou shalt beat him with the rod, and shalt deliver his soul from hell.
15 My son, *if thine heart be wise, my heart shall rejoice, *even mine.
16 Yea, my reins shall rejoice, when thy lips speak right things.
17 *Let not thine heart envy sinners: but *be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long.
18 *For surely there is an end; and thine expectation shall not be cut off.
19 Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way.
20 *Be not among wine-bibbers: among riotous eaters *of flesh:

CHAPTER XXIV.

E

Or, thou *envious against evil men, *either desire to be with them:
2 *For their heart studieth destruction, and their lips talk of mischief.
3 Through wisdom is a house built; and by understanding it is established:
4 *And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious and pleasant riches.
5 A wise man *is strong; yea, a man of knowledge increaseth strength.
6 *For by wise counsel shalt make thy war: and in multitude of counsellors there is safety.
7 *Wisdom is too high for a fool: he openeth not his mouth in the gate.
8 He that *deviseth to do evil shall be called a mischievous person.
9 *The thought of foolishness is sin: and the scorner is an abomination to men.
10 If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is *small.
11 *If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and those that are ready to be slain:
12 *If thou seest, Behold, we know it not; *doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his works?
13 My son, eat thou honey, because it is good; and the honeycomb, which is sweet to thy taste:
14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be unto thy soul: when thou hast found it, then there shall be a reward, and thy expectation shall not be cut off.
15 Lay not wait, O wicked man, against the dwelling of the righteous; spoil not his resting-place:
16 For a just man falleth seven times, and riseth again: but the wicked shall fall into mischief.
17 Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he stumbleth:
18 Lest the Lord see it, and be displeased, and turn away his wrath from him.
19 Lest it be said of thee, Consul. "He that seeth not the right, nor regardeth the pervert of judgment.
20 For there shall be no reward to the evil man; the candle of the wicked shall be put out.
21 My son, fear thou the Lord and the king: and meddle not with them that are given to change:
22 For their calamity shall rise suddenly: and who kneweth the ruin of them both!
23 These things also belong to the wise, 'It is not good to have respect of persons in judgment.
24 He that saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous; him the people curse, nations shall abhor him:
25 But to them that rebuke him shall he be delight, and a good blessing shall come upon them.
26 Every man shall kiss his lips that giveth a right answer.
27 Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thyself in the field; and afterward build thine house.
28 Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause; and deceive not with thy lips.
29 Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me: I will render to the man according to his work.
30 I went by the field of the slothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding:
31 And, lo, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken down.
32 Then I saw, and considered it well: I looked upon it, and received instruction.
33 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep: 616
34 So shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth; and thy want as a man armed.

CHAPTER XXV.

1 Observations about kings, and about avoiding causes of quarrels, and stealthy remorse thereof.
2 THESE are also proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.
3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings is unsearchable.
4 Take away the dross from the silver, and there shall come forth a vessel for the finer.
5 Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.
6 Put not thyself in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of great men.
7 For better it is that it be said unto thee, Come up hither; than that thou shouldst be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes have seen.
8 Go not hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.
9 Debate thy cause with thy neighbour himself; and discover not a secret to another.
10 Lest he that heareth it put thee to shame, and thine infamy turn not away.
11 A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver.
12 As an ear-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, so is a wise reprover upon an obedient ear.
13 As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to send him: for he refresheth the soul of his masters.
14 Whoso beareth himself of a false gift is like clouds and wind without fruit.
15 By long forbearing is a prince persuaded, and a soft tongue breaketh the bone.
16 Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee, lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.
17 Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbour's house; lest he be weary of thee, and so hate thee.
18 A man that heareth false witness against his neighbour is a mad man, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.
19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.
20. As he that taketh away a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon mire: so is he that singeth songs to a heavy heart.
21. If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink:
22. For thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head, and the Lord shall reward thee.
23. The north wind driveth away rain: so is an angry countenance a backbiting tongue.
24. It is better to dwell in the corner of the house-top, than with a brawling woman and in a wide house.
25. As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country.
26. A righteous man falling down before the wicked is as a troubled fountain, and a corrupt spring.
27. He that hath no rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down, and without walls.

CHAPTER XXVI.
1. Observations about fools, 13 about sluggards, and about contentious busybodies.
2. As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest; so honour is not seemly for a fool.
3. A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fool's back.
4. Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him.
5. Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit.
6. He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool cutteth off the feet, and drinketh ward.
7. The legs of the lame are not equal: so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
8. As he that bindeth a stone in a sling, so is he that giveth honour to a fool.
9. As a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
10. The great God that formed all things both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth transgressors.
11. As a dog returneth to his vomit, so is a fool that turneth to his folly.
12. Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him.
13. The slothful man saith, There is a lion in the way; a lion is in the streets.
14. As the door turneth upon his hinges, so doth the slothful upon his bed.
15. The slothful hideth his hand in his bosom; it grieveth him to bring it again to his mouth.
16. The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit than seven men that can render a reason.
17. He that is overtaught by, and putteth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.
18. As a mad man who casteth fire-brands, arrows, and death.
19. So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, and saith, Am not I in sport?
20. Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out; so where there is no tale-bearer, the strife ceaseth.
21. As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire: so is a contentious man to kindle strife.
22. The words of a tale-bearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.
23. Burning lips and a wicked heart are like a potsherd covered with silver dross.
24. He that hateth, 8 dissembleth with his lips, and layeth up deceit within him.
25. When he speaketh fair, believe him not: for there are seven abominations in his heart.
26. Those hatred is covered by deceit, his wickedness shall be shewed before the whole congregation.
27. Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein: and he that rolleth a stone, it will return upon him.
28. A lying tongue hateth those that are afflicted by it: and a flattering mouth worketh sin.

CHAPTER XXVII.
1. Observations of self-love, 5 of true love, 1 of care to avoid offences, 23 and of the household care.
2. Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips.
3. A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty; but a fool's wrath is heavier than both.
4. Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous; but who is able to stand before envy!
5. Open rebuke is better than secret love.
6. Faithful are the wounds of a friend; but the kisses of an enemy are deceitful.
7. The full soul hath a honeycomb; but to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.
8. As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place.
9. Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart.
so doth the sweetness of a man’s friend thy hearty counsel.
10 Thine own friend, and thy father’s friend, forsaile not; neither go into thy brother’s house in the day of thy calamity: for it better
11 Is a neighbour that is near, than a brother far off.

12 A prudent man foreseth the evil, and hideth himself; but the simple pass on, and are punished.
13 Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.
14 He that besteth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, it shal be counted a curse to him.
15 A continual dropping in a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike.
16 Whosoever hideth her, hideth the wind, and the ointment of his right hand which bereveth itself.
17 Iron sharpeneth iron; so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.
18 Whoso keepeth the fig-tree shall eat the fruit thereof; so he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured.
19 As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man.
20 Hell and destruction are ¶ never full; so the eyes of man are never satisfied.
21 As the fining-pot for silver, and the furnace for gold; so is a man to his praise.
22 Though thou shouldest dray a fool in a mortar among wheats with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him.

23 Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and ¶ look well to thy herds.
24 For ¶ riches are not ever for; and doth the crown endure ¶ every generation!
25 The hay appeareth, and the tender grass sheweth itself, and herds of the mountains are gathered.
26 The lambs are ¶ thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the satisfied.
27 And thou shalt have goats’ milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household, and for the maintenance for thy maidsens.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

General observations of mutiny and religious integrity.

HE wicked fice when no man pursueth: but the righteous are hold as a lion.
2 For the transgression of a land many are princes thereof: but ¶ a man of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged.

3 ¶ A poor man that oppresseth the poor is like a sweeping rain ¶ which leaveth no food.
4 ¶ That they forsaie the law praise the wicked: ¶ but such as keep the law con-

5 ¶ Evil men understand not judgment: but they that seek the Lord understand all things.
6 ¶ Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich.
7 ¶ Whoso keepeth the law is a wise son: but he that ¶ is a companion of riotous men shameth his father.
8 ¶ He that be usury ¶ and unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor.
9 ¶ He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, ¶ even his prayer shall be abomination.
10 ¶ Whoso causeth the righteous to go astray in an evil way, he shall fall himself into his own pit; ¶ but the upright shall have good things in possession.
11 ¶ The rich man is wise ¶ in his own conceit; but the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out.
12 ¶ When righteous men do rejoice, there is great glory: but when the wicked rise, a man is ¶ hidden.
13 ¶ He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but he that confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.
14 ¶ He is the man ¶ that feareth always: ¶ but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief.
15 ¶ As a roaring lion, and a hasing bear; ¶ so is a wicked ruler over the poor people.
16 ¶ The prince that wanteth understanding is also a great oppressor: ¶ but he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days.
17 ¶ A man that doeth violence to the blood of any person shall flee to the pit; ¶ let no man stay him.
18 ¶ Whoso walketh uprightly shall be saved: ¶ but he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.
19 ¶ He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough.
20 ¶ A faithful man shall abound with blessings: ¶ but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be ¶ innocent.
21 ¶ To have respect of persons is not good: ¶ for ¶ a piece of bread that a man will transgress.
22 ¶ ¶ He that hasteth to be rich hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him.

23 "He that rebuketh a man, afterward shall find more favour than he that flattereth with the tongue.

24 Whoso rebith his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression; the same is the companion of a destroyer.

25 He that is of a proud heart stirreth up strife; but he that putteth his trust in the Lord shall be made fat.

26 He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool; but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.

27 He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.

28 When the wicked rise, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increaseth.

CHAPTER XXIX.

2 Observations of public government, 15 and of private. 22 Of anger, pride, theory, cowardice, and corruption.

1 2 Rejoice, that being often reproved, hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.

2 When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.

3 Whoso loveth discretion rejoiceth his father: but he that keepeth company with harlots spendeth his substance.

4 The king by judgment establisheth the land: but the righteous giveth it a overthroweth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour spreadeth a net for his feet.

6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoice.

7 The righteous considereth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it.

8 2 Scornful men bring a city into a snare: but wise men turn away wrath.

9 If a wise man contenteth a foolish man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest.

10 4 4 The blood-thirsty hate the upright: but the just seek his soul.

11 A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

12 If a ruler hearken to lies, all his servants are wicked.

13 The poor and the deceitful man "meet together: " the Lord lighteth both their eyes.

14 "The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever.

15 "The rod and reproof give wisdom: but a child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame.

16 When the wicked are multiplied, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 "Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest: yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

18 "Where there is no vision, the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

19 A servant will not be corrected by words: for though he understand he will not answer.

20 Sceest thou a man that is hasty [in his words? there is more hope of a fool than of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child shall have him become his son at the length.

22 "An angry man stirreth up strife, and a furious man abominieth in transgression.

23 "A man's pride shall bring him low: but honours shall uphold the humble in spirit.

24 Whoso is partner with a thief, killeth his own soul: he heareth cursing, and bewrayeth it not.

25 "The fear of man bringeth a snare: but whoso putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe.

26 Many seek the ruler's favour: but every man's judgment cometh from the Lord.

27 An unjust man is an abomination to the just; and that is upright in the way is abomination to the wicked.

CHAPTER XXX.

1 4 Agur's confession of his faith. 7 The two points of his prayer.

1 3 The meanest are not to be wronged. 14 Four wicked generations.

2 1 Four things immeasurable. 17 Princes are not to be despised.

3 Four things to be known. 18 Four things morally unrighteous.

3 Four things everlasting wise. 20 Four things stately. 24 Wrath is to be prevented.

1 THE words of Agur the son of Jakeh, even the prophecy: the man spake unto Ithiel, even unto Ithiel and Ulam.

2 surely I am more brutish than any man, and have not the understanding of a man.

3 I neither learned wisdom, nor have the knowledge of the holy.

4 "Who hath ascended up into heaven, or descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fists? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath established all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou canst tell?"

5 Every word of God is pure: he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him.

6 Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and then be found a liar.
7 Two things have I required of thee;
†deny me them not before I die:
8 Remove far from me vanity and lies;
give me neither poverty nor riches; †feed me with food †convenient for me:
9 Lest I be full, and †deny thee, and say,
Who is the LoRD or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain.
†Accuse not a servant unto his master, est he curse thee, and thou be found guilty.
11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother.
12 There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness.
13 There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! and their eyelids are lifted up.
14 †There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw-teeth as knives; †to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.
15 The horse-leech hath two daughters, crying, Give, give. There are three things that are never satisfied, yea, four things say not, †It is enough: 16 †The grave; and the barren womb; the earth that is not filled with water; and the fire that saith not, It is enough.
17 †The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.
18 There be three things which are too marvellous for me, yea, four which I know not:
19 The way of an eagle in the air; the way of a serpent upon a rock; the way of a ship in the midst of the sea; and the way of a man with a maid.
20 Such is the way of an adulterous woman; she eateth, and withereth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickedness.
21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four which it cannot bear:
22 †For a servant when he reigneth; and a fool when he is filled with meat; 23 For an odious woman when she is made; and a handmaid that is heir to her mistress.
24 There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise:
25 The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer;
26 The locusts have no king, yet go they forth all of them †by bands; 27 The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings' palaces;
29 There be three things which go well, yea, four are comely in going:
30 A lion, which is strongest among beasts, and turneth not away for any;
31 A †greyhound; †a he-goat also; and a king, against whom there is no rising up.
32 If thou hast done foolishly in letting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil, ye have thine hand upon thy mouth.
33 Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood; so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

CHAPTER XXXI

1 Lemuel's lesson of chastity and temperance. 6 The afflicted are to be comforted and defended. 10 The praise and properties of a good wife.

2 HE words of King Lemuel, the prophecy that his mother taught him.
2 What, my son? and what, the son of my womb? and what, the son of my vows?
3 Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy ways unto that which destroyeth kings.
4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine; nor for princes strong drink:
5 Lest they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted.
6 Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine to those that be †of heavy hearts.
7 Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.
8 Open thy mouth for the dumb in the cause of all †such as are appointed to destruction.
9 Open thy mouth, †judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy.
10 †Who can find a virtuous woman? in her price is far above rubies.
11 The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil.
12 She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life.
13 She seeketh wool, and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.
14 She is like the merchants' ships; she bringeth her food from afar.
15 †She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household, and a portion to her maidens.
16 She considereth a field, and †buyth it:
with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard.
17 She girdeth her loins with strength, and strengtheneth her arms.
18 †She perceiveth that her merchandise is good: her candle goeth not out by night.
19 She layeth her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaff.
20 †She stretcheth out her hand to the poor; yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy.
21 She is not afraid of the snow for her household; for all her household are clothed with scarlet.
22 She maketh herself coverings of tapestry; her clothing is silk and purple.
23 Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land.
24 She maketh fine linen, and sell eth it; and delivereth girdles unto the merchant.
25 Strength and honour are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come.

CHAPTER 1.

I THE words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.
2 Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities: all is vanity.
3 What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the sun!
4 One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh; but the earth abideth for ever.
5 The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to his place where he arose.
6 The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.
7 All the rivers run into the sea; yet the sea is not full; unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again.
8 All things are full of labour; man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.
9 The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done; and there is no new thing under the sun.

36 She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness.
37 She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.
38 Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.
39 Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all.
40 Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.
41 Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates.

THE PREACHER.

1. The preacher showeth that all human courses are vain: for the creatures are restless in their courses, yea, they bring forth nothing new, and all old things are forgotten, and because he hath found it so in the studies of wisdom.

26 THE words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.

30 Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.
18 For in much wisdom is much grief; and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

CHAPTER II.
1 The vanity of human counsels in the works of pleasure. 2 Though the wise be better than the fool, yet both have one event. 3 The vanity of human labour, in leaving it they know not to whom. 4 Nothing better than joy in our labour; but that is God’s gift.

I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth: therefore enjoy pleasure; and behold, this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doeth it?
3 I sought in mine heart to give myself unto wine, yet acquainting mine heart with wisdom; and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven; all the days of their life.
4 I made me great works; I builded me houses; I planted me vineyards;

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kind of fruits. 6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that brought forth trees:

7 I got me servants and maidens, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of great and small cattle above all that were in Jerusalem before me;

8 I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings, and of the provinces; I got me men-singers and women-singers, and the delights of the sons of men, as musical instruments, and that of all sorts.

9 So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy; for my heart rejoiced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my labour.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.

12 And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness, and folly: for what can the man do that cometh after the king? I have seen that which hath been already done.

13 Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness.

14 The wise man’s eyes are in his head; but the fool walketh in darkness: and I myself perceived also that one event happeneth to them all.
CHAPTER IV.

VANITY THROUGH OPPRESSION, ETC.

O I returned, and considered all the oppressions that are done under the sun: and beheld the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power; but they had no comforter.

2 Wherefore I praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive.

3 Yea, better is he by far than both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.

4 Again, I considered all travail, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

5 The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh.

6 Better is a hand of quietness, than both the hands full with travail and vexation of spirit.

7 ¶ Then I returned, and I saw vanity under the sun.

8 There is one alone; and there is not a second: yea, he hath neither child nor brother; yet is there no end of all his labour; neither is his eye satisfied with riches; neither saith he, Whom have I in mine own right work?

9 ¶ Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up.

11 Again, if two tie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warm alone?

12 And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 ¶ Better is a poor and wise child, than an old and foolish king, who will no more be abomi\n
14 For out of prison he cometh to reign; whereas also he is that is born in his kingdom becometh poor.

15 I considered all the living which walk under the sun, with the second child that shall stand up in his stead.

16 There is no end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they also that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

CHAPTER V.

1 Vanity in divine service. 2 It is morning against oppression. 3 and riches. 18 Joy in riches is the gift of God.

EVEN thy feet when thou goest to the house of God; and he more ready to hear, than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they consider not that they do evil.

2 Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God; for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of business; and a fool’s voice is known by multitude of words.

4 "When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou hast vowed.

5 Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities; but fear thou God.

8 If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for he that is higher than the highest regardeth; and there be higher than they.

9 Moreover, the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field.

10 He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase: this is also vanity.

11 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

13 "There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, named, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

14 But those riches perish by evil travail: and he begetteth a son, and there is nothing in his hand.

15 "As he came forth of his mother’s womb, naked shall he return to go as he came, and shall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this also is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that hath laboured for the wind?

17 All his days also the eateth in darkness, and he hath much sorrow and wrath with his sickness.

18 Behold that which I have seen: that it is good and comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the sun, all the days of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

19 Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to enjoy thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God.

20 "For he shall not much remember the days of his life; because God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The vanity of riches without use. 3 Of children, 6 and old age without riches. 9 The vanity of sight and wandering desires. 11 The conclusion of vanities.

1 "THERE is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, 3 so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, 4 yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it; this is vanity, and it is an evil disease.

3 "If a man beget a hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years be many; and his soul be not filled with good; 5 and also that he have no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he.

4 For he cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkness, and his name shall be covered with darkness.

5 Moreover he hath not seen the sun, nor known anything: this hath more rest than the other.

6 Yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, yet hath he seen no good: do not all go to one place!

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the vapourer is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise more than the fool? what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?

9 Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire: this is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

10 That which hath been is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is mightier than he.

11 Seeing there be many things that increase vanity, what is man the better?

12 For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, rall the days of his vain life which he speneth as a shadow! for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun!

CHAPTER VII.

1. Remember against vanity, a good name, 2 mortification, 3 patience, 4 wisdom. 5 The difficulty of setting wisdom.

"GOOD name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death than the day of one's birth.

2. It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting; for that is the end of all men; and the living will lay it to his heart.

3. Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better.

4. The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

5. It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools:

6. For as the yarfracking of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity.

7. Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad; and a gift destroyeth the heart.

8. Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.

9. Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in bosom of fools.

10. Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these! for thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this.

11. Wisdom is good with an inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that see the sun.

12. For wisdom is a

13. Consider the work of God: for he can make that straight, which he hath made crooked!

14. In the day of prosperity be joyful, but in the day of adversity consider: God also hath set the one over against the other, to the end that man should find nothing after him.

15. All things have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a just man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that prologeth his life in his wickedness.

16. Be not righteous over much; neither make thyself over wise: why shouldst thou destroy thyself?

17. Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldst thou die before thy time?

18. It is good that thou shouldst hold of this: yea, also from this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.

19. Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty men which are in the city.

20. For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not.

21. Also take heed unto all words that are spoken: lest thou hear thy servant curse thee:

22. For oftentimes also thinke own heart knowest that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others.

23. All this have I proved by wisdom: I said, I will be wise; and it was far from me.

24. That which is far off, and exceeding deep, who can find it out!

25. ¶I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickedness of folly, even of foolishness and madness:

26. And I find more bitter than death the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: whose pleachers shall escape from her; but the sinner shall be taken by her.

27. Behold, this have I found, saith the Preacher, [counting one by one, to find out the account]:

28. Which yet my soul seeketh, but I find not: one man among a thousand have I found; but a woman among all those have I not found.

29. Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. Kings are greatly to be respected: The same providence is to be observed. 2 It is better with the mouth in adversity, than with the mouth in prosperity. 3 The work of God is an unsearchable thing: 4 He maketh both the wise man and the fool: 510 is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? a man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and the boldness of his face shall be changed.

2. I counsel thee to keep the king's commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God,

3. Be not hasty to go out of his sight; stand not in an evil thing: for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him.

4. Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may say unto him, What doest thou?

5. Whoso keepeth the commandment shall feel no evil thing: and a wise man's heart discerneth both time and judgment.

6. ¶Because to every purpose there is time and judgment, therefore the misery of man is great upon him.
7 For he knoweth not which shall be: for who can tell him, when it shall be?

8 There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit: neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no discharge in that war; neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it.

9 All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt.

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had so done: this is also vanity.

11 Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.

12 ¶ Though a sinner do evil a hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet surely I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, which thing also before they feared:

13 But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days, which are as a shadow: because heareth not before God.

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth; there be just men, unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked: again, there be wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said that this also is vanity.

15 ¶ Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour the days of his life, which God giveth him under the sun.

16 ¶ When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth; (for there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes:)

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea, further: though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Like things happen to good and bad. 2 There is a necessity of death unto men. 7 Comfort in all their portion in this life. 11 God's providence rules over all. 13 Wisdom is better than strength.

OR all this I considered in my heart even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God; no man knoweth either love or hatred by all that is before them.

2 ¶ All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good, and to the clean, and to the unlucky; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not; as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is one event unto all: yea, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

4 ¶ For to him that is joined to all the living there is hope: for a living dog is better than a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward: for the memory of them is forgotten.

6 Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, is now perished: neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.

7 ¶ Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God now accepteth thy works.

8 Let thy garments be always white; and let thy head lack no ointment.

9 Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity: 'for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takest under the sun.

10 Whosoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest.

11 ¶ I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all.

12 ¶ For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare; so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

13 ¶ This wisdom have I seen also under the sun, and it seemed great unto me:

14 ¶ There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it:

15 Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city: yet no man remembered that same poor man.

16 But said I, Wisdom is better than strength: nevertheless the poor man’s wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of wise men are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAPTER X.

1 Observations of wisdom and folly: 16 of not, 18 slothfulness, 19 and vanity. 20 Man’s thoughts of kings ought to be prevented.

4 And fables cause the ointment of the apothecary to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wisdom and honour.

2 A wise man’s heart is at his right hand; but a fool’s heart is at his left.

3 Yea, also, when he that is a fool walketh by the way, his wisdom faileth him, and he saith to every one that he is a fool.

4 If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for yielding pacifieth great offences.

5 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an error which proceedeth from the ruler:

6 Folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place.

7 I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth.

8 He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh a hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 Whoso removeth stones shall be hurt therewith; and he that cleaveth wood shall be endangered thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength: but wisdom is profitable to direct.

11 Surely the serpent will bite without enchantment; and he that is a babber is no better.

12 The words of a wise man’s mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness: and the end of this talk is mischievous madness.

14 A fool also falleth full of words: a man cannot tell what shall be; and what shall be after him, who can tell him!

15 The labour of the foolish weareth every one of them, because he knoweth not how to go to the city.

16 Wo to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning!

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness!

18 By much slothfulness the building decayeth; and through idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry: but money answereth all things.

20 Curse not the king, nor the rich in thy thought; and curse not the rich in thy bed-chamber: for a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Directions for charity. 7 Death in life, 8 and the day of judgment in the days of youth, are to be thought on.

2 Give a portion to seven, and also to eight; for thy knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth.

3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that observeth the wind shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap.

5 As thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child: even so thou knowest not the works of God who maketh all.

6 In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whether thou shalt reap.

7 Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun.

8 But if a man live many years, and rejoice in them all; yet let him remember the days of darkness; for they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity.

9 Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment.

10 Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh: "for childhood and youth are vanity."
CHAPTER XII.

1 The Creator is to be remembered in due time. 2 The preacher's care to edify. 3 The fear of God is the sure foundation of all vanity.

1 REMEMBER, now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them;

2 While the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain:

3 In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened,

4 And the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low;

5 Also they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond-tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets:

8 "Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher; all is vanity.

9 And moreover, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge: yea, he gave good heed, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs.

10 The Preacher sought to find out acceptable words: and that which was written was upright, even words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails fastened by the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd.

12 And further, by these, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

13 Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.

14 For God will bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

† THE SONG OF SOLOMON.

CHAPTER I.

1 The church's love unto Christ. 5 She commeth forth delectably, and prayeth to be directed to his flock. 8 Christ directeth her to the shepherds' tents: and showing her love to him, 11 giveth her gracious promises. 12 The church and Christ compropose one another.

THE Song of songs, which is Solomon's.

2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.

3 Because of the savour of thy good ointments thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the virgins love thee.

4 Draw me, we will run after thee: the King hath brought me into his chambers: we will be glad and rejoice in thee, we will remember thy love more than wine: the upright love thee.

5 I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomon.

6 Look not upon me, because I am black, because the sun hath looked upon me: my mother's children were angry with me; they made me the keeper of the vineyards; but mine own vineyard have I not kept.

7 Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon: for why should I be as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy companions?

§ If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherd's tents.

9 I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horses in Pharaoh's chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of

1. ALM the rose of Sharon, and the lily of the valleys.
2. As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters.
3. As the apple-tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons. 4. I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste.

13. A bundle of myrrh is my well-beloved unto me: he shall lie all night betwixt my breasts.
14. My beloved is unto me as a cluster of camphire in the vineyards of En-gedi.
15. Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thou hast doves' eyes.
16. Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant: also our bed is green.
17. The beams of our house are cedar, and our rafters of fir.

14. He brought me to the banqueting house, and his banner over me was love.
15. Stay me with flagons, comfort me with apples: for I am sick of love.
16. *His right hand is under my head, and his left hand doth embrace me.
17. *I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.
18. *The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.
19. *My beloved is like a roe, or a young hart: behold, he standeth behind our wall, he looketh forth at the windows, *shewing himself through the lattice.
20. My beloved spake, and said unto me, *Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.
21. For lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone:

22. The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.
23. The fig-tree putteth forth her green figs, and the vines with the tender grape give a good smell.

Aris, my love, my fair one, and come away.

14. § O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let me see thy comeliness, let me hear thy voice; for sweet is thy voice, and thy comeliness is comely.

15. Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vines: for our vines have tender grapes.

16. § My beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies.

17. § Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe or a young hart upon the mountains [of Bethel].

CHAPTER III.

1. BY night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

2. I will rise now, and go about the city in the streets, and in the broad ways I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3. § The watchmen that go about the city found me: to whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

4. § It was but a little that I passed from him, but I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother’s house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5. § I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

6. § Who is this that cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant?

7. Behold his bed, which is Solomon’s; threescore valiant men are about it, of the valiant of Israel.

8. They all hold swords, being expert in war: every man hath his sword upon his thigh because of fear in the night.

9. King Solomon made himself a chariot of the wood of Lebanon.

10. He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottom thereof of gold, the covering of it of purple, the midst thereof being paved with love, for the daughters of Jerusalem.

11. Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold King Solomon with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

CHAPTER IV.

1. Christ setteth forth the grace of the church. 8 He sheweth his love to her. 16 The church prayeth to be made fit for his presence.

BEHOLD, § thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thou hast glazed eyes within thy locks: thy hair is as a flock of goats, that appear from Mount Gilead.

2. § Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep that are new shorn, which came up from the watering: wherefore every one beareth twins, and none is barren among them.

3. Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples are like a piece of pomegranate within thy locks.

4. § Thy neck is like the tower of David built up for an armory, wherein there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men.

5. § Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies.

6. § Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.

7. § Thou art all fair, my love; there is no spot in thee.

8. § Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, with me from Lebanon: look from the top of Ammon, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the lions’ den, from the mountains of the leopards.

9. § Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my spouse; thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck.

10. § How fair is thy love, my sister, my spouse! how much better is thy love than wine! and the smell of thine ointments than all spices!

11. § Thy lips, O my spouse, drop as the honeycomb: honey and milk are under thy tongue; and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

12. § A garden enclosed is my sister, my spouse; a spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

13. § Thy plants are an orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits; [camphire, with spikenard.

14. § Spikenard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense; myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices:

15. § A fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and streams from Lebanon.

16. § Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south; blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out. § Let my beloved

2. 1. I sleep, but my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved "that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night.

3. I have put off my coat; how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet; how shall I defile them?

4. My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my bowels were moved for him.

5. I rose up to open to my beloved; and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with sweet-smelling myrrh, upon the handles of the lock.

6. I opened to my beloved; but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone: my soul failed when he spake; I sought him, but I could not find him; I called him, but he gave me no answer.

7. The watchmen that went about the city found me, they smote me, they wounded me: the keepers of the walls took away my vail from me.

8. I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, [that ye tell him, that I am sick of love.

9. What is thine beloved more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? what is thine beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so charge us?

10. My beloved is white and ruddy, [the chieftain among ten thousand.

11. His head is as the most fine gold, his locks are as ruddy and black as a raven.

12. His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the rivers of waters, washed with milk, and one set.

13. His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as sweet flowers: his lips like lilies, dropping sweet-smelling myrrh.

14. His hands are as gold rings set with the beryl: his belly is as bright ivory overlaid with saphires.

15. His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold: his countenance is as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16. [His mouth is most sweet; yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

CHAPTER VI.

1. The church professeth her faith in Christ. 2. Christ sheweth the graces of the church, in and by the love toward her.

HITHER is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women! Wilt thou be Thy beloved turned aside? that we may seek him with thee.

2. My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

3. [I saw my beloved's and my beloved is mine; he feedeth among the lilies.

4. Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.

5. Turn away thine eyes from me, if thou have overcome me; thy hair is as a flock of goats that appear from Gilgal.

6. Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereas every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.

7. As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.

8. There are three-score queens, and four-score concubines, and virgins without number.

9. My dove, my undefiled is but one: she is the only one of her mother, she is the choice one of her that bare her. The daughters saw her, and blessed her; yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10. Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners?

11. I went down into the garden of nuts to see the fruits of the valley, and to see whether the vine flourished, and the pomegranates budded.

12. Or ever I was aware, my soul made me like the chariots of Ammi-nadib.

13. Return, return, O Shulmanite; return, return, that we may look upon thee. What will ye see in the Shulmanite? As it were the company of two armies.

CHAPTER VII.

NOW beautiful are thy feet with shoes, 0 prince's daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2. Thy navel is like a round goblet, which wanteth not liquor; thy belly is like a heap of wheat set about with lilies.
3 *Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins.
4 *Thy neck is as a tower of ivory; thine eyes like the fish-pools in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Lebanon which looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine head upon thee is like || Carniel, and the hair of thine head like purple; the King is || held in the galleries.

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights!

7 This thy stature is like a palm-tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

8 I said, I will go up to the palm-tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof: now also thy breasts shall be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy nose like apples;

9 And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine for my beloved, that goeth down sweetly, causing the lips || of those that are asleep to speak.

10 *I am my beloved's, and *his desire is toward me.

11 Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vineyards; let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape || appear, and the pomegranates bud forth; there will I give thee my loves.

13 The mandrakes give a smell, and at our gates are all manner of pleasant fruits, new and old, which I have hid up for thee, O my beloved.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 The love of the church to Christ. 6 The vehemency of love. 8 The calling of the Gentiles. 11 The church prayeth for Christ's coming.

THAT thou went as my brother, that sucked the breasts of my mother! when I should find thee without, I would kiss thee; yea, I should not be despised.

2 I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, who would instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine of the juice of my pomegranate.

3 *His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me.

4 *I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, until he please.

5 *Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? I raised thee up under the apple-tree: there thy mother brought thee forth: there she brought thee forth that bare thee.

6 *Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame.

7 Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: *if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned.

8 *We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister in the day when she shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of silver: and if she be a door, we will enclose her with boards of cedar.

10 I am a wall, and my breasts like towers: then was I in his eyes as one that found favour.

11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon; he let out the vineyard unto keepers; every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thousand pieces of silver.

12 My vineyard which is mine, is before me: thou, O Solomon, must have a thousand, and those that keep the fruit thereof two hundred.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken to thy voice: cause me to hear it.

14 *Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe or to a young hart upon the mountains of spices.
CHAPTER I.

1 The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth; for the Lord hath spoken; I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me.

3 The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel knoweth not, my people doth not consider.

4 Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward.

5 Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will rise up no more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it: but wounds, and bruises, and putrefying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.

7 Your country is desolate, your cities are burned with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers.

8 And the daughter of Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.

9 Except the Lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah.

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the Lord: I am full of the burnt-offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he goats.

12 When ye come unto appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more vain oblations: incense is an abomination unto me; the new moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies, I cannot away with; it is iniquity, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your new moons and your appointed feastsmy soul hatesthey are a trouble unto me: I am weary to hear them.

15 And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you; *yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood.

16 Wash ye, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; *cease to do evil;

17 Learn to do well; *seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord; though your sins be as scarlet, *they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land:

20 But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword; *for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

21 How is the faithful city become a harlot! it was full of judgment; righteousness lodged in it: but now murderers.

22 Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixed with water:

23 Thy princes are rebellions, and *companions of thieves; *every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will even cause mine adversaries to err, and will confuse the pride of mine enemies.

25 And I will turn my hand upon thee, and *purge away thy dross, and take away all thy tin:
26 And I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called, The city of righteousness, the faithful city.

27 Zion shall be redeemed with judgment, and thy converts with righteousness.

28 ¶ And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the Lord shall be consumed.

29 For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen.

30 For ye shall be as an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water.

31 ¶ And the strong shall be as tow, and the maker of it as a spark, and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

CHAPTER II.

1 Isaiah prophesied the coming of Christ's kingdom. 6 Wickedness is the curse of God's forefathers. 40 He exclaimeth to fear, because of the powerful effects of God's majesty.

I. The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow into it.

3 And many people shall go and say, 'Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.'

4 And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into ploughshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord.

6 ¶ Therefore thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be replenished from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they have themselves in the children of strangers.

7 Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land is also full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots:

8 Their land also is full of idols: they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made:

9 And the mean man boweth down, and the great man humblieth himself: therefore forgive them not.

10 ¶ Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty.

11 The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up; and he shall be brought low:

13 And upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan,

14 And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up,

15 And upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall,

16 ¶ And upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant pictures.

17 ¶ And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low: and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 And all the idols he shall utterly abolish.

19 And they shall go into the caves of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, and into the tops of the mountains, and into the hill fifties, and into the clefts of the rocks, and into thedistricts of the rock, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

20 ¶In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made each one for himself to worship, to the moles and to the bats:

21 ¶To go into the dens of the rocks, and into the tops of the rugged rocks, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

22 ¶Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

CHAPTER III.

1 The great confusion which cometh by sin. 9 The impiety of the people. 12 The oppression and consternation of the rulers. 16 The judgments which shall be for the pride of the women.

2 For behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, shall take away from Jerusalem and from Judah the stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water.

3 The mighty man, and the man of war, the judge, and the prophet, and the prudent, and the ancient,

3 The captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent orator.

4 And I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly from the sun, and from the moon, for a place of shadow, and for a cover from the heat by day, from the cold and the frost by night, for the sun shall be a girdle to the earth, and the moon shall be overcomer; and the heat thereof shall be a girdle, and the day shall be no more, neither shall it be night; for the Lord shall be thy light, and the Lord shall be thy glory.

In the day when the kings shall be cut off, that day shall a song be declared in the house of Israel.

Therefore are the prudent wise, and understanding hearts, to honor me, saith the Lord, for what is the name of the Lord our God but for judgment, and for righteousness, and for justice? electoral hath cried, and the peoples have heard; they have loved thy word and thy commandments above all earthly treasures.

Therefore I will also cause them to know, and will remember their doings, saith the Lord, for they have forsaken me, and have offered unto strange gods the flesh of their children for burnt-offerings, and the soul of their sons and daughters have they burned up in the fire, and have not spared them nor hath the house of Jacob despised me because of their doings.

And I will gather them out of all lands, and will bring them into their own land, and will gather the daughter of Jacob, and gather the inheritance of Israel, from all the nations, into whom I have scattered them, saith the Lord, and will make them one nation in the land, in one king, and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more.

And I will remove them out of their evil ways, and will bring them again, and I will plant them in their own land, and they shall be one nation in the land.

I will make them one nation in the land, in one king, and there shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more in all the land.

And I will make them one nation in the land, in one king, and they shall be one nation, and shall not be divided any more, neither shall they any more be a prey for all people; for I will save them out of all their reproaches, and will love them, and will be to them for a father, and they shall be to me for sons, saith the Lord.

And I will bring them again to the land of their captivity, and will have mercy on them; and they shall be my people, and I will be to them a father, and I will bring them again, and will not leave them, and I will make them one nation again in the land, in one king, and they shall be one nation, and shall not be divided any more, neither shall they any more be a prey for all people, for I will save them out of all their reproaches, and will have mercy on them, and will be to them for a father, and they shall be to me for sons, saith the Lord.
And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem, and men of Judah, 'Judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard.

What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes!

And now go to; I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: 'I will take away the hedge thereof; and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down;

And I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned, nor digged; but there shall come up briers and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah 'this pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression; for righteousness, but behold a cry.

And 'Wo unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth!

'In mine ears, saith the Lord of hosts, 'Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant.

Yea, ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bunch, and the seed of a homer shall yield an ephah.

Wo unto them that rise up early in the morning that they may follow strong drink, that continue until night, till wine [[burn] them!]

And 'the harp, and the viol, the tabret, and pipe, and wine, are in their feasts: but 'they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands.

Therefore my people are gone into captivity, 'because they have no knowledge; and 'their honourable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst.

Therefore hath he enlarged himself, and opened her mouth without measure; and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiced, shall descend into it.

And 'the mean man shall be brought down, and the mighty man shall be humbled, and the eyes of the lofty shall be humbled:

But the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and 'God that is holy shall be sanctified in righteousness.

Then shall the lambs feed after their manner, and the waste places of the 'fat ones shall strangers eat.

Wo unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart-rope:

That say, Let him make speed, and hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it!

Wo unto them that 'call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!

Wo unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent [[their own sight!]

Wo unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink:

Which justify the wicked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him!

Therefore 'as 'the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so 'their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have cast away the law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

Therefore is the anger of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and hath smitten them: and 'theills did trouble, and their carcases were torn in the midst of the streets. 'For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

And 'he will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and 'will his unto them from 'the end of the earth; and behold, 'they shall come with speed swiftly.

None shall be weary nor stumble among them; none shall slumber nor sleep; neither shall the girdle of his loins be loosed, nor the latchet of his shoes be broken:

Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent, their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind.

Their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and shall carry it away safe, and none shall deliver it.

And in that day they shall roar against them like the roaring of the sea: and if one 'look unto the land, behold, darkness and [[sorrow, ]] and the light is darkened in the heavens thereof.

CHAPTER VI.

Isaiah, in a vision of the Lord in his glory, 5 being terrified, is confirmed for his message. 6 He sheweth the obstinacy of the people unto their destruction. 7 A remnant shall be saved.

In the year that 'King Uzziah died I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and [[his train filled the temple.]

Above it stood the seraphims: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, and 'with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly.
3 And one cried unto another, and said, 'Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory.

4 And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.
5 And he said, 'Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts.

6 Then flew one of the seraphim unto me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar:
7 And he laid it upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this had touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin purged.
8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I; send me.

9 And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not.
10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes: lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed.

11 Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, 'Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate;

12 And the Lord have removed men far away, and there shall be a great forsaking in the midst of the land.

13 But yet in it shall be a tenth, and it shall return, and shall be eaten: as a teel-tree, and as an oak whose substance is in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Ahaz being troubled with fear of Rezin and Pekah, is comforted by Isaiah. 10 Ahaz having liberty to choose a sign, and returning at last, both for a sign, Christ promised. 17 His judgment is preposth, to come by Assyria.

2 And it was told the house of David, saying, Syria is confederate with Ephraim. And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the wood are moved with the wind.

3 Then said the Lord unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and [Shear-jashub thy son], at the end of the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field:

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither be faint-hearted for the two tails of these smoking fire-brands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the son of Remaliah.

5 Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah, have taken evil counsel against thee, saying,

6 Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeal:

7 Thus saith the Lord Goan, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass.

8 For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within three-score and five years shall Ephraim be broken, that it be not a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.

10 Moreover, the Lord spake again unto Ahaz, saying,

11 Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David; Is it a small thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Emmanuel.

15 Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good.

16 For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her kings.

17 The Lord shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah, even the king of Assyria.

18 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall raise for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria,

19 And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all thistles.
20 In the same day shall the Lord shave with a "razor that is hired, namely, by them beyond the river, by the king of Assyria, the head, and the hair of the feet: and it shall also consume the beard.
21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep;
22 And it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give that he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the land.
23 And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, 'it shall even be for briers and thorns.
24 With arrows and with hoes shall men come thither; because all the land shall become briers and thorns.
25 And on all hills that shall be digged with the mattock, there shall not come thither the fear of briers and thorns: but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of lesser cattle.

CHAPTER VIII.
1 In Maher-shalal-hash-baz, he prophesieth that Sion and Israel shall be plucked by Assyria. 2 Joshua lieth on his breaches; 3 God's judgments shall be unanswerable. 4 Comfort shall be to them that fear God. 5 Great afflictions to idolaters.

OREOVER, the Lord said unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen concerning Maher-shalal-hash-baz.
2 And I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, 3 Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.
3 And I wrote unto the propheters; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the Lord unto me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz.
4 For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, 'it the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.
5 The Lord spake also unto me again, saying,

6 Forasmuch as this people draw not waters according to the waters of Shiloh that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah's son;
7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth upon them the waters of the river strong and many, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks;
8 And he shall pass through Judah; he shall overflow and go over; he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Jacob.
9 "Associate yourselves, O ye people, and be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.
10 Take counsel together, and it shall come to pass: speak the word, and it shall not stand: 'for God is with us.
11 For the Lord spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying,
12 Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.
13 Sanctify the Lord of hosts himself; and let him be your fear and let him be your dread.
14 And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
15 And many among them shall stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.
16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.
17 And I will wait upon the Lord, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.
18 Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth in Mount Zion.
19 And when they shall say unto you, Seck unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that matter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead?
20 To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because 'there is no light in them.
21 And they shall pass through it, hardly beset and hungry: and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse their king and their God, and look upward.
22 And they shall look unto the earth; and behold trouble and darkness, 'dimness of anguish; and they shall be driven to darkness.

CHAPTER IX.
1 What joy shall be in the midst of afflictions, by the kingdom and birth of Christ. 2 The prophecies upon Israel for their pride, 13 for their hypocrisy, 18 and for their impiousness.

EVERTHELESS the dimness shall not be such as was in her vexation, when at the first he lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphthali, and afterward did more grievously afflict her by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, in Galilee.|| The nations.
2 The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.
3 Thou hast multiplied the nation,|| and|| not increased the joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide the spoil.
4 ||For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, as in the day of Midian.
5 ||For every battle of the warrior is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood;|| but this shall be with burning and|| the fire of the.
6 For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.
7 Of the increase of his government and peace|| where shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. ||The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this.
8 ||The Lord sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel.
9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and stoutness of heart.
10 The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn stones: the sycamores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.
11 Therefore the Lord shall set up the adversaries of Rezin against him, and join his enemies together;
12 The Syrians before, and the Philistines behind; and they shall devour Israel as a rush, with open mouth. ||For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.
13 ||For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither do they seek the Lord of hosts.
14 Therefore the Lord will cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and rush, in one day.
15 The ancient and honourable, be he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.
16 For|| the leaders of this people cause them to err; and|| they that are led of them are|| destroyed.
17 Therefore the Lord shall have no joy in their young men, neither shall have mercy on their fatherless and widows; ||for every one is a hypocrite and an evil-doer, and every mouth speaketh|| falsely. ||For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 ||For wickedness burneth as the fire: it shall devour the briars and thorns, and shall kindle in the thickets of the forest, and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoke.
19 Through the wrath of the Lord of hosts is the land darkened, and the people shall be as the fuel of the fire: ||no man shall spare his brother.
20 And he shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: ||they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm:
21 Manasseh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manasseh:|| and they together shall be against Judah. ||For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAPTER X.

1 The sons of Tyrus. ||5 Assyria, the rod of a scepter, for thy punishment shall be broken. ||9 A remnant of Israel shall be saved. ||11 Israel is consolated with promise of deliverance from Assyria.
2 WO unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and|| that write grievousness which they have prescribed:

2 To turn aside the needs from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and|| that they may rob the fatherless!
3 And|| what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far! to whom will ye flee for help! and where will ye leave your glory!
4 Without me they shall bow down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain. ||For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.
5 ||O Assyrian, the rod of mine anger,||and the staff in their hand is mine indignation.
6 I will send him against a hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.
7 ||Howbeit he meanceth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy and cut off nations not a few.
8 ||For he saith, Are not my princes altogether kings!
9 Is not Calno as Carchemish? ||is not Hamath as Arpad? ||is not Samaria||as Damascus!
10 As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, and whose graven images did vex them of Jerusalem and of Samaria;
11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?
12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, "I will punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.
13 ¶ For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants, like a valiant man:
14 And 'his hand hath founded as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth; and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.
15 Shall 'the axe boast itself against him that hathleweth therewith? or shall the saw magnify itself against him that sharpeneth it? ||as if the rod should shake itself against them that lift it up, or as if the staff should lift up ||itself, as if it were no wood.
16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his 'fat ones leanness; and under his glory he shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.
17 And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day;
18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of 'his fruitful field, both soul and body: and they shall be as when a standard-bearer fainteth.
19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them.
20 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more stay upon him that smote them: but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, in truth.
21 ¶ The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God.
22 ¶ For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant of them shall return: 'the consumption decreed shall overflow ||with righteousness.
23 ¶ For the Lord God of hosts shall make a consumption, even determined, in the midst of all the land.
24 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian: he shall smite thee with a rod: ||and shall lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt.
25 ¶ For yet a very little while, 'and the indigation shall cease, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 ¶ And the Lord of hosts shall stir up a scourge for him according to the slaughter of Midiam at the rock of Oreb: and his rod rears upon the sea, so shall he lift it up after the manner of Egypt.
27 And it shall come to pass in that day, that 'his burden shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.
28 He is come to Aiath, he is passed to Migron; at Michmash he hath laid up his carriages:
29 ¶ They are gone over ||the passage: they have taken up their lodging at Geba: Ramah is afraid; 'Gibeah of Saul is fled.
30 ¶ Lift up thy voice, O daughter of Gal- lIM: cause it to be heard unto 'Laish, O poor Anathoth.
31 ¶ Madmenah is removed; the inhabitants of Gebim gather themselves to flee.
32 As yet shall he remain at Nob that day: he shall shake his hand against the mount of ||the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.
33 Behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts shall lop the hough with terror: and ||the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the haughty shall be humbled.
34 And he shall cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lebanon shall fall ||by a mighty one.

CHAPTER XI.
1 The peaceable kingdom of the Branch out of the root of Jesse. 10 The victorious restoration of Israel, and vocation of the Gentiles.

ND ||there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and ||a Branch shall grow out of his roots:
2 ¶ And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord;
3 And shall make him of 'quick understanding in the fear of the Lord: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears;
4 But 'with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and ||reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.
5 And ||righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.
6 ¶ The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid: and the calf and the young lion and the fatting together; and a little child shall lead them.
7 And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the cockatrice's den.

9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

10 And in that day shall there be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek: and his rest shall be glorious.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall be left from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shanar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea.

12 And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.

13 The envy also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off:

Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim.

14 But they shall fly upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the west; they shall spoil them of the east together: and they shall lay their hand upon Edom and Moab: and the children of Ammon shall obey them.

15 And the Lord shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea, and with his mighty wind shall he shake his hand over the river, and shall smite it in the seven streams, and make men go over dry-shod.

16 And there shall be a highway for the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria; like as it was to Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.
ings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the Lord; for he hath done excellent things:
this is known in all the earth.

6 Cry out and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion; for great is the Holy of Israel in the midst of thee.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 God is the avenger of his wrath.
6 He threateneth to destroyn Babylon by the Medes. 9 The desolation of Babylon.

THE burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz did see.
2 Lift up your banner upon the high mountain, exalt the voice unto them, shake the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded my sanctified ones, I have also called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them that rejoice in my highness.

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains, as like as of a great people; a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts mustereth the host of the battle.

5 They come from a far country, from the end of heaven, even the Lord, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.

6 O howl ye; for the day of the Lord is at hand; it shall come as a destruction to the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every man's heart shall melt;

8 And they shall be afraid; pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them; they shall be in pain as a woman travaileth: they shall be amazed one at another; their faces shall be as flames.

9 Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate; and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.

10 For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible.

12 I will make a man more precious than fine gold; even a man than the golden wedge of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place, in the writhe of the Lord of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall be as the chased roe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall evade every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.

15 Every one that is found shall be thrust through; and every one that is joined unto them shall fall by the sword.

16 Their children also shall be dashed to pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished.

17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver; and as for gold, they shall not delight in it.

18 Their bows also shall dash the young men to pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children.

19 And Babylon, the glory of kings, the beauty of the Chaldees' excellency, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; neither shall the sheph ers make their fold there.

21 But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there;
and their houses shall be full of fable creatures; and owls shall dwell there, and tenants shall dance there.

22 And the wild beasts of the islands shall cry in their desolate houses, and dragons in their pleasant palaces; and her time is near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 God's merciful restoration of Israel. 4 Then triumphant insurrection over Babyl. 21 God's purpose against Assyria. 22 Palestine is threatened.

OR the Lord will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel; and set them in their own land; and the strangers shall be joined with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob.

2 And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place; and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the Lord for servants and handmaides: and they shall take them captives, yea, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppres sors.

3 And it shall come to pass in the day that the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve,

4 That thou shalt take up this proverb against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased, the "golden city ceased!
5 The Lord hath broken "the staff of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers.
6 He who smote the people in wrath with a continual stroke, be that ruled the nations in anger, is persecuted, and none hindereth.
7 The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet: they break forth into singing.
8 Yea, the fir-trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us.
9 Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming: it stirreth up the dead for thee, even all the "chief ones of the earth: it hath raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations.
10 All they shall speak and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? Art thou become like unto us?
11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.
12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, to the place of the serpent's issue!
13 For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of congregation, in the sides of the north:
14 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the Most High.
15 Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit.
16 They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms?
17 That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof: that opened not the house of his prisoners!
18 All the kings of the nations, even all of them, lie in glory, every one in his own house.
19 But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust through with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit: as a carcass trodden under feet.
20 Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: the seed of evildoers shall never be renowned.
21 Prepare slaughter for his children 'for the iniquity of their fathers; that they do not rise, nor possess the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities.
22 For I will rise up against them, saith the Lord of hosts, and cut off from Babylon the name, and remnant, and son, and nephew, saith the Lord.
Moab is threatened for her pride.

Isaiah.

9:5 Therefore a I will bewail with the weeping of Jazer the vine of Sibmah: I will water thee with my tears; "O Heshbon, and Eileath: for the shouting for thy summer fruits and for thy harvest is fallen.

10:1 And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field; and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither shall there be shouting; the treader shall tread out no wine in their presses; I have made their vintage-shouting to cease.

11:1 Wherefore my bowels shall sound like a harp for Moab, and nine inward parts for Kir-hareseth.

12:4 And it shall come to pass, when it is seen that Moab is weary on the high place, that he shall come to his sanctuary to pray; but he shall not prevail.

13:3 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken concerning Moab since that time.

Chapter XVII.

1 Syria and Israel are threatened. 2 A remnant shall forsake Judah. 3 The remnant shall be very small and feeble.

Chapter XVI.

1 Moab is exalted to yield obedience to Christ's kingdom.

2 He shall stretch out his hand to the spoil of his enemies, and touch the face of the spoiler; for the spoiler himself shall be an end, the spoiler enwrapped, the oppressors are consumed out of the land.

3 And in mercy shall the throne be established: and he shall sit upon it in truth in the tabernacle of David, judging and seeking judgment, and hastening righteousness.

4 We have heard of the pride of Moab: he is very proud: even of his haughtiness, and his pride, and his wrath: but his lies shall not be so.

5 Therefore shall Moab howl for Moab, every one shall howl: for the foundations of Kir-hareseth shall ye cry: mourn; surely they are stricken.

6 For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen have broken down the principal plants thereof: of them are come even unto Jazer, they wandered through the wilderness; their branches are stretched out, they are gone over the sea.

7 At that day shall man look to his Maker, and his eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel.

8 And he shall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither shall respect that which his fingers have made, either the groves, or the images.

9 ¶ In that day shall his strong cities be as a forsaken bough, and an uppermost branch, which they left because of the children of Israel: and there shall be desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the Rock of thy strength, therefore shall thou plant pleasant plants, and shall set it with strange slips:

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish; but the harvest shall be a heap in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow.

12 ¶ Wo to the multitude of many people, which make a noise like the noise of the seas; and to the rushing of nations, that make a rushing like the rushing of mighty waters!

13 The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters; but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like a rolling thing before the whirlwind.

14 And behold at evening-tide trouble; and before the morning he is not: this is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 God in care of his people will destroy the Egyptians.

2 An access of Egypt shall go into the church.

1 WO to the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia:

2 That sendeth ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of bulrushes upon the waters, saying, Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation scattered and peeled, to a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden down, whose land the rivers have spoiled!

3 All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers upon the earth, see ye, when he lifteth up an ensign upon the mountains; and when he bloweth a trumpet, hear ye.

4 For so the Lord said unto me, I will take my rest, and I will consider in my dwelling-place like a clear heat upon herbs, and like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

5 For alor the harvest, when the bud is perfect, and the sour grape is ripening in the flower, he shall both cut off the spigs with pruning-hooks, and take away and cut down the branches.

6 They shall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth: and the fowls shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them.

7 ¶ In that time shall the present be brought unto the Lord of hosts of a people scattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled, to the place of the name of the Lord of hosts, the Mount Zion.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 The confusion of Egypt. 11 The foolishness of their princes.

2 The calling of Egypt to the church. 12 The covenant of Egypt, Assyria, and Israel.

THE burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt; and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians; and they shall fight one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.

3 And the spirit of Egypt shall fail in the midst thereof; and I will destroy the counsel thereof; and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards.

4 And the Egyptians will I give over into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts.

5 ¶ And the water shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up.

6 And they shall turn the rivers for away; and the brooks of defence shall be emptied and dried up; the reeds and flags shall wither.

7 The paper-reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks, and every thing sown by the brooks, shall wither; he driven away, and be no more.

8 The fishes also shall mourn, and all they that cast angle into the brooks shall lament, and they that spread nets upon the waters shall languish.

9 Moreover they that work in fine flax, and they that weave net-works, shall be confounded.

10 And they shall be broken in the purposes thereof, all that make sluices and ponds for fish.

11 ¶ Surely the princes of Zoan are fools, the counsel of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become brutish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?

12 Where are thy words? where are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now, and let them know what the Lord of hosts hath purposed upon Egypt.

13 The princes of Zoan are become fools, yea, the princes of Noph are deceived: they have also seduced Egypt, even even the stay of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled a perverse spirit in the midst thereof: and they have caused Egypt to err in every work thereof, as a drunken man staggereth in his vomit.

15 Neither shall there be any work for Egypt, which the head or tail, branch or rush, may do.

16 In that day shall Egypt be as the women: and it shall be afraid and fear, because of the shaking of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which he shaketh over it.

17 And the land of Judah shall be a terror unto Egypt, every one that maketh mention thereof shall be afraid in himself, because of the counsel of the Lord of hosts, which he hath determined against it.

18 ¶ In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the Lord of hosts; one shall be called The city of destruction.

19 In that day shall there be an altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the Lord.

20 And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the Lord of hosts in the land of Egypt: and they shall cry unto the Lord because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a saviour, and a great one, and he shall deliver them.

21 And the Lord shall be known in Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation; yea, they shall vow a vow unto the Lord, and perform it.

22 And the Lord shall smite Egypt: he shall smite and heal it: and they shall return even to the Lord, and he shall be entreated of them, and shall heal them.

23 ¶ In that day shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians shall serve with the Assyrians.

24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, even even a blessing in the midst of the land:

25 Whom the Lord of hosts shall bless, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria, the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

CHAPTER XX.

A type propounding the shameful captivity of Egypt and Ethiopia.

In the year that Tahpanhes came unto Ashdod (whom Sargon the king of Assyria sent him) and fought against Ashdod, and took it;

2 At the same time spake the Lord to Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying:

Go, and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and wonder upon Egypt and upon Ethiopia;

4 So shall the king of Assyria lead away the Egyptians prisoners, and the Ethiopians captives, young and old, naked and barefoot, even with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 ¶ And they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory.

6 And the inhabitant of this isle shall say, in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria; and how shall we escape?

CHAPTER XXI.

The prophet, bewailing the captivity of his people, seeth in a vision the fall of Babylon by the Medes and Persians. 11 Edom, scorning the prophet, is moved to repentance. 13 The time set of Arabia's calamity.

HE burden of the desert of the sea. As whirlwinds in the south pass through; so it cometh from the desert, from a terrible land.

2 A grievous vision is declared unto me: The treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam: besiege, O Media; all the sighing thereof have I made to cease.

3 Therefore are my loins filled with pain: pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down at the hearing of it; I was dismayed at the seeing of it.

4 ¶ My heart panted, fearfulness affrighted me; the night of my pleasure hath he turned into fear unto me.

5 ¶ Prepare the table, watch in the watch-tower, eat, drink: arise, ye princes, and anoint the shield.

6 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.

7 ¶ And he saw a chariot with a couple of horsemen, a chariot of asses, and a chariot of camels; and he hearkened diligently with much heed:
hosts in the valley of vision, breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountains.
6 And Elam bare the quiver with chariots of men and horsemen, and Kirm uncovered the shield.
7 And it shall come to pass, that thy choicest valleys shall be full of chariots, and the horsemen shall set themselves in array at the gate.
8 And he discovered the covering of Judah, and thou didst look in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.
9 Ye have seen also the breaches of the city of David, that they are many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.
10 And ye have numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses have ye broken down to fortify the wall.
11 Ye made also a ditch between the two walls for the water of the old pool; but ye have not looked unto the maker thereof, neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago.
12 And in that day did the Lord God of hosts call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth.
13 And behold joy and gladness, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine: let us eat and drink; for tomorrow we shall die.
14 And it was revealed in mine ears by the Lord of hosts. Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord God of hosts.
and shall he be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah.

22 And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; so he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place: and he shall be for a glorious throne to his father's house.

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, all vessels of small quantity, from the vessels of cups, even to all the vessels of flagons.

25 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall the nail that is fastened in the sure place be removed, and be cut down, and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off; for the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAPTER XXIII.
1 The miserable overthrow of Tyre. 2 Their unhappy return.

1 THE burden of Tyre, Howl, ye ships of Tarshish; for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in; from the land of Chittim it is revealed to them.

2 Be still, ye inhabitants of the isle; thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished.

3 And by great waters the seed of Sihor, the harvest of the river, is her revenue; and she is a mart of nations.

4 Be thou ashamed, O Zidon: for she hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I travel not, nor bring forth children, neither do I nourish up young men, nor bring up virgins.

5 As at the report concerning Egypt, so shall they be sorely pained at the report of Tyre.

6 Pass ye over to Tarshish; howl, ye inhabitants of the isle.

7 Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days? her own feet shall carry her afar off to sojourn.

8 Who hath taken this counsel against Tyre, the crowning city, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth?

9 The Lord of hosts hath purposed it to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth.

10 Pass through thy land as a river, O daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand over the sea, he shook the kingdoms: the Lord hath given a commandment against the merchant-city, to destroy the strong holds thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin, daughter of Zidon: arise, pass over to Chittim; there also shalt thou have no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Chaldeans; this people was not, till the Assyrian founded it for them that dwell in the wilderness: they set up the towers thereof, they raised up the palaces thereof, and he brought it to ruin.

14 Howl, ye ships of Tarshish: for your strength is laid waste.

15 And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of seventy years shall Tyre sing as a harlot.

16 Take a harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the Lord will visit Tyre, and she shall turn to her hire, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.

18 And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the Lord: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

CHAPTER XXIV.
1 The dolorful judgments of God upon the land. 2 A triumphant shall joyfully praise him. 3 In God his judgments shall advance his kingdom.

2 ¶ And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him.

3 The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this word.

4 The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the haughty people of the earth do languish.

5 The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof; because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant.

6 Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate; therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left.

7 The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merry-hearted do sigh.
CHAPTER XXV.

1 The prophet praise God for his judgments, 6 for his saving benefits, 9 and for his victorious salvation.

LORD, thou art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name: 4 for thou hast done wonderful things: thy counsels of old are faithful and true.

2 For thou hast made of a city a heap; of a defended city a ruin: a palace of strangers to be no city; it shall never be built.

3 Therefore shall the strong people glorify thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee.

4 For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring down the noise of strangers, as the heat in a dry place; even the heat with the shadow of a cloud: the branch of the terrible ones shall be brought low.

6 And in this mountain shall the Lord of hosts make unto all people a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees: of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refinished.

7 And he will destroy in this mountain the face of the covering feast over all people, and the vail that is spread over all nations.

8 He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him; and he will save us: this is the Lord; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation.

10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the Lord rest, and Moab shall be as a trodden down under him, even as straw is trodden down for the dung-hill.

11 And it shall be spread forth his hands in the midst of them, as he that swingeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim: and he shall bring down their pride together with the spoils of their hands.

12 And the fortress of the high fort of thy walls shall he bring down, lay low, and bring to the ground, even to the dust.

CHAPTER XXVI.

1 A song neutron to confidence in God, 5 for his judgments, 12 and for his mercy to his people. 20 An exhortation to wait on God.
A SONG INCITING TO CONFIDENCE IN GOD.

ISAIAH.

CHAPTER XXVI.

1 That day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah: We have a strong city; salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteousness which keepeth the truth may enter in.

3 Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.

4 Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength:

5 For he bringeth down them that dwell on high; the lofty city, he layeth it low; he layeth it low, even to the ground; he bringeth it even to the dust.

6 The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy.

7 The way of the just is uprightness; therein, most upright, dost weigh the path of the just.

8 Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night: yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.

10 Let favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness: in the land of uprightness will he be dealt unjustly, and will not behold the majesty of the Lord.

11 Lord, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not see: but they shall see, and be ashamed for their envy at the people; yea, the fire of thine enemies shall devour them.

12 Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou hast also wrought all our works in us.

13 O Lord our God, other lords besides thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name.

14 They are dead, they shall not live; they are deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish.

15 Thou hast increased the nation, O Lord, thou hast increased the nation: thou art glorified: thou hast removed it far unto all the ends of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble have they visited thee; they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth near with the time of her delivery, is in pain, and crieth out in her pangs; so have we been in thy sight, O Lord.

18 We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth; neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen.

19 Thy dead men shall live, together with my dead body shall they arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee; hide thyself as it were for a little moment, until the indignation be overpast.

21 For behold, the Lord cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 That day shall the Lord with his sore and great and strong sword shall punish leviathan the piercing serpent, even leviathan that crooked serpent; and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day singing ye unto her, A vineyard of red wine.

3 I the Lord do keep it; I will water it every moment: lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day.

4 Fury is not in me: who would set the briars and thorns against me in battle? I would go through them, I would burn them together.

5 Or let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me, and he shall make peace with me.

6 He shall cause them that come of Jacob to take root: Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit.

7 Hath he smitten him, as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that are slain by him?

8 In measure, when it shooteth forth, thou wilt debate with it; and he stayeth his rough wind in the day of the east wind.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged; and this is all the fruit to take away his sin: when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalk-stones that are beaten in sunder, the groves and images shall not stand up.

10 Yet the defenced city shall be desolate, and the habitation forsaken, and left like a wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off; the women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of no understanding: therefore he that made them will not have mercy on them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour.

12 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall beat off from the channel of the river unto the stream of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the great trumpet shall be blown, and they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and the outcasts in the land of Egypt, and shall worship the Lord in the holy mount at Jerusalem.

CHAPTER XXVIII.
1 The prophet threatens Ephraim for their pride and drunkenness.
2 The rod shall be advanced in the kingdom of Christ. 7 He rebuketh them.
3 Their unawakeness to learn. 14 Their security. 16 Christ the sure foundation is promised. 18 They are met with the consideration of God's discreet providence.

O to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat valleys of them that are trodden under feet:

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one, which as a tempest of hail and a destroying storm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, shall cast down to the earth with the hand.

3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trodden under feet:

And the glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the hasty fruit before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he dasheth it up.

4 In that day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people.

5 And for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for strength to them that turn the gate to the battle.

6 But they also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way: the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine; they are out of the way through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment.

7 For all tables are full of comfit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean.

8 Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.

9 For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little:

10 For with stammering lips and another tongue will he speak to this people.

11 To whom he said, This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest; and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear.

12 But the word of the Lord was unto them, precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little; that they might go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

13 Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jerusalem.

14 Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves:

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste.

16 Judgment also will I lay to the line, and righteousness to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding-place.

17 And your covenant with death shall be dissolved, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it.

18 From the time that it goeth forth it shall take you: for morning by morning shall it pass over, by day and by night: and it shall be a vexation only unto you to understand the report.

19 For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it: and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it.

20 For the Lord shall rise up as in Mount Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to pass his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest his bands he made strong: for I have heard from the Lord God of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

23 Give ye ear, and hear my voice: hearken, and hear my speech.

24 Dost thou plough for him all day to sow? doth he open and break the clouds of his ground?

25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the emminin, and cast in [the] principal wheat, and the appointed barley, and the [eye] in their place? 26 [For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him. 27 For the fitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cart-wheel turned about upon the emminin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the emminin with a rod. 28 Bread-corn is bruised; because he will not ever be threshing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruise it with his horsemen. 29 This also cometh forth from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in working.

CHAPTER XXIX.

1 WO |[to Ariel, to Ariel, the city by David dwelt! add ye year to year; let them kill sacrifices. 2 Yet I will distress Ariel, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow: and it shall be unto me as Ariel. 3 And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will raise forts against thee. 4 And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy voice shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be, as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust. 5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passeth away; yea, it shall be as at an instant suddenly. 6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with storm and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire. 7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her minister, and that distress her, shall be as a dream of a night vision. 8 It shall even be as when a hungry man dreameth, and behold, he eateth; but he awakeeth, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and behold, he drinketh; but he awakeeth, and behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against Mount Zion. 9 Stay yourselves, and wonder; cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.

10 For the Lord hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets and your rulers, the seers he hath covered. 11 And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot; for it is sealed:

12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot.

13 Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men:

14 Therefore behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Wo unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the Lord, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Where is he that shall tell us? and who knoweth us?

16 Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potter’s clay: for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?

17 Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness.

19 The meek also shall increase their joy in the Lord, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.

20 For the terrible one is brought to naught, and the scorner is consumed, and all that watch for iniquity are cut off:

21 That make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just for a thing of naught.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob, Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name, and sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.

24 They also that ered in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that mur]

CHAPTER XXX.

10 to the rebellious children, saith the Lord,

Therefore understanding, shall be your strength; and ye shall not.

6 And therefore will the Lord wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the Lord as a God of judgment; blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: there shall weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear it, he will answer thee.

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers:

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

22 Ye shall defile also the covering of thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as a menstruous cloth; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall he give the rain of thy seed, that thou shalt sow the ground withal; and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise and the young asses that ear the ground shall eat straw plentiful, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.

25 And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every hill high, rivers and streams of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

26 Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be seven-fold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, the name of the Lord cometh from far, burning with his anger, and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire:
28 And his breath, as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity; and there shall be a bridge in the jaws of the people, causing them to err.

29 Ye shall have a song, as in the night "when a holy solemnity is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the Lord, to the Mighty One of Israel.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall shew the fighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with scattering, and tempest, and hail-stones.

31 For through the voice of the Assyrian he beatten down, which smote with a rod.

32 And in every place where the grounded staff shall pass, which the Lord shall lay upon it, shall be tabrets and harps: and in bodes of shaking will he fight with it.

33 For Tophet is ordained of old; yea, for the king it is prepared; he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the Lord, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

CHAPTER XXXI.

O to them that go down to Egypt for help; and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong: but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the Lord!

2 Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evil-doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God: and their horses flesh, and not spirit. When the Lord shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall down, and they all shall fall together.

4 For thus hath the Lord spoken unto me, 'Like as the lion and the young lion rearing on his prey, when a multitude of shepherds is called forth against him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abase himself for the noise of them: so shall the Lord of hosts come down to fight for Mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem: defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it.

6 ¶ Turn ye unto him from whom the children of Israel have deeply revolted.

7 For in that day every man shall cast away his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin.

8 ¶ Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of a mighty man; and the sword, not of a mean man, shall devour him: but he shall flee before from the sword, and his young men shall be ¶discomfited.

9 And the shall pass over to ¶his strong hold for fear, and his princes shall be afraid of the ensign, and the Lord, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

CHAPTER XXXII.

1 The blessings of Christ's kingdom. 9 Desolation is foreshown. 15 Restoration is promised to succeed.

1 BEHOLD, ¶a King shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgment.

2 And a man shall be as a hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a ¶great rock in a weary land.

3 And the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken.

4 The heart also of the ¶trash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly.

5 The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful.

6 For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against the Lord, to make empty the soul of the hungry; and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

7 The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, even ¶when the needy speaketh.

8 But the liberal deviseth liberal things; and by liberal things shall he stand.

9 ¶Rise up, ye women that are at ease; hear my voice, ye careless daughters; give ear unto my speech.

10 ¶Many days and years shall ye be troubled, ye careless women: for the vintage shall fail, the gathering shall not come.

11 Tremble, ye women that are at ease; be troubled, ye careless ones: strip ye, and make you bare, and gird sackcloth upon your loins.

12 They shall lament for the tares, for ¶the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine.

13 ¶Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers; || yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city;

14. Because the palaces shall be forsaken; the multitude of the city shall be left; the [i]rors and towers shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wild asses, a pasture of doves;

15. Until the Spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest.

16. Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field.

17. And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever.

18. And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting-places.

19. When it shall hail, coming down upon the forest; || and the city shall be low in a low place.

OME near ye nations to hear; and hearken ye people; let the earth hear, and fall that is therein; the world, and all things that come forth of it.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is upon all nations, and his fury upon all their armies; he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their carcases, and the mountains shall be molten with their blood.

4 And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll; and all their host shall fall down, as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a falling fig from the fig-tree.

5 For my sword shall be bathed in heaven; behold, it shall come down upon Idumea, and upon the people of my curse, to judgment.

6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams; for the Lord hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.

7 And the unicorns shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be soaked with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness.

8 For it is the day of the Lord's vengeance, and the year of recompenses for the controversy of Zion.

9 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever; from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it for ever and ever.

11 But theicorn shall possess it; the owl also and the raven shall dwell in it; and the swallow stretch upon it the line of confusion, and the stones of emptiness.

12 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there, and all her princes shall be nothing.

13 And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in the fortresses thereof; and it shall be a habitation of dragons, and a court for owls.

14 The wild beasts of the desert also shall rest there, and find for herself a place of rest.

15 There shall the great owl make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow; there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate.

16 Seek ye out of the book of the Lord, and read; no one of these shall fail, none shall want her mate; for my mouth, it hath commanded, and his spirit, it hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possess it for ever, from generation to generation they shall dwell therein.

CHAPTER XXXV.

1 The joyful flourishing of Christ's kingdom. 2 The weak are encouraged by the virtues and privileges of the gospel.

HE wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.

2 It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice, even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellence of our God.

3 Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees.

4 Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; he will come and save you.

5 Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.

6 Then shall the lame man leap as a hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert.

7 And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.

8 And a highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called, The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the way-faring men, though fools, shall not err therein.

9 No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there:

10 And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.
CHAPTER XXXVI.

OW it came to pass in the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the defenced cities of Judah, and took them.

2 And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem unto King Hezekiah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field.

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim, Hilkiah's son, which was over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, Asaph's son, the recorder.

4 ¶ And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, sayest thou, (but they are but vain words,) I have counsel and strength; now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in the staff of this broken reed, on Egypt: whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the Lord our God: is it not he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore give me pledges, I pray thee, to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the half of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come up without the Lord against this land to destroy it? the Lord said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim, and Shebna, and Joah, unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language: for we understand it; and speak not to us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

12 ¶ But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piss with you?

13 Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

14 Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you; for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us: this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me; and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig-tree, and drink ye every one of the waters of his own cistern.

17 Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, 18 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? and where are the gods of Sepharvaim, and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they among all the gods of these lands, that have delivered their land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

21 But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

22 ¶ Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

1 Hezekiah rent his clothes, and sent to Isaiah the prophet, 2 Isaiah comforted him; 3 he went to encounter Rabshakeh, senteth a blasphemous letter to Hezekiah, 4 Hezekiah's prayer, 5 Isaiah's prophecy of the pride and destruction of Sennacherib, and the good of Zion. 6 An angel slayeth the Assyrians, 7 Sennacherib is slain at Nineveh by his own sons.

AND it came to pass, when King Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD.

2 And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz.

3 And they said unto him, Thus said Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

4 It may be the Lord thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of PRAYER.

Had God, the Lord, not blast the lands, and come as a sign unto me, and left me to come back for they were no gods among us, the work of our hands was destroyed. And now therefore, O Lord our God, save us from his hand, that all the kings of the earth that are about us may know that all are the Lord's.

16. O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, that hast stretched forth thy hand upon all the nations, and have made that all the peoples may worship thee; thine hand shall be spread out from on high, and shall have delivered us out of the hand of our enemies.

17. Therefore thus saith the Lord, the God of hosts, the God of Israel, of the remnant of the house of Joseph; He is the faithful God, which walked with him in truth, that thou mightest do the fear of his face, and mayest be a great Nation in the land of thy fathers.

18. And the word of the Lord came to me, saying, O Ezekiel, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord God unto thee; 19. Behold, I will send thee unto the nations of the heathen, and into the kingdoms, and will speak by thee, and declare his words unto them; and they shall hear, but shall not obey; for they are a perverse and a hardened house.

20. Moreover, thou son of man, be not afraid of them; neither be afraid of their words; for they are a rebellious house.

21. Behold, I am with thee, even to them that do evil, and to them that do not evil, to destroy them by their own counsel, saith the Lord.

22. Now therefore, O ye children of Israel, hearken unto me; and hearken, saith the Lord; that which I say unto you shall be as a sign unto thee.

23. For, behold, I will hinder the remnant of the house of Jacob, and will save them in Christ Jesus: for now I will save them, as a testimony and a name in the heathen, and for a sign, saith the Lord God.
ing the king of Assyria. He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with +shields, nor cast a bank against it.

34 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the Lord.

35 For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant David’s sake.

36 Then the +angel of the Lord went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37 ¶ So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

38 And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of +Armenia: and Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

1 In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, +Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed unto the Lord, saying,

3 And said, +Remember now, O Lord, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept +sore.

4 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,

5 Go and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city.

7 And this shall be a sign unto thee from the Lord, that the Lord will do this thing that he hath spoken:

8 Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees, which is gone down in the +sun-dial of Ahaz, ten degrees backward. So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.

9 ¶ The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness:
HEZEKIAH’S SONG OF THANKSGIVING.

I S A I A H.

THE PROMULGATION OF THE GOSPEL.

10 I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years.

11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, even the Lord, in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a shepherd’s tent: I have cut off like a weaver my life; he will cut me off with pining sickness: from day even to night will thou make an end of me.

13 I reckoned till morning, that, as a lion, so will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O Lord, I am oppressed; undertake for me.

15 What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it: I shall go softly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.

16 O Lord, by these things men live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit: so wilt thou recover me, and make me to live.

17 Behold, for peace I had great bitterness: but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

18 For the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to save me: therefore will I sing my songs to the stringed instruments all the days of my life in the house of the Lord.

21 For he said, ‘Isaiah had said, Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boil, and he shall recover.’

22 ‘Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the Lord?’

CHAPTER XXXIX.

1 Merodach-baladan, sending to visit Hezekiah because of the wonder, hath notice of his treasure: 2 Isaiah, understanding thereof, foretelleth the Babylonian captivity.

2 ‘That time Merodach-baladan, the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.

2 ‘And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spiceries, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 ¶ Then came Isaiah the prophet unto King Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? and Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon.

4 Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them.

5 Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts: 6 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away: and they shall be captives in the palace of the king of Babylon.

8 Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, ‘Good is the word of the Lord which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days.’

CHAPTER XL.

1 The promulgation of the gospel. 2 The preaching of John Baptist. 9 The preaching of the apostles. 12 The prophet by the incomparableness of God, 18 and his incomparableness, 26 comforteth the people.

OMFORT ye, comfort ye your people, saith your God.

2 Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: for she hath received of the Lord’s hand double for all her sins.

3 ¶ The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, ‘Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God.’

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain:

5 And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

6 The voice said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? ‘All flesh is grass, and all the goodness thereof is as the flower of the field:

7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth:
because the spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it; surely the people is grass.
8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.
9 ¶ [10] Zion, that bridgest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain: [11] Jerusalem, that bridgest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, he not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!
10 Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.
11 He shall feed his flock like a shepherd; he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young.
12 ¶ Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance?
13 ¶ Who directed the spirit of the Lord, or being his counsellor hath taught him?
14 With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding?
15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing.
16 And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt-offering.
17 All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity.
18 ¶ To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him?
19 ¶ The workman melteth a graven image, and the goldsmith melteth it over with gold, and casteth silver images.
20 He that is so impoverished that he hath no oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot; he seeketh unto him a cunning workman to prepare a graven image that shall not be moved.
21 ¶ Have ye not known? have ye not understood? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood from the foundations of the earth?
22 ¶ It is he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in:
23 ¶ That bringeth the princes to nothing; he maketh the judges of the earth as vanity.
24 ¶ Yea, they shall not be planted: yea, they shall not be sown: yea, their stock shall not take root in the earth; and he shall also blow upon them, and they shall wither, and the whirlwind shall take them away as stubble.
25 ¶ To whom then will ye liken God? or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One.
26 ¶ Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number; he calleth them all by names, by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; not one faileth.
27 ¶ Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the Lord, and my judgment is passed over from my God?
28 ¶ Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, faileth not, neither is weary! there is no searching of his understanding.
29 ¶ He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength.
30 ¶ Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall:
31 ¶ But those that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

CHAPTER XI.

1 ¶ God exalteth with his people, about his thunder in the church, 30 about his promises, &c. and about the vanity of idols.

2 ¶ EEP silence before me, O islands; and let the people renew their strength; let them come near; then let them speak; let us come near together to judgment.

2 ¶ Who raised up the righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave him the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? he gave him as the dust to his sword, and as driven stubble to his bow.

3 ¶ He pursued them, and passed safely; even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 ¶ Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the Lord, the first, and with the last; I am he.

5 ¶ The isles saw it, and feared; the ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and came.

6 ¶ They helped every one his neighbour; and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage.

7 ¶ So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer him that smote the anvil; saying, It is ready for the soldering; and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

8 ¶ But thou, Israel, art my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend.

9 Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant; I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away.
10 Fear thou not, for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of mine righteousness.
11 Behold, all they that were incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing; and they that strive with thee shall perish.
12 Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contended with thee; they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of naught.
13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not: I will help thee.
14 Fear not thou, Jacob, and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the Lord, and thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.
15 Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as clay.
16 Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the Lord, and glory in the Holy One of Israel.
17 When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the Lord will open the way to them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them.
18 I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.
19 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittah-tree, and the myrtle, and the olive-tree; I will set in the desert the fir-tree, and the pine, and the box-tree together:
20 That they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the Lord hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it.
21 Proclaim your cause, saith the Lord; bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob.
22 Let them bring them forth, and show us what shall happen: let them show the former things, what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them; or declare us things for to come.
23 Show the things that are come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods; yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together.

ISAIAH.

24 Behold, ye are || of nothing, and your work || of naught: an abomination is he that chooseth you.
25 I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come: from the rising of the sun shall he call upon my name: || and he shall come upon princes as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay.
26 || Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? and beforehand, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that heareth your words.
27 The first shall say to Zion, Behold, behold them: and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good tidings.
28 For I beheld, and there was no man; even among them, and there was no consul- lor, that, when I asked of them, could answer a word.
29 Behold, they are all vanity, their works are nothing: their molten images are wind and confusion.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 The office of Christ, scrawled with meekness and constancy. 5 God's promise unto him. 10 An exhortation to praise God for his gospel. 17 He reproveth the people of impiety.

EHOILD my servant, whom I have upheld; nine elect, in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my Spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment unto the Gentiles.
2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.
3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth.
4 He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.
5 Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretcheth them out; he that spreadeth forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; the that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein:
6 || The Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles;
7 To open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison-house.
8 I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.
9 Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.
10 Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth, ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein; the isles, and the inhabitants thereof.
CHAPTER XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth the church with his promises. 8 He appeal-eth to the people for witness of his omnipotence. 11 He heartfel-ly reprehendeth the people for inexcusable unbelief. 12 Who am I, saith the Lord, that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, fear not: for I have re-deemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransom. Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

4 Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life.

5 Fear not; for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west:

6 I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth.

7 Even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him; yea, I have made him.

8 ¶ Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew us former things? let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear, and say, It is truth.

10 Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, even I, am the Lord; and beside me is there is no saviour.

12 I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 ¶ Yea, before the day was, I was he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall set me on? 14 Thus saith the Lord, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and have brought down all their m Abodes, and the Chaldeans, whose cry is in the ships.

15 I am the Lord, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King.
16 Thus saith the Lord, which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters:

17 Which bringeth forth the chariots and horse, the army and the power; they shall lie down together, they shall not rise: they are extinct, they are quenched as tow.

18 Remember ye not the former things, nor consider the things of old.

19 Behold, I will do a new thing; now it shall spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert.

20 The beast of the field shall honour me, the dragons and the owls: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen.

21 This people have I formed for myself; they shall shew forth my praise.

22 But thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob; but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel.

23 Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt-offerings; neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices; but thou hast made me to serve with thy sins, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins. 26 Put me in remembrance; let us plead together: declare thou, that thou mayest be justified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore have I profaned the princes of the sanctuary, and have given Jacob to the curse, and Israel to reproaches.

CHAPTER XLIV.

1 God comforteth the church with his promises. 2 The vanity of idols. 3 The folly of idol makers. 4 He exhorted to praise God for his redemption and mercies. 5 The Lord comforteth his people. 6 Eternity now hear, O Jacob, my servant; and Israel, whom I have chosen:

2 Thus saith the Lord that made thee; and formed thee from the womb, which shall help thee; Fear not, O Jacob, my servant; and thou, Jesurun, whom I have chosen.

3 For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring: 664

4 And they shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the water-courses. 5 One shall say, I am the Lord's; and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the Lord, and surname himself by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his Redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God.

7 And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people? and the things that are coming, and shall come, let them shew unto them.

8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God beside me? yea, there is no God; I know not any.

9 ¶ They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit: and they are their own witnesses; they see not, nor know, that they may be ashamed.

10 Who hath formed a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his fellows shall be ashamed: and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up; yet they shall fear, and shall be ashamed together.

12 ¶ The smith worketh with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms; yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth; he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out his rule; he maketh it out with the line; he fitteth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man; that it may remain in the house.

14 He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the cypress and the oak, which he strengtheneth for himself among the trees of the forest; he planteth an ash, and the rain doth nourish it.

15 Then shall it be for a man to burn: for he will take thereof, and warre himself; yea, he kindleth it, and maketh bread: yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it a graven image, and felleth down thereto.

16 He burneth part thereof in the fire; with part thereof he eateth flesh; he roasteth roast, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire:
17 And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it, and worshippeth it, and prays unto it, and saith, Deliver me; for thou art my god.

18 They have not knowledge nor understanding: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand.

19 And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof: I have roasted flesh, and eaten it; and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the image of a tree!

20 He feedeth on ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 Remember these, O Jacob and Israel: for thou art my servant; I have formed thee; O Israel, thou shalt not be forgotten of me.

22 I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee.

23 Sing, O ye heavens: for the Lord hath done it; shout, ye lower parts of the earth: break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree thereof: for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy Redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb, I am the Lord that maketh all things: that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself:

25 That frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish:

26 That confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited; and to the cities of Judah, Ye shall be built, and I will raise up the decayed places thereof:

27 That saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers:

28 That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure: even saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

CHAPTER XLV.

2 I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron:

3 And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I, the Lord, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel.

4 For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, have I even called thee by thy name: I have sanctified thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me:

6 That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me, I am the Lord, and there is none else.

7 I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and I create evil: I the Lord do all these things.

8 Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together: I the Lord have created it.

9 Wo unto him that striveth with this Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What maketh thou? or thy work, He hath no hands!

10 Wo unto him that saith unto his father, What begettest thou? or to the woman, What hast thou brought forth!

11 Thus saith the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command me.

12 I have made the earth, and thou created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.

13 I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let go my captives, not for price nor reward, saith the Lord of hosts.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and merchandise of Ethiopia and of the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall come after thee: in chains shall they come over, and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, "Spare God is in thee: and there is none else, there is no God.

15 Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour.
16 They shall be ashamed, and confounded, all of them: they shall go to confusion together, that are the makers of idols.

17 Behold, the Lord shall be saved in Zion, and he shall be holy in Jerusalem, and he shall deal upon this rebels shall be as a dream of the night; which 20 And there is none elsewhere. 19 I have not spoken in secret, 16 a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: 17 that the Lord speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

20 | Assemble yourselves and come: draw near together, 16 ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save.

21 Tell ye, and bring them near; yes, let them take counsel together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the Lord? and there is no God else beside me; a just God and a Saviour; there is none beside me.

22 Look unto me, and ye shall be saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else.

23 I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return. That unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear.

24 Surely, shall one say, In the Lord have I righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come; and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.

25 In the Lord shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and 16 shall glory.

CHAPTER XLVI.

The idols of Babylon could not save themselves. 3 God saith his people to return, 12 or present salvation.

1 The idols of Babylon could not save themselves. 3 God saith his people to return, 12 or present salvation.

2 EL boweth down, Nebro stoopest, their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: your carriages were heavy loads; they are a burden to the weary beast.

2 They stoope, they bow down together; they could not deliver the burden, but 16 themselves are gone into captivity.

3 Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, 15 which are borne by me from the belly, which are carried from the womb:

4 And even to your old age 16 I am he; and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; even I will carry, and will deliver you.

5 To whom will ye liken me, and make

6 They have laid gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith; and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea, they worship.

7 They bear upon their shoulders, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth: from his place he shall not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

8 Remember this, and shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors.

9 Remember the former things of old; for I am God, and 16 there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me.

10 Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying. My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure.

11 Calling a ravenous bird from the cast, 15 the man that executeth my counsel from a far country: yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed it, I will also do it.

12 Hearken unto me, ye 16 stont-hearted, that are far from righteousness:

13 Bring near your righteousness: it shall not be far off; and my salvation shall not tarry:

14 And will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

CHAPTER XLVII.

1 God's judgment upon Babylon and Chalda, 6 for their unmerited mess, 7 pride, 16 and over-boldness, 11 shall be unresistable.

1 Come down, and 16 sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldaeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate.

2 Take the millstones, and grind meal: uncover thy locks, make bare the leg, uncover the thigh; pass over the rivers.

3 Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man.

4 As for our Redeemer, the Lord of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Israel.

5 Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldaes: for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.
CHAPTER XLVII.

Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Egypt. Which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness.

CHAPTER XLVIII.

The intent of prophecy.

6 ¶ I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy upon the ancient hast thou very heavily lied thy yoke.

7 ¶ And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever; so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

8 Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sawest in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children:

9 But these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: they shall come upon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine enchantments.

10 ¶ For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness; thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee: and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me.

11 ¶ Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know of whence it riseth: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

12 Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.

13 ¶ Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the 'astrologers, the star-gazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants, from thy youth: they shall wander every one to his quarter; none shall save thee.

2 For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel; The Lord of hosts is his name.

3 ¶ I have declared the former things from the beginning; and they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them; I did them suddenly, and they came to pass.

4 Because I knew that thou actst obstinate, and thy thumb neck is an iron snare, and thy brow brass:

5 ¶ I have even from the beginning declared it to thee; before it came to pass I shewed it thee: lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them; and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, see all this; and will not ye declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, and thou didst not know them.

7 They are created now, and not from the beginning; even before the day when thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them.

8 Yea, thou hearest not; yea, thou knowest not; yea, from that time that thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou wouldst deal very treacherously, and wasad called a transgressor from the womb.

9 ¶ For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine own sake, even for mine own sake, will I do it: for how should my name be polluted? and I will not give my glory into another.

12 ¶ Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am he; I am the first, and I am the last.

13 ¶ Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together.

14 ¶ All ye, assemble yourselves and hear; which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loved him: he will do his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be upon the Chaldeans.

15 ¶ Even I, have spoken, yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

16 ¶ Come near unto me, hear ye this; I have not spoken in secret from the beginning; from the time that it was, there am I; and now the Lord God, and his Spirit, hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel; I am the Lord thy God which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

18 ¶ O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! *thou hast thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea:

19 *Thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the gravel thereof; his name should not have been cut off nor destroyed from before me.

20 *Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voice of singing declare ye, utter it even to the end of the earth; say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his servant Jacob.

21 And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out.

22 *There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.

CHAPTER XLII.

1 Christ, being sent to the Jews, complaineth of them. 2 He is sent to the Gentiles with gracious promises. 3 God's love is perpetual to his church. 4 The powerful deliverance out of captivity.

ISTEN, *O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye people, from far: *The Lord hath called me from the womb: from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; *in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me:

3 And said unto me, *Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified.

4 *Thou saidst, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain; yet surely my judgment is with the Lord, and my work with my God.

5 *And now, saith the Lord, that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, *Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God shall be my strength.

6 And he said, *It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

7 Thus saith the Lord, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, *unto him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers, *Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the Lord that is faithful, and the Holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, *In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, 9 And give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the desolate heritages:

9 That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew them the former things, they are old; feed them in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places.

10 They shall not hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them.

11 *And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted.

12 Behold, *these shall come from far: and lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim.

13 *Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 *But Zion said, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 *Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on her son's womb? yea, they may forget, *yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, *I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me.

17 Thy children shall make haste; *thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee.

18 *Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee. *As I live, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee, as a bride doth.

19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction, *shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away.

20 *The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? *Behold I was left alone; these, where had they been?

22 *Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the Gentiles, and set up my standard to the people: and they shall bring thy sons in their arms, and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

23 And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their face toward the earth, and lick the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

24 ¶ Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive delivered?

25 But thus saith the Lord, Even the captives of mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children.

26 And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh: and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with [sweet] wine: and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

CHAPTER L.

1 Christ sheweth that the redemption of the Jews is not to be imparted to him, by his ability to save, I he his obedience in that work, 7 and by his confidence in that assistance. 10 An exhortation to trust in God, and not in ourselves.

HEARKE to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the Lord: look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 For the Lord shall comfort Zion: he will comfort all her waste places; and he will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert "like the garden of the Lord: joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

4 ¶ Hearken unto me, my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: "for a law shall proceed from me, and will make my judgment to rest for a light of the people.

5 ¶ My righteousness is near: my salvation is gone forth, and nine squares shall judge the people: "the islands shall wait upon me, and "on mine arm shall they trust.

6 ¶ Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 ¶ Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people "in whose heart is my law; "fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings.

8 For "the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.
9 ¶ Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord; awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old. ¶ Art thou not the man that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art thou not it which hath dried the sea, the waters of the great deep; that hath made the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to pass over?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladness and joy; and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, even I, am he that comforteth you: who art thou that thou shouldest be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made like grass;

13 And forgettest the Lord thy Maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth; and hast feared continually every day because of the fury of the oppressor, as if he were ready to destroy? ¶ and where is the fury of the oppressor?

14 ¶ The captive exile hastened that he may be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should fail.

15 But I am the Lord thy God, that divided the sea, whose waves roared: The Lord of hosts is his name.

16 And I have put my words in thy mouth, and have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 ¶ Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wurung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; neither is there any that taketh her by the hand of all the sons that she hath brought up.

19 These two things are come unto thee; desolation, and destruction, and famine, and the sword: ¶ by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 ¶ Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as a wild bull in a net: they are full of the fury of the Lord, the rebuke of thy God.

21 ¶ Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, and drunk with wine:

22 ¶ Thus saith thy Lord the Lord, and thy God: that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again:

23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; ¶ which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street, to them that went over.

CHAPTER I

1 ¶ Christ persuaded the church to believe his free redemption, 7 to receive the ministers thereof, 9 to joy in the power thereof, 11 and to free themselves from bondage. 13 Christ's kingdom shall be exalted.

WAKE, awake, put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

2 ¶ Shake thyself from the dust; arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus saith the Lord, ¶ Ye have sold yourselves for naught; and ye shall be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went down aforetime into Egypt to sojourn there; and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore, what have I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for naught? they that rule over them make them to howl, saith the Lord; and my name continueth every day is blasphemed.

6 Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore shall they know in that day that I am he that doeth speak: behold, it is I.

7 ¶ How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation: that saith unto Zion, ¶ Thy God reigneth!

8 ¶ Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zion.

9 ¶ Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: ¶ for the Lord hath comforted his people, ¶ he hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 ¶ The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; ¶ and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

11 ¶ Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her: ¶ be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord.
12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight; for the Lord will go before you; and the God of Israel will be your rearguard.

13 Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and exalted, and be very high.

14 As many were astonished at thee; (his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men:)

15 So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them they shall see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

CHAPTER LIII.

1 The prophet, complaining of incredulity, excels the scandal of the cross, by the benefit of his passion, 10 and the good success thereof.

HO hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

3 He is despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he opened not his mouth.

8 He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.
EXHORTATION TO REPENTANCE.

ISAIAH.

CHAPTER LV.

1 The prophet, with the promises of Christ, calls to faith, 6 and to repentance. The happy success of them that believe.

2 Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

3 Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and you will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David.

4 Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near:

7 Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for his will abundantly pardon.

For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

10 For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater:

11 So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereunto I sent it.

12 For ye shall go out with joy, and he led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 Instead of thine arms shall be wings; and instead of thine arms shall be hands of a child.

14 Ye shall multiply to the sower, and shall be建立 to the doer of righteousness.

15 When the dower saith unto the doer of righteousness, 'Are ye weary? and is there no strength in you?'

16 Then they shall answer her, 'No; for we have heard of it of old that thou hast a nation of thy own; thou holy people: the Lord thy God is the holy one of Israel.'

17 The Lorn, Keep ye judgment, and do justice: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

18 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it; that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

19 Neither let the son of the stranger, that hath joined himself to the Lord, speak, saying, The Lord hath utterly separated me from his people; neither let the congregation arise, saying, I am a dry tree.

20 For thus saith the Lord unto the remants that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant:

21 Even unto them will I give in 'mine house and within my walls, a place 'and a name' better than of sons and of daughters: I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

22 Also the sons of the stranger, that join themselves to the Lord, to serve him, and to love the name of the Lorn, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my covenant;
7 Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: that their burnt-offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar; for mine house shall be called a house of prayer for all people.

8 The Lord God who gathereth the outcasts of Israel saith, Yet will I gather others to him, besides those that are gathered unto him.

9 ¶ "All ye beasts of the field, come to devour; ye, all ye beasts in the forest.

10 His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; they are sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber.

11 Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarrel.

12 Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to-morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

CHAPTER LVI.

The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart: and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come.

2 He shall enter into peace; they shall rest in their beds, each one walking in his uprightness.

3 But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceress, the seed of the adulterer and the whore.

4 Against whom do ye sport yourselves against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue! are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood?

5 IDating yourselves with idols under every green tree, slaying the children in the valleys under the cliffs of the rocks!

6 Among the smooth stones of the stream is thy portion: they, they are thy lot; even to them hast thou poured a drink-offering, thou hast offered a meat-offering. Should I receive comfort in these?

7 Upon a lofty and high mountain hast thou set thy bed; even thither watest thou up to offer sacrifice.

8 Behind the doors also and the posts hast thou set thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thyself to another than me, and art gone up; thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them;
thou lovesth their bed || where thou saw-est it.
9 And ||'thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thy messengers far off, and didst double thyself even unto hell.
10 Thou art wearied in the greatness of thy way; yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou hast found the ||hie of thine hand; therefore thou wast not grieved.
11 And ||'of whom hast thou been afraid or feared, that thou hast lied, and hast not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? ||'have not I held thy peace even of old, and thou fearest me not?
12 I will declare thy righteousness, and thy works: for they shall not profit thee.
13 ||'When thou criest, let thy companies deliver thee; but the wind shall carry them all away: vanity shall take them: but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain;
14 And shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumbling-block out of the way of my people.
15 For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy: ||'I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.
16 ||'For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls ||which I have made.
17 For the iniquity of ||'his covetousness was I wroth, and smote him: ||'I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on ||forwardly in the way of his heart.
18 I have seen his ways, and ||will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and ||to his mourners.
19 I create the fruit of the lips; Peace, peace ||to him that is far off, and to him that is near, saith the Lord; and I will heal him.
20 ||'But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.
21 ||'There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

CHAPTER LVIII.

1 The prophet, being sent to reproue hypocrisy; 2 expresseth a complaint last and a true. ||'He declares what pouernes are due unto godliness, 13 and to the keeping of the sabbath.

RY || aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins.
2 Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God: they ask me of the ordinances of justice: they take delight in approaching to God.
3 ||'Therefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? ||wherefore have we ||afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast ye find pleasure, and exact all your ||† labours.
4 ||'Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ||'ye shall not fast as ||ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high.
5 Is it ||such a fast that I have chosen? ||'a day for a man to afflict his soul? ||'is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? ||'wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the Lord?
6 Is not this the fast that I have chosen? ||'to loose the bands of wickedness, ||'to undo ||the heavy burdens, and ||'to let the ||oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?
7 Is it ||'not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are ||cast out to thy house? ||'when thou seest the naked, thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from ||thine own flesh?
8 ||'Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: ||'and thy righteousness shall go before thee; ||'the glory of the Lord shall be thy rear-ward.
9 Then shall thou call, and the Lord shall answer; thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and ||speaking vanity;
10 And ||if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon-day:
11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul ||in ||drought, and make fat thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters ||fail not.
12 And ||they shall be as of thee ||shall build the old waste places; thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.
13 ||'If ||'thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable; and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding

CHAPTER LX.

1 The duncamer of sin. 2 The sins of the Jews. 3 That as ye were sons, so by the Spirit of the Lord shall ye also be sons. 4 Therefore, since ye are of the Gentiles, and have been alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and called out of the Gentiles, 5 For this cause might I not be an assessor of the Church of God, 6 But now have I obtained mercy on them according to the unmerited kindness of God, 7 For the Lord so loved them, 8 By the one soul of them for the salvation of all. 9 But that the means of salvation should be made known by the preaching of the word, 10 If even by the dead, by the sufferings of Christ, for the resurrection of the dead. 11 For the whole counsel of God is 2 Peter, 13:18. 12 And if the word of the Lord have not stood assuredly in all them which have seen it, 13 In transgressing and lying against the Lord, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolting, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood. 14 And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter. 15 Yea, truth faileth; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the Lord saw it, and fit displeased him that there was no judgment. 16 "And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his arm brought salvation unto him: and his righteousness, it sustained him. 17 For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and a helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloak. 18 According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompense to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompense.

19 So shall they fear the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him. 20 And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord. 21 As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the Lord; My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and for ever.

CHAPTER LX.

1 The glory of the church in the abundant access of the Gentiles, 15 and the great blessings after a short affliction.

RISE, * shine; for thy light is come, and *the glory of the Lord's risen upon thee. 2 For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. 3 And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. 4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and see; all they gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side. 5 Then thou shalt see, and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee. 6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee, the dromedaries of Midian and * Ephah; all they from Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense; and they shall shew forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee, the rams of Nebaioth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will glorify the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows!

9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy One of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night: that men may bring unto thee the princes of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall be unto thee, the fir-tree, the pine-tree, and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee, The city of the Lord, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exalters righteousness.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise.

19 The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20 Thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 The people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in his time.

CHAPTER LXI.

1 The office of Christ. 4 The forerunners, 7 and blessings of the faithful.

1 THE Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound;

2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn;

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called Trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations.

5 And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your ploughmen and your vine-dressers.

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord: men shall call you the Ministers of our God; ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves.

7 For your shame ye shall have double; and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8 For I the Lord love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt-offering; and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring among the people: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.
10. "I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.

11. For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

CHAPTER LXII.

1. The former desire of the prophet to confirm the church in God's promises. The office of the ministers (unto which they are indeed in prophecy, the gospel, and preparing the people thereto.

2. And now Israel's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth.

3. And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

4. Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.

5. Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken, neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate: but thou shalt be called [Hepzi-bah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married.

6. For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee; and as the bridegroom rejoiceth on the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.

7. And if I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night; ye that make mention of the Lord, keep not silence.

8. And give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

9. The Lord hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies; and the sons of the stranger shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured:

10. But they that have gathered it shall eat it, and praise the Lord; and they that have brought it together shall drink it in the courts of my holiness.

11. Go through, go through, the gates of Zion: prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up a standard for the people.

12. Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

13. And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the Lord: and thou shalt be called Sought out, A city not forsaken.

CHAPTER LXIII.

1. Christ shewed who he is, 2 what his victory over his enemies; 3 and what his mercy toward his church. 10. In his just wrath he remembereth his own mercy. 13 The church to their prayer, 17 and complaint, possess their faith.

2. Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine-fat?

3. I have trodden the wine-press alone; and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury, and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.

4. For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.

5. And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me.

6. And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their strength to the earth.

7. I will mention the loving-kindnesses of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving-kindnesses.

8. For he said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie; so he was their Saviour.

9. In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old.

10. But they rebelled, and vexed his Holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them.

11 Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd of his flock? where is he that put his Holy Spirit within him?

12 That led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name?

13 That led them through the deep as a horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble!

14 As a beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord moveth him to rest; so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name.

15 ¶ Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy strength, [the sounding of] thy bowels and of thy mercies toward me? are they restrained?

16 ¶ Doubtless thou art our Father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not; thou, O Lord, art our Father, our Redeemer; thy name is everlasting.

17 ¶ O Lord, why hast thou made us to err from thy ways, and hardened our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 ¶ The people of thy holiness have possessed it but a little while: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary.

19 We are thine: thou never barest rule over them; [they were not called by thy name.

CHAPTER LXIV.

1 The church prayeth for the illumination of God's power. 2 Celebrating God's mercy, it maketh confession of their natural corruptions. 3 It commendeth their afflictions.

1 OH that thou wouldst send the heavens, that thou wouldst come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence, 2 As when the melting fire burneth, the fire causeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence!

3 When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains flowed down at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye [seen, O God, besides thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou meest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou art wroth; for we have sinned: in those is continuance, and we shall be saved.

6 But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away.

7 And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us, because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our Father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand.

9 ¶ Be not wroth very sore, O Lord, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, see, we beseech thee, we are all thy people.

10 Thy holy cities are a wilderness, Zion is a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.

11 ¶ Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned up with fire: and all our pleasant things are laid waste.

12 ¶ Wilt thou refrain thyself for these things, O Lord? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore!

CHAPTER LXV.

1 The calling of the Gentiles. 2 The Jews, for their impertinency, volatility, and hypocrisy, are rejected. 3 A remnant shall be saved. 4 Judgments on the wicked, and blessings on the godly. 5 The blessed state of the new Jerusalem.

6 ¶ AM sought of them that asked not for me; I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name.

7 I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own thoughts;

8 ¶ A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face; that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense upon altars of brick;

9 ¶ Which remain among the graves, and lodge in the monuments, which eat swine's flesh, and brood of abominable things is in their vessels;

10 ¶ Which say, Stand by thyself, come not near me; for I am holier than thou. These are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day.

11 Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will revenge, even revenge into their bosom.

12 Your iniquities, and "the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the Lord," which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosom.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord. As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not: for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants’ sake, that I may not destroy them all.

9 And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains: and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there.

10 And the valley of Achor shall be a fold of flocks; and the valley of the sons of Achor a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me.

11 But ye have forsaken the Lord, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink-offering unto that number.

12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, and ye shall fall all down to the slaughter: because when I called, ye did not answer; when I spake, ye did not hear; but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed:

14 Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, and ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit.

15 And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto mine chosen: for the Lord God shall slay thee, and call his servants by another name:

16 That he who blesseth himself in the earth, shall blesse himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes.

17 For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

18 But be ye glad and rejoice for ever and ever in that which I create: for behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people: and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall die a hundred years old; but the inner being a hundred years old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall build houses and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat:

for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble; for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their offspring with them.

24 And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear.

25 The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and dust shall be the serpent’s meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER LXVI.

1 The heavens are the Lord's, and the earth is his footstool: where is the house that ye build unto me, and where is the place of my rest?

2 For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the Lord: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.

3 He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood; he that burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations.

4 I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their tears upon them: because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not.

5 Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my name’s sake, said, ‘Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.’

6 A voice of noise from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the Lord that rendereth recompense to his enemies.

7 Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man-child.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day? or shall a nation be born in a instant? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the Lord: shall I cause to bring forth, and shut the womb? saith thy God.
10 Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her; rejoice for joy with her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her:

11 That ye may suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye suck, ye shall be as suck upon her sides, and be dandled upon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb: and the hand of the Lord shall be known toward his servants, and his indignation toward his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to rend his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.

16 For by fire and by his sword will the Lord plead with all flesh: and the slain of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens behind one tree in the midst, eating swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.

18 For I know their works and their thoughts; it shall come, that I will gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come, and see my glory.

19 And I will set a sign among them, and I will send those that escape of them unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, that draw the bow, to Tubal, and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the Lord, out of all nations, upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel bring an offering in a clean vessel into the house of the Lord.

21 And I will also take of them for priests and for Levites, saith the Lord.

22 For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name remain.

23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcases of the men that have transgressed against me; for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

1 THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET

shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for "I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord put forth his hand, and touched my mouth. And the Lord said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.

10 "See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond-tree.

12 Then said the Lord unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will hasten my word to perform it.

13 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a scorching-pot; and the face thereof is toward the north.

14 Then the Lord said unto me, Out of the north an evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the Lord; and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah.

16 And I will utter my judgments against them touching all their wickedness, who have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

17 "Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee; be not dismayed at their faces, lest I confound thee before them.

18 For behold, I have made thee this day a defenced city, and an iron pillar, and brazen walls against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 And they shall fight against thee; but they shall not prevail against thee; for I am with thee, saith the Lord, to deliver thee.

CHAPTER II.

3 Israel was holiness unto the Lord, and the first-fruits of his increase: all that devour him shall offend: evil shall come upon them, saith the Lord.

4 Hear ye the word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel:

5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain!

6 Neither said they, Where is the Lord that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, through a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt!

7 And I brought you into [a]plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The priests said not, Where is the Lord? and they that handle the [law knew me not; the pastors also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.

9 [b]Wherefore will it yet plead with you, saith the Lord, and with your children's children will I plead.

10 For pass [c]over the isles of Chittim, and see; and send unto Kezar, and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing.

11 [d]Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.

12 Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, ye ye very desolate, saith the Lord.

13 For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water.

14 [e]Is Israel a servant? is he a home-born slave? why is he [f]spoiled?

15 The young lions roared upon him, and yelling, and they made his land waste; his cities are burned without inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Noph and Tahapanes [g]have broken the crown of thy head.

17 [h]Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And now what hast thou to do in the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Sihor, or what hast thou to do in the way of Assyria, to drink the waters of the river?

19 Thine own [i]wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee; know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord.

1 R
thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts.

20 ¶ For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and thou saidst, I will not transgress; when thou upon every high hill and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?

22 For though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord God.

23 ¶ How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Baalim? See thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done; thou hast acted a swift dromedary traversing her ways;

24 ¶ A wild ass *used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind at her pleasure; in her occasion who can *turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves; in her mouth they shall find her.

25 Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but *thou saidst, There is no hope: no; for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.

26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed: they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets, 27 Saying to a stock, Thou *art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast brought forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us. But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah.

29 Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye have transgressed against me, saith the Lord.

30 In vain have I smitten your children; they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion.

31 ¶ O generation, see ye the word of the Lord. Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, *We are lords; we will come no more unto thee?

32 Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet thy people have forgotten me days without number.

33 Why trimmest thou thy way to seek love? therefore hast thou also taught the wicked ones thy ways.

34 Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by secret search, but upon all these.

35 ¶ Yet thou sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me. Behold, I will plead with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned.

36 ¶ Why gatest thou about so much to change thy way? *thou also shalt be ashamed of Egypt, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria.

37 Yea, thou shalt go forth from him, and turn thine hand upon thine head: for the Lord hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

CHAPTER III.

1 God's great mercy in Judah's vile whoredom. 6 Judah, in worse than Israel. 12 The promises of the gospel to the penitent. 20 Israel reproved, and called by God, ushers solemn confession of their sins.

THEY *say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, *shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; *yet return again to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see where thou hast not been lien with. In the ways hast thou sat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms, and with thy wickedness.

3 Therefore the *showers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain; and thou hast a *whore's forehead, thou refusedst to be ashamed.

4 Will thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou *art the guide of my youth? 5 *Will he reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldst.

6 ¶ The Lord said also unto me in the days of Josiah the king, Hast thou seen that which *backsliding Israel hath done? she is gone up upon every high mountain, and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

7 ¶ And I said after she had done all these things, Turn thou unto me. But she returned not. And her treacherous *sister Judah saw it.

8 And I saw, when for all the causes whereby backsliding Israel committed adultery, I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce; *yet her treacherous sister Judah feared not, but went and played the harlot also.

9 And it came to pass through the *lightness of her whoredom, that she *defiled the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks.

10 And yet for all this, her treacherous sis-
CHAPTER IV.

JUDAH THREATENED WITH WAR.

1. F then wilt return, O Israel, saith the Lord, return unto me: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove.

2. And thou shalt swear, The Lord liveth, 'in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness;' and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.

3. For thus saith the Lord to the men of Judah and Jerusalem: Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns.

4. Circumcise yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

5. Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem, and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, gather together, and say, 'Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities.'

6. Set up the standard toward Zion: 'retire, stay not: for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.'

7. The lion is come up from his thicket, and 'the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate: and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.

8. For this 'maid with sackcloth, lament and howl; for the fierce anger of the Lord is not turned back from us.

9. And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the Lord, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.

10. Then shall I, Ah, Lord God! surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse, 12 Even a full wind from those places shall come unto me: now also will I give sentence against them.

13 Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as a whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Wo unto us! for we are spoiled.

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a voice declare 'from Dan, and publisheth affliction from Mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come 'from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah.

17 ¶ As keepers of a field, are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the Lord.

18 ¶ Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee: this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 ¶ My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at this my heart; my heart maketh a noise in me; I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are 'my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they 'are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 ¶ I beheld the earth, and lo, it was without form, and void; and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 ¶ I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 ¶ I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 ¶ I beheld, and lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate; yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black : because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole city shall flee for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they shall go into thickets, and climb upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou remeas thy face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair: they that love thyself will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child; the voice of the daughter of Zion, that bewaileth herself, that 'spreadeth her hands, saying, Wo is me now! for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

CHAPTER V.

1 The judgments of God upon the Jews, for their perseverence; 7 for their adversity; 10 for their misery, 19 for their contempt of God; 23 and for their great corruption in the civil state, 30 and religious.

UN ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, 'if ye can find a man, 'if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth: and I will pardon it.

2 And 'though they say, 'The Lord liveth; surely they 'sware falsely.

3 O Lord, are not 'thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast 'stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but 'they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return.

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poor; they are foolish: for 'they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for 'they have known the way of the Lord, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether 'broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore 'a lion out of the forest shall slay them, 'and a wolf of the evenings shall spoil them, 'a leopard shall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out hence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased.

7 ¶ How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and 'sworn by them that are no gods; 'when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots' houses.

8 They were as fed horses in the morning; every one neighed after his neighbour's wife.
CHAPTER VI

1 For among my peoplefound the wicked men: they say, wait, as he that setteth snares; they set a trap, they catch men.

2 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.

3 They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked; they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge.

4 Shall I not visit for these things saith the Lord: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this!

5 Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not full a end: take away her battlements; for they are not the Lord's.

6 For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the Lord.

7 They have belied the Lord, and said, It is not he: neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine.

8 And the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them.

9 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make your words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.

10 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the Lord: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

11 Their quiver is as an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.

12 And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters shall eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig-trees: they shall impoverish thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustedst, with the sword.

13 Nevertheless, in those days, saith the Lord, I will not make a full end with you.

14 And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore doth the Lord our God all these things unto us? then shalt thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

15 Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying,

16 Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding; which have eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not:

17 Fear ye not me? saith the Lord; will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it: and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it?

18 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; they are revoluted and gone.

19 Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the Lord our God, that giveth rain both the former and the latter, in his season; that he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

20 Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withheld good things from you.
as a vine; turn back thine hand as a grapegatherer into the baskets.

10 To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? Behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the Lord; I am weary with holding in: I will pour it out upon the children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days.

12 And their houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely.

14 They have healed also the wound of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush; therefore they shall fall among them that fall, at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein.

17 Also I will set watchers over you, saying, Hearken to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken.

18 Therefore hear, ye nations, and know; O congregation, what is among them.

19 Hear, O earth: Behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

20 To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt-offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me, 21 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling-blocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people cometh from the north country, and a great nation shall be roused from the sides of the earth.

23 They shall lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea; and they ride upon horses, set in array as men for war against thee, O daughter of Zion.

24 We have heard the fame thereof; our hands wax feeble: a mourning hath taken hold of us, and pain, as of a woman in travail.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.

26 O daughter of my people, tarry thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes: make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation: for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us.

27 I have set thee for a tower and a fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try my way.

28 They are all grievous violators, walking with slanders: they are brass and iron; they are all corrupters.

29 The hewers are burned, the lead is consumed of the fire; the founder melteth in vain: for the wicked are not plucked away.

30 Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the Lord hath rejected them.

CHAPTER VII

1 Jeremiah is sent to call for true repentance, to prevent the Jews' captivity. 2 He repeateth the same with confidence, 12 by the example of Sodom. 17 He threatens them for their idolatry. 22 He repeateth the sacrifices of the disobedient. 29 He exhorteth to mourn for their abominations at Thebes, 29 and the judgments for the same.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying.

2 Stand in the gate of the Lord's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the Lord, all ye of Judah, that enter in at these gates to worship the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, "Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

4 Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the Lord, The temple of the Lord, The temple of the Lord, are these.

5 For if ye thoroughly amend your ways and your doings; if ye thoroughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbour;

6 Ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt;

7 Then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8 Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not?

10 "And come and stand before me in this

THE ABOMINATIONS IN TOMET.

house, *which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abomina-11 tions? 12 Therefore 'which is called by my name, become a refuge of robbers in your eyes?
Behold, even I have seen it, saith the Lord.
12 But go ye now unto my place which was 13 in Shiloh, where I set my name at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel.
14 And now, because ye have done all these works, saith the Lord, and I spake unto you, 15 rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not; and I called you, but ye answered not;
16 Therefore will I do unto this house, which 17 is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to 'Shiloh.
18 And I will cast you out of my sight, 'as I 19 have cast out all your brethren, *even the whole seed of Ephraim.
20 Therefore 'pray not thou for this people, neither lift up eye nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me: *for I will not hear thee.
21 *Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem!
22 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.
23 *Do they provoke me to anger? saith the Lord: *do they not provoke themselves to the confusion of their own faces!
24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.
25 *Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: *Put your burnt-offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat flesh.
26 *For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt-offerings or sacrifices:
27 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.
28 But they heartened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in the counsels and in the imagination of their evil heart, and *went backward, and not forward.
29 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day, I have even sent unto you all my servants the prophets, *daily rising up early and sending them:
30 Yet they heartened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but hardened their neck:
they did worse than their fathers.
27 Therefore 'they shall speak all these words unto them: but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them: but they will not answer thee.
28 But thou shalt say unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the Lord their God, *nor receiveth \( \text{ correction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.} \) 29 *Cut off thou hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on high places: for the Lord hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.
30 For the children of Judah have done evil in my sight, saith the Lord: they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to pollute it.
31 And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire: *which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.
32 *Therefore, behold, 'the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of Slaughter: *for they shall bury in Tophet, till there be no place.
33 And 'the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall sharay them away.
34 'Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and of the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

CHAPTER VIII.

The abomination of the Jews, both dead and alive. 4 He shall overthrow their footstool and shameless impiety. 13 He sheweth their grievous judgment, 18 and beweareth their desperate estate.

That time saith the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves: 2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, *nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth. 3 And 'death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue of them that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 ¶ Moreover, thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord; Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return?

5 Why then is this people of Jerusalem as a shaven child, whom they hold fast deceit, 'they refuse to return.

6 ¶ I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repeated him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? even every one turned to his own course, as the horse rusheth into the battle.

7 Yea, 'the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and 'the turtle, and the crane, and the swallow, observe the time of their coming; but 'my people know not the judgment of the Lord.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the Lord is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it; the pen of the scribes is in vain.

9 ¶ The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord; and 'what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore 'will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall inherit them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to 'covetousness, from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealteth falsely.

11 For they have 'healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace: when there is no peace.

12 Were they 'ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the Lord.

13 ¶ I will surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall be no grapes 'on the vine, nor figs on the 'fig-tree, and the leaf shall fade; and the things that I have given them shall pass away from them.

14 Why do we sit still? 'assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us be silent there: for the Lord our God hath put us to silence, and given us moisture of 'gall to drink, because we have sinned against the Lord.

15 We looked for peace, but no good came; and 'for a time of health, and behold, trouble!

16 The snorting of his horses was heard from Dan: the whole land trembled at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones: for they are come, and have devoured the land, and all that is in it; the city, and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will send serpents, cockatrices, among you, which will not be 'charmed, and they shall bite you, saith the Lord.

18 ¶ When I would comfort myself against sorrow, my heart is faint within me.

19 Behold the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people because of them that dwell in 'a far country: Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her king in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.

21 ¶ For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt; I am 'as black; astonishment hath taken hold on me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people 'recovered?

CHAPTER IX.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the Jews for their manifold sins, and for their judgment. 2 Disobedience is the cause of their latter calamity. 3 He exhorts to mourn for their destruction, and to trust not in themselves, but in God. 4 He threatened both Jews and Gentiles.

¶ that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging-place of way-faring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for 'they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

3 And 'they bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth: for they proceed from evil to evil, and 'they know not me, saith the Lord.

4 'Take ye heed every one of his 'neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will walk with slanderers. 5 And they will 'deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and wear themselves to commit iniquity.

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, ¶ I will melt them, and try them; 'for how shall I do for the daughter of my people?

8 ¶ Their tongue is as an arrow shot out; it speaketh 'deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth "his wait.

9 ¶ 'Shall I not visit them for these things? saith the Lord: shall not my soul avenged on such a nation as this?
10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burnt up, so that none can pass through them; neither can men hear the voice of the cattie: both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled: they are gone.

11 And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and a den of dragons; and I will make the cities of Judah desolate, without an inhabitant.

12 ¶ Who is wise, that may understand this? and who is he that may discern among them? Where is he that may foretell and declare it? for he thereof shall be as the learned of the people, and as the wise man, and as the doctor of the people.

13 And the Lord said, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein;

14 But have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after Baalim, which their fathers taught them:

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.

16 And I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known; and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

17 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the mourning woman, that they may come; and send for cunning women, that they may come:

18 And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters.

19 For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoilt! we are greatly concerned, because we have forsaken the land, because our dwellings have cast us out:

20 Yet hear the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.

21 For death is come up into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets.

22 Speak, Thus saith the Lord, Even the carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the harvest-man, and none shall gather them.

23 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches:

24 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise loving-kindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will punish all them which are circumcised with the uncircumcised;

26 Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that are in the midst of the south: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.

CHAPTER X.

1 The iniquity of Israel is written against her, is recorded among the heathen: 2 The prophet saith, 'But the Lord, the holy One of Israel, saith, How long shall it be, and I will hear the cry of Israel? 3 The Lord hath said, Proceed, go down into the sin of the heathen, and be a people": thus saith the Lord, 'The house of Israel, before go down among the heathen; 4 Then shall the land be opened, and they shall go out one by one, and shall be numbered, they shall also return; 5 After many days shalt thou be visited, and shalt come up out of thy place, even from the land of thy captivity: 6 For I will create a new heaven and a new earth: and the former things shall not be remembered, neither come into mind.

7 ¶ But be ye not grieved, ye everlasting cities, daughter of Zion, for many generations: they shall come up out of thine hand, and from thine hand shall go out prisoners.

8 Say unto them, The gods of the heathen are vanity, and even their gods are the work of men's hands, they are the work of the hands of man: for in whomsoever the spirit of the Lord resteth, he shall be a prophet.

9 The Lord God hath spoken it; he will not purpose to do evil, but good to Israel. 10 The Lord hath created a new thing on the earth: and again it shall be said, Behold, this is of the Lord, an earthquake, a fire, and a dry wind.

11 ¶ Thus shall ye say unto them, The Lord shall ransom Jacob, and glorify himself in Israel.
gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.

12 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.

13 ¶ When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

14 ¶ Every man is brutish in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehooed; and there is no breath in them.

15 They are vanity, and the work of errors; in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 ¶ The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: ¶ The Lord of hosts is his name.

17 ¶ ¶ Gather up thy wares out of the land, O inhabitant of the fortress.

18 For thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this once, and will distress them that they may find it so.

19 ¶ Wo is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is a grief, and I must bear it.

20 ¶ My tabernacle is spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not; there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the Lord; therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of the bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah desolate, and a den of dragons.

23 ¶ O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with judgment; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families which call not on thy name: for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.
CHAPTER XII.

God's Heritage Forsaken of Him.

1 But thou, O Lord, knowest me: thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart toward thee; pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

2 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? 'tis the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall not see our last end.

3 If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swaying of Jordan?

4 For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee; yea, they have called a multitude after thee: 'believe' them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.

5 I have forsaken mine house, I have left mine heritage; I have given thee the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.

6 Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the forest: it crieth out against me: therefore have I hated it.

7 Mine heritage is unto me as a sparrow, the birds round about are against her; come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field,

8 Come, ye pastors, have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

9 They have made it desolate, and being desolate it mourneth unto me: the whole land is made desolate, because 'no man layeth thine heart to heart.

10 The spoilers are come upon all high places through the wilderness: for the sword of the Lord shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.

11 They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns: they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit; and they shall be ashamed of thy revenues because of the fierce anger of the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord against all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit: Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.

13 And it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them out I will return, and have compassion on them, and will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.
16 And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, The Lord liveth; as they taught my people to swear by Baal;
then shall they be built in the midst of my people.
17 But if they will not obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER XIII.
1 In the type of a linen girdle, hidden of Ephraim, God prefigureth the destruction of his people. 2 Under the parable of the bottle filled with wine he foretelleth their drunkenness in misery. 3 He exhorteth to prevent their future indulgences. 4 He sheweth their abominations are the cause thereof.

HUS saith the Lord unto me, Go and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water.

2 So I got a girdle according to the word of the Lord, and put it on my loins.

3 And the word of the Lord came unto me the second time, saying,
4 Take the girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to Ephraim, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.
5 So I went, and hid it by Ephraim, as the Lord commanded me.
6 And it came to pass after many days, that the Lord said unto me, Arise, go to Ephraim, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.
7 Then I went to Ephraim, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.
8 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.
10 This evil people, which will not hearken to my words, which walk in the imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods, to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.
11 For as the girdle cleavedeth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith the Lord: that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear.
12 ¶ Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word: Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not certainly know that every bottle shall be filled with wine?
13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness.
14 And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the Lord: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy, but destroy them.

15 ¶ Hear ye, and give ear; be not proud for the Lord hath spoken.
16 ¶ Give glory to the Lord your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains, and while ye look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness.
17 But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride; and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the Lord's flock is carried away captive.
18 Say unto the king and to the queen, Humble yourselves, sit down: for your principalities shall come down, even the crown of your glory.
19 The cities of the south shall be shut up, and none shall open them: Judah shall be carried away captive all of it, it shall be wholly carried away captive.
20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that came from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?
21 What wilt thou say when he shall punish thee? for thou hast taught them to be captains, and as chief over thee; shall not sorrows take thee, as a woman in travail?
22 ¶ And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine iniquity are they skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare.
23 Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil.
24 Therefore will I scatter them as the stubble that passeth away by the wind of the wilderness.
25 ¶ This is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, saith the Lord; because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood.
26 Therefore will I discover thy skirts upon thy face, that thy shame may appear.
27 ¶ I have seen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy whoredoms, and thine abominations on the hills in the fields. Wo unto thee, O Jerusalem! wilt thou not be made clean? ¶ when shall it once be!
CHAPTER XIV.

1. The gracious name of Jerusalem is praised; and the Lord will not be entreated for the people. 2. Living prophets are now excused for them. 3. Jerusalem is moved to complain for them.

HE word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah concerning the death of the prophet.

2. Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish; they are black unto the ground; and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up.

3. And their nobles have sent their little ones to the waters: they came to the pits, and found no water: they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

4. Because the ground is dry, for there was no rain in the earth, the ploughmen were ashamed, they covered their heads.

5. Yet, the kind also calved in the field, and forsook it, because there was no grass.

6. And the wild asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the wind like dragons; their eyes did fail, because there was no grass.

7. O Lord, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy name’s sake: for our backslidings are many; we have sinned against thee.

8. O, the hope of Israel, the Saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that tarryth aside to tarry for a night!

9. Why shouldest thou be as a man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O Lord, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name; leave us not.

10. Thus saith the Lord unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not restrained their feet, therefore the Lord doth not accept them: he will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.

11. Then said the Lord unto me, Pray not for this people for their good.

12. When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt-offering and an oblation, I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13. Then said I, Ah Lord God! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you (as) assured peace in this place.

14. Then the Lord said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of naught, and the deceit of their heart.

15. Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not he in this land; but by sword and famine shall those prophets by consumed.

16. And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out into the streets of Jerusalem, because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them.

17. Therefore shalt thou say this word unto them; Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18. If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine! yea, both the prophet and the priest shall go about into a land that they know not.

19. Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? Why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? we looked for peace, and there is no good: and for the time of healing, and behold trouble!

20. We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee.

21. Do not abhor us: for thy name’s sake, do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22. Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles that can cause rain! or can the heavens give showers? Act not thou he, O Lord our God! therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

CHAPTER XV.

1. The utter rejection and manifold plagues of the Jews. 2. Jeremiah, compounding of three nouns, revealeth a promise for himself, 3 and a threatening for them. 3. He prophesied, 4 and received a gracious promise.

HEN said the Lord unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth.

2. And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus said the Lord; Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.

3. And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the Lord; the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fishes of the sea, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy.

4. And I will cause them to be removed into all kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem.
5 For ‘who shall have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall bemoan thee! or who shall go aside to ask how thou dost?’
6 ‘Thou hast forsaken me, said the Lord, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee; “I am weary with repenting.
7 And I will fan them with a hot fan in the gates of the land: I will bereave them of [children], I will destroy my people, since they return not from their ways.
8 Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the sea: I have brought upon them [against] the mother of the young men a spoiler at noon-day: I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city.

9 ‘She that hath borne seven languiseth: she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it was yet day; she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.
10 ‘Wo is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have neither lent on usury, nor have men lent to me on usury: yet every one of them doth cause me harm.
11 ‘The Lord said, Verily it shall be well with thy remnant; verily [I] will cause ‘the enemy to entreat thee well in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.
12 ‘Shall iron break the northern iron and the steel?
13 ‘Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the ‘spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders.
14 And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not; for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.
15 ‘O Lord, thou knowest; remember me, and visit me, and ‘revenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy long-suffering: know that ‘for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.
16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and they were my joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts.
17 ‘I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced; I sat alone because of thy hand: for thou hast filled me with indignation.
18 Why is my ‘pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a flint, and as waters that fail?

19 ‘Therefore thus saith the Lord, ‘If thou return, then will I bring thee again; and thou shalt ‘stand before me: and if thou ‘take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: let them return unto thee; but return not thou unto them.
20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brazen wall: and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the Lord.
21 And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 The prophecies, under the types of departing from marriages, from houses of mourning and fasting, foreshew the utter ruin of the Jews, because they were worse than their fathers. 2 Their return from captivity shall be stronger than their deliverance out of Egypt. 16 God will doubly recompense their iniquity.

694
the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.

10 And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt hear these people these words, and they shall say unto thee, 'Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the Lord our God?'

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, 'Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the Lord, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law;

12 And ye have done worse than your fathers; for, behold, ye walk every one after the imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me:—

13 Therefore will I cast you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods, and shall worship them. Wherefore will I not shew you favour.---

14 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be said, The Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

15 But, The Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers. ---

16 Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the Lord, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will requite their iniquity, and their sin double; because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carcases of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O Lord, my strength and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things where-in there is no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods!---

21 Therefore behold, I will this once cause them to know, I will cause them to know mine hand, and my might; and they shall know that my name is the Lord.

CHAPTER XVII.

THE sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars;

2 Whilst their children remember their altars and their groves by the green trees upon the high hills.---

3 O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high places for sin, throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou, even thou thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not; for I have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever.

5 Thus saith the Lord: Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord.

6 For he shall be as the heath in the desert, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

7 The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked; who can know it! 8 I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

11 As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary.---

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.
16 As for me, 'I have not hastened from being a pastor to follow thee; neither have I desired the woful day; thou knowest; that which came out of my lips was right before thee.

17 Be not a terror unto me: thou art my hope in the day of evil.

18 'Let them be confounded that persecute me, but 'let not me be confounded: let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed; bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 'Thus saith the Lord unto me; Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem;

20 And say unto them, 'Hear ye the word of the Lord, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates;

21 'Thus saith the Lord; 'Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem;

22 Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers.

23 'But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction.

24 And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the Lord, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein;

25 'Then shall there enter into the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and this city shall remain for ever.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the south, bringing burnt-offerings, and sacrifices, and meat-offerings, and incense, and bringing sacrifices of praise, unto the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day; then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 Under the type of a potter is shewed God's absolute power in disposing of nations. 'Judgments threatened to Judah for her sin against her God. Jeremiah prays against his oppressors.

1 THE word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,
CHAPTER XIX.

Under the type of breaking a potter's vessel is foretold the desolation of the Jews for their sins.

HUS said the Lord, Go and get a potter's earthen bottle...and of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the priests;

And go forth unto 'the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the east gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee.

And say, Hear ye the word of the Lord, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem: Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.

Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the blood of innocents;

They have built also the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt-offerings unto Baal, which I commanded not, neither spake it, neither came it into my mind:

Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Tophet, nor 'The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of Slaughter.

And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place: and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that seek their lives: and their carcasses will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

And I will make this city desolate, and a hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.

10 Then shall thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee.

11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury them in Tophet, till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this city as Tophet:

13 And the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, shall be defiled 'as the place of Tophet, because of all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink-offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Tophet, whither the Lord had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the Lord's house, and said to all the people.

15 Thus said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring upon this city, and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because 'they have hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Pashur, smote Jeremiah, saying a new name, and a fearful doom; 2 Jeremiah comphes of contempt, 10 of treachery, 14 and of his birth.

1 NOW Pashur the son of Hilkiah, the chief governor, smote the prophet, who said also the word of the Lord, and said, Wherefore prophesieth Jeremiah the prophet, that the Lord shall have much maggot in this place? 2 Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and putt him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the Lord.
3 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashur, but Magor-missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it; and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive into Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover I will deliver all the strength of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon.

6 And thou, Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house shall go into captivity: and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 ¶ O Lord, thou hast deceived me, and I was deceived; *thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision daily, every one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out, I cried violence and spoil; because the word of the Lord was made a reproach unto me, and a derision, daily.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in my heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 ¶ For I heard the defaming of many, fear on every side. Report, say they, and we will report it. ¶ All my familiar watched for my halting, saying, Peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.

11 But the Lord is with me as a mighty terrible one: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail: they shall be greatly ashamed; for they shall not prosper: their everlasting confusion shall never be forgotten.

12 But, O Lord of hosts, that art righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

13 Sing unto the Lord praise ye the Lord; for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers.

14 ¶ Cursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man that brought tidings to my father, saying, A man-child is born unto thee: making him very glad.

16 And let that man be as the cities which the Lord overthrew, and repented not; and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noon-tide.

17 ¶ Because he slew me not from the womb: or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb to be always great with me.

18 ¶ Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame!

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Zedekiah senteth to Jeremiah to inquire the event of Nebuchadrezzar’s war. 2 Jeremiah foretelleth a hard siege and miserable captivity. 3 He counselleth the people to fall to the Chaldeans. 4 And uproneth the king’s house.

I THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, when King Zedekiah sent unto him Pashur the son of Melchiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, saying,

2 ¶ Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for us; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh war against us; if so be that the Lord will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.

3 ¶ Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah:

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel; Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city.

5 And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And afterward, saith the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

8 ¶ And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that heareth the tidings of this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Chaldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey.

10 For I have set my face against this city for evil, and not for good, saith the Lord:
JEREMIAH EXHORTETH
CHAPTER XXII.

THE KING'S HOUSE.

"It shall be given in to the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

11. And touching the house of the king of Judah, say, Hear ye the word of the Lord;

12. O house of David, thus saith the Lord: Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

13. Behold, I am against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, saith the Lord: which say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14. But I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, saith the Lord: and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall devour all things round about it.

CHAPTER XXII.

1. Thus saith the Lord: Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word,

2. And say, "Hear ye the word of the Lord." If a king sit upon the throne of David, and have horsemen, and chariots, horsemen and chariots; and I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited.

3. And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire.

4. And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this great city!

9 Then they shall answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

10 ¶ Weep ye not for 'the dead, neither mourn him: but weep sore for him 'that goeth away: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the Lord touching Shalhum the son of Josiah king of Judah, which reigned instead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place; He shall not return thither any more:

12 But he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Wo unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong; that useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work:

14 That saith, I will build me a wide house, and large chambers, and cut him out windows; and 'it is cedared with cedar, and painted with vermilion.

15 Shall thou reign, because thou closest thyself in cedar! did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgment and justice, and then it was well with him!

16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the Lord.

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covenants, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for violence, to do it.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah: They shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother! or, Ah sister! they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah lord! or, Ah his glory!

19 ¶ He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

20 ¶ Go up to Lebanon, and cry; and lift up thy voice in Bashan, and cry from the passages: for all thy lovers are destroyed.

21 I spake unto thee in thy prosperity; but thou saidst, I will not hear. This hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice.

22 The wind shall eat up all thy lovers, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness.

23 O inhabitant of Lebanon, that maketh thy nest in the cedars, how gracious shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail!
Lord liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

8 But, The Lord liveth, which brought up and which led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all countries whither I had driven them; and they shall dwell in their own land.

9 ¶ Mine heart within me is broken because of the prophets; "all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome, because of the Lord, and because of the words of his holiness.

10 For "the land is full of adulterers; for "because of wrath overbearing; the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their course is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For "both prophet and priest are profane; yea, 'in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness; they shall be driven on, and fall therein; for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I have seen || folly in the prophets of Samaria: "they prophesied in Baal, and "caused my people Israel to err.

14 I have seen also in the prophets of Jerusalem a horrible thing: "they commit adultery, and "walk in lies: they 'strengthen also the hands of evil-doers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, concerning the prophets; Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is "profaneness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Hearken, not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: 'they make you vain; 'they speak a vision of their own heart, 'and not of out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still unto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, 'Ye shall have peace; and they say unto every one that walketh after the 'imagination of his own heart, 'No evil shall come upon you.

18 For 'who hath stood in the || counsel of the Lord, and hath perceived and heard his word? 'who hathmarked his word, and heard it?'

19 Behold, a whirlwind of the LorD is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwind: it shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the LorD shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: 'in the latter days ye shall consider it perfectly.

21 ¶ I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran: I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsel, and had caused my people to hear my words, then they should have "turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

23 'Joel in God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God afar off!'"
38 But since ye say, The burden of the Lord; therefore thus saith the Lord: Because ye say this word, The burden of the Lord, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the Lord:
39 Therefore behold, I, even I, will utterly forget you, and will forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence:
40 And I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

CHAPTER XXIV.
1 Under the type of good and bad figs, he foreseeeth the restoration of them that were in captivity, and the desolation of Zedekiah and the rest.

The Lord showed me, and behold, two baskets of figs were set before the temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the carpenters and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon.
2 One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad.
3 Then said the Lord unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? and I said, Figs; the good figs, very good; and the evil, very evil, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.
4 And I again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
5 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel; Like these good figs, so will I acknowledge them that are carried away captive of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans for their good.
6 For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land: and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up.
7 And I will give them a heart to know me, that I am the Lord: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God; for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.
8 And as the evil figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so evil: surely thus saith the Lord, So will I give Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:
9 And I will deliver them into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, "to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them.
10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

CHAPTER XXV.
1 Jeremiah reproving the Jews’ disobedience to the prophets; 8 foreseeth the seventy years’ captivity, 12 and after that, the destruction of Babylon. 15 Under the type of a cup of wine he foreseeth the destruction of all nations. 34 The bowing of the shearers.

The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, that was the first year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon:
2 The which Jeremiah the prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying,
3 From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amen king of Judah, even unto this day, that is the third month of the twentieth year, the word of the Lord hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking: but ye have not hearkened.
4 And the Lord hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising early and sending them: but ye have not hearkened, neither inclined your ear to hear.
5 They said, ‘Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the Lord hath given unto you and to your fathers for ever and ever;
6 And go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands; and I will do no you no hurt.
7 Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the Lord; that ye might provoke me to anger with the works of your hands to your own hurt.
8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts; Because ye have not hearkened my words, 9 Behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the Lord, and Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, 5 my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and a hissing and perpetual desolations.
10 Moreover I will take from them the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the candle.
11 And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years. And it shall come to pass, 12 when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans, and will make it eternal desolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations.

"For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them also: and I will recompense them according to their doings, and according to the works of their own hands.

15 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel unto me; Take the wine-cup of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it.

16 And they shall drink, and be moved, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then took I the cup at the Lord's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 To wit, Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, a hissing, and a curse; as it is this day;

19 Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people;

20 And all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Azjah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod,

21 Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon,

22 And all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the isles which are upon the sea, and of the utmost corners,

23 Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that are in the utmost corners,

24 And all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the desert,

25 And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of the Medes, 26 And all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth: and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.

27 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Drink ye, and be drunken, and spew, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you.

28 And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thy hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Ye shall certainly drink.
3 If so be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way, that I may repent me of the evil, which I purpose to do unto them because of the evil of their doings,

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not hearken to me to walk in my law, which I have set before you,

5 To hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I sent unto you, both rising up early, and sending them, but ye have not hearkened;

6 Then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the Lord.

8 Now it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people took him, saying, Thou shalt surely die.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the Lord, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate without an inhabitant! And all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the Lord.

10 ¶ When the princes of Judah heard these things, then they came up from the king's house unto the house of the Lord, and sat down upon the entry of the new gate of the Lord's house.

11 Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die; for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.

12 ¶ Then spake Jeremiah unto the princes and to all the people, saying, The Lord sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard.

13 Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the Lord your God; and the Lord will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hand; do with me as seemeth good and meet unto you:

15 But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof; for of a truth the Lord hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears.

16 ¶ Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets; This man is not worthy to die; for he hath spoken to us in the name of the Lord our God.

17 Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 ¶ Micah the Morasthite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Zions shall be ploughed like a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

19 Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the Lord, and besought the Lord, and the Lord repeated him of the evil which he had pronounced against them? Thus might we procure great evil against our souls.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the Lord, Urijah the son of Shemaiah of Kirath-jearim, who prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah:

21 And when Jehoiakim the king with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Urijah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt;

22 And Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, namely, Elchanan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him into Egypt.

23 And they fetched forth Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king; who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people.

24 Nevertheless, the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Under the type of bonds and yokes he prophesieth the subduing of the neighbour kings unto Nebuchadnezzar. ¶ He exhorteth them to yield, and not to believe the false prophets. ¶ The like he doth to Zedekiah. ¶ He hath a mind to cause the vessels shall be carried to Babylon, and there continue until the day of visitation.

1 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah came this word unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me; Make the bonds and yokes, and put them upon thy neck.

3 And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah king of Judah;

4 And command them to say unto your masters. Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Thus shall ye say unto your masters:
CHAPTER XXVIII.

Hananiah's False Prophecy.

17 Hearken not unto them: serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city be laid waste?

18 But if they 'be' prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercession to the Lord of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon.

19 For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remain in this city,

20 Which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem;

21 Ye, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah and of Jerusalem:

22 They shall be 'carried to Babylon, and there shall they be until the day that I visit them, saith the LORD: then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

1 Hananiah prophesied, saying, the return of the vessels, and of Jeconiah; 2 Jeremiah, saying: it to be true, sheweth that the event will declare who are true prophets. 30 Hananiah foretold Jeconiah's yoke. 32 Jeremiah believeth in an iron yoke, 15 and foreseeth Hananiah's death.

ND 'it came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, and in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeah, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, saying,

2 Thus spakeath the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon,

3 Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD's house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon.

4 And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went into Babylon, saith the LORD: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.

5 Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD,

6 Even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen:
the Lord do so: the Lord perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the Lord's house, and all that is carried away captive, from Babylon into this place.

7 Nevertheless, hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people:

8 The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old, prophesied both against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence.

9 "The prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the Lord hath truly sent him.

10 "Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus said the Lord: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all nations within the space of two full years. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 "Then the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the prophet, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, 13 Go and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord: Thou hast broken the yokes of wood; but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, which may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him; and I have given him the beasts of the field also.

15 "Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah; the Lord hath not sent thee; but thou maketh these people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast taught rebellion against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

CHAPTER XXIX.

1 Jeremiah sendeth a letter to the captives in Babylon, to be quiet there, and not to believe the dreams of their prophets, 10 and that they shall return with grace after seventy years. 15 He foretelleth the destruction of the city for their disobedience. 30 He sheweth the fearful end of Ahaz and Zedekiah, two lying prophets. 24 Shemariah writeth a letter against Jeremiah. 30 Jeremiah readers his doom.

OW these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders which were carried away captives, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon;

2 (After that Jeconiah the king, and the queen, and the [j]enuchis, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the carpenters, and the smiths, were departed from Jerusalem;)

3 By the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon,) saying,

4 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have caused to be carried away from Jerusalem unto Babylon:

5 Build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them;

6 Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and pray unto the Lord for it; for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed.

9 For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 ¶ For thus saith the Lord, That after seventy years be accomplished at Babylon I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end.

12 Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.

13 And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord: and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the Lord; and I will bring you again into the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive.

15 ¶ Because ye have said, The Lord hath raised up prophets in Babylon; 16 Know that thus saith the Lord of the kingdom that sitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwelleth in this city, and of your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like "wilde figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.
18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be removed to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, and an astonishment, and a hissling, and a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven them:
19 Because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the Lord, which I sent unto them by my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye would not hearken, saith the Lord.
20 Hear ye therefore the word of the Lord, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon:
21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, of Ahah the son of Koliah, and of Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesied a lie unto you in my name; Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall slay them before your eyes:
22 And of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Judah which are in Babylon, saying, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahah, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire;
23 Because they have committed villany in Israel, and have committed adulteries with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them; even I know, and am a wit- ness, saith the Lord.
24 ¶ Thus shalt thou also speak to Shem-iah the [Nehelamite, saying,
25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thine name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,
26 The Lord hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that ye should be "officers in the house of the Lord, for every man that is thud, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldest put him in prison, and in the stocks.
27 Now therefore why hast thou not repro-\ved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himself a prophet to you ?
28 For therefore he sent unto us in Bab-ylon, saying, This captivity is long; build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.
29 And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet.

30 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,
31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the Lord concerning Shem-iah the Nehelamite: Because that Shemiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he causeth you to trust in a lie:
32 Therefore thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will punish Shemiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people; neither shall he behold the good that I will do for my people, saith the Lord; because he hath taught rebellion against the Lord.

CHAPTER XXX.
1 God showeth Jeremiah the return of the Jews. 4 After their trouble they shall have deliverance. 10 He comforteth Jacob. 18 Their return shall be glorious. 20 Wrath shall fall on the wicked.
2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying. Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book.
3 For lo, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the Lord: and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.
4 ¶ And these are the words that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Judah. 5 For thus saith the Lord: We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace. 6 Ask ye now, and see whether there is any man doth travail with child! wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into pale-ness!
7 ¶ Alas ! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble, but he shall be saved out of it.
8 For it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve them- selves of him:
9 But they shall serve the Lord their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up unto them.
10 ¶ Therefore fear thou not, O my ser vant Jacob, saith the Lord: neither be dismayed, O Israel: for lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their capti- vity: and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid.
11 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to save thee; though I make a full end of all nations whither I have scattered thee, yet will I not make a full end of thee: but I will correct thee in measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished.
12. For thus saith the Lord, 'Thy bruise is incurable, and thy wound is grievous.'

13. There is none to plead thy case, that thou mayest be bound up; thou hast no healing medicines.

14. All thy lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not; for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the multitude of thine iniquity; because thy sins were increased.

15. Why criest thou for thine iniquity? thy sorrow is incurable for the multitude of thine iniquity; because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

16. Therefore all they that devour thee shall be devoured: and all thine adversaries every one of them shall go into captivity; and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey.

17. For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord; because they called thee an Outcast, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

18. Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and shall have mercy on his dwelling-places; and the city shall be built upon her own heap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof.

19. And I will of them shall proceed thanksgiving and the voice of them that make merry; and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few: I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small.

20. Their children also shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall be established before me, and I will punish all that oppress them.

21. And their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall proceed from the midst of them; and I will 'cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me: for who is this that engaged his heart to approach unto me? saith the Lord.

22. And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23. Behold, the whirlwind of the Lord goeth forth with fury, a continuing whirlwind: it shall fall with pain upon the head of the wicked. 24. The fierce anger of the Lord shall not return, until he have done it, and until he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it.

CHAPTER XXXI.

1. The restoration of Israel. 10. The publication thereof. 15. Rachel mourning is comforted. 19. Ephraim repenting is brought home again. 22. Christ is promised. 27. His care over the church. 31. His new covenant. 35. The stability, 35 and amplitude of the church.

T' the same time, saith the Lord, 'will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.'

2. Thus saith the Lord, The people which were left of the sword found grace in the wilderness; even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest.

3. The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore I with loving-kindness have I drawn thee.

4. Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel: thou shalt again be adorned with thy ornaments, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.

5. 'Thou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of Samaria; the planters shall plant, and shall eat them as common things.

6. For there shall be a day, that the watchmen upon the Mount Ephraim shall cry, Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God.

7. For thus saith the Lord: Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout among the chief of the nations; publish ye, praise ye, and say, O Lord, save thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8. Behold, I will bring them forth from the north country, and gather them from the coasts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her that travaileth with child together: a great company shall return thither.

9. 'They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first-born.

10. 'Hear the word of the Lord, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.

11. For the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he.

12. Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to 'the goodness of the Lord, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not sorrow any more at all.

13. Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together; for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow.

14. And I will sate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the Lord.

15. Thus saith the Lord; A voice was behold in Remah, lamentation, and bitter weeping: Rachel weeping for her children refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord; Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears; for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the Lord: and they shall come again from the land of the enemy.

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord; that thy children shall come again to their own border.

18 ¶ I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus; Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I shall be turned: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.

20 ¶ Is Ephraim my dear son? is he a pleasant child? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the Lord.

21 Set thee up way-marks, make thee high heaps; set thy heart toward the highway, even the way which thou wert wont: turn again, O virgin of Israel, turn again to these thy cities.

22 ¶ How long wilt thou go about, O thou backsliding daughter? for the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman shall compass a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; As yet they shall use this speech in the land of Judah and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity; 'The Lord bless thee, O habitation of justice, and mountain of holiness."

24 And there shall dwell in Judah itself, and in all the cities thereof together, husbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks.

25 For I have satiated the weary soul, and have replenished every sorrowful soul.

26 Upon this I waked, and beheld; and my sleep was sweet unto me.

27 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.

28 And it shall come to pass, that like as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them, 'to build and to plant, saith the Lord.

29 ¶ In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the children's teeth are set on edge.

30 ¶ But every one shall die for his own iniquity; every man that eateth the sour grape, the teeth of which shall he set on edge.

31 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah:

32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, [although I was a husband unto them, saith the Lord]:

33 ¶ But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord; for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord; for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

35 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, which giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which divideth the sea when the waves thereof roar; 'The Lord of hosts is his name:

36 ¶ If those ordinances depart from before me, saith the Lord, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever.

37 Thus saith the Lord; 'If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel for all that they have done, saith the Lord.

38 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the city shall be built to the Lord from the tower of Hanameel unto the gate of the corner.

39 And 'the measuring line shall yet go forth over against it upon the hill Gareb, and shall compass about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields into the brook of Kidron, 'unto the corner of the horse-gate toward the east, 'shall be holy unto the Lord; it shall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

1 Jeremiah, being imprisoned in Zedekiah for his prophetic, 6 foretells Hanameel's field. 13 Baruch must preserve the evidences, as tokens of the people's return. 16 Jeremiah in his prayer con-"
JEREMIAH IN PRISON

JEREMIAH BUYETH HANAMEEL'S FIELD.

13 ¶ And I charged Baruch before them, saying, 14 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these evidences, this evidence of the purchase, both which is sealed, and this evidence which is open; and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue many days. 15 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land. 16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the Lord, saying, 17 Alah Lord! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched-out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee; 18 Thou shewest loving-kindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: The Great, The Mighty God, The Lord of hosts, is his name; 19 'Great in counsel, and mighty in ἄγωρα: for thine 'eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men; 'to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings: 20 Which hast set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, and in Israel, and among other men; and hast made thee a name, as at this day; 21 And hast brought forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched-out arm, and with great terror: 22 And hast given them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey; 23 And they came in, and possessed it; but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them: 24 Behold the mount, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans, that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken is come to pass; and behold, thou seest it. 25 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord God, Buy thee the field for money, and take witnesses; for 'the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans. 26 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying, 27 Behold, I am the Lord, the 'God of all flesh: 'is there any thing too hard for me? 28 Therefore thus saith the Lord: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it; 29 And the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink-offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have only done evil before me from their youth: for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger, and the work of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 For this city hath been to me as a provocation of mine anger and of my fury from the day that they built it even unto this day: that I should remove it from before my face.

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their inhabitants, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33 And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction.

34 But they set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it.

35 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through fire unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin.

36 ¶ And now therefore thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning this city, wherein ye say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence;

37 Behold, I will gather them out of all countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath: and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely;

38 And they shall be my people, and I will be their God:

39 And I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever, the good of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul.

42 For thus saith the Lord; Thus as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them.

43 And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

44 Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe evidences, and seal them, and take witnesses in the land of Benjamin, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valleys, and in the cities of the south: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

1 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, to establish it; ¶ The Lord is his name;

3 Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are thrown down by the mount, and by the sword;

5 They come to fight with the Chaldeans, but it is to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid my face from this city.

6 Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.

7 And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me: and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me.

9 ¶ And it shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and an honour, before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them: and they shall fear and tremble for all the goodness and for all the prosperity that I procure unto it.

10 Thus saith the Lord; Again there shall be heard in this place, which ye said shall be desolate without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast.

11 The voice of joy, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that shall say, 'Praise the Lord of hosts: for the Lord is good; for his mercy endureth for ever; and of them that shall bring the sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord. For I will cause to return the captivity of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Again in this place, which is desolate without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, shall be a habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down.

13 In the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the vale, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks pass again under the hands of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will perform that good thing which I have promised unto the house of Israel and to the house of Judah.

15 In those days, and at that time, will I cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.

16 In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name wherein she shall be called, † The Lord our Righteousness.

17 For thus saith the Lord; † David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel; Neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt-offerings, and to kindle meat-offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

18 And the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord; † If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, and that there should not be day and night in their season;

21 Then may also † my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers.

22 As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.

23 Moreover the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, 'The two families which the Lord hath chosen, he hath even cast them off? thus they have despised my people,
10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had entered into the covenant, heard that every one should let his man-servant, and every one his maid-servant, go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more, then they obeyed, and let them go.

11 But afterward they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bond-men, saying,

14 At the end of seven years, let ye go every man his brother a Hebrew, which hath been sold unto thee; and when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee; but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before me to in the house which is called by my name:

16 But ye turned and polluted my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom he had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for handmaids.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord; Ye have not hearkened unto me, in proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour; behold, I proclaim a liberty for you, saith the Lord, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

18 And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, when they cut the calf in twain, and passed between the parts thereof,

19 The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the elders, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf;

20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army,* which are* gone up from you.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without an inhabitant.

CHAPTER XXXV.

1 By the obedience of the Rechabites, 12 Jeremiah condemneth the disobedience of the Jews: 18 And blesseth the Rechabites for their obedience.

2 Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.

3 Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazimuth, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites:

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan, the son of Igdaliah, a man of God, which was above the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the door:

5 And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites, pots full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink ye wine.

6 But they said, We will drink no wine: for 7 Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever:

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; that ye may live many days in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters:

9 Nor to build houses for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed:

10 But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

11 But it came to pass, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chal-
JEREMIAH. BARUCH WRITETH JEREMIAH'S PROPHECY.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

1 Then Jeremiah cometh Baruch, to write his prophecy, and publicly to read it. 2 The princes, having intelligence thereof by Michaiah, send Jehudi to fetch the roll, and read it. 3 They will Baruch to hide himself and Jeremiah. 4 The king Jehoiakim, being convinced thereof, burneth part of it, and burneth the roll. 5 Jeremiah denounceth his judgment. 6 Baruch writeth a new copy.

ND it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah: and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up, I cannot go into the house of the Lord:

6 Therefore go thou and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the Lord in the ears of the people in the Lord's house upon the fasting day; and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities.

7 It may be they will present their supplication before the Lord, and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the Lord hath pronounced against this people.

8 And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the Lord in the Lord's house.

9 And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the higher court, at the entrance of the new gate of the Lord's house, in the ears of all the people.

11 When Michaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the Lord, 12 Then he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber: and lo, all the princes sat there, even Elishama the scribe, and Delaijah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shellemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.
15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears.

16 Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king all these words.

17 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, how didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

19 Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the king into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe, and told all the words in the ears of the king.

21 So the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll: and he took it out of Elishama the scribe's chamber. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes which stood beside the king.

22 Now the king sat in the winter-house in the ninth month: and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.

23 And it came to pass, that when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.

25 Nevertheless Elnathan and Delaijah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them.

26 But the king commanded Jerahmeel the son [of] Hammechech, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet: but the king hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying.

28 Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned.

29 And thou shalt say to Jehoiakim king of Judah, Thus saith the Lord; Thou hast burned this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from hence man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Jehoiakim king of Judah; He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David: and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity: and I will bring upon him, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them; but they hearkened not.

32 ¶ Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah: who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire: and there were added beside them many rolls.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

1 The Egyptians having raised the siege of the Chaldeans, king Zedekiah sent to Jeremiah to pray for the people. 2 Jeremiah prophesied the Chaldeans' certain return and victory. 3 He is taken for a fugitive, beaten, and put in prison. 4 He assureth Zedekiah of the captivity. 5 Entreating for his liberty, he is likewise some time a prisoner.

5 And king Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah.

6 ¶ But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the Lord, which he spake by the prophet Jeremiah.

7 And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now unto the Lord our God for us.

8 Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people: for they had not put him into prison.

9 Then Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they departed from Jerusalem.

10 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying.

11 Thus said the Lord, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to inquire of me; Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land.

12 ¶ And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city, and take it, and burn it with fire.

13 Thus said the Lord; Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart.

14 For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

15 ¶ And it came to pass, that when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's army,

16 Then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, [to separate himself thence in the midst of the people.

13 And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he took Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Chaldeans.

14 Then said Jeremiah, It is false: I fall not away to the Chaldeans. But he hearkened not to him: so Irijah took Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 ¶ When Jeremiah was entered into the dungeon, and into the [cabin, and Jeremiah had remained there many days; 17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took him out: and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the Lord? And Jeremiah said, There is: for, said he, thou shalt deliver into the hand of the king of Babylon.

18 Moreover, Jeremiah said unto King Zedekiah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison?

19 Where are now your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore hear now, I pray thee, O my lord the king; let my supplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they should commit Jeremiah into the court of the prison, and that they should give him daily a piece of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city were spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

1 Jeremiah, by a false suggestion, is put into the dungeon of Malchiah. 2 Rhes-melech, by suit, getteth him some enlargement.

3 Upon secret conference he commeth forth, as ye see, joyfully to save his life. 4 By the king's instructions he concealeth the conference from the princes.

HEN Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashur the son of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken unto all the people, saying.

2 Thus saith the Lord, [He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live; for he shall have his life for a prey, and shall live.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes said unto the king, We beseech thee, let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing against you.

6 Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malkijah the son of a man of the king's chamber, that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: so Jeremiah sunk in the mire.

7 ¶ Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon; the king then sitting in the gate of Benjamin:

8 Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon unto Jeremiah. And Jeremiah did so.

12 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Zedekiah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under thine arm-holes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so.

13 ¶ So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the Lord: and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me.

15 ¶ Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

16 ¶ So Zedekiah the king sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lord liveth, that made us this spoil, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

17 ¶ Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord, the God of host, the God of Israel; If thou wilt assuredly go forth unto the Chaldean princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, and thine house:

18 ¶ But if thou wilt not go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand.

19 ¶ And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me.

20 ¶ But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the Lord, which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.

21 ¶ But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the Lord hath showed me:

22 ¶ And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends have set thee on, and have prevailed against thee: thy feet are sunk in the mire, and they are turned away back.

23 ¶ So they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children unto the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire.

24 ¶ Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 ¶ But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death: also what the king said unto thee:

26 ¶ Then thou shalt say unto them, I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there.

27 ¶ Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him: and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him: for the matter was not perceived.
28 So Jeremiah abode in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken; and he was there when Jerusalem was taken.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

1 In the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army against Jerusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was broken up.

3 *And all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechum, Rab-saris, Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babylon.

4 ¶ And it came to pass, that when Zedekiah the king of Judah saw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the gate betwixt the two walls; and he went out the way of the plain.

5 But the Chaldeans' army pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon to Riblah, in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment upon him.

6 Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes; also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah.

7 Moreover the put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with chains, to carry him to Babylon.

8 ¶ And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.

9 *Then Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

11 ¶ Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard, saying, 12 Take him, and *look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushashan, Rab-saris, and Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babylon's princes;

14 Even they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home; so he dwelt among the people.

15 ¶ Now the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speak to *Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good; and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the Lord; and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid.

18 For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee; because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER XL.

1 Jeremiah being set free by Nebuzar-adan, went to Gedaliah. "The dispersed Jews repair unto him. 2 Johanan revealing Jehoiakim’s conspiracy is not believed.

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, after that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive from Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon.

2 And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this evil upon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath said; because ye have sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand. ¶ If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come; and ¶ will look well unto thee: but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear; behold, ¶ all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he said, Go back also to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or go wheresoever it seemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah: and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 And now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon:

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraijah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of Maachathite, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan sware unto them, and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans; dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to serve the Chaldeans, which will come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine, and summer fruits, and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities which ye have taken.

11 Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan;

12 Even all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

13 Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah.

14 And said unto him, Dost thou certainly know that Zedekiah the king of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah °to slay thee? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not.

15 Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he slay thee, that all the Jews which are gather-the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam: and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 ¶ But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, 12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now it came to pass, that when all the people which were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, even mighty men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gibeon:

17 And they departed, and dwelt in the habitation of Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt.

18 Because of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor in the land.

CHAPTER XLII.

1 Johanan dealt with Jeremiah to inquire of God, promising obedience to his will; 2 Jeremiah saweth him of woe in Judæa, 13 and destruction in Egypt. 4 God reproved their hypocrisy, requiring the Lord of which they so used not.

HEN all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jeremiah the son of Hoshai, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near,

2 And said unto Jeremiah the prophet, | Let us beseech thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the Lord thy God, even for all this remnant: (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us.)

3 That the Lord thy God may shew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may do.

4 Then Jeremiah the prophet said unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the Lord your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass, that whatsoever thing the Lord shall answer you, I will declare it unto you; I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they said to Jeremiah, ¶The Lord be a true and faithful witness between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shall send thee to us.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord our God, to whom we shall send thee; ¶that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest;

9 And said unto them, Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him;

10 If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

11 Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith the Lord: ¶for I am with you, to save you, and to deliver you from his hand.

12 And ¶I will shew mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land.

13 ¶ But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread: then will we dwell;

15 And now therefore hear the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Judah; Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; ¶If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there;

16 Then it shall come to pass, that the sword, which ye fear, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, and the pestilence, whereof ye were afraid, ¶shall follow close after you there in Egypt; and there ye shall die.

17 ¶So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there; they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the CHAPTER XLIII. XLIV. CONQUEST OF EGYPT FORETOLD.

God of Israel: As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem; so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt: and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more.

19 Then the Lord hath said concerning you, O ye remnant of Judah, "Go ye not into Egypt: for there shall be no place for you to dwell." Thus came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah the prophet, saying;

20 For ye dissembled in your hearts, and when ye sent me into the Lord our God, saying, 'Pray for us unto the Lord our God: and according unto all that the Lord our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it.'

21 And now I have this day declared it to you; but ye have not obeyed the voice of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me unto you, even all these words,

22 Now therefore, certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go and to sojourn;

CHAPTER XLIII.

1 Johanan, disputing Jeremiah's prophecies, carried Jeremiah and others into Egypt: Jeremiah prophesieeth a type of the conquest of Egypt by the Babylonians.

2 ND it came to pass, that when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto all the people the words of the Lord their God, for which the Lord their God had sent him to them, even all these words,

3 Then spake Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to sojourn there:

4 But Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Babylon.

5 So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Judah;

6 But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Judah;

7 Even men, and women, and children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had

8 left with Gedaliah the son ofAhikam the son ofShaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah, 9 So they came into the land of Egypt; for they obeyed not the voice of the Lord: thus came they even to Tahpanhes.

10 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying:

11 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brick-kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah:

12 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them.

13 And when he cometh, he shall smite the land of Egypt, and deliver such as are for death to death; and such as are for captivity to captivity; and such as are for the sword to the sword.

14 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives; and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace.

15 He shall break also the images of Beth-shanesh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the Egyptians shall he burn with fire.

CHAPTER XLIV.

1 Jeremiah expresseth the desolation of Judah for their idolatries: He prophesieeth their destruction, who compass idolatry in Egypt.

2 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein:

3 Because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went 'to burn incense, and to serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, ye, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit, I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising early and sending them, saying. Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate.
5 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods.
6 Wherefore "my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as at this day.
7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord, the God of hosts, the God of Israel; Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling, ı out of Judah, to leave you none to remain;
8 In that ye "provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to dwell, that ye might cut yourselves off, and that ye might be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?
9 Have ye forgotten the ✱ wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?
10 They are not ✱ humbled even unto this day, neither have they "fearened, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.
11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.
12 And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and "they shall all be consumed, and fall in the land of Egypt; they shall even be consumed by the sword and by the famine: they shall die, from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine: and "they shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach.
13 ¶ For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence:
14 So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah, to the which they ¶ have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return but such as shall escape.
15 ¶ Then all the men which knew that their wives had burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying.
16 As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the Lord, we will not hearken unto thee.
17 But we will certainly do whatsoever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth, to burn incense unto the ✱queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, as we have done, we, and our fathers, our kings, and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of ✱victuals, and were well, and saw no evil.
18 But since we left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.
19 ¶ And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink-offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink-offerings unto her, without our ✱men?
20 ¶ Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying.
21 The incense that ye burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the Lord remember them, and came it not into his mind?
22 So that the Lord could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land ✱a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without an inhabitant, ✱as at this day.
23 Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.
24 Moreover, Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of the Lord, all Judah "that are in the land of Egypt:
25 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying; Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her: ye will surely accomplish your vows, and surely perform your vows.
26 Therefore hear ye the word of the Lord, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt; Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith the Lord, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah
THE word of the Lord which came to Jeremiah the prophet against the Gentiles;
2 Against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh-nechoh king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah.
3 Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle.
4 Harness the horses; and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets; furnish the spears, and put on the brigandines.
5 Wherefore have I seen them dismayed and turned away back! and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled away; and look not back: for fear was round about, saith the Lord.
6 Let not the swift flee away nor the mighty man escape: they shall stumble, and fall toward the north by the river Euphrates.
7 Who is this that cometh up as a flood, whose waters are moved as the rivers!
8 Egypt riseth up like a flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers; and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth; I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof.
9 Come up, ye horses; and rage, ye chariots: and let the mighty men come forth: the Ethiopians and the Lydians, that handle the shield and the buckler, and bend the bow.
10 For this is the day of the Lord of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord of hosts hath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates.
11 Go up into Gilgal, and take balm, O virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vain shalt thou use many medicines: for thou shalt not be cured.
12 The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, and they are fallen both together.
13 The word that the Lord spake to Jeremiah the prophet, how Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.
14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph and in Tahapanes: say ye, Stand fast, and prepare thee: for the sword shall devour round about thee.
15 Why are thy valiant men swept away? they stood not, because the Lord did drive them.
16 He made many to fall, yea, one fell upon another: and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword.

17 They did cry there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I live, saith the King, whose name is The Lord of hosts, Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel by the sea, so shall he come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt,

20 Egypt is like a very fair heifer, but destruction cometh; it cometh out of the north.

21 Also her hired men are in the midst of her like fatted bullocks; for they also are turned back, and are fled away together; they did not stand, because the day of their calamity was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go like a serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down her forest, saith the Lord, though it cannot be searched; because they are more than the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saith; Behold, I will punish the multitude of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods, and their kings; even Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him;

26 And I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterward it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the Lord.

27 But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and he not dismayed, O Israel: for behold, I will save thee from afar off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the Lord; for I am with thee; for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee: but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in measure; yet will I not leave thee wholly unpunished.

 roofing.

2. Thus saith the Lord: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall be an overflowing flood, and shall overshade the land, and all that is therein; the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.

3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the rushing of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers shall not look back to the children for feedleness of hands;

4 Because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, and to cut off from Tyrus and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the Lord will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of the country of Ashkelon.

5 Baldness is come upon Gaza; Ashkelon is cut off with the remnant of their valley; how long wilt thou cut thyself?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, how long wilt thou cut thyself, and go up into my thick scabhard, rest, and be still.

7 How can it be quiet, seeing the Lord hath given it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea shore! there hath he appointed it.

CH. XLVIII.

The destruction of the Philistines.

1 The judgment of Moab: for their pride, for their security, 14 for their contempt of God and his people, 47 the destruction of Moab.

GAINST Moab thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Wo unto the Philistines! for it is spoiled: Kiriathaim is confounded and taken: 2 Misgab is confounded and dismayed.

2 There shall be no more praise of Moab: in Heshbon they have devised evil against it; come, and let us cut it off from being a nation. Also thou shalt cut thee down, O Madmen; the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shall be from Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

5 For in the going up of Luhith 1 continual weeping shall go up: for in the going down of Horonaim the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee, save your lives, and be like the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy
7 For "was not Israel a vanition unto thee? was he found among thieves? for since thou spakest of him, thou hast skipped for joy.
28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock, and let him like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole's mouth.
29 We have heard the pride of Moab, (the pride of Jazer,) that which he saith: his haughtiness, and his arrogance: and the pride of his heart.
30 I know his wrath, saith the Lord: but it shall not be so; [1] his lies shall not so effect it.
31 Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab: mine heart shall mourn for the men of Kir-heres.
32 O vine of Sionah, I will weep for thee with the weeping of Jazer; thy plants are gone over the sea, they reach even to the sea of Jazer: the spoiler is fallen upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage.
33 And joy and gladness is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Moab; and I have caused wine to fail from the winepresses; none shall tread with shouting: [their] shouting shall be no shouting.
34 From the cry of Heshbon even unto Elealeh, and even unto Dibon, have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even unto Horonaim, as a heifer of three years old: for the waters also of Nisram shall be dessolated.
35 Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.
36 Therefore [mine] heart shall sound to Moab like pipes, and mine heart shall sound like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: because the riches that he hath gotten are perished.
37 For every head shall be bald, and every beard shall be clipped: upon all the hands shall be cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth.
38 There shall be lamentation generally upon all the house-tops of Moab, and in the streets thereof: for I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.
39 They shall howl, saying, How is it broken down! how hath Moab turned the back with shame! so shall Moab be a derision and a desolation to all them about her.
40 For thus saith the Lord: Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Moab.
41 [Kerioth is taken, and the strong holds are surprised, and the mighty men's hearts in Moab at that day shall he as the heart of a woman in her pangs.
42 And Moab shall be destroyed from among a people, because he hath magnified himself against the Lord.

43 Fear, and the pit, and the snare, shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that fleeth from the fear, shall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon it, even upon Moab, the year of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled stand under the shadow of Heshbon because of the force: but *a fire shall come forth out of Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and shall devour the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the translunatious ones.

46 *Wo be unto thee, O Moab! the people of Chemosh perisheth; for thy sons are taken captives, and thy daughters captives.*

47 Yea, yet will I bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, saith the Lord. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

CHAPTER XLIX.

1 The judgment of the Ammonites. 6 Their restoration. 7 The judgment of Edom. 32 of Sodom. 39 of Dedan. 33 of Kerioth. 34 of Hazor.

CONCERNING "the Ammonites, thus saith the Lord: Hath Israel no sons? hath he no heir? why then doth his king inherit Gad, and his people dwell in his cities?"

2 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites; and it shall be a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Israel be hearken unto them that were his heirs, saith the Lord.

3 Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai is spoiled: cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird you with sackcloth; lament, and run to and fro by the hedges; for their king shall go into captivity, and his priests and his princes together.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord God of hosts, from all those that are about thee; and ye shall be driven out every man right forth; and none shall gather up him that wandereth.

6 And afterward will I bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith the Lord.

7 *Concerning Edom, thus saith the Lord of hosts: *Is wisdom no more in Teman? *is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan; for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I will visit him.
22 Behold,

He shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread his wings over Bozrah; and at that day shall the heart of the mighty men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

23 Concerning Damascus, Hamath is confounded, and Arpad: for they have heard evil tidings: and they are faint-hearted; there is sorrow upon the sea; it cannot be quiet.

24 Damascus is waxed feeble, and turned herself to flee, and fear hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken her, as a woman in travail.

25 How is the city of praise not left, the city of my joy!

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall consume the palaces of Ben-hadad.

28 Concerning Kedar, and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon shall smite, thus saith the Lord; Arise, go up to Kedar, and spoil the men of the east.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away; they shall take to themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their canals; and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.

30 Hee, get you far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the Lord; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.

31 Arise, get you up unto the wealthy nation, that dwelleth without care, saith the Lord, which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will scatter into all winds them that are in the utmost corners; and I will bring their calamity from all sides thereof, saith the Lord.

33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and a desolation for ever; there shall no man abide there, nor any son of man dwell in it.

34 The word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the prophet against Elam in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah.

35 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their mighty.

36 And upon Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them toward all these winds: and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Elam shall not come.

37 For I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life; and I will bring evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the Lord:

And I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them:

38 And I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from thence the king and the princes, saith the Lord.

39 But it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Elam, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER L.

JUDGMENT OF BABYLON.

1 The word that the Lord spake against Babylon and against the land of the Chaldeans by Jeremiah the prophet.

2 Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and set up a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken in pieces:

her idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces.

4 For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall remove, they shall depart, both man and beast.

5 They shall ask the way to Zion with their faces thitherward, saying, Come and let us join ourselves to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains; they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting-place.

7 All that found them have devoured them: and their adversaries said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the Lord, the habitation of justice, even the Lord, the hope of their fathers.

8 Remove out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks.

9 For lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken; their arrows shall be as of a mighty expert man: none shall return in vain.

10 And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the Lord.
11 "Because ye were glad, because ye rejoiced, O ye destroyers of mine heritage, because ye are grown fat as the heifer at grass, and as yellow as bulls;
12 Your mother shall be sore confounded; she that bare you shall be ashamed: behold, the hindermost of the nations shall be a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.
13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.
14 "Put yourselves in array against Babylon round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the Lord.
15 Shout against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance upon her: as she hath done, do unto her.
16 Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.
17 ¶ Israel is a scattered sheep: the lions have driven him away: first the king of Assyria hath devoured him: and last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones.
18 Therefore thus said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have punished the king of Assyria.
19 "And I will bring Israel again to his habitation, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon Mount Ephraim and Gilead.
20 In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reserve.
21 ¶ Go up against the land of Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants of Pekod: waste and utterly destroy after them, saith the Lord, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.
22 A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruction.
23 How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! how is Babylon become a desolation among the nations!
24 I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord.
25 The Lord hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for this is the work of the Lord God of hosts in the land of the Chaldeans.
26 Come against her from the utmost border, open her storehouses: cast her up as heaps, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.
27 Slay all her bullocks: let them go down to the slaughter: wo unto them! for their day is come, the time of their visitation.
28 The voice of them that flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, the vengeance of his temple.
29 Call together the archers against Babylon: all ye that bend the bow, come against it round about: let none thereof escape: reckon her according to her work: according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the Lord, against the Holy One of Israel.
30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord.
31 Behold, I am against thee, O thou most proud, saith the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee.
32 And the most proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.
33 ¶ Thus said the Lord of hosts: The children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives held them fast; they refused to let them go.
34 ¶ Their Redeemer is strong, the Lord of hosts is his name: he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.
35 ¶ A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the Lord, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.
36 A sword is upon the children: and they shall die: a sword is upon her mighty men; and they shall be dismayed.
37 A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her; and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures; and they shall be robbed.
38 A drought is upon her waters; and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they are mad upon their idols.
39 Therefore the wild beasts of the desert with the wild beasts of the islands shall dwell there, and the owls shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.
40 ¶ As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the Lord; so shall no man abide there, neither shall any son of man dwell therein.

41 Behold, a people shall come from the north, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bow and the lance; they are cruel, and shall not shew mercy; their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, every one put in array, like a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Babylon.

43 The king of Babylon hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: anguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail.

44 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan unto the habitation of the strong: but I will make them suddenly run away from her: and who is a chosen man, that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that shall stand before me?

45 Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LoRD, that he hath taken against Babylon; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans; surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAPTER 11.

1 The severe judgment of God against Babylon in revenge of Israel.

59 Jeremiah delivereth the book of this prophecy to Seraiah, to be cast into the fire, as a token of the perpetual subduing of Babylon.

1 Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will raise up against Babylon a destroying wind,

2 And will send unto Babylon, fanners that shall fan her, and shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

3 Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his briggomme; and spare ye not her young men; destroy ye utterly all her host.

4 Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

5 For Israel hath not been forsaken, nor Judah of his God, of the LORD of hosts; though their land was filled with sin against the Holy One of Israel.

6 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul; be not cut off in her iniquity: for this is the time of the LORD’s vengeance; he will render unto her a recompense.

7 Babylon hath been a golden cup in the Lord’s hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine; therefore the nations are mad.

8 Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her: take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

9 We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.

10 The LORD hath brought forth his righteous one; come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God.

11 Make bright the arrows; gather the shields: the Lord hath raised up the spirit of the kings of the Medes: for his device is against Babylon, to destroy it; because it is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set up the standard upon the walls of Babylon, make the watch strong, set up the watchmen, prepare the fagglombs: for the LORD hath both devised and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babylon.

13 O thou that dwellest among many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come; and the measure of thy covetousness.

14 The LORD of hosts hath sworn by himself, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers, and they shall strike up a shout against thee.

15 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding.

16 When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens; and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth: he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

17 Every man shall be straitened by his knowledge; every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

18 They are vanity, the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

19 The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the former of all things: and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the LORD of hosts is his name.

20 Thou art my battle-axe, and weapons of war: for with thee will I break in pieces the nations, and with thee will I destroy kings;

21 And with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider; and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and his rider;

22 With thee also will I break in pieces man and woman; and with thee will I break in pieces old and young: and with thee will

72
I break in pieces the young man and the maid;
23 I will also break in pieces with thee the shepherd and his flock; and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen; and with thee will I break in pieces captains and rulers.
24 And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight, saith the Lord.
25 Behold, I am against thee, O destroying mountain, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out my hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain.
26 And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations: but thou shalt be desolate for ever, saith the Lord.
27 Set ye up a standard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations against her, call together against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashchenaz; appoint a captain against her; cause the horses to come up as the rough caterpillars.
28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the captains thereof, and all the rulers thereof, and all the land of his dominion.
29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow; for every purpose of the Lord shall be performed against Babylon, to make the land of Babylon a desolation without an inhabitant.
30 The mighty men of Babylon have borne to fight, they have remained in their holds: their might hath failed; they became as women: they have burned her dwelling-places: her bars are broken.
31 One post shall run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to shew the king of Babylon that his city is taken at one end, 32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reeds they have burned with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.
33 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor, and it is time to thresh her: yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come.
34 Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty vessel, he hath swallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his belly with my delicacies, he hath cast me out.
35 The violence done to me and to my soul be upon Babylon, shall the inhabitant of Zion say; and, My blood upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, shall Jerusalem say.
36 Therefore thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her springs dry.

37 "And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling-place for dragons, an astonishment, and a hissing without an inhabitant. 38 They shall rear together like lions; they shall roar as lions’ whelps. 39 In their heat I will make their feasts, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the Lord. 40 I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he-goats.

41 How is Sheshach taken! and how is the praise of the whole earth surprised! how is Babylon become an astonishment among the nations!

42 "The sea is come up upon Babylon; she is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.

43 "Her cities are a desolation, a dry land, and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of man pass thereby.

44 And I will punish Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up; and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him: yea, the wall of Babylon shall fall.

45 My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and deliver ye every man his soul from the fierce anger of the Lord.

46 And ||lest your heart faint, and ye fear for the rumour that shall be heard in the land; a rumour shall both come one year, and after that in another year shall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore behold, the days come, that I will judge judgment upon the graven images of Babylon: and her whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48 Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for Babylon: for the spoilers shall come unto her from the north, saith the Lord.

49 ||As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the earth.

50 Ye that have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the Lord afar off, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.

51 We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces; for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the Lord’s house.

52 Wherefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will do judgment upon her graven images: and through all her land the wounded shall groan.

53 Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the Lord.

54 "A sound of a cry cometh from Babylon, and great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans:

55 Because the Lord hath spoiled Babylon, and destroyed out of her the great voice: when her waves do roar like great waters, a noise of their voice is uttered:

56 Because the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, every one of them of his bow is broken: for the Lord God of recompenses shall surely requite.

57 And I will make drunk her princes, and her wise men, her captains, and her rulers, and her mighty men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is the Lord of hosts.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: ||"The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly broken, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and the people shall labour in vain, and the folk in the fire, and they shall be weary.

59 ||The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah into Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. And this Seraiah was a quiet prince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written against Babylon.

61 And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, and shalt see, and shalt read all these words;

62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever.

63 And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, ||"that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Euphrates:

64 And thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her; and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

CHAPTER LII.

1 Zedekiah rebels. 2 Jerusalem is besieged and taken. 3 Zedekiah’s sons killed, and his eyes put out. 4 Nebuzar-adan burneth and spoileth the city. 5 He carryeth away the captives. 6 Ebed-melech delivers Jeremiah.

EDEKIAH was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother’s name was Hamatal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.
2 And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.
3 For through the anger of the Lord it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, till he had cast them out from his presence, that Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.
4 ¶ And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, and pitched against Jerusalem, and built forts against it round about.
5 So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.
6 And in the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.
7 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden; (now the Chaldeans were by the city round about:) and they went by the way of the plain.

8 ¶ But the army of the Chaldeans pursed after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him.
9 ¶ Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah, in the land of Hamath; where he gave judgment upon him.
10 ¶ And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah, in Riblah.
11 ¶ Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in chains, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.
12 ¶ Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the fourteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, came Nebuzar-adan, captain of the guard, which had served the king of Babylon, into Jerusalem.
13 ¶ And burned the house of the Lord, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the houses of the great men, burned he with fire:
14 ¶ And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about.
15 ¶ Then Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude.
16 ¶ But Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard left certain of the poor of the land for vine-dressers and for hewers of wood.
17 ¶ Also the pillars of brass that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brazen sea that was in the house of the Lord, the Chaldeans brake, and carried all the brass of them to Babylon.
18 ¶ The caldrons also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the bowls, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.
19 ¶ And the basins, and the fire-stands, and the bowls, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the cups; that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of silver in silver, took the captain of the guard away.
20 ¶ The two pillars, one sea, and twelve brazen bulls that were under the bases, which King Solomon had made in the house of the Lord; ¶ the brass of all these vessels was without weight.
21 ¶ And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits; and a fillet of twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow.
22 ¶ And a chapter of brass was upon it; and the height of one chapter was five cubits, with net-work and pomegranates upon the chapters round about, all of brass. The second pillar also and the pomegranates were like unto these.
23 ¶ And there were ninety and six pomegranates on a side; and all the pomegranates upon the net-work were a hundred round about.
24 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the door:
25 ¶ He took also out of the city a eunuch, which had the charge of the men of war; and seven men of them that were near the king's person, which were found in the city; and the principal scribe of the host, who mustereth the people of the land; and threescore and ten of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city.
26 ¶ So Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard took him, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah.
27 ¶ And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death in Riblah in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.
28 ¶ This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: in the seventh...
THE MISERABLE ESTATE OF JERUSALEM.

CHAPTER I.

I. The miserable estate of Jerusalem by reason of her sin. She complained of her grief, and confessed God’s judgment to be righteous.

1 HOW doth the city sit solitary, that was full of people! how is she become a widow! that was great among the nations, and princes among the peoples, how is she become tributary!

2 She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her; all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies.

3 Judah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest: all her persecutors overtook her between the straits.

4 The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn feasts: all her gates are desolate: her priests sigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.

5 Her adversaries are the chief, her enemie"s prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her: for the multitude of her transgressions: her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed; her princes are become like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Jerusalem remembered in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her pleasant things that she had in the days of old, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her: the adversaries saw her, and did mock at her sabbaths.

8 Jerusalem grievously sinned: therefore she is removed: all that honoured her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness: yea, she slieth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthiness is in her skirts: she remembereth not her last end; therefore she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter. O Lord, behold my affliction: for my enemy hath magnified himself.

10 The adversity hath spread out his hand upon all her pleasant things: for she hath seen that the heathen entered into her sanctuary, whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people sigh, they seek bread; they have given their pleasant things for meat to relieve the soul: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 *Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From above hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevails against them: he hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me desolate and faint all the day.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fail, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to rise up.

15 The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me to crush my young men; the Lord hath trodden the virgins, the daughter of Judah, as in a wine-press.

16 For these things I weep: mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, because the comforter that should relieve my soul is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevailed.

17 Zion spreadeth forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath commanded concerning Jacob, that his adversaries should be round about him: Jerusalem is as a woman mourned among them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I have rebelled against his commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city, while they sought their meat to relieve their souls.

20 Behold, O Lord; for I am in distress: my bowels are troubled; mine heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled: abroad the sword bereaved, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I sigh: there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou hast called, and they shall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickedness be come before thee; and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

CHAPTER II.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the miseries of Jerusalem.

15 How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger, and cast down from heaven upon the earth the beauty of Israel, and remembered not his footstep in the day of his anger! 2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied; he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah; he hath brought them down to the ground: the Lord hath polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof. 3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the horn of Israel: he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, and he burned against Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy: he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and slew all that were pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his fury like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath swallowed up Israel, he hath swallowed up all her palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently taken away his tabernacle, as if it were of a garden: he hath destroyed his places of the assembly: the Lord hath caused the solemn feasts and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

7 The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary, he hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces: they have made a noise in the house of the Lord, as in the day of a solemn feast.

8 The Lord hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion; he hath stretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lament; they languished together.

9 Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and broken her bars: her king and her princes are among the Gentiles: the law is no more: her prophets also find no vision from the Lord.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, and keep silence; they have cast up dust upon their heads; they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are troubled, my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people; because the children and the sucklings are wailed in the streets of the city.

12 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they were wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul was poured out into their mothers bosom.

13 What thing shall I take to witness for thee? what thing shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? What shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee!
CHAPTER III.

His own calamities.

14 Thy prophets have seen vain and foolish things for thee; and they have not discovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity; but have seen for thee false burdens and causes of banishment.

15 All that pass by, clap their hands at thee; they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city that ver. 11 call 'The perfection of beauty. The joy of the whole earth!'

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee; they hiss and gnash the teeth; they say, 'We have weaved her up; certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it.'

17 The Lord hath done that which he had devised; he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the days of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused thine enemies to rejoice over thee, he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord, O'wall of the daughter of Zion, 'Let tears run down like a river day and night: give thyself no rest; let not the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, 'cry out in the night,' in the beginning of the watches 'pour out thy heart like water before the face of the Lord;' lift up thine hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger 'in the top of every street.'

20 Behold, O'Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done this. 'Shall the women eat their fruit, and children a span long! shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord!'

21 'The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets; my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword; thou hast slain them in the day of thine anger; thou hast killed, and not pitied.'

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day 'my terrors round about, so that in the midst of the Lord's anger none escaped or remained: those that I have swaddled and brought up, hath mine enemy consumed.'

CHAPTER III.

The faithful bemoan their calamities. 22 The mercies of God they nourish their hope: 23 They acknowledge God's pasture: 55 They pray for deliverance, 61 and vengeance on their enemies.

AM the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not into light; I am led as though I were with gall and travel.

3 Surely against me is he turned; he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 'My flesh and my skin hath he made old; he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and travail.

6 He hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead of old.

7 'He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chains heavy.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath enclosed my ways with hewn stone, he hath made my paths crooked.

10 He ran unto me as a bear lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

13 He hath caused the arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a derision to all my people; and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, he hath made me drunken with wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth, with gravel-stones, he hath covered me with ashes.

17 And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace: I forgot prosperity.

18 And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lord:

19 'Remembering mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall,

20 My soul hath thou still in remembrance, and is thumbed in me;

21 This I recall to my mind, therefore have I hope.

22 ¶ It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

23 They are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.

26 It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the Lord.

27 ¶ It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.

28 He sitteth alone, and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it upon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust; if so be there may be hope.

30 He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him; he is filled full with reproach.

31 ¶ For the Lord will not cast off for ever:

32 But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve the children of men.

34 To crush under his feet all the prisoners of the earth.

35 To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the Most High.
A PRAYER FOR DELIVERANCE.

LAMENTATIONS.

The Prophet Beareth the

Ps. 22:21

61 ¶ Render unto them a recompense, O Lord, according to the work of their hands.

62 Give them sorrow of heart, thy curse unto them.

66 Persecute and destroy them in anger from under the heavens of the Lord.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Zion bewaileth her pitiful estate. She confoundeth her sires. 2 Edom is threatened. 22 Zion is comforted.

NOW is the gold become dim! how is the most fine gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary are poured out in the top of every street.

2 The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!

3 Even the sea-monsters draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones; the daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst; the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.

5 They that did feed delicately are desolate in the streets: they that were brought up in scarlet embrace dung-hills.

6 For the punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sodom, that was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands stayed on her.

7 Her Nazarites were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was of sapphire:

8 Their visage is blacker than a coal; they are not known in the streets: 'their skin cleaveth to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a stick.

9 They that be slain with the sword are better than they that be slain with hunger: for these pine away, stricken through for want of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children; they were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his fury: he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy
CHAPTER V.

A pitiful complaint of Zion.

1 Remember, O Lord, what is come upon us: consider, and behold our reproach.

2 For we are strangers and fatherless; our mothers are as owls.

3 We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows.

4 We have drunken our water for money; our wood is sold unto us.

5 Our necks are under persecution: we labour, and have no rest.

6 We have given the hand to the Egyptians, and to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers have sinned, and are not; and we have borne their iniquities.

8 Servants have ruled over us: there is none that delivereth us out of their hand.

9 We got our bread with the peril of our lives because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our skin was black like an oven because of the terrible famine.

11 They ravished the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.

12 Princes are hanged up by their hand: the faces of elders were not honoured.

13 They took the young men to grind, and the children fell under the wood.

14 The elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their music.

15 The joy of our heart is ceased: our dance is turned into mourning.

16 The crown is fallen from our head: wo unto us, that we have sinned!

17 For these things our eyes are dim.

18 Because of the mountain of Zion, which is desolate, the foxes walk upon it.

19 Thou, O Lord, remainest for ever: thy throne from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, and forsake us so long time?

21 Turn thou us unto thee, O Lord, and we shall be turned; renew our days as of old.

22 But thou hast utterly rejected us; thou art very wroth against us.
CHAPTER I.

1 Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives by the river of Che-bar, that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

2 In the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of Jehoiachin's captivity,

3 The word of the Lord came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Che-bar; and the hand of the Lord was there upon him.

4 And I looked, and beheld, a whirlwind came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire infolding itself, and a brightness was about it, and out of the midst thereof was the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

5 Also out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance; they had the likeness of a man.

6 And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

7 And their feet were straight feet; and the sole of their feet were like the sole of a calf's foot; and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brass.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides; and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward.

10 As for the likeness of their faces, they four had the face of a man and the face of a lion, on the right side; and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; and they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces; and their wings were stretched upward; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one straight forward; and the spirit was as the spirit of fire, and like the appearance of appearance; it went up and down among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

13 And the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

14 Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his four faces.

15 The appearance of the wheels and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl; and they four had one likeness; and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

16 When they went, they went upon their four sides; and they turned not when they went.

17 As for their rings, they were so high that they were dreadful; and their rings were full of eyes round about them four.

18 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

19 Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, and as the spirit of the living creature went in the wheels.

20 And when they went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them; for the spirit of the living creature went in the wheels.

21 When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them; for the spirit of the living creature went in the wheels.

22 And the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature was as the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, one toward the other; every one had two, which covered this side, and every one had two, which covered on that side, their bodies.
CHAPTER II.

1 Ezekiel's commission. 6 His instruction. 9 The roll of his heavy prophecy.

ÍND he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

2 And the spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.

4 'For they are a rebellious house,' yet shall know that there hath been a prophet among them.

6 And thou, son of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though ||briers and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

7 And thou shalt speak my words unto them, 'whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are ÿmost rebellious.

8 But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee: Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and 'eat that I give thee.

CHAPTER III.

1 Ezekiel eateth the roll. 4 God encomageth him. 15 God sheweth him the rule of prophecy. 22 God sheweth and openeth the prophet's mouth.

MOREOVER he said unto me, Son of man, eat of this roll, and go speak unto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth ÿas honey for sweetness.

4 ÿAnd he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee into the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them.

5 For thou art not sent to a people ÿof a strange speech and of a hard language, but to the house of Israel;

6 Not to many people ÿof a strange speech and of a hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. ||Surely, ÿhad I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee: ÿfor they will not hearken unto me; ÿfor all the house of Israel are ÿimpatient and hard-hearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

9 As an adamant, harder than flint have I made thy forehead: ÿfear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

10 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

11 And go, get thee to the children of thy people, and speak unto them, Thus saith the Lord Gop: whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 Then the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the noise of the wheels ever against them, and a noise of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit; but the hand of the Lord was strong upon me.

15 ¶ Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-mish, that dwelt by the river of Chebar, and I sat there where they sat, and remained there astonied among them seven days.

16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 17 "Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

20 Again, When a righteous man doth turn from his righteous way, and committeth iniquity, and I lay a stumbling-block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doeth not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned; also thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 ¶ And the hand of the Lord was there upon me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

23 Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and behold, the glory of the Lord stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river of Chebar: 2 and I fell on my face.

24 Then the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet, and spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house.

25 But thou, O son of man, behold, they shall put bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them:

26 And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Under the type of a siege is shown the time from the defection of Jeroboam to the captivity: 2 by the precision of the siege, is shewed the hardness of the furnace.

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it; set the camp also against it, and set it [battering rams against it round about.

3 Moreover take thou unto thee [an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it. This shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

4 Lie thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it thou shalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, lie again on thy right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days: I have appointed thee [a day for a year.

7 Therefore thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and thine arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

8 And behold, I will lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee [from one side to another, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.

9 ¶ Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side; three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

10 And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it.

11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the sixth part of a hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.
12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it with dung that cometh out of man, in their sight.

13 And the Lord said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their deified bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.

14 Then said I, 'Ah Lord God! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth.

15 Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee cow’s dung for man’s dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem; and they shall eat bread by weight, and with care: and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment:

17 That they may want bread and water, and be astonied one with another, and consume away for their iniquity.

CHAPTER V.

1 Under the cage of hair, is a showel bow the judgment of Jerusalem for their rebellion, 12 by famine, sword, and dispersion.

2 * And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp knife, take thee a barber’s razor, and cause it to pass upon thine head and upon thy beard; then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair.

2 * Thou shalt burn with fire a third part in the midst of the city, when 1 the days of the siege are fulfilled: and thou shalt take a third part, and smite about it with a knife: and a third part thou shalt scatter in the wind; and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 * Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy skirts.

4 Then take of them again, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 * Thus saith the Lord God: This is Jerusalem; I have set it in the midst of the nations that are round about her.

6 And she hath changed my judgments into wickedness more than the nations, and my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have refused my judgments and my statutes, they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye multiplied more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgments, neither have done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you:

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I, even I, am against thee, and will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations.

9 * And I will do in thee that which I have not done; and wherewith I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will be scattered among all the winds.

11 Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord God: Surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee: neither shall mine eye spare, neither will I have any pity.

12 * A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee: and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter a third part into all the winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will cause my fury to rest upon them: and I will be comforted; and they shall know that I the Lord have spoken it in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by.

15 So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger, and in fury; and in furious rebukes. And the Lord have spoken it.

16 When I shall send upon thee the evil arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you: and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread:

17 So will I send upon you famine, and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee. And the Lord have spoken it.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The judgment of Israel for their idolatries. * A remnant shall be blessed. 11 The faithful are exalted to lament their calamities.

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them.

3 And say, Ye mountains of...
Israel, hear the word of the Lord God: Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys; Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and it will destroy your high places.

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images shall be broken: and it will cast down your slain men before your idols.

5 And I will lay the dead carcases of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling-places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.

7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries.

9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captive, because I am broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes which go a whoring after their idols: and they shall loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God: Smite the thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the evil abominations of the house of Israel! for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

13 Then shall ye know that I am the Lord, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill, in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.

14 So will I stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate, yea, more desolate than the wilderness toward Diblath, in all their habitations: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

15 The final desolation of Israel.
in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

16 But they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one for his iniquity.

17 All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water.

18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be removed; their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord; they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels; [because it is the stumbling-block of their iniquity.

20 As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: but they made the images of their abominations and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I set it far from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place; for the robbers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 Make a chain; for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.

24 Wherefore I will bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pomp of the strong to cease, and their holy places shall be defiled.

25 Destruction cometh; and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none.

26 Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour; and they shall seek a vision of the prophet: but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the ancients.

27 The king shall morn, and the princes shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Ezeckiel, in a vision of God at Jerusalem, 5 in shewed the image of Chaldaea, 7 the chambers of imagery, 12 the messenger for Tammuz, 15 the worshippers toward the sun. 16 God's wrath for their idolatry.

2 And it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord came upon me.

3 And he put forth the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of mine head; and the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate that looked toward the north, where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoked to jealousy.

4 And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I saw in the plain.

5 Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now toward the north. So I lifted up mine eyes toward the north, and behold northward at the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry.

6 He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold a hole in the wall.

8 Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and saw; and behold every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed upon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seventy men of the ancients of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand; and a thick cloud of incense went up.

12 Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, 'The Lord seeth us not; the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 He said also unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the Lord's house which was toward the north; and behold, there sat women weeping for Tammuz.

15 ¶ Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the east: and they worshipped the sun toward the east.

17 ¶ Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger: and lo, they put the branch to their nose.

18 Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

CHAPTER IX.

1 A vision, whereby is shewed the preservation of some, and the destruction of the rest, by God cannot be entreated for them.

E cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause them that have charge over the city to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, six men came from the way of the higher gate, which lie toward the north, and every man had a flying weapon in his hand; and one man among them was clad with linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side: and they went in and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from under the cherub, whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clad with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side:

4 And the Lord said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that he done in the midst thereof.
CHAPTER XI.

THE PRESCRIPTION OF THE PRINCES.

7 And one cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubims unto the fire that was between the cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it, and went out.

8 And there appeared in the cherubims the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked, behold the four wheels by the cherubims, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a beryl stone.

10 And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 "When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As for the wheels, [it was] a crown upon them in my hearing, O wheel!

14 "And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the cherubims were lifted up. This is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.

16 And when the cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubims lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 "When they stood, [these] stood; and when they were lifted up, these lifted up themselves also: for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.

19 And the cherubims lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them, and every one stood upon the midst of the east gate of the Lord's house: and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

20 This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river of Chebar: and I knew that they were the cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings: and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The prescription of the princes. 1 Their sum and punishment. 23 Ezekiel comprising God's words in his purpose to show a remnant, and punishing the wicked. 22 The clay of total woe by thine eye.

10 Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.

2 And the Spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak: Thus saith the Lord: Thus have ye said, O house of Israel: for I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

3 Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

4 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midst of it.

5 Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord God.

6 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword: I will judge you in the border of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

11 This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof: but I will judge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgments, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

13 And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benjamin died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord God! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?
14 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel wholly, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get you far from the Lord: unto us is this land given in possession.
16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God: Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little sanctuary in the countries where they shall come.
17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God: I will even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of all the countries where ye have been scattered, and will give you the land of Israel.
18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence.
19 And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh:
20 That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.
21 But as for them, whose heart walked after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord God.
22 ¶ Then did the cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was upon them above.
23 And the glory of the Lord went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is on the east side of the city.
24 ¶ Afterward the spirit took me up, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity, So the vision that I had seen went up from me.
25 Then I spake unto them of the captivity all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

CHAPTER XII.

1 The type of Ezekiel's removing. 2 It showed the captivity of Zedekiah. 3 Ezekiel's trembling sheweth the Jews' desolations. 4 The Jews' presumptuous provoketh is reproved. 5 The speediness of the vision.

HE word of the Lord also came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house.
3 Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight: and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.
4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, as they that go forth into captivity.
5 ¶ Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.
6 In their sight shalt thou hear it upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face, that they see not the ground: for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Israel.
7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for captivity, and in the even I digged through the wall with mine hand; I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my shoulder in their sight.
8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,
9 Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou?
10 Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: This burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.
11 Say, I am thy sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall remove and go into captivity.
12 And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.
13 My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare: and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall be there.
14 And I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands: and I will draw out the sword after them.
CHAPTER XIII.

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE NATIONS.

And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries.

Therefore shall the prophets, that speak unto you, say unto you, "I have dreamed a dream," and, "They shall say, "The visions that we dreamed were but idle; and the words which we spake were nothing;"

The words of Amos, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel.

Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God.

And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divise lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

Because even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace; and there was no peace; and one built up a wall, and lo, others daubed it with untempered mortar:

That shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower, and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it.

Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

Therefore thus saith the Lord God; I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in my fury to consume it.

So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar, and will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it:

To wit, the prophets of Israel which prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.
17 ¶ Likewise, thou son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy thou against them.

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord God; Wo to the women that sew pillows to all ||arm-holes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every stature to hunt souls! Will ye hunt the souls of my people, and will ye save the souls alive that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I am against your pillows, whereewith ye there hunt the souls ||to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them fly.

21 Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, ||by promising him life:

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations; for I will deliver my people out of your hand; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 God answered Job in this manner, according to their own heart: 6 They are exalted to reproach, for fear of judgments, by means of seduced prophets. 12 God's grievous sentence of famine, 15 of noxious beasts, 17 of the sword, 19 of pestilence, 32 A remnant shall be reserved for example of others.

1 THEN came certain of the elders of Israel unto me, and sat before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put the stumbling-block of their iniquity before their face: should I be inquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet; I the Lord will answer him that cometh according to the multitude of his idols:

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.

6 ¶ Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God; Repeat, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which separated himself from me, and setted up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a prophet to inquire of him concerning me; I the Lord will answer him by myself.

8 And will I set my face against that man, and will make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the prophet be deceived when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel.

10 And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that seeketh unto him:

11 That the house of Israel may |[g]o no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions; |[b]ut that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 ¶ The word of the Lord came again to me, saying,

13 Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the staff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it:

14 ¶Though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls ||by their righteousness, saith the Lord God.

15 ¶ If I cause |[a]noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they |[g]spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts:

16 ¶ Though these three men were sin it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate.

17 ¶ Or |[j]if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land; so that I |[e]sent off man and beast from it:

18 ¶Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.
19 ¶ Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast:

20 "Though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter: they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness:

21 For thus saith the Lord God; How much more when I send my four sore judgments upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast!

22 ¶ Yet, behold, therein shall be left a remnant that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when ye see their ways and their doings: and ye shall know that I have not done all without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAPTER XV.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, What is the vine-tree more than any tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned. ¶ It meet for any work!

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for no work: how much less shall it be meet yet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned!

6 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God; As the vine-tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7 And "I will set my face against them; they shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall devour them; and ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them.

8 And I will make the land desolate, because they have committed a trespass, saith the Lord God.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 And when I passed by thee, and saw thee polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thine blood, Live; yet, I said unto thee when thou wast in thine blood, Live.

2 ¶ And when I passed by thee, and saw thee polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thine blood, Live; yet, I said unto thee when thou wast in thine blood, Live.

3 ¶ And I said, as the vine-tree, to thy vine-tree, 'And thy nativity is of the land of Canaan; thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother a Hittite.'

4 And as for thy nativity, 'in the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water: [it supple thee; thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at all."

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field, to the loathing of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.

6 ¶ And when I passed by thee, and saw thee polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thine blood, Live; yet, I said unto thee when thou wast in thine blood, Live.

7 ¶ I have caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou art come to excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness; yea, I swaro unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy filth from thee; and I anointed thee with oil.

10 I clothed thee also with broderied work, and shod thee with badgers' skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thine hands, and a chain on thy neck.

12 And I put a jewel on thy forehead, and ear-rings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and broderied work; thy didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil; and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through thy conialness, which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 ¶ But thou didst trust in thy own beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pourest out thy fornications on every one that passed by; his it was.

16 And of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thyself images of men, and didst commit whoredom with them.

18 And tookest thy broidered garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and mine incense before them.

19 ¶ My meat also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, whereas I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for a sweet savour: and thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Moreover, thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Is this thy whoredom a small matter?

21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And it came to pass, after all thy wickedness, (wo, wo unto thee! saith the Lord God;) that thou hast also built unto thee an eminent place, and hast made thee a high place in every street.

24 Thou hast built thy high place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.

25 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, great of flesh; and hast increased thy whoredoms, to provoke me to anger.

26 Behold, therefore I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way.

27 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast unsatiable; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldst not be satisfied.

28 Thou hast hast, moreover, multiplied thy fornication in the land of Canaan unto Chaldea; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

29 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou dost all these things, the work of an impious, whorish woman?

30 ¶ In that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thine high place in every street; and hast not been as a harlot, in that thou scornest hire;

31 But as a wife that commiteth adultery, which taketh strangers instead of her husband!

32 They give gifts to all whores: but thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and hast not kept thy beauty, which thou wast instructed with in thy youth.

33 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms: and in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee: therefore thou art contrary.

34 Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the Lord:

35 Thus saith the Lord God; Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them;

37 Behold, therefore, I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast last taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness.

38 And I will judge thee, that as women that break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will give thee blood in fury and jealousy.

39 And I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and shall break down thy high places: they shall strip thee also of thy clothes, and shall take thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 ¶ They shall also bring up a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

41 And they shall burn thine houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire anymore.

42 So will I make my fury toward thee rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things; behold, therefore, I also will recompense thy way upon thine head, saith with severe judgment.

Chapter XVII. Parable of Two Eagles and a Vine.

1. And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2. Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel:

3. And say, Thus saith the Lord God: A great eagle with great wings, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar:

4. He cropped off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffic; he set it in a city of merchants.

5. He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field; he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow-tree.

6. And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

7. There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and behold, this vine did send her roots toward him, and shot forth her branches toward him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8. It was planted in a good soil by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

Her, the daughters of the Philistines, which despise thee round about.

58. Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the Lord.

59. For thus saith the Lord God: I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant.

60. Nevertheless, I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant.

61. Then thou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for thy daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62. And I will establish my covenant with thee; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord:

63. That thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more because of thy shame, when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord."
9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God; Shall it prosper? sah he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? Shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

12 Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? Tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to Jerusalem, and hath taken the covenant thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon;

13 And hath taken of the king's seed; and made a covenant with him, and hath taken an oath of him: he also hath taken the maiden of the land.

14 That the covenant might be base, that it might not lift itself up; but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.

15 But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or, shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whoso oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh, with his mighty armies and great company, make for him in the war, by casting up mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons:

18 Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when he had given his hand, and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.

20 And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me.

21 And all his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward all winds: and ye shall know that I the Lord have spoken it.

22 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God; I will also take of the highest branch of the high cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the top of his young twigs a tender one, and will plant it upon a high mountain and eminent:

23 In the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar; and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the Lord have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: if the Lord have spoken and have done it.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 God reproveth the unjust parable of sour grapes, 5 He showeth how he doeth with a just father: 10 with a wicked son of a just father: 11 with a just son of a wicked father: 12 with a wicked son of a wicked father: 15 with a just man revolting: 20 with a just man revolting.

2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinmeth, it shall die.

5 ¶ But if a man be just, and doATH that which is lawful and right,

6 And hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a menstruous woman,

7 And hath not oppressed any, but hath restored to the declaring his pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment; 8 He that hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken any increase, hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgment between man and man,

9 Hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgments, to deal truly: he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord God.

10 ¶ If he begat a son that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and [that doeth the like to any one of these things,

11 And that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife, 12 Hath oppressed the poor and needy, he hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination.

13 Hasted forth upon usury, and hast taken increase; shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; this his blood shall be upon him.

14 ¶ Now lo, if he beget a son, then he that seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like,

15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, hath not withheld the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

18 As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even the shall die in his iniquity.

19 ¶ Yet say ye, Why? doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and his father hath done them, he shall surely live.

20 ¶ The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

21 But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him; in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live.

23 Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?

24 ¶ But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 ¶ Yet say ye, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel; is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?

26 ¶ When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done, shall he die.

27 Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive.

28 Because he considereth and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

29 ¶ Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?

30 ¶ Therefore, I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord God. Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your bane.

31 ¶ Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

32 ¶ For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God; wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 A lamentation for the princes of Israel, under the parallel of lions' whelps taken in a pit, 10 and her dromedaries, under the parallel of a waste vine.

2 Moreover, take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Israel.

3 And say, What is thy mother? A lioness: she lay down among lions, she nourished her whelps among young lions.

4 And she brought up one of her whelps: it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey; it devoured men.

5 The nations also heard of him; he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of Egypt.

6 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

7 And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

8 And he knew their desolate palaces, and he laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof, by the noise of his roaring.

9 ¶ Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him: he was taken in their pit.

10 ¶ And they put him in ward till his chains; and brought him to the king of Babylon: they brought him into hold, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

CHAPTER XIX.
10 ¶ Thy mother is like a vine in thy belly, planted by the waters: she was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters. 11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that reigned, and her fruit was exalted among the thick branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches. 12 But she was plucked up in fury, when she was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken and withered: the fire consumed them. 13 And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground. 14 ¶ And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAPTER XX.

1 God rebuked me, and said, 2 “And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 3 Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Are ye come to inquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord God, I will not be inquired of by you. 4 Wilt thou judge them, son of man? wilt thou make judgment? cause them to know the abominations of their fathers: 5 ¶ And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up mine hand unto the seed of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the Lord your God; 6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth of the land of Egypt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands: 7 Then said I unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt: I am the Lord your God: 8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me; they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then said I, I will pour my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt. 9 ¶ But I turned for my name’s sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt. 10 ¶ Wherefore, I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness. 11 ¶ And I gave them my sabbaths, and shewed them my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them. 12 Moreover, also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctify them. 13 ¶ But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they despised my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them: and my sabbaths they greatly polluted: then I said, I would pour out my ftrain upon them in the wilderness, to consume them. 14 ¶ But I wrought for my name’s sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out. 15 Yet also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands: 16 Because they despaired my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, but polluted my sabbaths; for their heart went after their idols. 17 Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderness. 18 But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols: 19 I am the Lord your God: walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them: 20 ¶ And hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God. 21 Notwithstanding, the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he shall even live in them: they polluted my sabbaths: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness.

22 Nevertheless, I withdrew mine hand, and *wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 As lifted mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries:

24 Because they had not executed my judgments, but had despised my statutes, and had polluted my sabbaths, and *their eyes were after their fathers' idols.

25 Wherefore I gave them also statutes and judgments whereby they should not live:

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass *through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Yet in this your fathers have *blasphemed me, in that they have *committed a trespass against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then *they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering: there also they made their *sweet savour, and poured out their drink-offerings.

29 Then *I said unto them, What is the high place whereunto ye go? and the name thereof is called Baanah unto this day.

30 Wherefore, say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God; Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, even unto this day; and *shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord God, I will not be inquired of by you.

32 And that *which cometh into your mind shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.

33 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely with a mighty hand, and *with a stretched-out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you;

34 And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched-out arm, and with fury poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there 'will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God.

37 And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into ||the bond of the covenant:

38 And I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them forth out of the country where they sojourn, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God; 'Go ye, serve ye every one his idols, and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me: but pollute ye my holy name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

40 For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them in the land, serve me: there 'will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the ||first-fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept you with your *sweet savour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I will bring you into the land of Israel, into the country for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.

43 And 'there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings wherein ye have been defiled: and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed.

44 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have wrought with you for your name's sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

45 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

46 *Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the south field:

47 And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the Lord: Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burned therein.

48 And all flesh shall see that I the Lord have kindled it: it shall not be quenched.
A SWORD DRAWN AGAINST ISRAEL.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Ezekiel propheseth against Jerusalem with a sign of slaying.
2 The sword shall be sharpened, and a sword shall be made against Jerusalem, 25 against the kingdom, 25 and against the Ammonites.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 "Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel,

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of his sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of his sheath against all flesh from the south to the north:

5 That all flesh may know that I the Lord have drawn forth my sword out of his sheath: it shall not return any more.

6 "Sigh therefore, thou son of man, with the breaking of thy loins; and with bitterness sigh before their eyes.

7 And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore is the sign that thou shalt answer, For the tithings, because it cometh; and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and shall be brought to pass, saith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord; Say, A sword, a sword is sharpened, and also furnished:

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter, it is furnished that it may glitter; should we then make mirth? it contemneth the rod of my son, as every tree.

11 And he hath given it to be furnished, that it may be handled: this sword is sharpened, and it is furnished, to give it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Cry and howl, son of man: for it shall be upon you, it shall be upon all the princes of Israel: terrors by reason of the sword shall be upon my people: smite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 ¶ because it is a trial, and what if the sword contemneth even the rod! it shall be no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Thou, therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thine hand, and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain: it is the sword of the great men that are slain, which entereth into their privy chambers.

15 I have set the point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may faint, and their ruins be multiplied: ah! it is made bright, it is wrapped up for the slaughter.

16 Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, or on the left, whithersover thy face is set,

17 I will also smite mine hands together, and I will cause my fury to rest: I the Lord have said it.

18 ¶ The word of the Lord came unto me again, saying,

19 Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come: both twin shall come forth out of one land: and choose thou a place, choose it at the head of the way to the city.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to 'Rabbah of the Ammonites, and to Judah in Jerusalem the defenced.

21 For the king of Babylon stood at the head of the way, which leadeth to the Babylon; and he shall stretch out his hand over the gates of the city, and destroy it.

22 ¶ At his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to appoint, or captains, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to appoint battering rams against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fort.

23 And it shall be unto them as a false divination in their sight, to them that have sworn oaths; but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear; because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 ¶ And thou, profane wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end, 26 Thus saith the Lord God; Remove the dross, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: evil shall be laid in wait for him that is low, and abase him that is high.

27 ¶ I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.

28 ¶ And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach; even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn: for the slaughter it is furnished, to consume because of the glittering.

29 While they see vanity unto thee, while they divine a lie unto thee, bring thou upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.

30 ¶ Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy nativity.

31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of the heathen, and skilful to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; thou shalt be no more remembered; for I the Lord have spoken it.

CHAPTER XXII.

A catalogue of sins in Jerusalem. 13 God will burn them as dross in his furnace. 22 The general corruption of prophets, priests, princes, and people.

OREOVER the word of the Lord came unto me, saying.

2 Now, thou son of man, wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge the bloody city? yea, thou shalt shew her all her abominations.

3 Then say thou, Thus saith the Lord God; The city sheddeth blood in the midst of it, that her time may come, and maketh idols against herself to defile herself.

4 Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou hast shed; and hast defiled thyself in thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years: therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.

5 Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, which art infamous and much vexed.

6 Behold, the princes of Israel, every one were in thee to their power to shed blood.

7 In thee have they set light by father and mother; in the midst of thee have they dealt by oppression with the stranger; in thee have they vexed the fatherless and the widow.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast profaned my sabbaths.

9 In thee are men that carry tales to shed blood; and in thee they eat upon the mountains; in the midst of thee they commit lewdness.

10 In thee have they discovered their fathers' nakedness; in thee have they humbled her that was set apart for pollution.

11 And one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife; and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law; and another in thee hast humbled his sister, his father's daughter.

12 In thee have they taken gifts to shed blood; thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

13 ¶ Behold, therefore I have smitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee.

14 ¶ Can true heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? ¶ the Lord have spoken it, and will do it.

15 And ¶ I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and will consume thy filthiness out of thee.

16 And thou ¶ shalt take thine inheritance in thine midst in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

17 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying.

18 Son of man, the house of Israel is to me become dross; all they are brass, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are even the dross of silver.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Because ye are all become dross, behold therefore I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.

20 ¶ As they gather silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin, into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and will leave you there, and melt you.

21 Yea, I will gather you, and ¶ blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the Lord have poured out my fury upon you.

23 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying.

24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 ¶ There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey; they have devoured souls; they have taken the treasure and precious things; they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

26 ¶ Her priests have violated my law, and have profaned mine holy things; they have put no difference between the holy and profane, neither have they shewed difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.
27 Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, to get dishonest gain.

28 And her prophets have dashed them with untempered mortar, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord hath not spoken.

29 The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have oppressed the stranger woefully.

30 'And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none.

31 Therefore, have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord God.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 The whoredoms of Aholah and Aholibah: 2 Aholibah is to be placed by her lovers. 3 The prophet reproves the adulteries of them both, 45 and sheweth their judgments.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother:

3 And they committed whoredoms in Egypt; they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the men of their virginity.

4 And the names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister; and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters. Thus were their names: Samaria is Aholah, and Jerusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when she was mine; and she doted upon her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbours.

6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and governors, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus, she committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were the chosen men of Assyria, and with all upon whom she doted; with all their idols she defiled herself.

8 Neither left she her whoredoms brought from Egypt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.

9 Wherefore, I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians, upon whom she doted.

10 These discovered her nakedness: they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became infamous among women; for they had executed judgment upon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she was more corrupt in her inordinate love than she, and in her whoredoms more than her sister in her whoredoms.

12 She doted upon the Assyrians her neighbours. captains and rulers clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way:

14 And that she increased her whoredoms; for when she saw men portrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans portrayed with vanity.

15 Girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look to, after the manner of the Babylonians of Chaldea, the land of their nativity.

16 And as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea.

17 And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her mind was alienated from them.

18 So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness; then my mind was alienated from her, like as my mind was alienated from her sister.

19 Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou callest to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in bruising thy teats by the Egyptians for the paps of thy youth.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy mind is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side:

23 The Babylonians, and all the Chaldeans, and Tekoa, and Shoa, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: all of them desirable young men, captains and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them riding upon horses.

24 And they shall come against thee with chariots, waggons, and wheels, and with an assembly of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield and helmet round about: and I will set judgment before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments.

25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall take away thy nose and thine ears; and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters: and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels.

27 Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hast hated, into the hand of them from whom thy mind is alienated:

29 And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore will I give her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God; Thou shalt drink of thy cup of deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision: it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

36 The Lord said, moreover, unto me; Son of man, wilt thou judge Aholah and Aholibah? yea, declare unto them their abominations:

37 That they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons, whom they bare unto me, to pass for them through the fire, to devour them.

38 Moreover, this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

40 And furthermore, that ye have sent for men unto whom a messenger was sent; and lo, they came: for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments.

41 And satest upon a lofty bed, and a table prepared before it, whereinon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with the men of the common sort were brought forth Sabans from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then said I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit whoredoms with her, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto Aholah and unto Aholibah, the lewd women.

45 ¶ And the righteous men, they shall judge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46 For thus saith the Lord God; I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them up to be removed and spoiled.

47 ¶ And the company shall stone them with stones, and despacht them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness.

49 And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall hear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Under theparable of a boiling pot,6 is showed the inevitable destruction of Jerusalem. 15 By the sign of Ezekiel not mourning for the death of his wife, 19 is showed the calamity of the Jews to be beyond all sorrow.

A Ga\XX in the ninth year, in the tenth month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2 Son of man, write the name of the day, even of this same day: the king of Babylon set himself against Jerusalem this same day.

3 ¶ And after a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Set on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it;

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and burn also the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let them seethe the bones of it therein.

6 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God; Wo to the bloody city, to the pot whose scum is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece; let no lot fall upon it.
7 For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the top of a rock; she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust;

8 That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance; I have set her blood upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Wo to the bloody city! I will even make the pile of fire great.

10 Heap on wood; kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and spicke it well, and let the bones be burned.

11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the scum of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great scum went forth out of her; her scum shall be in the fire.

13 In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more; till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.

14 ¶ The Lord have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord God.

15 ¶ Also the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, and your shoes upon your feet; and ye shall not mourn nor weep: but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one toward another.

24 Thus saith the Lord God: Because I came replenished, and there was none to return; and because I pined away, and there was none to comfort me, therefore proclaim ye no more: set the trumpet to sound no more in my ear: because of the持有人 thereof. Thus saith the Lord God: Because Judah and Jerusalem are gone, and have set the trumpet to sound no more in my ear: therefore prophesy ye no more at all.

25 Thus saith the Lord God: Because of you that smite with your hand, and fill the soul of the people with drunkenness, therefore, Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon you, and will render your own way upon your head.

26 For thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, The two bands of the Ammonites, and all the Amorites, and the Philistines, and the children of the east country, and all the Assyrians, that are in the midst of you, are as nothing; but I, O Lord, will help you against them: therefore saith the Lord God: Behold, I will stretch out mine hand over them, and destroy them with the sword.

27 The Ammonites and the Moabites, and all that dwell in the east country: and I will give them to be a prey to the sword, and to the plunderings of all nations: and they shall be slain before their eyes, saith the Lord.

28 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler hath returned again, which spoileth: I will replenish the spoiler with his spoil, and I will fill also his chambers with spoil: therefore, Behold, the spoiler shall no more be a prey to you; but ye shall eat of spoil, and your hungry soul shall be filled, and you shall rejoice: and you shall know that I am the Lord.

29 Therefore, behold, I will open the window of heaven, and pour upon the inhabitants of the earth the spirit of madness; and the spoil of the Ammonites I will give into your hand; therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lord God: Because of all your iniquities, because you have smitten the children of Israel with the edge of the sword, and have scattered them among the nations, and have not returned from your ways: therefore, I also will scatter you among the nations, and will deliver you into the hand of aierce people, to whom you were not a hireling; therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

31 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

32 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

33 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

34 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

35 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

36 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

37 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

38 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

39 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

40 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

41 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

42 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

43 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

44 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

45 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.

46 Thus saith the Lord God: Because you say, Behold, the spoiler is come: Behold, these that destroy the cities of the Ammonites, I will give them into your hand: therefore, you shall know that I am the Lord.
5 It shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God: and it shall become a spoil to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain by the sword; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 ¶ For thus saith the Lord God Behold, I will bring upon Tyrus Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, a king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field: and he shall make a fort against thee, and a mountain against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

9 And he shall set engines of war against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers.

10 By reason of the abundance of his horses, their dust shall cover thee; thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoots of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay thy people by the sword, and thy strong garrisons shall go down to the ground.

12 And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise: and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses; and they shall lay thy stones, and thy timber, and thy dust, in the midst of the water.

13 And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease: and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.

14 And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou shalt be a place to spread nets upon: thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God to Tyrus: Shall not the isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their brocaded garments: they shall cloth themselves with sackcloth, and tremble: they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble at every moment, and be astonished at thee.

17 And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed that wast inhabited of sea-faring men, the renowned city, which was strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which cause their terror to be on all that haunt it!

18 Now, shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall: yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God: When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee:

20 When I shall bring thy destruction and all that thou hast done, which thou hast done against me: and they shall be an astonishment and a terror among all the heathen that are round about thee, and among all their kings, and their princes, and all the inhabitants of the isles that are round about thee, shall say, What great thing is done!

21 And they shall say, O Tyrus, thou art destroyed, that art astounded: shall not I make thee a desolate?

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 The rich supply of Tyrus. The great and irrecoverable fall thereof.

2 Now, thou son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyrus;

3 And say unto Tyrus, O thou that art situate at the entrance of the sea, which art a merchant of the people for many isles, Thus said the Lord God: O Tyrus, thou hast said, I am of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They have made all thy ships boards of fir-trees of Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon to make masts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars; and the company of the Ashurites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of the isles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with broidered work from Egypt was that which thou spreadest forth to be thy sail: blue and purple from the isles of Elishah was that which covered thee.

8 The inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad were thy mariners: thy wise men, O Tyrus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, and the wise men thereof were in thee thy caravans; all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise.

10 They of Persia, and of Lud, and of Phut, were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee; they set forth thine comeliness.

11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammodares were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about: they have made thy beauty perfect.

12 Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kind of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded in thy fairs.

13 Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were Chapter XXVIII. The irrecoverable fall of Tyre.

They were thy merchants; they traded *the persons of men and vessels of brass in thy market.
14 They of the house of *Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horses and horsemen and mules.
15 The men of *Dedan were thy merchants; many isles were the merchandise of thine hand; they brought thee for a present, horns of ivory and ebony.
16 Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of *the wares of thy making; they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds, purple, and brodered work, and fine linen, and coral, and tartar.
17 Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy merchants; they traded, in thy market, wheat of *Mishsam and Panan, and honey, and oil, and balm.
18 Damascus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches; in the wine of Helbon, and white wool.
19 Dan also and Javan going to and fro occupied in thy fairs; bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were in thy market.
20 *Dedan was thy merchant in precious clothes for chariots.
21 Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, *they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats; in these were thy merchants.
22 The merchants of *Sheba and Raamah, they were thy merchants; they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold.
23 Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of *Sheba, Asshur, and Chilmon, were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in all sorts of things, in blue and red clothes, and brodered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar, among thy merchandise.
25 The ships of Tarshish did sing of thee in thy market; and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the midst of the seas.
26 Thy rowsers have brought thee into the great waters: *the east wind hath broken thee in the midst of the seas.
27 Thy riches, and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, *and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the midst of the seas, in the day of thy ruin.
28 The suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.
29 And all that handle the oar, the merchants, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land:
30 And shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes:
31 And they shall make themselves utterly bold for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart and bitter wailing.
32 And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, *What city is like Tyrus, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea?
33 When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.
34 In the time when *thy shall be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, *thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.
35 All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be sore afraid, they shall be troubled in their comtemence.
36 The merchants among the people shall hiss at thee; *they shall be a terror, and forever shall be any more.

Chapter XXVIII.

1 God's judgment upon the prince of Tyre for his sacrilegious pride.
2 A denunciation of his great glory corrupted by sin. 28 The judgment of Zedek. 23 The restoration of Israel.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

1 And he spake unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy heart to the prince of Tyre, Thus saith the Lord God; Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; *yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thin heart as the heart of God:
3 Behold, *thou art wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that they can hide from thee:
4 With thy wisdom and with thine understanding thou hast gotten riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures;
5 By thy great wisdom and by thy traffic, hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches:
6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Because thou hast set thin heart as the heart of God:
7 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon thee, *the terrible of the nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.
8 They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the seas.
9 Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him that slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God; Thou seakest up the sun, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God: every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou a»rt the anointed cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy commodity they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore will I cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffic; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be as a terror, and never shalt thou be any more.

20 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesy against it.

22 And say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon; and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

23 For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets; and the wounded shall be judged in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

24 And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them that despised them; and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus said the Lord God; When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land that I have given to my servant Jacob.

26 And they shall dwell || safely therein, and shall build houses, and plant vineyards; yea, they shall dwell with confidence, when I have executed judgments upon all those that despise them round about them; and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

CHAPTER XXIX.

1 The judgment of Pharaoh for his treachery to Israel. 8 The desolation of Egypt. 13 The restoration thereof after forty years. 17 Egypt the reward of Nechochadrezzar. 21 Israel shall be restored.

20 In the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt:

3 Speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon that belth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myself.

4 But I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

5 And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the open fields; then shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: 8 I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field and to the fowls of the heaven.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel.

7 When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and read all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee,
CHAPTER XXX.

THE DESOLATION OF EGYPT.

And her helpers.

1 The desolation of Egypt and her helpers. 20 The arm of Babylon shall be strengthened to break the arm of Egypt.

1 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord God: How ye, Wo worth the day!

3 For the day is near, even the day of the Lord is near, a cloudy day; it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and great pain shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt: and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down.

5 Ethiopia, and Libya, and Lydia, and all the mingled people, and Chub, and the men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord: They also that uphold Egypt shall fall: and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of Syene shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord God.

7 And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers go forth from me in ships to make the careless Egyptians afraid, and great pain shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for, lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked: and I will make the land waste, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the Lord have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God: I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause their images to cease out of Noph: and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in Zoan, and will execute judgments in No.

15 And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the strength of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt: Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be rent asunder, and Noph shall have distresses daily.

17 The young men of Aven and of Beseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.

18 At Tahapanhes also the day shall be darkened, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt; and the pome of her strength shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

20 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arm, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

24 And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break Pharaoh's arms, and he shall go down before him with the groanings of a deadly-wounded man.

25 But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAPTER XXXI.

1 A relation unto Pharaoh, 3 of the glory of Assyria, 10 and the fall thereof for pride. 18 The like destruction of Egypt, and to his multitude; Whom art thou like in thy greatness?

3 Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of a high stature; and his top was among the thick boughs.

4 The waters made him great, the deep set him up on high with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her little rivers unto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore, his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the multitude of waters, when he shot forth.

6 All the fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir-trees were not like his boughs, and the chestnut-trees were not like his branches: not any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.

9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches; so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because thou hast lifted up thyself in height, and he hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height;

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the heathen; he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness.

12 And strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the rivers of the land; and all the people of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.

13 Upon his ruin shall all the fowls of heaven remain, and all the beasts of the field shall he upon his branches:

14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters, exalt themselves for their height, neither shoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees stand up in their height, all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when he went down to the grave I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon
CHAPTER XXXII.

FEARFUL FALL OF EGYPT.

A LAMENTATION FOR THE

CHAPTER XXXII.

A LAMENTATION FOR THE FEARFUL FALL OF EGYPT. 11 The sword of Babylon shall destroy it. It shall be brought down to hell, among all the uncircumcised nations.

And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thon art as a young lion of the nations, and thou art as a whale in the seas; and thou comest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers.

3 Thus saith the Lord God; I will therefore spread out my net over thee with a company of many people; and they shall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then will I leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.

6 I will also water with thy blood [the land wherein thou swindest, even to the mountains; and the rivers shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the bright lights of heaven will I make dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord God.

9 I will also vex the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them; and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord God: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee.

12 By the sword of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, [the terrible of the nations, all of them; and they shall spoil the pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside the great waters; neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord God.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the country shall be [desolate of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for her, even for Egypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord God.

17 ¶ It came to pass also in the twelfth month, in the sixteenth day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 ¶ Whom dost thou mock in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: [she is delivered to the sword: draw her and all her multitudes.

21 ¶ The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

22 ¶ Asshur is there and all her company: his graves are about him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword:

23 Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused terror in the land of the living.

24 There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their terror in the land of the living; yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit.

25 They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword: though their terror was caused in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain.

26 There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terror in the land of the living.

27 And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell with their weapons of war: and they have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquities shall be upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.

29 There is Edom, her kings, and all her princes, which with their might are laid by them that be slain by the sword; they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.

30 There be the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Zidonians, which are gone down with the slain: with their terror they are ashamed of their might; and they lie uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

31 Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his army slain by the sword, saith the Lord God.

32 For I have caused my terror in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that are slain with the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

1 According to the duty of a watchman, in warning the people, Ezekiel is admonished of his duty. 10 God sheweth the justice of his ways toward the penitent, and toward revolters. 17 He maintaineth his justice. 21 Upon the laws of the taking of Jerusalem he prophesieth the desolation of the land. 30 God's judgment upon the mothers of the prophets.

GAIN the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: When I bring the sword upon a land, and all of the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him for their watchman:

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people:

4 Then, if who soever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning; if the sword come and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head.

5 If he heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall he upon him. But if he taketh warning shall deliver his soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God; Thus shall it be upon the house of Israel; therefore shalt thou hear the word at my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Israel; Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we pray away in them, how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

12 Therefore, thou son of man, speak unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness; neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; if he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity, all his righteousnesses shall not be remembered; but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for it.

14 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right:

15 If the wicked restore the pledge, give again that which he had robbed, walk in the statutes of life, without committing iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 None of his sins that he hath committed shall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawful and right: he shall surely live, 17 Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal; but as for them, their way is not equal.

18 Wherefore, when the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked turn from his wickedness, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby.

20 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. O ye house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, The city is smitten.

22 Now the land of the Lord was upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning: and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.

23 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, they that inhabit those wastes of the land of Israel speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance.

25 Wherefore, say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed blood: and shall ye possess the land?

26 Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye define every one his neighbour's wife; and shall ye possess the land?

27 Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; As I live, surely they that are in the wastes, shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field, will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in the forts and in the caves, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land most desolate, and the pomp of her strength shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through.

29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I have laid the land most desolate because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 Also, thou son of man, the children of thy people still are talking against thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the Lord.

31 And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness.

32 And lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33 And when this cometh to pass, (lo, it will come,) then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

1 A word of the shepherds. 2 God's judgment against them. 3 His providence for his flock. 4 The kingdom of Christ.

ND the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God unto the shepherds; Wo be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

3 Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

4 The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered, because there is no shepherd: and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, when they were scattered.

6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did search or seek after them.

7 Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord:

8 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my flock.

9 Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord:

10 Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I am against the shepherds: and I will require my flock at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock: neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more: for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them.

11 For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, L even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out.

12 †As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick; but I will destroy the fat and the strong; I will feed them with judgment.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord God; †Behold, I judge between †cattle and cattle, between the rains and the †goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have eaten up the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pastures? and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet?

19 And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet: and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 †Therefore thus saith the Lord God unto them; †Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and between the lean cattle.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pushed all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad;

22 Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and I will judge between cattle and prey.

23 And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

24 And †I the Lord will be their God, and my servant David a prince among them; †the Lord have spoken it.

25 And †I will make with them a covenant of peace, and †will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they †shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will make them and the places round about 'my hill a blessing; and I will †cause the shower to come down in his season; there shall be †showers of blessing.

27 And †the tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the Lord, when I have †broken the hands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more †be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beasts of the land devour them; but †they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a plant of renown, and they shall be no more †consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they know that †I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel, †are my people, saith the Lord God.

31 And ye my flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God.

CHAPTER XXXV.

The judgment of Mount Seir for their hatred of Israel.

1 MOREOVER the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against †Mount Seir, and †prophesy against it.

3 And say unto it, Thus saith the Lord God; †Behold, O †Mount Seir, I am against thee, and †I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee most desolate.

4 †I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

5 †Because thou hast had a †perpetual hatred, and hast shed the blood of the children of Israel by †the force of the sword in the time of their calamity, in the time that their iniquity had an end;

6 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, †I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee; since thou hast not hated blood, even blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make Mount Seir most desolate, and cut off from it him that passeth out and him that returneth.

8 †And I will fill his mountains with his slain men: in thy hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy hedges; and I will lay the sword in his place, saith the Lord God.
in all thy rivers, shall they fall that are slain with the sword. 9 Therefore, I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not return; "and ye shall know that I am the Lord. 10 Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it; "whereas the Lord was there: 11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, I will even do according to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast used of thy hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them, when I have judged thee. 12 And thou shalt know that I am the Lord, and that I have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given us to consume. 13 Thus with thy mouth ye have blasphemed against me, and have multiplied your words against me; I have heard them. 14 Thus saith the Lord God; When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate. 15 As thou didst rejoice at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee; thou shalt be desolate, O Mount Seir, and all Idumea, even all of it: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAPTER XXXVI.
1 The land of Israel is comforted, both by destruction of the heathen, who spiritually used it, and by the blessings of God promised unto it: 16 hence was expected for their sin, 21 and shall be restored without their desert. 25 The blessings of Christ's kingdom. 2 Also, son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord: 2 Thus saith the Lord God; Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha, even the ancient high places are ours in possession: 3 Therefore, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord God; Because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy of the people: 4 Therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God; Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes, and to the cities that are forsaken, which became a prey and a desolation to the residue of the heathen that are round about: 5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea; which have appointed my land into their possession with the joy of all their heart, with despiseful minds, to cast it out for a prey.

6 Prophecy therefore concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy, and in my fury, because ye have borne the shame of the heathen: 7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; I have lifted up mine hand; Surely the heathen that are about you, they shall bear their shame. 8 ¶ But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to the people of Israel; for they are at hand to come. 9 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown: 10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it; and the cities shall be inhabited, and the wastes shall be built: 11 And I will multiply upon you men and beast; and they shall increase and bring fruit; and I will set you after your old estates, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings; and ye shall know that I am the Lord. 12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel; and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bear them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord God; Because they say unto you, Thou hast devoured up men, and hast bereaved thy nations: 14 Therefore, thou shalt devour men no more, neither bear they thy nations any more, saith the Lord God. 15 Neither will I cause men to hear in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou hear the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nations to fall any more, saith the Lord God. 16 ¶ Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own way and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanness of a removed woman. 18 Wherefore, I poured out my fury upon them for the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it: 19 And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countries; according to their way and according to their doings I judged them. 20 And when they entered among the heathen, whither they went, they profaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone forth out of his land.

21 ¶ But I had pity for mine holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the heathen, whither they went.

22 Therefore, say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God; I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctify my great name, which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

25 ¶ Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean; from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you:

26 A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also save you from all your uncleannesses: and I will call for the corn, and will increase it, and lay no famine upon you.

30 And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye shall receive no more reproach of famine among the heathen.

31 Then shall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord God; be it known unto you: he abhorred and confounded for your own ways, O house of Israel.

33 Thus saith the Lord God; In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities I will also cause you to dwell in the cities, and the wastes shall be builded.

34 And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay desolate in the sight of all that passed by.

35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are become fenced, and are inhabited.

36 Then the heathen that are left round about you shall know that I the Lord build the ruined places, and plant that that was desolate: 'I the Lord have spoken it, and I will do it.'

37 Thus saith the Lord God; 'I will yet for this be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them; I will increase them with men as a flock.'

38 As the holy flock, as the flock of Jerusalem in her solemn feasts; so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

1 THE hand of the Lord was upon me, and carried me out into the Spirit of the Lord, and set me down in the midst of the valley which was full of bones:

2 And caused me to pass by them round about: and behold, there were very many in the open valley; and lo, they were very dry.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? and I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest.

4 Again he said unto me, Prophesy upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God unto these bones; Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live:

6 And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold a shaking; and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he unto me, Prophesy unto the wind, prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord God; 'Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.'

10 So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 ¶ Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, 'Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost: we are cut off for our parts.

12 Therefore prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Behold,'O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel.

13 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves.

14 And I will put my Spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land; then shall ye know that I the Lord have spoken it, and performed it, saith the Lord.

15 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

16 Moreover, thou son of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions; then take another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions;

17 And join them one to another into one stick; and they shall become one in thine hand.

18 And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these?

19 Say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand.

20 And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thine hand before their eyes.

21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land:

22 And I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all; and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all:

23 Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will save them out of all their dwelling-places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them; so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.

24 And David my servant shall be king over them; and they shall all have one shepherd: they shall also walk in my judgments, and observe my statutes, and do them.

25 And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt, and they shall dwell therein, even they, and their children, and their children's children for ever; and my servant David shall be their prince for ever.

26 Moreover will I make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore.

27 My tabernacle also shall be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

28 And the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, that I alone am sanctified Israel.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

1 The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against Gog, the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal:

4 And I will turn thee back, and will put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, 'all of them clothed with all sorts of armour, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords:

5 Persia, Ethiopia, and Libya with them; all of them with shield and helmet:

6 Gomer, and all his bands; the house of Togarmah of the north quarters, and all his bands; and many people with thee.

7 Be thou prepared, and prepare for thyself, thou, and all thy company that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

8 After many days shalt thou be visited, in the latter years shalt thou come into the land that is brought back from the sword, and is gathered out of many people, against the mountains of Israel, which have been always waste: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall dwell safely all of them.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord God; It shall also come to pass, that at the same time shall things come into thy mind, and thou shalt think an evil thought:

11 And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages: I will go to them that are at rest, that dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates,

12 To take a spoil, and to take a prey; to turn thine hand upon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the midst of the land.

13 Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take a spoil? hast thou gathered thy company to take a prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take a great spoil?

14 Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord God; In that day when my people of Israel dwell safely, shalt thou not know it?

15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the north parts, thou, and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company, and a mighty army:

16 And thou shalt come up against my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land; it shall be in the latter days, and I will bring thee against my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord God; Art thou he of whom I have spoken in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those days many years, that I would bring thee against them?

18 And it shall come to pass at the same time when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, that my fury shall come up in my face.

19 For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel:

20 So that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.

21 And I will call for a sword against him throughout all my mountains, saith the Lord God; every man's sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood; and I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone.

23 Thus will I magnify myself, and sanctify myself: and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.
THEREFORE, thou son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will cause thee to be given up, thou and all thy hosts, and thy multitudes, in the midst of the valleys; and thou and all thy hosts, the multitude of the heathen, shalt be cast alive with your leaders, into a land which ye know not: and ye shall be consumed in it, because ye have caused your multitudes and the multitude of the heathen to fall by the sword.

And their graves shall be among the heathen; and all of them shall have snares, and a net, and a sword; thou and *thy multitude, and  the multitude of the heathen.

And they shall be in the midst of the heathen, and shall gather the captives among the heathen, and they shall carry them in tribute and compensation to all their places; and they shall be a reproach and a Lisbon of thistles to Israel.

Thus shall the heathen know that I am the Lord God, when I shall be glorified in you, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

THE FEAST OF THE FOWLS.

And they shall sever out men of continual employment, passing through the land to bury with the passers the dead bodies that remain upon the face of the earth, to cleanse it after the end of seven months shall they search.

And the passers that pass through the land, when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he set up a sign by it till the bariers have buried it in the valley of Hannon-gog.

And also the name of the city shall be Hannonah. Thus shall they cleanse the land.

And, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord God: Speak unto every feathered fowl, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my sanctuary that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

"Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan.

And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you.

Thus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, said the Lord God.

And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them.

So the house of Israel shall know that I am the Lord their God from that day and forward.

And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against me, therefore hid I my face from them, and gave them into the hand of their enemies; so fell they all by the sword.

According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions have I done unto them, and hid my face from them.

Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel; and will be jealous for my holy name; After that they have borne their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and none made them afraid. When I have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and sanctified them in them in the sight of many nations;

Then shall they know that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captivity among the heathen; but I have gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of them any more there.
CHAP. XL.

The time, manner, and end of the vision. 6 The description of the east gate, 29 of the north gate, 23 of the south gate, 32 of the east gate, 50 and of the north gate, 39 Eight tables. 49 The chambers. 48 The porch of the house.

In the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was sitten in, in the self-same day the hand of the Lord was upon me, and brought me thither.

2 "In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me upon a very high mountain, by which was as the frame of a city on the south.

3 And he brought me thither, and beheld, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed: and he stood in the gate.

4 And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel.

5 And behold, a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long by the cubit and a hand-breath: so he measured the breadth of the building, one reed: and the height, one reed.

6 Then came he unto the gate which looketh toward the east, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad; and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad; and between the little chambers were five cubits: and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then he measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the little chambers of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure; and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the eu
27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the south; and he measured from gate to gate toward the south a hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the south gate; and he measured the south gate according to these measures;

29 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures; and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were five cubits long, and five cubits broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof; and the going up to it had eight steps.

32 And he brought me into the inner court toward the east; and he measured the gate according to these measures;

33 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, were according to these measures; and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the outward court; and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

35 And he brought me to the north gate, and measured it according to these measures;

36 The little chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, and the windows to it round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the posts thereof were toward the outer court; and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And the chambers and the entries thereof were by the posts of the gates, where they washed the burnt-offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering.

40 And at the side without, as one goeth up to the entry of the north gate, were two tables; and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew their sacrifices.

42 And the four tables were of hewn stone for the burnt-offering, of a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high; whereupon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt-offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were hooks, a hand broad, fastened round about; and upon the tables was the flesh of the offering.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north.

45 And he said unto me, This chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north, is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of Zadok among the sons of Levi, which come near to the Lord to minister unto him.

47 So he measured the court, a hundred cubits long, and a hundred cubits broad, four-square; and the altar that was before the house.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; and he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAPTER XII.

The measures, parts, chambers, and ornaments of the temple.

FTERWARD he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the door was ten cubits; and the sides of the door were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits.

3 Then went he inward, and measured the post of the door, two cubits; and the door, six cubits; and the breadth of the door, seven cubits.

4 So he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After, he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side-chamber, four cubits, round about the house on every side.
6 And the side-chambers were three, one above another, and thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which was of the house for the side-chambers round about, and they might have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the house.

7 And there was an enlarging, and a winding about still upward to the side-chambers: for the winding about of the house went still upward round about the house; therefore the breadth of the house was still upward, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.

8 And such the height of the house round about; the foundations of the side-chambers were a full reed of six great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chamber without, was five cubits: and that which was left was the place of the side-chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

11 And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the place that was left was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place at the end toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house, a hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, a hundred cubits long.

14 Also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, a hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building over against the separate place which was behind it, and the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, a hundred cubits, with the inner temple, and the porches of the court.

16 The door posts, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the door, were, that were forty cubits round about; and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered.

17 To that above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without by measure.

18 And it was made with cherubims and palm-trees; so that a palm-tree was between a cherub and a cherub: and every cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm-tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other side: it was made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were cherubims and palm-trees made, and on the wall of the temple.

21 The posts of the temple were squared, and the face of the sanctuary; the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood; and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the Lord.

23 And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubims and palm-trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windows and palm-trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and upon the side-chambers of the house, and thick planks.

CHAPTER XLII.

1 The chambers for the priests. 2 The use thereof. 3 The measures of the outward court.

THEN he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the north.

2 Before the length of a hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the outer court, was gallery against gallery in three stories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors toward the north.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries were higher than these, than the lower, and than the middlemost of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts; therefore the building was straightened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, toward the outer court on the forpart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court were fifty cubits: and lo, before the temple were a hundred cubits.

778
9 And from under these chambers was the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they; and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them.

13 ¶ Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the chambers which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, where the priests that approach unto the Lord shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering; for the place is holy.

14 ¶ When the priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy; and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the east side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

17 He measured the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

18 He measured the south side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

19 ¶ He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad, to make a separation between the sanctuary and the profane place.

CHAPTER XLIII.

The returning of the glory of God into the temple. 2 The sin of Israel hindered God's presence. 3 The prophet exhorted them to repentance, and observation of the law of the house. 4 The measures, 58 and the ordinances of the altar:

1 God's glory in the temple.

FTERWARD he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east:

2 ¶ And he brought me to the inner court: and, behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house.

6 And I heard him speaking unto me out of the house; and the man stood by me.

7 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, "The place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever, and my holy name, shall the house of Israel nor more defile, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, nor by the carcases of their kings in their high places.

8 In their setting of their threshold by my thresholds, and their posts by my posts, and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger.

9 Now, let them put away their whoredom, and the carcases of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou son of man, "Shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the pattern.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, shew them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof; and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the house: Upon the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

13 ¶ And these are the measures of the altar after the cubits: 1 The cubit is a cubit... and a hand-breadth; even the +bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the +edge thereof round about shall be a span: and this shall be the higher place of the altar.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground even to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle even to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So +the altar shall be four cubits: and from +the altar and upward shall be four horns.

16 And the altar shall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, square in the four squares thereof.

17 And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long and fourteen broad in the four squares thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit: and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and his stairs shall look toward the east.

18 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord GoÁ; These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, and to +sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which approach unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord GoÁ, a young bullock for a sin-offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse and purify it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin-offering: and he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary.

22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sin-offering: and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did sprinkle it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto the Lord.

25 Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin-offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish.

26 Seven days shall they purge the altar and purify it: and they shall +consecrate themselves.

27 ¶ And when these days are expired, it shall be, that upon the eighth day, and so forward, the priests shall make your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your peace-offerings: and I will accept you, saith the Lord GoÁ.

CHAPTER XLV.

1 The east gate assigned only to the prince. 2 The priests reproved for polluting the sanctuary. 3 frontier of the priests. 4 CH. 25. 13. 5 Then the Lord unto me: This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it: 'because the Lord the God of Israel hath entered in by it, therefore it shall be shut.

3 It is for the prince; the prince, he shall sit in it to 'eat bread before the Lord: he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he me the way of the north gate before the house: and I looked, and beheld, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord: and I fell upon my face.

5 And the Lord said unto me, Son of man, mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord, and all the laws thereof: and mark well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary.

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellions, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GoÁ: O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations.

7 ¶ In that ye have brought into my sanctuary strangers, uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to pollute it, even my house, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant because of all your abominations.

8 And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy holy offerings: but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for yourselves.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GoÁ: No stranger, uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel.

10 And the Levites that are gone away far from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray away from me after their idols; they shall even hear their iniquity.

11 Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having charge at the gates of the house, and ministering to the house: they shall slay the burnt-offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them.

12 Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity: therefore have I *lited up mine hand against them, saith the Lord God, and they shall bear their iniquity.

13 And they shall not come near unto me, to do the office of a priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, in the most holy place; but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 ¶ But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary, when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me, and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord God:

16 They shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near unto my table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, while they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They shall have linen bonnets upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with any thing that causeth sweat.

19 And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments; and they shall not sanctify the people with their garments.

20 Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll their heads.

21 Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away: but they shall take maidens of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that had a priest before.

23 And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean.

24 And in controversy they shall stand in judgment; and they shall judge it according to my judgments: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all mine assemblies; and they shall hallow my sabbaths.

25 And they shall come at no dead person.
7 ¶ And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city, from the west side westward, and from the east side eastward: and the length shall be over against one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border.

8 In the land shall be his possession in Israel: and his princes shall no more oppress my people; and the rest of the land shall give to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God;

10 Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath, and a just jar.

11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of a homer, and the ephah the tenth part of a homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer.

12 And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekel, five and twenty shekel, fifteen shekel, shall be your manch.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer: the sixth part of an ephah of corn for a homer of wheat, and ye shall offer the sixth part of an ephah of corne of barley:

14 Concerning the ordinance of oil, the bath of oil, ye shall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is a homer of ten baths: for ten baths are a homer:

15 And one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat pastures of Israel, for a meat-offering, and for a burnt-offering, and for peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shall give this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the prince's part to give burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and drink-offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all solemnities of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin-offering, and the meat-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord God; In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish, and cleanse the sanctuary:

19 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin-offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so thou shalt do the seventh day of the month for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye reconcile the house.

21 ¶ In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin-offering.

23 And seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt-offering to the Lord, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; and a kid of the goats daily for a sin-offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meat-offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and a hin of oil for an ephah.

25 In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, shall he do the like in the feast of the seven days, according to the sin-offering, according to the burnt-offering, and according to the meat-offering, and according to the oil.

8. "And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9. "But when the people of the land 1 shall come before the LORD in the solemn feasts, he that entereth in by the way of the north gate to worship, shall go out by the way of the south gate: and he that entereth by the way of the south gate, shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth over against it.

10. And the prince in the midst of them, when they go in, shall go in; and when they go forth, shall go forth.

11. "And in the feasts and in the solemnities, the meat-offering shall be an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

12. "Now, when the prince shall prepare a voluntary burnt-offering or peace-offerings voluntarily unto the LORD, 2 he shall open him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings, as he did on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate.

13. "Then shall daily prepare a burnt-offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of a hin of oil, to temper with the fine flour; a meat-offering continually by a perpetually ordinance unto the LORD.

14. "Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat-offering, and the oil, every morning for a continual burnt-offering.

15. "Thus said the Lord God; If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, the inheritance thereof shall be his sons: it shall be their possession by inheritance.

16. "But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then shall it be his to the year of liberty: after, it shall return to the prince: but his inheritance shall be his sons' for them.

17. "Moreover, the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance by oppression, to thrust them out of their possession: but he shall give his sons inheritance out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

18. "After, he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the two sides westward.

20. Then said he unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass-offering and the sin-offering, where they shall make the meat-offering: that they bear them not out into the outer court, 'to sanctify the people.'

21. "Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.

22. "In the four corners of the court there were courts joined of forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four corners were of one measure.

23. "And there was a row of building round about in them, round about them four, and it was made with boiling-places under the rows round about.

24. "Then said he unto me, These are the places of them that boil, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

CHAPTER XLVII.

1. The vision of the holy waters. 6. The virtue of them. 13. The bowers of the land. 22. The division of it by lot.

FORTHERWARD he brought me again unto the door of the house: and behold, 2 waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the east, and the waters came down from under from the right side of the house, at the south side of the altar.

2. Then brought he me out of the way of the gate northward, and led me about the way without unto the outer gate by the way that looketh eastward: and behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3. And when he brought me, he led me forth toward the man, which had the line in his hand, went forth eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters: 3 waters were to the ankles.

4. Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters: the waters were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loins.

5. Afterward he measured a thousand: and it was a river that I could not pass over: for the waters were risen, 4 waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.

6. And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

7. Now, when I had returned, behold, at the brink of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other.

8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the east country, and go down into the midst of the desert, and go into the sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the waters shall be healed.

9 And it shall come to pass, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be healed; and every thing shall live whither the river cometh.

10 And it shall come to pass, that the fishers shall stand upon it, of En-gedi even unto En-eglaim: they shall be a place of spread forth nets; for their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many.

11 But the miry places thereof and the marshes thereof shall not be healed; they shall be given to salt.

12 And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow all trees for meat, whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof be consumed: it shall bring forth new fruit according to his months, because their waters they issued out of the sanctuary; and the fruit thereof shall be for medicine, and the leaf thereof for healing.

13 Thus saith the Lord God; This shall be the border, whereby ye shall inherit the land according to the twelve tribes of Israel:

Joseph shall have two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning the which I lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers: and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land toward the north, from the great sea, the way of Hethlon, as men go to Zedad;

16 Hamath, Bereeloth, Bibram, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; Hazar-hatticon, which is by the coast of Haaran.

17 And the border from the sea shall be from Hamath, the border of Damascus, and the north northward, and the border of Hamath. And this is the north side.

18 And the east side ye shall measure from Haaran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Jordan, from the border unto the east sea. And this is the east side.

19 And the south side southward, from Tamar even to the waters of the river of Kadesh, the river to the great sea. And this is the south side southward.
11 "It shall be for the priests that are sanctified of the sons of Zadok; which have kept my charge, which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered shall be unto them a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And over against the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 ¶ They shall not sell it, nor exchange it, nor alienate the first-fruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord.

15 ¶ They shall have five thousand, that are left in the border over against the two thousand and twenty thousand, shall be a profane place for the city, for dwelling and for suburbs, and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof: the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred.

17 And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.

18 And the residue in length over against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward: and it shall be over against the oblation of the holy portion; and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that serve the city.

19 ¶ And they that serve the city shall serve it out of all the tribes of Israel.

20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand: ye shall offer the holy oblation four-square, with the possession of the city.

21 ¶ And the residue shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the city, over against the five and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the east border, and westward over against the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, over against the portions for the prince; and it shall be the holy oblation; and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof.

22 Moreover, from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

23 As for the rest of the tribes, from the east side unto the west side, Benjamin shall have a portion.

24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west side, Simeon shall have a portion.

25 And by the border of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side, Issachar a portion.

26 And by the border of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side, Zebulun a portion.

27 And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side, Gad a portion.

28 And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar unto the waters of Meribah of Kadesh, and to the river toward the great sea.

29 ¶ This is the land which ye shall divide by lot unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their portions, saith the Lord God.

30 ¶ And these are the goings out of the city on the north side, four thousand and five hundred measures.

31 ¶ And the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel: three gates northward; one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi.

32 And at the east side four thousand and five hundred; and three gates; and one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan.

33 And at the south side four thousand and five hundred measures; and three gates; one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, one gate of Zebulun.

34 At the west side four thousand and five hundred, with their three gates; one gate of Gad, one gate of Asher, one gate of Naphtali.

35 It was round about eighteen thousand measures: and the name of the city from that day shall be, a The Lord is there.

D A N I E L.

CHAPTER 1.

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; which he carried into the land of Shinar to the house of his god; and brought the vessels into the treasure-house of his god.

3 And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring certain of the children of Israel, and of the king's seed, and of the princes;

4 Children in whom there was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the king's palace, and whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them a daily provision of the king's meat, and of the wine which he drank; so nourishing them three years, that at the end thereof they might stand before the king.

6 Now, among these were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:

7 Unto whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: for he gave unto Daniel the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abed-nego.

8 But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank; therefore, he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

9 Now 'God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces °worse liking than the children which °are of your °sort? then shall ye make °me endanger my head to the king.

11 Then said Daniel to °Melzar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us °pulse °to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eat of the portion of the king's meat: and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer and fatter in flesh than all the children which did eat the portion of the king's meat.

16 Thus Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink: and gave them pulse.

17 As for these four children, °God gave them °knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and °Daniel had °understanding in all visions and dreams.

18 Now at the end of the days that the kingsaid had said he should bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the king communed with them:
and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:
therefore did he stand before the king.

20 °And in all matters °of wisdom and understanding, that the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his realm.

21 °And Daniel continued even unto the first year of King Cyrus.
ND in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, wherein with his spirit was troubled, and his sleep brake from him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the astrologers, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, for to shew the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the interpretation of it.

4 Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in Syriacr, "O king, live for ever; tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation of it.

5 The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dung-hill.

6 But if ye shew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: therefore shew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered again and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream; and we will shew the interpretation of it.

8 The king answered and said, I know of certainty that ye would gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time he changed; therefore shew me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof.

10 The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that asked such things at any magician, or astrologer, or Chaldean.

11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

13 And the decree went forth that the wise men should be slain; and they sought Daniel and his fellows to be slain.

14 Then Daniel answered with counsel and wisdom to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon:

15 He answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Why is the decree so hasty from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

16 Then Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions:

18 That they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret: that Daniel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

19 ¶ Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a night vision. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: "for wisdom and might are his:

21 And he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings; the giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding:

22 He revealeth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast made known unto me now what we 'desired of thee: for thou hast now made known unto us the king's matter.

24 ¶ Therefore, Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had ordained to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him; Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the captives of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation.

26 The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said. The secret which the king hath demanded cannot the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, the sooth-sayers, shew unto the king:

28 But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and maketh known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these:"

757
29 As for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: 30 and he that revealeth secrets maketh known to thee what shall come to pass.

31 "Thou, O king, sawest, and beheld a great image. This great image, whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the form thereof was terrible.

32 "This image's head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass, 33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou savest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors: and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 "This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king.

37 "Thou, O king, art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory.

38 "And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all. "Thou art this head of gold.

39 And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee, and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in pieces and bruise.

41 And whereas thou savest 'the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, the kingdom shall be divided: but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou savest the iron mixed with clay.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken.
43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixed with fiery clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men: but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

44 And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.

45 "Forasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof is sure.

46 "Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odours unto him.

47 The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that thy God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou didst reveal this secret.

48 Then the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governors over all the wise men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel requested of the king, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel sat in the gate of the king.

CHAPTER III.

2 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image, whose height was three cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governors, and the captains, the judges, the treasurers, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

3 Then the princes, the governors, and captains, the judges, the treasurers, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up: and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then a herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages, 18 But if not, be it known unto thee, 0 king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace one seven times more than it was wont to be heated.

20 And he commanded the most mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then these men were bound in their coats, their hosen, and their turbans, and their mantles, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore because the king’s commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his counselors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, 0 king.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt: and the form of the fourth is like the Son of God.

26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spake, and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 And the princes, governors, and captains, and the king’s counselors, being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was a hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Nebuchadnezzar spake, and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king’s word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God.

29 Therefore, I make a decree, That every people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill; because there is no other god that can deliver after this sort.
17 And whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, How the tree down, and destroy it; yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field in the grass of the earth.

18 This dream I King Nebuchadnezzar have seen. Now thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof. Forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able; for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, answered, and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth;

21 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation;

22 It is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong; for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 And the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, How the tree down, and destroy it; yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him;

24 This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king:
works are truth, and his ways judgment; and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

CHAPTER V.

BELSHAZZAR the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand.

2 Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, might drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, drank in them.

4 They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

5 ¶In the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the wall of the king's palace; and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the king's comeliness was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the joints of his loins were loosened, and his knees smote one against another.

7 The king cried aloud to bring in the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. And the king spake and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then came in all the king's wise men: but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was King Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his comeliness was changed in him, and his lords were astonied.

10 ¶Now, the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet-house: and the queen spake, and said, O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy comeliness be changed:

11 ¶There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him; whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father, made master of the magicians, astrologers, Chaldeans, and soothsayers:
CHAPTER VI.

INTERPRETETH THE WRITING.

12 "Forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, ||interpreting of dreams, and shewing of hard sentences, and ||dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king. And the king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Jews?

14 I have even heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 And now, the wise men, the astrologers, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing:

16 And I have heard of thee, that thou canst ||make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy ||rewards to another; yet will I read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the most high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour:

19 And for the majesty that he gave him, all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before him; whom he would he slew; and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he set up; and whom he would he put down.

20 But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened ||in pride, he was ||deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him:

21 And he was ||driven from the sons of men; and ||his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven; till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appointed over it whomsoever he will.

22 And thou, thy son, O Belteshazzar, ||hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this;

23 "But hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven, and his vessels, and have used his name to be cast to thee. And now, ||the king, ||make thy peace with thy God, and ||prosper.

24 And there was sent forth unto him one chief captain, and certain of his princes, and a certain host of the mighty men.

25 Then Daniel spoke and said with reverence before the king, ||Thou art a man of counsel, and dost excel in the knowledge of the Chaldeans.

26 Forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, ||interpreting of dreams, and shewing of hard sentences, and dissolving of doubts were found in thee.

27 Now therefore, ||let me read the writing unto the king, and give the interpretation.

28 Then said Daniel, ||Thou art a man of counsel, and dost excel in the knowledge of the Chaldeans.

29 And Daniel proceeded and spake before the king; I ||make my peace with my God:

30 And Daniel said, ||The interpretation of this vision belongeth to the king:

31 And Daniel the Median took the king's ||being about three score and two years old.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Daniel is made chief of the presidents. 4 They compass against him obtain an adjudgment decree. 10 Daniel accused of the breach thereof, is cast into the lions' den. 18 Daniel is saved. 21 His adversaries devoured. 23 and God magnified by a decree.

T pleased Darius to set over the kingdom a hundred and twenty princes, which should be over the whole kingdom;

And over these three presidents; of whom Daniel was first: that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage.

Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom; but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.

Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.

Then these presidents and princes assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever.

All the presidents of the kingdom, the governors, and the princes, the counsellors, and the captains, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm decree, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any God or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore Daniel signed the writing and the decree.

10 Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and his windows being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying and making supplication before his God.

12 Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's decree; Hast thou not signed a decree, that every man that shall ask a petition of any God or man within thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

15 Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, That no decree nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.

18 Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting; neither were instruments of music brought before him; and his sleep went from him.

19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel; Daniel, Servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live for ever.

22 My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God.

24 And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 Then King Darius wrote unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 I make a decree, That in every dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel; for he is the living God, and steadfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end.

27 He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

CHAPTER VII

1 Daniel’s vision of four beasts. 9 Of God’s kingdom. 15 The interpretation thereof.

The first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream, and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the matters.

2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea.

3 And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another.

4 The first was like a lion, and had eagle’s wings; I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it.
5 And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh.
6 After this, I beheld, and lo, another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it.
7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and strong, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns.
8 I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.
9 ¶ I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like a fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.
10 A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened.
11 I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.
12 As concerning the rest of the heavens, they had their dominion taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and time.
13 I saw in the night visions, and behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.
14 And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom, that which shall not be destroyed.
15 ¶ And I Daniel was grieved in my spirit in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me.
16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.
17 These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth.
18 But the saints of the Most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.
19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was diverse from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet;
20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spoke very great things, whose look was more stoute than his fellows.
21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;
22 Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High: and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.
23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.
24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them: and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.
25 And he shall speak great things against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.
26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion to consume, and to destroy it unto the end.
27 And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him.
28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

CHAPTER VIII.
1 Daniel's vision of the land and he-goat. 4 The two thousand and three hundred days of sacrifice. 11 Daniel's vision of the wild Ass. 12 Daniel's vision of the four beasts. 14 Daniel's vision of the city.
was at 'Shushan in the palace, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in a vision, and I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; so that no beasts might stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was considering, behold, a he-goat came from the west upon the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground; and the goat had two notable horns between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8 Therefore, the he-goat waxed very great: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and for it, came up four notable ones toward the four winds of heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the pleasant land.

10 And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and it cast down some of the host of heaven and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them.

11 Yea, he magnified himself even to the prince of the host, and by him the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.

12 And there was given him power, and riches, and glory, and honor, all nations, and kings shall serve him: for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not be destroyed.

13 Then I heard one saint speaking, and another saint said unto that certain saint which spake, How long shall the vision concerning the daily sacrifice and the transgression of desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot?

14 And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred [days]: then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.

15 And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, and had understood the meaning then beheld, there stood before me as the appearance of a man.
he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

9 "And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes: and I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments;

5 'We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments:

6 'Neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee.

8 O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 'To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him:

10 'Neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even by departing, that they might not obey thy voice; therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem.

13 'As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as at this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 'O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, O Lord, hear, lest anger and thy fury turn away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O Lord our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary, that is desolate, for the Lord's sake.

18 'O Lord my God, incline thine ear, and hear: open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive: O Lord, hearken and do; defer not, for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

20 'And while I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin, and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the Lord my God for the holy mountain of my God;

21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee skill and understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment came forth, and I am come to shew thee; for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter, and consider the vision.

24 Sevety weeks are determined upon thy people and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy.

25 'Know therefore and understand, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the Messiah the Prince shall be seven weeks, and threescore and two weeks: the street shall be built again, and the wall, even in fain greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright: for unto thee am I sent. And when he had spoken these words unto me, I stood trembling. 13 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chaste thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words. 14 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

26 And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself..."

15 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days: for yet the vision is for many days.

16 And when he had spoken these words unto me, I set my face toward the ground; and I became as one that is dumb.

17 And behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

18 For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, and there is breath left in me.

19 Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me.

20 And said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

21 Then said he, Knowest thou not what I am? and who am I? and there was none that held with me in these things, but Michael thy prince.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The overthrow of Persia by the king of Greece. 5 Leagues and confederacies between the kings of the south and of the north. 30 The invasion and tyranny of the Romans.

1 LO! I, in the first year of Darius the Mede, even I, stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and by his strength through his riches, he shall stir up all against the realm of Greece.

3 And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and "do according to his will."

4 And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; and not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion which he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others besides those.

5 ¶ And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of years they shall join themselves together; for the king's daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement; but she shall not retain the power of the arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in these times.

7 But out of a branch of her roots shall stand up one that shall stand toward the kingdom of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail:

8 And shall also carry captives into Egypt their gods, with their princes, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold; and he shall continue more years than the king of the north.

9 So the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

10 But his sons shall stand up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces; and one shall certainly come, and overflow, and pass through; then shall he return, and be stirred up, even to his fortress.

11 And the king of the south shall be moved with cholera, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude; but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up; and he shall cast down many ten thousands; but he shall not be strengthened by it.

13 For the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come after certain years with a great army and with much riches.

14 And in those times there shall stand many up stand against the king of the south; also all the robbers of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision; but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take the most fenced cities; and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither this chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him; and he shall stand in the glorious land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 And he shall also set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones with him; thus shall he do: and he shall give him of the daughter of women, corrupting her: but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many: but a prince for his own behove shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease; without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon him.

19 Then he shall turn his face toward the fort of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.

20 Then shall stand up [in his estate] a prince, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceable, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

21 ¶ And with the arms of a flood shall they be overcome before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the prince of the covenant.

22 And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully; for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.

23 He shall enter peaceably even upon the fittest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; he shall scatter among them the prey, and spoil, and riches; yea, and he shall forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.

24 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.

25 Yea, they that fed of the portion of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow; and many shall fall down slain.

26 And both these kings' hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper: for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

27 Then shall he return into his land with great riches; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.

28 At the time appointed he shall return, and come toward the south; but it shall not be as the former, nor as the latter.
And shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall place the abomination that maketh desolate.

And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he corrupt by flatteries: but the people that do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits.

And they that understand among the people shall instruct many; yet they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil, many days.

And now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help; but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.

And some of them of understanding shall fall, to try them, and to purge, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: because it is yet for a time appointed.

And the king shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished: for that that is determined shall be done.

Neither shall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all.

But in his estate shall he honour the god of forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things.

Thus shall he do in the most strong hold with a strange god, whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for gain.

And at the time of the end the king of the south shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass over.

He shall enter also into the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall escape out of his hand, even Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.

He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.

But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him: therefore he shall go forth with great fury to destroy, and utterly to make away many.

And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace between the seas in the glorious holy mountain: yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Michael shall deliver Israel from their troubles. 5 Daniel is informed of the times.

And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as was never since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.

And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament: and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever.

But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

Then I Daniel looked, and beheld, there stood other two, the one on this side of the bank of the river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river.

And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever, that it shall be for a time, times, and half a time; and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.
8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O Lord, what shall be the end of these things? 9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end. 10 "Many shall be purified, and made white, and tried; but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand.

CHAPTER I.

I. RESTORATION OF ISRAEL AND JUDAH.

11 And from the time 'that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and 'the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days. 12 Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. 13 But 'go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the days.

HOSEA.

CHAPTER I.

1 Hosea, to show God's judgment for spiritual whoredom, taketh Gomer, 4 and hath for her Jezreel, 6 Lo-ruhamah, 5 and Lo-ammi. 2 The beginning of the word of the Lord by Hosea. And the Lord said to Hosea, 'Go, take unto thee a wife of whomodous and children of whores: for the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the Lord. 3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; which conceived, and bare him a son. 4 And the Lord said unto him, Call his name Lo-ruhamah; for yet a little while, and I will have mercy upon Jezreel. 5 And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel. 6 And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And God said unto him, Call her name Lo-ammi: for 'I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel: but I will utterly take them away. 7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the Lord their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen. 8 Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a son. 9 Then said God, Call his name Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

CHAPTER II.

1 The abhorrence of the people. 2 God's judgments against them. 3 His promises of reconciliation with them.

1 Ye unto your brethren, || Lo-ruhamah, and to your sisters, || Lo-ammi. 2 Plead with your mother, plead; for 'she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoresoms out of her sight, and her adulteries from between her breasts; 3 Lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst. 4 And I will not have mercy upon her children; for 'they be the children of whoresoms. 5 For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my drink. 6 Therefore, behold, || I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and make a wall, that she shall not find her paths.

7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband: for then was it better with me than now.

8 For she did not know that I gave her corn, and wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, which they prepared for Baal.

9 Therefore will I return, and take away my corn in the time thereof, and my wine and my oil; and will recover my wool and my flax given to cover her nakedness.

10 And she will discover her wickedness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

12 And I will destroy her vines and her fig-trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

13 And I will visit upon her the days of Baalim, wherein she burned incense to them, and she decked herself with her ear-rings and her jewels, and she went after other lovers, and forgot me, said the Lord.

14 Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak comfortably unto her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for a door of hope; and she shall sing there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16 And it shall be at that day, saith the Lord, that thou shalt call me Ishi; and shalt call me no more Baal.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall more be remembered by their name.

18 And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground; and I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the earth, and will make them to lie down safely.

19 And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in loving-kindness, and in mercies.

20 I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness; and thou shalt know the Lord.
5 Therefore shall thou fall "in the day, and the prophet also shall fall with thee in the night; and I will destroy thy mother.

6 ¶ My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 ¶ As they were increased, so they sinned against me: therefore will I change their glory into shame.

8 They eat up the sin of my people, and they set their heart on their iniquity.

9 And there shall be, like people, like priest; and I will punish them for their ways, and reaward them their doings.

10 For they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase; because they have left off to take heed to the Loard.

11 Whoredom and wine and new wine take away the heart.

12 ¶ My people ask counsel at their stocks, and their staff declare unto them: for the spirit of whoredoms hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God.

13 ¶ They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hils, under oaks and poplarst and elms, because the shadow thereof is good; therefore your daughters shall commit whoredom, and your spouses shall commit adultery.

14 ¶ I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your spouses when they commit adultery: for themselves are sperated with whores, and they sacrifice with harlots: therefore the people that doth not understand shall be fall.

15 ¶ Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Judah offend; and come not ye unto Gilgal, neither go ye up to Beth-aven, 16 For Israel slideth back as a backsliding heifer; now the Lord will feed them as a lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim is joined to idols: let him alone.

18 Their drink is sour; they have committed whoredom continually: her rulers with shame do love. Give ye.

19 ¶ The wind hath bound her up in her wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

CHAPTER V.

1 Hear ye this, O priests; and hearken, ye house of Israel; and give ye ear, O house of the king; for judgment is toward you, because ye have been a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.

2 And the revolters are profound to make slaughter, though I have been a rebuke of them all.

3 ¶ I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me; for now, O Ephraim, thou art ensnared whoredom, and Israel is defiled,

4 ¶ They will not frame their doings to turn unto the Lord; for the spirit of whoredoms is in the midst of them, and they have not known the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel doth testify to his face; therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity; Judah also shall fall with them.

6 ¶ They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the Lord; but they shall not find him; he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have dealt treacherously against the Lord; for they have begotten strange children; now shall a month devour them with their portions.

8 ¶ Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: cry aloud at Beth-aven, after thee, O Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke; among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be.

10 The princes of Judah were like them that removed the bound: therefore I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in judgment, because he willingly walked after the commandment.

12 Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Judah as a rottenness.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim to the Assyrian, and sent unto King Jareb; yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 ¶ For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah:

15 ¶ I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge my offence, and seek my face; in their affliction they will seek me early.
CHAPTER VI.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 2 A complaint of their unawakenedness and impiety.

OME, and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and will he heal us: he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.

2 After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.

3 Then shall we know, if we will follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

4 ¶ O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have we heaved them by the prophets: I have slain them by the words of my mouth: and they judge themselves as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice: and the knowledge of God more than burnt-offerings.

7 But they like men have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 Gilgal is a city of them that work iniquity, and is polluted with blood.

9 And as troops of robbers wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way by their consent: for they commit lewdness.

10 I have seen a horrible thing in the house of Israel: there is the whoredom of Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11 Also, O Judah, he hath set a harvest for thee, when I returned the captivity of my people.

CHAPTER VII.

1 A reproof of manifold sins. 2 God's wrath against them for their iniquity.

HEN I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria: for they commit falsehood; and the thief cometh in, and the troop of robbers spoileth without.

2 And they consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickedness: now their own doings have beset them about; they are before my face.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies.

4 ¶ They are all adulterers, as an oven heated by the baker. ¶ who ceaseeth from raising after he hath kneaded the dough, until it be leavened.

5 In the day of our king the princes have made him sick with bottles of wine; he stretched out his hand with scorners.

6 For they have made ready their heat like an oven, while they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot, as an oven, and have devoured their judgments; all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me;

8 Ephraim, be thine own to the people; Ephraim is a cake not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are here and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.

10 And the proud of Israel testifieth to his face: and they do not return to the LORD their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 ¶ Ephraim also is like a silly dove without heart: they call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.

12 When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them: I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven; I will chastiase them, as their congregation hath heard.

13 Wo unto them! for they have fled from me: destruction unto them! because they have transgressed against me: though I have redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 ¶ And they have not cried unto me with their heart, when they bowled upon their beds: they assemble themselves for corn and wine, and they rebel against me.

15 Though I have had, and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me.

16 ¶ They return not to the Most High: they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

CHAPTER VIII.

1, 2 Destruction is determined for their iniquity, 5 and plottery.

ET the trumpet to thy mouth. He shall come as an eagle against the house of the LORD, because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law.

2 ¶ Israel shall cry unto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.
4 They have set up kings, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not; of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off.

5 Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast thee off; mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocency?

6 For from Israel went it also: the workman made it; therefore is it not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no stalk; the bud shall yield no meal: if so be it yield, the strangers shall swallow it up.

8 Israel is swallowed up: now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone up to Assyria, a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hasted to Egypt, and he went up to Assyria.

10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall sorrow a little for the burden of the king of princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sin, altars shall be unto him to sin.

12 I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it: but the Lord accepteth them not; now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: they shall return to Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and buildeth temples; and Judah hath multiplied cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

CHAPTER IX.

The distress and captivity of Israel for their sins and idolatry.

EJOICE, not, O Israel, for joy, as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved a reward upon every corn-floor.

2 The floor and the wine-press shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in the Lord's land; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean things in Assyria.

4 They shall not offer wine-offerings to the Lord, neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread for their soul shall not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What will ye do in the solemn day, and in the day of the fast of the Lord?

6 For lo, they are gone because of destruction: Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: the pleasant places for their silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompense are come: Israel shall know it: the prophet is a fool, the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The watchman of Ephraim was with my God: but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred in the house of his God.

9 They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of Gibeon; therefore will he remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw her fathers as the first ripe in the fig-tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-peor, and separated themselves among that shame; and their abominations were according as they loved.

11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird from the birth, and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, that there shall not be a man left: yea, wo also to them when I depart from them!

13 Ephraim, as I saw Tyrus, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 Give them, O Lord, what wilt thou give? give them a miserable womb and dry breasts.

15 All their wickedness is in Gilgal: for there I hated them: for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: all their princes are revolters.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even the beloved fruit of their womb.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

CHAPTER X.

Israel is reproved and threatened for their hypocrisy and idolatry.

1 ISRAEL is a vain empty vine, he bringeth forth fruit unto himself: according to the multitude of his fruit he hath increased the alt-
IMPIETY

12. Their heart is divided; now shall they be found guilty: he shall break down their altars, he shall spoil their images.

5 For now they shall say, We have no king, because we feared not the Lord; what then should a king do to us!

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsely in making a covenant: thus judgment sprangeth up as hemlock in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall fear because of the calves of Beth-aven; for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the priests thereof that rejoiced on it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also carried unto Assyria, for a present to a king Jareb: Ephraim shall remember shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7 As for Samaria, her king is cut off as the foam upon the water.

8 The high places also of Aven, the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up upon their altars; and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the days of Gibeah: there they stood; the battle in Gibeah against the children of iniquity did not overtake them.

10 It is in my desire that I should chastise them; and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall bind themselves in their two furrows.

11 And Ephraim is as a heifer that is触动, and loveth to tread out the corn; but I passed over upon her fair neck: I will make Ephraim to ride; Judah shall plough, and Jacob shall break his yokes.

12 Sow yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.

13 Ye have ploughed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy forefortresses be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

15 So shall Beth-el do unto you because of thy great wickedness: in the morning shall the king of Israel utterly be cut off.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The ingratitude of Israel unto God for his benefits. 2 His judgments. 3 God's mercy toward them.

THEN Israel was a child; then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt.

2 And I called them, and they went from them: they sacrificed unto Baalim, and burned incense to graven images.

3 I taught Ephraim also to go, taking them by their arms; but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat upon them.

5 He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his king, because they refused to return.

6 And the sword shall abide on his cities, and shall consume his branches, and devour them, because of their own counsels.

7 And my people are bent to backsliding from me: though they called them to the Most High, none at all would exalt him.

8 How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I set thee as Zebon? mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the Lord: he shall roar as a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall tremble from the west.

11 They shall tremble as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will place them in their houses, saith the Lord.

12 Ephraim compasseth me with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the saints.

CHAPTER XII.

1 A reproof of Ephraim, Judah, and Jacob. 2 By former favours he was exhorted to repentance. 3 Ephraim's sins provoke God.

PHRAIM feedeth on wind, and followeth after the east wind: he dieth increaseth lies and desolation; and they do make a covenant with the Assyrians, and 'oil is carried into Egypt.
his ways: according to his doings will he recompense him.

3 And he took his brother by the heel in the womb, and by his strength he had power with God:

4 Yea, he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication unto him: he found him in Bethel, and there he spake with us;

5 Even the Lord God of hosts; the Lord is his memorial.

6 Therefore, turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and wait on thy God continually.

7 And he is a merchant, the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to oppress.

8 And Ephraim said, "Yet I am become rich, I have found me out substance; I have found the balance of deceit in the hand of Moab, and the weight thereof is Samaria."

9 And I that am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, will yet make thee to dwell in tabernacles, as in the days of the solemn feasts.

10 I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, by the ministry of the prophets.

11 Is there iniquity in Gilead? surely they are vanity: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilgal; yea, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the fields.

12 And Jacob fled into the country of Syria, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.

13 And by a prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved.

14 Ephraim provoked him to anger most bitterly; therefore shall he leave his blood upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord return upon him.

CHAPTER XIII.

When Ephraim spake trembling, he exclaimed himself in Israel; but when he offended in Baal, he died.

2 And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, and idols according to their own understanding, all of it the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let the men that sacrifice kiss the calves.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the early dew that passeth away, as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.
4 Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me: for there is no saviour beside me.
5 I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of drought.
6 According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me.
7 Therefore will I be unto them as a lion: as a leopard by the way will I observe them.
8 I will meet them as a bear is met: and will rend the caul of their heart, and there will I devour them like a lion: the wild beast shall tear them.
9 O Israel, thou hast destroyed thyself; but in me is thine help.
10 I will be thy king: where is any other that may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges of whom thou saidst, Give me a king and princes?
11 I gave thee a king in mine anger, and took him away in mine wrath.
12 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up: his sin is hid.
13 The sorrows of a travailing woman shall come upon him: he is an unwise son; for he should not stay long in the place of the breaking forth of children.
14 I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plague, O grave, I will be thy destruction: repentance shall be hid from mine eyes.
15 Though he be fruitful among his brethren, an east wind shall come, the wind of the Lord shall come up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: he shall spoil the treasure of all pleasant vessels.
16 Samaria shall become desolate; for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword: their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their women with child shall be ripped up.

CHAPTER XIV.
1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 A promise of God's blessing.

Israel, return unto the Lord thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.
2 Take with you words, and turn to the Lord: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and receive us grariously: so will we render the calves of our lips.
3 Though Assyria shall not save us; we will not ride upon horses: neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy.
4 I will heal their backsliding: I will love thee: for mine anger is turned away from him.
5 I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall grow as the lily, and as fast forth his roots as Lebanon.
6 His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive-tree, and his smell as Lebanon.
7 They that dwell under his shadow shall return: they shall revive as the corn, and grow as the vine: the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

Ephraim shall say, What have I to do any more with idols? I have heard him, and observed him: I am like a green fir-tree. From me is thy fruit found.
9 Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the Lord are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall fall therein.
CHAPTER I.

1 THE word of the Lord that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

1 Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land.
2 Hath this been in your days, or even in the days of your fathers?

3 Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.

4 That which the Palmer-worm hath left the locust eat; and that which the locust hath left the canker-worm eat; and that which the canker-worm hath left the caterpillar eat.

5 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine; for it is cut off from your mouth.

6 For a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number, whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the cheek teeth of a great lion.

7 He hath laid my vine waste, and my fig-tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away; the branches thereof are made white.

8 Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth.

9 The meat-offering and the drink-offering is cut off from the house of the Lord; the priests, the Lord's ministers, mourn.

10 The field is wasted, the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted: the new wine is dried up, the oil languisheth.

11 Be ashamed, O ye husbandmen; howl, O ye vine-dressers, for the wheat and for the barley; because the harvest of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried up, and the fig-tree languisheth; the pomegranate-tree, the palm-tree also, and the apple-tree, even all the trees of the field, are withered; because joy is withered away from the sons of men.

13 Gird yourselves, and lament, ye priests; howl, ye ministers of the altar: come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God:

14 Sanctify ye a fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the elders and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the Lord your God, and cry unto the Lord.

15 Alas for the day! for the day of the Lord is at hand, and as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladness from the house of our God?

17 The °seed is rotten under their clods, the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered.

18 How do °the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.

19 O Lord, °to thee will I cry: for °the fire hath devoured the °pastures of the wilderness, and °the flame hath burned all the trees of the field.

20 The beasts of the field cry also unto thee: for °the rivers of waters are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

CHAPTER II.

1 He sheweth unto Zion the torridness of God's judgment. 2 He exhorted to repentance, 15 presented a fast, 19 promised a blessing thereon. 31 He comforteth Zion with present, 28 and future blessings.

LOW ye °the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for °the day of the Lord cometh, for it is nigh at hand.

2 °A day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness, as the morning spread upon the mountains: °a great people and °a strong; °there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after it, even to the years °of many generations.

3 °A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: °the land is as the garden of Eden before them, °and behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and nothing shall escape them.

4 °The appearance of °them °is °as the appearance of °horses; °and °as °horsemen, so shall they run.

5 °Like the noise of chariots on the tops of mountains shall they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battle-array.

6 Before their face the people shall be much pained: all faces shall gather blackness.

7 They shall run like mighty men; they shall climb the wall like men of war; and they shall march every one on his ways, and they shall not break their ranks:

8 Neither shall one thrust another; they shall walk every one in his path: and when they fall upon the sword, they shall not be wounded.

9 They shall run to and fro in the city; they shall run upon the wall, they shall climb up upon the houses; they shall enter in at the windows like a thief.

10 The earth shall quake before them; the heavens shall tremble: the sun and the moon shall be dark, and the stars shall withdraw their shining:

11 And the Lord shall utter his voice before his army: for his camp is very great: for he is strong that executeth his word: for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible; and who can abide it!

12 Therefore also now, saith the Lord, Turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning:

13 And rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.

14 Who knoweth if he will return and repent, and leave a blessing behind him; even a meat-offering and a drink-offering unto the Lord your God!

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly:

16 Gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.

17 Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lord, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?

18 Then will the Lord be jealous for his land, and pity his people.

19 Yea, the Lord will answer and say unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen:

20 But I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, with his face toward the cast sea, and his hinder part toward the utmost sea; and his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because the hath done great things.

21 Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice: for the Lord will do great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field: for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig-tree and the vine do yield their strength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the Lord your God: for he hath given you ||the former rain moderately, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month.

24 And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the fatness shall overflow with wine and oil.

25 And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great army which I sent among you.

26 And ye shall eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of the Lord your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and your people shall never be ashamed.

27 And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else: and your people shall never be ashamed.

28 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

29 And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my Spirit.

30 And I will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and the terrible day of the Lord come.

32 And it shall come to pass, that ||whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be delivered: for in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall he be deliverance, as the Lord hath said, and in the remnant whom the Lord shall call.

CHAPTER III.

1 God's judgments against the enemies of his people. 9 God will be known in his judgment. 18 His blessing upon the church.

1 FOR behold, in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,

2 I will also gather all nations, and will
3 And they have cast lots for my people; and have given a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink.

4 Yea, and what have ye to do with me, O Tyre, and Zidon, and all the coasts of Palestine? & will ye render me a recompense? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompense upon your own head;

5 Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things.

6 The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border.

7 Behold, I will raise them out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompense upon your own head:

8 And I will sell your sons and your daughters to the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the Sabians, to a people far off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 ¶ Proclaim ye this among the Gentiles; Prepare war, wake up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near; let them come up:

10 Beat your plough-shares into swords, and your pruning-hooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong.

11 Assemble yourselves, and come, all ye heathen, and gather yourselves together round about: thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O Lord.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the heathen round about.

13 ¶ Put ye in the sickle, for the harvest is ripe: come, get you down; for the press is full, the vats overflow; for their wickedness is great.

14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision: for the day of the Lord is near in the valley of decision.

15 The sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.

16 The Lord also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem: and the heavens and the earth shall shake: that the Lord will be as threefold holy, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no stranger pass through her any more.

18 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall flow with waters, and a fountain shall come forth of the house of the Lord, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

19 ¶ Egypt shall be a desolation, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the violence against the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Judah shall dwell for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I will cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed: ¶ for the Lord dwelleth in Zion.
I AMOS.

CHAPTER I.

1 THE words of Amos, who was among the herders and flocks; which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

2 And he said, The Lord roareth from Zion, and uttereth his voice from Jerusalem; and the habitations of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron:

4 But I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, which shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad.

5 I will break also the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the plain of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of Eden: and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the Lord.

6 ¶ Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Gaza, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they carried away captive the whole captivity, to deliver them up to Edom:

7 But I will send a fire upon Gaza, which shall devour the palaces thereof:

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon, and I will turn mine hand against Ekron: and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord Goan.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Tyre, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they delivered up the whole captivity to Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant:

10 But I will send a fire upon the wall of Tyre, which shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever:

12 But I will send a fire upon Teman, which shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have ripped up the women with child, of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border:

14 But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind:

15 And their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER II.

1 God's wrath against Moab, 4 upon Judah, 6 and upon Israel. 9 God complaineth of their unthankfulness.

HUS saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Moab, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime:

2 But I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kirioth: and Moab shall die with unned, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet:

3 And I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and shall slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 ¶ Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have despised the Law of the Lord, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies caused them to err, after the which their fathers have walked:

5 But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.
the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek: *and a man and his father will go in unto the same *maid, *to profane my holy name:

8 And they lay themselves down upon clothes laid to pledge by every altar, and they drink the wine of the condemned in the house of their god.

9 ¶ Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedar, and he was strong as the oaks: yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

10 Also I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you forty years through the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for Nazarites, Is it not even this, O ye children of Israel! saith the Lord.

12 But ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophesy not.

13 ¶ Behold, [I am pressed under you, as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaves.

14 Therefore the flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty deliver himself.

15 Neither shall he that handleth the bow; and he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself: neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver himself.

16 And he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER III.

1 The necessity of God’s judgment against Israel. 2 The publication of it, with the causes thereof.

Hear this word that the Lord hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 ¶ You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore will I punish you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walk together, except they be agreed?

4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing?

5 Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is for him? shall one take up a snare from the earth, and have taken nothing at all?

6 Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people it not be afraid? shall there be evil in a city? and the Lord hath not done it?

7 Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets.

8 ¶ The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord God hath spoken, who can but prophesy?

9 ¶ Publish in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the oppressions in the midst thereof.

10 For they know not to do right, saith the Lord, who store up violence and oppression in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; An adversary there shall be even round about the land: and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled.

12 Thus saith the Lord; As the shepherd taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus in a couch.

13 Hear ye, and testify in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord God, of the God of hosts, 14 That, in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also visit the altars of Beth-el: and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite the winter-house with the summer-house; and the houses of ivory shall perish, and the great houses shall have an end, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He repugeneth Israel for oppression, 2 for idolatry, 3 and for their iniquities.

Hear this word, ye *kine of Bashan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppress the people, which crush the needy, which say to their masters, Bring, and let us drink.

2 ¶ The Lord God hath sworn by his holiness, that in, the days shall come upon you, that he will take you away with hooks, and your posterity with fish-hooks.

3 And ye shall go out at the breaches, every one at that which is before him: and ye shall cast them into the palace, saith the Lord.

4 ¶ Come to Beth-el and transgress; at Gilgal multiply transgression; and bring your sacrifices every morning, and your tithes after three years:

S13
5 And offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving with leaven, and proclaim and publish the free-offerings: for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord God.

6 ¶ And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

7 And also I have withheld the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city, to drink water: but they were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

9 And I also have smitten you with blastings and mildew: when your gardens and your vineyards and your olive-trees increased, the palmer-worm devoured them: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

10 I have sent among you the pestilence, after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have taken away your horses; and I have made the stink of your camps to come up unto your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

11 Therefore, thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

12 Therefore, thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

13 For lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, he maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The Lord, The God of hosts, is his name.

CHAPTER V.

A lamentation for Israel. 4 An exhortation to repentance. 21 God receiveth their hypocritical service.

1 HEAR ye this word which I take up against you, even a lamentation, O house of Israel.

2 The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more rise: she is forsaken upon her land; there is none to raise her up.

3 For thus saith the Lord God: The city that went out by a thousand shall leave a hundred, and that which went forth by a hundred shall leave ten, to the house of Israel.

4 ¶ For thus saith the Lord unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live:

5 But seek not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and pass not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Bethel shall come to naught.

6 Seek the Lord, and ye shall live; lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.

7 Ye who turn judgment to wormwood, and leave off righteousness in the earth,

8 Seek him that maketh the seven stars and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night: that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth:

9 The Lord is his name:

10 That strengtheneth the spoiled against the strong, so that the spoiled shall come against the fortress.

11 They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly.

12 Forasmuch, therefore, as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.

13 For I know your manifold transgressions and your mighty sins: they afflict the just, they take a bribe, and they turn aside the poor in the gate from their right.

14 Therefore, the prudent shall keep silence in that time; for it is an evil time.

15 Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken.

16 I hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

17 Therefore, the Lord, the God of hosts, saith thus: Wailing shall be in all streets: and they shall say in all highways, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing.

18 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for there will pass through thee, saith the Lord.

19 Wo unto you that desire the day of the Lord! to what end is it for you? the day of the Lord is darkness, and not light.

20 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

21 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?
11 I hate, I despise your feast-days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies.
12 Though you offer me burnt-offerings and your meat-offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your fat beasts.
13 Take them from me away from the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.
14 But let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.
15 Have you offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?
16 But you have borne the tabernacle of your Moloch and Chinn your images, the star of your god, which you made to yourselves.
17 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, whose name is the God of hosts.

CHAPTER VI.
1 The wantonness of Israel, 2 shall be punished with desolation, 3 and their mourningness.
2 O to them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, which are named chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel came!
3 Pass ye unto Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to Hamath the great; then go down to Gath of the Philistines; be they better than these kingdoms? or their border greater than your border?
4 Ye that put far away the evil day, 5 and cause the seat of violence to come near;
5 That lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall;
6 That drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.
7 Therefore, now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the banquet of them that stretched themselves shall be removed.
8 The Lord God hath sworn by himself, saying, The Lord God of hosts; I abhor the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces; therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein.
9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.
10 And a man's uncle shall take him up, and he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No. Then shall he say, 'Hold thy tongue: for we may not make mention of the name of the Lord.
11 For behold, the Lord commanded, 12 and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little house with clouts.
12 Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plough there with oxen? for he has turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into the headlock;
13 Ye which rejoice in a thing of naught, which say, Have we not taken to us as horns by our own strength?
14 But behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the entering in of Hamath unto the river of the wilderness.

CHAPTER VII.
1 The judgments of the grasshoppers, 2 and of the fire, are directed by the pattern of Amos. 3 By the wall of a plumb-line is signified the rejection of Israel, by Amaziah complaineth of Amos. 4 Amos sheweth his calling, 5 and Amaziah's judgment.
6 HUS hath the Lord God shewed unto me; and behold, he formed grasshoppers in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowing.
7 And it came to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord God, forgive, I beseech thee; 8 by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.
8 The Lord repeated for this: It shall not be, said the Lord.
9 Thus hath the Lord God shewed unto me; and behold, the Lord God called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.
10 Then said I, O Lord God, cease, I beseech thee; 9 by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.
11 The Lord repeated for this: This also shall not be, said the Lord God.
12 Thus he shewed me; and behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by a plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand.
13 And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumb-line. Then said the Lord, Behold, 14 I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel: I will not again pass by them any more:
14 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste: and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.
10 ¶ Then Amaziah the priest of Beth-­el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of their own land.

12 Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there: for thou hast not prophesied no more to me for it is the king’s \\[\text{chapel}, and it is the }

13 But prophesy not again any more at Beth-­el: for it is the king’s \\[\text{chapel}, and it is the }

14 ¶ Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet’s \\[\text{son}; but I was a herdman, and a gatherer of \\[\text{sit}cary}

15 And the Lord took me as I followed the flock, and the Lord said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.

16 ¶ Now, therefore, hear thou the word of the Lord: Thou sayest, Prophesy not against Israel, and \\[\text{drop not thy word}

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord: Thy wife shall be a harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou shalt die in a polluted land: and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 By a basket of summer fruit is shewed the propinquity of Israel’s end. 4 Oppression is reproved. 11 A famine of the word threat­en­ed.

1 THUS hath the Lord God shewed unto me: and behold a basket of summer fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit.

3 And the songs of the temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: there shall be many dead bodies in every place; they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 ¶ Hear this, O ye that swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail.

5 Saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, making

816
5 And the Lord God of hosts is he that toucheth the land, and it shall melt, and all that dwell therein shall mourn: and it shall rise up wholly like a flood; and shall be drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

6 It is he that buildeth his stories in the heaven, and hath founded his troop in the earth; he that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: 'The Lord is his name.'

7 Are ye not as children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the Lord. Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt! and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?

8 Behold, 'the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord.'

9 For lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth.

10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, 'which say, The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us.'

11 ¶ In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old;

12 That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen which are called by my name, saith the Lord that doeth this.

13 Behold, 'the days come, saith the Lord, that the ploughman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that treadeth the press: and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.'

14 ¶ And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel, and 'they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them'; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and 'they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God.'

10 O B A D I A H.

1 THE vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord God concerning Edom: 'We have heard a rumour from the Lord, and an ambassador is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 ¶ The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high; 'that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?'

4 ¶ Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars,
Jacob, shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever.

11 In the day that thou didst prescribed for the sea, and is cast away with hastiness into the sea, and is drowned in the midst of the sea. And they said, {s}"He is gone down into the sea and is drowned, and is broken into pieces; and that which was morning, and shall be no more seen. Therefore was the name of him called Jonah. And the Lord spake unto him, saying, Go into the sea of Joppa, and cast forth thy burden, and he shall be broken into pieces, and thou shalt be delivered out of thine enemies. And Jonah went down to Joppa, and cast forth his burden, and he was broken into pieces. And the Lord said unto him, Go into the ship of Joppa, and cast forth thy burden, and he shall be broken into pieces, and thou shalt be delivered out of thine enemies. And Jonah went down to Joppa, and cast forth his burden, and he was broken into pieces.
9 And he said unto them, I am a Hebrew; and I fear || the Lord, the God of heaven, who hath made the sea and the dry land.
10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had told them.
11 ¶ Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea || may be calm unto us? for the sea || is wroth, and was tempestuous.
12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.
13 Nevertheless the men rowed hard to bring it to the land; but they could not: for the sea wroth, and was tempestuous against them.
14 Wherefore they cried unto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.
15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea; and the sea || ceased from her raging.
16 ¶ Then the men feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice unto the Lord, and made vows.
17 ¶ Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah. And Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

CHAPTER II.
1 The prayer of Jonah. 10 He is delivered from the fish.
2 And Jonah prayed unto the Lord his God out of the fish's belly.
3 And said, I || cried by reason of mine affliction unto the Lord, and he heard me; out of the belly of || he || cried I, and thou heardest my voice.
4 ¶ Then I said, I am cast out of thy sight; yet will I look again toward thy holy temple.
5 The waters compassed me about, even to the soul: the depth closed me round about, the weeds were wrapped about my head.
6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars was about me for ever; yet hast thou brought up my life from || corruption, O Lord my God.
7 When my soul fainted within me I remembered the Lord: and my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.

8 They that observe lying vanities, forsake their own mercy.

9 But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving: I will pay that that I have vowed. "Salvation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lord spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

CHAPTER III.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto Jonah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the Lord. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three days' journey.

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.

5 And the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

6 For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.

7 "And he caused it to be proclaimed and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water:

8 But let man and beast covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

9 "Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not ?

10 "And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil that he had said that he would do unto them: and he did it not.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Jonah, repenting at God's mercy, is reproved by the type of a gourd.

2 And he prayed unto the Lord, and said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country ? There-
Micah: Chapter 1

1. The word of the Lord that came to Micah the Morashite, in the days of Jothan, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, the kings of Judah, which saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2. "Hearken, O earth; hearken, O Japheth; hearken, ye sons of strange countries. What is the wond’ring of Jacob? Is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem?"

3. Therefore, I will make Samaria as a heap of the field, and as plantings of a vineyard; and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof.

4. And all the brave images thereof shall be broken to pieces, and all the harks thereof shall be burned with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I lay desolate; for she gathered it of the hire of a harlot, and they shall return to the hire of a harlot.

5. Therefore, I will wail and howl; I will go stripped and naked; I will make a wailing like the dragons, and mourning as the owls.

6. For her wound is incurable, for it is come unto Judah; he is come into the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.

7. Declare ye it not at Gath, Woe be not at all, in the house of Apherah roll thyself in the dust.

8. Pass ye away, inhabitant of Saphir, having thy shame naked; the inhabitant of Zaanam came not forth in the mourning of Beth-ezel; he shall receive of you his standing.
LAMENTATION.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth [a]waited carefully for good: but evil came down from the Lord unto the gate of Jerusalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachish, bind the chariot to the swift beast: [b]she is the beginning of the sin to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shall thou [g]give presents to Moresheth-gath: the houses of ||[d]Achzib shall be a lie to the kings of Israel.

15 Yet wilt I bring an heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Maresiah: [e]he shall come unto Adullam the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee bald, and poll thee for thy delicate children; enlarge thy baldness as the eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

CHAPTER II.

1 Against oppression. 2 A Lamentation. 3 A reproof of iniquity and idolatry. 4 A promise of restoring Jacob.

O to them that devise iniquity, and work evil upon their beds: when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand.

2 And they covet fields, and take them by violence; and houses, and take them away: so they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Be behold, against this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks; neither shall ye go haughtily: [f]for this time is evil.

4 ¶ In that day shall one take up a parable against you, and [g]lament with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: [i]he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me? [b]turning away he hath divided our fields.

5 Therefore, thou shalt have none that shall cast a cord by lot in the congregation of the Lord.

6 ¶ Prophesy ye not, say they to them that prophesy: they shall not prophesy, that they shall not take shame.

7 ¶ O thou that art named The house of Jacob, is the Spirit of the Lord [i]straitened? are these his doings? do not my words do good to him that walketh [j]prightfully?

8 Even [e]fol low my people is risen up as an enemy: ye pull off the robe [c]with the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war.

9 The women of my people cast out from their pleasant houses; from their children have ye taken away my glory for ever.

10 Arise ye, and depart: for this is not your rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you, even with a sore destruction.

11 If a man [i]walking in the spirit and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 ¶ If I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah, as the flock in the midst of their fold: they shall be made great by reason of the multitude of men.

13 The breaker is come up before them: they have broken up, and have passed through the gate, and are gone out by it: and their king shall pass before them, and the Lord on the head of them.

CHAPTER III.

1 The cruelty of the princes. 2 The falsehood of the prophets. 3 The security of them both.

ND I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel: [b]Is it not for you to know judgment?

2 Who hate the good, and love the evil; who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones:

3 Who also [c]eat the flesh of my people, and lay their skin from off them; and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.

4 Then [h]shall they cry unto the Lord, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themselves ill in their doings.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that make my people err, that [g]bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace; and [f]the that put their hands into their mouths, they even prepare war against him:

6 [b]Therefore, night shall be unto you, that ye shall not have a vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine: and the sun shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the diviners confounded: yea, they shall all cover their faces; for there is no answer of God.

8 ¶ But truly I am full of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of judgment, and of might; to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity.
10 "They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

11 'The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: 'yet will they lean upon the Lord, and say, 'Is not the Lord among us? none evil can come upon us.

12 Therefore, shall Zion for your sake be ploughed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountains of the house as the high places of the forest.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The glory, 3 peace, 8 kingdom, 11 and victory of the church.

But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow into it.

2 And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

3 And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plough-shares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig-tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For 'all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, said the Lord, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted;

7 And I will make her that halteth a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the Lord shall reign over them in Mount Zion from henceforth, even for ever.

8 And thou, O tower of the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion; the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem.

9 Now why dost thou cry out alone? is there no king in thee? is thy counsellor perished? for 'pangs have taken thee as a woman in travail.

10 Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Babylon; there shall thou be delivered: there the Lord shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 "Now also many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye look upon Zion.

12 But they know not the thoughts of the Lord, neither understand they his counsel; for he shall gather them as the sheaves into the floor.

13 'Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion; for I will make thy horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt break in pieces many people; and I will consecrate thy gain unto the Lord, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAPTER V.

1 The birth of Christ. 4 His kingdoms. 8 His conquest.

OW gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against thee; they shall 'smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

2 But thou, Beth-lehem Ephratah, though thou be little among many thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be Ruler in Israel; whose going forth have been from of old, from everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth; then the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.

4 And he shall stand and feed in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord his God; and they shall abide: for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

5 And this man shall be the peace, when the Assyrian shall come into our land; and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men.

6 And they shall 'swear the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of 'Nimrod [in the entrances thereof]; thus shall he 'deliver as from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our borders.

7 And 'the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people, as a dew from the Lord, as the showers upon the grass, that tarryth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men.
And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles in the midst of many people as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: who, if he go through, both treadeth down, and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

Thine hand shall be lifted up upon thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots: and I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more VANITY;

Thy graven images also will I cut off, and thy standing images out of the midst of thee: and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands.

And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee: so will I destroy thy vanities.

And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.

CHAPTER VI.

1 God's controversy for unkindness, 6 for ignorance, 10 for injustice, 16 and for lethargy.

Hear ye now what the Lord saith; Arise, contend thou with the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 Hear ye, O mountains, the Lord's controversy, and ye strong foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel.

3 O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me.

4 For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him: Shittim unto Gilgal; that ye may know the righteousness of the Lord.

6 Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and how myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt-offerings, with calves at a year old?

7 Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?

9 The Lord's voice crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom shall see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10 Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the fstice measure that is abominable?

11 Shall I count them pure with the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?

12 For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13 Therefore, also will I make thee sick in smiting thee, in making thee desolate because of thy sins.

14 Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy casting down shall be in the midst of thee; and thou shalt take hold, but shalt not deliver; and that thou dost except I will give up to the sword.

15 Thou shalt sow, but thou shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil; and sweet wine, but thou shalt not drink wine.

16 For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels; that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof a hissing: therefore ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

CHAPTER VII.

1 The church, complaining of her small number, 3 and the general corruption, 5 parteth her confidence not in man, but in God. She triumpheth over her enemies. 14 God comforteth her by promises. In her confusion of the enemies, 18 and by his hand, 20 is me! for I am as fruitful as they had gathered the summer fruits, as the grape-gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; my soul desired the first ripe fruit.

2 The good man is perished out of the earth: and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net.

3 That they may do evil with both hands earnestly, the prince asketh, and the judge asketh for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth his mischievous desire: so they wrap it up.
4 The best of them is as a brier: the most upright is sharper than a thorn-hedge: the day of thy watchmen and thy visitation cometh: now shall be their perplexity.

5 ¶ Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.

6 For the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law: a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 Therefore will I look unto the Lord: I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me.

8 ¶ Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise: when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me.

9 I will hear the indignation of the Lord, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteous-ness.

10 ¶ Then she that is mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her which said unto me, Where is the Lord thy God? mine eyes shall behold her: now shall she be trodden down as the mire of the streets.

11 In the day that thy walls are to be built, in that day shall the decree be far removed.

12 In that day also she shall come up from Assyria, and from the fortified cities, and from the fortress even to the river.

and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

13 ¶ Notwithstanding, the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings.

14 ¶ Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwelleth solitarily in the wood, in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old.

15 ¶ According to the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt will I shew unto him marvellous things.

16 ¶ The nations shall see and be ashamed: they shall be confounded at all their might: they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf.

17 They shall flick the dust like a serpent, they shall move out of their holes like worms of the earth: they shall be afraid of the Lord our God, and shall fear because of thee.

18 ¶ Who is a God like unto thee, that pardonneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy.

19 He will turn again, he will have compassion upon us: he will subdue our iniquities: and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.

20 Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, whom thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old.

INAHUM.

CHAPTER I.

The majesty of God in goodness to his people, and severity against his enemies.

1 THE burden of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2 ¶ God is jealous, and the Lord revengeth; the Lord revengeth, and is fierce; the Lord taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.
anger! as his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him.
7 "The Lord is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him.
8 But with an overrunning flood he will make an utter end of the place thereof, and darkness shall pursue his enemies.
9 What do ye imagine against the Lord? he will make an utter end; affliction shall not rise up the second time.
10 For while they be folded together as thorns, and while they are drunken as drunkards, they shall be devoured as stubble fully dry.
11 There is one come out of thee, that imagineth evil against the Lord, [his] wicked counsellor.
12 Thus saith the Lord; Though they be quiet, and likewise many, yet thus shall they be cut down, when he shall pass through. Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.
13 For now will I break his yoke off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.
14 And the Lord hath given a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name he sown; out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the grave image and the molten image; I will make thee grave; for thee art vile.
15 Behold upon the mountains of her feet that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! O Judah, keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for thou wilt make no more pass through thee, he is utterly cut off.

CHAPTER II.

The fearful and vengeous arms of God against Nineveh.

1 And it came to pass, when the wall was broken down, that all the women went out of the city.
2 For the Lord hath turned away the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel; for the emptied ones have emptied them out, and marred their vine-branches.
3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are as scarlet: the chariots shall be as火焰 torches in the day of his preparation, and the fir-trees shall be terribly shaken.
4 The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways: they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightnings.
5 He shall recount his worthies; they shall stumble in their walk: they shall make haste to the wall thereof, and the defence shall be prepared.
6 The gates of the rivers shall be opened, and the palace shall be dissolved.
7 And Huzzab shall be led away captive, she shall be brought up, and her maids shall lead her as with the voice of doves, tapping upon their breasts.

8 But Nineveh is as of old like a pool of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry; but none shall look back.
9 Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: for there is none end of the store and glory out of all the pleasant furniture.
10 She is empty, and void, and waste: and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and much pain is in all loins, and the faces of them all gather blackness.
11 Where is the dwelling of the lions, and the feeding-place of the young lions, where the lion, even the old lion, walked, and the lion’s whelp, and none made them afraid?
12 The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionsesses, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with ravin.
13 "Behold, I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAPTER III.

The miserable run of Nineveh.

1 O to the bloody city! it is all full of lies and robbery; the prey departeth not.
2 The noise of a whip, and the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the prancing horses, and of the jumping chariots.
3 The horseman lieth up both the bright sword, and the glittering spear; and there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carcases; and there is none end of their corpses; they stumble upon their corpses:
4 Because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well-favoured harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that seleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts.
5 "Behold, I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts: and I will discover thy skirts upon thy face, and I will show the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame.
6 And I will cast abominable filth upon

THE FEARFUL VENGEANCE

CHAPTER I.

By the Chaldeans.

1 THE burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see. 2 O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? my cry entereth not into thee of violence, and thou wilt not save! 3 Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance! for spoiling and violence are before me; and there are that raise up strife and contention.

4 Therefore, the law is slackened, and judgment doth never go forth: for the wicked compass about the righteous: therefore, \[\text{wicked judgment proceedeth.}\]

5 Behold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you.

6 For lo, \[\text{I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the breadth of the land, to possess the dwelling-places that are not theirs.}\]

7 They are terrible and dreadful: \[\text{their judgment and their dignity shall proceed of themselves.}\]

8 Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves; and their horsemen shall spread themselves, and their horsemen shall come from far; \[\text{they shall fly as the eagle that hasteth to eat.}\]

9 They shall come all for violence: \[\text{their faces shall sup up as the east wind, and they shall gather the captivity as the sand.}\]

10 And they shall scoff at the kings, and the princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall deride every strong hold; for they shall heap dust, and take it.

11 Then shall his mind change, and he shall pass over, and offend, imputing this his power upon his god.

12 ¶ Act thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, mine Holy One! We shall not die.  O Lord, thou hast ordained them for judgment; and, O mighty God, thou hast established them for correction.

13 Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and cannotst look on iniquity: wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous than he?

14 And maketh men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them?

15 They take up all of them with the angle, they catch them in their net, and gather them in their drag: therefore they rejoice and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice unto their net, and burn incense unto their drag: because by them their portion is fat, and their meat plentiful.

17 Shall they therefore empty their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

CHAPTER II.

1 Unto Habakkuk, a prophet to the Lord, and they that dwell in Jerusalem: Habakkuk the prophet, sayeth.

2 WILL stand upon my watch, and set me upon the *t*ower; and will watch to see what he will say unto me, and what I shall answer when I am reproved.

3 And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it.

4 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not tarry.

5 Behold, his soul which is lifted up is not upright in him: but the just shall live by his faith.

6 ¶ Yea also, because he transgresseth by wine, he is a proud man, neither keepeth at home, who enlargeth his desire as hell, and is as death, and cannot be satised, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heareth unto him all people:

7 Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, Wo to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and to him that keddeth himself with thick clay!

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee; because of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

9 ¶ Wo to him that coveteth an evil covetousness to his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil!

10 Thou hast consulted shame to thy house by cutting off many people, and hast sinned against thy soul.

11 For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

12 ¶ Wo to him that buildeth a town with blood, and establisheth a city by iniquity!

13 Behold, is it not of the Lord of hosts that the people shall labour in the very fire, and the people shall weary themselves for very vanity?

14 For the earth shall be filled with knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

15 ¶ Wo unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, that puttest thy bottle to him, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look on their nakedness!

16 Thou art filled with shame for glory: drink thou also, and let thy foreskin be uncovered: the cup of the Lord's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spewing shall be on thy glory.

17 For the violence of Lebanon shall cover thee, and the spoil of beasts, which made them afraid, because of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

18 ¶ What profiteth the*grave Image* that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and a teacher of lies, that the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make dumb idols?

19 Wo unto him that saith to the wood, Awake! to the dumb stone, Arise! it shall teach: Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it.

20 But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep silence before him.

CHAPTER III.

1 Habakkuk in his prayer trembleth at God's majesty. 17 The consequence of his faith.

2 O Lord, I have heard thy speech, and was afraid: O Lord, revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make known; in wrath remember mercy.
CHAPTER 1

A DESCRIPTION OF GOD'S MAJESTY.

3 God came from || Tenan, and the Holy One from Mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.

4 And his brightness was as the light; he had || horns coming out of his hand; and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and || burning coals went forth at his feet.

6 He stood, and measured the earth; he beheld, and drove asunder the nations; and the everlasting mountains were scattered, the perpetual hills did bow: his ways are everlasting.

7 I saw the tents of || Cushan || in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was the Lord displeased against the rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride upon thine horses, and || thy chariots of salvation?

9 Thy bow was made quite naked, according to the oaths of the tribes; even thy word, Selah. || Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers,

10 The mountains saw thee, and they trembled: the overflowing of the water passed by: the deep uttered his voice, and lifted up his hands on high.

11 The sun and moon stood still in their habitation: || at the light of thine arm || rows they went, and at the shining of thy glittering spear.

12 Thou didst march through the land in indignation, || thou didst thresh the heathen in anger.

13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, even for salvation with thine anointed: || thou didst cleave the head out of the house of the wicked, || by discovering the foundation unto the neck. Selah.

14 Thou didst strike through with his staves the head of his villages: || they came out as to devour the poor secretly.

15 || Thou didst walk through the sea with thine horses, through the || heap of great waters,

16 When I heard, my belly trembled: my lips quivered at the voice; rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in myself, that I might rest in the day of trouble; when he came up unto the people, he will || invade them with his troops.

17 Although the fig-tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines; the labour of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat; the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls:

18 Yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation.

19 The Lord God is || my strength, and he will make my feet like || 'hinds' feet, and he will make me to || walk upon mine high places.

To the chief singer on my || 'stringed' instruments.

IZEPHANIAH.

CHAPTER 1

God's severe judgment against Judah for divine sins.

THE word of the Lord which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hizkiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

2 || I will utterly consume all things from off the land, saith the Lord.

3 I will consume man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and the || 'stumbling-blocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the Lord.

4 I will also stretch out mine hand upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chena-rims with the priests;

5 And them that worship the host of heaven upon the house-tops; and them that worship that ||'s wear || by the Lord, and that swear || by Malcham;

6 And them that are turned back from the Lord; and those that ||'ve not sought the Lord, nor inquired for him.

7 ||'Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord God: ||' for the day of the Lord is at hand; for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath laid his guests.
8 And it shall come to pass in the day of the Lord’s sacrifice, that I will punish the princes, and the king’s children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparel.

9 In the same day also will I punish all those that leap on the threshold, which fill their masters’ houses with violence and deceit.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord, that there shall be the noise of a cry from the fish-gate, and a howling from the second, and a great crashing from the hills.

11 Howl, ye inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the merchant people are cut down; all they that bear silver are cut off.

12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with candles, and punish the men that are settled on their lees: that say in their heart, The Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil.

13 Therefore, their goods shall become a booty, and their houses a desolation: they shall also build houses, but not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof.

14 The great day of the Lord is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the Lord: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.

15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness.

16 A day of the trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high towers.

17 And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the Lord: and their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as the dung.

18 Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord’s wrath: but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make even a speedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

CHAPTER II.

1 An exhortation to repentance.

2 The judgment of the Philistines.

3 An exhortation to repentance.

4 They shall drive out Ashdod at the noon-day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

5 Wo unto the inhabitants of the seacoast, the nation of the Cherethites! the word of the Lord is against you; O Caanan, the land of the Philistines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6 And the sea coast shall be dwellings, and cottages for shepherds, and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah: they shall feed thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening; [for] for the Lord their God shall visit them, and turn away their captivity.

8 I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, whereby they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border.

9 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, even the breeding of nettles, and salt-pits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possess them.

10 This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the Lord of hosts.

11 The Lord will be terrible unto them: for he will punish all the gods of the earth; and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the isles of the heathen.

12 Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword.

13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria; and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry up like a wilderness.

14 And flocks shall lie down in the midst of her, all the beasts of the nations: both the camorant and the bittern shall lodge in the upper lintels of it: their voice shall sing in the windows: desolation shall be in the thresholds: [for] he shall uncover the cedar work.

15 This is the rejoicing city that dwelt carelessly, [that said in her heart], I am, and there is none beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand.

CHAPTER III.

1 A sharp reproof of Jerusalem for divers sins. * An exhortation to wait for the restoration of Israel; 4 and to rejoice for their salvation by God.

O to her that is filthy and polluted, to the oppressing city!

2 She obeyed not the voice; she received not correction; she trusted not in the Lord; she drew not near to her God.

3 Her princes within her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves; they gnaw not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her prophets are light and treacherous persons; her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law.

5 The just Lord is in the midst thereof; he will not do iniquity; every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but the unjust knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their towers are desolate; I made their streets waste, that none passeth by; their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant.

7 I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive instruction; so their dwelling should not be cut off, howsoever I punished them; but they rose early, and corrupted all their doings.

8 Therefore, wait ye upon me, saith the Lord, until the day that I rise up to the prey; for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.

9 For then will I turn to the people a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve him with one consent.

10 From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering.

11 In that day shall thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me; for then I will take away out of the midst of thee them that rejoice in thy pride, and thou shalt no more be haughty because of my holy mountain.

12 I will also leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the Lord.

13 The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

14 *Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem.

15 The Lord hath taken away thy judgments, he hath cast out thine enemies; the King of Israel, even the Lord, is in the midst of thee; thou shalt not see evil any more.

16 In that day shall he be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not: and to Zion, Let not thine hands be bowed.

17 The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing.

18 I will gather them that are sorrowful for the solemn assembly, who are of thee, to whom the reproach of it was a burden.

19 Behold, at that time will I undo all that afflict thee; and I will save her that is naked, and gather her that was driven out; and I will get them praise and fame in every land where they have been put to shame.

20 At that time will I bring you again, even in the time that I gather you; for I will make you a name and a praise among all people of the earth, when I turn back your captivity before your eyes, saith the Lord.
CHAPTER I.

1 Haggai reproves the people for neglecting the building of the house. 7 He warns them to the building. 12 He promises God's assistance to them being forward.

1 IN the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the Lord's house should be built.

3 Then came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying,

4 Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now, therefore, thus saith the Lord of hosts; Consider your ways.

6 Ye have sown much, and brought in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Consider your ways.

8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord.

9 Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why saith the Lord of hosts, Because of mine house that is waste, and ye ran every man unto his own house.

10 Therefore, saith the Lord of hosts, the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit.

11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 And Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the Lord their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the Lord their God had sent him, and the people did fear before the Lord.

13 Then spake Haggai the Lord's messenger in the Lord's message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and did work in the house of the Lord of hosts, their God, 15 In the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

CHAPTER II.

1 He encourages the people to the work, by promise of greater glory to the second temple than was in the first. 10 In the type of holy things and uncleannesses there was nothing hindered the work. 20 God's promise to Zerubbabel.

2 In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the Lord by the prophet Haggai, saying,

3 Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

4 Who is among you that saw this house in her first glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing!

5 Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and work: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts;

6 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so my Spirit remaineth among you; fear ye not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hosts; Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land;

8 And I will shake all nations, and the Desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts,

9 The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts,

10 The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the Lord of hosts; and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of hosts.
CHAPTER I.

1 In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord by Zechariah the prophet, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,

3 If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and said, No.

4 Then said Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.

5 And now, I pray you, consider from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lord's temple was laid, consider it.

6 *Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree, hath not brought forth; from this day will I bless you. *

7 And again the word of the Lord came unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,

8 Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, *I will shake the heavens, and the earth;

9 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

10 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet; for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of hosts.

11 Consider now from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lord's temple was laid, consider it.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Turn ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearkened unto me, saith the Lord.

13 Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever!

14 But 'my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not take hold of your fathers? and they returned and said, *Like as the Lord of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

15 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Sebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto Zechariah, the son of Barachiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,
8 I saw by night, and behold 1a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle-trees that were in the bottom; and behind him were there 2 red horses, speckled, and white.

9 Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle-trees answered and said, 1These are they whom the Lord hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 And they answered the angel of the Lord that stood among the myrtle-trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 And then the angel of the Lord answered and said, 10 of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy upon Jerusalem and upon the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these three-score and ten years?

13 And the Lord answered the angel that talked with me with good words and comfortable words.

14 So the angel which communed with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy.

15 And I am very sore displeased with the heathen that are at ease: for I was but a little displeased, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord; I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies: mine house shall be built in it, saith the Lord of hosts, and 1a line shall be stretched forth upon Jerusalem.

17 Cry yet, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; My cities through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; and the Lord shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

18 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns.

19 And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These 1are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

20 And the Lord shewed me four carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, These 1are the horns which have scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast out the horns of the Gentiles, which lifted up their horn over the land of Judah to scatter it.

CHAPTER II.

1 God, in the case of Jerusalem, sendeth to measure it; 6 The redemption of Zion.

1 I lifted up mine eyes again, and looked, and beheld a man with a measuring line in his hand,

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him.

4 And said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited as towns without walls for the multitude of men and cattle therein:

5 For I, saith the Lord, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 Ho, ho, come forth, and flee from the land of the north, saith the Lord: for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the Lord.

7 Deliver thyself, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hosts; After the glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye.

9 For behold, I will shake my hand upon them, and they shall be a spoil to their servants: and ye shall know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

10 Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the Lord.

11 And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12 And the Lord shall inherit Judah his portion in the holy land, and shall choose Jerusalem again.

13 Be silent, O all flesh, before the Lord: for he is raised up out of this holy habitation.

CHAPTER III.

1 Under the type of Joshua, the restoration of the church; 6 Christ the Branch is promised.

And he shewed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, and Satan standing at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the Lord said unto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan; even the Lord that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee; is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?

3 Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel.

4 And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them set a fair mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments. And the angel of the Lord stood by.

6 And the angel of the Lord protested unto Joshua, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou shalt also judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee places to walk among these that stand by.

8 Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are men that wondered: for behold, I will bring forth my servant The Branch.

9 For behold the stone that I have laid before Joshua: upon one stone shall be seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

10 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour under the vine and under the fig-tree.

CHAPTER IV.

1 By the golden candlestick is foreshewed the good success of Zerubbabel's foundation. 11 By the two olive-trees the two anointed ones.

1 AND the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep.

2 And said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have looked, and beheld a candlestick, all of gold, with a bowl upon the top of it, and seven lamps thereon, and seven pipes to the seven lamps, which are upon the top thereof:

3 And two olive-trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord?

5 Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord.
6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an ephah that goeth forth. He said Moreover, This is their resemblance through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lifted up a talent of lead: and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.

8 And he said, This is wickedness. And he cast it into the midst of the ephah; And he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came two women, and the wind was in their wings: for they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah?

11 And he said unto me, To build it a house in the land of Shinar: and it shall be established, and set there upon her own base.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The vision of the four chariots. 2 By the crowns of Jeconiah are shewed the temple and kingdom of Christ the Branch.

1 AND I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were red horses; and in the second chariot black horses;

3 And in the third chariot white horses; and in the fourth chariot grizzled and bay horses.

4 Then I answered, and said unto the angel that talked with me, These are the four spirits of the heavens, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth.

5 And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four spirits of the heavens, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth.

6 The black horses which were therein go forth into the north country; and the white horses go forth after them; and the grizzled go forth toward the south country.

7 And the bay went forth, and sought to go that they might walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get ye hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto
CHAPTER VII.

1. The captivity removes lasting. 4. Zechariah reproves their fasting. 8. His case at their captivity.

ND it came to pass in the fourth year of King Darius, that the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chislev.

2. When they had sent unto the house of God, Sherezer and Regem-melech, and their men, to pray before the Lord.

3. And to speak unto the priests which were in the house of the Lord of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years?

4. ¶ Then came the word of the Lord of hosts unto me, saying,

5. Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh month, even those seventy years, did ye at all fast unto me, even to me?

6. And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, did not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves?

7. ¶ Should ye not hear the words which the Lord hath cried by the former prophets when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her,

8. When men inhabited the south and the plain?

9. ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah, saying,

10. Thus spaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother:

11. And oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; but let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.

12. ¶ But they refused to hearken, and turned away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear.

13. ¶ Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the Lord of hosts hath sent in his Spirit by the former prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the Lord of hosts.

14. ¶ Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not hear; so they cried, and I would not hear, saith the Lord of hosts.

15. ¶ But I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not. Thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land desolate.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The restoration of Jerusalem. 9. They are encouraged in the building by God’s favour to them. 10. Joy and encouragement are promised.

GAIN the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying,

2. ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I was jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fervour.

3. ¶ Thus saith the Lord: I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called, A city of truth; and the mountain of the Lord of hosts, The holy mountain.

4. ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man with his staff in his hand for very age.

5. ¶ And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

6. ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts: If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, should it also be marvellous in mine eyes! saith the Lord of hosts. 7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country; 8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness. 9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts; "Let your hands be strong, ye that hear these words by the mouth of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built. 10 For before these days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men every one against his neighbour. 11 But now will I not be unto the residue of this people as in the former days, saith the Lord of hosts. 12 ¶ For the seed shall be prosperous; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things. 13 And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing; fear not, but let your hands be strong. 14 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hosts; "As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the Lord of hosts, and I repented not: 15 So again have I thought in these days to do well unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah; fear ye not. 16 ¶ These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates; 17 And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against your neighbour; and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the Lord. 18 ¶ And the word of the Lord of hosts came unto me, saying, 19 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; "The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerfulness; therefore love the truth and peace. 20 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities: 21 And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, 'Let us go speedily to pray before the Lord, and to seek the Lord of hosts: I will go also.' 22 Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord. 23 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold, of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you.

CHAPTER IX. 1 God defendeth his church. 9 Zion is exalted to rejoice for the coming of Christ, and his praiseworthy kingdom. 12 God's promise of victory and defence.
CHAPTER X.

1 God is to be sought alone, and not idols. 5 As he visited his flock for six, so he will save and restore them. 8 "Ye of the Lord, train in the time of the latter rain; so the Lord shall make bright clouds, and give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field. 2 For the idols have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they comfort in vain: therefore they went their way as a flock, they were troubled because there was no shepherd. 3 Mine anger was kindled against the shepherds, and I punished the goats; for the Lord of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and hath made them as his goodly horse in the battle. 4 Out of him came forth the corner, out of him the nail, out of him the battle-how, out of him every oppressor together. 5 ¶ And they shall be as mighty men, which tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle; and they shall fight, because the Lord is with them, and the riders on horses shall be confounded. 6 And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them again to place them; for I have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and I will hear them.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The destruction of Jerusalem. 2 The elect sheep care for, the rest are rejected. 10 The sheaves of Beauty and Bands broken by the rejection of Christ. 15 The type and curse of a foolish shepherd. 2 PEN ‘thy doors, O Lebanon, that the fire may devour thy cedars. 2 Howl, fir-tree, for the cedar is fallen; because the mighty are spoiled; howl, O ye oaks of Bashan; for the forest of the vintage is come down. 3 ¶ There is a voice of the howling of the shepherds; for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of young lions; for the pride of Jordan is spoiled. 4 Thus saith the Lord my God; Feed the flock of the slaughter; 5 Whose possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty; and they that sell them say, Blessed be the Lord; for I am rich: and their own shepherds pity them not. 6 For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord; but lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them. 7 And I will feed the flock of slaughter; even you, O poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called Beauty, and the other I called Bands; and I fed the flock. 8 Three shepherds also I cut off in one month; and my soul loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me. 9 Then said I, I will not feed you; that that dieth, let it die; and that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let the rest eat, every one the flesh of another.

10 ¶ And I took my staff, even Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the poor of the flock waited upon me, that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my price; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my price thirty pieces of silver.

13 And the Lord said unto me, Cast it unto the potter: a goodly price that I was prized at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them into the potter in the house of the Lord.

14 Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 ¶ And the Lord said unto me, Take unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd. 16 For lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be cut off, neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that is broken, nor feed that standeth still: but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.

17 ¶ Wo to the idol shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Jerusalem a city of trembling to bewail; and a handsome stone to her adversaries. 6 The victorious returning of Judah. 9 The repentance of Jerusalem.

3 The burden of the word of the Lord for Israel, saith the Lord, which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of trembling unto all the people round about, when they shall be in the siege both against Judah and against Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the Lord, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness: and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.
the cast and toward the west, "and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains; [for] the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the Lord my God shall come, and all the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, that [the light shall not be] [clear], nor [dark]:

7 But it shall be [one] day which shall be known to the Lord, not day, nor night: but it shall come to pass, that [at] evening time it shall be light.

8 And it shall be in that day, that living "waters shall go out from Jerusalem: half of them toward the [former sea], and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And the Lord shall be King over all the earth: in that day there shall be one Lord, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be [turned] as a plain from Gezha to Rimmon, south of Jerusalem: and it shall be lifted up, and [inhabited] in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner-gate, and from the tower of Hananeel unto the king's wine-presses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be [no more] utter destruction; [but Jerusalem] [shall be] safely inhabited.

12 And this shall be the plague whereby the Lord will make all the people that have fought against Jerusalem: Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great tumult from the Lord shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And [Judah] also shall fight [at Jerusalem]; and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance.

15 And [so] shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this plague.

16 And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem, shall even "go up from year to year to worship the King, the Lord of hosts, and to keep 'the feast of tabernacles."
Jerusalem to worship the King, the Lord of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, if that there be no rain; there shall be the plague, wherewith the Lord will smite the heathen that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20 ¶ In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, 'HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD'; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness unto the Lord of hosts: and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and see therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hosts.
2. It ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the Lord of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings; yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

3. Behold, I will corrupt your seed, and spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your solemn feasts; and one shall take you away with it.

4. And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.

5. My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before my name.

6. The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.

7. For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts.

8. But ye are departed out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble at the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.

9. Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but I have been partial in the law.

10. Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

11. Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the Lord which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12. The Lord will cut off the man that doeth this, || the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Jacob, || and him that offereth an offering unto the Lord of hosts.

13. And this have ye done again, covering the altar of the Lord with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receive it with good will at your hand.

14. Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the Lord hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously; yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15. And did not he make one? Yet had he the residue of the Spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16. For the Lord, the God of Israel, saith, that he hateth putting away: for one coveteth violence with his garment, says the Lord of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

17. Ye have wearied the Lord with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we Wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of judgment!

CHAPTER III.

1. Of the messenger, majesty, and grace of Christ. 7. Of the rebellion, error, and idolatry of the people. 16. The promise of blessing to them that fear God.

EHOUD. I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts.

2. But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fuller's soap.

3. And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness.

4. Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the Lord, as in the days of old, and as in former years.

5. And I will come near to you to judgment: and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hircings in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts.

6. For I am the Lord. I change not: therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.

7. Even from the days of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the Lord of hosts.

8. But ye said, Wherein shall we return? 8. Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings.

9. Ye are cursed with a curse; for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

10. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows... of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.
11 And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground: neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts.
12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the Lord of hosts.
13 Your words have been stout against me, saith the Lord. Yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?
14 Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the Lord of hosts?
15 And now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered.
16 Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another; and the Lord hearkened, and heard it: and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name.
17 And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.
18 Then shall ye return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

CHAPTER IV.
1 Behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.
2 But unto you that fear my name, shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.
3 And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the Lord of hosts.
4 Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgments.
5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord:
6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

CHAPTER I.

1. Josias' charge to the priests and Levites. 7. A great passover is kept. 32. The temple, court, and many people are destroyed. 36. The priests are carried into Babylon.

And Josias held the feast of the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first month; 2. requiring that the priests according to their daily course, being arrayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lord.

And he spoke unto the Levites, the holy ministers of Israel, that they should holy themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that King Solomon the son of David had built:

4. And said, Ye shall not more bear the ark upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and keep his commandments, and prepare you after your families and kinds.

5. According as David the king of Israel prescribed, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son; and standing in the temple according to the several dignity of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel,

6. Offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses.

7. And unto the people that was found there Josias gave thirty thousand rams and kids, and three thousand calves: these things were given of the king's allowance, according as he promised to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites.

8. And Helcias, Zacharias, and Jedaiah, the governors of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves.

9. And Jeconias, and Sennacherib, and Natanmeal his brother, and Assabias, and Ochiel, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passover five thousand sheep, and seven hundred calves.

10. And when these things were done, the priests and Levites having the unleavened bread, stood in very comely order according to the kindreds.

11. And according to the several dignities of the fathers before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: and thus did they in the morning.

12. And they roasted the passover with fire, as appertained: as for the sacrifices, they sod them in brass pots and pans, (with a good savour,

13. And set them before all the people: and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron.

14. For the priests offered that last until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron.

15. The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Jeduthun, who was of the king's retinue.

16. Moreover, the porters were at every gate: it was not lawful for any to go from his ordinary service: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

17. Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, that they might hold the passover,

18. And offer sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of King Josias.

19. So the children of Israel which were present held the passover at that time, and the feast of sweet bread seven days.

20. And such a passover was not kept in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel.

21. Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias did, with all the people, and with the priests, and with the Levites, and with all that were found dwelling at Jerusalem.

22. In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover kept.

23. And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord, with a heart full of godliness.

24. As for the things that came to pass in his time, they were written in former times, concerning these that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above all the people and kingdoms, and how they graved him exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord rose up against Israel.

25. Thus, now all after these acts of Josias it came to pass, that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Carchemish upon Euphrates; and Josias went out against him.

26. But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judaea?

27. I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee: for my war is upon Egypt, and how the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hastening me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

28. Howbeit Josias did not turn back his chariot from him, but underwent to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremiah, spoken by the mouth of the Lord:

29. But joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came against King Josias.

30. Then said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants took him away out of the battle.

31. Then got he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Jerusalem died, and was buried in his father's sepulchre.

32. And in all Jewry they mourned for Josias, yea, Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel.
1. Cyrus is moved by God to build the temple, and giveth leave to the Jews to return and contribute to it. 11: He delivered again the vessels which had been taken thence. 2. Artaxerxes forbiddeth the Jews to build any more.

2. N the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, which the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Jeremy; 2: The Lord raised up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing.

3. Saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians: The Lord of Israel, the most high Lord, hath made me king of the whole world,

4. And commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem. 5. If there be any of you of that which I am your king, let him come, and build me a house in Jerusalem.

6. Whosoever useth the places about, let them help him (these, I say, that are his neighbours) with gold, and with silver,

7. With gifts, with horses, and with cattle, and other things, which have been set forth by vow, for the temple of the Lord at Jerusalem.

8. 1 Then the chief of the families of Judea and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up: the priests also and the Levites, and all they whose mind the Lord had moved to go up, and to build a house for the Lord at Jerusalem.

9. And they that dwelt round about them, and helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many free gifts of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto.

10. King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols.

11. Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought forth it from thence, he delivered them to Mithridates his treasurer:

12. And by him they were delivered to Sanballas the governor of Judea.

13. And this was the number of them: A thousand golden cups, and a thousand of silver, feedbacks of silver twenty-nine, vols of gold thirty, and of silver two thousands four hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14. So all the vessels of gold and of silver, which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, were five thousand four hundred and thirty, and nine.

15. These were brought back by Sanballas, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

16. But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Rehum, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and Rathminus, Beclathmus, and Scemilian, the secretary, with others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him again, that dwelt in Judea and Jerusalem these letters following:

17. To King Artaxerxes our lord, Thy servants Rathminus the story-writer, and Scemilian the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in Celsotyria and Pheneia:

18. Be it now known to the lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come into Jerusalem, (that rebellions and wicked city,) do build the market-places, and repair the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of the temple.

And I, and also he made it up again, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but also rebel against kings.

And whereas the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it not to neglect such a matter,

But to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, it may be sought out in the books of thy fathers: And then shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shall understand that that city was rebellions, troubling both kings and cities: And that the Jews were rebellions, and raised always wars therein; for the which cause even this city was made desolate.

Therefore now we do declare unto thee, (O lord the king,) that if this city be built again, and the walls thereof set up anew, then shunt from henceforth have no passage into Cœsarea and Phenice.

Then the king wrote back again to them, the story-written, to Besh-tummus, to Samællus the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwelt in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this manner:

I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me: therefore I commanded to make diligent search, and it hath been found, that that city was from the beginning practising against kings:

And the men therein were given to rebellion and war; and that mighty kings and fierce war, to make and destroy, and according to the multitude of people in battle-array, began to hinder the builders: and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

CHAPTER III.

Three stages to express each other in wise speeches. They refer themselves to the judgment of the king. The first declaeth the strength and might of Darius, and the second the strength and might of the kingdom.

When Darius reigned, he made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all his household, and unto all the princes of Media and Persia.

And to all the governors, and officers, and captains, and lieutenants that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, of a hundred twenty and seven provinces.

And when they were drank and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bed-chamber, and slept, and soon after awaked.

Then three young men that were of the guard, that kept the king's body, spake one to another;

Let every one of us speak a sentence: he that shall overcome, and whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall the King Darius give great gifts, and great things in token of victory:

As, to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a head-piece of fine linen, and a crown about his neck;

And he shall sit next to Darius, because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius his cousin.

8 And then every one wrote his sentence, sealed it, and laid it under King Darius his pillow.

9 And said that, when the king is risen, some will give him the writings: and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as was appointed.

10 The first wrote, Wine is the strongest.

11 The second wrote, The king is the strongest.

12 The third wrote, Women are strongest: but above all things truth becometh away the victory.

13 Now when the king was risen up, they took their writings, and delivered them unto him, and so he read them:

14 And sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and Media, and all the governors, and the captains, and the lieutenants, and the chief officers;

15 And set him down in the several seat of judgment, and the writings were read before them.

16 And he said, Call the young men, and they shall declare their own sentences. So they were called, and came in.

17 And he said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the writings. Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine:

18 And he said thus, O ye men, how exceeding strong is wine! it causeth all men to err that drink it:

19 I maketh the mind of the king, and of the fatherless child, to be all one: of the bondman and of the free man, of the poor man and of the rich:

20 It turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt:

21 And it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor governor; and it maketh to speak all things by talents:

22 And when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw out swords:

23 But when they are from the wine, they remember not what they have done.

24 O wine, thou art not wine the strongest, that enforceth to do thus! And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

CHAPTER IV.

The second declaeth the power of a king: the third the force of women, and of truth. The third is judged to be wisest, and obtaineth a sentence of the king to build Jerusalem. So he purchaseth God, and sheweth his brethren what he had done.

HEN the second, that had spoken of the strength of the strength of the king, begin to say, 3 O ye men, do not men exert in strength, that they may rule over sea and land, and all things in them!

But yet the king is more mighty: for he is lord of all these things, and hath dominion over them: and whatsoever he commandeth they do.

If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and break down mountains, walls, and towers.

They shew and are shame, and transgress not the king's commandement: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things above.

Likewise for these that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel another to pay tribute into the king.

And yet he is but one man: if he command to kill, they kill: if he command to spare, they spare:

If he command to smite, they smite: if he command to make desolate, they make desolate: if he command to build, they build; 9 If he command to cut down, they cut down: if he command to plant, they plant.
10 So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he teacheth, he cuteth and drinketh, and taketh his rest:
11 And these keep watch round about him, neither may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey him in any thing.
12 O ye men, how should not the king be mighty, when in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his tongue.
13 ¶ Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of the truth, (this was Zerubabel,) began to speak.
14 O ye men, how should it not be the greatest king, nor the multitude of men, neither is it wise that excelleth; who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women?
15 Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land.
16 Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards from whence the wine cometh.
17 These also make garments for men; these bring glory unto men: and women cannot men be.
18 Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver, or any other goodly thing, do they not love a woman which is comely in favour and beauty?
19 And letting all those things go, do they not care, and even with all their might fix their eyes upon her? and have not all men more desire unto her than unto silver or gold, or any goodly thing whatsoever?
20 A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife.
21 He sticketh out for ever his life with his wife, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country.
22 By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to the woman?
23 Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to rob and to steal, to sail upon the sea and upon rivers:
24 And looketh upon a lion, and goeth in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love.
25 Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother.
26 Yea, many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and become servants for their sakes.
27 Many also have perished, have erred, and sinned, for women.
28 And now do ye not believe me? Is not the king great in his power? do not all nations fear to touch him?
29 Yet did I see him and Apsam, the king's concubine, the daughter of the adored Bartacus, sitting at the right hand of the king.
30 And taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; she also struck the king with her left hand.
31 And yet [for all this] the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, the king was fain to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again.
32 O ye men, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?
33 Then the king and the princes looked one upon another: so he began to speak of the truth.
34 O ye men, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, and sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one day.
35 For he be not great that maketh these things! therefore great is the truth, and stronger than all things.
36 All the earth calleth upon the truth, and the heaven believeth it: all works shake and tremble at it, and it with is not unrighteous thing.
37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, and such are all their wicked works; and there is no truth in them: in their unrighteousness also they shall perish.
38 As for the truth, it endureth, and is always strong: it liveth and conqueth for evermore.
39 With her those that are accepting of persons or rewards; but she doth the things that are just, and refraineth from all unjust and wicked things: and all men do well like of her works.
40 Neither in her judgment is any unrighteousness; and she is the strength, kingdom, power, and majesty of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth.
41 And with that he held his peace. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and mighty above all things.
42 Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt, because thou art found wise; and thou shalt sit next me, and shall be called my counsellor.
43 Then said he unto the king, Remember thy vow, which thou hast vowed to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou camest to thy kingdom.
44 And to send away all the vessels that were taken away out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to send them again thither.
45 Thou also hast vowed to build up the temple, which the Edomites burned, when Judon was made desolate by the Chaldees.
46 And now, O lord, the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the prince of prosperity preacherling from myself: I desire therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof with thine own mouth thou hast vowed to the King of heaven.
47 Then Durus the king stood up and kissed him, and wrote letters for him to all the treasurers, and lieutenants, and deputies, and governors, that they should safely convey on their way both him, and all those that go up with him to build Jerusalem.
48 He wrote letters also unto the lieutenants that were at Samaria, and Phenice, and unto them in Libanum, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanum unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him.
49 Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that went out of the land of Jerusalem into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors;
50 And that all the country which they hold should be free without tribute; and that the Edomites should deliver over the villages of the Jews which then they held:
51 Yea, that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it was built:
52 And other ten talents yearly, to maintain the burnt-offerings upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen:
53 And that all they that went from Babylon to build the city should have free liberty, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that went away.
54 He wrote also concerning the charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister;
55 And likewise for the charges of the Levites, to be given them, until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up.
56 And he commanded to give to all that kept the city %pensions and wages.
57 He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given him by command he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.
58 Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven, toward Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven.
59 And from the cometh victory, from the cometh wisdom, and thine is the glory, and I am thy servant.
60 Blessed art thou, who hast given me wisdom; for to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers.
CHAPTER V.

36 These came up from Thermelath, and Thelersass, Chaaraathach leading them, and Abar.

37 Neither could they shew their families, nor their stock, how they were of Israel; the sons of Laden, the sons of Ban, the sons of Neccidan, six hundred fifty and four.

38 And of the priests that numbered the office of the priesthood, and were not found: the sons of Obulia, the sons of Accez, the sons of Addus, who married Angia, one of the daughters of Ezzelus, and was named after his name.

39 And then the description of the kindred of these men was sought in the register, and was not found, they were removed from executing the office of the priesthood:

40 For unto them said Nehemiahs and Atharisa, that they should not be partakers of the holy things, till there arose up a high priest clothed with phicolater and truth.

41 So of Israel from them of twelve years old and upward, they were all in number forty thousand, besides men-servants and women-servants, two thousand three hundred and sixty.
42 Their bond-servants and handmaids were seven thousand three hundred forty and seven; the singing-men and singing-women, two hundred forty and five; 43 Four hundred thirty and five camels, seven thousand thirty and six horses, two hundred forty and five mules, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts used to the yoke. 14 And certain of the chief of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, voted to set up the house again in his own place, according to their ability. 15 And to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, and a hundred priestly vestments. 16 And so dwelt the priests, and the Levites, and the people in Jerusalem, and in the country: the singers also and the porters, and all Israel in their villages. 17 But when the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into the open place of the first gate which is toward the east. 18 Then stood up Jesus the son of Josedec, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the son of Subaltiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel. 19 To offer burnt-sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God. 20 And there were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon his own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them: and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt-offerings to the Lord both morning and evening. 21 Also they held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet: 22 And after that, the continual oblations, and the sacrifices of the sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all holy feasts. 23 And all they that had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the first day of the seventh month, although the temple of the Lord was not yet built. 24 And they gave unto the masons and carpenters, money, meat, and drink with cheerfulness. 25 Unto them of Sidon also and Tyre gave they their cars, that they should bring cedar trees from Lebanon, which should be brought by floats to the haven of Joppa, according as it was commanded them by Cyrus king of the Persians. 26 And in the second year and second month after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, began Zorobabel the son of Subaltiel, and Jesus the son of Josedec, and their brethren, and the priest, and the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity; 27 And they laid the foundation of the house of God in the first day of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and Jerusalem. 28 And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord. Then stood up Jesus, and his sons and brethren, and Calebiel his brother, and the sons of Joda the son of Eliadum, with their sons and brethren, all Levites, with one accord set forerunners of the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the workmen built the temple of the Lord. 29 And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments, with musical instruments and trumpets; and the Levites the sons of Asaph had cymbals. 30 Singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, according as David the king of Israel had ordained. 31 And they sung with loud voices songs to the praise of the Lord, because his mercy and glory is forever in all Israel.
of beams and costly stones, and the timber already laid upon the walls.
10 And these works were done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence is it made.
11 These wise men were those elder citizens, by whose commandment build ye this house, and lay the foundations of these works!
12 Therefore, to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing, we demanded of them who were the chief elders, and we required of them the names in writing of principal men.
13 So they gave us this answer. We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth.
14 And refer this house, it was built many years ago by a king of Israel, great and strong, and was finished.
15 But when our fathers provoked God unto wrath, and sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, he gave them over into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of the Chaldees:
16 Who pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the people captive unto Babylon.
17 But in the first year that King Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote to build up this house.
18 And the holy vessels of gold and of silver that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set them in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple at Babylon, and they were delivered to Zerubbabel and to Sanballas the ruler, 19 With commandment that he should carry away the same vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in his place.
20 Then the same Sanballas, being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem: and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.
21 Now therefore, if it seem good unto the king, let search be made among the records of King Cyrus;
22 And if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of King Cyrus, and if our lord the king be so minded, let him signify unto us thereof.
23 Then commanded King Darius to seek among the records at Babylon, and so in the temple of the palace, which is in the country of Media, there was found a roll, wherein these things were recorded:
24 In the first year of the reign of Cyrus, King Cyrus commanded that the house of the Lord at Jerusalem should be built again, where they do sacrifice with continual fire;
25 Whose height shall be sixty cubits, and the breadth sixty cubits, with three rows of hewn stones, and one row of new wood of that country; and the expenses thereof to be given out of the house of King Cyrus;
26 And that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of gold and silver, that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Jerusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before.
27 And also he commanded that Sisine the governor of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phenice, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zerubbabel, the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judah, and the elders of the Jews, to build the house of the Lord in that place.
28 I have commanded also to have it built up whole again; and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of the Jews, till the house of the Lord be finished;
29 And out of the tribute of Cediaeria and Phenice, a portion carefully to be given these men, for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zerubbabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and consecrated offerings.
30 And also corn, salt, wine, and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent:
31 That offerings may be made to the most high God, for the king, and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives.
32 And he commanded that whenever should transgress, ye, or make light of any thing afore spoken or written out of his own house, that a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king.
33 The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or endanger that house of the Lord in Jerusalem.
34 Darius the king have ordained, that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Siames and others help forward the building. 5 The temple is finished and dedicated. 10 The passover is kept.
2 Siames the governor of Cediaeria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of King Darius.
3 And so the holy works prospered when Aggeus and Zacharias prophesied. 4 And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord God of Israel, and with like consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia.
5 And thus was the holy house finished in the three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of Darius king of the Persians.
6 And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and others that were of the captivity, that were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses.
7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord there were offered for oblation a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs.
8 And twelve goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the chief of the tribes of Israel.
9 The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their hundreds, in the service of the Lord God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the porters at every gate.
10 And the children of Israel that were of the captivity held the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, after that the priests and the Levites were sanctified.
11 They that were of the captivity were not all sanctified together; but the Levites were all sanctified together.
12 And so they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.
13 And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.
14 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord.
15 For that he had turned the counsel of the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord God of Israel.
CHAPTER VIII.

1. Esdras breathed the king's commission to build. 8. The copy of it, v. 29. He declared the names and number of those that came with him, and his journey. 31. He rendered the sins of his people, and sweareth the promise, and saith that the king's commandement shall stand. 31. And after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reign'd, came Esdras the son of Sannaias, the son of Ezra, the son of Helchiah, the son of Saph,

2. Thus Esdras went up from Babylon as a seer, being very ready in the law of Moses, that was given by the God of Israel. 1. And the king did him honour: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests. 3. There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, of the priests, of the Levites, of the holy singers, porters, and ministers of the temple, unto Jerusalem. 6. In the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the first month, this was the king's seventh year; for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the prosperous journey which the Lord gave them. 7. For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the word, and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgments. 8. ¶ Now the copy of the commission which was written from Artaxerxes the king, and came to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, is this following: 9. King Artaxerxes unto Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord sendeth greeting: 10. Having determined to deal graciously, I have given unto the wise of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites, being within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto Jerusalem. 11. As many therefore as have a mind thereto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me and my seven friends the counsellors: 12. That they may look unto the affairs of Judæa and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord. 13. 14. And carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed, and all the silver and gold that is in the country of Babylon can be found, to the Lord in Jerusalem. 14. With that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God at Jerusalem: and that silver and gold may be collected for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thenceunto appertaining: 15. To the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem. 16. And whatsoever thou and thy brethren will do with the silver and gold, that do according to the will of thy God. 17. And the holy vessels of the Lord which are found thee for the use of the temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Jerusalem. 18. And whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the king's treasury. 19. And I King Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and reader of the law shall send for, they should give it him with speed. 20. To the sum of a hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to a hundred tons, and a hundred pieces of wine, and other things in abundance.

21. Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the most high God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom and his sons. 22. I command you also, that ye require no tax, nor any other imposition, of any of the priests or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or ministers of the temple, or of those that have done this work, that no man have authority to impose any thing upon them. 23. And thou, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God, ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phenice all those that know the law of God; and those that know it not thou shalt teach. 24. And whosoever shall transgress the law of God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by imprisonment.

25. ¶ Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord God of my fathers, who hath put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Jerusalem: 26. And hath honoured me in the sight of the king and his counsellors, and all his friends and nobles. 27. Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together men of Israel to go up again to the mountain: 28. And these are the chief, according to their families and several dignities, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of King Artaxerxes: 29. Of the sons of Phinehas, Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar, Joram; of the sons of David, Shuttas. 30. Of the sons of Pharez, Zecharias; and with him were counted a hundred and fifty men: 31. Of the sons of Pahah Mosh, Eliaunias the son of Zaraiais, and with him two hundred men: 32. Of the sons of Nathanele, Zecharias the son of Jezeus, and with him three hundred men: of the sons of Adin, Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fifty men: 33. Of the sons of Elam, Josias son of [Gothodias, and with him seventy men]: 34. Of the sons of Saphatas, Zaraiais son of Michael, and with him threescore and ten men: 35. Of the sons of Job, Aladias son of [Jezeus, and with him two hundred and twelve men]: 36. Of the sons of Zabde, Zebias son of Josaphias, and with him a hundred and three score men: 37. Of the sons of Babi, Zecharias son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men: 38. Of the sons of [Asath, Johannes son of Acatan, and with him a hundred and ten men]: 39. Of the sons of Adonium the last, and these are the names of them, Eliphalet, Jeuel, and Sammais, and with them seventy men: 40. Of the sons of Bicho, Uriel the son of Istaterus, and with him seventy men. 41. And these I gathered together unto the river called Theras, where we pitched our tents three days: and then I surveyed them. 42. But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites, 43. Then sent I unto Eleazar, and [Idul, and [Massan, 44. And Ahathan, and Maimias, and [Joribus, and Natham, Eumtan, Zecharias, and Messolimmon, principal men and learned; 45. And I bade them that they should go unto [Saddeus the captain, who was in the place of the treasury; 46. And commanded them that they should speak unto Deddeus, and to his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priest's office in the house of the Lord. 47. And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us skilful men of the sons of [Mol, the son of Levi, and of Zabad, the son of Meslia, and of his brethren, who were eighteen. 48. And Asebim, and Amnus, and Oseiah his brother, of the sons of Chamnuncus, and their sons, were twenty men.
CHAPTER VIII.

49. And of the servants of the temple whom David had ordained, and the principal men for the service of the Levites (to wit,) the servants of the temple, two hundred and twenty, the catalogue of whose names were shewed.

50. And there I bowed a fast unto the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a prosperous journey both for us and them that were with us, for our children, and for the temple;

51. For I was ashamed to ask the king women and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries.

52. For we had said unto the king, that the power of the Lord our God should be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways.

53. And again we besought our Lord as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us.

54. Then I separated twelve of the chief of the priests, and Levites, and Joses, and Azariah, and ten men of their brethren; for this was the work of the priests and Levites.

55. And I weighed them the gold, and the silver, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his council, and the princes, and all Israel, had given.

56. And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and sixty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and a hundred talents of gold.

57. And twenty golden vessels, and twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold.

58. And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver is a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers.

59. Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chief of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, into the chambers of the house of our God.

60. So the priests and the Levites, who had received the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, brought them unto Jerusalem into the temple of the Lord.

61. And from the river Theros we departed the twelfth day of the first month, and came to Jerusalem by the main land of our Lord, which was with us: and from the beginning of our journey the Lord delivered us from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem.

62. And when we had been there three days, the gold and silver that was weighed was delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto Marmoth the priest the son of Iri.

63. And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josedek the son of Jesem, and [M]oeth the priest and Levites, who all delivered them by number and weight.

64. And all the weight of them was written up the same hour.

65. Moreover, they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifice unto the Lord God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, horescore and sixteen rams.

66. Three thousand and twelve hams, goats for a peace-offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord.

67. And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of Cæsarea and Phenice; and they honoured the people and the temple of God.

68. Now when these things were done, the rulers came unto me, and said,

69. The nation of Israel, the princes, the priests and Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the pollutions of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Phœrenites, Jebusites, and the Midities, Eshronites, and Ammonites:

70. For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the great men have been partakers of this iniquity.

71. And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and the holy garment, and pulled off the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and very heavy.

72. So all they that were there round about me lifted up the word of the Lord God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice.

73. Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and the holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching both my hands unto the Lord, I said, O Lord, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face; O Lord, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face.

74. For our sins have multiplied above our heads, and our iniquities have reached up unto heaven.

75. For ever since the time of our fathers, we have been in great sin, even until this day.

76. And for our sins and our fathers', we, with our brethren, and our kings, and our priests, were given up unto the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and to a prey with shame, unto this day.

77. And now in some measure hast mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us a root and a name in the place of thy sanctuary.

78. And to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us food in the time of our servitude.

79. Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us food.

80. Yea, and honoured the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Zion, that they have given us a sure abiding in Jewry and Jerusalem.

81. And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying,

82. That the land which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness.

83. Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons.

84. Moreover, ye shall never seek to have peace with them, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave the inheritance of the land unto your children for evermore.

85. And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying,

86. That the land which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness.

87. Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons.

88. Moreover, ye shall never seek to have peace with them, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave the inheritance of the land unto your children for evermore.

89. And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying,

90. That the land which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness.

91. And as Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and rising up upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great multitude of men, and women, and children; for there was great weeping among the multitude.

92. And the Lord hath made a great work to us, and I bring all these things unto thee this day.

93. Let us make an oath to the Lord, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the heathen, with their children.

The text is fragmented and contains names and titles, suggesting it may be a list of high priests, Levites, or other religious figures. The text also includes mentions of Jerusalem, Israel, and various names that are not easily identifiable without further context. The language and style suggest it is of ancient origin. Without additional context or a clearer transcription, it is difficult to provide a complete and accurate representation of the document's content.
CHAPTER 1.

1. Ezechias is commanded to repeople the land.
2. God threateneth to cast them off, and to give their houses to people more grace than they.

3. The second book of the prophet Esdras, the son of Seraias, the son of Azarias, the son of Helchias, the son of Sadammas, the son of Sadoc, the son of Mis'leth, the son of Amanias, the son of Aziz, the son of Marimuth, the son of Ama, the son of Ozias, the son of Iotham, the son of Ahimelech, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar.

4. The son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

5. And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,—

6. Go thy way, and shew my people their sins and deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their children's children:

7. Because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have offered unto strange gods.

8. Am not I even he that brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage? but they have provoked me unto wrath, and despised my counsels.

9. Pull thou off then the hair of thy head, and cast all evil upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my law, but it is a rebellious people.

10. How long shall I forbear them unto whom I have done so much good!

11. Many kings have I destroyed for their sakes:

12. Pharaoh with his servants, and all his power have I swallowed down.

13. All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tyrus and Sidon, and have slain all their enemies.

14. Speak thou therefore unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord,

15. I led you through the sea, and in the beginning gave you a large and safe passage; I gave you Moses for a leader, and Aaron for a priest.

16. I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you; yet have ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

17. Thus saith the Almighty Lord, The nations were as a token to you; I gave you tents for your safeguard; nevertheless ye murmured there.

18. And triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day do ye yet murmur.

19. Where are the benefits that I have done for you? When ye were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, did ye not cry unto me.

20. Saying, Why hast thou brought us into this wilderness to kill us? It had been better for us to have served the Egyptians, than to die in this wilderness.

21. Then had I pity upon your murrings, and gave you manna to eat: but ye did eat angels' bread.

22. When ye were thirsty, did I not clear the rock, and waters flowed out unto your till? for the heat I covered you with the leaves of the trees.

23. I divided among you a fruitful land, I cast out the Canaanites, the Pherezes, and the Philistines, before you: what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.

24. Thus saith the Almighty Lord, When ye were in the wilderness, in the river of the Amorites, being athirst, and blaspheming my name,

25. I gave you not fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree in the water, and made the river sweet.

26. What shall I do unto thee, O Jacob? thou, O Juda, canst not obey me: I will turn you to other nations, and unto those will I give my name, that they may keep my statutes.

27. Seeing ye have forsaken me, I will forsake you also: when ye desire me to be gracious unto you, I shall have to remember your sins and your transgressions.

28. Wherefore ye shall call upon me, I will not hear you: for ye have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit manslaughter.

29. Ye have not as it were forsaken me, but your own selves, saith the Lord.

30. Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her young bullocks?

31. To whom ye would be my people, and I should be your God: that ye would be my children, and I should be your Father? I gathered you together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do unto you? I will cast you out from my face.

32. When ye offer unto me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn fast-days, your new moons, and your circumscriptions have I forsaken.

33. I sent unto my servants the prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will require of your hands, saith the Lord.

34. Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Your house is desolate, I will cast you out as the wind doth stable.

35. And your children shall not be fruitful; for they have despised my commandment, and done the thing that is evil before me.

36. Your houses will I give to a people that shall come; which not having heard of me, yet shall believe me: to whom I have showed no signs, yet they shall do that I have commanded them.

37. They have seen no prophets, yet they shall call their sins to remembrance and acknowledge them.

38. I take to witness the grace of the people to come, whose little ones rejoice in gladness: and though they have not seen me with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they believe the thing that I say.

39. And now, brother, behold what glory; and see the people that come from the east: unto whom I will give for leaders, Abraham,
CHAP. III.

1 Is the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my commandments by my servants the prophets; whom they would not hear, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them satieth them to your ways, ye children; for I am a widow and forsaken.

3 I brought you up with gladness; but with sorrow and heaviness have I lost you; for ye have sinned before the Lord your God, and done that thing that is evil before him.

4 But what shall I now do unto you? I am a widow and forsaken; go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Lord.

5 As for me, O father, I call upon thee for a witness over the mother of these children, which shall not keep my covenant,

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoil, that there may be no offspring of them.

7 Let them be scattered abroad among the heathen, let their names be put out of the earth; for they have despised my covenant.

8 Wo be unto thee, Assur, thou that biddest the unrighteous in thee! O thou wicked people, remember what I did unto Sodom and Gomorrah;

9 Whose land lieth in clouds of pitch and heaps of ashes; even so also will I do unto them that hear me not, saith the Almighty Lord.

10 Thus saith the Lord unto Esdras, Tell my people that I will give them the kingdom of Jerusalem, which I would have given unto Israel.

11 Their glory also will I take unto me, and give these the everlasting tabernacles which I had prepared for them.

12 They shall have the tree of life for an ointment of sweet savour; they shall neither labour nor be weary.

13 Go, and ye shall receive: pray for few days unto you, that they may be shortened: the kingdom is already prepared for you that watch.

14 Take heaven and earth to witness; for I have broken the evil in pieces, and created the good: for I live, saith the Lord.

15 Mother, embrace thy children, and bring them up with gladness, make their feet as fast as a pillar: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

16 And those that be dead will I raise up again from their places, and bring them out of the graves: for I have known thy name in Israel.

17 Fear not, thou mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

18 For thy help will I send my servants, Esay and Jeremi, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for thee twelve trees laden with divers fruits.

19 And as many fountains flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will all thy children with joy.

20 Do right to the widow, judge for the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphan, clothe the naked.

21 Heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maiden, and let the blind man come into the sight of my clearness.

22 Keep the children out of thy walls.

23 Whereover thou findest the dead, take them and bury them, and I will give thee the first place in my resurrection.

24 Ahale still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietness shall come.
CHAPTER IV.

21 And they command me to build a city unto thy name, and to offer incense and oblations unto thee therein.
22 When this was done many years, then they that inhabited the city forsook thee.
23 And in all things did even as Adam and all his generations had done; for they also had a wicked heart:
24 And so they gave thy city over into the hands of thine enemies.
25 For when I came thither, and had seen impurities without number, then my soul saw many evil-doers in this thirtieth year, so that my heart failed me.
26 For I have seen how thou sufferest them sinning, and hast spared wicked doers; and hast destroyed thy people, and hast preserved thine enemies, and hast not signified it.

1 AND the angel that was sent unto me, whose name was Uriel, gave me an answer,
2 And said, The heart hath gone too far in this world, and thinkest thou to comprehend the way of the Most High?
3 Then said I, Yea, my lord. And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shew thee three ways, and to set forth three simulacres before thee:
4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way that thou desirest to see, and I shall shew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.
5 And I said, Tell on, my lord. Then said he unto me, Go thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wind, or call me again the day that is past.
6 Then answered I, and said, What man is able to do that, that thou shouldst ask such things of me?
7 And he said unto me, If I should ask thee how great dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or how many springs are in the beginning of the deep, or how many springs are above the firmament, or which are the outgoings of paradise:
8 Peradventure thou wouldst say unto me, I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up into heaven.
9 Nevertheless, now have I asked thee but only of the fire and wind, and all the day whereby through them hast passed, and of things from which thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou give me an answer of them.

CHAP. IV.

1. The angel declareth the essence of Edras in God's agdiments, and adviceth him not to meddle with things above his reach. 2. Nevertheless Edras asketh divers questions, and receiveth answers to them.

CHAP. IV.

1 AND the angel that was sent unto me, whose name was Uriel, gave me an answer, 2 And said, The heart hath gone too far in this world, and thinkest thou to comprehend the way of the Most High? 3 Then said I, Yea, my lord. And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shew thee three ways, and to set forth three simulacres before thee: 4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way that thou desirest to see, and I shall shew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh. 5 And I said, Tell on, my lord. Then said he unto me, Go thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wind, or call me again the day that is past. 6 Then answered I, and said, What man is able to do that, that thou shouldst ask such things of me? 7 And he said unto me, If I should ask thee how great dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or how many springs are in the beginning of the deep, or how many springs are above the firmament, or which are the outgoings of paradise: 8 Peradventure thou wouldst say unto me, I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up into heaven. 9 Nevertheless, now have I asked thee but only of the fire and wind, and all the day whereby through them hast passed, and of things from which thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou give me an answer of them.
II. ESDRAS.

10 He said moreover unto me, Thine own things, and such as are grown up with thee, cast thou not know:
11 How should thy vessel then be able to comprehend the way of the Highest, and the world being now outwardly, to understand the corruption that is evident in my sight!
12 Then said I unto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that we should live still in wickedness, and to suffer, and not to know wherefore.
13 He answered me, and said, I went into a forest into a plain, and the trees took counsel, 14 And said, Come, let us go and make war against the sea, that it may depart not before me, and that we may make us more wood.
15 The floods of the sea also in like manner took counsel, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the woods of the plain, that there also we may make us another country.
16 The thought of the wood was in vain, for the fire came and consumed it.
17 The thought of the floods of the sea came likewise to naught, for the sand stood up and stopped them.
18 If thouwert judge now betwixt these two, whom wouldst thou begin to justify? or whom wouldst thou condemn?
19 I answered and said, Verily it is a foolish thought that they both have devised, for [the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to bear his] floods.
20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast given a right judgment, but why judgest thou not thyself also?
21 For like as [the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea to his floods; even so] they that dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon the earth: and he that dwelleth above the heavens may answer and the things that are above the height of the heavens.
22 Then answered I, and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, let me have understanding:
23 For it was not my mind to be curious of the high things, but of such as pass by us daily, namely, wherefore Israel is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loved is given over unto ungodly nations, and why the law of our forefathers is brought to naught, and the written covenants come to none effect,
24 And we pass away out of the world as grasshoppers, and our life is astonishment and fear, and we are not worthy to obtain mercy.
25 What will the Lord do to his name whereby we are called? of these things have I asked.
26 Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt marred; for the world hasted fast to pass away, 27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come; for this world is full of unrighteousness and infirmities.
28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I will tell thee; for the evil is sown, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.
29 If therefore that which is sown be not turned upside down, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, then cannot it come that is sown with good.
30 For the grain of evil seed hath been sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much ungodliness hath it brought upon unto this time? and how much shall it yet bring forth until the time of threshing come?
31 Ponder now by thyself, how great is the wickedness of the grain of evil seed hath brought forth.
32 And when the ears shall be cut down, which are without number, how great a floor shall they fill!
33 Then answered he, and said, How, and when shall these things come to pass? wherefore are our years few and evil?
5 And blood shall drop out of the wood, and the stone shall give his voice, and the people shall be troubled;
6 And even he shall rule whom they look not for that dwell upon the earth, and the foals shall take their flight away together.
7 And the Sodomish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known; but they shall all hear the voice thereof.
8 There shall be a confusion also in many places, and the fire shall be off itself out again, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and menstruous women shall bring forth monsters;
9 And salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall destroy one another: then shall it take itself, and understanding withdraw itself into his secret chamber,
10 And shall be sought of many, and yet not be found: then shall righteousness and incontinency be multiplied upon earth.
11 One hand also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness that maketh a man righteous gone through thee? and it shall say, No.
12 At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obtain: they shall labour, but their ways shall not prosper.
13 To shew thee such tokens I have leave: and if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and fast seven days, thou shalt hear yet greater things.
14 Then I looked, and an extreme fearfulness went through all my body, and my mind was troubled, so that it failed.
15 So the angel was come to talk with me held me, and comforted me, and set me up upon my feet.
16 And in the second night it came to pass, that Salathiel the captain of the angels came unto me, saying, Where hast thou been? and why is thy comeliness so heavy?
17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed unto thee in the land of their captivity?
18 Up then, and eat bread, and forsookest not, as the shepherd that beareth his flock in the hands of cruel wolves.
19 Then said I unto him, Go thy ways from me, and come not nigh me. And he heard what I said, and went from me.
20 And so I fasted seven days, mourning and weeping, like as was commanded me.
21 And after seven days so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous unto me again.
22 And my soul recovered the spirit of understanding; and I began to talk with the Most High again.
23 And said, O Lord that hearest rule, of every wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one only vine:
24 And of all lands of the whole world thou hast chosen thee one pit: and of all the flowers thereof one life:
25 And of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one river: and of all builded cities thou hast hallowed Sion unto thyself:
26 And of all the fowls that are created thou hast named thee one dove: and of all the cattle that are made thou hast provided thee one sheep:
27 And among all the multitude of peoples thou hast gotten thee one people: and unto this people, whom thou lovestdest, thou gavest a law that is approved of all.
28 And now, O Lord, why hast thou given this one people over unto many? and [upon the one root hast thou] prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thine only one people among many?
29 And they which did gainsay thy promises, and believed not thy covenants, have trodden them down.
30 If thou didst so much hate thy people, yet shouldst thou punish them with thine own hands.
31 Or, when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night afore was sent unto me, 32 And said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee; hearken to the thing that I say, and I shall tell thee more.
33 And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then he said unto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: lestest thou that people better than he that made the earth, and counted many years, shall be as a snare unto thee.
34 And I said, No, Lord: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins pained me every hour, while I laboured to comprehend the way of the Most High, and to seek the place of my patience.
35 And he said unto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord? whereunto was I born then? or why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the tears of the sons of the time? 36 And he said unto me, Number me the things that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, 37 Open the places that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, shew me the image of a voice: and then will I declare to thee the thing that thou hastest to know.
38 And I said, O Lord that hearest rule, who may know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?
39 As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof thou hast asked me!
40 Then said he unto me, like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so cannot thou find out my judgment, or in the end the love that I have promised unto my people.
41 And I said, Behold, O Lord, yet art thou nigh unto them that are reserved till the end: and what shall all they do that have been before me, or we that be now, or they that shall come after us?
42 And he said unto me, I will liken my judgment unto a ring: like as there is no slackness of the last, even so shall there be no slackness of the time. 43 So I answered and said, Couldst thou not make those that have been made, and be now, and that are for to come, at once; that thou mightest shew thy judgment the sooner?
44 Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste above the maker; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.
45 And I said, As thou hast said unto thy servant, that thou which givest life to all, hast given life at once to the creature that hast created, and the creature bare it; even so it might now also bear them that now he present at once.
46 And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth children, why dost thou it not together, but one after another? 47 And I said, She cannot; but must do it by distance of time.
48 Then said he unto me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be born in it in their times.
49 For like as a young child may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, even so have I disposed the world which I created.
50 And I asked and said, Seeing thou hast now given me the way, I will proceed to speak before thee; for our mother, of whom thou hast told me that she is young, drawable now nigh unto age.
51 He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee.
52 Say unto her, Verily are not they whom thou hast now brought forth, like those that were before, but less of stature?
53 And she shall uncover them, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age, when the womb faileth, are otherwise.
54 Consider thou therefore also, how that ye are less of stature than those that were before you.
55 And so are they that come after you less than ye, as the creatures which now begin to be old, and have passed over the strength of youth.
56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I have found favour in thy sight, show thy servant by whom thou vestest thy creature.

CHAPTER VI.
1 God's purpose is eternal. 2 The next world shall follow this immediately. 3 What shall fall out at the last. 4 He is promised more knowledge. 5 He reckoneth up the works of the creation, and comproportioneth that they have no part in the world for which it was made.
2 And he said unto me, In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the borders of the world stood, or ever the winds blew.
3 Before it was humbled and lightened, or ever the foundations of paradise were laid.
4 Before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the moveable powers were established, before the innumerable multitude of angels were gathered together.
5 Or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the chimneys in Sion were hot.
6 And ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the inventions of them that now sin were turned, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for a treasure.
7 Then did consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.
8 And he said unto me, From Abraham unto Isaac, when Jacob and Esau were born of him, Jacob's hand held forth the heel of Esau.
9 For Esau is the end of the world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.
10 The hand of man is bewitch the heel and the hand: other question, Esdras, seek thou not.
11 ¶ I answered then and said, O Lord that bearest rule, if I have found favour in thy sight.
12 I beseech thee, show thy servant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou showedst me part the last night.
13 So he answered and said unto me, Stand up upon thy feet, and hear a mighty sounding voice:
14 And it shall be as it were a great question; but the place where thou standest shall not be moved.
15 And therefore when it speaketh be not afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundation of the earth is understood.
16 And why? because the speech of these things trembleth and is moved: for it knoweth that the end of these things must be changed.
17 And it happened that when I had heard it I stood up on my feet, and heard it, and behold, there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters.
18 And it said, Behold, the days come, that I will begin to draw nigh, and to visit them that dwell upon the earth, 19 And will begin to make inquisition of them, what they be that have hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled.
20 And when the world, that shall begin to vanish away, shall be finished, then will I shew these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and they shall see all together.
21 And the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, and the woman with child shall bring forth unto her children three or four months old, and they shall live, and be raised up.
22 And suddenly shall the seven places appear unsown, the full storerooms shall suddenly be found empty:

II. ESDRAS.

| B.C. 456. | 23 And the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid.
| 24 At that time shall friends fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountain shall stand still, and in three hours they shall not run.
| 25 Whosoever remaineth from all these that I have told thee shall escape, and see my salvation, and the end of your world.
| 26 And the men that are received shall see it, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning.
| 27 For evil shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched.
| 28 As for faith, it shall flourish, corruption shall be overcome, and the truth which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared.
| 29 ¶ And when he talked with me, behold, I looked by little and little upon him before whom I stood.

30 And these words said he unto me: I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come.
31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seven days, I shall tell thee greater things by day than I have heard.
32 For thy voice is heard before the Most High: for the Mighty hath seen thy righteousness, he hath heard thy cry, and thy cry is heard, which thou hast had ever since thy youth.
33 And therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say unto thee, Be of good comfort, and fear not.
34 And he hasten not with the times that are past, to think vain things, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter times.
35 And it came to pass after this, that I wept again, and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfill the three weeks which he told me.
36 ¶ And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the Most High.
37 For thy spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress.
38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest from the beginning of the creation, even the first day, and saidst thus: Let heaven and earth be made; and thy word was a perfect work.
39 And then was the spirit, and darkness and silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet formed.
40 Then commandedst thou a fair light to come forth of thy treasures, that thy word might appear.
41 Upon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath.
42 Upon the third day thou didst command that the waters should be gathered in the seventh part of the earth; six parts hast thou dried up, and kept them, to the intent that of those some being planted of God and the might serve them.
43 For as soon as thy word went forth the work was made.
44 For immediately there was great and innumerable fruit, and many and divers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of unchangeable colour, and odours of wonderful smell: and this was done the third day.
45 Upon the fourth day thou commandedst that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in order:
46 And gavest them a charge to do service unto man, that was to be made.
Upon the fifth day thou didst unto the seventh part, wherefore the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes; and so it came to pass. For the dumb water and without life brought forth living things at the commandment of God, that all people might praise thy wonderful works.

Then didst thou ordain two living creatures, the one thou callest Enoch, and the other Leviathan; and thou didst separate the one from the other; for the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them both. Unto Enoch thou gavest one part, which was dried up the third day, that he should dwell in the same part, which was a thousand; and unto Leviathan thou gavest the seventh part, namely, the midst; and hast kept him to be devoured of whom wilt, and when.

Upon the sixth day thou gavest commandment unto the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattle, and creeping things:

And after these, Adam also, whom thou madest lord of all thy creatures: of him come we all, and the people also whom thou hast created.

All this have I made before thee, O Lord, because thou madest the world for our sakes.

As for the other people, which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, but be like unto spirits, and hast likened the abundance of them unto a drop that falleth from a hill:

And now, O Lord, behold, these heathen, which have ever been reputed as nothing, have begun to be lords over us, and to devour us.

But we thy people, whom thou hast called thy first-born, thy only-begotten, and thy fervent lover, are given into their hands.

If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess an inheritance with the world? How long shall this stand?

CHAPTER VII

The way is narrow. When it was made narrow. All shall die, and rise again. Christ shall sit in judgment. God hath not made paradise in vain. He is merciful.

ND when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me the angel which had been sent unto me the nights above:

And he said unto me, Up, Esdras, and write the words that I am come to tell thee.

And I said, Speak on, my God. Then said he unto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deep and great.

But put the car, the entrance were narrow, and like a river;

Who then could go into the sea to look upon it, and to rule it if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad?

There is also another thing: A city is builded, and set upon a broad field, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrow, and set in a dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water:

And one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once.

If this city now were given unto a man for an inheritance, if he never shall pass the danger set before it, how shall he receive this inheritance?

And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he unto me, Even so also is Israel's portion.

Because of their sakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done.

Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, full of sorrow and travail: they are but few and evil, full of perils, and very painful.

For the entrances of the fowler world were wide and sure, and brought immortal fruit.

If then they that live, labour not to enter these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them.

Now therefore why dost thou thyself, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, because thou art but mortal?

Why hast thou not considered in thy mind this thing that is to come, rather than that which is present?

Then answered I, and said, O Lord that bearest rule, thou hast ordained in thy time, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish.

Nevertheless, the righteous shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: for they that have done wickedly shall suffer strait things, and yet shall not see the wide.

And he said unto me, There is no judge above God, and none that hath understanding above the Highest.

For where be many that perish in this life, because they despise the law of God that is set before them.

21 For God hath given strait commandment to such as came, what they should do to live, even as they came, and what they should observe to avoid punishment.

22 Nevertheless, they were not obedient unto him; but spake against him, and imagined vain things;

And they likewise set themselves by their wicked deeds; and said of the Most High, that he is not; and knew not his ways:

24 But his law have they despised, and denied his covenant; in his statutes have they not been faithful, and have not performed his works.

25 And therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things.

Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I have told thee shall come to pass, and the bride shall appear, and she coming forth shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth.

And whosoever is delivered from the foresaid evils shall see my wonders.

For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and they that remain shall rejoice within four hundred years.

After these years shall my son Christ die, and all men that have life.

And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, and hear in the former judgments: so that no man shall remain.

And after seven days the world, that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corrupt.

And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell in silence, and the secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed unto them.

And the Most High shall appear upon the seat of judgment, and misery shall pass away, and the long-suffering shall have an end:

But judgment only shall remain, truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong:

And the work shall flourish, and the reward shall be shewed, and the good deeds shall be of force, and wicked deeds shall bear no rule.

Then said I, 'Abraham prayed first for the Sidomites, and Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness.

And Jesus after him for Israel in the time of [Achan]:

And Samuel and [David for the destruction: and Solomon for them that should come to the sanctuary:

And [Helias for those that received rain: and for the dead, that he might live:

And [Ezechias for the people in the time of Shemacher: and many for many.

Even as now, sow corruption is grown up, and wickedness increased, and the righteous have prayed for the ungodly: wherefore shall it not be so now also?
II. ESDRAS.

that are leavened with his word, and put out the multitude of leaven;

70 There should be very few left periladventure in an innumerable multitude.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Many created, but few saved. 6 He asks why God destroyeth his own work, and prayeth God to look upon the people which are left by him. 4 God answereth, that all seed cometh not good, and that glory is prepared for him, and such like.

And he answered me, saying, The Most High hath made this world for many, but the world to come for few.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, Esdras: As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth much, but much wast of the earthen vessels are made, but little dust that gold containeth: even so is the course of this present world.

3 There be many created, but few shall be saved.

4 So answered I, and said, Swallow thou down, O soul, understanding, and devour wisdom.

5 For thou hast agreed to give ear, and art willing to prophesy: for thou hast no longer space than only to live.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy servant, that we may pray before thee, and [thus] give us seed unto our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it; how shall each man live that is corrupt, who beareth the place of a man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all one workmanship of the hands, like as thou hast said.

8 For [when] the body is fashioned now in the mother’s womb, and thou givest it members, thy creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine months doth thy workmanship endure thy creature which is created in her.

9 But that which keepeth and is kept shall both be preserved: and when the time cometh, the womb preserved delivereth up the things that grew in it.

10 For thou hast commanded out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, milk to be given, which is the fruit of the breasts.

11 That the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest it to thy mercy.

12 Thou broughtest it up with thy righteousness, and established it in thy law, and reformed it with thy judgment.

13 And thou shalt mortify it as thy creature, and quicken it as thy work.

14 If therefore thou shalt destroy him which with so great labour was fashioned, it is an easy thing to be ordained by thy commandment, that the thing which was made might be preserved.

15 Now therefore, Lord, I will speak: touching man in general, thou knowest best; but touching thy people, for whose sake I am sorry.

16 And for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and for Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled;

17 Therefore will I begin to pray before thee for myself, and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land.

18 But I have heard the swiftness of the judge which is to come.

19 Therefore hear my voice, and understand my words, and I shall speak before thee. This is the beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken up: and I said:

20 O Lord, thou that dwellest in everlastingness, which beholdest from above things in the heaven and in the air:

21 Whose throne is inestimable: whose glory may not be comprehended: before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling;

22 Whose service is conversant in wind and fire;
whose word is true, and sayings constant; whose commandment is strong, and ordinance fearful;
23 Whose look drieth up the depths, and indignation maketh the mountains to melt away; which the truth witnessed:
24 O hear the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy creature;
25 For while I live I will speak, and so long as I have understanding I will answer.
26 O look not upon the sins of thy people; but on them which have thee in truth.
27 Regard not the wicked inventions of the heathen, but the desire of those that keep thy testimonies in afflictions.
28 Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before thee; but remember them, which according to thy will have known thy fear.
29 Let it not be thy will to destroy them which have lived like beasts; but to look upon them that have clearly taught thy law.
30 Take no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts; but love them that always put their trust in thy righteousness and glory.
31 For we and our fathers [do] languish of such diseases; but because of our sinners thou shalt be called merciful.
32 For if thou [hast] a desire to have mercy upon us, thou shalt be called merciful, to us namely, that have no works of righteousness.
33 For the just, which have many good works laid up with thee, shall out of their own deeds receive reward.
34 For what is man, that thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible generation, that thou shouldest be so bitter toward it?
35 For in truth there is no man among them that is born, but he hath dealt wickedly; and among the faithful there is none which hath not done amiss.
36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodness shall be declared, if thou be merciful unto them which have not the confidence of good works.
37 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words it shall be.
38 For indeed I will not think on the disposition of them which have sinned before death, before judgment, before destruction;
39 But I will rejoice over the disposition of the righteous, and I will remember also their pilgrimage, and the salvation, and the reward, that they shall have.
40 Like as I have spoken now, so shall it come to pass.
41 For as the husbandman soweth meet seed upon the ground, and scattereth many trees, and yet the thing that is sown good in his season cometh not up, neither doth all that is planted take root: even so is it of them that are sown in the world; they shall not all be saved.
42 I answered then, and said, If I have found grace, let me speak.
43 Like as the husbandman's seed perisheth, if it come not up, and receiver not thy rain in due season; or if there come too much rain, and corrupt it;
44 Even so perisheth man also, which is formed with thy hands, and is called thine own image, because thou art like unto him, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and likened him unto the husbandman's seed.
45 He doth not work with us, but spare thy people, and have mercy upon thine own inheritance: for thou art merciful unto thy creature.
46 Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for the present, and things to come for such as be to come.
47 For thou comest far short that thou shouldst be able to love my creature more than 1: but I have oftentimes drawn nigh unto thee, and unto it, but never to the unrighteous.
48 In this also thou art marvellous before the Most High:

CHAP. IX. APOCRYPHA.

19 In that thou hast humbled thyself, as it becometh thee, and hast not judged thyself worthy to be much glorified among the righteous:
20 For many great miseries shall be done to them in the latter time shall dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride,
21 But understand then thyself, and seek out the glory for such as be like thee,
22 For unto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, pleasure is made ready, a city is blessed, and rest is allowed, yea, perfect sanctuary and wisdom,
23 The rest of evil is sealed up from you, weakness and the mother is hid from you, and corruption is fled into hell to be forgotten;
24 Sorrows are ceased, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortality,
25 And therefore ask thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.
26 For when they had taken liberty, they despised the Most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways.
27 Moreover they have trodden down his righteous, 28 And said in their heart, that there is no God; yes, and that knowing they must die.
29 For in the things abroad which they received, so thirst and pain are prepared for them: for it was not his will that men should come to naught;
30 But they which he created have defined the name of him that made them, and were unthankful unto him which preparèd life for them.
31 And therefore is my judgment now at hand.
32 These things have I not shewed unto all men, but unto thee, and a few like thee. Then answered I, and said, 33 Be not O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders which thou wilt begin to do in the last times: but at what time thou hast not shewed me.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Who shall be saved, and who not. 19 All the world is now corrupted: 22 Yet thou dost save a few. 23 Follow compassion that thou mayest perish which keep God's law. 34 He seek a woman assuming a holes.

H

E answered me then, and said, Measure thou the time diligently in itself; and when thou seest part of the signs past, which I have told thee before,
3 Then shalt thou understand, that it is the very same time, wherein the Highest will begin to visit the world which he made.
4 Therefore when there shall be seen earthquakes and uproars of the people in the world,
5 Then shall they begin to visit the world, that the Highest spake of those things from the days that were before thee, even from the beginning.
6 For like as all that is made in the world hath a beginning and an end, and the end is manifest:
7 Even so the times also of the Highest have plain beginnings in wonders and powerful works, and endings in effects and signs.
8 And every one that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his works, and by faith, whereby ye have received salvation,
9 Shall be preserved from the said perils, and shall see my salvation in my hand, and within my borders: for I have sanctified thee for me from the beginning.
10 Then shall they be in pitiful case, which now have abused my ways: and they that have cast them away despitably shall dwell in torment.
11 For such as in their life have received benefits, and have not known me:

APOCRYPHA.
11 And then answered I, and said,
12 And I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter, that there be many more of them which perish, than of them which shall be saved:
13 Like as a wave is greater than a drop.
14 And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed; as the flowers be, so are the colours also; such as the workman is, such also is the work; and as the husbandman is, so is his husbandry also: for it was the time of the world.
15 And now when I prepared the world which was not yet made, even for them to dwell in that now live, no man spake against me.
16 For then every one obeyed: 'What now the manners of them which are created in this world that is made are corrupted by a perpetual seed, and by a law which is unsearchable rid themselves.
17 So I considered the world, and beheld, there was peril because of the devices that were come into it.
18 And I saw, and spared it greatly, and have kept me a grape of the cluster, and a plant of a great people.

22 Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain; and let my grape be kept, and my plant: for with great labour have I made it perfect.
23 Nevertheless, if thou wilt cease yet seven days more, (lest thou shalt not fast in them)
24 But go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eat only the flowers of the field; taste no flesh, drink no wine, but eat flowers only.)
25 And pray unto the Highest continually, then will I come and talk with thee.
26 So I went my way into the field which is called Arslath, 'Like as he commanded me; and there I sat among the flowers, and dined out of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me.
27 After seven days I sat upon the grass, and my heart was vexed with in me, 'like as before:
28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talk before the Most High, and the Lord.
29 O Lord, thou that showest thyself unto us, thou wast showed unto our fathers in the wilderness, in a place where no man was, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt.
30 And thou spakest saying, Hear me, O Israel; and mark my words, thou seed of Jacob;
31 For behold, I sow my law in you, and it shall bring fruit in you, and ye shall be honoured in it for ever.
32 But our fathers, which received the law, kept it not, and observed not thine ordinances: and though the fruit of thy law did not perish, neither could it, for it was thine;
33 Yet they that received it perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them.
34 And lo, it is a custom, when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, that, that being perished wherein it was sown or cast into,
35 That thing also which was sown or cast therein, or received, doth perish, and remaineth not with us: but with us it hath not happened so.
36 For we that have received the law 'perish by sin, and our heart also which receiveth it.
37 Notwithstanding, 'the law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.
38 'And when I speak these things in my heart, I looked back with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw a woman, and beheld, she mourned and wept with a sad voice, and was much grieved in heart, and her clothes were rent, and she had ashes upon her head.
39 Then let my thoughts go that I was in, and turned me unto her,
22. Our poultry is laid on the ground, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end, the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us is almost profaned: our children are put to shame, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished: our righteous men carried away, our little ones destroyed, our young men put forth in bondage, and our strong men become slaves.

23. And, which is the greatest of all, the seal of Sion hath now lost her honour: for she is delivered into the hands of them that hate us.

24. And therefore we shall shake off thy great heavens, and put away the multitude of seraphs, that the Mighty may mercifully utter thee again, and the Highest shall give thee rest and ease from thy labour.

25. And it came to pass, while I was walking with my beholding, and my face upon a sudden shone exceeding, and her comeliness glistered, so that I was afraid of her, and knew what it might be.

26. And beholding, suddenly she made a great cry, very fearful: so that the earth shook at the noise of the woman.

27. And I looked, and beholding, the woman appeared unto me no more, but there was a city builded, and a great place shewed itself from the foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Where is the angel, who came unto me at the first? for he hath caused me to fall into many trances, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to be rebuke.

28. And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came unto me, and looked upon me.

29. And lo, I lay this one that had been dead, and mine understanding was taken from me: and he took me by the right hand, and comforted me, and set me upon my feet, and said unto me, What art thou that thou knowest me? and why art thou thus discontented? and why is thine understanding troubled, and the thoughts of thy heart?

30. And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me, and yet I did according to thy words, and I went into the field, and lo, I have seen, and yet, that I am not able to express.

31. And he said unto me, Stand up unmanfully, and I will advise thee.

32. Then said I, Speak on, my lord, in me; only forsake me not, lest I die, and frustrate of my hope.

33. For I have seen that I know not, and I do not know what I do not know.

34. Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream?

35. Now therefore, I beseech thee, that thou wilt shew thy servant of this vision: for I have heard that great things are spoken in thy name.

36. He answered me then, and said, Hear me, and I will shew thee these things; and I will tell thee therefore thou art afraid: for the Highest will reveal many secret things unto thee.

37. He hath shewn that thy way is right: for that thou sorrrowest continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

38. This therefore is the meaning of the vision which thou lately sawest:

39. Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou comfortest to comfort her:

40. But thou seest then the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared unto thee a city builded.

41. And whereas she said unto thee, that she hath been thirty years barren: these are the thirty years wherein there was no offering made in her.

42. But after thirty years Solomon builded the city, and offered offerings; and then bore the barren a son.

43. And whereas she told thee that she nourished him with labour: that was the dwelling in Jerusalem.

44. But whereas she said unto thee, That my son coming into his marriage-camarade happened to have a fall, and died: this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem.

45. And behold, thou seest her likeness, because she mourned for her son, than beganst to comfort her: and of these things which have changed, these must to be opened unto thee.

46. For now the High Sees that thou hast grieved uniquely, and suffered from thy whole heart for her, so hath he shewed thee the brightness of her glory, and the conjunctions of her beauty.

47. And therefore I know thee remain in the field where no horse was builded.

48. For I knew that the Highest would shew this unto thee.

49. Therefore I commanded thee to go into the field, where no foundation of any building was, and put the place where the Highest becometh to show his city, there can no man’s building be able to stand.

50. And therefore shew not her heart be afflicted, but go thy way in, see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see:

51. And then shalt thou hear as much as thine ears may comprehend.

52. For the city will be blessed above many other, and [art called with the Highest]: and so are but few.

53. But tomorrow at night thou shalt remain here;

54. And so shalt the Highest shew thee visions of the high things, which the Most High will do unto them that dwell upon earth in these days, so I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

CHAPTER XI.

He seeth in his dream an eagle coming out of the sea, and a lion out of a wood talking in the eagle.

1. And I said, I have a dream, and beholding, these came up from the sea an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three heads.

2. And I saw, and beheld, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of the air blew on her, and were gathered together.

3. And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grew other contrary feathers; and they became little feathers and great.

4. But her heads were at rest; the head in the midst was greater than the other, yet rested fit with the residue.

5. Moreover I beheld, and lo, the eagle flew with her feathers untrimmed and over earth, and over them that dwelt therein.

6. And I saw that all things under heaven were subject unto her, and no man spake against her, no, not one creature upon earth.

7. And lo, I beheld, and the eagle rose upon her talons, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8. Watch not all at once: sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course;

9. But let the heads be preserved for the last.

10. And I beheld, and lo, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body.

11. And I numbered her contrary feathers, and beholding, there were eight of them.

12. And I looked, and beholding, on the right side there arose some feather, and reigned over all the earth; and it became a great time.

13. And so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next following stood up and reigned, and had a great time.

14. And it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, like as the first, so that it appeared no more.
II. ESDRAS.

15 Then came there a voice unto it, and said,
16 'Hear thou that hast borne rule over the earth so long: this I say unto thee, before thou appear no more.
17 There shall none after thee attain unto thy time, neither unto the half thereof.
18 Then arose the third, and reigned as the other before, and appeared no more also.
19 So went it with all the residue after another, as that everyone returned, and then appeared no more.
20 Then I beheld, and lo, in process of time the feathers that followed stood up upon the right side, that they might rule also; and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more.
21 For some of them were set up, but Axed not.
22 After this I looked, and behold, the twelve feathers appeared no more, nor the two little feathers:
23 And there was no more upon the eagle's body, but three heads that rested, and six little wings.
24 Then saw I also that two little feathers divided themselves from the six: for the four continued in their place.
25 And I beheld, and lo, the feathers that were under the wing thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule.
26 And I beheld, and lo, there was one set up, but shortly 'it appeared no more.
27 And the second was sooner away than the first,
28 And I beheld, and lo, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign:
29 And when they so thought, behold, there appeared one of the heads that were at rest, namely, it that was in the midst; for that was greater than the two other heads.
30 And then I saw that the two other heads were joined with it.
31 And behold, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat upon the two feathers under the wing that would have reigned.
32 But this head put the whole earth in fear, and bare rule in it over all those that dwelt upon the earth with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been.
33 And after this I beheld, and lo, the head that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings.
34 But there remained the two heads, which also in sort ruled upon the earth, and over those that dwelt therein.
35 And I beheld, and lo, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side.
36 Then I heard a voice, which spake unto me: 'Look before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.'
37 And I beheld, and lo, as it were a mighty lion chased out of the woods; and I saw that he sent out a man's voice unto the eagle, and said, 38 Hear thou, I will talk with thee, and the Highest shall say unto thee.
39 Art not thou it that remained of the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of their times might come through them?
40 And the fourth came, and overcome all the beasts that were past, and had power over the world with great fearfulness, and over the whole compass of the earth with much wicked oppression; and so long time dwelt he upon the earth with deceit.
41 For the earth hast thou not judged with truth.
42 For thou hast afflicted, thou hast hurt the peaceable, thou hast loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast down the walls of such as did thee no harm.
43 Therefore is thy wrongful dealing come up unto the Highest, and thy pride unto the Mighty.

14 The Highest also hath looked upon the proud times, and behold, they are ended, and his abominations are fulfilled.
15 And therefore appear no more, thou eagle, nor thy terribly wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, nor thy hurtful claws, nor all thy vain body:
16 That all the earth may be refreshed, and may return, being delivered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the judgment and mercy of him that made her.

CHAPTER XII.
1 The eagle which he saw was destroyed. 2 The vision is interpretation. 3 He is to write his visions, and to set, that he may see more. 4 He doth comfort those that were grieved for his absence.

ND it came to pass, while the lion spoke these words unto the eagle, I saw,
2 And behold, the head that remained, and the four wings appeared no more, and the two went unto it, and set themselves up to reign, and their kingdom was small and full of jurors.
3 And I saw, and behold, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I out of the trouble and trance of my mind, and from great fear, and said unto my spirit.
4 Lo, what thou hast done unto me, in that thou seest out the ways of the Highest.
5 Lo, yet am I weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; and little strength is there in me, for the great fear wherein I was a'affrighted this night.
6 Then there will I now beseech the Highest, that he will comfort me unto the end.
7 'And I said, Lord, 'tis bearest rule, if I have found grace before thy sight, and if I am justified with these before many others, and if my prayer indeed came before thy face:
8 Comfort me then, and 'shew me thy servant the interpretation and plain difference of this fearful vision, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soul.
9 For thou hast judged me worthy to shew me the last times.
10 'And he said unto me, This is the interpretation of the vision:
11 The eagle whom thou sawest come up from the sea, is the kingdom which was seen in the vision of thy brother Daniel.
12 But it was not expounded unto him, therefore now I declare it unto thee.
13 Behold, the days will come, that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be fiercer above all the kingdoms that were before it.
14 In the same shall twelve kings reign, one after another:
15 Whereof the second shall begin to reign, and shall have more time than any of the twelve.
16 And this do the twelve wings signify, which thou sawest.
17 As for the voice which thou hearest speak, and that thou sawest 'not to go out from the heads, but from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation.
18 That after the time of that kingdom there shall arise great strivings, and it shall stand in peril of falling; nevertheless, it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to his beginning.
19 And whereas thou sawest the eight small under feathers sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation:
20 That in him there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift.
21 And two of them shall perish, the middle time approaching; four shall be kept until their end begin to approach; but two shall be kept unto the end.
22 And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation:
23 In his last days shall the Most High raise up three kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall have the dominion of the earth.
21 And of these that dwell therein, with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called "hoads of the eagle." 22 For these are they that shall accomplish his wickedness, and that shall finish his last end. 23 And whereas thou seest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall disappear upon his bed, and yet with pain. 24 For the two that remain shall be slain with the sword. 25 For the sword of the one shall devour the other; but at the last shall he fall through the sword himself. 26 And whereas thou sawest two triangles under the wings passing over the head that is on the right side: 27 It signifieth that these are they whom the Highest hath kept unto their end: this is the small kingdom and fall of trouble, as thou sawest. 28 This is the lamentation, which the Highest hath kept for them and for their wickedness unto the end: he shall reproach them, and shall upbraid them with their cruelty. 29 For he shall set them before him alive in judgment, and shall rebuke them and correct them. 30 For the rest of my people shall be delivered with mercy, those that have been preserved upon my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the day of judgment, whereof I have spoken unto thee in the house of the king. 31 This is the dream that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations. 32 Thou only hast been meet to know this secret of the Highest. 33 Therefore write all these things that thou hast seen in a book, and hide them: 34 And teach them to the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and keep these secrets. 35 But wait thou there thyself yet seven days more, that it may be shewed thee, whatsoever it pleaseth the Highest to declare unto thee. And with that he went his way. 36 And it came to pass, when all the people saw that the seven days were passed, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and said, 37 What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done that thou hast caused us, and sittest here in this place? 38 For of all the prophets thou only art left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a candel in a dark place, and as a haven or ship preserved from the tempest. 39 Are not the evils which are come unto us sufficient? 40 If thou shalt forsake us, how much better had it been for us if we also had been burned in the midst of Sion! 41 For we are not better than they that died there. And they went with a loud voice. Then answered I them, and said, 42 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heavy, thou house of Jacob! 43 For the Highest hath gone in remembrance, and the Mighty hath not forgotten you in temptation. 44 As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for the desolation of Sion, and also that God might seek mercy for the holy estate of your sanctuary. 45 And now go your way home every man, and after these days will I come unto you.
nations that are gathered together, the shall defend his people that remain,
And then shall he shew them great wonders.
Then shall I, O Lord, that bearest rule, shew me this mystery before thou seest the man coming up from the midst of the sea?
And he said unto me, Like as thou canst neither seek out nor know the things that are in the deep of the sea; even so can no man upon earth see my Son, or those that be with him, but in the day-time.
This is the interpretation of the dream which thou sawest, and whereby thou only art here enlightened.
For thou hast forsaken thine own way, and applied thy diligence unto thy way, and mightily delivered thine own city, and wast therein a very peaceable people.
Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, and hast called understanding thy mother.
And therefore have I shewed thee the treasures of the Highest: after other three days I will speak other things unto thee, and declare unto thee mighty and wonderful things.
Then went I forth into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly unto the Most High because of his wonders which he did in time:
And because he conformed the same, and such things as fall in their seasons: and there I sat three days.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 A voice out of a bush calleth Esdras, and beheld him that the world was going to perdition. 2 He desired letters of thine own hand, to write all again, and to get what thou wouldest. 3 He and they were filled with exceeding amazement. 4 But he charged not to publish all that was written.

ND it came pass upon the third day, I sat under an oak, and behold, there came a voice out of a bush over against me, and said, Esdras, Esdras!
2 And I said, Here am I, Lord.
3 And I stood up upon my feet.
4 Then he spake unto me, and the bush I did manifestly reveal myself unto Moses, and talked with him, when my people served in Egypt:
5 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him up to the mount of Sinai, where I held him by me a long season,
6 And told him many wonderful things, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end; and commanded him, saying,
7 These words shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou write on the door of the house of thy lord, and in the midst of the city among the ten tribes, which were carried away, and setteth up in the midst of the city.
8 And shall lay before them their evil thoughts, and the tokens wherewith they shall begin to be tormented, which are like unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law which is like unto fire.

And whereas thou sarest that he gathered another peaceable multitude unto him:
10 Those are the ten tribes, which were carried away, and notwithstanding the king of Ashur casted him away, and carried them over the waters, and so came into another land.
11 But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never man kind dwelt.

And that they might keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land, 13 And they entered into Elephath by the narrow passages of the river.
14 For the Most High then shewed signs for them, and held still the flood, till they were passed over.
15 For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half; and the same region is called Ararat:

Then dwelt they there until the latter time: and now when they shall begin to come,

The Highest shall play the springs of the stream again, that they may go through; therefore sarest thou the multitude with peace.
And those that be left behind of thy people are they that are found within my borders.
Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the 11. Know this therefore, that they which he left behind are more blessed than they that be dead.

12. This is the meaning of the vision: Whereas thou sawest a man coming up from the midst of the sea: The same is he whom God the Highest hath kept a great season, which by his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind.
13. And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of wind, and fire, and storm: And that he held another sword, not by instrument of war, but that the rushing in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to subdue him: this is the interpretation:
14. Behold, the days come, when the Most High will begin to deliver them that are upon the earth.
15. And he shall come to the astonishment of them that dwell on the earth.
16. And some shall undertake to fight against another, one city against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realm against another.
17. And the time shall be when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I shewed thee before, and then shall Son be declared, whom thou sawest as a man ascended.
18. And when all the people hear his voice, every man shall be in his own land be the battle they have one against another.
19. And an immemorable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest them, willing to come, and to overcome him by fighting.
20. But he shall stand upon the top of the Mount Sinai.
21. And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and huddled, like as thou sawest the hill graves without hands.
22. And this my Son shall rebuke the wicked inventions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest:
23. And shall lay before them their evil thoughts, and the tokens wherewith they shall begin to be tormented, which are like unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law which is like unto fire.
24. And whereas thou sarest that he gathered another peaceable multitude unto him:
25. Those are the ten tribes, which were carried away, and notwithstanding the king of Assyria casted him away, and carried them over the waters, and so came into another land.
26. But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never man kind dwelt.
27. And that they might keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land, me, and reprieve the people which are present; but they that shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? thus the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light.

21 For the law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of these, or the works that shall begin:

22 But if I have found grace before thee, send the Holy Ghost into me, and I will write all that hath been done in the world since the beginning, which were written in the law, that men may find thy path, and that they which live in the latter days may live.

23 And he answered me, saying, Go thy way, gather the people together, and say unto them, that they seek thee not for forty days:

24 But look thou, prepare thee many box-trees, and take with thee Saba, Dabria, Semeia, Remus, and Asiël, these five which are ready to write swiftly:

25 And come hither, and I shall light a candle of understanding in thy heart, which shall not be put out till the things be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And when thou hast done, some things shall thou publish, and some things shall thou shew secretly to the wise: to-morrow this shall begin thou to write.

27 Then went I forth as he commanded, and gathered all the people together, and said,

28 Hear these words, and hear:

29 Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were delivered;

30 And received the law of life, which they kept not, which ye also have transgressed after them.

31 Then was the land, even the land of Canaan, part-ed among you by lot; but your fathers, and ye yourselves, have done mischiefs, and have not kept the ways which the Highest commanded you.

32 And whatsoever he is a righteous judge, he took from you in time the thing that he had given you.

33 And now are ye here and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore, if so be that ye will sunder your own understanding, and reform your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall obtain mercy.

35 For after death the judgment come, when we shall live again; and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the works of the ungodly shall be detected:

36 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me these forty days:

37 So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went into the field, and remained there.

38 And the next day, behold, a voice called me, saying, Edres, upon thy mouth, and drink that I give thee to drink.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and beheld, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I took it, and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for my spirit strengthened my memory:

41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.

42 The Highest gave understanding unto the five men, and they wrote the wonderful visions of the night that were told, which they knew not; and they sat forty days, and they wrote in the day, and at night they were bread.

43 As for me, I spake in the day, and I held not my tongue by night.

44 In forty days they wrote two hundred and four books.

45 And it came to pass, when the forty days were fulfilled, that the Highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written publish openly, that the worthy and unworthy may read it:

46 But keep the seventy last, that thou mayest deliver them only to such as he b[wise among the people of God.

47 For in them is the spring of understanding, the fountain of wisdom, and the stream of knowledge.

18 And I did so.

CHAPTER XV.

1 This people is corrupt. 2 God will take vengeance upon the wicked, and upon Egypt. 3 A horrible woe. 4 Behold and Awake therefore!

EHOLD, speak thou in the ears of my people, the words of prophecy, which I will put in the mouth, saith the Lord:

2 And cause them to be written in a book, for they are faithful and true.

3 Fear not the imaginations against thee; let not the incredulity of them trouble thee that speak against thee.

4 For all the unfaithful shall die in their unfaithfulness.

5 Behold, with the Lord, I will bring plagues upon the world; the sword, famine, death, and destruction.

6 For wickedness hath exceedingly polluted the whole earth, and their hurtful works are fulfilled.

7 Therefore, saith the Lord:

8 I will hold my tongue no more as touching their wickedness which they profusely commit, neither will I suffer them in these things in which they wickedly exercise themselves; behold, the innocent and righteous blood crieth unto me, and the souls of the just complain continually.

9 And therefore, saith the Lord, I will surely avenge them, and receive unto me all the innocent blood from among them.

10 Behold, my people is slain as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt:

11 But I will bring them with a mighty hand and a stretched-out arm, and smite Egypt with plagues, as before, and will destroy all the land thereof.

12 Egypt shall mourn, and the foundation of it shall be smitten with the plague and punishment that God shall bring upon it.

13 They that till the ground shall mourn: for their seeds shall fall through the blasting and hail, and with a fearful constillation.

14 Who to the world, and them that dwell therein!

15 For the sword and their destruction draweth high; and one people shall stand up to fight against another, and swords in their hands.

16 For there shall be sedition among men, and invading another; they shall not regard their kings nor princes, and the course of their actions shall stand in their power.

17 A man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able.

18 For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid.

19 A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.

20 Behold, saith God, I will call together all the kings of the earth to reverence me, which are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them.

21 Like as they do ye this day unto my chosen, so will I deal and recompense in their bosom. This saith the Lord God:

22 My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent blood upon the earth.

23 The fire is gone forth from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the stubble that is kindled.

21 "Wo to them that sin, and keep not my commandments! saith the Lord.

25 I will not spare them: go your way, ye children, from the power, devil not my sanctuary.

26 For the Lord hateth all them that sin against him, and therefore delivereth he unto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come upon the whole earth, and ye shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you, because ye have sinned against him.

28 Behold a terrible vision, and the appearance thereof from the east:

29 Where the nations of the dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and the multitude of them shall be carried as the wind upon earth, that all they which bear them may fear and tremble.

30 Also the Canaanites running in wrath shall go forth as the wild beasts of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

31 And then shall the "dragons have the upper hand, remembering their nature: and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them, 32 Then shall they be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall lie.

33 And from the land of the Assyrians shall the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their host shall be fear and dread, and strife among their kings.

34 Behold, clouds from the east and from the north into the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm.

35 They shall smite one another, and they shall smite down a great multitude of stars upon the earth, even their own stars; and blood shall be from the sword unto the belly.

36 And dung of men unto the camel's [though.

37 And there shall be great fearfulness and trembling upon earth: and they that see the wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall come upon them.

38 And then shall there come great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west.

39 And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall open in which he raised up in wrath, and the star stirred to cause fear toward the east and west wind, shall be destroyed.

40 The great and mighty clouds shall be lifted up full of wrath, and the star, that they may make all the earth afraid, and then shall they be smitten; and they shall pour out upon every high and eminent place a horrible star.

41 "Fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all fields may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn.

43 And they shall go steadfastly unto Babylon, and make her afraid.

44 They shall come to her, and besiege her, the star and all wrath shall they pour upon her: then shall the dust and smoke go up unto the heavens, and all they that be about her shall bewail her.

45 And they that remain under her shall do service unto them that have put her in fear.

46 And then, Asia, that art partner of the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person;

47 Wo be unto thee, thou wretch, because thou hast made thyself like unto her; and hast decked thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in thy lovers, which have always desired to commit whoredom with thee!

48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her works and inventions: therefore saith God, 49 I will send plagues upon thee: widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glory of thy power shall be dried up as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over thee.

51 Thou shalt be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that the mighty and lovers shall not be able to receive thee.

52 Would I with jealousies so have proceeded against thee, saith the Lord, 53 If thou hast not always shined thy chosen, exciting the stroke of thy hand, and saying over their head, when thou wast drunken.

54 Set forth the beauty of thy countenance?

55 The reward of thy whoredom shall be in thy bosom, therefore shalt thou receive recompense.

56 Like as thou hast done unto my chosen, with the Lord, even so shall God do unto thee, and shall deliver thee into mischief.

57 Thy children shall die of hunger, and then shall fall through the sword: thy cities shall be broken down, and all things shall perish with the sword in the field.

58 They that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.

59 Then as unmerciful shalt thou come through the sea, and receive plagues again.

60 And in the passage they shall rush on the idle city, and shall destroy some portion of thy land, and consume part of the glory, and shall return to “Babylon that was destroyed.”

61 And then shall be cast down by them as stubble, and they shall be unto thee as fire:

62 And shall consume thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountains; all thy woods and thy fruitful trees shall they burn up with fire.

63 Thy children shall carry away captive, and look, what thou hast, they shall spoil it, and jar the beauty of thy face.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Babylon and other places are threatened with plagues that cannot be controlled, and with desolation. To the servants of the Lord must look for deliverance; and not hide their eyes, but leave them, and they shall be delivered.

2 O be unto thee, Babylon and Asia! be unto thee, Egypt and Samaria!

3 Gird up yourselves with cloths of sack and hair, bewail your children, and be sorry; for your destruction is at hand.

4 A fire is sent upon you, and who may turn it back?

5 A fire is sent among you, and who may quench it?

6 Plagues are sent unto you, and what is he that may drive them away?

7 May my hand drive away a hungry lion in the wood? or may any one quench the fire in stubble, when it hath begun to burn!

8 May one turn again the arrow that is shot of a strong archer?

9 The mighty Lord sendeth the plagues, and who is he that can drive them away?

10 A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that may quench it?

11 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not be threatened, and who shall not be utterly beaten to powder at his presence?

12 The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; the sea riseth up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it are troubled, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lord, and before the glory of his power!

13 For strong is his right hand that beareth the
CHAPTER XVI

He that soweth, as he that should not reap: so also he that planteth the vineyard, as he that should not gather the grapes.

44 They that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowers.

45 And before they that labour, labour in vain;

46 For strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captives; for in captivity and famine shall they get children.

47 And they that occupy their merchandise with robbery, the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons.

48 The more will he be angry with them for their sin, with the Lord.

49 Like as a whore entwist her right honest and virtuous woman;

50 So shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh herself to her face, when he cometh that shall defend him diligently 'searcheth out every sin upon earth.

51 And therefore be ye not like thereto, nor to the works thereof.

52 For yet a little, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign among you.

53 Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned; for God shall burn coals of fire upon his head, which burn before the Lord God and his glory, I have not sinned.

54 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts;

55 Which spake but the word, Let the earth be made, and it was made: Let the heaven be made, and it was created.

56 In this word were the stars made, and he knoweth the number of them.

57 He searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof; he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.

58 He hateth the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth upon the waters.

59 He spreadeth out the heavens like a vault; upon the waters hath he founded it.

60 In the desert hath he made springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, that the floods might pour down from the high rocks to water the earth.

61 He made man, and put his heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and understanding.

62 Yea, and the Spirit of Almighty God, which made all things, and searcheth out all hidden things in the secrets of the earth.

63 Surely he knoweth your inventions, and what ye think in your hearts, even them that sin, and would hide their sin.

64 Therefore hath the Lord exactly searched out all your sins, and he will put you all to shame.

65 And when your sins are brought forth, ye shall be ashamed before men, and your own sins shall be your accusers in that day.

66 What will ye do? for how will ye hide your sins before God and his glory?

67 Behold, God himself is the judge, fear him; leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to mingle no more with them for ever; so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all trouble.

68 For behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and feed you, [being] idle, with things offered unto idols.

69 And they that consent unto them shall be had in abhorrence in Israel, and reproach under foot.

70 For there shall be in every place, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those that fear the Lord.

71 They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but still spilling and destroying those that fear the Lord.

72 For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out of their houses.

73 Then shall they be known who are my chosen; and they shall be tried as the gold in the fire.

74 Hear, O ye my beloved, saith the Lord; behold, the days of trouble are at hand, and I will deliver you from the same.

75 Be ye not afraid, neither doubt; for God is your guide.

76 And the guide of them who keep my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord God; let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your iniquities lift themselves.

77 We be unto them that are bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities, like as a field is covered over with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man may travel through!

78 It is left undressed, and is cast into the fire to be consumed therewith.

CHAPTER I.

1 Tobit's stock and descent in his youth. His marriage and captivity. His imprisonment, abasement, and charity in bearing the load, for which he is accused and fleeth, and after returneth to Nineveh.

2 The book of the words of Tobit, son of Tobiel, the son of Hananya, the son of Ashriel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asael, of the tribe of Nephtali:

3 Who in the time of Enemessar king of the Assyrians was led captive out of Thyskhe, which is at the right hand of that city, which is called properly Nephtali in Galilee above Asen.

4 I Tobit have walked all the days of my life in the way of truth and justice, and I did many almsdeeds to my brethren, and my nation, who came with me to Nineve, into the land of the Assyrians.

5 And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, being but young, all the tribe of Nephtali my father fell from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, where the temple of the habitation of the Most High was consecrated and built for all ages.

6 Now all the tribes which together revolted, and the house of my father Nephtali, sacrificed unto the heifer Ersagi in Asen.

6 But I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it was ordained unto all the people of Israel by an everlasting decree, having the first-fruit and tenth of increase, with that which was first born; and there gave I at the altar to the priests the children of Aaron.

7 The first tenth part of all increase I gave to the sons of Aaron, who ministered at Jerusalem; another tenth part I sold away, and went and spent it every year at Jerusalem:

8 And the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father.

9 Furthermore, when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine own kindred, and of her I begat Tobias.

10 And when we were carried away captives to Nineve, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat out of the bread of the Gentiles.

11 But I kept by myself from eating;

12 Because I remembered God with all my heart.

13 And the Most High gave me grace and favour before Enemessar, so that I was his purveyor.

14 And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabriel, at Rages, a city of Media, ten talents of silver.

15 Now when Enemessar was dead, Senacherib his son reigned in his stead; whose estate was troubled, that I could not go into Media.

16 And in the time of Enemessar I gave many alms to my brethren, and gave my bread to the hungry,

17 And my clothes to the naked; and if I saw my of my nation dead, or cast about the walls of Nineve, I buried him.

18 And if the King Senacherib had slain any, when he was come, and fled from Juseba, I buried them privily; for in his wrath he killed many; but the bodies were not found when they were sought for of the king.

19 And when one of the Ninivites went and complained of me to the king that I buried them, and hid myself; understanding that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew myself for fear.

20 Then all my goods were forthwith taken away, neither was there any thing left me, besides my wife Anna and my son Tobias.

21 And there passed not five and fifty days before two of his sons 'killed him, and they fled to the mountains of Arrarat, and [Samuel] his son reigned in his stead; who appointed over his father's accounts, and over all his affairs, Achiahas my brother Amas's son.

22 And Achiahas entreating for me, I returned to Nineve. Now Achiahas was the scribe, and keeper of the signet, and steward and overseer of the accounts: and [Samuel] appointed him next unto him: and he was my brother's son.

CHAPTER II.

1 Tobit, being so long to bury the dead, becomes blind. His wife taketh an arm to get her living. Her husband and she fall out about a lad.

2 And when I was come home again, and my wife Anna was restored unto me, with my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, in which I sat down to eat.

3 And when I saw abundance of meat, I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find out of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and lo, I buy for thee.

4 But he came again, and said, Father, one of our nation is strengthened, and is cast out in the market-place.

5 Then, before I had tasted of any meat, I started up, and took him up into a room until the going down of the sun.

6 Then I returned, and washed myself, and ate my meat in the chamber.

7 Remembering that prophecy of Anna, as he said, Your feasts shall be turned into mourning, and all your mirth into lamentation.

8 Therefore I wept: and after the going down of the sun I went and made a grave, and buried him.

9 But my neighbours mocked me, and said, This man is not yet afraid to be put to death for this mut-
CHAPTER XI.

1. And the same night I returned from the burial, and slept by the wall of my court-yard, being polluted, and my face was uncovered:

2. And when she had sent [them] home to the owners, they paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid.

3. And when it was in my house, and began to cry, I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it not stolen? render it to the owners; for it is not lawful to eat any thing that is stolen.

4. But she replied upon me, It was given for a gift more than the wages. Though I did not believe her, but bade her render it to the owners; and I was abashed at her. But she replied upon me, Where are thine alms and thy righteous deeds! [behold, thou and all thy works are known.

CHAPTER XII.

1. Tohit, grieved with his wife's taunts, prayeth.

2. O Lord, thou art just, and all thy ways are mercy and truth; and thou judgest truly and justly for ever.

3. Remember me, and look on me: punish me not for my sins and ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, who have sinned before thee:

4. For they obeyed not thy commandments: wherefore thou hast delivered us for a spoil, and unto captivity, and unto death, and for a provoking of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed.

5. And now thy judgments are many and true: deal with me according to my sins and my fathers': because we have not kept thy commandments, neither have walked in truth before thee.

6. Now therefore deal with me as seemeth best unto thee, and command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be dissolved, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and have much sorrow; command therefore that I may now be delivered out of this distress, and go into the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

7. It came to pass the same day, that in Ecbatane, a city of Media, Sara the daughter of Raguel was also reproached by her father's maid:-

8. Because that she had been married to seven husbands, whom Amseden the evil spirit had killed before they had lien with her.
Tobit.

CHAPTER IV.

1. Tobit giveth instructions to his son Tobias, and telleth him of money left with Gabael in Media.

2. That day Tobit remembered the money which he had committed to Gabael in Rages of Media, and said within himself, I have wished for death: wherefore do I not call for my son Tobias, that he may signifi to him of the money before I die?

3. And when he had called him, he said, My son, when I am dead, bury me; and despise not thy mother, but honour her all the days of thy life, and do that which shall please her, and grieve her not.

4. Remember, my son, that she saw many dangers for thee when thou wast in her womb; and when she is dead, bury her by me in one grave.

5. My son, be mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin, or to transgress his commandments: do uprightly all thy life long, and follow not the ways of iniquitiveness.

6. For if thou deal truly, thy dealing shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that live justly.

7. Give alms of thy substance: and when thou givest alms, let not thine eye be curious, neither turn thy face from any poor, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee.

8. If thou hast abundance, give alms accordingly: if thou hast but a little, be not afraid to give according to that little.

9. For thou layest up a good treasure for thyself against the day of necessity.

10. Because that alms do deliver from death, and suffrèth not to come into darkness.

11. For alms is a good gift unto all that give it in the sight of the Most High.

12. Beware of all who rebuke, my son, and chiefly take a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange woman to wife, which is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the children of the prophets, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: remember, my son, that our fathers, from the beginning, even many, they all married wives of their own kindred, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land.

13. Now therefore, my son, love thy brethren, and despise not in the heart thy brethren, the sons and daughters of thy people, and not taking a wife of them: for in pride is destruction and much trouble, and in lowliness is decay and great want: for lowliness is the mother of famine.

14. Let not the wages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, turn away the heart of thee, or the name of any father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, neither hath he any child to be his heir, neither any near kinsman, nor any son of his alive to whom I may keep myself for a wife: my seven husbands are already dead, and why should I live? but if it please not thee that I should die, command some regard to be made of me, and pity taken of me, that I hear no more reproach.

16. So the prayers of them both were heard before the majesty of the great God.

17. And Raphael was sent to heal them both, that is, to scale away the whiteness of Tobit's eyes, and to give Sara the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobit the son of Tobit; and to bind Asmodeus the evil spirit; because she belonged to Tobias by right of inheritance. The selfsame time came Tobit home, and entered into his house, and Sara, the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

CHAPTER V.

1. Young Tobias seeketh a guide into Media. The angel will go with him and guide him in all his way.

2. Tobias and the angel depart together. But his brother is grieved for his son's departing.

3. Tobias then answered and said, Father, I will do all things which thou hast commanded me: 2 But how can I receive the 'money, seeing I know him not? 3 Then he gave him the hand-writing, and said unto him a man which may go with thee, while I yet live, and I will give him wagers: and go and receive the money.

4. Therefore, when he went to seek a man, he found Raphael that was an angel.

5. But he knew not; and he said unto him, Canst thou go with me to Rages? and knowest thou those places well?

6. To whom the angel said, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: for I have lodged with our brother Gabael.

7. Then Tobias said unto him, Tarry for me, till I tell my father.

8. Then he said unto him, Go, and tarry not. So he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. Then he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whither he be a trustworthy man to go with thee.

9. So he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another.

10. Then Tobit said unto him, Brother, shew me of what tribe and family thou art.

11. To whom he said, Dest thou seek for a tribe or family, or a hired man to go with thy son? Then Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kin-dred and name.

12. Then he said, I am Azarias, the son of Amanias the great, and of thy brethren.

13. Then Tobit said, Thou art welcome, brother; be not now angry with me because I have inquired to know thy tribe and thy family: for thou art my brother, of an honest and good stock: for I know Amanias and Jonathas, sons of that great Samarias, as we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the first-born, and the tenth of the fruits; and they were not seduced by the error of our brethren; my brother, thou art of a good stock.

11 But tell me, what wages shall I give thee? wilt thou a dream a day, and things necessary, as to mine own son?

12 Yea, moreover, if ye return safe, I will add something to thy wages.

13 So they were well pleased. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, and God send you a good journey. And when his son had prepared all things for the journey, his father said, Go thou with this man, and God, which dwelleth in heaven, prosper your journey, and the angel of God keep you company. So they went forth both, and the young man's dog with them.

17 But Anna, his mother, wept, and said to Tobias, Why hast thou sent away our son? is he not the stuff of our hand, in going in and out before us?

18 [He] be not greedy to add money to money, but let it be as refuse in respect of our child:

19 If there be aught which the Lord hath given us to live with, doth suffice us.

20 Then said Tobit to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return in safety, and thine eyes shall see him:

21 And for the good angel will keep him company, and his journey shall be prosperous, and he shall return safe.

22 Then she made an end of weeping.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The angel beheld Tobias to take the liver, heart, and call out of a fish, and to marry Sara the daughter of Raguel. He taught him how to draw the wicked spirit away.

2 And as they went on their journey, they came in the evening to the river Tigris, and they lodged there.

3 And when the young man went down to wash himself, a fish leaped out of the river, and would have devoured him.

4 Then the angel said unto him, Take the fish, and the young man had hold of the fish, and drew it to land.

5 To whom the angel said, Open the fish, and take the heart, and the liver, and the gall, and put them up safely.

6 So the young man did as the angel commanded him: and when they had roasted the fish, they did eat it; then they both went on their way, till they drew near to Ecbatane.

7 And the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart, and the liver, and the gall of the fish?

8 And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a devil or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make anointing with the heart or the liver, and the party shall be no more vexed.

9 For as for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that hath whiteness in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

10 And when they were come near to Rages, the angel said to the young man, Brother Raguel, we shall lodge with Raguel, who is thy cousin; he also hath one only daughter, named Sara; I will speak for her, that she may be given thee for a wife.

11 For to thee doth the right of her appertain, seeing they have no other of their kindred.

12 And the maid is fair and wise: now therefore hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel cannot marry her to another according to the law of Moses, but he shall be guilty of death, because the right of inheritance doth rather appertain to thee than to any other.

13 And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid lest, if I go into unto her, I die, as the other before: for a wicked spirit beeth her, which harketh no body but these which come unto her: wherefore also fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life, because of me, to the utterer with sorrow: for they have no other son to bury them.

14 Then the angel said unto him, Doest thou not remember the precepts which the father gave thee, that thou shouldst marry a wife of thine own kindred! whereby hear me, O my brother: for she shall be given thee to wife: and make thou no reckoning of the evil spirit; for this same night shall she be given in marriage.

15 And when thou shalt come into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take the vials of perfume, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shall make a smoke with it:

16 And the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more: but when thou shalt have sitteth, and comest to her, rise up both of you, and pray to God which is merciful, who will have pity on you, and save you: fear not, for she is appointed unto thee from the beginning: and thou shalt preserve her, and she shall go with thee. Moreover, I suppose that she shall thy dear child. Now when Tobias had heard these things, he loved her, and his heart was affectionately joined to her.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Raguel bethought Tobias what had happened to his daughter. He proveth her marriage unto Tobias, and she was well to her chamber, and weeping. Her mother comforteth her.

2 And when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel, and Sara met them; and after they had saluted each other, she brought them into the house.

3 Then said Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this young man to Tobit my father.

4 And Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren? To whom they said, We are of the sons of Nephtali, which are captives in Nineve.

5 Then he said to them, Do ye know Tobit our kinsman? And they said, We know him. Then said he, And how in good health?

6 And they said, He is both alive and in good health; and Tobias said, He is my father.

7 Then Raguel leaped up, and kissed him, and wept.

8 And blessed him, and said unto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blind, he was sorrowful, and wept.

9 And likewise Edna his wife and Sara his daughter wept. Moreover, they entertained them cheerfully; and after that they had killed a ram of the flock, they set store of meat on the table. Then said Tobias to Raguel, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou dost talk in the way, and let this business be done presently.

10 So he communicated the matter with Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry.

11 For it is meet that thou shouldst marry my daughter: nevertheless, I will declare unto thee the truth.

12 I have given my daughter in marriage to seven men, who died that night they came in unto her: nevertheless, for the present be merry. But Tobias said, I will eat nothing here, till we agree and swear one to another.

13 Raguel said, Then take her from henceforth according to the former, for thou art her cousin, and she is thine, and the merciful God give you good success in all things.
Tobit

CHAPTER VIII.
3 Tobias driveth the wicked spirit away, as he was taught. 4 He and his wife rose up to pray; 5 Raguel thought his head was sick, finding him alive, praiseth God, and maketh a wedding feast.
6 ND when they had supped, they brought Tobias in unto her. 7 And as he went he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the basils of the perfumes, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith,
8 The which smell when the evil spirit had smelled, he fled into the utmost parts of Egypt, and the angel bound him.

4 And after that they were both shut in together, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that God would have pity on us.
5 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures.
6 Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for a helper and stay: of them came mankind. Thou hast said, It is not good that man should be alone: let us make unto him an aid like unto himself.
7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but uprightly: therefore mercifully ordain that we may become aged together.
8 And she said with him, Amen.
9 So they slept both that night. And Raguel arose, and went and made a grave,
10 Saying, I fear lest he also be dead.
11 But when Raguel was come into his house, 12 He said unto his wife Edan, Send one of the maids, and let her see whether he be alive: if he be not, that we may bury him, and no man know it.
13 So the maid opened the door, and went in, and found them both asleep, 14 And came forth, and told them that he was alive.
15 Then Raguel praised God, and said, O God, thou art worthy to be praised with all pure and holy praise: therefore let thy saints praise thee with all thy creatures: and let all thine angels and thine elect praise thee for ever.
16 Thou art to be praised, for thou hast made me joyful: and that is not come to me which I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy.
17 Thou art to be praised, because thou hast had mercy of two that were the only-begotten children of their fathers: grant them mercy, O Lord, and finish their life in health with joy and mercy.
18 Then Raguel bade his servants to fill the grave.
19 And he kept the wedding-feast fourteen days.
20 For before the days of the marriage were finished, Raguel had said unto him by an oath, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the marriage were expired:
21 And then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and should have the rest when I and my wife be dead.

CHAPTER IX.
1 Tobias seneth the angel unto Gabael for the money. 6 The angel bringeth it and Gabael to the wedding.

MEN Tobias called Raphael, and said unto him,
2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant and two camels, and go to the Rages of Media, to Gabael, and bring me the money, and bring him to the wedding.
3 For Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart.
4 But my father cometh the days; and if I tarry long, he will be very sorry.
5 So Raphael went out, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the hand-writing: who brought forth bags which were sealed up, and gave them to him.
6 And early in the morning they went forth both together, and came to the wedding: and ||Tobias blessed his wife.

CHAPTER X.
1 Tobias and his wife long for their son. 2 She will not be comforted by her husband. 10 Raguel seneth Tobias and his wife away with half his goods, and beseecheth them.

NOW Tobias his father counted every year; and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not, 2 Then Tobit said, Are they determined? or is Gabael dead, and there is no man to give him the money?
3 Therefore he was very sorry.
4 Then his wife said unto him, My son is dead, seeing he stayeth long; and she began to bewail him, and said,
5 Now I care for nothing, my son, since I have lost thee, the light of mine eyes. 6 To whom Tobit said, Hold thy peace, take no care, for he is safe.
7 But she said, Hold thy peace, and deceive me not; my son is dead. And she went out every day into the way which they went, and did eat no meat on the day-time, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there. Then Tobias said to Raguel, 'Let me go, for my father and my mother look no more to see me.
8 But his father-in-law said unto him, Tarry with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee. 9 But Tobias said, No: but let me go to my father. 10 Then Raguel arose, and gave him Sara his wife, and half his goods, servants, and cattle, and money: 11 And the blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven give you a prosperous journey, my children.
12 And he said to his daughter, 'Honour thy father and thy mother-in-law, which are now thy parents, that I may hear good report of thee. And he kissed
CHAPTER XI.

6 Then Tobias said to Tobias, Thou knowest, brother, how thou didst leave thy father:
7 And now he spake, and went to the door, and opened it, and see where he might repair before the Lord; and behold, I commit my daughter unto thee of special trust; wherefore do not entrust her evil.

CHAPTER XII.

16 Then Tobias went to meet his daughter-in-law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and praising God; and they which saw him went marvel at him, because he had received his sight.
17 But Tobias gave thanks before them, because God had mercy on him. And when he came near to Sara his daughter-in-law, he blessed her, saying, Then art welcome, daughter; O God be blessed, which hast brought thee unto us, and blessed thy father and thy mother. And there was joy among all his brethren, which were at Nineveh.
18 And Achachar, and Nasbas his brother's son, came:
19 And Tobias's wedding was kept seven days with great joy.

CHAPTER XIII.

7 THEN Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, My son, see that the man have his wages, which went with thee, and thou mayest live many years. And Tobias said unto him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him half of these things which I have brought:
8 For he hath brought me again to thee in safety, and made whole my wife, and brought me the money, and likewise beche.
9 Then the old man said, It is due unto him.
10 So he called the angel, and said unto him, Take half of all that ye have brought, and go away in safety.
11 Then he took them both apart, and said unto them, Bless God, praise him, and magnify him, and praise him for the things which he hath done unto you in the sight of all the live. It is good to praise God, and exalt his name, and honourably to show forth the works of God; therefore be not slack to praise him.
12 It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but it is honourable to reveal the works of God. Do that which is good, and no evil shall touch you.
13 Prayer is good with fasting, and alms, and righteousness; a little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold:
14 For alms doth deliver from death, and shall purge away all sin. These that exercise alms and righteousness shall be filled with life:
15 But they that sin are enemies to their own life.
16 Surely I will keep close nothing from you. For I said, It was good to keep close the secret of a king, but that it was honourable to reveal the works of God.
17 Now therefore, when thou didst pray, and Sara thy daughter-in-law, I did bring the remembrance of your prayers before the Holy One; and when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise.
18 And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner to go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me; but I was with thee.
19 And how God hath sent me to heal thee and Sara thy daughter-in-law.
20 I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and which go in and out before the glory of the Holy One.
21 Then they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces; for they feared.
22 But he said unto them, Fear not; for it shall go well with you; praise God therefore.
23 For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of our God I came; wherefore praise him for ever.
24 All these days thou sawest; but I did neither eat nor drink, but ye did see a vision.
25 Now therefore give God thanks; for I go up to him that sent me; but write all things which are done in a book.
26 And when they arose, they saw him no more.
27 Then they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.
called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said to him, My son, take thy children; for behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life. 4 Go into Media, my son; for I surely believe those things which Jonas the prophet spake of Nineve, that it shall be overthrown; and that for a time peace shall rather be in Media; and that our destruction shall be scattered in the earth from that good land. 5 And Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time; 6 And that again God will have mercy on them, and bring them again into the land, where they shall build a temple, but not like to the first, until the time of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from all places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem gloriously, and the house of God shall be built in it; for ever with a glorious building, as the prophets have spoken thereof; 7 And all nations shall turn and fear the Lord God truly, and shall bury their idols. 8 So shall all nations praise the Lord, and his people shall confess God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all those which love the Lord God in truth and justice shall rejoice, shewing mercy to our brethren. 9 And now, my son, depart out of Nineve, because that those things which the prophet Jonas spake shall surely come to pass. 10 But keep thou the law and the commandments, and shew thyself merciful and just, that it may go well with thee. 11 And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; but tarry not longer at Nineve. Remember, my son, how Aman handled Achiænars that brought him up, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and how he rewarded him again; yet Achiænars was saved; but the other had his reward: for he went down into darkness. 12 And when Anna his mother was dead, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and children to Ecbatane to Raguel his father-in-law. 13 Wherefore now, my son, consider what alms doth, and how righteousness doth deliver. When he had said these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed, being a hundred and eight and fifty years old, and he buried him honourably. 14 And when Anna his mother was dead, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and children to Ecbatane to Raguel his father-in-law. 15 Wherefore now, my son, consider what alms doth, and how righteousness doth deliver. When he had said these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed, being a hundred and eight and fifty years old, and he buried him honourably.

CHAPTER XV.

Tobit made an end of praising God.

2 And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eighty years; and he gave alms, and he increased in the fear of the Lord God, and praised him. 3 And when he was very aged, the Gentiles, ye children of Israel; for he hath scattered us among them.

4 There declare his greatness, and extol him before all the living: for he is our Lord, and he is the God our Father for ever.

5 And he will avenge our iniquities, and will gather us out of all nations, among whom he hath scattered us.

6 Or, ye turn to him with your whole heart, and with your whole mind, and deal uprightly before him, then will he turn unto you, and will not hide his face from you. Therefore see what he will do with you, and confess him with your whole mouth, and praise the Lord of might, and extol the everlasting King. In the land of my captivity do I praise him, and declare his might and majesty to a small nation. O ye sinners, turn and do justice before him; who can tell if he will accept you, and have mercy on you?

7 I will extol my God, and my soul shall praise the King of heaven, and shall rejoice in his greatness. 8 Let all men speak, and let all praise him for his righteousness.

9 O Jerusalem, the holy city, she shall scourge thee for thy children's works, and will have mercy again on the sons of the righteous.

10 Give praise to the Lord, for he is good: and praise the everlasting King, that his tabernacle may be builded in thee again with joy, and let him make joyful there in thee those that are captives, and love in thee for ever for those that are miserable.

11 Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God with gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven: all generations shall praise thee with great joy.

12 Cursed are all they which hate thee, and blessed shall all be which love thee for ever.

13 Rejoice and be glad for the children of the just: for they shall be gathered together, and shall bless the Lord of the just.

14 O blessed are they which love thee, for they shall rejoice in thy peace: blessed are they which have been sorrowful for all thy scourgings: for they shall rejoice for thee, when they have seen all thy glory, and shall be glad for ever.

15 Let my soul extol God the great King.

16 For Jerusalem shall be built up with sapphire, and with rubies, and with precious stones: thy walls, and towers, and battlements, with pure gold.

17 And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl, and carbuncle, and stones of Ophir.

18 And all her streets shall say, Alleluia; and they shall praise saying, Blessed be God, which hath extolled it for ever.

CHAPTER I.

Tobit gave instructions to his son, specially to leave Nineve. 1 He and his wife die and are buried. 2 Tobias removeth to Ecbatane, and there doeth, after he had heard of the destruction of Nineve.

O Tobit made an end of praising God.

2 And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eighty years; and he gave alms, and he increased in the fear of the Lord God, and praised him. 3 And when he was very aged, the were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them was forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty armies, and for the setting in array of his footmen:

5 Even in those days King Nabuchodonosor made war with King Arphaxad in the great plain, which is the plain in the borders of Baja.

6 And there came unto him all they that dwelt in the hill-country, and all they that dwelt by "Euphrates, and Tigris, and Hydaspes, and the plain of Ari-osh the king of the Elamites, and very many nations of the sons of Chabel, assembled themselves to the king.

7 Then Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians sent unto all that dwelt in "Peria, and to all that dwelt westward, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus, and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt upon the sea-coast,

8 And to those among the nations that were of Carmel, and Gabaad, and the higher Gilebes, and the great plain of Esdrelom, 9 And to all that were in Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalam, and Be-tane, and Celhus, and Kades, and the river of Egypt, and Epiphes, and Ramessse, and all the land of Gosem.

10 Until ye come beyond Tanis and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, until ye come to the borders of Ethiopia.

11 But all the inhabitants of the land made light of the commandments of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, neither did they with him to the battle: for they were not afraid of him: yea, he was before them as one man, and they sent away his ambassadors from them without effect, and with disgrace.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this country, and aware by his throne, and kingdoms, that he would surely be avenged upon all those coasts of Cilicia, and Damascus, and Syria, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Meabs, and the children of Ammon, and all Judea, and all that were in Egypt, till ye come to the borders of the two seas.

13 Then he marched in battle array with his power against King Arphaxad in the seventeenth year, and he prevailed in his battle: for he overthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsemen, and all his chariots.

14 And became lord of his cities, and came unto Esdrelom, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame.

15 He took also Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragan, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly that day.

16 So he returned afterward to "Nineve, both he and all his company of sundry nations, being a very great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease, and banqueted, both he and his army, a hundred and twenty days.

and burned up their tabernacles, and spoiled their sheep-folds. 27 Then he went down into the plain of Damascen in the time of 'wheat harvest, and burned up all their fields, and destroyed their flocks and herds, also he spoiled their cities, and utterly wasted their countries, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword. 28 Therefore the fear and dread of him fell upon all the inhabitants of the sea-coasts, which were in 'Sidon and Tyre, and them that dwelt in Sur and Oenion, and all that dwelt in Jerusalem; and they that dwelt in 'Azozus and Ascalon feared him greatly.

CHAPTER III.
1 They of the sea-coastentreat for peace. 7 Holofernes is received there, yet he destroyeth their gods, that they might worship only Nabuchodonosor. 9 He cometh near to Judea.

2 So they sent ambassadors unto him to treat of peace, saying,

3 Behold, we the servants of Nabuchodonosor the great king lie before thee; use us as shall be good in thy sight.

4 Behold, our houses, and all our places, all our fields of wheat, and flocks, and herds, and all the lodges of our tents, lie before thy face; use them as it pleaseth thee.

5 So the men came to Holofernes, and declared unto him after this manner.

6 Then came he down toward the sea-coast, both he and his army, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for aid.

7 So they and all the country round about received them with garlands, with dances, and with triumphs.

8 Yet he did cast down their frontiers, and cut down their groves: for he had decreed to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor only, and that all tongues and tribes should call upon him as god.

9 Also he came over against Edracon near unto Judea, over against the greatest strait of Judea.

10 And he pitched between Geba and Scythopolis, and there he tarried a whole month, that he might gather together all the revenues of his army.

CHAPTER IV.
1 The Jews are afraid of Holofernes, and disturb the hills. 6 They of Bethulia take charge of the passages. 9 All Israel is to fasting and prayer.

7 OW the children of Israel that dwelt in Judea, heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and brought them to naught.

8 Therefore they were exceedingly afraid of him, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God.

9 For they were newly returned from the captivity, and all the people of Judea were lately gathered together: and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified after the profanation.

10 Therefore they sent into all the coasts of Samaria and the villages, and to Bethoron, and Behemem, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Esora, and to the valley of Salem;

11 And possessed themselves beforehand of all the top of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victuals for the provision of war: for their fields were of late respoed.

12 Also Joacim the high priest, which was in those days in Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Betomestum, which is over against Edracon toward the open country, near to Dothan, 13 Charging them to keep the passages of the hill-country: for by them there was an entrance into Judea, and it was easy to stop them that would come up, because the passage was strait, for two men at the most.

14 And the children of Israel did as Joacim the high priest had commanded them, with the ancients of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

15 Then every man of Israel cried to God with great fervency, and with great vehemency did they humble their souls:

16 And both they, and their wives, and their children, and their cattle, and every stranger and hirer, and their servants bought with money, put sackcloth upon their loins,

17 And cried to the God of Israel all with one consent earnestly, that he would not give their children for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, and for the nations to rejoice at.

18 So God heard their prayers, and looked upon their afflictions: for the people fasted many days in all Judea and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty.

19 And Joacim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they which ministered unto the Lord, had their girds girt with sackcloth, and offered the daily burnt-offerings, with the vows and free gifts of the people.

20 And had ashes on their mitres, and cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel graciously.

CHAPTER V.
1 Achior telleth Holofernes what the Jews are, and what their God hath done for them. 2 He adviseth not to meddle with them. 11 All that heard him were offended at him.

5 HEN was it declared to Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Assur, 'that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had laid up for the passages of the hill-country, and had fortified all the tops of the high hills, and had laid impediments in the campaign countries.

6 Wherewith he was very angry, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governors of the sea-coast.

7 And he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Chammarn, what is this people that dwelleth in the hill-country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their army, and wherein is their power and strength, and what king is set over them, or captain of their army:

8 And why have they determined not to come and meet me, more than all the inhabitants of the west?

9 Then said Achior, the captain of all the sons of Ammon, let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will declare unto thee the truth concerning this people, whereby both they live, and inhabit the hill-countries: and there shall lie none come out of the mouth of thy servant.

6 This people are descended of the Chaldeans:
7 And they sojourned herebefore in Mesopotamia, because they would not follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldea.
8 For they left the way of their ancestors, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew; so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days.
9 Then their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan; where they dwelt, and were increased with gold and silver, and with very much cattle.
10 But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they went down into Egypt, and sojourned there, while they were nourished, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their motion.
11 Therefore the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, and brought them low with labouring in brick, and made them slaves.
12 Then they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues; so the Egyptians cast them out of their sight.
13 And God dried the Red Sea before them, and brought them by the way of the Mount Sina, and of the Red-Sea, and cast forth all that dwell in the wilderness.
14 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Esbon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill-country.
15 And they cast forth before them the Chamaites, the Pherezites, the Jebusite, and the Cheremite, and all the Gergesites, and they dwelt in that country many days.
16 And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hateth iniquity was with them.
17 But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.
18 But now they are returned to their God, and are come up from the places where they were scattered, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are set in the hill-country; for it was desolate.
19 Now therefore, my lord and governor, if there be any error in this people, and they sin against their God, let us consider that this shall be their ruin, and let us go up, and we shall overcome them.
20 But if there be no iniquity in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we become a reproach before all the world.
21 And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people standing round about the tent murmured, and the chief men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea-side, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him.
22 For, say they, we will not be afraid of the face of the children of Israel: for lo, it is a people that have no strength nor power for a strong battle.
23 Now therefore, Lord Holofernes, we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thou army.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Holofernes despiseth God: he threateneth Achior, and sendeth him away.
2 The Bethelites receive and hear him.
3 They bid to prayer, and cease.

13 Nevertheless, having gotten privily under the hill, they besieged Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and returned to their city.
14 But the Israelites descended from their city, and came unto him, and bore him, and brought him into Bethulia, and presented him to the governor of the city.
15 Which were in those days Ozias the son of Michal, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Godboniel, and Chamiss the son of Melchiel.
16 And they called together all the ancients of the city, and all their youth ran together, and their women, to the assembly, and set Achior in the midst of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.
17 And he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of Assur, and whatsoever Holofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.
18 Then the people went down and worshipped God, and cried unto God, saying:
19 O Lord God of heaven, behold their pride, and pity the low estate of our nation, and take upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this day.
20 Then they comforted Achior, and praised him greatly.
21 And Ozias took him out of the assembly unto his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel all that night for help.
CHAPTER VII.

1. Holofernes besought Bethulia, and stopped the water from them.
2. His next day Holofernes commanded the men of war, and all his people which were come to take his part, that they should remove their camp against Bethulia, to take achorium the ascents of the hill-country, and to make war against the children of Israel.
3. Then their strong men removed their camps in that day, and the army of the men of war was a hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, besides the baggage, and others that were not about them, a very great multitude.
4. And they came up by the valley near Bethulia, of the fountains, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothain even to Bethuin, and in length from Bethulia unto 3Cyamon, which is over against Esdracon.
5. Now the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour, "Now will these men lick up the face of the earth; for neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, are able to bear their weight.
6. Then every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.
7. But in the second day Holofernes brought forth all his host and his army within the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia,
8. And viewed the passages up to the city, and came to the fountains of their waters, and took them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and he himself removed toward his people.
9. Then came unto him all the chief of the children of Eeau, and all the governors of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea-coast, and said,
10. Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thine army.
11. For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, because it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains.
12. Now therefore, my lord, fight not against them in battle array, and they shall not make so much as one man of thy people perish.
13. Remain in thy camp, and keep all the men of thine army, and let thy servants get into their hands the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain, and take it with you.
14. For all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence: so shall thirst kill them, and they shall give up the city, and we and our people shall go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will camp upon them, to watch that none go out of the city.
15. So they and their wives and their children shall be consumed with famine; and before the sword come against them, they shall be overthrown in the streets where they dwell.
16. Thus shalt thou render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy person peaceably.
17. And these words pleased Holofernes and all his servants, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.
18. So the camp of the children of Ammon departed, and with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and took the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel.
19. Then the children of Eeau went up with the children of Ammon, and camped in the hill-country over against Dothain: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebil, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochnur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians camped in the plain, and covered the face of the whole land; and their tents and earriages were pitched to a very great multitude.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The state and behaviour of Judith, a widow. 2. She blanched the governors for their promise to yield, and adviced them to trust in God. 3. They excused their promise. 4. She persuaded them to do something for them.

1. NOW at that time Judith heard thereof, which was the daughter of Omer, the son of Os, the son of Joseph, the son of Ozziel, the son of Elio, the son of Amanias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Achitub, the son of Eliab, the son of Nahman, the son of Samueal, the son of Sahusadai, the son of Israel.
2. And Manasses was her husband, of her tribe and kindred, who died in the barley-harvest.
3. For as he stood overlooking them that bound sheaves in the field, the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in the city of Bethulia; and they buried him with his fathers in the field between Dothaim and Bahana.

4 So Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months.

5 And she made her a tent upon the top of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins, and wove her widow's apparel.

6 And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and solemn days of the house of Israel.

7 She was also of a goodly countenance, and very beautiful to behold; and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and servants, and maid-servants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them.

8 And there was none that gave her an ill word; for she feared God greatly.

9 Now when she heard the evil words of the people against the governor, that they fainted for lack of water; for Judith had heard all the words that Ozias had spoken unto them, and that he had sworn to deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five days:

10 Then she sent her waiting-woman, that had the government of all things that she had, to call Ozias, and Chabris, and Charmis, the ancient of the city.

11 And they came unto her, and she said unto them, Hear me now, the servants of God, the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your words that ye have spoken before the people this day are not right, touching this oath which ye made and pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you.

12 And now, who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men?

13 And now try the Lord Almighty, but ye shall never know anything.

14 For ye cannot find the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceive the things that he thinketh:

15 When he saith thereunto to his servant, Do this, and he doeth it not at all, and his master discovereth thereof at the mouth of his master.

16 Do not the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he may be threatened; neither is he as the son of man, that he should be wearing.

17 Therefore let us wait for salvation of him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, if it please him.

18 For there arose none in our age, neither is there now any in these days, neither tribe nor family, nor people, nor city, among us, which worship gods made with hands, as hath been aforetime.

19 For which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we know none other God, therefore we trust that he will not despise us, nor any of our nation.

21 For if we be taken so, all Judea shall lie waste, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled: and he will require the punishment thereof at our mouth.

22 And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the country, and the desolation of our inheritance, will he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresover we shall be in bondage: and we shall be an offence and a reproach to all them that possess us.

23 For our servitude shall not be directed to favour, but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend upon us, and the sanctuary, and the house, and the altar, rest upon us.

25 Moreover, let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which teacheth us, even as he did our fathers.

26 Remember what things he did to Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and what he did in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, and in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother.

27 For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, for the examination of their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us: but the Lord doth spare them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

28 Then said Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that may gainsay thy words.

29 For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested: but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thy understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirsty, and compelled us to do unto them as we have spoken, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break.

31 Therefore now pray thou for us, because thou art a goodly woman, and the Lord will send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more.

32 Then said Judith unto them, Hear now, and I will do a thing which shall go throughout all generations to the children of our nation.

33 Ye shall stand this night in the gate, and I will go forth with my waiting-woman: and within the twelve hours that remain unto the rising of the sun, and therefore, we will deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel by my hand.

34 But inquire not ye of mine art: for I will not declare it unto you till the things be finished that I do.

35 Then said Ozias and the princes unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their wards.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Judith lamented herself, and prayed God to prosper her purpose against the enemies of his sanctuary.

2 O Lord God of my father Simeon, to whom thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the stranger, who looseneth the girdle of a maid to defile her, and discovereth the thigh; thou didst give the foreskin of her hands, that she should hate her husband: and therefore, to smite the heathen, as a sign to destroy her, and purify her virginity to her reputed; for thou saidst, It shall not be so: and yet they did so.

3 Wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, so that they dyed their bed in blood, being deceived, and smote the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones:

4 And hast given their wives as a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among the their children; which were moved with thy zeal, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid; O God, O my God, hear me also in widow.

5 For thou hast wrought not only those things, but also the things which fell out before and which ensued after; thou hast thought upon the things which are now, and which are to come.

6 Yea, what things thou didst determine were ready at hand, and said, lo, we are here: for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgments are in thy knowledge.

7 For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; they are exalted with horse and man; they glory in the strength of their foomen; they trust in shield and spear, and bow and sling, and know not that thou art the Lord that breakest the battes; the Lord is thy name.

8 Throw down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath; Nor they have purposed to delve the sanctuary, and to pollute the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with the sword the horn of thine altar.

9 Behold their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, which am a widow, the power that I have conceived.

10 Smithe by the deceit of thy lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with the servant: break down their stateliness by the hand of a woman.

11 "For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men: for thou art a God of the afflicted, a helper of the oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protector of the forlorn, a saviour of them that are without hope.

12 I pray thee, I pray thee, 0 God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, 0 Lord of the heavens and earth, Creator of the waters, King of every creature, hear thou my prayer;

13 And make my speech and decreet to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed cruel things against thy servant, and thy beloved house, and against the top of 0sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 And make every nation and tribe to acknowledge that thou art the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the people of Israel but thou.

CHAPTER X.

1 Judith doth set forth herself. 10 She and her maid go forth into the camp. 17 Then watch take and conduct her to Holophernes.

NOW after that she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words,

2 She rose where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house in the which she abode in the sabbath-days, and in her feast-days.

3 And pulled off 0 the sackcloth which she had on, and put off the garmements over her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with precious ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put on a tiure upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.

4 And she took sandals upon her feet, and put about her her bracelets, and her chains, and her rings, and her ear-rings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself braavely, to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

5 Then she gave her maid a bottle of wine, and a cruste of oil, and filled a bag with parched corn, and buncs of figs, and with fine bread; so she 0folded all these things together, and laid them upon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the city Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias, and the ancients of the city, Charibis and Charmis.

7 And when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very greatly, and said unto her,

8 The God, 0 the God of our fathers, give thee favour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. Then they worshipped God.

9 And she said unto them, Command the gates of the city to be opened upon me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things wherof ye have spoken with me. So they commanded the young men to open unto her, as she had spoken.

10 And when they had done so, Judith went out, she and her maid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

11 Thus they went straight forth in the valley: and the first watch of the Assyrians met her.

12 And took her, and asked her, Of what people are thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrews, and sent from them: for they shall be given you to be consumed;

13 And I am coming before Holophernes the chief captain of your army, to declare words of truth; and I will shew him a way whereby he shall go, and win all the heathen country, without losing the body or life of any one of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her words, and beheld her countenance, they wondered greatly at her beauty, and said unto her,

15 Thou hast saved thy life; in that thou hast hasted to come down to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they have delivered thee to his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, be not afraid, but bring him an account according to thy words: and he will entertain thee well.

17 Then they chose out of them a hundred men to accompany her and her maid; and they brought her to the tent of Holophernes.

18 And there was there converse throughout all the camp: for her coming was noise among the tents, and they came about her, as she stood without the tent of Holophernes, till they told him of her.

19 And they wondered at her beauty, and admired the adornment of Israel because of her: and every one said to his neighbour, Who would despise this people that have among them such women! surely it is not good that one man of them be left, who being let go might deceive the whole earth.

20 And they that lay near Holophernes went out, and all his servants, and they brought her into the tent.

21 Now Holophernes rested upon his bed under a canopy, which was woven with purple, and gold, and emeralds, and precious stones.

22 So they slewed him of her; and he came out before his tent with a wound silver lamps going before him.

23 And when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants took her up.

CHAPTER XI.

3 Holophernes seekth Judith the cause of her coming. 5 She telleth him how and when he may perceive. 9 He is much pleased with her wisdom and beauty.

THEN said Holophernes unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that was willing to serve Nabuchodonosor, 0 the king of all the earth.

2 Now therefore, if thy people that dwelleth in the mountains had not set right by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves.

3 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come unto us; for thou art come for safeguard: be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter.

4 For none shall hurt thee, but entertain thee well, as they do the servants of King Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Judith said unto him, Receive the words of thy servant, and suffer thy handmaid to speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt follow the words of thy handmaid, God will bring the thing perfectly to pass by thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes.
CHAPTER XI.

7 As Nabuchodonosor king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the upholding of every living thing: for not only men shall serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field, and the cattle, and the fowls of the air, shall live by thy power under Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For we have heard of thy wisdom and thy policies, and it is reported in all the earth that thou only art excellent in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful the feats of all the rest. 9 Now as concerning the matter which Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words; for the men of Bethulia [saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken unto thee. 10 Therefore, O lord and governor, reject not his word; but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true; for our nation shall not be punished, neither can the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. 11 And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, even death is now fallen upon them, and their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they will provoke their God to anger, whatsoever they shall do that which is not fit to be done; 12 For their virgins fall them, and all their water is scant, and they have determined to lay hands upon their cattle, and purposed to consume all those things that God hath forbidden them to eat by his laws; 13 And are resolved to spend the first-fruits of the corn, and the teants of wine and oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that serve in Jerusalem, before the face of our God: the which things it is not lawful for the people so much as to touch with their hands. 14 For they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done the like, to bring them a license from the senate.

15 Now when they shall bring them word, they will forthwith do it, and they shall be given to thee to be destroyed that same day.

16 Wherefore I thy handmaid, knowing all this, sinned from my presence; and God hath sent me to work things with thee, wherein all the earth shall be astonished, and whosoever shall hear it. 17 For the servants of foreign dominion, with the God of heaven 'night and day: now therefore, my lord, I will remain with thee, and thy servant will go out by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he will tell me when they have committed their sins: 18 And I will come and shew it unto thee: then thou shalt go forth with all thine army, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee. 19 And I will lead thee through the midst of Judah, until thou come before Jerusalem; and I will set thy throne in the midst thereof: and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth at thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and they were declared unto me, and I am sent to tell thee. 20 Then her words pleased Holofernes and all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said, 21 There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, both for beauty of face and wisdom of words. 22 Likewise Holofernes said unto her, God hath done well to send thee before the people, that strength might be in our hands, and destruction upon them that lightly regard my lord. 23 And now thou art both beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: surely if thou do as thou hast spoken, 'thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of King Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth.'
20 And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank much more wine than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 And Judith was left alone with Holofernes in his tent: 4 She prayed God to give her strength; 7 She cut off his head while he slept, and returned with it to Bethulia. 17 They seeing it, commended her. 19 Then said Judith after off to the watchmen at the gate, Open, open now the gate: God, even our God, is with me, to shew his power yet in Jerusalem, and his forces against the enemy, as he hath even done this day.

5 Now when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called the elders of the city.

13 And then they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: so they opened the gate, and received them, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them. 14 Then she said to them with a loud voice, "Praise, praise God, praise God, I say, for he hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hands this night.

15 So she took the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Assyur, and behold the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.

16 As the Lord liveth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceived him to his destruction, and yet hath he not committed sin with me, to defile and shame me.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to naught the enemies of thy people.
18 Then said Ozias unto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most high God above all the women upon the earth: and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heavens and the earth, which both directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chief of our enemies.

19 For this thy confidence shall not depart from the heart of men, which remember the power of God for ever.

20 And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee in good things, because thou hast not spared thy life for the affliction of our nation, but hast revenged our walk, running in a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

CHAPTER XIV.

8 Achab herewith Judith shew what she had done, and was commended. 9 The head of Holofernes is hanged up. 15 lie is beheaded, and much lamented.

Then said Judith unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it up in the highest place of your walls.

2 And so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, take ye every one his weapons, and go forth every valiant man out of the city, and set ye a captain over them, as though ye would go down into the field toward the watch of the Assyrians; but go not down. 3 Then they shall take their armour, and shall go into their camp, and raise up the captains of the army of Assur, and they shall run to the tent of Holofernes, but shall not find him: then shall four fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face.

4 So ye and all that inhabit the coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrew them as they go. 5 But before ye do these things, call me Achab the Ammonite, that he may see and know that he despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to his death.

6 Then they called Achab out of the house of Ozias: and when he was come, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell down on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had recovered him, the fell at Judith's feet, and reverenced her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Judas, and in all nations, because thou hast greatly exalted thy name. 8 Now therefore tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. Then Judith declined unto him in the midst of the people all that she had done, from the day that she went forth until that hour she spake unto him.

9 And when she had left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city.

10 And when Achab had seen all that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God greatly, and circumcised the flesh of his forsook, and was joined unto the house of Israel unto this day.

11 And as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the straits of the mountain. 12 But when the Assyrians saw them, they sent to their leaders, which came to their captains and tribunies, and to every one of their rulers.

13 So they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, what they may be utterly destroyed.

14 Then it went in Bagoas, and knocked at the door of the tent: for he thought that he had slept with Judith. 15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the bed-chamber, and found him cast upon the floor dead, and his head was taken from him.

16 Therefore he cried with a loud voice, with weeping, and sighing, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments,
CHAPTER XVI.

2. The song of Judith. 19 She dedicated the stuff of Holofernes.
23 She deth at Bethulia, a waltz of great honour. 24 All Israel lament her death.

JUDITH began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang after her this song of praise.
2 And Judith said, Begin unto my God with timbrels, sing unto my Lord with symbols; tune unto him a new psalm: exalt him, and call upon his name.
3 For God breaketh the battles: for among the camps in the midst of the people he hath delivered me out of the hands of them that persecuted me.
4 A storm came out of the mountains from the north, he came with ten thousands of his army, the multitude whereof stopped the torrents, and their horsemen had covered the hills.
5 He bragged that he would burn up my borders, and kill my young men with the sword, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a prey, and my virgins as a spoil.
6 But the Almighty Lord hath disappointed them by the hand of a woman.
7 For the mighty one did not fall by the young men, neither did the sons of the Titans meet him, nor high, giant set upon him: but Judith, the daughter of Merari, weakened him with the beauty of her countenance.
8 For she put off the garment of her widowhood for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and anointed her face with ointment, and bound her hair in a fillet, and took a linen garment to deceive him.
9 Her sandals ravished his eyes, her beauty took his mind prisoner, and the function passed through his neck.
10 The Persians quaked at her boldness, and the Medes were dismayed at her hardiness.
11 Then my afflicted shouted for joy, and my weak ones cried aloud: but they were astonished: these lifted up their voices, but they were overthrown.
12 The sons of the damsels have pierced them through, and wounded them as fugitives' children: they perish by the battle of the Lord.
13 I will sing unto the Lord a new song: O Lord, thou art great and glorious, wonderful in strength, and invincible.
14 Let all creatures serve thee: for thou art spakest, and they were made: thou didst send thine spirit, and it created them, and there is none that can resist thy voice.
15 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence: yet thou art merciful to them that fear thee.
16 For all sacrifice is too little for a sweet savour unto thee, and all the fat is not sufficient for thy burnt-offering: but he that feareth the Lord is great at all times.
17 Wo to the nations that rise up against my kindred! the Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgment, in putting fire and worms in their flesh: and they shall feel them, and keep for ever.
18 Now as soon as they entered into Jerusalem, they worshipped the Lord: and as soon as the people were purified, they offered their burnt-offerings, and their free-offerings, and their gifts.
19 Judith also dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken out of his bed-chamber, for a gift unto the Lord.
20 So the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them.
21 After this time every one returned to his own inheritance, and Judith went to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was in her time honourable in all the country.
22 And many desired her, but none knew her all the days of her life, after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.
23 But she increased more and more in honour, and waxed old in her husband's house, being a hundred and five years old, and made her maid free; so she died in Bethulia: and they buried her in the grave of her husband Manasses.
24 And the house of Israel lamented her seventeen days: and before she died, she did distribute her goods to all them that were nearest of kindred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the nearest of her kindred.
25 And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

Mardocheus remembered and expressed his dream of the river and the two dragons.

HEN Mardocheus said, 'God hath done these things.
3 For I remember a dream which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed.
4 A little fountain became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water: this river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen.
5 And the two dragons are 1 and Aman.

CHAPTER XI.

3 And the king made a record of these things, and Mordecai also wrote thereof.

5 therefore did the king avenge Mordecai to the queen, and so he certified the king of them.

6 Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were strangled.

And the king made a record of these things, and Mordecai also wrote thereof.

So the king commanded Mordecai to serve in the court, and for this he rewarded him.

6 to destroy the Jews. The prayer of Mordecai for them.

CHAPTER XIII.

12 Therefore at that time the Jews rested and rejoiced that night, and made it a day of joy and gladness, a solemn day.

13 Therefore those days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the same month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before the Lord, according to the generations for ever among his people.

CHAPTER XII.

2 The conspiracy of the two eunuchs discovered by Mordecai, for which he is exalted by the king, and rewarded.

1 AND Mordecai took his rest in the court of Gabatha and Tharrah, the two eunuchs of the king, and keepers of the palace.

2 And he heard their devices, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Ahasuerus, the king; and so he certified the king of them.

5 Therefore did the king avenge Mordecai to the queen, and so he certified the king of them.

6 Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were strangled.

6 And the king made a record of these things, and Mordecai also wrote thereof.

5 therefore did the king avenge Mordecai to the queen, and so he certified the king of them.

6 To destroy the Jews. The prayer of Mordecai for them.
1 QUEEN Esther also, being in fear of death,
estoosed unto the Lord;
2 And laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning: and instead of precious ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she shambled herself greatly, and all the places of her joy she filled with her torn hair.
3 And she prayed unto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me, desolate woman, which have no helper but thee:
4 For my danger is in my hand.
5 From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all people, and our fathers from all their pre-cedors, for a perpetual inheritance, and thou hast performed whatsoever thou didst promise them.
6 And now we have sinned before thee: therefore last thou given us into the hands of our enemies, 7 Because we worshipped their gods: O Lord, thou art righteous.
8 Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity; but they have stricken hands with their idols,
9 That they will abolish the thing that thou with thy hand hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and of thine altar, 10 And open the mouths of the heathen to set forth the praises of the idols, and to magnify a foolish king for ever.
11 O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them that the nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us.
12 Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O King of the nations, and Lord of all power.
13 Give me eloquent speech in my mouth before the lion: turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of all that are like minded with him:
14 But deliver us with thy hand, and help me that as desolate, and which have no other helper but thee.
15 Thus knewest all things, O Lord; thou knowest that I hate the glory of the unrighteous, and abhor the bed of the unclean, and of all the heathen.
16 Thou knowest my necessity: for I abhor the sign of my high estate, which is upon my head in the days wherein I slew myself, and that I abhor it as a monstrous rag, and that I wear it not when I am private by myself.
17 And that thy handmaid hath not eaten at Amon’s table, and that I have not greatly esteemed the king’s feast, nor drunk the wine of the drunk-offerings.
18 Neither had thy handmaid any joy since the day that I was brought thither to this present, ‘but in thee, O Lord God of Abraham.
19 O thou mighty God above all, hear the voice of the forbear, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

CHAPTER XV

6 Esther cometh into the king’s presence. He looketh angrily, and she tarryeth. The king taketh her up and comforteth her.

1 AND upon the third day, when she had ended her prayer, she hid away her mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparel.

2 And being glorious admired, ‘after she had called her maids, who is the beholder and savour of all things, she took two maids with her;

3 And upon the one she beaded, as carrying herself
daintily;
4 And the other followed, bearing up her train.
5 And she was [rudely through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and] very ancient note to bear abundance, she take in.

6 Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, ‘who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones; and he was very dreadful.
7 Then lifting up his countenance that shone with majesty, he looked very fiercely upon her; and the queen fell down, and was pale, and fainted, and bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went [before her.

8 Then ’God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who in a fear leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with loving words, and said unto her.

9 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer:
10 Thou shalt not die, though our commandment be [general; come near.
11 And so he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon his ring, newk.
12 And embraced her, and said, Speak unto me.
13 Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy majesty.
14 For a wonderful art thou, lord, and thy countenance is full of grace.
15 And as she was speaking, [she fell down for faintness.
16 Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her.

CHAPTER XVI

The letter of Atertzareus, whereby he taketh Amun, and revealeth the decree procured by Amun to destroy the Jews, and commandeth the choice of thy deliverance to be kept holy.

And it came to pass that great King Atertzareus unto the princes and governors of a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and unto all [four faulty subjects, greeting:

2 Many, the more often they are honoured with the great bountiy of thrice gracious princes, the more pride they are waxed,
3 And endeavour to but not our subjects only, but also their children and their sons, to take in hand to practise aalso against those that do them good.

4 And take not only thankfulness away from among men, but also, lifted up with the glorious words of [great] people [that were never good, they think to escape the justice of God, that seeth all things, and hateth evil.

5 Oftentimes also fair speech [of those that are put trust to manage their friends’ affairs, hath caused many that are in authority to be partakers of innocents blood, and hath enwrapped them in remissless calamities.

6 Beguiling with the falsehood and deceit of their levd disposition [the innocence and goodness of princes.]

7 Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behaviour of them [that are unworthily placed in authority.

8 And we must take care for the time to come, that our kingdom may be quiet and peaceable for all men, 9 Both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that are evident with more equal proceeding.

10 For Amun, a Macedonian, the son of Amadatha, being indeed a stranger from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, and as a stranger received of us.
11 [He did so forth obtained the favour that we.
shew toward every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honoured of all men, as the next person unto the king.

12. But he, not hearing his great dignity, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and life;

13. Having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction of all Medes and Persians, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of blameless Esther, partner of our kingdom, with their whole nation.

14. For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians.

15. But we find that the Jews, whom this wicked wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evildoers, but live by most just laws;

16. And that they be children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath preserved the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner.

17. Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters sent unto you by Aman the son of Amadatha.

18. For he, that was the worker of these things, is hung at the gates of teens with all his family. God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts.

19. Therefore ye shall publish the copy of this letter in all places, that the Jews may freely live after their own laws.

20. And ye shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may be avenged on them, who in the time of their affliction shall set upon them.

21. For Almighty God hath turned to joy unto them the day wherein the chosen people should have perished.

22. Ye shall therefore among your solemn feasts keep it a high day with all feasting;

23. That both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well-beloved Persians; and to these which do conspire against us, a memorial of destruction.

24. Therefore every city and country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be destroyed without mercy, with fire and sword; and shall be made not only unspeakable for men, but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

CHAPTER I.

2. To whom God shewed himself, and wisdom herself; 6. An evil spirit cannot be hid. 12 We procure our own destruction; for God created not death.

O V E righteousness, ye that be judges of the earth; think of the Lord with a good heart, and in simplicity of heart seek him.

2. For he will be found of them that tempt him not; and sheweth himself unto such as do not afflict him.

3. For forward thoughts separate from God; and his power, when it is tried, reproacheth the unwise.

4. For into a malicious soul wisdom shall not enter; nor dwell in the body that is subject unto sin.

5. For the holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit, and remove from thoughts that are without understanding, and will abide when unrighteousness cometh in.

6. For wisdom is a loving spirit; and will not accept a blasphemer of his words; for God is witness of his reins, and a true beholder of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue.

7. For the Spirit of the Lord filleth the world; and that which containeth all things, hath knowledge of the voice.

Therefore be that speaketh unrighteous things cannot be hid; neither shall vengeance, when it passeth, pass by him.

9. For imposition shall be made into the consuls of the ungodly: and the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord for the manifestation of his wicked deeds.

10. For the ear of jealousy heareth all things; and the noise of murmuring is not hid.

11. Therefore beware of murmuring, which is unprofitable; and refrain your tongue from backbiting; for there is no word so secret that shall go for naught; and the mouth that speaketh, speaketh the soul.

Seek not death in the error of your life: and pull not upon yourselves destruction with the works of your hands.

13. For God made not death: neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the living.
CHAPTER III.

1 The godly are happy in their death, and in their troubles: the wicked are not, nor their children. 2 But they that are pure, are happy though they have no children, for the adulterer and his seed shall perish.

1 BUT the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall be no torment touch them.

2 In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: and their departure is taken for misery. 3 And their going from us to be utterly destruction: but they are in peace.

4 For though they be punished in the sight of men, yet is their hope full of immortality.

5 And having been a little chastised, they shall be greatly rewar ded: for God proved them, and found them worthy for himself.

6 As gold in the furnace hath he tried them, and received them as a burnt-offering.

7 And in the time of their visitation they shall shine, and run to and fro like sparks among the stubble.

8 They shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people; and their Lord shall reign for ever.

9 They that put their trust in him shall understand the truth: [and such as be faithful in love shall abide with him: for grace and mercy is to his saints, and he hath care for his elect.] 10 But the ungodly shall be punished according to their own imaginations, which have neglected the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.

11 For whose despiseth wisdom and nurturance, he is miserably, and their hope is vain, their labours unfruitful, and their works unprofitable.

12 Their wives are foolish, and their children wicked:

13 Their offspring is cursed. Wherefore blessed is the barren that is undefiled, which hath not known the sinful bed; she shall have fruit in the victitation of souls.

14 And blessed is the 'evench, which with his hands hath wrought no iniquity, nor imagined wicked things against God: for unto him shall be given the special gift of faith, and an inheritance in the temple of the Lord more acceptable to his mind.

15 For meegious is the fruit of good labours; and the root of wisdom shall never fail away.

16 As for the children of adulterers, they shall not be like unto their perfection, and the seed of an unrighteous bed shall be rooted out.

17 For though they live long, yet shall they be nothing regarded; and their last age shall be without honour.

18 Or, if they die quickly, they have no hope, neither comfort in the day of trial.

19 For horrible is the end of the unrighteous generation.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The chaste man shall be crowned. 2 Bastard signs shall not thrive. 3 They shall witness against their parents. 4 The just die young, and are happy. 5 The miserable end of the wicked.

6 It is to have no children, and to have virtue; for the memorial thereafter is immortal, because it is known with God, and with men.

7 When it is present, men take example at it; and when it is gone, they desolate the way. 8 It weareth a crown, and triumpheth for ever, having gotten the victory, striving for undefiled rewards.

9 But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall not thrive, nor take deep root from bastard slips, nor lay any fast foundation.

10 For though they flourish in branches for a time: yet standing not fast, they shall be shaken with the wind, and through the force of winds they shall be rooted out.

11 The imperfect branches shall be broken off, their fruit unprofitable, not ripe to eat, yea, meet for nothing.

12 For children begotten of unlawful joins are witnesses of wickedness against their parents in their trial.

13 But though the righteous be prevented with death, yet shall he be at rest.

14 For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that measured by number of years;

15 But wisdom is the grey hair unto men, and an unquenched life is old age.

16 He pleased God, and was beloved of him: so that living among sinners he was translated.

17 Yea, speedily was he taken away, lest that wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul.

18 For the bewitching of naughtiness doth obscure things that are honest; and the wandering of conceits doth undermine the simple mind.

19 He, being made [perfect in a short time, fulfilled a long time:}
CHAPTER V.

HEN shall the righteous man stand in great boldness before the face of such as have afflicted him, and made no account of his labours.

2 Then shall he say, 'they shall be troubled with terrible fear, and shall be ashamed at the strangeness of his salvation, so far beyond all that they looked for.

3 And they repenting and groaning for anguish of spirit shall say within themselves, This was he, whom we had sometimes in detestation, and a proverb of reproach.

4 We feeks accounted his life madness, and his end to be without honour:

5 How is he numbered among the children of God, and his lot is among the saints!

6 Therefore have we erred from the way of truth, and the light of righteousness hath not shined unto us, and the sun of righteousness rose not upon us.

7 We have armed ourselves in the way of wickedness and destruction; yea, we have gone through deserts, where they lay no way; but as for the way of the Lord, we have not known it.

8 What hath pride profited us? or what good hath riches with our vaunting brought us?

9 All these things are passed away like shadow, and as a post that hasteth by;

10 And as a ship that passeth over the waves of the water, which, when it is gone by, the trace thereof cannot be found, neither the pathway of the keel in the waves;

11 Or as when a bird is shot down through the air, there is no token of her way to be found, but the light air being beaten with the stroke of her wings, and parted with the violent noise and motion of them, is passed through, and therein afterward no sign where she went is to be found.

12 Or like as when an arrow is shot at a mark, it parteth the air, which immediately cometh together again, so that a man cannot know where it went through.

13 Even so we in like manner, bas soon as we were born, began to draw to our end, and had no sign of virtue to show; but were consumed in our own wickedness.

14 For the hope of the ungodly is like dews that is blown away with the wind; like a thin bath that is driven away with the storm. And the wind which is dispersed here and there with a tempest, and passeth away as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

15 But the righteous live for evermore; their reward also is with the Lord, and the care of them is with the Most High.

16 Therefore shall they receive a glorious kingdom, and a beautiful crown from the Lord's hand: for with his right hand shall he cover them, and with his arm shall he protect them.

17 He shall take to him his javelins for complete armour, and make the creature his weapon for the revenge of his enemies.

18 He shall put on righteousness as a breast-plate, and true judgment instead of a helmet.

19 He shall take hold for an invincible shield.

20 His breastwork shall be sharper than a sword, and the world shall fight with him against the unwise.

21 Then shall the right-smith thunderbolts go abroad; and from the cloud, as from a well-drawn bow, shall they fly to the mark.

22 And hailstones full of wrath shall be cast as out of a stone-bow, and the water of the sea shall rage against them, and their floods shall overwhelm them completely.

23 Yea, a mighty wind shall stand up against them, and like a storm shall blow them away: thus iniquity shall lay waste the whole earth, and ill-dealing shall overthrow the thrones of the mighty.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Kings must give ear, they have their power from God, who will make an end of them: 12 Wisdom is confounded. 13 Princes must seek for it: for a wise prince is the stay of his people.

1 HEAR therefore, 0 ye kings, and understand: learn, ye that be judges of the ends of the earth.

2 Give ear, ye that rule the people, and glory in the multitude of nations.

3 For power is given you of the Lord, and sovereignty from the Highest, who shall try your works, and search out your counsels.

4 Because, being ministers of his kingdom, ye have not judged aright, nor kept the law, nor walked after the counsel of God;

5 Horribly and speedily shall he come upon you; for a slender judgment shall be to them that lie in high places.

6 For mercy will soon pardon the meanest: but mighty men shall be mightily tormented.

7 For he which is Lord over all shall bear no man's person, neither shall he stand in awe of any man's greatness: for he hath made the small and great, and earthen for all alike.

8 But a sure trial shall come upon the mighty.

9 Unto you therefore, 0 kings, do I speak, that ye may learn wisdom, and not fall away.

10 For they that keep holiness holyly, shall be judged holy: and they that have kept such things shall find what to answer.

11 Wherefore so ye be affected upon my words: desire them, and ye shall be instructed.

12 Wisdom is glorious, and never fadeth away: yea, she is easily seen of them that love her, and found of such as seek her.

13 She preventeth them that desire her, in making herself known unto them.

14 Whoso seeketh her early shall have no great travail: for he shall find her sitting at his doors.

15 To think therefore upon her is perfection of wisdom: and whoso watcheth for her shall quickly be without blame.

16 For she goeth about seeking such as are worthy of her, showeth herself favourably unto them in the ways, and meeteth them in every thought.
For the very true beginning of her is the desire of wisdom 19.
And now is the keeping of her laws; and the giving heed unto her laws is the assurance of incorruption 20.
And incorruption maketh us near unto God.
Therefore the desire of wisdom bringeth to a kingdom.
If your delight be then in thrones and scepters, O ye kings of the people, honour wisdom, that ye may reign for evermore.
As for wisdom, what she is, and how she came up, I will tell you, and will not hide mysteries from you; but will seek her out from the beginning of her nativity, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not pass over the truth.
Neither will I go with consuming envy; for such a man shall have no fellowship with wisdom.
But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the world; and a wise king is the upholding of the people.
Receive therefore instruction through my words, and it shall do you good.

CHAPTER VII.
All men have their beginning and end alike; he preferred wisdom before all things else.
MYSELF also am a mortal man, like to all, and the offspring of him that was first made of the earth;
And in my mother's womb was fashioned to be flesh in the time of ten months, being compacted in blood, of the seed of man, and the pleasure that came with sleep.
And when I was born, I drew in the common air, and fell upon the earth, which is like nature, and the first voice which I uttered was crying, as all others do.
I was nursed in swaddling-clothes, and that with cares.
For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.
For all men have one entrance into life, and the like going out.
Wherefore I prayed, and understanding was given me: I called upon God, and the spirit of wisdom came to me.
I preferred her before sceptres and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison of her.
Neither compared I unto her any precious stone, because all gold in respect of her is as little sand, and silver shall be counted as clay before her.
I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her instead of light; for the light that cometh from her never goeth out.
All good things together came to me with her, and innumerable riches in her hands.
I rejoiced in them all, because wisdom goeth before them, and I knew not that she was the mother of them.
I learned filial euntry, and do communicate her liberally: I do not hide her riches.
For she is a treasure unto men, that never failth; which they that use like come the friends of God, being commended for the gifts that come from learning.
God hath granted me to speak as I would, and to conceive as is meet for the things that have given me: because it is he that leadeth into wisdom, and directeth the wise.
In his hand are both we and our words; all wisdom also, and knowledge of workmanship.
For he hath given me certain knowledge of the things that are, namely, to know how the world was made, and the operation of the elements:

The beginning, ending, and midst of the times: 17.
CHAPTER IX.

A prayer unto God for his wisdom, wherein which the best man is nothing worth, neither can be told him to please God.

1 O GOD of my fathers, and Lord of mercy, who hast made all things with thy word,
2 And ordained man through thy wisdom, that he should have dominion over the creatures which thou hast made,
3 And order the world according to equity and righteousness, and execute judgment with an upright heart:
4 Give me wisdom, that I may discern among thy children;
5 For I thy servant, and son of thy handmaid, am a feebler person, and of a short time, and too young for the understanding of judgment and laws.
6 For though a man be never so perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wisdom be not with him, he shall be nothing regarded.
7 Thou hast chosen me to be a king of thy people, and a judge of thy sons and daughters:
8 Thou hast commanded me to build a temple upon thy holy mount, and an altar in the city wherein thou dwellest, a resemblance of the holy tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning.
9 And wisdom was with thee; which knowest thy works, and wast present when thou madest the world, and knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandments.
10 O send her out of thy holy heavens, and from the throne of thy glory, that being present she may labour with me, that I may know what is pleasing unto thee;
11 For she knoweth and understandeth all things, and she shall lead me soberly in my doings, and preserve me in her power.
12 So shall my works be acceptable, and then shall I judge thy people righteously, and be worthy to sit in my father's seat.
13 For what man is he that can know the counsel of God? or who can think what the will of the Lord is?
14 For the thoughts of mortal men are uncertain, and our devices are but uncertain.
15 For the corruptible body perisheth down the soul, and the earthly tabernacle weigheth down the mind that useth upon many things.
16 And hardly do we guess aright at things that are upon earth, and with labour do we find the things that are before us; but the things that are in heaven who hath searched out?
17 And thy counsel who hath known, except thou give wisdom, and send thy Holy Spirit from above?
18 For so the ways of them which lived on the earth were reformed, and men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee, and were saved through wisdom.

CHAPTER X.

What wisdom did for Adam, Eve, Noah, Abraham, and against the five kings, for Jacob, Joseph, Moses, and the Baraites.

1 SHE preserved the first-formed father of the world, that was created alone, and brought him out of his fall,
2 And gave him power to rule all things.
3 But when the unrighteous went away from her in his anger, he perished also in the fury wherewith he murdered his brother.
4 For whose cause the earth being drowned with the flood, wisdom again preserved it, and directed the course of the righteousness in a piece of wood of small value.
5 Moreover, the nations in their wicked conspiring being confounded, she found out the righteousness, and preserved him blameless unto God, and kept him strong against his tender compassions toward his son.
6 When the ungodly perished, she delivered the righteous man, who fled from the fire which fell down upon the five cities.
7 Or when the righteous man was saved, even to this day the waste land that smoketh is a testimony, and plants bearing fruit that never come to ripeness; and a standing pillar of salt is a monument of an unbelieving soil.
8 For regarding not wisdom, they got not only this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good; but also left behind them to the world a memorial of their foolishness; so that in the things wherein they offended they could not so much as be hid.
9 But wisdom delivered from pain those that attended upon her.
10 When the righteous fled from his brother's wrath, she guided him in right paths, shewed him the kingdom of God, and gave him knowledge of holy things, made him rich in his travels, and multiplied the fruit of his labours.
11 In the consummation of such as oppressed him she stood by him, and made him rich.
12 She defended him from his enemies, and kept him safe from those that lay in wait, and in a sore conflict she gave him the victory; that he might know that godliness is stronger than all.
13 When the righteous was sold, she forsook him not, but delivered him from sin; she went down with him into the pit.
14 And left him not in bonds, till she brought him the sceptre of the kingdom, and power against those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she shewed them to be liars, and gave him perpetual glory.
15 She delivered the righteous people and blameless seed from the nation that oppressed them.
16 She entered into the soul of the servant of the Lord, and withstood dreadful kings in wonders and signs.
17 Rendered to the righteous a reward of their labours, guided them in a marvellous way, and was unto them for a covert by day, and a light of stars in the night season.
18 Brought them through the Red sea, and led them through much water.
19 But she drowned their enemies, and cast them up out of the bottom of the deep.
20 Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly, and praised thy holy name, O Lord, and magnified one accord thy hand that fought for them.
21 For wisdom opened the mouth of the dumb, and made the tongues of them that cannot speak eloquent.

CHAPTER XI.
5 The Egyptians were punished, and the treasures reserved in the same thing. 13 They were punished by the same things wherein they sinned. 20 God could have destroyed them otherwise, but he was careful to all.
1 SHE prospered their works in the hand of the holy prophet.

2 They went through the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched tents in places where there lay no way.
3 They stood against their enemies, and were avenged of their adversaries.
4 When they were thirsty, they called upon thee, and water was given them out of the flinty rock, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.
5 For by what things their enemies were punished, by the same they in their need were benefited.
6 For instead of a fountain of a perpetual running river, troubled with foul blood.
7 For a manifest reproof of that commandment, whereby the infants were slain, thou gavest unto them abundance of water by a means which they hoped not for;
8 Declaring by that thirst they shew thou hast punished their adversaries.
9 For when they were tried, albeit in mercy chastised, they knew how the ungodly were judged in wrath and tormented, thirsting in another manner than the just.

10 For these thou didst admonish and try, as a father; but the other, as a severe king, thou didst condemn and punish.
11 Whether they were absent or present, they were vexed alike.
12 For a double grief came upon them, and a groaning for the remembrance of things past.
13 For when they heard by their own punishments the other to be benefited, they had some feeling of the Lord.
14 For whom they rejected with scorn, when he was long before thrown out at the casting forth of the infractions him in the end, when they saw what came to pass, they admired.
15 But for the foolish devices of their wickedness, wherewith being deceived they worshipped serpents void of reason, and vile beasts, thou didst send a multitude of unreasonable beasts upon them for vengeance.
16 That they might know, that when a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.
17 For thine Almighty hand, that made the world of matter without form, wanted not means to send among them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions,
18 Or unknown wild beasts, full of rage, newly created, breathing out either a fiery vapour, or filthy scents of scattered smoke, or shooting horrible sparks out of their eyes,
19 Whereof not only the harm might despatch them at once, but also the terrible sight utterly destroy them.
20 Yes, and without these might they have fallen down with one blast, being persecuted of vengeance, and scattered abroad through the breath of thy power; but thou hast ordered all things in measure, and number, and weight.
21 For thou canst shew thy great strength at all times when thou wilt; and who may withstand the power of thine arm?
22 For the whole world before thee is as a little grain of the balance, yea, as a drop of the morning dew that falleth down upon the earth.
23 But thou hast mercy upon all; for thou canst do all things, and win in the sight of men, because they shall amend.

24 For they love all the things that are, and abhorroth nothing which thou hast made: for never wouldst thou have made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.

25 And how could any thing have endured, if it had not been thy will? or been preserved, if not called by thee?

26 But thou sparest all: for they are thine, O Lord, thou bower of souls.

CHAPTER XII.

2 God did not destroy those of Chanaan all at once. 12 If he had destroyed them all, who could have possessed his land? But he spares them, that he may work in their midst.

3 Or thine incorruptible Spirit is in all things. 29 Therefore chastenest thou them by little and little that offend, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance wherein they have offended, that leaving their wickedness they may believe on thee, O Lord.

4 For it was thy will to destroy by the hands of our fathers both those old inhabitants of thy holy land, and those that stood iniquity, and wicked sacrifices.

5 And also these merciless murderers of children, and devourers of men's flesh, and the beasts of blood:

6 With their priests out of the midst of their idolatrous crew, and the parents that killed with their own hands souls destitute of help:

7 That the hand, which thou esteeuest above all other, might receive a worthy [obedy of God's children.

8 Nevertheless, even those thou sparedst as men, and didst send swarms, forerunners of thine host, to destroy them by little and little.

9 Not that thou wast unable to bring the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle, or to destroy them at once with cruel beasts, or with one rough word:

10 But executing thy judgments upon them by little and little, gavest them place of repentance, not being ignorant that they were a naughty generation, and that their malice was buried in them, and that their corruption would never be changed.

11 For it was a cursed seed from the beginning: neither didst thou for fear of any man give them pardon for those things wherein they sinned.

12 For who shall say, What hast thou done? or who shall withstand thy judgment? or who shall accuse thee for the notions that perish, whom thou hast made? or who shall come to stand against thee, to be avenged for the unjustifiable men?

13 For neither is there any God but that that search for all, to whom thou mightest show that thy judgment is not unjust.

14 Neither shall king or tyrant be able to set his face against thee for any of whom thou hast punished.

15 For so much then as thou art righteous thyself, thou orderest all things righteousness: thinking it not agreeable with thy power to condemn him that hath not deserved to be punished.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousness; and because thou art the Lord of all, it maketh thee to be gracious unto all.

17 For when men will not believe that thou art of a just power, thou shewest thy strength, and among them that know it thou mindest their bedchamber manifest.

18 But then, mastering thy power, judgest with equity, and ordnest us with great favour: for thou mayest use power when thou wilt.

19 But by such works hast thou taught thy people...
12 And after spending the [refuse of his work to dress his meat, hath filled himself;]
13 And taking the very refuse among those which served to no use, being a crooked piece of wood, and full of knots, hath carved it diligently, when he had nothing else to do, and formed it by the skill of his understanding, and fashioned it to the image of a man:
14 Or made it like some [venile beast, laying it over with vermination, and with paint colouring it red, and covering every spot therein;]
15 And when he had made a convenient room for it, set it in a wall, and made it fast with iron:
16 For he provided for it that it might not fall, knowing that it was unable to help itself; for it is an image, and hath need of help:
17 Then maketh he prayer for his gods, for his wife and children, and is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life.
18 For health, he calleth upon that which is weak: for life, prayeth to that which is dead: for aid, humbly beseecheth that which hath least means to help: and for a good journey, he asketh of that which cannot set a foot forward:
19 And for gaining and getting, and for good success of his hands, asketh ability to do, of him that is most unable to do any thing.

CHAPTER XIV.
1 Though men do not pray to their idols, yet are they saved rather by them, than by their idols. 2 Idols are accursed, and so are the matters of them. 3 The beginning of ability, and the effects thereof.
4 God will punish them that swear by their idols.
GAIN, one preparing himself to sail, and about to pass through the raging waves, calleth upon a piece of wood, more rotten than the vessel that carryth him.
2 For a very desire of gain devised [that, and the workman built it by his skill.
3 But thy providence, O Father, governeth it: for thou hast made a way in the sea, and a safe path in the waves:
4 Shewing that thou canst save from all danger: yea, though a man went to sea without art.
5 Nevertheless thou wouldst not that the works of thy wisdom should be idle, and therefore do men commit their lives to a small piece of wood, and passing the rough sea in a weak vessel are saved.
6 For in the old time also, when the proud giants perished, the hope of the world, governed by thy hand, escaped in a weak vessel, and left to all ages a seed of generation.
7 For blessed is the wood whereby righteousness cometh.
8 But that which is made with hands is caused, as well it as he that made it: he, because he made it; and it, because, being corruptible, it was called God.
9 For the ungodly and his ungodliness are both alike hateful unto God.
10 That which is made shall be punished together with him that made it.
11 Therefore even upon the idols of the Gentiles shall there be a visitation: because in the creature of God they become an abomination, and stumbling-blocks to the souls of men, and a snare to the feet of the unwise.
12 For the devising of idols was the beginning of superstition, and the invention of them the corruption of life.
13 For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever.
14 For by the vain glory of men they entered into the world, and therefore shall they come shortly to an end.
15 For a father afflicted with unutterable mourning, when he had made an image of his child soon taken away, now honoured him as a god, which was then a dead man, and delivered to those that were under him ceremonies and sacrifices.
16 Thus the process of time an ungodly custom grown strong was kept as a law, and graven images were worshipped by the commandments of kings.
17 Whom men could not honour in presence, because they dwelt far off, they took the counterfeit of his visage from far, and made an express image of a king whom they honoured, to the end that by this their falsehood they might flatter him that was absent, as if he were present.
18 Also the singular diligence of the artificer did help to set forward the ignorant to more superstition.
19 For he, peradventure, willing to please one in authority, forced all his skill to make the resemblance of the best fashion.
20 And so the multitude, allured by the grace of the work, took him now for a god, which a little before was but honoured as a man.
21 And this was an occasion to deceive the world; for men, serving either calumny or tyranny, did ascribe unto stones and stocks the incommunicable name.
22 Moreover, this was not enough for them, that they ered in the knowledge of God; but whereas they lived in the great war of ignorance, those so great plagues called they peace.
23 For whilst they blew their children in sacrifices, or used secret ceremonies, or made revellings of strange rites:
24 For by kept neither lives nor marriages any longer undefiled: but either one slew another traitorously, or grieved him by adultery.
25 So that there reign'd in all men [without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, and dissimulation, corruption, unfaithfulness, terrors, perjury.
26 Disquieting of good men, foolishness of good turns, defiling of souls, changing of [kind, disorder in marriages, adultery, and shameless uncleanness.
27 For the wording of idols hath to be named the beginning of superstition, the end of all evil.
28 For either they are used when they be merry, or prophesy lies, or live unjustly, or else lightly forsake themselves.
29 For inasmuch as their trust is in idols which have no life, though they swear falsely, yet they look not to be hurt.
30 Henceforth, for both causes shall they be justly punished: both because they thought not well of God, giving heed unto idols, and also unjustly swore in deceit, despising holiness.
31 For it is not the power of them by whom they swear; but it is the just vengeance of sinners, that punisheth always the offence of the ungodly.

CHAPTER XV.
1 We do acknowledge the true God: 2 The folly of idol makers, and the foolishness of God's people, more, besides the idols of the Gentiles, they worshipped wild beasts.
"I say thee, O God, art gracious and true, long-suffering, and in mercy ordering all things.
2 For if we sin, we are thine, knowing thy power: but we will not sin, knowing that we are [counted thine.
3 For to know thee is perfect righteousness: yea, to know thy power is the root of immortality.
4 For neither did the mischievous invention of men deceive us, nor an image spotted with divers colours, the painter's fruitless labour.
5 The right whereof trencheth fidoth to last it, and so they desire the form of a dead image that hath no breath."
5 For when the horrid fiercenesse of hearts come upon glasse, and they with the stings of crooked serpents, thy wrath endured not for ever:
6 But there were troubled for a small season, that they might be admonished, having a sign of salvation, to put them in remembrance of the coming of thy law.
7 For he that turned himself toward it was not saved by the thing that he saw, but by thee, that art the Saviour of all.
8 And in this thou madest thine enemies confess, that it is thou who deliveredst and broughtest again
9 For therein the biteings of grasshoppers and flies killed, neither was there found any remedy for their life: for they were worthy to be punished by such.
10 But thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame: for thy mercy was over by them, and healed them.
11 For they were [pricked], that they should remember thy words: and were quickly saved, that not falling into deep forgetfulness, they might be continually mindful of thy goodness, and know that thou art, and to know that thou art the Lord, which healest all things.
12 For thou hast power of life and death: thou wouldest to the gate of hell and bringest up again.
13 A man indeed killeth through his malice; and the spirit, when it is gone forth, returneth not; neither the soul received up cometh again.
14 But it is not possible to escape thy hand.
15 For the unrighteous, that desire to know thee, were scourged by the strength of thine arm; with strange rains, hail, and showers, were they persecuted, that they could not avoid; and through fire were they consumed.
16 For, which is most to be wondered at, the fire had more force in the water, that quenched all things: for the world [lighteth] for the righteous,
17 For some time the flame was mitigated, that it might not burn up the beasts that were sent against the unrighteous; but themselves that desire to know and perceive that they were persecuted with the judgment of God.
18 And at another time it burneth even in the midst of water above the power of fire, that it might destroy the fruits of an unjust hand.
19 And when Jesus did send the most inveterate thine own people with angels' food, and did send them from heaven bread prepared without their labour, able to content every man's delight, and agreeing to every taste.
20 For thy sustenance didst thy sweetness unto thy children, and serving to the appetite of the eater [tempered] itself to every man's liking.
21 But snow and ice endured the fire, and melted not, that they might know that fire burning in the hail, and sparkling in the rain, did destroy the fruits of the enemies.
22 But this again did even forget his own strength, that the righteous might be nourished.
23 For the creature that serveth thee, who art the Maker, increaseth his strength against the unrighteous for their punishment, and abateth his strength for the benefit of such as put their trust in thee.
24 Therefore even then was it altered into all fashions, and was obdient to thy grace, that nourished all things, according to the desire of them that had need.
25 That thy children, O Lord, whom thou bestowest, might know, that it is not the growing of fruits that nourisheth man: but that it is thy word which preserveth them that put their trust in thee.
26 For that which was not destroyed of the fire, being warmed with a little sunshine, soon melted away.
27 That it might be known that we must prevent
For the sake of the unhonourable shall melt away
For the hope of the unhonourable shall melt away as the winter's hoar frost, and shall run away as unprofitable water.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 Why the Egyptians were punished with darkness. 2 The terrors of that darkness. 3 If the terrors of an all-conscience.

For great are thy judgments, and cannot be expressed: therefore [unnatured] souls have erred.

For when unrighteous men thought to oppress the holy nation; they being shut up [in their houses], the prisoners of darkness, and fettered with the bands of a long night, lay [there] [exiled from the external providence].

For while they supposed to lie hid in their secret sins, they were scattered [under a dark veil of forgetfulness, being horribly astonished, and troubled with strange] apparitions.

For neither might the corner that held them keep them from fear: but noises [as of waters] falling down sounded about them; and sad visions appeared unto them with heavy commotions.

No power of the fire might give them light: neither could the bright flames of the stars endure to lighten that horrible night.

Only those appeared unto them a fire kindled of itself, very dreadful: for being much terrified, they thought the things which they saw to be worse than the night they saw not.

7 "As for the illusions of art magic, they were put down, and their vanishing in wisdom was preserved with dignity.

8 For they that promised to drive away terrors, and troubles from a sick soul, were sick themselves of fear, worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing did fear them; yet being scared with beasts that passed by, and hissing of serpents,

10 They died for fear, [denying that they saw the air, which could of no side be avoided].

11 For wickedness, condemned by her own witness, is very timorous, and being pressed with conscience, always forecasteth grievous things.

12 It is else but a betraying of the successors which reason offereth.

13 And the expectation from within, being less, counteth the ignorance more than the cause which bringeth the torment.

14 But they sleeping the same sleep that night, [which was indeed intolerable, and which came upon them out of the bottoms of inevitable hell, 15 Were partly vexed with monstrous apparitions, and partly faint, their heart failing them: for a sudden fear, and not looked for, came upon them.

16 So then whosoever there fell down was strictly kept, shut up in a prison without iron bars.

17 For whether he were husbandman, or shepherd, or a labourer in the field, he was overtaken, and ensured that necessity, which could not be avoided; for they were all bound with one chain of darkness.

18 Whether it were a whistling wind, or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches, or a pleasing fall of water running violently.

19 Or a terrible sound of stones cast down, or a roaring that could not be seen of skipping beasts, or a roaring voice of most savage wild beasts, or a rebounding echo from the hollow mountains: these things made them to swoon for fear.

20 For the whole of heaven was shining with clear light, and none hindered in their labour.

21 Over them only was spread a heavy night, an image of that darkness which should afterward receive them: but yet were they unto themselves more grievous than the darkness.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 Whence Egypt was punished with darkness, and with the death of their children. 2 They themselves were the cause thereof: 3 God also plagued his own people. 4 By what means that plague was stayed.

1 Nevertheless thy saints had a very great light, whose voice they hearing, and not seeing their shape, because they also had not suffered the same things, they counted them happy.

2 But for that they did not hurt them now, of whom they had been wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon for that they had been enemies.

3 And indeed whereby they gave them a burning pillar of fire, both to be a guide of the unknown journey, and a harmless sun to entertain them honourably.

4 For they were worthy to be deprived of light, and imprisoned in darkness, who had kept thy holy and good law. But wherever the most upright light of the law was to be given unto the world.

5 "And when they had determined to shew the terrors of the saints, one child being cast forth and saved, to reprove them, thou tookest away the multitude of their children, and destroyest them altogether in a mighty water.

6 Of that night were all the fathers certified afore, that assuredly knowing unto what ouches they had given credence, they might afterward be of good cheer.

7 So of thy people was accepted both the salvation of the righteous, and destruction of the enemies.

8 For wherewith thou didst punish our adversaries, by the same thou didst glorify us, whom thou hadst called.

9 For the righteous children of good men did sacrifice secretly, and with one consent made in a holy law, that the saints should be alike partners of the same good and evil, the fathers now singing out the songs of praise.

10 But on the other side there sounded an ill-accompanying cry of the enemies, and a lamentable noise was carried abroad for children that were bewailed.

11 They master and the servant were punished after one manner; and like as the king, so suffered the common person.

12 So they all together had immoveable dead with one kind of death; neither were the living sufficient to bury them: for in one moment the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

13 For whereas they would not believe any thing by reason of the enchantments; upon the destruction of the first-born, they acknowledged this people to be the servants of God.

14 For while all things were in quiet silence, and that night was in the midst of her swift course, 15 Thine Almighty word leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne, as a fierce man of war into the midst of a land of destruction.

16 And brought thine unconquered commandment as a sharp sword, and standing up filled all things with death; and it touched the heaven, but it stood upon the earth.

17 Then suddenly visions of horrible dreams troubled them sore, and terrors came upon them unlooked for.

18 And one thrown here, and another there, half naked, showed the cause of his death.

19 For the dreams that troubled them did forebode this, lest they should perish, and not know why they were afflicted.

20 Ye, the tasting of death torched the righteous..."
also, and there was a destruction of the multitude in the wilderness; but the wrath endured not long.
22 For then the Lord made haste, and stood forth to defend them: and bringing the shield of his proper ministry, even prayer, and the propitiation of iniquity, set himself against the wrath, and so brought the calamity to an end, declaring that he was thy servant.
22 So he overcame the destroyer, not with strength of body, nor force of arms, but with a word subdueth he him that punisheth, alleging the oaths and covenants made with the fathers.
23 For when the dead were now fallen down by heaps one upon another, standing between, he stayed the wrath, and parted the way to the living.
24 For in the long garment was the whole world, and in the four corners of the stones was the glory of the Father's grace, and they Majesty upon the disdained of his head.
25 Unto these the destroyer gave place, and was afraid of them: for it was enough that they only tasted of the wrath.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 Why God showed mercy to the Egyptians, and how wonderfully he dealt with his people. 11 The Egyptians were worse than the Sabaites. 15 The wonderful agreement of the creatures to serve God's people.

8 for the ungodly, wrath came upon them without mercy unto the end: for he knew before what they would do.
9 How that having given them leave to depart, and sent them hastily away, they would repent, and pursue them.
10 For whilst they were yet mourning and making lamentation at the graves of the dead, they added another foolish device, and pursued them as fugitives, whom they had unjustly to be gone.
4 For the destiny, whereas they were worthy, drew them into this end, and made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might fulfill the punishment which was wanting to their tormentors:
5 And that thy people might pass a wonderful way: but they might find a strange death.
6 For the whole creature in his proper kind was fashioned again anew, serving the peculiar commandments that were given unto them, that thy children might be kept without hurt:
7 As namely, a cloud shadowing the camp; and where water stood before, dry land appeared; and out of the Red Sea a way without impediment; and out of the violent stream a green field.
8 Wherethrough all the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy marvellous strange wonders.
9 For they went at large like horses, and leaped like hind, praising thee, O Lord, who hast delivered them.

10 For they were yet mindful of the things that were done: while they quarreled in the strange land, how the ground brought forth fillets instead of cattle, and how the river cast up a multitude of frogs instead of fishes.
11 But afterward they saw a new generation of foeds, when, being led with their appetite, they asked delicate meats.
12 For quails came up unto them from the sea, for their entertainment.
13 And punishments came upon the sinners, not without former signs by the face of thunder: for they suffered justly according to their own wickedness, insomuch as they use a more hard and hateful behaviour toward strangers.
14 For the Son of man was not receive them, whom they knew not when they came: but those brought friends into bondage, that had well deserved of them.
15 And not only so, but peradventure some respect shall be had of those, because they used strangers not friendly:
16 But these very grievously afflicting them, when they had received with feasting, and were already made partakers of the same laws with them.
17 Therefore even with blindness, were these stricken, those there were at the doors of the righteous man: when, being compassed about with horrible great darkness, every one sought the passage of his own doors.
18 For the elements were changed by themselves, by a kind of harmony, like as, in a pudery, notes change the name of the tune, and yet are always sounds: which may well be perceived by the sight of the things that have been done.
19 For earthly things were turned into water, and the things that before swam in the water, now went upon the ground.
20 The fire had power in the water, forgetting his own virtue; and the water forgot his own quenching nature.
21 On the other side, the flames wasted not the flesh of the corporeal living things, though they walked therein: neither melted they the icy kind of heavenly meat, that was of a nature apt to melt.
22 For in all things, O Lord, thou didst magnify thy people, and glorify them, neither didst thou lightly regard them: but didst assist them in every time and place.
Wisdom cometh from the Lord, and is with him for ever.

Wisdom hath been created before all things, and the understanding of prudence from everlasting.

The word of God most high is the foundation of wisdom; and her ways are everlasting commandments.

To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed? or who hath known her wise counsels?

Unto whom hath the knowledge of wisdom been made manifest? and who hath understood her great experience?

There is one wise and greatly to be feared, the Lord sitting upon his throne.

He created her, and saw her, and numbered her, and poured her out upon all his works.

She is with all flesh according to his gift, and he hath given her to them that love him.

The fear of the Lord is honour, and glory, and gladness, and a crown of rejoicing.

Whoso feareth the Lord, it shall go well with him at the last, and he shall find favour in the day of his death.

To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: and it was created with the faithful in the womb.

She hath built an everlasting foundation with men, and she shall continue with their seed.

To fear the Lord is fulness of wisdom, and filling men with her fruits.

She filleth all their house with things desirable, and the garnerers with her increase.

The fear of the Lord is crown of wisdom, making peace and perfect beauty to flourish; both which are the gifts of God: and it enlargeth their rejoicing that love him.

Wisdom raineth down skill and knowledge of understanding, and exalteth them to honour that hold her fast.

The root of wisdom is to fear the Lord, and the branches thereof are long life.

The fear of the Lord driveth away sins: and where it is present, it turneth away wrath.

A man is justified by the way of his faith shall be his destruction.

A patient man shall bear for a time, and afterward joy shall spring up unto him.

21 He will hide his words for a time, and the lips of many shall declare his wisdom.

The parables of knowledge are in the treasures of wisdom: but godliness is an abomination to a sinner.

If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments, and the Lord shall give him unto thee.

For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction; and faith and meekness is his delight.

[Disturb not the fear of the Lord when thou art poor; and come not unto him with a double heart.

Be not a hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heed what thou speakest.

Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall, and bring dishonour upon thy soul, and so God discover thy secrets, and cast thee down in the midst of the congregation, because thou camest not in truth to the fear of the Lord, but thy heart is full of deceit.

CHAPTER II.

1 God's servants most look for trouble, and trust in him. 12 For we to them that do so not. 15 But they that fear the Lord will do so.

Y son, if thou come to serve the Lord, prepare thy soul for temptation.

Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure, and make not haste in time of trouble.

Clear unto him, and depart not away, that thou mayest be increased at thy last end.

Whatsoever is brought upon thee, take cheerfully, and be patient when thou art changed to a low estate.

For gold is tried in the fire, and acceptable men in the furnace of adversity.

Believe in him, and he will help thee; order thy way aright, and trust in him.

Ye that fear the Lord, wait for his mercy; and go not aside, lest ye fall.

Ye that fear the Lord, believe him; and your reward shall not fail.

Ye that fear the Lord, hope for good, and for everlasting joy and mercy.

Look at the generations of old, and see: did ever any trust in the Lord, and was confounded? or did any abide in his fear, and was forsaken? or whom did he ever despise, that called upon him?

For the Lord is full of compassion and mercy, long-suffering, and very pitiful, and forgiveth sins, and pardonneth in time of trouble.

Wo be to fearful hearts, and faint hands, and the sinner that goeth two ways!

Wo unto him that is faint-hearted! for he believeth not; therefore shall he not be defended.

Wo unto you that have lost patience! and what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you?

They that fear the Lord will not disobey his word; and they that love him will keep his ways.

They that fear the Lord will seek that which is well pleasing unto him; and they that love him shall be filled with the law.

They that fear the Lord will prepare their hearts, and humble their souls in his sight.

Saying, We will fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men: for as his majesty is, so is his mercy.

CHAPTER III.

Children must honour and help both their parents. 21 We may not desire to know all things. 26 The incorrigible must needs perish. 28 This is parable.

HEAR me your father, O children, and do thereafter, that ye may be safe.

2 For the Lord hath given the father honour over the children, and also called and blessed the authority of the mother over the sons.

Whoso honoureth his father maketh an atonement for his sins:
 CHAPTER IV.

1 And he that honoureth his mother is as one that layeth up treasure.
2 Whoso honoureth his father shall have joy of his sons and daughters: and when he maketh his prayer, he shall be heard.
3 He that honoureth his father shall have a long life; and he that is obedient unto the Lord shall be a comfort to his mother.
4 He that feareth the Lord will honour his father, and will do service unto his parents, as to his masters.
5 Honour thy father and mother both in word and deed, that a blessing may come upon thee from the Lord.
6 The greater thou art, the more humble thyself, and thou shalt find favour before the Lord.
7 Many are in high place, and of renown: but mysteries are revealed unto the meek.
8 For the power of the Lord is great, and he is honoured of the lowly.

CHAPTER V.

1 Seek not out the things that are hard for thee, neither search the things that are above thy strength.
2 But what is commanded thee, think thereupon with reverence: for it is not needful for thee to see with the eyes of the things that are in secret.
3 Be not curious in unnecessary matters: for more things are shewed unto thee than man understand.
4 For many are deceived by their own vain opinions: and an evil suspicion hath overthrown their judgment.
5 Without eyes thou shalt want light: profess not the knowledge therefore that thou hast not.
6 A stubborn heart shall fear evil at the last; and he that loveth danger shall perish thereon.
7 An obstinate heart shall be taken with sorrows: and the wicked man shall keep sin upon sin.
8 If in the punishment of the proud there is no remedy: for the plant of wickedness hath taken root in him.
9 The heart of the prudent will understand a parable: and an attentive ear is the desire of a wise man.
10 Water will quench a flaming fire: and also make an atonement for a sting.
11 And he that requiteth good turns is mindful of that which may come hereafter: and when he falleth, he shall find a stay.
ET not thy heart upon thy goods; and say not, [I have enough for my life.
2 Follow not thine own mind and thy strength, to walk in the ways of thy heart.
3 And say not, Whoso shall control me for my works? for the Lord will surely revenge thy pride.
4 Say not, I have sinned, and what harm hath happened unto me? for the Lord is long-suffering, he will in no wise let thee go.
5 Concerning propitiation, be not without fear to add sin unto sin:
6 And say not, His mercy is great; he will be pacified for the multitude of my sins; for mercy and wrath come from him, and his indignation resteth upon sinners.
7 Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth, and in thy security thou shalt be destroyed, and perish in the day of vengeance.
8 Be not thy heart upon goods unjustly gotten: for they shall not profit thee in the day of extremity.
9 Winnow not with every wind, and go not into every way: for so do the sinner that hath a double tongue.
10 Be steadfast in thine understanding; and let thy word be the same.
11 Be swift to hear; and let thy life be sincere; and with patience give answer.
12 If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbour; if not, [say] thy hand upon thy mouth.
13 Honour and shame is in talk; and the tongue of man is his fall.
14 Be not called a whisperer, and lie not in wait with thy tongue: for a foul shame is upon the thief, and an evil condemnation upon the double tongue.
15 Be ignorant of any thing in a great matter or a small.

CHAPTER VI.

2 Be not extol thine own counsel, but make choice of a friend. 18 Seek wisdom betwixt: so it is gracious to some, yet the fruits thereof are pleasant to eat. 35 Several are ready to his hearth.

Instead of a friend become not an enemy; [for thereby] thou shalt inherit an ill name, shame, and reproach: even so shall a sinner that hath a double tongue.
2 Exalt not thyself in the counsel of thine heart: in the fear of God it shall be turned in pieces as a bull (straying alone).
3 Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and lose thy fruit, and leave thyself as a dry tree.
4 A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath it, and shall make him to be laughed to scorn of his enemies.
5 Sweet language will multiply friends; and a fair-speaking tongue will increase kind greetings.
6 Be in peace with many: nevertheless have but one counsellor of a thousand.
7 If thou wouldst get a friend, [prove him first, and be not hasty to credit him.
8 For some man is a friend for his own occasion, and will not abide in the day of thy trouble.
9 And there is a friend, who, being turned to enmity and strife, will discover thy reproach.
10 Again, some friend is a companion at the table, and will not continue in the day of thine affliction:
11 But in thy prosperity he will be as thyself, and will be bold over thy servants.
12 If thou be brought low, she will be against thee, and will hide himself from thy face.
13 Separate thyself from thine enemies, and take heed of thy friends.
14 A faithful friend is a strong defence: and he that hath found such one hath found a treasure.
15 Nothing doth counterfoil a faithful friend, and his excellency is invaluable.

16 A faithful friend is the medicine of life; and they that fear the Lord shall find him. 17 Whoso searcheth the Lord shall direct his friendship aright: for as he is, so shall his neighbour be also.
18 My son, gather instruction from thy youth up: so shalt thou find wisdom till thine old age.
19 Come unto her as one that plougheth and soweth, and wait for her good fruits: for thou shalt not shed much in labouring about her, but thou shalt eat of her fruits right soon.
20 She is very unpleasant to the unlearned; he that is without understanding will not remain with her.
21 She will lie upon him night and day; and he will cast her from him ere it be long.
22 For wisdom is according to her name, and she is not manifest unto many.
23 Give ear, my son, receive mine advice, and refuse not my counsel, 24 And put thy feet into her fusters, and thy neck into her yoke.
CHAPTERS VIII.

8 Bind not one sin upon another; for in one thou shalt not be unpunished.
9 Say not, God will look upon the multitude of nine oblations; and when I offer to the most high God, he will accept it.
10 Be not faint-hearted when thou makest thy prayer, and neglect not to give alms.
11 Laugh no man to scorn in the bitterness of his soul; for there is one which hath flesh and exalteth.
12 Dispute not a lie against thy brother; neither do the like to thy friend.
13 Do not to make any manner of lie: for the custom thereof is not good.
14 Use not many words in a multitude of elders, and make not [much] babbling when thou prayest.
15 Hate not laborious work, neither husbandry, which the Most High hath ordained.
16 Numbers not thyself among the multitude of sinners; but remember that death will not tarry long.
17 Humble thy soul greatly: for the vengeance of the ungodly is fire and worms.
18 Change not a friend for any good, by no means; neither a faithful brother for the gold of Ophir.
19 Forego thy false and good woman: for her grace is above gold.
20 Whereas thy servant worketh truly, except him not evil, nor the harkening that bestoweth himself wholly for thee.
21 Let thy soul love a good servant, and disdain him not of liberty.
22 Hast thou cattle? have an eye to them: and if they be for thy profit, keep them with thee.
23 Hast thou children? instruct them, and bow down thy head from their youth.
24 Hast thou daughters? have care of their bodies, and shew not thyself unjust toward them.
25 Marry thy daughters, and so shalt thou have performed a weighty matter: but give her to a man of understanding.
26 Hast thou a wife after thy mind? forsake her not: but give not thyself over to a light woman.
27 Honour thy father with thy whole heart, and forget not the sorrows of thy mother.
28 Remember that thou wast begotten of them, and how canst thou recompense them the things that they have done for thee?
29 Fear the Lord with all thy soul, and reverence his priests.
30 Love him that made thee with all thy strength, and forsake not his ministers.
31 Fear the Lord, and honour the priest; and give him his portion, as it is commanded thee; the first-fruits, and the trespass-offering, and the gift of the shoulders, and the sacrifice of sanctification, and the first-fruits of the holy things.
32 And stretch thy hand unto the poor, that thy blessing may be perfected.
33 A gift leath grace in the sight of every man living, and for the dead detain it not.
34 Fail not to be with them that weep, and mourn with them that mourn.
35 Be not slow to visit the sick: for that shall make thee to be beloved.
36 Whatsoever thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt never do amiss.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Whom we may not strive with, nor despise, nor provoke, nor have to do with.
2 Strive not with a mighty man, lest thou fall into his hands.
3 Be not at variance with a rich man, lest he overweigh thee; for gold hath destroyed many, and perverted the hearts of kings.
4 Strive not with a man that is full of tongue, and heap not wood upon his fire.

1 Just not with a rude man, lest thine ancestors be disgraced.
2 Repeach not a man that turneth from sin, but remember that we are all worthy of punishment.
3 Be not a man that pampered in his old age: for even some of us wax old.
4 Reprove not over thy enemy with being dead, but remember that we die all.
5 Dis pense not with the discourse of the elders: for they also learned of their fathers, and of them thou shalt learn understanding, and to give answer as need requireth.
6 Kindle not the coals of a sinner, lest thou be burnt with the flame of his fire.
7 Remember [in anger] at the presence of an injurious person, lest he lie in wait [to entrap thee in thy words.
8 Lord not unto him that is mightier than thyself: for if thou bendest him, count it but lost.
9 Be not sure that thy power; for if thou be sure, take care to pay it.
10 Go not to law with a judge, for they will judge for him according to his pleasure.
11 Travel not by the way with a bold fellow, lest he be4 brought gereous unto thee: for he will do according to his own will, and shall perish with him through his folly.
12 Strive not with an angry man, and go not with him into a solitary place: for blood is as nothing in his sight; and where there is no help, he will overthrow thee.
13 Consult not with a fool, for he cannot count counsel.
14 Do no secret thing before a stranger; for thou knowest not what he will bring forth.
15 Open not thy heart to every man, lest he require thee with a shrewd turn.

CHAPTER IX.

1 We are advised how to love our wives, what women to avoid: and not to have an old friend, and not to banish men in authority, but to know our neighbours, and to converse with wise men.
2 Be not jealous over the wife of thy bosom: and teach her not an evil lesson against thyself.
3 Give not thy soul unto a woman to set her foot upon thy substance.
4 Meet not with a harlot, lest thou fall into her snares.
5 Use not much the company of a woman that is a singer, lest thou be taken with her attempts.
6 Gaze not on a maid, that thou fall not by those things that are precious in her.
7 Give not thy soul unto harlots, that thou lose not thine inheritance.
8 Look not round about thee in the streets of the city, neither wander thou in the solitary places thereof.
9 Turn away thine eye from a beautiful woman, and look not upon another's beauty: for many have been deceived by the beauty of a woman; and hencewith love is kindled as a fire.
10 Sit not at all with another man's wife, nor sit down with her in thine arms, and spend not thy money with her, let her alone; lest thine heart incline unto her, and go through thy desire till it fall into destruction.
11 Forsake not an old friend; for the new is not comparable to him: a new friend is as new wine: when it is old, thou shalt drink it with pleasure.
12 Delight not in the thing that the ungodly have pleasure in; but remember they shall not go unpunished unto their grave.

CHAPTER X.

WISE judge will instruct his people; and the government of a prudent man is well ordered.

1 As the judge of the people is himself, so are his officers; and what manner of man the ruler of the city is, such are all they that dwell therein.

3 An unwise king destroys his people; but through the prudence of them which are in authority, the city shall be inhabited.

4 The power of the earth is in the hand of the Lord, and in due time he will set over it one that is profitable.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperity of man; and upon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour;

6 Bear not hatred to thy neighbour for every wrong; and do nothing at all by injurious practices.

7 Pride is hateful before God and man; and by both doth one commit iniquity.

8 Because of unrighteous dealings, injuries, and riches got by deceit, the kingdom is translated from one people to another.

9 Why is earth and ashes proud? There is not a more wicked thing than a covetous man: for such a one setteth his own soul to sale; because, while he liveth, he casteth away his bowels.

10 The physician cutteth off a long disease; but he that is to-day a king, to-morrow shall die.

11 For when a man is dead, the shall inherit creeping things, beasts, and worms.

12 The beginning of pride is when one departeth from God, and his heart is turned away from his Maker.

13 For pride is the beginning of sin, and he that hath it shall pour out abomination; and therefore the Lord brought upon them strange calamities, and overthrew them utterly.

14 The Lord hath cast down the thrones of proud princes, and set up the meek in their stead.

15 The Lord hath plucked up the roots of the proud nations, and planted the lowly in their place.

16 The Lord overthrew countries of the heathen, and destroyed them to the foundations of the earth.

17 He took some of them away, and destroyed them, and hath made their memorial to cease from the earth.

18 Pride was not made for men, nor furious anger for them that are born of a woman.

19 They that fear the Lord are a sure seed, and they that have him an honourable plant: they that regard not the law are a dishonourable seed; they that transgress the commandments are a [deceivable seed.

20 Among brethren he that is chief is honourable;

21 The fear of the Lord goeth before the obtaining of authority; but roughness and pride is the losing thereof.

22 Whether he be rich, noble, or poor, their glory is the fear of the Lord.

23 It is not meet to despise the poor man that hath understanding; neither is it convenient to magnify a sinful man.

24 Great men, and judges, and potentates, shall be honoured;

25 Unto the sorrowed is that wise shall they that are free do service; and he that hath knowledge will not grudge when he is reformed.

26 Be not overwise in doing thy business; and boast not thyself in the time of thy distress.

27 Fretter is he that laboureth, and aboundeth in all things, than he that heareth himself, and wanteth bread.

28 My son, glorify thy soul in meekness, and give it honour according to the dignity thereof.

29 Who will justify him that sinneth against his own soul? and who will honour him that dishonoureth his own life?

30 The poor man is honoured for his skill, and the rich man is honoured for his riches.

31 He that is honoured in poverty, how much more in riches? and he that is dishonourable in riches, how much more in poverty?

CHAPTER XI.

4 We may not, with all our reasons, and with all our arguments, and with all our actions, and with all our understandings, and with all our sciences, nor with all our philosophical and religious opinions.

5 But it is of the Lord, and only of the Lord, and nothing, but nothing can be found that can be compared with it.

6 DOM lifteth up the head of him of low degree, and maketh him to sit among great men.

7 Command not a man for his beauty, neither abhor a man for his outward appearance.

8 The bee is little among such as fly; but her fruit is the chief of sweet things.

9 But not of thy clothing and raiment, and exalt not thyself in the day of honour; for the works of the Lord are more wonderful, and his works among men are hidden.

10 Many kings have sat down upon the ground; and one that was never thought of hath worn the crown.

11 Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced; and the honourable delivered into other men’s hands.

12 Blame not before thou hast examined the truth: understand first, and then rebuke.

13 Answer not before thou hast heard the cause; neither interrupt men in the midst of their talk.

14 Men are not in a matter that concerned thee not; and sit not in judgment with sinners.

15 My son, meddle not with many matters: for if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be innocent:

16 And if thou follow after, thou shalt not obtain, neither shalt thou escape by fleecing.

17 There is one that laboureth, and taketh pains, and maketh haste, and is so much the more beholden.

18 Again, there is another that is slow, and hath need of help, wanting ability, and full of poverty; yet the eye of the Lord looked upon him for good, and set him up from his low estate.

19 And lifted up his head from misery; so that many that saw it marvelled at him.

20 Prosperity and adversity, life and death, poverty and riches, come of the Lord.

21 Wisdom, knowledge, and understanding of the law, are of the Lord: love, and the way of good works, are from him.

16 Error and darkness had their beginning together with sinners; and evil shall wax old with them that glory therein.

17 The gift of the Lord removeth with the godly, and his favour bringeth prosperity forever.

18 There is that waxeth rich by his wariness and pinching, and this is the portion of his reward:

19 Whereas he saith, I have found rest, and now will eat continually of my goods; and yet he knoweth not what time shall become upon him, and that he must leave those things to others, and die.

20 He steadfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein, and wax old in thy work.

21 Marvel not at the works of sinners; but trust in the Lord, and abide in thy labour; for it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord, on the sudden to make a poor man rich.

22 The blessing of the Lord is in the reward of the godly, and suddenly he maketh his blessing to flourish.

23 Say not, What profit is there of my service? and what good things shall I have hereafter?

24 Again, say not, I have enough, and possess many things, and what evil can come to me hereafter?

25 In the day of prosperity there is a forgetfulness of affliction: and in the day of affliction there is no more remembrance of prosperity.

26 For it is an easy thing unto the Lord in the day of reward to reward a man according to his ways.

27 The affliction of an hour maketh a man forget pleasure; and in his end his deeds shall be discovered.

28 Judge none blessed before his death; for a man shall be known in his children.

29 Bring not every man into thy house: for the deceitful man hath many trains.

30 Like as a harlot's purse [and kept] in a cage, so is the heart of the proud: and like as a prey, watcheth he for thy fall.

31 For he waiteth in wait, and turneth good into evil, and in things worthy praise will lay blame upon thee.

32 Of a spark of fire, a heap of coals is kindled; and a sinful man layeth wait for blood.

33 Take heed of a mischievous man, for he worketh wickedness; lest he bring upon thee a perpetual blight.

34 Receive a stranger into thy house, and he will disturb thee, and turn thee out of thine own.

CHAPTER XII.

2 Be not liberal to the ungodly. Trust not thine enemy, nor the wicked.

3 There can no good come to him that is always occupied in evil, nor to him that giveth no alms.

4 Give to the godly man, and thou shalt find a recompence: and if not from him, yet from the Most High.

5 Do well unto him that is lowly, but give not to the ungodly; hold back thy bread, and give it not unto him, lest he overmaster thee thereby: for [else] thou shalt receive twice as much evil for all the good thou shalt have done unto him.

6 For the Most High hateth sinners, and will repay vengeance unto the ungodly, and keepeth them against the mighty day of their punishment.

7 Give unto the good, and help not the sinner.

8 A friend cannot be known in prosperity: and an enemy cannot be hid in adversity.

9 In the prosperity of a man, enemies will be grieved: but in his adversity, even a friend will depart.

10 Never trust thine enemy; for like as iron rusteth, so is his wickedness.

11 Though he humble himself, and go crouching, yet take good heed, lest thou be into him as if thou hadst wiped a looking-glass, and thou shalt know that his trust hath not been altogether wiped away.

12 Set him not by the breast, lest, when he hath overthrown thee, he stand up in thy place; neither let him sit at thy right hand, lest he seek to take thy seat, and thou at the last remember my words, and he pricketh therewith.

13 Who will pity the charmer that is laden with a serpent, or any such as come nigh wild beasts?

14 So one that goeth to a sinner, and is shiled with him in his sins, who will pity?

15 For a while he will abide with thee, but if thou begin to fall, he will not tarry.

16 An enemy speaketh sweetly with his lips, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into a pit: he will weep with his eyes, but if he find opportunity, he will be satisfied with thee.

17 If adversity come upon thee, then shalt find him there first; and though he pretend to help thee, yet shal he undermine thee.

18 He will shake his head, and clap his hands, and whisper much, and change his counsels.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Keep not company with the proud, or a neighbor than which.

2 Like will to like. The difference between the rich and the poor.

3 A man's heart will change his discourse, that toucheth pitch shall be defiled therewith, and he that hath fellowship with a proud man shall be like unto him.

4 Borden not thyself above thy power while thou livest; and have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than thyself: for how agree the kettle and the earthen pot together? for the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.

5 The rich man hath done wrong, and yet he threateneth withal: the poor is wronged, and he must endure it also.

6 If thou be for his profit, he will use thee; but if thou hast done wrong, he will forsake thee.

7 If thou have any thing, he will live with thee: yea, he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry for it.

8 If he have need of thee, he will deceive thee, and smile upon thee, and put thee in hope, he will speak thee fair, and say, What wantest thou?

9 And he will shame thee by his means, until he have drawn thee dry twice or thrice, and at the last he will laugh thee to scorn; afterward, when he seeth his need, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

10 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought down in thy folly.

11 If thou be invited of a mighty man, withdraw thyself, and so much the more will he invite thee.

12 Press thou not upon him, lest thou be put back: stand not far off, lest thou be forgotten.

13 [Affect not to be made equal unto him in talk, and believe not his many words: for with much communication will he tempt thee, and flattering will thou get out thy secrets.

14 But cruelly he will lay up thy words, and will not spare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

15 Observe, and take good heed, for thou waketh in peril of thy overthrowing: when thouittest these things, awake in thy sleep.
14 Love the Lord all thy life, and call upon him for thy salvation.
15 Every beast loveth his like, and every man loveth his neighbour.
16 All flesh consorsoth according to kind, and a man will cleave to his like.
17 What fellowship hath the wolf with the lamb? so the sinner with the godly.
18 What agreement is there between the hyena and a dog? and what peace between the rich and the poor?
19 As the wild ass is the lion's prey in the wilderness; so the rich eat up the poor.
20 As the proud hate humility; so doth the rich abhor the poor.
21 A rich man beginning to fall is held up of his friends; but a poor man being down is thrust also away by his friends.
22 When a rich man is fallen, he hath many helpers: he speaketh things not to be spoken, and yet men justify him; the poor man speaketh, they say, What follow is this? and if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.
23 When a rich man speaketh, every man holdeth his tongue; and look, what he saith, they exult to it to the clouds; but if the poor man speak, they say, What followeth this? and if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.
24 Riches are good unto him that hath no sin, and poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.
25 The heart of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be for good or evil: and a merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance.
26 A cheerful countenance is a token of that which is in prosperity; and the finding out of parables is a weary labour of the mind.

CHAPTER XIV.
1 A good conscience maketh men happy. 2 The ragged doth good to none. 3 But do thou good. 4 Men are happy that draw near to wisdom.

BLESSED is the man that hath not slipped with his mouth, and is not pricked with the multitude of sins.
2 Blessed is he whose conscience hath not condemned him, and who is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.
3 Riches are not comely for a ragged; and what should an envious man do with money?
4 He that gathereth by defrauding his own soul, gathereth for others, that shall spend his goods riotously.
5 He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good? he shall not take pleasure in his goods.
6 There is none worse than he that envieth himself: and this is a recompence of his wickedness.
7 And if he doeth good, he doeth it unwillingly: and at the last he will declare his wickedness.
8 The envious man hath a wicked eye: he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.
9 A covetous man's eye is not satisfied with his portion: and the iniquity of the wicked drieth up his soul.
10 A wicked eye envieth [his] bread, and he is a muggar at his table.
11 My son, according to thy ability do good to thyself, and give the Lord his due offering.
12 Remember that death will not be long in coming, and that the covenant of the grave is not shewed unto thee.
13 Do good unto thy friend before thou die, and according to thy ability stretch out thy hand and give to him.
14 Defraud not thyself of [the] good day, and let not the part of a good desire overpass thee.
15 Shall thou not leave thy travails unto another? and wilt thou be the labourer and the labourer be divided by his labour.
16 Give, and take, and sanctify thy soul; for there is no seeking of dainties in the grave.
17 All flesh waxeth old as a garment; for the covenant from the beginning is, Thou shalt die the death.
18 As of the green leaves on a thick tree, some fall, and some grow: so is the generation of flesh and blood, one cometh to an end, and another is born.
19 Every work rotteth and consumeth away, and the workers thereof shall go watchers.
20 Blessed is the man that doth meditate good things in wisdom, and that reasoneth of holy things by his understanding.
21 He that considereth his ways in his heart shall also have understanding in her secrets.
22 Go after her as one that trueth, and lie in wait in her ways.
23 He that preyeth in at her windows shall also hearke at her doors.
24 He that doth lodge near her house shall also fasten a [fin] in her walls.
25 He shall pitch his tent nigh unto her, and shall lodge in a lodging where good things are.
26 He shall set his children under her shelter, and shall lodge under her branches.
27 By her he shall be covered from heat, and in her glory shall he dwell.

CHAPTER XV.
2 Wisdom enableness those that fear God. 7 The wicked shall not get bread. 11 We may not charge God with our faults; for he made, and left us to ourselues.

That feareth the Lord *will do good; and he that hath the knowledge of the law shall obtain her: 2 And as a mother shall she meet him, and receive him as a wise married of a virgin.
3 With the bread of understanding shall she feed him, and give him the water of wisdom to drink.
4 He shall be stayed upon her, and shall not be moved; and shall rely upon her, and shall not be confounded.
5 She shall exalt him above his neighbours, and in the midst of the congregation shall she open his mouth.
6 He shall find joy and a crown of gladness, and she shall cause him to inherit an everlasting name.
7 But foolish men shall not attain unto her, and sinners shall not see her.
8 For she is far from pride, and men that are liars cannot remember her.
9 If praise be not secretly in the mouth of a sinner, for it was not sent him of the Lord.
10 If praise be uttered in wisdom, and the Lord will prosper it.
11 Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away: for thou oughtest not to do the things that he hateth.
12 Say not thou, He hath caused me to err: for he hath no need of the sinful man.
13 The Lord hatchet all abomination; and they that fear God love it not.

14 He himself made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsel; 15 If thou wilt, to keep the commandments, and to perform acceptable faithfulness.
16 He hath set fire and water before thee; stretch forth thy hand unto whether thou wilt.
CHAPTER XVI.

1 It is better to have one thou hundred children, than one mean - lod children. 2 The wicked are not espoused further; but their children are the children of God's works are unsearchable.

3 Wherefore is there no one multitude of unprofitable children, neither delight in ungodly youth?

4 Though they multiply, rejoice not in them, except the fear of the Lord be with them.

5 Trust not thou in their life, neither respect their multitude: for one that is just is better than a thousand; and better is it to die without children, than to have that are ungodly.

6 For by one that hath understanding shall the city be replenished: but the children of the wicked shall be destroyed for ever.

7 Many such things have I seen with mine eyes, and mine ear hath heard greater things than these.

8 He was not puffed up toward the old giants who fell away in the strength of their foolishness.

9 Neither spared he the place where Lot sojourned, but abhorred them for their pride.

10 He loved not the people of perdition, who were taken away in their iniquity.

11 Nor the six hundred thousand footmen, who were gathered together in the hardness of their hearts.

12 And if there be one stiffnecked among the people, it is marvel if he escape unpunished: for mercy and wrath are with him; he is mighty to forgive and to pour out displeasure.

13 As his mercy is great, so is his correction also: he judgeth a man according to his works.

14 The sinner shall not escape with his spoils: and the patience of the godly shall not be frustrate.

15 Make way for every work of mercy: for every man shall find according to his works.

16 The Lord hardened Pharaoh, that he should not know him, that his powerful works might be known to the world.

17 His mercy is manifest to every creature; and he hath separated his light from the darkness with an indubitable.

18 Say not thou, I will hide myself from the Lord: shall any remember me from above! I shall not be remembered among so many people: for what is my soul among such an infinite number of creatures?

19 Behold, the heaven, and the heaven of heavens, the deep, and the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moved when he shall visit.

20 The mountains also and foundations of the earth shall be shaken with trembling when the Lord beseareth upon them.

21 No heart can think upon those things worthily; and who is able to conceive his ways?

22 It is a tempest which no man can see; for the most part of his works are hid.

23 Who can declare the works of his justice! or who can endure them! for his covenant is afar off, and the trial of all things is in the end.

24 He that wanteth understanding, will think upon vain things: and a foolish erring, imagineth follies.
26 Turn again to the Most High, and turn away from iniquity: for he will lead thee out of darkness into the light of health; and hate them abomination vehemently.
27 Who shall praise the Most High in the grave, instead of them which live and give thanks?

28 Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not: the living and sound in heart shall praise the Lord.
29 How great is the loving-kindness of the Lord our God, and his compassion unto such as turn unto him in holiness!
30 For all things cannot be in men, because the son of man is not immortal.
31 What is brighter than the sun? yet the light thereof faileth; and flesh and blood will imagine evil.
32 He vieweth the power of the height of heaven, and all men are but earth and ashes.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 God's works are to be wondered at. 9 Man's life is short. 11 God is merciful. 12 Do not blasphemy thy good deeds with ill words. 24 Wert not to be justified. 30 Follow not thy lusts.

6 That liveth for ever created all things in general.
2 The Lord only is righteous, and there is none other but he.
3 Who governeth the world with the palm of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he is the King of all, by his power dividing holy things among them from profane.
4 To whom hath he given power to declare his works? and who shall find out his noble acts?
5 Who shall number the strength of his majesty? and who shall also tell out his mercies?
6 As for the wondrous works of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, neither may any thing be put unto them, neither can the ground of them be found out.
7 When a man hath done, then he beginneth; and when he leaveth off, then he shall be doubled.
8 What is man, and whereof serveth he? what is his good, and what is his evil?
9 The number of a man's days at the most are a hundred years.
10 As a drop of water unto the sea, and a gravestone in comparison of the sand; so are a thousand years to the days of eternity.
11 Therefore is God patient with them, and poureth forth his mercy upon them.
12 He saw and perceived their end to be evil; therefore he multiplied his compassion.
13 The mercy of man is toward his neighbour; but the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh: he reproveth, and nouriseth, and teacheth, and bringeth again, as a shepherd his flock.
14 He hath mercy on them that receive discipline, and that diligently seek after his judgments.
15 My son, blemish not thy good deeds, neither use uncomfortable words when thou givest any thing.
16 Shall not the dew assuage the heat? so is a word better than a gift.
17 Lo, is not a word better than a gift? but both are with a gracious man.
18 A fool will upbraid uncharitably, and a gift of the envious consume the eyes.
19 Learn before thou speak, and use physic or ever thou be sick.
20 Before judgment exanimeth thyself, and in the day of visitation shalt find mercy.
21 Humile thyself before thou be sick, and in the time of sins shew repentance.
22 Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in due time, and defer not until death to be justified.
23 Before thou prayest, prepare thyself; and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.
24 Think upon the wrath that shall be at the end, and the time of vengeance, when he shall turn away his face.
25 When thou hast enough, remember the time of hunger; and when thou art rich, think upon poverty and need.
26 From the morning until the evening the time is changed, and all things are soon done before the Lord.
27 A wise man will fear in every thing, and in the day of sinning he will beware of offence: but a fool will not observe time.
28 Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom, and will give praise unto him that found her.
29 They that were of understanding in sayings, because also wise themselves, and spake forth. 30 Parables.
31 If he givest thy soul the desires that pleaseth her, she will make thee a bargaining-stock to thine enemies that may slay thee.
32 Take not pleasure in much good cheer, neither be too to the expense thereof.
33 Be not made a beggar by banqueting upon borrowing, when thou hast nothing in thy purse: for thou shalt lie in wait for thine own life, and be talked on.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 A LABOURING man that is given to drunkenness shall not be rich; and he that contemneth small things shall fall by little and little. 2 Wine and women will make men of understanding to fall away; and he that cleaveth to harlots will become impudent. 3 Whores and women shall have him to heritage, and a bold man shall be taken away.

4 He that is hasty to give credit is light-minded; and he that giveth shall offend against his own soul. 5 Whoso taketh pleasure in wickedness shall be condemned: but he that resiteth pleasures crowneth his life. 6 He that can rule his tongue shall live without strife; and he that hateth babbling shall have less evil. 7 Rehearse not unto another which is told unto thee, and thou shalt have no face the worse. 8 Whether it be to a friend or foe, talk not of other men's lives; and if thou canst without offence, reveal them not. 9 For he heard and observed thee, and when time cometh he will [hate thee. 10 If thou hast heard a word, let it die with thee; and he bold, it will not burst thee. 11 A fool travaileth with a word, as a woman in labor of a child. 12 As an arrow that sticketh in a man's thigh, so is a word within a fool's belly. 13 Admonish a friend, it may be he hath not done it; and if he have done it, that he do it no more. 14 [Admonish thy friend, it may be he hath not said it; and if he have, that he speak it not again. 15 Admonish a friend: for many times it is a slander, and believe not every tale. 16 There is one that slippeth in his speech, but not CHAPTER XX. XXI.

1 There is a reproach that is not openly: again, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.

2 It is much better to reprovey, than to be angry secretly: and he that confesseth his fault shall be preserved from hurt.

3 How good is it, when the fool is kept that may repentance! for so shall thou escape with life.

4 As is the last of a man to deliver a virgin: so is he that executeth judgment with violence.

5 There is one that keepeth silence, and is found wise; and another by much babbling becometh hateful.

6 Some man babbleth his tongue, because he hath not to answer; and some keepeth silence, knowing his time.

7 A wise man will hold his tongue till he see opportunity: but a babbler and a fool will regard no time.

8 He that useth many words shall be abhorred; and he that taketh to himself authority therein shall be hated.

9 There is a sinner that hath good success in evil things: and there is a gain that turneth to loss.

10 There is a gift that shall not profit thee; and there is a grace whose recompense is double.

11 There is an abundance because of glory: and there is that lifteth up his head from a low estate.

12 There is that buyeth much for a little, and repayeth it seven-fold.

13 A wise man by his words maketh himself beloved; but the graces of fools shall be hounded out.

14 The gift of a fool shall do thee no good when thou hast it: neither yet of the visions for his necessary: for he babbleth to receive many things for one.

15 He giveth little, and upbraideth much; he openeth his mouth like a crev, to-day he lenteth, and to-morrow will he ask it again: such a one is to be hated of God and man.

16 The fool saith, I have no friends, I have no thanks for all my good deeds, and they that eat my bread speak evil of me.

17 How oft, and of how many shall be laughed to scorn! for he kneweth not what it is to have; and it is all one unto him as if he had it not.

18 To leap upon a pavement is better than to slip with the tongue: so the full of the wicked shall come speedily.

19 An unreasonable tale will always be in the mouth of the wise.

20 A wise sentence shall be rejected when it cometh out of a fool’s mouth: for he will not speak it in due season.

21 There is that is hindered from sinning through want: and when he taketh rest, he shall not be troubled.

22 There is that destroyeth his own soul through bashfulness, and by accepting of persons overthreweth himself.

23 There is that for bashfulness promiseth to his friend, and taketh him again for nothing.

24 A lie is a fool blod in a mouth, yet it is continually in the mouth of the untruth.

25 A thief is better than a man that is accustomed to lie; but they both shall have destruction to heritage.

26 The disposition of a liar is [dishonourable], and his shame is over with him.

27 A wise man shall promote himself to honour with his words: and he that understandeth will please great men.

28 He that tilleth his land shall increase his heap: and he that poureth great men shall get pardon for iniquity.

29 Presents and gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and stop up his mouth that he cannot reprovey.

30 Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded up, what profit is in them both?

31 Better is he that hideth his folly than a man that hideth his wisdom.

32 Necessary patience in seeking the Lord is better than to he that hideth his life without a guide.

CHAPTER XXI.

2 Flee from sin as from a serpent. 4 This oppression will make the rich joy. 9 The end of the unjust shall be wail. 10 The difference between the wise and the foolish.

4 Y son, hast thou sinned? do so no more, but ask pardon for thy former sins.

5 Flee from sin as from the face of a serpent: for though thou art nearest it, it will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, lying the souls of men.

6 All iniquity is as a two-edged sword, the wounds whereof cannot be healed.

7 To terrify and do wrong will make riches: thus the house of proud men shall be made desolate.

8 A prayer out of a poor man’s mouth reacheth to the ears of God, and his judgment cometh speedily.

9 He that thinketh to be reproved is in this way of sinners: but he that feareth the Lord will repent from his heart.

10 An eloquent man is known far and near: but a man of understanding knoweth when he slippeth.

11 He that babbleth his house with other men’s money is like one that gathereth himself stones for the tomb of his burial.

12 The congregation of the wicked is like tow wrapped together: and the end of them is a flame of fire to destroy them.

13 The way of sinners is made plain with stones, but at the end thereof is the pit of hell.

14 He that keepeth the law of the Lord getteth the and weep for the fool, for he wanteth understanding: make little weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the fool is worse than death.

12 Seven days do-men mourn for him that is dead; but for a fool an ungodly man all the days of his life.

13 Talk not much with a fool, and go not to him that hath no understanding: beware of him, lest thou have trouble, and thou shalt never be deified [with his foolishness]: depart from him, and thou shalt find rest, and never be disquieted with madness.

14 What is heavier than lead? and what is the name thereof, but a fool?

15 'A fool, proud, and his tongue deceitful, and he will hold no knowledge as long as he liveth.

16 If a skilful man hear a wise word, he will commend it, and add unto it; but as soon as one of no understanding heareth it, it displeaseth him, and he casteth it behind his back.

17 The talking of a fool is like a burden in the way: but grace shall be found in the lips of the wise.

18 As is a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool: and the knowledge of the unwise is as talk without sense.

19 Doctrine unto fools is as feters on his feet, and like manacles on the right hand.

20 A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter: but a wise man doth scarce smile a little.

21 Learning is unto a wise man as an ornament of gold, and like a bracelet upon his right arm.

22 A foolish man's foot is soon in his neighbour's house; but a man of experience is advanced of him.

23 A fool will peep in at the door into the house; but he that is well nurtured will stand without.

24 It is the readiness of a man to hearken at the door; but a wise man will be grieved with the disagree.

25 The lips of talkers will tell of such things as pertain not unto them; but the words of such as have understanding are weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fools is in their mouth; but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

27 When the ungodly curse Satan, he curseth his own soul.

28 'A whisperer defileth his own soul, and is hated wheresoe'er he dwelleth.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 Of the slothful man, and a foolish daughter. 11 Weep rather for fools, than for the dead. 12 Middlic not with them. 16 The wise man's heart will not shiver.

SLOTHFUL. Man is compared to a filthy stone, and every one will hiss him out to his disgrace.

2 A slothful man is compared to the filth of a dunghill: every man that taketh it up will shake his hand.

3 An evil-nurtured son is the dishonour of his father that begat him; and a foolish daughter is born to his bess.

4 A wise daughter [shall bring an inheritance to her husband; but she that liveth dishonestly is her father's heart.

5 She that is bold dishonoureth both her father and her husband, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of season [is as] music in mourning: but stripes and correction of wisdom are never out of time.

7 Whoso teacheth a fool is as one that glute a potsherd together, and as he that waketh one from a sound sleep.

8 He that tellth a tale to a fool speaketh to one in a slumber: when he hath told his tale, he will say, What is the matter?

9 If children live honestly, and have [wherewithal, they shall cover the baseness of their parents.

10 But children, being naughty, through disdain and want of nurture do stain the beauty of their kindred.

11 'Weep for the dead, for he hath lost the light;
7 Hear, O ye children, the discipline of the mouth: he that keepeth it shall never be taken in his lips.
8 The sinner shall be left in his foolishness; both the evil speaker and the proof shall fall there-fore.
9 Accustom not thy mouth to swearing; neither use thyself to the naming of the Holy One.
10 For a scribe that is continually beaten shall not be without a blue mark: so that he sweareth and nameth God continually shall not be faultless.
11 A man that uttereth much swearing shall be filled with his vanity, and the plague shall never depart from his house: if he shall offend, his sin shall be upon him; and if he acknowledge not his sin, he maketh a double offence; and if he sweat in vain, he shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of calamities.
12 There is a word that is clothed with death: God grant that it be not found in the heritage of Jacob; for all such things shall be far from the godly, and they shall not walk in their sins.
13 Use not thy mouth to incantation sweeping, for theein is the word of sin.
14 Remember thy father and thy mother when thou sittest among great men. Be not forgetful before them, and so thou by thy custom become a god, and wish that thou hadst not been born, and once the day of thy nativity.
15 The man that is accustomed to opprobrious words will never be reformed all the days of his life.
16 Two sorts of men multiply sin, and the third will bring wrath: a hot mind is as a burning fire, it will never be quenched till it be consumed: a fornicator in the body of his flesh will never cease till he hath kindled a fire.
17 All bread is sweet to a whoremonger, he will not leave off till he die.
18 A man that breaketh would, saying thus in his heart, Who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkness, the walls cover me, and no body seeth me; what need I fear? the Most High will not remember my sins:
19 Such a man only blancheth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thou-sand times brighter than the sun, beholding all the ways of men, and considering the most secret parts.
20 He knew all things ere they were created; so also after they were perfected he looked upon them all.
21 This man shall be punished in the streets of the city, and where he suspecteth not he shall be taken.
22 Thus shall it go also with the wife that leaveth her husband, and bringeth in an heir by another:
23 For though she hath disobeyed the law of the Most High; and secondly, she hath transgressed against her own husband; and thirdly, she hath played the whore in adultery, and brought children by another man.
24 She shall be brought out into the congregation, and disquisition shall be made of her children.
25 Her children shall not take root, and her branches shall bring forth no fruit.
26 She shall leave her memory to be cursed, and her reproach shall not be hid out.
27 And they that remain shall know that there is nothing better than the fear of the Lord, and that there is nothing sweeter than to take heed unto the commandments of the Lord.
28 It is great glory to follow the Lord, and to be received of him is long life.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Wisdom shall praise herself, showing her beginning, her dwelling, her glory, her fruit, her increase and perfection.

1 Wisdoth doth praise herself, showing her beginning, her dwelling, her glory, her fruit, her increase and perfection.
CHAPTER XXV.

1 What things are beautiful, and what honest. 6 What is the crown of age. 7 What things make man happy. 13 Nothing worse than a wicked woman.

223 I will yet make doctrine to shine as the morning, and will send forth her light after off. 33 I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy, and leave it to all ages for ever.

234 Behold that I have not laboured for myself only, but for all them that seek wisdom.

CHAPTER XXVI.

1 A good wife, and a good conscience, he shall lack not. 6 A wicked wife is a fruitful thang. 13 Of good and bad wives. 29 Of three things that are grievous. 29 Merchants and backsters are not without sin.

LESSED is the man that hath a virtuous wife, for the number of his days shall be double.

2 A virtuous woman rejoiceth her husband, and shall fulfil the years of his life in peace.

3 A good wife is a good portion, which shall be given in the portion of them that fear the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poor, if he have a good heart toward the Lord, he shall at all times rejoice with a cheerful countenance.

5 There be three things that my heart feareth; and for the fourth I was sore afraid: the slander of a city, the gathering together of an unruly multitude, and a false accusation: all these are worse than death.

6 But a grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous over another woman, and a scourge of the tongue, which communeth with a pestilence.

7 An evil wife is like sly snake to and fro; be that holdeth of her is as though he held a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman and a gadding abroad causeth great shame, and she will not cover her own shame.

9 The whoredom of a woman may be known in her naughty books and cyclides.

10 If thy daughter be shameless, keep her in straitly, lest she abuse herself through overmuch liberty.

11 Watch over an impudent eye; and marvel not if she trespass against thee.

12 She will open her mouth as a thirsty traveller when he hath found a fountain, and drink of every water near her; by every oracle she will sit down, and open her quiver against every arrow.

13 The grace of a wife delighteth her husband, and her discretion will fatten his bones.

14 A silent and loving woman is a gift of the Lord; and there is nothing so much worth as a mind well instructed.

15 A shamefaced and a faithful woman is a double grace, and her continent mind cannot be valued.

16 As the sun when it riseth in the high heaven; so is the heart of a good wife in the ordering of her house.

17 As the clear light is upon the holy candlestick; so is the beauty of the face in ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are upon the sockets of silver; so are the fair feet with a constant heart.

19 My son, keep the封ve of thy heart; age sound; and give not thy strength to strangers.

20 When thou hast gotten a fruitful possession through all the field, sow with thine own seed, trusting in the goodness of thy stock.

21 A holy race which thou hast shall be magnified, having the confidence of their good descent.

22 A harlot shall be accounted as a jest; but a married woman is a tower against death to her husband.

23 A wicked woman is given as a portion to a wicked man; but a godly woman is given to him that feareth the Lord.

24 A dishonest woman contains shame; but an honest woman will reverence her husband.

25 A shameless woman shall be accounted as a dog; but she that is shamefaced will fear the Lord.

26 A woman that honoureth her husband shall be judged wise of all; but she that dishonoureth him in her pride shall be counted unsightly of all.

27 A loud crying woman and a scold shall be sought out to drive away the enemies.

28 There be two things that grieveth my heart; and the third maketh me angry: a man of war that suffirth poverty; and men of understanding that are not set by; and one that returned from righteousness to sin: the Lord prepared such a one for the sword.

29 A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong; and a black- stouter shall not be freed from sin.

CHAPTER XXVII.

16 Any that diggeth a pit shall fall therein; and he that setteth a trap shall be taken therein.

17 He that worketh mischief shall fall upon him, and he shall not know whence it cometh.

18 Mockery and reproach are from the proud; but vengeance, as a lion, shall lie in wait for them.

19 They that reprove at the fall of the righteous shall be taken in the snare; and anguish shall consume them before they die.

20 Malice and wrath, even these are abominations; and the sinful man shall have them both.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Against revenge, quarrelling, anger, and backbiting.

1 Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein; and he that setteth a trap shall be taken therein.

2 Curses the neighbour the hurt he hath done unto thee, so shall thy sins also be forgiven when thou prayest.

3 One man beareth hatred against another, and doth he seek pardon from the Lord?

4 He sleweth no mercy to a man, which is like himself: and doth he ask forgiveness of his own sins?

5 If the hurt be but flesh nourish, who will entertain to the act of his sin?

6 Remember then evil, and be not envious; remember the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.

7 Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins: for a furious man will kindle strife.

8 A sinful man despiseth friends, and maketh debate among them that he be at peace.

9 As the matter of the fire is, so is his wrath; and according to his riches he anger riseth; and the stronger they are which contend, the more they will be inflamed.

10 A brawny contention kindleth a fire; and a brawny fighting sheddeth blood.

11 If thou blow the spark, it shall burn: if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched: and both these come out of thy mouth with hatred.

12 Curse the whisperer and double-tongued: for such have destroyed many that were at peace.

13 A backbiting tongue hath disquieted many, and driven them from nation to nation: strong cities hath it pulled down, and overthrown the houses of great men.

14 A backbiting tongue hath cast out virgins, and deprived them of their labours.

15 Who doth hearken unto it shall never find rest, and never dwell quietly.

16 The stroke of the whip maketh marks in the flesh; but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.

17 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword; but not so many as have fallen by the tongue.

18 Well is he that is defended from it, and hath not passed through the venom thereof; who hath not drawn the yoke thereof, nor hath been bound in her bands.

19 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron, and the bands thereof are bands of brass.

20 The death thereof is an evil death, the grave were better than it.

21 It shall not have rule over them that fear God, neither shall they be burned with the flame thereof.

22 Such as forsake the Lord shall fall into it; and it shall burn in them, and not be quenched; it shall be sent upon them as a lion, and devour them as a leopard.
CHAPTER XXX.
1 It is good to correct our children, and not to coak them. 2 Health is better than wealth. 3 Health and life are shortened by grief.

He that loveth his son causeth him to feel the rod, that he may have joy of him in the end.

CHAPTER XXX.
1 Though his father die, yet he is as though he were not dead: for he hath left one behind him that is like himself.
2 While he lived, he saw and rejoiced in him; and when he died, he was not sorrowful.
3 He left him behind an avenger against his enemies, and one that shall require kindness to his friends.
4 That he maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds; and his bowels will be troubled at every cry.
5 A horse not broken becometh headstrong; and a child left to himself will be wild.

9 Cocker thy child, and he shall make thee afraid; play with him, and he will bring thee to heaviness.
10 Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him, and lest thou gnaw thy teeth in the end.
11 Give him no liberty in his youth, and wink not at his follies.
12 Bow down his neck while he is young, and beat him on the sides while he is a child, lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee, and so bring sorrow to thy heart.

13 Chairise thy son, and hold him to labour, lest his heedful behaviour be an advance unto thee.

14 Better is the poor, being sound and strong of constitution, than a rich man that is afflicted in his body.

15 Health and good estate of body are above all gold, and a strong body above infinite wealth.

16 There is no riches above a sound body, and no joy above the joy of the heart.

17 Death is better than a bitter life or continual sickness.

18 Delicates pourced upon a mouth shut up, are as messes of meat set upon a grave.

19 What good doeth the offering unto an idol? for neither can it eat nor smell: so is he that is persecuted of the Lord.

20 He setteth with his eyes and groundeth, as a cun. man setteeth with turns to a virgin and sighteth.

21 Give not over thy mind to heaviness, and afflict not thyself in thine own counsel.

22 The gladness of the heart is the life of the man, and the joyfulness of a man protracteth his days.

23 Love thine own soul, and comfort thy heart, remove sorrow far from thee: for sorrow hath killed many, and there is no profit therein.

24 Ency and wealth shorten the life, and carefulness bringeth age before the time.
CHAPTER XXXI.

1 Oft the desire of riches. 2 Moderation and excess in eating, or drinking wine.

1 WATChING for richesconsumeththe flesh, and the care thereof drieth away sleep.

2 Watching care will not let a man slumber, as a sore disease breaketh sleep.

3 The rich hath great labour in gathering riches together; and when he resteth, he is filled with his delicacies.

4 The poor husbandeth in his poor estate; and when he leaveth off, he is still needy.

5 He that loveth gold shall not be justifed, and he that followeth corruption shall have enough thereof.

6 Gold hath a severer of ruin of many, and their destruction was present.

7 It is a stumbling-block unto them that sacrifice unto it, and every foal shall be taken therewith.

8 Blessed is the rich that is found without blushing, and without any name of his bed.

9 Who is he! and we will call him blessed; for wonderful things hath he done among his people.

10 Who hath been tried thereby, and found perfect? then let him glory. Who might offend, and hath not sinned, and hath not done it?

11 His goods shall be established, and the congregation shall declare his sins.

12 If thou sit at a beautiful table, else not greedily upon it, and say not, There is much meat on it, and eat it, and take away what extra is; and what is created more wicked than an eye? therefore it woeoth upon every occasion.

13 Stretch thy hand whithersoever it looketh, and thrust it not with him into the dish.

14 Judge of thine neighbour by thyself; and be discreet in every point.

15 Eat, as it becometh a man, those things which are set before thee; and decreast not, lest thou be hated.

16 Leave off first for manners sake; and be not unseemly, lest his own offence.

17 When thou sittest among many, reach not thy hand out first of all.

18 A very little is sufficient for a man well nurtured, and he ketcheth not his wind upon him, and shall not be hurt.

19 Sound sleep cometh of moderate eating; he riseth early, and his wits are with him; but the pain of watching, and choler, and pangs of the belly, are with an unsatiable man.

20 And if thou hast been forced to eat, arise, go forth, cometh, and thou shalt have rest.

21 My son, hear me, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt find as I told thee: I am all thy works be quick, so shall there no sickness come unto thee.

22 Whoso is wise of his meat, men shall speak well of him; and the report of his good housekeeping will be believed.

23 But against him that is a niggard of his meat the whole city shall murmur: and the testimonies of his niggardness shall not be doubted of.

24 Show not thy wantonness in wine; for wine hath destroyed many.

25 The furnace proveth the edge by dipping; so doth wine the hearts of the proud by drunkenness.

26 Wine is a mocker, if he be drunk moderately; what is life then to a man without wine! for it was made to make men glad.

28 Wine meaurnably drunk and in season, brings gladness of the heart, and cheerfulness of the mind.

29 But wine unchecketh bitterness of the mind, with brailing and quarrelling.

30 Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool till he offend; it diminisheth strength, and maketh wounds.

31 Rebeke not thy neighbour at the wine, and de-spice him not in his nirth; give him no disputable words, and press not upon him with urging him to drink.

CHAPTER XXXII.

1 Of his that is est to a master in a house. 2 Of the fear of God. 18 or called. 30 Of rugged and smooth way. 4 Trust not to any but to thyself, and to God.

4 Thou shalt be made the master of a feast; if not thyself, but be among them as one of the rest; take diligent care for them, and so sit down.

5 And when thou hast done all these offices, take thy place, that thou mayest be merry with them, and receive a crown for thy well ordering of the feast.

6 Speak, thou art that the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound judgment; and lester not music, and shew not forth wisdom out of time.

7 One of music in a banquet of wine is as a signet of carboleus set in gold.

8 As a signet of an emerald set in a work of gold, so is the melody of music with pleasant wine.

9 Speak, young man, if there be need of thee: and yet scarcely when thou art twice asked.

10 Let thy speech be short, comprehending much in few words; be as one that knoweth, and yet holdeth his tongue.

11 If thou be among great men, make not thyself equal with them; and when ancient men are in place, use not many words.

12 Before the thunder goeth lightning; and before a shame-faced man shall go weeping.

13 Rise up betimes, and be not the last; but get thee home without delay.

14 There take thy pastime, and with what thou wilt: but sin not by proud speech.

15 And for these things bless him that made thee, and hath replenished thee with his good things.

16 Whoso feareth the Lord will receive his discipline; and they that seek him carefully shall find favour.

17 He that seeth in the law and doeth it therewith, but the hypocrite will be offended therewith.

18 They that fear the Lord shall find judgment, and shall kinds justice as a light.

19 A sinful man will not be reproved, but findeth an excuse according to his will.

20 A man of counsel will be considered; but a strange and proud man is not dismayed with fear, even when of himself he hath done without counsel.

21 Do nothing without advice; and when thou hast once done repent, repeat not.

22 Go not in a way wherein thou mayest fall, and stumble not among the stones.

23 Be not confident in a plain way.

24 Beware of thine own children.

25 In every good work trust thine own soul; for this is the keeping of the commandments.

26 He that believeth in the Lord taketh heed to the commandment; and he that trusteth in himself shall fare never the worse.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

1 The safety of him that feareth the Lord. 2 The wise and foolish. 7 Times and seasons are of God. 16 Men are as his hands as men in the hand of the potter.

2 Wine is a mocker; if he be drunk moderately, what is life then to a man without wine! for it was made to make men glad.

3 A wise man hateth not the law; but he that is a hypocrite therein as a snare in a storm.

4 Prepare what to say, and so thou shalt be heard; and bind up instruction, and then make answer.
1 The heart of the foolish is like a cart-wheel; and his thoughts are like a rolling axle-tree.

2 A stalling horse is as amocking friend, who neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.

3 Why doth one day exeed another, when as all the light of every day is in the year of the sun?

4 By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished; and he altered seasons and feasts.

5 Some of them hath he made high days, and holowed them, and some of them hath he made ordinary days.

6 And all men are from the ground, and Adam was created of earth.

7 In much knowledge the Lord hath divided them, and made their ways diverse.

8 Some of them hath he blessed and exalted, and some of them hath he sanctified, and set near himself: but some of them have learned and brought low, and turned out of their places.

9 As the clay is in the potter's hand, to fashion it at his pleasure; so man is in the hand of that made him, to render to them as liketh him best.

10 Good is set against evil, and death against death: so is the godly against the sinner, and the sinner against the godly.

11 So look upon all the works of the Most High; and there are two and two, one against another.

12 I awaked up last of all, as one that gathereth after the grape-gatherers: by the blessing of the Lord I profited, and filled my wine-press like a gatherer of grapes.

13 Consider: I laboured not for myself only, but for all them that seek learning.

14 Hear me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.

15 Give not thy sister, thy wife, thy brother and friend, power over thee while thou livest, and give not thy goods to another: lest it repent thee, and thou entreat for the same again.

16 As long as thou livest and hast breath in thee, give not thyself over to wickedness.

17 For better it is that thy children should seek to thee, than that thou shouldest [stand] to their concurrence.

18 In all thy works keep to thyself the pre-eminence; leave not a stain in thine honour.

19 At the time when thou shalt eat thy days, and finish thy life, distinguish thine inheritance.

20 Fodder, a wand, and burdens, are for the ass; and bread, correction, and work, for a servant.

21 If thou set thy servant to labour, thou shalt find rest; but if thou givest him idle, he shall seek liberty.

22 A yoke and a collar do make the neck; so are tortures and torments for an evil servant.

23 Send him to labour, that he be not idle; for idleness teacheth much evil.

24 Set him to work, as he is fit for him: if he be not obedient, put on more heavy fotters.

25 But be not excessive toward any: and without discretion do nothing.

26 If thou have a servant, let him be unto thee as thyself, because thou hast bought him with a price.

27 If thou have a servant, entertain him as a brother: for thou hast need of him, as of thine own soul: if thou entreat him evil, and he run from thee, which way will thou go to seek him?

28 Hears the prayer of the just, and preserveth the prayer of the poor innocent.

29 The grace and lamentation of them that fear the Lord.

30 The efficacy of the ancient, and prayer of the poor innocent.

31 To prevent the face of a man to another, even as the likeness of a face to a face.

32 If an unclean thing what can be cleansed? and from that thing which is false what truth can come?

33 Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain: and the heart fumeth, as a woman's heart in travail.

34 They be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation, yet not thy heart upon them.

35 For dreams have deceived many, and they have failed that put their trust in them.

36 The law shall be found perfect without fault; and wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.

37 A man that hath travelled knoweth many things; and he that hath much experience will declare wisdom.

38 He that hath no experience knoweth little; but he that hath travelled is full of prudence.

39 When I travelled I saw many things; and I understood more than I can express.

40 I was oftentimes in danger of death; yet I was delivered because of these things.

41 The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live: and his hope is in him that saveth them.

42 Whoso feareth the Lord shall not fear nor be afraid; for he is his hope.

43 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord: to whom doth he look? and who is his strength?

44 For the eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him; he is their mighty protection and strong stay, a defence from heat, and a cover from the sun at noon, a preservation from stumbling, and a help from falling.

45 He mistaketh the soul, and lighteneth the eyes: he giveth health, life, and blessing.

46 He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is ridiculous: and [the gifts of unjust men] are not accepted.

47 The Most High is not pleaseth with the offerings of the wicked; neither is he pacified for sin by the multitude of sacrifices.

48 Whoso bringeth an offering of the goods of the poor, doeth as one that killeth the son before his father's eyes.

49 The bread of the needy is their life: he that defraudeth him thereof is a man of blood.

50 He that taketh away his neighbour's living saveth himself, and he that taketh away the labourer of his hire is a blood-shedder.

51 When one buildeth, and another pulleth down, what profit have they then but labour?

52 When one prayeth, and another curseth, whose voice will the Lord hear?

53 He that washeth himself after the touching of a dead body, if he touch it again, what availing his washing?

54 So it is with a man that fasteth for his sins, and goeth and doeth the same: who will hear his prayer? or what doth his humbling profit him?

CHAPTER XXXV.

1 Sacrifiz to the Lord: the prayer of the fatherless, of the widow, and of the humble in spirit: for their hope is in the Lord. He that keepeth the law bringeth of firings enough: he that taketh heed to the commandment offereth a peace-offering.

2 He that requiteth a good turn with a good turn; and he that giveth palms sacrificeth praise.

3 To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord; and to forsake unrighteousness is a propitiation.

4 Thou shall not appear empty before the Lord.

5 For all these things [are to be done] because of the commandment.

6 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar
8 Be merciful unto Jerusalem, thy holy city, the place of thy rest.
9 Lift up on them with thine unspeakable mercies, and thy people with thy glory.
10 Give testimony unto them that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and raise up prophets that have been in thy name.
11 Reward them that wait for thee, and let thy prophets be found faithful.
12 O Lord, hear the prayer of thy servants, according to the blessings of Aaron over thy people, that all they which dwell upon the earth may know that thou art their Lord, the eternal God.
13 The belly devoureth all meats, yet is one meat better than another.
14 As the palate tasteth divers kinds of viands; so doth a heart of understanding false speeches.
15 A forward heart causeth heaviness; but a man of experience will recompense him.
16 A woman will receive every man, yet is one daughter better than another.
17 The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance, and a man loveth nothing better.
18 If there be kindness, meekness, and comfort in her tongue, then is not her husband like other men.
19 He that getteth a wife, giveth him a possession, a help like unto himself, and a pillar of rest.
20 Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoiled; and he that hath no wife will wander up and down, and be unsatisfied.
21 Who will trust a thief well appointed, that shall be a snare to them, and they will follow him.
Lord, whose mind is according to thy mind, and will sorrow with thee, if thou shalt miscarry. 13 And let the counsel of thine own heart stand: for there is no man more faithful unto thee than it. 14 For a man's mind is sometime wont to tell him more than seven watchmen, that sit above in a high tower. 15 And above all this pray to the Most High, that he will direct thy way in truth. 16 Let reason go before every enterprise, and counsel before every action. 17 The countenance is a sign of changing of the heart. 18 Four manner of things appear: 'good and evil, life and death: but the tongue ruleth over them continually. 19 There is one that is wise and teacheth many, and yet is unprofitable to himself. 20 There is one that knoweth wisdom in words, and is hated: he shall be destitute of all [good]. 21 And he hath given more grace unto him from the Lord; because he is deprived of all wisdom. 22 Another is wise to himself; and the fruits of understanding are commendable in his mouth. 23 A wise man instructeth his people; and the fault of his works standing fail not. 24 A wise man shall be filled with blessing; and all they that see him shall count him happy. 25 The days of the life of man may be numbered; but the days of Israel are innumerable. 26 A wise man saith [this] among his people, and his name shall be perpetual. 27 My son, prove thy soul in thy life, and see what is evil for it, and give not that unto it. 28 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing. 29 Be not unstable in any daunting thing, nor too greedy upon meats: 30 For excess of meats bringeth sickness, and surfeiting will turn into choler. 31 My surfeiting have many perished; but he that taketh heed prolongeth his life.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

1 Honour due to the physician, and why. 16 How to weep and mourn for the dead. 24 The wisdom of the learned man, and of the labourer and artificer: with the use of them both.

HONOUR a physician with the honour due unto him for the uses which ye may have of him: for the Lord hath created him. 2 For of the Most High cometh healing, and he shall receive [honour of the king.
3 The skill of the physician shall lift up his head; and in the sight of great men he shall be in admiration. 4 The Lord hath created medicines out of the earth; and he that is wise will not abhor them. 5 Was not the water made sweet with wood, that the brute thereof might be known? 6 And men skill, that he might be honoured in his marvellous works. 7 With such sloth he heal [men,] and taketh away their pains. 8 Of such doth the apothecary make a confection; and of his skill is no end; and from him is peace over all the earth. 9 My son, in thy sickness be not negligent; but pray unto the Lord, and he will make thee whole. 10 Leave off from sin, and order thy hands aright, and cleanse thy heart from all wickedness. 11 Give a sweet savour, and a memorial of fine flour; and make a fat offering, [as] being. 12 Then give place to the physician, for the Lord hath created him; let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.

13 There is a time when in their hands there is good success. 14 For they shall also pray unto the Lord, that he would prosper that which they give for ease, and give them amenably to prolong life. 15 He that smiteth before his Maker, let him fall into the hand of the physician. 16 My son, let tears fall down over the dead, and begin to lament, as if thou hadst suffered great harm thyself; and then cover his body according to the custom, and neglect not his burial. 17 Weep bitterly, and make great mourn, and use lamentation, as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of: and then comfort thyself for thy heaviness. 18 For of heaviness cometh death, and the heaviness of the heart breaketh strength. 19 In affliction also sorrow remaineth; and the life of the poor is the curse of the heart. 20 Take no heaviness to heart: drive it away, and remove the hand of it. 21 Forget it not, for there is no turning again: thou shalt not do him good, but hurt thyself. 22 Remember [my] judgment: for thine also shall be so; yesterday for me, and to-day for thee. 23 For weep for the dead is not rest, let his remembrance rest; and be comforted for him, when his spirit is departed from him. 24 The wisdom of a learned man cometh by opportunity of leisure; and he that hath little business shall become wise. 25 How can we get wisdom that holdest the plough, and that knoweth in the goad, that driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and whose tongue is full of bullocks! 26 He giveth his mind to make furrows; and is diligent to give the king fodder. 27 So every carpenter and workmaster, that laboureth night and day: and they that cut and grave seals, and are diligent to make great variety, and give themselves to counterfeit imagery, and watch to finish a work: 28 The smith also sitting by the anvil, and considering the iron work, the vapour of the fire wasteth his flesh, and he filleth with the heat of the furnace; he sweats out his flesh, and the anvil is ever in his ears, and his eyes look still upon the pattern of the thing that he maketh; he setteth his mind to finish his work, and watcheth to polish it perfectly. 29 So doth the potter sitting at his work, and turning the wheel about with his feet, who is always carefully set at his work, and maketh all his work by number; 30 He weareth the clay with his arm, and [b]ourtheneth his strength before his feet; he applieth himself to lead it over; and he is diligent to make the furnace: 31 All these trust to their hands; and every one is wise in his work. 32 Without these cannot a city be inhabited; and they shall not dwell where they will, nor go up and down: 33 They shall not be sought for in public council, nor sit high in the congregation: they shall not sit on the judges' seat, nor understand the sentence of judgment: they cannot declare justice and judgment; and they shall not be found where parables are spoken. 34 But they will maintain the state of the world, and [all] their desire is in the work of their craft.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

1 A denouncement of him that is truly wise. 12 An exhortation to praise God for his works which are good to the good, and evil to them that are evil.
CHAPTER XL.

1 BUT he that giveth his mind to the law of the Most High, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, shall seek out the wisdom of all the ancient, and be occupied in prophecies.

2 He shall keep the say ings of the renowned men;
and where subtle parables are, he will be there also.

3 He will seek out the secrets of grave sentences, and be conversant in dark parables.

4 He shall serve among great men, and appear before princes: he will travel through strange lands; for he hath tried the good and the evil among men.

5 He will give his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him, and will pray before the Most High, and will open his mouth in prayer, and make supplica tion for his sins.

6 When the great Lord will, he shall be filled with the spirit of understanding: he shall pour out wise sentences, and give thanks unto the Lord in his prayer.

7 He shall direct his counsel and knowledge, and in his secrets shall he meditate.

8 He shall shew forth that which he hath learned, and shall glorify in the law of the covenant of the Lord.

9 Many shall commend his understanding: and so long as the world endureth it shall not be blotted out:
his memorial shall not depart away, and his name shall live from generation to generation.

10 Nations shall shew forth his wisdom, and the congregation shall declare his praise.

11 If he die, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand; and if he live, he shall increase it.

12 Ye have more to say, which thou hast thought upon: for I am filled as the moon at the full.

13 Hearken unto me, ye holy children, and bad forth as a rose growing by the field of the Lord:

14 And give ye a sweet savour as frankincense, and flourish as a lily; send forth a smell, and sing a song of praise; bless the Lord in all his works.

15 Magnify his name, and shew forth his praise with the songs of your lips, and with harps, and in praising him ye shall say after this manner:

16 All the Lord exceeding good, and whatsoever he commandeth shall be accomplished in due season.

17 And none may say, What is this? wherefore is that I for at time convenient they shall all be sought out at his commandment the waters stood as a heaps, and at the words of his mouth the receptacles of waters.

18 At his commandment is done whatsoever pleaseth him; and none can hinder, when he will save.

19 The works of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from everlasting to everlasting: and there is nothing wonderful before him.

21 A man need not say, What is this? whence for that he hath made all things for their uses.

22 His blessing covered the dry land as a river, and watered it as a flood.

23 As he hath turned the waters into saltiness;
so shall the heathen inherit his wrath.

24 As his ways are plain unto the lady; so are they plundering-blocks unto the wicked.

25 For the good are good things created from the beginning: too evil things for sinners.

26 The principal things for the whole use of man's life are water, fire, iron, salt, flour of wheat, honey, milk, and the blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.

27 All these things are for good to the godly;
so to the sinners they are turned into evil.

28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance, which in their fury lay on some strokes; in the time of destruction they pour out their force, and appease the wrath of him that made them.

29 Fire, and hail, and famine, and death, all these were created for vengeance:

30 Teeth of wild beasts, and scorpions, serpent, and the sword, punishing the wicked to destruction.

31 They shall rejoice in his commandment, and they shall be ready upon earth, when need is; and when their time is come, they shall not transgress his word.

32 Therefore from the beginning I was resolved, and thought upon these things, and have left them in writing.

33 All the works of the Lord are good; and he will give every good and needful thing in due season.

34 So that a man cannot say, This is worse than that: for in time they shall all be well approved.

35 And therefore praise ye the Lord with the whole heart and mouth, and bless the name of the Lord.

1 Many matrices in a man's life. 2 The reward of righteousness, and the fruit of true dealing. 3 A virtuous way, and an honest friend, acquire the heart, but the fear of the Lord is above all. 4 A beggar's life is hateful.

REAL travail is created for every man, and a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam, from the day that ey go out of their mother's womb, till the day that they return to the mother of all things.

2 Their imagination of things to come, and the day of death, [trouble] their thoughts, and [cause] fear of heart:

3 From him that sitteth on a throne of glory, unto him that is hallowed in earth and ashes:

4 From him that is hallowed, and a crown, unto him that is clothed with a linen frock.

5 Wrath and envy, trouble and uneasiness, fear of death, and anger, and strike, and in the time of rest upon his bed, his night-sleep, do change his ways; and make him as a fool.

6 A little or nothing is his rest, and afterward he is in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch, troubled in the vision of his heart, as if he were escaped out of a battle.

7 When all is safe, he awaketh, and marvelleth that the fear was nothing.

8 [Such things happen] unto all flesh, both man and beast, and that is seven-fold more upon sinners.

9 Death and bloodshed, strife and sword, calamities, ftame, tribulation, and mourning, and 10 These things are created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the flood.

11 All things that are of the earth shall turn to the earth again; and that which is of the waters doth return into the sea.

12 All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out;
but true dealing shall endure for ever.

13 The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river, and shall vanish with noise, like a great thunder in rain.

14 While he openeth his hand he shall rejoice:
so shall transgressors come to naught.

15 The children of the ungodly shall not bring forth many branches; but are as unclean roots upon a hard 16 The weed growing upon every water and bank of a river, shall be pulled up before all grass.

17 Beaumifulness is as [a] most fruitful garden, and meekfulness endureth for ever.

18 To the fair, and to the content with that a man hath, is a sweet life; but he that findeth a treasure is above them both.

19 Children and the building of a city continue a man's name; but a blameless wife is counted above them both.

20 Wine and music rejoice the heart; but the love of wisdom is above them both.

21 The pipe and the psaltery make sweet melody;
but a pleasant tongue is above them both.

22 Then eye of favour and beauty; but more than both, even whilst it is green.
A friend and companion never meet amiss; but above all is a wife with her husband. 24 Beareth and help against time of trouble; but alms shall deliver more than they both. 25 Gold and silver make the foot stand sure; but counsel is esteemed above them both. 26 Riches and strength lift up the heart; but the fear of the Lord is above them both; there is no want in the fear of the Lord, and it needeth not to seek help. 27 The fear of the Lord is a fruitful garden, and verrieth him above all glory. 28 My son, hearken to thy father’s words; for better is it to be than to be beg. 29 The life of him that dependeth on another man’s table is not to be counted for a life; for he pollueth himself with other men’s meat: but a wise man well nurtured will beware thereof. 30 Begging is sweet in the mouth of the shameless; but in his belly there shall burn a fire.

CHAPTER XL
1 The remembrance of death. 2 Death is not to be feared. 3 The ungodly shall be accursed. 4 Or an evil and a good name. 5 Wisdom is to be uttered.

DEATH, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that lieth at rest in his possessions, unto the man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperity in all things: yea, unto him that is yet able to receive meat!

2 Of death, acceptable is thy sentence unto the newly, and unto him whose strength faileth, that is now in the last age, and is vexed with all things, and to him that despaireth, and hath last patience! 3 Fear not the sentence of death, remember them that have been before thee, and that came after: for this is the sentence of the Lord over all flesh.

4 And why art thou against the pleasure of the Most High? there is no inquisition in the grave, whether thou have lived ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years. 5 The children of sinners are abominable children, and they that are conversant in the dwelling of the ungodly.

6 The inheritance of sinners’ children shall perish, and their posterity shall have a perpetual reproach. 7 The children will complain of an ungodly father, because they shall be reproached for his sake. 8 Wo be unto thee, ungodly men, which have forsaken the law of the most High! for if ye increase, it shall be to your destruction: 9 And if ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse; and if ye die, a curse shall be your portion. 10 All that are of the earth shall turn to earth again: so the ungodly shall go from a curse to destruction.

11 The mourning of men is about their bodies; but an ill name of sinners shall be blotted out. 12 Have regard to thy name; for that shall continue with thee above a thousand great treasures of gold. 13 A good life hath but few days; but a good name endureth for ever. 14 My children, keep discipline in peace: for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen, what profit is in them both! 15 A man that hath his foolishness is better than a man that hideth his wisdom.

CHAPTER XLII
1 Whereof we should not be ashamed. 9 Be careful of thy daughter. 12 Beware of a woman. 15 The works and actions of God.

2 Of these things be not thou ashamed, and accept no person to sin thereby. 3 Of the law of the Most High, and his covenant: and of judgment to justify the ungodly; 4 Of reckoning with thy partners and travelers; and of the gift of the heritage of friends: 5 Of exactness of balance and weights; or of getting much or little; 6 And of merchants’ indifferent selling; of much correction of children; and to make the side of an evil servant to be blest. 7 Sure keeping is good, where an evil wife is; and shut up, where many hands are. 8 Deliver all things in number and weight; and put all in writing that thou givest out, or receivest in. 9 Be not ashamed to inform the unwise and foolish, and the extreme aged that contended with those that are young: thus shalt thou be truly learned, and approved of all men living. 10 The father waketh for the daughter, when no man knoweth; and the care for her taketh away sleep: when she is young, lest she pass away the flower of her age; and being married, lest she should be hated: 11 In her virginity, lest she should be defiled and gotten with child in her father’s house; and having a husband, lest she should misbehave herself; and when she is married, lest she should be barren. 12 Keep a sure watch when a shameless daughter, lest she make thee a laughing-stock to thieves, and a by-word in the city, and a reproach among the people, and make thee ashamed before the multitude. 13 Behold not every body’s beauty, and sit not in the midst of women: 14 For from garments cometh a moth, and from women wickedness. 15 Better is the [ch]urchliness of a man than a courteous woman, a woman, I say, which bringeth shame and reproach. 16 I will now remember the works of the Lord, and declare the things that I have seen: in the words of the Lord are his works. 17 The sun that giveth light looketh upon all things, and the work thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.
declare all his marvellous works, which the Almighty God firmly settled, that whatsoever is, might be established for his glory.

18 He searcheth out the deep, and the heart, and considereth their empty devices: for the Lord knoweth all that may be known, and he hideth the signs of the world.

19 He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and revealeth the steps of hidden things.

20 No thought escapeth him, neither any word is hidden from him.

21 He hath garnished the excellent works of his wisdom, and he is from everlasting to everlasting: unto him may nothing be added, neither can he be diminished, and he hath no need of any counsellor.

22 O how desirable are all his works! and that a man may see even to a spark.

23 All these things are done, and remain for ever for all ages, and they are all大道.

24 All things are double one against another: and he hath made nothing imperfect.

25 One thing establisheth the good of another: and who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

CHAPTER XLIII.

1 The works of God are heaven, and in earth, and in sea, are exceeding glorious and wonderful: yet God himself in his power and wisdom doeth it not.

2 He pride of the height, the clear firmament, the beauty of heaven, with his glorious show.

3 The sun when it appeareth, declaring at his rising a marvellous instrument, the work of the Most High.

4 At noon it percheth the country, and who can abide the burning heat thereof?

5 A man blowing a furnace is in works of heat, but the sun burneth the mountains three times more: breathing out fiery vapours, and sending forth bright beams, it dimmeth the eyes.

6 Great is the Lord that made it; and at his commandment it runneth hastily.

7 He made the moon to serve in her season for a declaration of times, and a sign of the world.

8 From the moon is the sign of feasts, a light that decreaseth in her perfection.

9 The month is called after her name, increasing wonderfully in her vapours, being an instrument of the armies above, shining in the firmament of heaven.

10 The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars, an ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.

11 At the commandment of the Holy One they will stand in order, and never faint in their watches.

12 Look upon the rainbow, and praise him that made it: very beautiful is it in the brightness thereof.

13 He compasseth the heaven about with a glorious circle, and the chams of the Most High have hasted it.

14 By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall upon, and sendeth swiftly the lightnings of his judgment.

15 Through this the treasures are opened; and clouds fly forth as fowls.

16 By his great power he maketh the clouds him, and the hailstones are broken small.

17 At his sight the mountains are shaken, and at his will the south wind bloweth.

18 The noise of the thunder maketh the earth to tremble: so both the northern storm and the whirlwind: as lords flying he scattereth the snow, and the falling down thereof as the lighting of grasshoppers.

19 The eye marvelleth at the beauty of the whiteness thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raining of it.

20 The hoar-frost also as salt he poureth on the earth, and being concealed, is hid on the top of sharp staves.

21 When the cold north wind bloweth, and the water is condensed into ice, it abideth upon every gathering together of water, and clotheth the water as with a breastplate.

22 It devoureth the mountains, and burneth the wilderness, and consumeth the grass as fire.

23 A present remedy of all is a mist coming speedily: a dew coming after heat refresheth.

24 By his counsel he app升级改造, the deep, and planteth islands therein.

25 They that sail on the sea, tell of the danger thereof: and when we hear it with our ears, we marvel thereof.

26 Fear therein: he strange and wondrous works, variety of all kinds of beasts and whistles created.

27 There are yet hid greater things than these be, for we have seen but a few of his works:

28 For the Lord hath made all things; and to the gladly he hath given wisdom.

CHAPTER XLIV.

1 The praise of certain holy men, of whom Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

27 ET us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us.

2 The Lord hath wrought great glory by them through his great power from the beginning.

3 Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, men renowned for their power, giving counsel by their understanding, and declaring prophecies.

4 Leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their knowledge of learning meet for the people, wise and eloquent in their instructions:

5 Such as found out musical tunes, and received verses in writing:

6 Rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations:

7 All these were honoured in their generations, and were the glory of their times.

8 Be them of them that have left a name behind them, that their praises might be repeated.

9 And some there be which have no memorial; who are perished, as though they had never been: and are become as though they had never been born; and their children after them.

10 But those were merciful men, whose righteousness hath not been forgotten.

11 With their seed shall continually remain a good inheritance, and their children are within the covenant.

12 Their seed shall stand fast, and their children for their sakes.

13 Their seed shall remain for ever, and their glory shall not be blotted out.

14 Their bodies are buried in peace; but their name liveth for evermore.

15 The people will tell of their wisdom, and the congregation shall show forth their praises.

16 God blessed the Lord, and was translated, being an example of repentance to all generations.

17 Noah was found perfect and righteous: in the time of wrath he was taken in exchange [for the there none like unto him:
29 Who kept the law of the Most High, and was in covenant with him: he established the covenant in this flesh; and when he was proved, he was found faithful.
30 Therefore he assured him by an oath, that he would bless the nations in his seed, and that he would multiply him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seed as the stars, and cause them to inherit from sea to sea, and from the river unto the utmost part of the land.
31 With Isaac did he establish likewise [for Abraham his father's sake] the blessing of all men, and the covenant.
32 And made it rest upon the head of Jacob. He acknowledged him in his blessing, and gave him a heritage, and divided his portions; among the twelve tribes did he part them.

CHAPTER XLV.

The praise of Moses, of Aaron, and of Phineas.

1 AND he brought out of him a merciful man, which had found favour in the sight of all flesh, even Moses, beloved of God and man, whose memorial is blessed.
2 He made him like to the glorious saints, and magnified him, so that his enemies stood in fear of him.
3 By his words he caused the wonders to cease, and he made him glorious in the sight of kings, and gave him a commandment for his people, and showed him part of his glory.
4 He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness, and chose him out of all men.
5 He made him to hear his voice, and brought him into the dark cloud, and gave him commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge, that he might teach Jacob his covenants, and Israel his judgments.
6 He exalted Aaron, a holy man like unto him, even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.
7 An everlasting covenant he made with him, and gave him the priesthood among the people: he beautified him with comely ornaments, and clothed him with a robe of glory.
8 He put upon him perfect glory; and strengthened him with rich garments, with breeches, with a long robe, and the ephod.
9 And he compassed him with pomegranates, and with many golden bells round about, that as he went there might be a sound, and a noise made that might be heard in the temple, for a memorial to the children of his people.
10 With a holy garland, with gold, and blue silk, and purple, the work of the embroiderer, with a breastplate of judgment, and with Urim and Thummim.
11 With twisted scarlet, the work of the cunning workman, with precious stones graven like seals, and set in gold, the work of the jeweller, with a writing engraved for a memorial, after the number of the tribes of Israel.
12 He set a crown of gold upon the mitre, wherein was engraved Holiness, an ornament of honour, a costly work, the desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.
13 Before him there were none such, neither did ever any man greater put them on, but only his children and his children's children perpetually.
14 Their sacrifices shall be wholly consumed every day twice continually.
15 Moses consecrated him, and anointed him with holy oil: this was appointed unto him by an everlasting covenant, and to his seed, so long as the heavens should remain, that they should minister unto him, and execute the office of the priesthood, and bless the people in his name.
16 He chose him out of all men living to offer sacrifice to the Lord, incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial, to make reconciliation for his people.
17 He gave unto him his commandments, and authority in the statutes of judgments, that he should teach Jacob the testimonies, and inform Israel in his laws.
18 Strangers conspired together against him, and maligned him in the wilderness, even the men that were of Dathan's and Abiram's side, and the congregation of Coro, with fury and wrath.
19 Thus the Lord saw, and it displeased him, and in his wrathful indignation were they consumed: he did wondrous upon them, to consume them with the fiery flame.
20 But he made Aaron more honourable, and gave him a heritage, and divided unto him the first-fruits of the increase; especially he prepared bread in abundance:
21 For they ate of the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gave unto him and his seed.
22 Howbeit, in the land of the people he had no inheritance, neither had he any portion among the people: for the Lord himself is his portion and inheritance.
23 The third in glory is Phineas the son of Eleazar, because he had zeal in the fear of the Lord, and stood up with great courage of heart when the people were turned back, and made reconciliation for Israel.
24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chief of the sanctuary and of his people, and that he and his posterity should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever:
25 According to the covenant made with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Juda, that the inheritance of the king should be to his posterity alone: so the inheritance of Aaron should also be unto his posterity.
26 God give you wisdom in your heart to judge his people in righteousness, that their good things be not abolished, and that their glory may endure for ever.

CHAPTER XLVI.

The praise of Joshua, Caleb, and Samuel.

JESUS, the son of Nave, was valiant in the wars, and was the successor of Moses in prophecies, who according to his name was made great for the saving of the elect of God, and taking vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them, that he might set Israel in their inheritance.
2 How great glory got he, when he did lift up his hands, and stretched out his sword against the cities!
3 Who before him so stood to it? for the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.
4 Did not the sun go back by his means? and was not one day as long as two?
5 He called upon the most high Lord, when the enemies pressed upon him on every side; and the great Lord heard him.
6 And with hundred of mighty power he made the battle to fall violently upon the nations, and in the descent [of Bethsdbor] he destroyed them that resisted, that the nations might know all their strength, because he fought in the sight of the Lord, and he followed the Mighty One.

5 In the time of Moses also he did a work of mercy, he and Caleb upon of all the people, that they withstood the congregation, and withheld the people from sin, and appeased the wicked murmuring.

6 And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two were preserved to bring them into the heritage, even unto the land that lovesth with milk and honey.

7 The Lord gave strength also unto Caleb, which remained with him unto his old age: so that he entered upon the high places of the land, and his seed obtained it for a heritage.

8 That all the children of Israel might see that it is good to follow the Lord.

11 And concerning the judges, every one by name, whose heart was not a whoring, nor departed from the Lord, let their memory be blessed.

12 Let their bones flourish out of their place, and let the name of them that were honoured be continued upon their children.

13 *Samuel, the prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord, established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.

14 By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation, and the Lord had respect unto Jacob.

15 By his faithfulness he was found a true prophet, and by his word he was known to be faithful in vision.

16 He called upon the mighty Lord, when his ene-

17 And the Lord thundered from heaven, and with a great noise made his voice to be heard.

18 And he destroyed the rulers of the Tyrants, and all the princes of the Philistines.

19 And before his long sleep he made preparations in the sight of the Lord and his anointed, I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a sheath and no man did accuse him.

20 And after his death he prophesied, and showed the king his end, and lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy, to blot out the wickedness of the people.

CHAPTER XLVII.

1 The praise of Nathan, David, and Solomon, his glory and infinitude.

23 Of his end and punishment.

6 7 After him rose up *Nathan to prophesy in the time of David.

2 As the fat was taken away from the peace-offering, so was David chosen out of the children of Israel.

3 In all his works he played with lions as with kids, and with bears as with lambs, and did not take away reproach from the people, when he lifted up his hand with the stone in the sling, and beat down the boasting of Goliath.

5 For he called upon the most high Lord; and he gave him strength in his right hand to slay that mighty warrior, and set up the horn of his people.

6 So the people honoured him with ten thousands, and praised him in the blessings of the Lord, in that he gave him a crown of glory.

7 For the destroyed the enemies on every side, and brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries, and brake their horn in sunder unto this day.

8 In all his works he praised the Holy One most high with words of glory; with his whole heart he sang songs, and loved him that made him.

9 He set singers also before the altar, that by their voices they might make sweet melody, and daily sing praises in their songs.

10 He beautified their feasts, and set in order the 11 The Lord took away his sins, and exalted his born lord: he gave him a crown of kings, and the throne of glory in Israel.

12 After he rose up a wise son, and for his sake he dwelt at large.

13 Solomon reigned in a peaceful time, and was honoured: for God made all quiet round about him, that he might build a house in his name, and prepare his sanctuary for ever.

14 How wise was thou in thy youth, and, as a flood, filled with understanding.

15 Thy soul covered the whole earth, and thou filledst it with dark parables.

16 Thy name went far into the islands; and for thy peace thou wast beloved.

17 The countries marvelled at thee for thy songs, and proverbs, and parables, and interpretations.

18 By the name of the Lord God, which is called the Lord God of Israel, thou didst gather gold as tin, and didst multiply silver as lead.

19 Thou didst have thy joy among women, and thy body was lifted up upon the bed of a youth.

20 Thou didst stain thy honour, and pollute thy seed: so that thou broughtest wrath upon thy children, and wast grieved for thy folly.

21 So the kingdom was divided, and out of Ephraim ruled a rebellious kingdom.

22 But the Lord will never leave off his mercy, neither shall any of his works perish, neither will he abolish the povery of his elect, and the seed of him that loveth him he will not take away: wherefore he gave a remnant unto Jacob, and out of him a root unto David.

23 Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and of his seed he left behind him Roboaam, even the foolishness of the people, and one that had no understanding, who turned away the people through his counsel.

24 There was also Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin, and showed Ephraim the way of sin:

25 And their sins were multiplied exceedingly, that they were driven out of the land.

25 For they sought out all wickedness, till the vengeance came upon them.

CHAPTER XLVIII.

The praise of Ethan, Elimelech, and Ezraiah.

HEX stood up *Elfers the prophet as fire, and his word burned like a lamp.

2 He brought a sore famine upon them, and by his zeal he diminished their number.

3 By the word of the Lord he shed up the heavens, and also three times brought down fire.

4 Ethan, how much hast thou honoured in thy wondrous deeds! and who may glory like unto thee?

5 Who didst raise up a dead man from death, and his soul from the joints of the dead, by the word of the Most High?

6 Who broughtest kings to destruction, and honourable men from their beds?

7 Who heardest the rebuke of the Lord in Sinai, and in Horeb the judgment of vengeance;

8 Who anointed kings to take revenge, and proph-

9 Who was taken up in a whirlwind of fire, and in a chariot of fiery horses.

10 Who were condemn-

11 Who dost take up the righteous in thine anger and in wrath, to support the cause of the pious: and to restore the tribes of Jacob.
ECCLESIASTICUS.

11 Blessed are they that saw this, and slept in love; for we shall surely live.
12 Elias it was who was covered with a whirlwind: and Elias was the artificer of his spirit: whilst he lived, he was not moved with the presence of any prince, neither could any bring him into subjection.
13 [No word could overcome him; and after his death his body prophesied.
14 He did wander in his life, and at his death were his works marvelous.
15 For all the things the people repented not, neither departed they from their sins, till they were spoiled and carried out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth; yet therein remained a small people, and a ruler in the house of David:
16 Of whom some did that which was pleasing to God, and some multiplied sins.
17 Ezekias fortified his city, and brought in water into the midst thereof; he dugged the hard rock with iron, and made wells for waters.
18 In his time Solomon came up, and sent Rab-saces, and lifted up his hand against Sion, and boasted proudly.
19 Then trembled their hearts and hands, and they were in pain, as women in travail.
20 But they called upon the Lord which is merciful, and stretched out their hands toward him; and immediately the Holy One heard them out of heaven, and delivered them by the ministry of Ezeckias:
21 He smote the host of the Assyrians, and his angel destroyed them.
22 For Ezechias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and was strong in the ways of David his father, as Eze the prophet, who was great and faithful in his vision, had commanded him.
23 In his time the sun went backward, and he lengthened the king's life.
24 He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last, and he comforted them that mourned in Sion.
25 He shewed what should come to pass for ever, and secret things or ever they came.

CHAPTER XLIX.
The praise of Josias, of David and Ezechias, of Jeremy, of Ezekiel, Zechariah, Jesus the son of Joside, of Neemias, Enoch, Seth, Sem, and Adam.

HE rememberance of Josias is like the composition of the perfume that is made by the apothecary; it is sweet as honey in all months, and as music at a banquet of wine.
2 He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people, and took away the abominations of iniquity.
3 He directed his heart unto the Lord, and in the time of the ungodly he established the worship of God.
4 All, except David, and Ezechias, and Josias, were defective: for they forsook the law of the Most High, even the kings of Juda failed.
5 Therefore he gave their power unto others, and their glory to a strange nation.
6 They burnt the chosen city of the sanctuary, and made the streets desolate, according to the prophecy of Jeremias.
7 For they entreated him evil, who nevertheless was a prophet, sanctified in his mother's womb, that he might root out, and afflict, and destroy; and that he might build up also, and plant.
8 It was Ezechiel who saw the glorious vision, which was shewed him upon the chintor of the cherubins.
9 For he made mention of the enemies under the figure of the rain, and directed them that went right.
10 And of the twelve prophets let the memorial be blessed, and let their houses flourish again out of their place; for they comforted Jacob, and delivered them by assured hope.
11 How shall we magnify Zorobabel? even he was as a signet on the right hand!
12 So was Jesus the son of Joside; who in their time builded the house, and set up a holy temple to the Lord, which was prepared for everlasting glory.
13 Shall among the cities of this dominion, whose name is great, who raised up for us the walls that were fallen, and set up the gates and the bars, and raised up our ruins again.
14 But upon the earth was no man created like him; for he was taken from the earth.
15 Neither was there a man born like unto Joseph, a governor of his brethren, a stay of the people, whose bones were regarded of the Lord.
16 Sem and Seth were in great honour among men, and so was Adam above every living thing in the creation.

CHAPTER I.
1 Of Simon the son of Osias. 22 They were brought to grace God, and pity. 27 The conclusion. 35 MON the high priest, the son of Osias, who in his life repair the house again, and in his days fortified the temple:
2 And by him was built from the foundation the double height, the high fortress of the wall about the temple.
3 In his days the dominion to receive water, being in compass as the sea, was covered with plates of brass:
4 He took care of the temple that it should not fall, and fortified the city against besieging:
5 How was he honoured in the midst of the people in his coming out of the sanctuary!
6 He was as the morning star in the midst of a cloud, and as the moon at the full:
7 As the sun shining upon the temple of the Most High, and as the rainbow giving light in the bright clouds:
8 And as the flower of roses in the spring of the year, as lilies by the rivers of waters, and as the banchises of the frankincense-tree in the time of summer:
9 As fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessel of beaten gold set with all manner of precious stones:
10 And as a fair olive-tree budding forth fruit, and as a cypress-tree which groweth up to the clouds.
11 When he put on the robe of honour, and was clothed with the perfection of glory, when he went up to the holy altar, he made the garment of holiness honourable.
12 When he took the portions out of the priests' hands, he himself stood by the hearth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as a young cedar in Libanus; and as palm-trees compassed they him round about.
13 So were all the sons of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.
14 And finishing the service at the altar, that he might adorn the offering of the most high Almighty, 15 He stretched out his hand to the cup, and poured of the blood of the grape; he poured out at the foot of the altar a sweet-smelling savour unto the most high King of all.
16 Then shouted the sons of Aaron, and sounded the silver trumpets and made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the Most High.
17 Then all the people together hasted, and fell down to the earth upon their faces to worship their Lord God Almighty, the Most High.
18 The angels also sang praises with their voices, with great variety of sounds was there made sweet melody,
CHAPTER LII.

A prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

1. I will thank thee, O Lord, and King, and praise thee, O God, my Saviour: I do give praise unto thy name.

2. For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserved my body from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lips that forsake, and have been mine helper against mine adversaries.

3. And hast delivered me, according to the multitude of the mercies and greatness of thy name, from the teeth of them that were ready to devour me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold affictions which I had.

4. From the choking of fire on every side, and from the midst of the fire which I kindled not.

5. From the depth of the belly of hell, from an unconcealed tongue, and from lying words.

6. By an accusation to the king from an unrighteous tongue, my soul drew near even unto death, my life was near to the hell beneath.

7. They compassed me on every side, and there was no man to help me: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

8. Then thought I upon thy mercy, O Lord, and upon thine acts of old, how thou deliveredst such as wait for thee, and savest them out of the hands of the enemies.

9. Then lifted I up my supplication from the earth, and prayed for deliverance from death.

10. I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord, that he would not leave me in the days of my trouble, and in the time of the proud, when there was no help.

11. I will praise thy name continually, and will sing praise with thanksgiving: and so my prayer was heard.

12. For thou savedst me from destruction, and deliveredst me from the evil time: therefore will I give thanks, and praise thee, and bless thy name, O Lord.

13. When I was yet young, or ever I went abroad, I desired wisdom openly in my prayer.

14. I prayed for her before the temple, and will seek her out even to the end.

15. Even from the flower till the grape was ripe, hath my heart delighted in her: my foot went the right way, from my youth up sought I after her.

16. I bowed down, mine ear a little, and received her, and got much learning.

17. I profited therein: therefore will I ascribe the glory unto him that giveth me wisdom.

18. For I purposed to do after her, and earnestly I followed that which is good: so shall I not be confounded.

19. My soul hath wrestled with her, and in my doings I was exact: I stretched forth my hands to the heavens above, and bewailed my ignorance of her.

20. If I directed my soul unto her, and I found her in perplexity: I have had my heart joined with her from the beginning, therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21. My heart was troubled in seeking her: therefore have I gotten a good possession.

22. The Lord hath given me a tongue for my reward, and I will praise him therewith.

23. Draw near unto me, ye unlearned, and dwell in the house of learning.

24. Wherefore are ye slow, and what say ye of these things, seeing your souls are very thirsty?

25. I opened my mouth, and said, 'Give her for yourselves without money.

26. Put your neck under the yoke, and let your soul receive instruction: she is hard at hand to find.

27. Behold with your eyes, how that I have had but little labour, and have gotten unto me much rest.

28. Get learning with a great sum of money, and get much gold by her.

29. Let your soul rejoice in his mercy, and be not ashamed of his praise.

30. Work your work betimes, and in his time he will give you your reward.

CHAPTER I.

And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jehohanan the son of Zerubbah, king of Juda, and in the ears of all the people that came to hear the book.

And in the hearing of the nobles, and of the king's sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and of all the people, from the lowest unto the highest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud.

Whereupon they wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lord.

They made also a collection of money according to every man's power.
7 And they sent it to Jerusalem unto Jeconiah the high priest, the son of Jehiel, and the priests, and to the people, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem.

8 And at the same time, when he received the vessels of the house of the Lord, that were carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Judah, the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Zedekiah the son of Josias king of Judah had made.

9 And to the kings, and to our priests, and to our brethren, and to our fathers:

10 For we have sinned before the Lord, and we have been negligent in not hearing his voice.

11 Wherefore the evils cleave unto us, and the curse, which the Lord appointed by Moses his servant at the time that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, like as it is to see this day.

12 Nevertheless we have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us:

13 But every man followed the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAPTER II.
The prayer and confession which the Jews at Babylon made, and sent in that back unto the brethren in Jerusalem.

1 Wherefore the Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our priests, and against the men of Israel and Juda.

2 To bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that were written in the law of Moses;

3 That a man should eat the flesh of his own son, and the flesh of his own daughter.

4 Moreover, he hath delivered them to be in subjection,

50:15 And ye shall say, Thus saith the Lord our God.
5 Thus we were cast down, and not exalted, because we have sinned against the Lord our God, and have not been obedient unto his voice.

6 To the Lord our God appertain righteousness and iniquity; but unto us and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.

7 For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced against us.

8 Yet have we not prayed before the Lord, that we might turn every one from the imaginations of his wicked heart.

9 Wherefore the Lord watched over us for evil, and the Lord hath brought it upon us: for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us.

10 Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord, that he set before us.

11 And now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt, with a mighty hand and a high arm, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and hast gotten thyself a name, as appeareth this day:

12 O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done unrighteousness in all things that we have done.

13 Let thy wrath turn from us: for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us.

14 Hear our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them that have holud us away:

15 That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because |Israel| and his posterity is called by thy name.

16 O Lord, look down from thy holy house, and consider us: bow down thine ear, O Lord, to hear us.

17 Open thine eyes and behold: for the dead are in the graves, whose bones are taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither praise nor righteousness:

18 But the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feebile, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee praise and righteousness, O Lord.

19 Therefore we do make our humble supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings.

20 For thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying,

21 Thus saith the Lord, Bow down your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon: so shall ye remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers.

22 But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon:

23 I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride; and the whole land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

24 But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good the words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places.

25 And lo, they are cast out to theheat of the day, and to the frost of the night, and they die in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by pestilence.

26 And the house which is called by thy name hast thou hid waste, as it is to be seen this day, for the 16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beasts upon the earth?
17 They that kept their pastime with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trusted, and made no end of their getting!
18 For they that wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are unsearchable, 19 They are vanished and gone down to the grave, and others are come up in their steads.
20 Young men have seen light, and dwelt upon the earth; but the way of knowledge have they not known.
21 Nor understood the paths thereof, nor laid hold of it: their children were far off from that way.
22 It hath not been heard of in Channah, neither hath it been seen in Themman.
23 The Agarenes that seek wisdom upon earth, the merchants of Meran and of Themun, the jambors of fables, and searchers out of understanding; none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remember her paths.
24 O Israel, how great is the house of God! and how large is the place of his possession!
25 Great, and earth none end; high, and unmeasurable.

There were the giants famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in war.
26 They did not the Lord choose, neither gave he the way of knowledge unto them;
27 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their own foolishness.
28 Who have gone into heaven to heaven, and brought her down from the clouds?
29 Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her for pure gold?
30 No man knoweth her way, nor thinketh of her path.
31 But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, and hath found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with four-footed beasts;
32 He that sendeth forth light, and it goeth, calleth it again, and it obeyeth him with fear.
33 The stars shined in their watches, and rejoiced: when he calleth them, they say, Here be I, and so with cheerfulness they showed light unto him that made them.
34 This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him.
35 He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel his beloved.
36 Afterward did he shew himself upon earth, and conversed with men.

CHAPTER IV.
1 The book of commandments is that wisdom which was commanded in the former chapter.
2 The Jews are moved to patience, and to hope for their deliverance.

His is the book of the commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever; all they that keep it shall come to life: but such as leave it shall die.
2 Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: walk in the presence of the light thereof, that thou mayest be illuminated.
3 Give not thine honour to another, nor illumine the things that are profitable unto thee, to a strange nation.
4 O Israel, happy are we: for things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us.
5 Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel!
6 Ye were sold to the nations, not for [your] destruction; but because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto the enemies.
7 For ye provoked him that made you by sacrificing unto devils, and to no God.
8 Ye have forgotten the everlasting God, that brought you up: and ye have grieved Jerusalem, that nursed you.

9 For when she saw the wrath of God coming upon you, she said, Hearken, O ye that dwell about Sion: God hath brought upon you great mourning:
10 For I saw the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting brought upon them.
11 With joy did I nourish them; but sent them away with weeping and mourning.
12 Let them rejoice over me, a widow, and forsaken of many, who for the sins of my children am left desolate; because they departed from the law of God.
13 They know not his statutes, nor walked in the ways of his commandments, nor trade in the paths of discipline in his righteousness.
14 Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them.
15 For the wrath hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation, and of a strange language, who neither reverenced old man, nor pitied child.
16 These have carried away the dear beloved children of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate without daughters.
17 But what can I help you?
18 For the that brought these plagues upon you, will deliver you from the hands of your enemies.
19 Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate.
20 I have put off the clothing of [peace], and put upon me the sackcloth of my prayer: I will cry unto the Everlasting [in] my days.
21 Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto the Lord, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies.
22 For my hope is in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from the Everlasting our Saviour.
23 For I sent you out with mourning and weeping; but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever.
24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting.
25 My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; and shortly shall he see his destruction, and shall tread upon his neck.
26 [My delicate ones have gone rough ways, and were taken away as a flock caught of the enemies.
27 Be of good comfort, O my children, to cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that brought these things upon you.
28 For as it was your mind to go astray from God; so, being returned, seek him ten times more.
29 For he that hath brought these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation.
30 Take a good heart, O Jerusalem: for he that gave thee that name will comfort thee.
31 Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall; for thou shalt be grieved for her own desolation.
32 Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons.
33 For as she rejoiced at thy ruin, and was glad of thy fall; so shall she be grieved for her own desolation.
34 For I will take away the rejoicing of her great multitude, and her pride shall be turned into mourning.
35 For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to embrace, and she shall be inhabited of devils for a great time.
36 O Jerusalem, look about thee toward the cast, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God.
CHAPTER V.
Jerusalem is moved to repair, and to behold their return out of captivity with great glory.

money: though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will not require it.
36: They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty.
37: They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor help any man in his distress.
38: They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless.
39: Their gods of wood, and which are overlaid with gold and silver, are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain: they that worship them shall be confounded.
40: How should a man then think and say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves disfigure them?
41: Who, if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and cut up his flesh that he may speak, as though he were able to understand.
42: Yet they cannot understand this themselves, and leave them: for they have no knowledge.
43: The women also with cords about them, sitting in the ways, burn bean for perfume; but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought worthy of herself, nor her cord broken.
44: Whatsoever is done among them is false: how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?
45: They are made of carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be.
46: And they themselves made that can never continue long: how should then the things that are made of them be gods?
47: For they let lies and reproaches to them that come after.
48: For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them.
49: How then can men perceive that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war nor from plague?
50: For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with silver and gold, it shall be known hereafter that they are false:
51: And it shall manifestly appear to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them.
52: Who then may not know that they are no gods?
53: For neither can they set up a king in the land, nor give rain unto men.
54: Neither can they judge their own cause, nor dress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth.
55: Whereupon when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or laid even with gold or silver, their priests will flee away, and escape; but they themselves shall be burned asunder like beams.
56: Moreover, they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how can it then be, thought or said that they be gods?
57: Neither are those gods of wood, and laid over with silver or gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers:
58: Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong do take, and go away withal: neither are they able to help themselves.
59: Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his power, or else a profitable vessel in a house, which the owner shall have use of, than such false gods; or to be a door in a house, to keep such things safe as are therein, than such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods.
60: For sun, moon, and stars, being bright, and sent to do their offices, are obedient.
61: In like manner the lightning when it breaketh forth is easy to be seen; and falleth the same manner the wind bloweth in every country.
62: And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, 'they do as they are hidden.'
63: And the fire sent from above to consume hills and woods doeth as it is commanded: but these are like unto them neither in shew nor power.
64: Wherefore it is neither to be supposed nor said that they are gods, seeing 'they are able neither to judge causes, nor to do good unto men.'
65: Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not.
66: For they can neither curse nor bless kings:
67: Neither can they shew signs in the heavens among the heathen, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon.
68: The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves.
69: It is then by no means manifest unto us that they are gods; therefore fear their name.
70: For as a scarcerow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing: so are their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold.
71: And likewise their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body that is cast into the dark.
72: And ye shall know them to be no gods by the bright purple that rotteith upon them: and they themselves afterward shall be eaten, and shall be a reproach in the country.
73: Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN.

Which followeth in the third Chapter of Daniel after this place, 'fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace'.

That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, 'And they walked,' unto these words, 'Then Nebuchadnezzar,' verse 24.

2. 'Arise his prayer and confession in the flame, wherewith the Chaldeans about the oven were consumed, but the three children within it were not hurt. 29. The song of the three children in the oven.

3. 'And they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord.'

4. Then Azariah stood up, and prayed in this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire, said.

5. 'Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy name is worthy to be praised and glorified.'

6. For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done to us: yea, true are all thy works, thy ways are right, and all thy judgments truth.

7. In all the things which thou hast brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgment: for according to truth and judgment dost thou bring all these things upon us because of our sins.
SONG

APOCRYPHA.

6 For we have sinned and committed iniquity, deporting from thee.

In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that it might go well with us.

Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and every thing that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgment.

And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, most hateful Forsakers of God, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world.

And now we cannot open our mouths, we are become a shame and reproach to thy servants, and to them that worship thee.

1 Yet deliver us not up wholly, for thy name's sake, another day shall thou thy covenant;

Like as in the burnt-offerings of rams and bullacks, and as in ten thousands of fat lambs; so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee: for they shall not be confounded that put their trust in thee.

And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face.

Put us not to shame; but deal with us after thy loving-kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord; and let all them that do thy servants be ashamed;

And let them be confounded in all their power and might, and let their strength be broken;

And let them know that thou art Lord, the only
God, and glorious over the whole world.

And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased to make the even hot with brim, pitch, tar, and smal want;

So that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits.

And it passed through, and burned those Chaldesians it found about the furnace;

But the angel of the Lord came down into the oven together with Azarias and his fellows, and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven;

And made the midst of the furnace as it had been a brisk whistling wind, so that the flame had reached them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.

Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying;

Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers:
and to be praised and exalted above all for ever,

And blessed is thy glorious and holy name:
and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.

Blessed art thou in the temple of thy holy glory:
and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.

Blessed art thou that beholdst the depths, and stittest upon the cherubim: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.

Blessed art thou in the glorious throne of thy kingdom: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.

80
Two judges had themselves in the garden of Susanna to love their pleasure of her: which when they could not obtain, they accused, and caused her to be condemned for adultery: but Daniel examined the matter again, and found the two judges false.

HERE dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim:

2 And he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord.

3 Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses.

4 Now Joacim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honourable than all others.

5 The same year were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who seemed to govern the people.

6 These kept much at Joacim's house; and all that had any suits in law came unto them.

7 Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk.

8 And the two elders saw her going in every day, and walking; so that their lust was inflamed toward her.

9 And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgments.

10 And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief.

11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her.

12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

13 And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner-time.

14 So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their fault: then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone.

15 And it fell out, as they watched a fit time, she went in as before with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in the garden: for it was hot.

16 And there was no body there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her.

17 Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing-balls, and shut the garden-doors, that I may wash me.

18 And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden-doors, and went out themselves at the privy doors to fetch the things that she had commanded.
them; but they saw not the elders. Because they were hid.
19 Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying,
20 Behold, the garden-doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, and lie with us.
21 If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee.
22 Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death unto me; and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands.
23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not to do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord.
24 With that Susanna cried with a loud voice; and the two elders cried out against her.
25 Then ran the one, and opened the garden-door.
26 So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the privy door, to see what was done unto her.
27 But when the elders had declared their matter, the servants were gone before they be; for there never was such a report made of Susanna.
28 And it came to pass the next day, when the people were assembled to her husband Jezech, the two elders came also full of mischievous imagination against Susanna to put her to death.
29 And said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, Jezech's wife. And so they sent.
30 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred.
31 Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beauteous to behold.
32 And these wicked men commanded to uncover her face (for she was covered,) that they might be filled with her beauty.
33 Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept.
34 Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head.
35 And she weeping looked up toward heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord.
36 And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden-doors, and sent the maids away.
37 Then a young man, who was there hid, came unto her, and lay with her.
38 And then we that stood in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickedness, ran unto them.
39 And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the door, and leaped out.
40 But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these things do we testify.
41 Then the assembly believed them, as those that were the elders and judges of the people: so they condemned her to death.
42 Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things before they be:
43 Then knowest that they have borne false witness against me: and behold, I must die; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me.
44 And the Lord heard her voice.
45 Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel:
46 Who cried with a loud voice, I am clear from the blood of this woman.
47 Then all the people turned toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken?
48 So he standing in the midst of them, said, O sons of Israel, that without examination and knowledge of the truth ye have condemned a daughter of Israel?
49 Return again to the place of judgment: for they have borne false witness against her.
50 Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder.
51 Then said Daniel unto them, Put these two aside one far from another, and I will examine them.
52 So when they were put another one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou art waxen old in wickedness, now thy sins which thou hast committed aforetime are come to light.
53 For thou hast pronounced false judgment, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guilty go free: albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shall not thou slay.
54 Now then, if thou hast done her, tell me, Under what tree sittest thou them compassing together? Who answered, Under a tamarisk-tree.
55 And Daniel said, Very well: thou hast lied against thine own head: for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God to cut thee in two.
56 So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Chanan, and not of Juda, beauteous hath deceived thee, and thou hast perverted the heart.
57 Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for bare compassed with you: but the daughter of Juda would not abide your wickedness.
58 Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them compassing together? Who answered, Under a holm-tree.
59 Then said Daniel unto him, Well; thou hast also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God watched with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you.
60 With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and praised God, who saveth them that trust in him.
61 And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness by their own mouth.
62 And according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbours: and they put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saved the same day.
63 Therefore Chelcias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Jezech her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her.
64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.
THE HISTORY OF THE DESTRUCTION OF BEL AND THE DRAGON, CUT OFF FROM THE END OF DANIEL.

19 The fraud of Bel’s priests is discovered by Daniel, and the dragon slain which was worshipped. 20 Daniel is preserved in the lion’s den. 21 The king doth acknowledge the God of Daniel, and casteth his enemies into the same den.

ND King Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia received his kingdom.

2 And Daniel conversed with the king, and was honoured above all his friends.

3 Now the Babylonians had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six vessels of wine.

4 And the king worshipped it, and went daily to adore it: but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost not thou worship Bel?

5 Who answered and said, Because I may not worship idols made with hands, but the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh.

6 Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day?

7 Then Daniel smiled, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never eat or drink any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth these expenses, ye shall die.

9 But if ye can certify me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it be according to thy word.

10 Now the priests of Bel were three score and ten, besides their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bel’s priests said, Lo, we go out; but thou, O king, set on the meat, and make ready the wine, and shut the door fast, and seal it with thine own signet:

12 And to-morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death; or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against us.

13 And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the king set meats before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and those they strew throughout all the temple in the presence of the king alone: then went they out and shut the door, and sealed it with the king’s signet, and so departed.

15 Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drink up all.

16 In the morning betimes the king arose, and Daniel with him.

17 And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole.
And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, "Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all."

Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well where his footsteps are: these.

And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the king was amazed.

And took the priests with their wives and children, who showed him the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table.

Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who destroyed him and his temple.

And in that same place there was a great dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.

And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, he eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him.

Then said Daniel unto the king, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the living God.

But give me leave, O king, and I will slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave.

Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof; this he put in the dragon's mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder: and Daniel said, lo, these are the gods ye worship.

When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slain the dragon, and put the priests to death.

O LORD, Almighty God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof; who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all men fear, and tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatening toward sinners is importunate; but thy merciful promise is unanswerable and unsearchable; for thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long-suffering, very merciful, and repentent of the evils of men. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee; and of thine infinite mercy hast appointed repentance unto sinners, that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned above the number of the ends of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up my head; neither have my release: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done evil before thee: I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of my heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: wherefore I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me: neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, over the God of them that repent; and in me thou wilt show all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. Therefore I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: for all the powers of the heavens do praise thee, and thine is the glory for ever and ever.
Chapter 1.

Antiochus gave leave to set up the altars of the Gentiles in Jerusalem, and spoiled it, and the temple in it, and set up there in the sanctuary of desolation, and slew those that did encompass their children.

1 And it happened, after that Alexander, son of Philip the Macedonian, who was out of the land of Chethill, had smitten *Darius king of the Persians and Medes, that he reigned in his stead, the first over Greece, and made many wares, and won many strong holds, and slew the kings of the earth.

2 And went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of many nations, insomuch that the earth was quiet before him; whereupon he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up.

3 And he gathered a mighty strong host, and ruled over countries, and nations, and kings, who became tributaries unto him.

4 And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die.

5 Wherefore he called his servants, such as were honourable, and had been brought up with him from his youth, and parted his kingdom among them, while he was yet alive.

6 So Alexander reigned twelve years, and then died.

7 And his servants bare rule every one in his place.

8 And after his death they all put crowns upon themselves: so did their sons after them many years: and evils were multiplied in the earth.

9 And there came out of them a wicked root, Antiochus named Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, who had been a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

10 In those days went there out of Israel wicked men, who persuaded many, saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the heathen that are round about us: for since we departed from them, we have had much sorrow.

11 So this device pleased them well.

12 Then certain of the people were so forward herein, that they went to the king, who gave them license to do after the ordinances of the heathen:

13 Whereupon they built a place of exercise at Jerusalem according to the customs of the heathen:

14 And made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the heathen, and were sold to do mischief.

15 Now when the kingdom was established before Antiochus, he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might have the dominion of two realms.

16 Wherefore he entered into Egypt with a great multitude, with chariots, and elephants, and horsemen, and a great navy.

17 And made war against Ptolemeus king of Egypt: but Ptolemeus was afraid of him, and fled; and many were wounded to death.

18 Thus they got the strong cities in the land of Egypt, and he took the spoils thereof.

19 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he returned again in the hundred forty and third year, and went up against Israel and Jerusalem with a great multitude.

20 And entered proudly into the sanctuary, and took away the golden altar, and the candlestick of light, and all the vessels thereof.

21 And the table of the shew-bread, and the pouring vessels, and the vials, and the censers of gold, and the vail, and the crowns, and the golden ornaments that were before the temple, [all which he pulled off.

22 He took also the silver and gold, and the precious vessels: also he took the hidden treasures which he found.

23 And when he had taken all away, he went into his own land, having made a great massacre, and spoken very proudly.

24 Therefore there was a great mourning in Israel, in every place where they were.

25 So that the princes and elders mourned, the virgins and young men were made feecle, and the beauty of women was changed.

26 Every bridegroom took up lamentation, and she that sat in the marriage-chamber was in heaviness.

27 The land also was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was covered with confusion.

28 And after two years fully expired, the king sent his chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Judea, who came unto Jerusalem with a great multitude.

29 And spake peaceable words unto them, but all was bad for: for when they had given him credence, he fell suddenly upon the city and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

30 And when he had taken the spoils of the city, he set it on fire, and pulled down the houses and walls thereof on every side.

31 But the women and children took they captive, and possessed the cattle.

32 Then builded they the city of David with a great and strong wall, and with mighty towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

33 And they put therein a sinfull nation, wicked men, and fortified the cities thereof.

34 They stored it also with armour and victuals, and when they had gathered together the spoils of Jerusalem, they hid them up there, and so they became a sore snare:

35 For it was a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel.

36 This they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled it:

37 Insomuch that the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them: whereupon the city was made an habitation of strangers, and became strange to those that were born in her; and her own children left her.

38 Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, her beasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt.

39 As had been her glory, so was her dishonour increased, and her excellency was turned into mourning.

40 Moreover, King Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, 'that all should be one people,

41 And every one should leave his laws: so all the heathen agreed according to the commandment of the king.}

42 Yes, many also of the Idumaees consented to his religion, and sacrificed unto idols, and profaned the sabbath.

43 For the king had sent letters by messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Judea, that they should follow the strange laws of the land.
And forbid burnt-offerings, and sacrifices, and drink-offerings, in the temple: and that they should profane the sabbath, and the solemn feasts, and new moons, and sabbaths, and that they should pollute the sanctuary, and the holy people.

And set up altars, and groves, and chapels of idols, and sacrifice avow'd flesh, and unclean beasts:

That they should also leave their children uncircumcised, and make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation:

To the end they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances.

And this was he that should not do according to the commandment of the king, as he said, he should die.

In the self-same manner wrote he to his whole kingdom, and appointed overseers over all the people, commanding the cities of Judah to sacrifice, "city by city;"

And many of the people were gathered unto them, to wit, every one that forsook the law: and so they committed evils in the land;

And drove the Israelites into secret places, even wheresoever they could flee for surety.

Now the fifteenth day of the month Caslen, in the hundred forty and fifth year, they set up the abomination of desolation upon the altar, and hobbled idol altars throughout the cities of Judah on every sabbath:

And burnt incense at the doors of their houses, and in the streets.

And when they had rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, they burnt them with fire.

And when they were asked by any of the books of the testament, or of any consented to the law, the king's commandment was, that they should put him to death.

Thus did they by their authority unto the Israelites every month, so many as were found in the cities.

Now the five and twentieth day of the month they did sacrifice upon the idol altar, which was upon the altar of burnt-offerings:

At which time according to the commandment they put to death certain women, that had caused their children to be circumcised.

And they hanged the infants about their necks, and riled their houses, and slew them that had circumcised them.

Howbeit many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves not to eat any unclean thing.

Wherefore they chose rather to die, that they might not be polluted with meats, and that they might not profane the holy covenant: so then they died.

And there was very great wrath upon Israel.

CHAPTER II.

6 Mattathias lamented the case of Jerusalem

21 He slew a Jew that did sacrifice to idols in his presence; and the king's messenger also.

22 And he and his, were assaulted on the sabbath, and made no resistance.

23 He instructeth his sons, madness their brethren, Judas Maccabees general, and death.

During these days a man of the name of Mattathias, the son of John, the son of Simon, a priest of the house of Jered, from Jerusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

And he had five sons, Joaan, called Caddis; Simon, called Thassi; Judas, who was called Maccobes; Eleazar, called Avaron: and Jonathan, whose surname was Apphus.

And when he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and Jerusalem, 27 He said, Wherefore was I born to see this misery of my people, and of the holy city, to dwell there when it was delivered into the hand of the enemy, and the sanctuary into the hand of strangers?

8 Her temple is become a man without glory.

9 Her glorious vessels are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in the streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy.

What notion hath not had a part in her kingdom, and gotten of her spoils?
children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand people.

39 Now when Mattathias and his friends understood hereof, they mourned for them right sore.

40 And one of them said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not for our lives and laws against the heathen, they will now quickly cast us out of the earth.

41 At that time therefore they decreed, saying, Whosoever shall come to make battle with us on the sabbath day, we will fight against him; neither will we die all, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

42 Then came there unto him a company of Asidians, who were mighty men of Israel, even all such as were voluntarily devoted unto the law.

43 Also all they that fled for persecution joined themselves unto them, and were a stay unto them.

44 So they joined their forces, and smote sinful men in their anger, and wielded men in their wrath: but the rest fled to the heathen for succour.

45 Then Mattathias and his friends went round about and pulled down the altars:

46 And what children soever they found within the coast of Israel uncircumcised, those they circumcised valiantly.

47 They pursued also after the proud men, and the work prospered in their hand.

48 So they recovered the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of kings, neither suffered they the sinner to triumph.

49 Now when the time drew near that Mattathias should die, he said unto his sons, Now hath pride and rebellion gotten strength, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation:

50 Now therefore, my sons, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what acts our fathers did in their time; so shall ye receive great honour and an everlasting name.

52 Was not Abraham found faithful in temptation, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness?

53 Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, and was made lord of Egypt.

54 Princes our father in being zealous and fervent obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood.

55 Means for fulfilling the word were made a judge in Israel.

56 Caleb for bearing witness before the congregation received the heritage of the land.

57 David for being meekful possessed the throne of an everlasting kingdom.

58 Elias for being zealous and fervent for the law was taken up into heaven.

59 Amos, Azarias, and Miscael, by believing were saved out of the flame.

60 Daniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions.

61 And thus consider ye throughout all ages, that none that put their trust in him shall be overcome.

62 Fear not then the words of a sinful man: for his glory shall be hunger and wounds.

63 To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall not be found, because he is returned into his dust, and his thought is come to nothing.

64 Wherefore, ye my sons, be vigilant, and show yourselves men in the behalf of the law; for by it shall ye obtain glory.

65 And behold, I know that your brother Simon is a man of counsel, give ear unto him always: he shall be a father unto you.

66 As for Judas Macænas, he hath been mighty and strong, even from his youth up: let him be your captain, and fight the battle of the people.

67 Take also unto you all those that observe the law, and avenge ye the wrong of your people.
Recompense fully the heathen, and take heed to the commandments of the law.

So he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers.

And he died in the hundred forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

CHAPTER III.

1 Then Judas, called Maccabeus, rose up in his stead.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that held with his father, and they fought with cheerfulness the battle of Israel.

3 So he gat his people great honour, and put on a breast-plate as a girt, and girt his warlike harness about him, and he made battles, protecting the host with his sword.

4 In his acts he was like a lion, and like a lion's whelp roaring for his prey.

5 For he pursued the wicked, and sought them out, and burnt up those that vexed his people.

6 Wherefore the wicked shrank for fear of him, and all the workers of iniquity were troubled; because salvation prospered in his hand.

7 He grieved also many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed for ever.

8 Moreover, he went through the cities of Judah, destroying the ungodly out of them, and turning away wrath from Israel:

9 So that he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he received unto him such as were ready to perish.

10 Then Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

11 Which thing when Judas perceived, he went forth to meet him, and so he smote him, and slew him; many also fell down slain, but the rest fled.

12 Wherefore Judas took their spoils, and Apollonius' sword also, and therewith he fought all his life long.

13 Now when Simon, a prince of the army of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered unto him a multitude and company of the faithful to go out with him to war.

14 He said, I will get me a name and honour in the kingdom; for I will go with Judas and them that are with him, who despise the king's commandment.

15 So he made him ready to go up, and they went with him a mighty host of the ungodly to help him, and to be avenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when he came near to the going up of Bethhoron, Judas went forth to meet him with a small company;

17 Where, when they saw the host coming to meet them, said unto Judas, How shall we be able, being so few, to fight against so great a multitude and so strong, seeing we are ready to faint with lasting all this day?

18 But when Judas answered, It is no hard matter for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with the God of heaven it is all one to deliver with a great multitude, or a small company;

19 For the victory of battle standeth not in the multitude of a host, but strength cometh from heaven.

20 They came against us in much pride and iniquity to destroy us, and our wives and children, and to spoil us:

21 But we fight for our lives and our laws.

22 Wherefore the Lord himself will overthrow them before our face; and as for you, be ye not afraid of them.
23 Now as soon as he had left off speaking, he leaped suddically upon them, and so Sedon and his host were overthrown before him.

24 And they pursued them from the going down of Beth-horon unto the plain, where were slain about eight hundred men of them; and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 Then began the fear of Judas and his brethren, and an exceeding great dread, to fall upon the nations round about them:

26 Insomuch as his fame came unto the king, and all nations talked of the battles of Judas.

27 Now when King Antiochus heard these things, he was full of indignation: "wherefore he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, even a very considerable army, and 28 He opened also his treasure, and gave his soldi- ers pay for a year, commanding them to be ready whenever he should need them.

29 Nevertheless, when he saw that the money of his treasures failed, and that the tributes in the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, [in] taking away the laws which had been of old time;

30 He feared that he should not be able to bear the charges of war longer, nor to have such gifts to give so liberally as he did before; for he had abounded above the kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore, being greatly perplexed in his mind, he determined to go into Persia, there to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lysias, a nobleman, and one of the blood royal, to oversee the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt;

33 And to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again.

34 Moreover, he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all things that he would have done, as also concerning them that dwelt in Juda and Jerusalem:

35 To wit, that he should send an army against them to destroy and root out the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from that place;

36 And that he should place strangers in all their quarters, and divide their land by lot.

37 So the king took the half of the forces that re- mained, and departed from Antioch, his royal city, the hundred forty and seventh year; and having pass- ed the river Euphrates, he went through the high countries,

38 Then Lysias chose Ptolemeus the son of Dory- mene, and Nicaur, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's friends:

39 And with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horsemen, to go into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by Emmaus in the plain country.

41 And the merchants of the country, hearing the fame of them, took silver and gold very much, with victuals, and came into the camp to buy the children of Israel for slaves: a power also of Syria and of the land of the Philistines joined themselves unto them those days.

42 Now when Judas and his brethren saw that mis- ies were multiplied, and that the forces did encamp themselves in their borders; for they knew how the king had given commandment to destroy the people, and utterly destroy them.

43 They said one to another, Let us restore the de- cayed estate of our people, and let us fight for our people and the sanctuary.

44 Then was the congregation gathered together, that they might be ready for battle; and that they might pray, and ask mercy and compassion.

45 Now Jerusalem lay void as a wilderness; there was none of her children that went in or out: the sanctuary also was trodden down, and aliens kept the strong hold; the heathen had their habitation in that place; and joy was taken from Jacob, and the pipe with the harp ceased.

46 Wherefore the Israelites assembled themselves together, and came to [Maspha, over against Jerusa- lem; for in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime] in Israel:

47 Then they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and cast ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes.

48 And laid open the book of the law, wherein the heathen had sought to print the likeness of their images.

49 They brought also the priest's garments, and the first-fruits, and the tithes; and the Nazarites they stirred up, who had accomplished their days.

50 Then cried they with a loud voice toward heav- en, saying, What shall we do with these, and whither shall we carry them away?

51 'For thy sanctuary is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness, and brought low.

52 And lo, the heathen are assembled together against us to destroy us: what things they imagine against us, thou knowest.

53 'How shall we be able to stand against them, except thou, O God, be our help?'

54 Then came they with trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

55 And after this Judas ordained captains over the people, even captains over thousands, and over hun- dreds, and over fifties, and over tens.

56 And they were for such as were building houses, or had betrothed wives, or were planting vineyards, or were fearful, those he commanded that they should return, every man to his own house, according to the law.

57 So the camp removed, and pitched upon the southern side of Emmaus.

58 And Judas said, Arm yourselves, and be valiant men, and see that ye be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these nations that are assembled together against us to destroy us and our sanctuary.

59 'For it is better for us to die in battle, than to behold the calamities of our people and our sanctu-

60 Nevertheless, as the will of God is in heaven, so let him do.

CHAPTER IV.

6 Judas defeated the plot and forces of Gorgias, and spoiled their tents, and overthrew Lysias. 45 He took down the altar which the heathen had profaned, and set up a new one; and made a wall about Sion.

6 HEN took 'Gorgias five thousand foot- men, and a thousand of the best horse- men, and removed out of the camp by night;

7 To the end he might rush in upon the camp of the Jews, and smite them suddenly. And the men of the for- tresse were his guides.

8 Now when Judas heard thereof, he himself re- moved, and the valiant men with him, that he might smite the king's army which was at Emmaus.

4 While as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp.

5 In the mean season came Gorgias by night into the camp of Judas; and when he found no man there, he sought them in the mountains; for, said he, These fellows flee from us.

6 But as soon as it was day, Judas slewed himself in the plain with three thousand men, who neverthe- less had not further fayour to their minds.

7 And they saw the camp of the heathen, that it was strong and well harnessed, and compassed round about with horsemen; and these were expert of war.

8 Then said Judas to the men that were with him, Fear not your multitude, neither be ye afraid of their assault.

9 Remember how our fathers were delivered in the Red Sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with an army.

10 Now therefore let us cry unto heaven, if perad- venture the Lord will have mercy upon us, and remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this host before our face this day:
11 That so all the heathen may know that there is one who delivereth and saith Israel.
12 Then the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them.
13 Wherefore they went out of the camp to battle; but they that were with Judas sounded trumpets.
14 So they joined battle, and the heathen being disappointed fell into the plain.
15 Howbeit all the hindmost of them were slain with the sword; for they pursued them unto Ebron, and unto the plains of Judah, and Azotus, and Janathee, that there were slain of them about three thousand men.

16 This done, Judas returned again with his host from pursuing them.
17 And said to the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us;
18 And Gorgias and his host are here by us in the mountain; but stand ye now against our enemies, and overcome them, and after this ye may boldly take the spoils.

19 As Judas was yet speaking these words, there appeared a part of the host looking out of the plain.
20 Who when they perceived that the Jews had put their host to flight, and were leaving the tents; for the snake that was seen declared what was done:
21 When therefore they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and seeing also the host of Judas in the plain ready to fight,

22 They fled every one into the land of strangers.
23 Then Judas returned to spoil the tents, where they got much gold, and silver, and blue silk, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 After this they went home, and sung a song of thanksgiving, and praised the Lord in heaven; because it is good, because his mercy endureth ever.
25 Thus Israel had a great deliverance that day.
26 Now all the strangers that had escaped came and told Lysias what had happened;
27 Who, when he heard thereof, was confounded and discouraged, because neither such things as he would were done unto Israel, nor such things as the king commanded him were come to pass.
28 The next year therefore following, Lysias gathered together three thousand men of foot, and five thousand horsemen, that he might subdue them.
29 So they came into Blumea, and pitched their tents at Bethsura, and Judas met them with ten thousand men.

30 And when he saw that mighty army, he prayed, and said, Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, who didst quell the violence of the mighty man by the hand of thy servant David, and gazest the host of strangers into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and his armour-bearer;
31 Shut up this army in the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be confounded in their power and horsemen:
32 Make them to be of no courage, and cause the boldness of their strength to fail away, and let them quail at their destruction;
33 Cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all those that know thy name praise thee with thanksgiving.
34 So they joined battle; and there were slain of the host of Lysias about five thousand men, even before they were slain.
35 Now when Lysias saw his army put to flight, and the manifoldness of Judas' soldiers, and how they were ready either to live or die valiantly, he went into Antioch, and gathered together a company of strangers; and having made his army greater than it was, he purposed to come again unto Judaea.
36 Then said Judas and his brethren, Behold, our enemies are disappointed; let us go up to cleanse and dedicate the sanctuary.
37 Upon this all the host assembled themselves together, and went up into Mount Sion.
38 For when they saw the sanctuary desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates broken up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest, or in one of the mountains, yea, and the priests' chambers pulled down,
39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes upon their heads.

40 And fell down flat to the ground upon their faces, and blew an alarm with the trumpets, and cried to-der hain.
41 And Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the fortress, until he had cleansed the sanctuary.
42 So he chose priests of blameless conversation, such as had pleasure in the law:
43 They thought it best to pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the heathen had defiled it; wherefore they pulled it down,

44 And laid up the stones in the mountain of the temple in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to shew what should be done with them.
45 They took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar according to the former;
46 And made up the sanctuary, and the things that were within the temple, and hallowed the courts.
47 They made also new holy vessels, and into the temple they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt-offerings, and of incense, and the table.
48 And upon the altar they burned incense, and the lamps that were upon the candlestick they lighted, that they might give light in the temple.
49 Furthermore they set the leaves upon the table, and spread out the vails, and finished all the works which they had begun to make.
50 Now in the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is called the month Casden, in the huntred forty and eighth year, they rose up betimes in the morning.
51 And offered sacrifice according to the law upon the new altar of burnt-offerings, which they had made.
52 Look, at what time and what day the heathen had profaned it, even in that was it dedicated with songs, and citherns, and harps, and cymbals.
53 Then all the people fell upon their faces, worshipped and praising the God of heaven, who had given them good success.
54 And so they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt-offerings with gladness, and sacrificed the sacrifice of deliverance and praise.
55 Who cleansed the sanctuary, and hallowed the courts, and the chambers, and gates, and the lights, and citherns, and harps, and cymbals.
56 Thus was there very great gladness among the people, for that the reproach of the heathen was put away.
57 Moreover, Judas and his brethren, with the whole congregation of Israel, ordained that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Casden, with mirth and gladness.
58 At that time also they builded up the Mount Sion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest the heathen should come and tread it down as they had done before.
59 And they set there a garrison to keep it, and fortified Bethsura to preserve it: that the people might have a defence against blamess.
CHAPTER V.

1. Judas senteth the children of Eosen, and Ammon, that Simon and Jonathan sent into Galilee. The captives of Judas in Galad, he de-streath Ephon for carrying him to pass through. So those that in Judas' absence would fight with their enemies, are slain.

2. Now when the nations round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary renewed as before, it displeased them very much.

3. Wherefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was among them, and thereupon they began to shew and destroy the people.

4. Then a war raged against the children of Eosen in Idumea at Arbatattine, because they destroy Israel: and he gave them a great overthrow, and abated their courage, and took their spoils.

5. Also he remembered the injuries of the children of Eosen, who had been arraigned and an offence to the people, that they lay in wait for them in the ways.

6. He shut them up therefore in the towers, and encompassed against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned the towers of that place with fire, and all that were therein.

7. Afterward he passed over to the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and much people, with Timotheus their captain. And he fought against the many with them, till at length they were discomfited before him; and he smote them.

8. And when he had taken Jazar, with the towns belonging thereto, he returned into Judah.

9. Then the heathen that were at Galad assembled themselves together against the Israelites; that in their quarters, to destroy them, but they fled to the fortress of Darthena.

10. And sent letters unto Judas and his brethren. The heathen that are round about us are assembled together against us as to destroy us. And they are preparing to come and take the fortress whereunto we are fled, Timotheus being captain of their host.

11. Come now therefore, and deliver us from their hands, for many of us are slain.

12. Yes, all our brethren that were in the places of Tobie are put to death: their wives and their children also they have carried away captive, and borne away their stuff; and they have destroyed there about a thousand thousand men.

13. Unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and see that ye make not war against the heathen until the time that we come again.

14. Now unto Simon were given three thousand men to go into Galilee, and unto Judas eight thousand men for the country of Galad.

15. Then went Simon unto Galilee, where he fought many battles with the heathen, so that the heathen were discomfited by him.

16. And he pursued them unto the gate of Polemais; and there were slain of the heathen about three thousand men, whose spoils he took.

17. And those that were in Galilee, and in Abittats, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, took he away with him, and brought them into Judas with great joy.

18. Now when they met with the Nabarthis, who came unto them in peaceable manner, and told them every thing that had happened to their brethren in the land of Galad:

19. And how that many of them were slain in Boscara, and Besor, and Alemen, and Casphor, and Maked, and Caramma; all these cities are strong and great;

20. And that the host were shut up in the rest of the cities of the country of Galad, and that against morrow they had appointed to bring their hosts against the forts, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

21. Hereupon Judas and his host turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto Boscara; and when he had won the city, he slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burnt the city with fire.

22. But when they were removed by night, and went till he came to the fortress.

23. And betimes in the morning they [looked up, and beheld, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders and other engines of war, to take the fortress: for Judas encompassed them.

24. When Judas therefore saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and a great sound,

25. He said unto his host, Fight this day for your brethren.

26. So he went forth behind them in three companies, who sounded their trumpets, and cried with prayer.

27. Then the host of Timotheus, knowing that it was Maccabeus, fled from him: wherefore he smote them with a great slaughter; and there were killed of them that day about eight thousand men.

28. This done, Judas turned aside to Masphin; and after he had assaulted it, he took it, and slew all the males therein, and received the spoils thereof, and burnt it with fire.

29. From thence went he, and took Casphon, Maged, Besor, and the other cities of the country of Galad.

30. After these things, gathered Timotheus another host, and encamped against Raphon beyond the brook.

31. And Judas sent a man to copy the host, who brought him word, saying, All the heathen that are round about us are assembled unto them, even a very great host.

32. He hath also hired the Arabians to help them, and they have pitched their tents beyond the brook, ready to come and fight against thee. Upon this Judas went to meet them.

33. Then Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, When Judas and his host come near to the brook, if he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he will nightly prevail against us:

34. But if he be afraid, and camp beyond the river, we shall go over unto him, and prevail against him.

35. Now when Judas came near to the brook, he caused the spoil of the Philistines and Aram of the land of Galad to be brought unto him, saying, Suffer no man to remain in the camp, but let all come to the battle.

36. So he went first over unto them, and all the people after him; then all the heathen, being discomfited before him, cast away their weapons, and fled unto the temple that was at Carnain.

37. But they took the city, and burned the temple with all that were therein. Thus was Carnain subdued, neither could they stand any longer before Judas.

38. Then Judas gathered together all the Israelites that were in the country of Galad, from the least unto the greatest, even their wives, and their children, and their stuff, a very great host, to the end they might come into the land of Judea.

39. Now when they came unto Ephon, (this was a great city in the way as they should go, very well fortified, they could not turn from it, either on the right hand or the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it.

17 Then they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones.

18 Whereupon Judas sent unto them in peaceable manner, saying, Let us pass through your land to go into our own country, and none shall do you any hurt; we will only pass through on foot: howbeit they would not open unto him.

19 Wherefore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the host, that every man should pitch his tent in the place where he was.

20 So the soldiers pitched, and assailed the city all that day and all that night, till at length the city was delivered into his hands.

21 Who then slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain.

22 After this went they over Jordan into the great plain before Beisan.

23 And Judas gathered together those that came behind, and [exchanged] the people all the way through, till they came into the land of Judes.

24 So they went up to Mount Zion with joy and gladness, where they offered burnt offerings, because not one of them were slain until they had returned in peace.

25 Now what time as Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Gabaad, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemy, then came Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, captains of the garrisons, heard of the valiant acts and warlike deeds which they had done.

26 Wherefore they said, Let us also get us a name, and go fight against the heathen that are round about us.

27 So when they had given charge unto the garrison that was with them, they went toward Jannim.

28 Then came Gorgias and his men out of the city to fight against them.

29 And so it was, that Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and pursued unto the borders of Judes; and there were slain that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men.

30 Thus was there a great overthrow among the children of Israel, because they were not obedient unto Judas and his brethren, but thought to do some valiant act.

31 Moreover, these men came not of the seed of those by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel.

32 Howbeit the man Judas and his brethren were greatly renowned in the sight of all of Israel, and of all the heathen, wheresover their name was heard of;

33 Insomuch as the people assembled unto them with joyful acclamations.

34 Afterward went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south, where he smote Hebron, and the towns thereof, and pulled down the fortresses of it, and burned the towers thereof round about.

35 From thence he removed to go into the land of the Philistines, and passed through Samaria.

36 At that time certain priests, desirous to show their valor, were slain in battle, for that they went out to fight unadvisedly.

37 So Judas turned to Azotus in the land of the Philistines, and then he had pulled down their altars, and burned their carved images with fire, and spoiled their cities, he returned into the land of Judea.
21 Howbeit, certain of them that were besieged got forth, unto whom some ungodly men of Israel joined themselves:

22 And they went unto the king, and said, How long will it be ere thou execute judgment, and avenge our brethren?

23 We have been willing to serve thy father, and to do as he would have us, and to obey his commandments:

24 For which cause they of our nation besiege the tower, and are alienated from us: moreover, as many of us as they could light on they slew, and spoiled our inheritance.

25 Neither have they stretched out their hand against us only, but also against all their borders.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the tower at Jerusalem, to take it: the sanctuary also and Bethsura have they fortified.

27 Wherefore, if thou dost not prevent them quickly, they will do greater things than these, neither shalt thou be able to rule them.

28 Now when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his friends, and the captains of his army, and those that had charge of the horse.

29 There came also unto him from other kingdoms, and from isles of the sea, bands of hired soldiers:

30 So that the number of his army was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty elephants exercised in battle.

31 These went through Idumea, and pitched against Bethsura, which they assaulted many days, making campaigns of war; but they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Upon this Judas removed from the tower, and pitched in Bathzacharias, over against the king’s camp.
33 Then the king rising very early marched fiercely with his host toward Bathzacharias, where his armies made them ready to battle, and sounded the trumpets.

34 And to the end they might provoke the elephants to fight, they shewed them the blood of grapes and mulberries.

35 Moreover, they divided the beasts among the armies, and for every elephant they appointed a thousand men, armed with coats of mail, and with helmets of brass on their heads: and besides this, for every beast were ordained five hundred horsemen of the best.

36 These were ready at every occasion: whereas-over the beast was, and whithersoever the beast went,

they went also, neither departed they from him.
37 And upon the beasts were there strong towers of wood, which covered every one of them, and were girt fast unto them with devices: there were also upon every one two and thirty strong men, that fought upon them, besides the Indian that ruled him.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, they set them on this side and that side at the two parts of the host, giving them signs what to do, and being harnessed all over amidst the ranks.

39 Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains glistered therewith, and shined like lumps of fire.

40 So part of the king’s army being spread upon the high mountains, and part on the valleys below, they marched on safely and in order.

41 Wherefore all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the harness, were moved: for the army was very great and mighty.

42 Then Judas and his host drew near, and entered into battle, and there were slain of the king’s army six hundred men.

43 Eleazar also, named Savaran, perceiving that one of the beasts, armed with royal harness, was higher than all the rest, and supposing that the king was upon him,

44 Put himself in jeopardy, to the end he might deliver his people, and get him a perpetual name:

45 Wherefore he ran upon him courageously through the midst of the battle, slaying on the right hand and on the left, [so that they were divided from him on both sides.

46 So then the king being surrounded with a throng of soldiers, and having no other way, came near to

Eleazar, and asked him what he would say to him, that he would give him a ladder.

47 But Eleazar answered, saying, O king, if I have given thee this art, as thou seest, let that ladder be given to me, that I may destroy thee, and put thee to an end:

48 Or, if thou wilt spare me, I will not reject any thing on the earth that is good for thee, and shall be thy herald, and shall announce to thee the great things that are in the world, and shall cause the faithful to be established in the midst of all things.

49 So said Eleazar, and the king was grieved at the words of Eleazar, and would not spare him: he therefore divided the army, and appointed a part of them to stand by the king; and they went forth with Eleazar, and fought against the army, and slaughtered them in pieces.

16 Which done, he crept under the elephant, and thrust him under, and slew him; whereupon the elephant fell down upon him, and there he died.

17 Howbeit, the rest of the Jews seeing the strength of the king, and the violence of his forces, turned away from the city.

18 Then the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king pitched his tents against Judaea, and against Mount Zion.

19 But with them that were in Bethsura he made peace; [for they came out of the city, because they had no victuals there to endure the siege, it being a year of rest to the land.]

20 So the king took Bethsura, and set a garrison there to keep it.

21 As for the sanctuary, he besieged it many days; and [set] there artillery with engines and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and slings.

22 Whereupon they made engines against their engines, and held them battle a long season.

23 Yet at the last, their vessels being without victuals, (for that it was the seventh year, and they in Judaea that were delivered from the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of the store.)

24 There were, however, four left in the sanctuary, because the famine did so prevail against them, that they were fain to disperse themselves, every man to his own place.

25 At that time Lysias heard say, that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he lived, had appointed to bring up his son Antiochus, that he might be king.

26 Was returned out of Persia and Media, and the king's host also that went with him, and that he sought to take unto him the ruling of the affairs.

27 Wherefore, he went in all haste, and said to the king, and the captains of the host, and the company. We decay daily, and our victuals are but small, and the place we besiege unto is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us:

28 Now therefore let the friends with these men, and make peace with them, and with all their nation:

29 And covenant with them, that they shall live after their laws, as they did before; for they are therefore displeased, and have done all these things, because we abolished their laws.

30 So the king and the princes were content; wherefore he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted thereof.

31 Also the king and the princes made an oath unto them; whereupon they went out of the strong hold.

32 Then the king entered into Mount Zion: but when he saw the strength of the place, he brake his oath that he had made, and gave commandment to pull down the wall round about.

33 Afterward departed he in all haste, and returned unto Antiochus, where he found Philip to be master of the city: so he fought against him, and took the city by force.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Antiochus is slain, and Demetrius engageth in his stead. 2 A Lucian would be high priest, and consophagus of Judas to the king. 3 He slayeth therefore Assenaeus. 4 Nicanor is slain, and the king's forces are defeated by Judas. 5 He dieth of this victory kept every year.

6 The king hearkened in the fiftieth year December the twenty-eighth year of Seleucus departed from Rome, and came up with a few men unto the city of the sea-coast, and reigned there. 7 And as he entered into the palace of his ancestors, so it was, that his forces had taken Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him.

8 Wherefore, when he knew it, he said, Let me not see their faces. 9 So his bow slew them. 10 Now when Demetrius was set upon the throne of his kingdom,

11 There came unto him all the wicked and ungodly men of Israel, having Alcimus, who was desirous to be high priest, for their captain:

12 And they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have slain all thy friends, and driven us out of our own land.

13 Now therefore send some man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see what have befallen the rest of us, in the king's land, and let him punish them, with all them that aid them.

14 Then the king chose Baccides, a friend of the king, who ruled beyond the flood, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king.

15 And he sent with him that wicked Alcimus, whom he made high priest, and commanded that he should take vengeance of the children of Israel.

16 So they departed, and came with a great power into the land of Judæa, where they sent messengers to Judas, and his brethren with peaceable words deceitfully.

17 But they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great power.

18 Then did there assemble unto Alcimus and Baccides a company of parabasis, to require justice.

19 Now the Assideans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them:

20 For, said they, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with this army, and he will do us no wrong.

21 So he spake unto them peaceably, and swore unto them, saying, We will procure the harm neither of you nor your friends.

22 Whereupon they believed him: howbeit he took with him three thousand men, and slew them in one day, according to the words which he wrote, 23 The flesh of thy saints have they cast out, and their blood have they shed round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them.

24 Wherefore the fear of them fell upon all the people, who said, There is neither truth nor righteousness in them; for they have broken the covenant and oath that they made.

25 After this removed Baccides from Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Bethzec, where he sent and took many of the men that had forsaken him, and certain of the people also; and when he had slain them, he cast them into the great pit.

26 Then committed he the country to Alcimus, and left with them a power to aid him: so Baccides went to the king.

27 But Alcimus [contended for the high-priesthood.]

28 And unto him resorted all such as troubled the people, whosoever they had gotten the hand of Judas into their power, did much hurt in Israel.

29 Now when Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the Israelites, even above the heathen, 30 He went out into all the coasts of Judæa round about, and took vengeance of them that had [reconciled from him, so that they durst not more go forth into the country.

31 On the other side, when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company had [gotten] the hand of Judas into their power, with comminstruction to destroy the people.

32 So Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great force; and sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with friendly words, saying, 33 Let there be no battle between me and you: I will come with a few men, that I may live with you in peace.

34 He came therefore to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. Howbeit the enemies were prepared to take away Judas by violence.

35 Which thing after it was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, he was sore afraid of him, and would have his face no more.
31 Nicomor also, when he saw that his counsel was discovered, went out to flight against Judas beside Caphasaraham:
32 Where there were slain of Nicomor’s side about five thousand men, and the rest fled into the city of David.
33 After this went Nicomor up to Mount Zion, and there came out of the sanctuary certain of the priests and certain of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt sacrifice that was offered for the king.
34 But he mocked them, and laughed at them, and taunted them shamefully, and spoke proudly.
35 And swears in his wrath, saying, Unless Judas and his host be now delivered into my hands, if ever I come again fin safety, I will burn up this house; and with that he went out in a great rage.
36 Then the priests entered in, and stood before the altar and the temple, weeping, and saying,
37 Then, O Lord, didst choose this house to be called by thy name, and to be a house of prayer and petition for thy people:
38 Be avenged of this man and his host, and let them fall by the sword; remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue any longer.
39 So Nicomor went out of Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Beth-horon, where a host out of Syria met him.
40 But Judas pitched in Adasa with three thousand men, and there he prayed, saying,
41 O Lord, when they that were sent from the king of the Assyrians blasphemed, thine angel went out, and smote a hundred fourscore and five thousand of them.
42 Even so destroy thou this host before us this day, that the rest may know that thou hast spoken blasphemously against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness.
43 So the thirteenth day of the month Achar the hosts joined battle; but Nicomor’s host was discomfited, and he himself was first slain in the battle.
44 Now when Nicomor’s host saw that he was slain, they cast away their weapons, and fled.
45 Then [they pursued after them a day’s journey, from Adasa unto Gazera, sounding an alarm after them with their trumpets.
46 Whereupon they came forth out of all the towns of Judas round about, and closed them in; so that they, turning back upon them that pursued them, were all slain with the sword, and not one of them was left.
47 Afterward they took the spoils and the prey, and smote off Nicomor’s head, and his right hand, which he stretched out so proudly, and brought them away toward Jerusalem.
48 For this cause the people rejoiced greatly, and they kept that day a day of great gladness.
49 Moreover, they ordained to keep yearly this day, being the thirteenth of Adar.
50 Thus the land of Judah was in rest a little while.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Now Judas had heard of the fame of the Romans, that they were mighty and valiant men, and such as would lovingly accept all that joined themselves unto them, and make a league of amity with all that came unto them;
2 And that they were men of great valor. It was told him also of their wars, and noble acts which they had done among the Galatians, and how they had conquered them, and brought them under tribute;
3 And what they had done in the country of Spain, for the winning of the mines of the silver and gold which is there;
4 And that by their policy and patience they had conquered all the places, though they were very far from them; and the kings also that came against them from the uttermost parts of the earth, till they had discomfited them, and given them a great overthrow, so that the rest did give them tribute every year.
5 Besides this, how they had discomfited in battle Philip, and Perseus, king of the [Citians, with others that filled up themselves against them, and had overcome them:
6 How also Antiochus, the great king of Asia, that came against them in battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horsemen, and chariots, and a very great army, was discomfited by them;
7 And how they took him alive, and conferred that he and such as rejoiced after him should pay a great tribute, and give hostages, and that which was agreed upon,
8 And the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest countries, which they took of him, and gave to King Eumenes;
9 Moreover, how the Grecians had determined to come and destroy them;
10 And that they, having knowledge thereof, sent against them a certain captain, and fighting with them, slew many of them, and carried away captives their wives, and their children, and spoiled them, and took possession of their lands, and pulled down their strong holds, and brought them to be their servants unto this day:
11 It was told him besides, how they had destroyed and brought under their dominion all other kingdoms and isles that at any time resisted them;
12 But with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity; and that they had conquered kingdoms both far and near, insomuch as all that heard thereof were afraid of them;
13 Also that, whom they would help to a kingdom, those reign; and whom again they would, they disparce; finally, that they were greatly exalted;
14 Yet for all this none of them wore a crown, or was clothed in purple, to be unadorned thereby;
15 Moreover, how they had made for themselves a senate-house, wherein three hundred and twenty men sat in council daily; consulting always for the people, to the end they may be well ordered:
16 And that they committed the government to one man every year, who ruled over all their country, and that all were obedient to that one, and that there was neither envy nor emulation among them.
17 In consideration of these things, Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accas, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them,
18 And to entreat them that they would take the yoke from them; for they saw that the kingdom of the Grecians did oppress Israel with servitude.
19 They went therefore to Rome, which was a very great journey, and came into the senate, where they spake and said,
20 Judas Maccaebes with his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you; and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.
21 So that matter pleased the Romans well.
22 And this is the copy of the epistle which the senate wrote back again on tablets of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that there they might have by it a memorial of peace and confederacy:
23 Good success be to the Romans, and to the people of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and enmity be far from them.
24 And may none of your war pass upon the Romans or any of your confederates throughout all their dominion,
25 The people of the Jews shall help them, as the time shall be appointed, with all their heart:
Neither shall they give any thing unto them that make war upon them, or aid them with victuals, weapons, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto the Romans; but they shall keep their covenants without taking any thing thereof.

In the same manner also, when it came first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them with all their heart, according as the time shall be appointed them:

Neither shall victuals be given to them that take part against them, or weapons, or money, or ships, as it hath seemed good to the Romans; but they shall keep their covenants, and that without deceit.

According to these articles did the Romans make a covenant with the chief of the Jews.

Howbeit, if hereafter one party or the other shall think meet to add or diminish any thing, they may do it at their pleasures, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be ratified.

And as touching the evils that Demetrius death to the Jews, we have written unto him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the Jews!

If therefore they complain any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

FURTHERMORE, when Demetrius heard that Nicano and his host were slain in battle, the sent Bacchides and Alcimus into the land of Judea the second time, and with them the chief strength of his host:

Who went forth by the way that leadeth to Gilead, pitched their tents before Mazzophath, which is in Arbea, and after they had won it they slew many people.

Also the first month of the hundred fifty and second year they encamped before Jerusalem.

From thence they moved and went unto Beerus, and pitched in the camp of two thousand, and two thousand horsemen.

Now Judas had pitched his tents at Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men with him.

Who seeing the multitude of the other army to be so great, were sore afraid; whereas many conveyed themselves out of the host, insomuch as there abode of them no more but eight hundred men.

When Judas therefore saw that his host slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, he was sore troubled in mind, and much distressed, for that he had no time to gather them together.

Nevertheless, unto them that remained, he said, Let us arise and go up against our enemies, if peril adventure we may be able to fight with them.

But they debouched him, saying, We shall never be able: let us now rather save our lives, and hereafter we will return with our brethren, and fight against them; for we are but few.

Then Judas forbade that I should do this thing, and flee away from them: if our time be come, let us die manfully for our brethren, and let us not stain our honour.

With that the host of Bacchides removed out of their tents, and stood against them, their horsemen being divided into two troops, and their slingers and archers going before the host, and they that marched in the fore-ward were all mighty men.

As for Bacchides, he was in the right wing: so the host drew near on the two parts, and sounded their trumpets.

They also of Judas' side, so even they sounded their trumpets also, so 'that the earth shook at the noise of the armies, and the battle continued from morn till night.

Now when Judas perceived that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, he took with him all the hardy men.

Who discomfited the right wing, and pursued them unto the Mount Azotus.

But when the host of Bacchides saw that they of the right wing were discomfited, they followed upon Judas and those that were with him hard at the heels from behind:

Whereupon there was sore battle, insomuch as many were slain on both parts.

Judas also was killed, and the remnant fled.

Then Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers in Medain.

Moreover, they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, saying,

'How is the valiant man fallen that delivered Israel!

As for the other things concerning Judas and his wars, and the noble acts which he did, and his greatness, they are not written: for they were very many.

Now after the death of Judas, the wicked began to press with their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and there arose up all such as would partake in.

In these days also was there a very great famine, by reason whereof the country revolted and went with them.

Then Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lords of the country.

And they made inquiry and search for Judas' friends, and brought them unto Bacchides, who took vengeance of them, and used them despicably.

So was there a great affliction in Israel, 'that he like whereof was not since the time that a prophet was not seen among them.

For this cause all Judas' friends came together, and said unto Jonathan, Since our brother Judas died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies, and Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are adversaries to us.

Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and captain in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battles.

Upon this Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up instead of his brother Judas.

But when Bacchides got knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him.

Then Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, perceiving that, fled into the wilderness of Thecon, and pitched their tents by the water of the pool Asphodel.

Which when Bacchides understood, he came near to Jordan with all his host upon the sabbath day.

Now Jonathan had sent his brother "John, a captain of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they might leave with them their carriage, which was much.

But the children of Hambrini came out of Media, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with haste for to fetch Judas.

After this came word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Hambrini made a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabatha with a great train, as being the daughter of one of the great princes of Chalman.

Therefore they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain;

Where they lifted up their eyes, and looked, and beheld, there was nothing to see but a great carriage; and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and brethren, to meet them with drums, and instruments of music, and many weapons.

Then Jonathan and they that were with him rose up against them from the place where they lay in ambush, and made a slaughter of them in such sort, as many fell down dead, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoil.

41 Thus was the marriage turned into mourning, and the noise of their melody into lamentation.

42 So when they had avenged fully the blood of their brother, they turned again to the marsh of Jordan.

43 Now when Bacchides heard thereof, he came on the sabbath day unto the banks of Jordan with a great power.

44 Then Jonathan said to his company, Let us go up now and fight for our lives, for it standeth not with us to-day as in time past:

45 For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us, and the water of Jordan on this side and that side, the marsh likewise and wood, neither is there place for us to turn aside.

46 Wherefore cry ye now unto heaven, that ye may be delivered from the hand of your enemies.

47 With that they joined battle, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, but he turned back from him.

48 Then Jonathan and they that were with him leaped into Jordan, and swam over unto the further bank: howbeit the other passed not over Jordan unto them.

49 So there were slain of Bacchides’ side that day about two thousand men.

50 Afterward returned Bacchides to Jerusalem, and repaired the strong cities in Judæa: the fort in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethhoron, and Bethel, and Thammatina, Pharthath, and "Taphion, this did he strengthen with high walls, with gates, and with bars.

51 And in them he set a garrison, that they might work malice upon Israel.

52 He fortified also the city Bethura, and Gazara, and the tower, and put forces in them, and provision of victuals.

53 Besides, he took the chief men’s sons in the country for hostages, and put them into the tower at Jerusalem to be kept.

54 Moreover, in the hundred and fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded that the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary should be pulled down; he pulled down also the works of the prophets.

55 And as he began to pull down, even at that time was Alcimus slain, and his enterprises hindered: for his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, so that he could not more speak any thing, nor give order concerning his house.

56 So Alcimus died at that time with great torment.

57 Now when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he returned to the king; wherupon the land of Judæa was in rest two years.

58 Then the misguided men held a counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and his company are at ease, and dwell without care: now therefore we will bring Bacchides hither, who shall take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Then Bacchides proceeded, and came with a great host, and sent letters privately to his adherents in Judæa, that they should take Jonathan with those that were with him: howbeit they could not, because their counsel was known unto them.

61 Wherefore they took of the men of the country, that were authors of that mischief, about fifty persons, and slew them.

62 Afterward Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, got them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and they repaired the decays thereof, and made it strong.

63 Which thing when Bacchides knew, he gathered together all his host, and sent word to them that were of Judæa:

64 Then he went and laid siege against Bethbasi; and they fought against it a long season, and made engines of war.

65 But Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth himself into the country, and with a certain number went he forth.

66 And he smote [Olomarkes and his brethren, and the children of Phasael in their tent.

67 And when he began to smite them, and came up with his forces, Simon and his company went out of the city, and burned up the engines of war.

68 And fought against Bacchides, who was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore: for his counsel and travail was in vain.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth at the wicked men that gave him counsel to come into the country, insomuch that he slew many of them, and purposed to return into his own country.

70 Whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadors unto him, to the end he should make peace with him, and deliver them the prisoners.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his demands, and sware unto him that he would never do him harm all the days of his life:

72 Wherefore therefore he had restored unto him the prisoners that he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judæa, he returned and went his way into his own land, neither came he any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sword ceased from Israel: but Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, and began to govern the people; and he destroyed the ungodly men out of Israel.

CHAPTER X.

1 Demetrius maketh large offers to peace with Jonathan: his letters to the Jews. 47 Jonathan maketh peace with Alexander, who killeth Demetrius, and marrieth the daughter of Phasael. 62 Jonathan is sent for by him, and much honoured. 72 He preserveth the forces of Demetrius the younger, and burneth the temple of Dagon.

N the hundred and sixtieth year, Alexander, the son of Antiochus named Epiphaneus, went up and took Jerusalem: for the people had received him, by means whereof he reigned there.

2 Now when King Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered together an exceeding great host, and went north against him to fight.

3 Moreover, Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with loving words, so as he magnified him.

4 For, said he, “Let us first make peace with him, before he join with Alexander against us:

5 Else we will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and against his brethren and his people.

6 Wherefore he gave him authority to gather together a host, and to provide weapons, that he might aid him in battle; he commanded also that the hostages that were in the tower should be delivered him.

7 Then came Jonathan to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the tower:

8 Who were so afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host.

9 Whereupon they of the tower delivered their hostages unto Jonathan, and he delivered them unto their parents.

10 This done, Jonathan settled himself in Jerusalem, and began to build and repair the city.

11 And he commanded the workmen to build the walls and the Mount Sion round about with square stones; and he did so.

12 Then the strangers, that were in the fortresses which Bacchides had built, fled away:

13 Insomuch as every man left his place, and went into his own country.

14 0ver Bethurah certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments remained still: for it was their place of refuge.

15 Now when King Alexander had heard what promises Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan; when also it was told him of the battles and noble acts which he and his brethren had done, and of the pains that they had endured, 16 He said, Shall we find such another man? now therefore will we make him our friend and confederate.
17 Upon this he wrote a letter, and sent it unto him, according to these words, saying,
18 King Alexander to his brother Jonathan sendeth greeting:
19 We have heard of thee that thou art a man of great power, and meet to be our friend.
20 Wherefore now this day we ordain thee to be the high priest, and to be called the king's friend: (and therewithal he sent him a purple robe and a crown of gold;) and require thee to take our part, and keep friendship with us.
21 So in the seventh month of the hundred and sixty-sixth year, at the feast of the tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy robe, and gathered together forces, and provided much armour.
22 Whereof when Demetrius heard, he was very sorry, and said,
23 What have we done, that Alexander both prevented us in making us with the Jews to strengthen himself?
24 I also will write unto them words of encouragement, and promise them dignities and gifts, that I may have the king's daughter, and the seventh shekel of silver.
25 He sent unto them therefore to this effect: King Demetrius unto the people of the Jews sendeth greeting:
26 Whereas ye have kept covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, not joining yourselves with our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad. Wherefore now continue ye still to be faithful unto us, and we will well recompense you for the things ye do in our behalf, 27 And will grant you many immunities, and give you rewards.
28 And now do I free you, and for your sake I release all the Jews, from tributes, and from the customs of salt, and from crown taxes,
29 And from that which appertaineth unto me to receive for the third part of the seed, and the half of the fruit of the trees, I release it from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the land of Judea, nor of the three governments which are added thereunto out of the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth for evermore.
30 Let Jerusalem also be holy and free, with the borders thereof, both from teaths and tributes,
31 And as for the tower which is at Jerusalem, I yield up my authority over it, and give it to the high priest, that he may set in it such men as he shall choose to keep it.
32 Moreover, I freely set at liberty every one of the Jews that were carried captives out of the land of Judea into any part of my kingdom, and I will that all my officers remit the tribute even of their cattle.
33 Furthermore, I will that all the feasts, and solemn holy days, and solemn days, and the three days before the feast, and the three days after the feast, shall be all days of immutability and freedom for all the Jews in my realm.
34 Also, no man shall have authority to meddle with them, nor to molest any of them in any matter.
35 I will further, that there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, unto whom pay shall be given, as belongeth to all the king's forces.
36 And of them some shall be placed in the king's strong holds, of whom also some shall be set over the affairs of the land, and the king's service; and I will that their overseers and governors be of themselves, and that they live after their own laws, even as the king hath commanded in the land of Judea.
37 And concerning the three governments that are added to Judea from the country of Samaria, let them be joined with Judea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, nor bound to obey other authority than the high priest's.
38 As for Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereunto, I give it as a free gift to the sanctuary at Jerusalem for the services of the sanctuary.
39 Moreover, I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver out of the king's accounts from the places appertaining.
40 And all the overplus, which the officers paid not in as in former times, from henceforth shall be given toward the works of the temple.
41 And besides this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they took from the uses of the temple out of the accounts year by year, even these things shall be released, because they appertain to the priests that minister.
42 And whosoever they be that flee unto the temple at Jerusalem, or within the liberties thereof, being indebted unto the king, or for any other matter, let them be at liberty, and all that they have in my realm.
43 For the building also and repairing of the works of the sanctuary, expenses shall be given of the king's accounts.
44 Yea, and for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and for fortifying thereof round about, expenses shall be given out of the king's accounts, as also for the building of the walls in Judea.
45 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credit unto them, nor received them, because they knew, that the great evil that he had done in Israel: for he had afflicted them very sore.
46 But with Alexander they were well pleased, because he was the first that entertained of true peace with them, and they were conferred with him always.
47 Thus did Alexander and Demetrius make great forces, and camped over against Demetrius.
48 And after the two kings had joined battle, Demetrius's host fled: but Alexander followed after him, and spreadeth against them.
49 And continued the battle very sore until the sun went down: and that day was Demetrius slain.
50 Afterward Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemeus king of Egypt with a message to this effect:
51 Forasmuch as I am come again to my realm, and am set in the throne of my predecessors, and have gotten the dominion, and overthrown Demetrius, and recovered our country:
52 For after I had joined battle with him, both he and his host was discomfited by us, so that we sit in the throne of his kingdom.
53 Now therefore let us make a league of amity together, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will be thy son-in-law, and will give both thee and her gifts according to thy dignity.
54 Then Ptolemeus the king gave answer, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and sittest in the throne of thy kingdom.
55 And now will I do to thee as thou last writtest: meet me therefore at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; for I will marry my daughter to thee according to thy desire.
56 So Ptolemeus went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and they came unto Ptolemais in the hundred and fifty-first year.
57 Whence King Alexander meeting him, gave unto him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great glory, as the manner of kings is.
58 Now King Alexander had written unto Jonathan, that he should come and meet him.
59 Who thereupon went honourably to Ptolemais, where he met the two kings, and gave them and their friends silver and gold, and many presents, and found favour in their sight.
60 At that time certain pestilent fellows of Israel, men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him, to accuse him: but the king would not hear them.
61 Yea, more than that, the king commanded to take off his garments, and clothe him in purple: and they did so.
1. Judg. a

CHAPTER XI. 12. Ptolemeus takeeth away his daughter from Alexander, and entereth upon his kingdom. 17. Alexander is slain, and Ptolemeus clothe within three days. 30. Jonathan beseecheth the tower of Jerusalem. 36. The Jews and he are much honoured by Demetrius, who is resced to be a son of his own gentry in Antioch. 25. Antonius the younger honoureth Jonathan. 61. His exploits in divers places.

And the king of Egypt gathered together a great host like the sand that is upon the sea-shore, and many ships, and went about through deceit to get Alexander's kingdom, and join it to his own. 2. Whereupon he took his journey into Syria in peaceable manner, as they of the cities opened unto him, and met him: for King Alexander had commanded them so to do, *because he was his father-in-law. 3. Now as Ptolemeus entered into the cities, he set in execution of them the son of soldiers to keep it. 4. And when he came near to Azotus, they shewed him the 'temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies that were cast abroad, and that he had burnt in the battle: for they had made heaps of them by the way where he should pass. 5. Also they told the king whatsoever Jonathan had done, to the intent he might blame him: but the king held his peace. 6. Then Jonathan met the king 'with great pomp at Joppa, where they saluted one another, and lodged. 7. Afterward Jonathan, when he had gone again with the king to the river called Eulctherus, returned again to Jerusalem. 8. King Ptolemeus, therefore, having gotten the dominion of the cities by the sea unto Schenica upon the sea-coast, imagined wicked counsel against Alexander. 9. Whereupon he sent ambassadors unto King Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a league betwixt us, and I will give thee my daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign in thy father's kingdom. 10. For I repent that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to shew me. 11. Then if he slander him, because he was desirous of his kingdom. 12. Wherefore he took his daughter from him, and gave her to Demetrius, and forsook Alexander, so that their hatred was openly known. 13. Then Ptolemeus entered into Antioch, where he set two crowns upon his head, the crown of Asia and of Egypt. 14. In the mean season was King Alexander in Cilicia, because those that dwelt in those parts had revoluted against him. 15. But when Alexander heard of this, he came to war against him: whereupon King Ptolemeus brought forth his host, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight. 16. So Alexander fled into Arabia, there to be defended: but King Ptolemeus was exalted. 17. For Zabdieh the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it unto Ptolemeus. 18. King Ptolemeus also died the third day after, and that they were in the strongholds were slain one of another. 19. By this means Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seventh year. 20. At the same time Jonathan gathered together them that were in Judæa, to take the tower that was in Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it. 21. Then certain ugly persons, who hated their own people, went unto the king, and told him that Jonathan besiegèd the tower.

22 Whereof when he heard, he was angry, and immediately, he came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not lay siege to the tower, but come and speak with him at Ptolemais in great haste.

23 Nevertheless, Jonathan, when he heard this, commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel, and the priests, and put himself in peril.

24 And took silver and gold, and raiment, and divers presents besides, and went to Ptolemais unto the king, where he found favour in his sight.

25 And though certain ungodly men of the people had made complaints against him.

26 And nothing was as his pre-cdecessors had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends.

27 And confirmed him in the high priesthood, and in all the honours that he had before, and gave him pre-eminence among his chief friends.

28 Then Jonathan desired the king, that he would make Judæa free from tribute, as also the three governments, with the country of Samaria; and he promised him three hundred talents.

29 So the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan of all these things after this manner: 30 King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting:

31 We send you here a copy of the letter which we did write unto our warriour Levithæus concerning you, that ye might see it.

32 King Demetrius unto his father Levithæus sendeth greeting:

33 We are determined to do good unto the people of the Jews, who are our friends, and keep covenants with us, because of their good-will toward us.

34 Wherefore we have ratified unto them the borders of Judæa, with the three governments of Apierema, and Lychia, and Ramathem, that are added unto Judæa from the country of Samaria, and all things appertaining unto them, for all such do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the payments which the king received of them yearly aforetime out of the fruits of the earth and of trees.

35 And as for other things that belong unto us, of the tithes and customs pertaining unto us, as also the salt-pits, and the crown-taxes, which are due unto us, we discharge them of all for their relief.

36 Nothing hereof shall be revoked from this time forth for ever.

37 Now therefore see that thou make a copy of these things, and let it be delivered unto Jonathan, and set upon the holy mount in a conspicuous place.

38 Moreover, there was one Tryphon, that had been of Alexander's part afore, who, seeing that all the most murmured against Demetrius, went unto Simonæus the Alexander, that brought up Antiochus the young son of Alexander.

40 And lay sore upon him to deliver him this young Antiochus, that he might reign in his father's stead; he told him therefore all that Demetrius had done, and show his men of war were at unity with him; and there he remained a long season.

41 In the mean time Jonathan sent unto King Demetrius, that he would cast those of the tower out of Jerusalem, and those also in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy people, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if opportunity serve.

43 Now therefore shun shalt do well if thou send me men to help me: for all my forces are gone from me.

44 Upon this Jonathan sent him three thousand strong men unto Antioch: and when they came to the king, the king was very glad of their coming.

45 Howbeit, they that were of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and seventy thousand men, and would have slain the king.

46 Wherefore the king fled into the court; but they of the city kept the passages of the city, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called to the Jews for help, who came unto him all at once, and, disposing themselves through the city, slew that day in the city to the number of a hundred thousand.

48 Also they set fire to the city, and gat many spoils that day, and delivered the king.

49 So when they of the city saw that the Jews had got the city as they would, their courage was abated: wherefore they made supplication to the king, and desired, saying, 50 [Grant us peace, and let the Jews cease from assaulting us and the city.

51 With that they cast away their weapons, and made peace; and the Jews were honoured in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realm; and they returned to Jerusalem, having great spoils.

52 So King Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him.

53 Nevertheless he assembled in all that ever he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, neither rewarded he him according to the benefits which he had received of him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this returned Tryphon, and with him the young child Antiochus, who reigned, and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered unto him all the men of war, whom Demetrius had put away, and they fought against Demetrius, who turned his back and fled.

56 Moreover, Tryphon took the telephanta, and won Antioch.

57 At that time young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, I confirm thee in the high priesthood, and appoint thee ruler over the four governments, and to be one of the king's friends.

58 Upon this he sent him golden vessels to be served in, and gave him leave to drink in gold, and to be clothed in purple, and to wear a golden buckle.

59 His brother Simon absented himself from the place called, The ladder of Tyrus, unto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan [went forth, and passed through the cities beyond the water, and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to help him; and when he came to Ascalon, they of the city met him honourably.

61 From whence he went to Gaza, but they of Gaza shut him out; wherefore he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them.

62 Afterward, when they of Gaza made supplication unto Jonathan, the make peace with them, and took the thousand of their chief men for hostages, and sent them to Jerusalem, and passed through the country unto Damascus.

63 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great power, purposing to remove him out of the country.

64 He went to meet them, and left Simon his brother in the country.

65 Then Simon encamped against Bethanara, and fought against it a long season, and shut it up.
I. MACCABEES.

66 But they desired to have peace with him, which he granted them, and then put them out from thence, and took the city, and set a garrison in it.

67 As for Jonathan and his host, they pitched at the water of Gennesaret, from which point betimes in the morning they got to the plain of Nasso.

68 And behold, the host of strangers met them in the plain, who having laid men in ambush for him in the mountains, came themselves over against him.

69 So when they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle, all that were of Jonathan's side fled:

70 Insomuch as there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the son of Absalom, and Judas the son of Caphhi, the captains of his host.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth upon his head, and prayed.

72 Afterward turning again to battle, he put them to flight, and so they ran away.

73 Now when his men who were fled saw this, they turned again unto him, and with him pursued them to Cades, even unto their tents, and there they camped.

74 So there were slain of the heathen that day about three thousand men; but Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Jonathan renewed his league with the Romans and Lacedemonians. 32 The forces of Demetrius, thinking to surprise Jonathan, set a watch for the night, that they might enter Judea, and was shut up by the bands of Tryphon to Ptolemus.

OW when Jonathan saw that the time served him, he chose certain men, and sent them to Rome, 'to confer and renew the friendship that they had with them.

2 He sent letters also to the Lacedemonians, and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went unto Rome, and entered into the senate, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the people of the Jews, sent us unto you, to the end ye should renew the friendship with we, having with them, and league, as in former time.

4 Upon this the Romans gave them letters unto the governors of every place, that they should bring them into the land of Judea peaceably.

5 And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote unto the Lacedemonians:

Jonathan the high priest, and the elders of the nation, and the priests, and the other people of the Jews, unto the Lacedemonians their brethren send greeting:

7 There were letters sent in times past unto Onias the high priest from Judas, who rejoined them among you, to signify that ye are our brethren, as the copy here written doth specify.

8 At which time Onias entrusted the ambassador that was sent honourably, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of the friendship and league.

9 Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, for that we have the holy books of scripture in our hands to comfort us,

10 Have nevertheless sent unto you for the renewing of brotherhood and friendship, lest we should become strangers unto you altogether: for there is a long time passed since ye sent unto us.

11 We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our fasts, and other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as reason is, and as it becometh us to think upon our brethren:

12 And we are right glad of your honour.

13 As for ourselves, we have had great troubles and wars on every side, forasmuch as the kings that are round about us have fought against us.

14 Howbeit we will not be troublesome unto you, nor to others of our confederates and friends, in these ways.

15 For we have help from heaven that succoureth us, so as we are delivered from our enemies, and our enemies are brought under foot.

16 For this cause we chose Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and sent them unto the Romans, to renew the amity that we had with them, and the former league.

17 We commanded them also to go unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 Wherefore now ye shall do well to give us an answer thereto.

19 And this is the copy of the letters [which Onias sent.

20 Arens king of the Lacedemonians to Onias the high priest, greeting:

21 It is found in writing, that the Lacedemonians and Jews are brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham.

22 Now therefore, since this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your prosperity.

23 We do write back again to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore our ambassadors to make report unto you of this wise.

24 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to fight against him with a greater host than afore, 25 He removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the land of Anathus; for he gave them no respite to enter his country.

26 He sent spies also unto their tents, who came again, and told him that they were appointed to come upon them in the night season.

27 Wherefore, so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready to fight: also he sent forth sentinels round about the host.

28 But when the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp.

29 Howbeit Jonathan and his company knew it not till the morning: for they saw the lights burning.

30 Then Jonathan pursued after them, but overtook them not: for they were gone over the river Eleutherus.

31 Wherefore Jonathan turned to the Arabians, who were called the Zeludians, and vowed them, and took their spoils.

32 And removing thence, he came to Damascus, and so passed through all the country.

33 Simon also went forth, and passed through the country unto Ascalon, and the holds there adjoining, from whence he turned aside to Joppa, and won it.

34 For he had heard that they would deliver the hold unto them that took Demetrius' part; wherefore he set a garrison there to keep it.

35 After this came Jonathan home again, and calling the elders of the people together, he consulted with them about building strong holds in Judea, 36 And making the walls of Jerusalem higher, and raising a great mount between the tower and the city, for to separate it from the city, so that it might be alone, that none might neither nor buy it in.

37 Upon this they came together to build up the city, [insomuch as part of the wall toward the brook on the east side was fallen down; and they repaired that which was called Caphenath.

38 Simon also set Ashdod in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and bars.

39 Now Tryphon went about to get the kingdom of Asia, and to kill Antiochus the king, that he might set the crown upon his own head.

40 He had a mind that Jonathan would not suffer him, and that he would fight against him; wherefore he sought a way how to take Jonathan, that he might kill him. So he removed, and came to Edessa.

41 Then Jonathan went out to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for the battle, and came to Bethsan.
12 Now when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great a force, he durst not stretch his hand against him;
13 But received him honourably, and commanded him unto all his friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his men of war to be as obedient unto him as to himself.
14 Unto Jonathan also he said, Why hast thou put all this people to so great trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us?
15 Therefore send them now home again, and choose few men to remain on thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, for I will give thee, and the rest of the strong holds and forces, and all that have any charge: as for me, I will return and depart: for this is the cause of my coming.
16 So Jonathan, believing him, did as he said him, and sent away his host, who went into the land of Judea.
17 And with himself he retained but three thousand men, of whom he sent two thousand into Gabicee, and one thousand went with him.
18 Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and took him, and all them that came with him they slew with the sword.
19 Then sent Tryphon a host of footmen and horsemen into Gabicee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's company.
20 But when they knew that Jonathan and they that were with him were taken and slain, they encouraged one another, and went close together, prepared to fight.
21 They therefore that followed upon them, perceiving that they were ready to fight for their lives, turned back again.
22 Whereupon they all came into the land of Judah peaceably, and there they bewailed Jonathan and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; whereby all Israel made great lamentation.
23 Then all the heathen that were round about them sought to destroy them: for, said they, They have no captain, nor any to help them: now therefore let us make war upon them, and take away their memorial from among men.

CHAPTER XIII.
8 Simon is made captain in his brother Jonathan's room. 19 Tryphon gathereth two of Jonathan's sons into his bands, and slayseth their father. 27 The tomb of Jonathan. 36 Simon is favoured by Demetrius, and smitten Gaza, and the tower of Jerusalem.

28 Now when Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a great host to invade the land of Judea, and destroy it,
29 And saw that the people was in a great trembling and fear, he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together,
30 And gave them exhortation, saying, Ye yourselves know what great things I, and my brother, and my father's house have done for the house and the sanctuary, the battles also and troubles which we have seen:
31 By reason whereof all my brethren are slain for Israel's sake, and I am left alone.
32 Now therefore he it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of trouble: for I am no better than my brethren.
33 Doubtless I will avenge my nation, and the sanctuary, and our wives, and our children: for all the heathen are gathered to destroy us of very many.
34 Now as soon as the people heard these words, their spirit revived.
35 And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou shalt be our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan thy brother.
36 Fight thou our battles, and whatsoever thou commandest us, that will we do.
37 So then he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about,
38 And also he sent Jonathan the son of Abidan, and with him a great power, to Joppa; who casting out them that were therein there met him.
39 So Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a great power to invade the land of Judea, and Jonathan was with him in ward.
40 But Simon pitched his tents at Aridu, over against Tryphon, and he sent his messengers unto him, saying,
41 Whereas we have Jonathan thy brother in hold, as to thy saying, that he is going unto the king's treasure, I concerning the business that was committed unto him.
42 Wherefore now send a hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will let him go.
43 Hereupon Simon, albeit he perceived that they spake deceitfully unto him, yet sent he the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to him, and to all his great host of the people:
44 Who might have said, Because I sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.
45 So he sent them the children and the hundred talents: howbeit Tryphon dissembled, neither would he let Jonathan go.
46 And after this came Tryphon to invade the land, and destroy it, going round about by the way that leadeth unto Asdor: but Simon and his host marched against him in every place, wheresoever he went.
47 Now they that were in the tower sent messengers unto Tryphon, to the end that he should hasten his coming unto them by the wilderness, and send them victuals.
48 Wherefore Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come that night: but there fell a very great snow, by reason whereof he came not. So he departed, and came into the country of Gathas.
49 And when he came over to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, who was buried there.
50 Afterward Tryphon returned and went into his own land.
51 Then sent Simon, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in Modein, the city of his father.
52 And all Israel made great lamentation for him, and bewailed him many days.
53 Simon also built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aboveth to the sight, with heavy stone behind and before.
54 Moreover, he set up seven pyramids, one against another, for his father, and his mother, and his four brethren.
55 And in these he made cunning devices, about the which he set great pillars, and upon the pillars he made all their armour for a perpetual memory, and by the armour ships carved, that they might be seen of all that sail on the sea.
56 This is the sepulchre which he made at Modein, and it standeth yet unto this day.
57 Now Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young King Antiochus, and slew him.
58 And he resigned in his stead, and crowned himself king of Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the land.
59 Then Simon built up the strong holds in Judea, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars, and laid up victuals therein.
60 Moreover, Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end he should give the land an immunity, because all that Tryphon did was to spoil.

55 Unto whom King Demetrius answered and wrote after this manner:

35 King Demetrius unto Simon the high priest, and friend of kings, as also unto the elders and nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting;

57 The golden crown, and the scarlet robe, which ye sent unto us, we have received: and we are ready to make a steadfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, to confirm the immunities which we have granted.

58 And whatsoever covenants we have made with you shall stand; and the strong holds, which ye have builded, shall be your own.

59 As for any oversight or fault committed unto this day, we forgive it, and the crown tax also, which ye owe us: and if there were any other tribute paid in Jerusalem, it shall no more be paid.

60 And look who are meet among you to be in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken away from Israel in the hundred and seventeenth year.

42 Then the people of Israel began to write in their instruments and contracts, In the first year of Simon the high priest, the governor and leader of the Jews.

43 In those days Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about; he made also an engine of war, and set it by the city, and battered a certain tower, and took it.

44 And they that were in the engine leaped into the city; whereupon there was a great uproar in the city:

45 Inasmuch as the people of the city rent their clothes, and climbed upon the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, beseeching Simon to grant them peace.

46 And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickedness, but according to thy mercy.

47 So Simon was appeased toward them, and bought no more against them, but put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered into it with songs and with thanksgiving.

48 Yea, he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed such men there as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein a dwelling-place for himself.

49 They also of the tower in Jerusalem were kept so strait, that they could neither come forth, nor go into the country, nor buy, nor sell; whereas they were in great distress for want of victuals, and a great number of them perished through famine.

50 Then cried they to Simon, beseeching him [to be at one with them; which thing he granted them: and when he had put them out from thence, he cleansed the tower from pollutions.

51 And entered into it the three and twentieth day of the second month, in the hundred seventy and first year, with thanksgiving, and branches of palm-trees, and with harps, and cymbals, and with viols, and hymns, and songs: because there was destroyed a great enemy out of Israel.

52 He ordained also that that day should be kept every year with gladness. Moreover, the hill of the temple that was by the tower he made stronger than it was, and the he built himself with his company.

53 And when Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man, he made him captain of all the hosts; and he dwelt in Gaza.

CHAPTER XIV.

3 Demetrius is taken by the king of Persia. 4 The good deeds of Simon to his country. 5 The Lacedemonians and Romans renew their league with him. 6 A memorial of his acts is set up in Sam. 7 B.C. 142.

3 We give all Tryphon's doings were told.

4 We to give them his right hand.

5 We to make peace with them.

6 OW in the hundred threescore and twelfth year King Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into Media, to get him help to fight against Tryphon.

7 But when Arsaces, the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entered within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him alive:

8 Who went and smote the host of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Arsaces, by whom he was put in ward.

9 As for the land of Judas, that was quiet all the days of Simon; for he sought the good of his nation in such wise, as that evermore his authority and honour pleased them well.

10 And as he was honourable in all his acts, so in this, that he took double for a hater, and made an entrance to the isles of the sea.

11 And enlarged the bounds of his nation, and recovered the country.

12 And gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of Gaza, and Bethsaida, and the tower, out of the which he took all uncleanness, neither was there any that resisted him.

13 Then did they till their ground in peace, and the earth gave her increase, and the trees of the field their fruit.

14 The ancient men sat all in the streets, communing together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparel.

15 He provided victuals for the cities, and set in them all manner of munition, so that his honorable name was renowned unto the end of the world.

16 He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy:

17 For every man sat under his vine and his fig-tree, and there was none to fray them:

18 Neither was there any left in the land to fight against them; yea, the kings themselves were overthrown in those days.

19 Moreover, he encouraged all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out; and every contemner of the law and wicked person he took away.

20 He beautified the sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the temple.

21 Now when it was heard at Rome, and as far as Sparta, that Jonathan was dead, they were very sorry.

22 But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein,

23 They wrote unto him in tables of brass, to renew the friendship and league which they had made with Judas and Jonathan his brethren:

24 Which writings were read before the congregation at Jerusalem.

25 And this is the copy of the letters that the Lacedemonians sent; The rulers of the Lacedemonians, with the city, unto Simon the high priest, and the elders, and the priests, and residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, send greeting.

26 The ambassadors that were sent unto our people certified us of your glory and honour: wherefore we were glad of their coming.

27 And did register the things that they spoke in the easiest manner of the people in this manner: Numinous son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us.

28 And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their amiable speech in public records, to the end the people of the Lacedemonians might have a memorial thereof: furthermore, we have written a copy thereof unto Simon the high priest.

After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold and a thousand pound weight, to confirm the league with Simon.

Whereof when the people heard, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons?

For he and his brethren and the house of his father have established the city, and chased away in fight their enemies from them, and confirmed their liberty.

So then they wrote it in tables of brass, which they set upon pillars in Mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing: The eighteenth day of the month Elid, in the hundred and three score and two and thirtieth year, being the third year of Simon the high priest.

At [Samuel] in the great congregation of the priests, and people, and rulers of the nation, and elders of the country, were these things notified unto us:

Forasmuch as Jerusalem, the city of Judea, together with his brethren, put themselves in preparedness, and, resolving the enemies of their nation, and their nation's high priest and prince of the Jews, and to all the people;

And whatsoever gifts besides these: King Antiochus sent letters to the friend and prince of his nation, and to the people of the Jews, greeting:

Forasmuch as certain pious men have usurped the king's power, and my purpose is to challenge it, that I may restore it to the old estate, and to that end have gathered a multitude of foreign soldiers together, and prepared ships of war;

My meaning also being to go through the country, that I may overthrow the king, that I may destroy it, and make many cities in the kingdom desolate;

Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the obligations which the kings before me granted thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they granted.

I give thee leave to use my money for thy country with thine own stamp.

And as concerning Jerusalem and the sanctuary, let them be free; and all the armour that thou hast made, and carriages that thou hast built, let them remain unto thee.

And if anything be, or shall be, owing to the king, let it be forgiven thee from this time forth for evermore.

Furthermore, when we have obtained our kingdom, we shall honour thee, and thy nation, and thy temple, with great honour, so that your honour shall be known throughout the world.

In the hundred threescore and fourteenth year went Antiochus into the band of his fathers; at which time all the forces came together unto him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

Wherefore, being pursued by King Antiochus, he fled unto Dora, which lieth by the seacoast:

For he saw that troubles came upon him all at once, and that his forces had broken him and kept him from the city.

Then came Antiochus against Dora, having with him a hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horsemen.

And when he had compassed the city round about, and joined ships close to the town on the sea-side, he vexed the city by land and by sea, neither suffered he any to go out or in.

In the mean season came Numenius and his company from Rome, having letters to the kings and countries wherein the writings were written these things:

Lucius, consul of the Romans, unto King Ptoleme, greeting:

The Jews' ambassadors, our friends and confidantes, came unto us to renew the old friendship and league, having been sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews:

And they brought a shield of gold of a thousand pound.

We thought it good therefore to write unto the kings and countries, that they should do them no harm, nor fight against them, their cities, or countries, nor yet aid their enemies against them.

20 It seemed also good to us to receive the shield of 21 If therefore there be any pestilent fellows, that have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their own law.

22 The same things wrote he likewise unto Demetrius the king, and Attalus, to Ariarathes, and Arses, and At to the all countries, and to Sampsucus, and the Lacedemonians, and to Debus, and Myndus, and Sicyou, and Cussa, and Samos, and Pamphylia, and Lycia, and Halieamassus, and Rhodes, and Pheasels, and Cos, and Side, and Arabus, and Gortyn, and Cnidos, and Cyprus, and Creone.

24 And the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

25 So Antiochus the king camped against Dora the second day, hussaunting it continually, and making engines, by which means he shot up Tryphon, that he could neither go out nor in.

26 At that time Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to aid him; silver also, and gold, and much armour.

27 Nevertheless he would not receive them, but brake all the covenants which he had made with him afore, and became strange unto him.

28 Furthermore he went unto his Athenobius, one of his friends, to commune with him, and say, We withhold Joppe and Gazara, with the tower that is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my realm.

29 The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places within my kingdom.

30 Now therefore deliver the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion [without the borders ofJudes]:

31 Or else I have given you all the borders of my land, and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: if not, we will come and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the king's friend came to Jerusalem; and when he saw the glory of Simon, and the cup of gold and silver plate, and his great attendance, he was astonished, and told him the king's message.

33 Then answered Simon, and said unto him, We have neither taken other men's land, nor holden that which appertaineth to other men, but have delivered our fathers, which our enemies had wrongfully in possession a certain time.

34 Wherefore we, having the opportunity, hold the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And when he had acquainted Joppe and Gazara, albeit they did great harm unto the people in our country, yet will we give you a hundred talents for them. Hereunto Athenobius answered him not a word:

36 But returned in a rage to the king, and made report unto him of these speeches, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that he had seen: whereupon the king was exceeding wroth.

37 In the mean time fled Tryphon by ship unto Orthosias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captain of the sea-coast, and gave him a host of footmen and horsemen, 39 And commanded him to remove his host toward Judea: also he commanded him to build up Cedron, and to fortify the gates, and to war against the people: but as for the king himself, he pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came to Jerusalem, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judea, and to take the people prisoners, and slay them.

41 And when he had built up Cedron, he set horsemen there, and a host of horsemen, to the end that isouting out they might make outways upon the ways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Then came up John from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebeus had done.

2 Wherefore Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have ever from our youth unto this day fought against the enemoes of Israel; and things have prospered so well in our hands, that we have delivered Israel oftentimes.

3 But now I am old, and ye, by God's mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and my brethren, and go and fight for our nation, and the help from heaven be with you.

4 So he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war with horsemen, who went out against Cendebeus, and rested that night at Modin.

5 And as they rose in the morning, and went into the plain, behold, a mighty great host both of footmen and horsemen came against them: howbeit there was a water-brook betwixt them.

6 So he and his people pitched over against them: and when he saw that the people were afraid to go over the water-brook, he went first over himself, and then the men seeing him, pursued him unto the water-brook.

7 That done, he divided his men, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: for the enemies' horsemen were very many.

8 Then sounded they with the holy trumpets: wherveupon Cendebeus and his host were put to flight, so that many of them were slain, and the remnant got them to the strong hold.

9 At that time was Judas, John's brother, wounded; but John still followed after them, until he came to Cedron, where Cendebeus had his fort.

10 [So they fled even unto the towers in the fields of Azotus; wherewith he burned it with fire; so that there were slain of them about two thousand men. Afterward he returned into the land of Judes in peace.

11 Moreover, in the plain of Jericho was Ptolemee the son of Abusus made captain, and he had abundance of silver and gold:

12 For he was the high priest's son-in-law.

13 Wherefore his heart being lifted up, he thought to get the country to himself and his sons, and to act deceitfully against Simon and his sons to destroy them.

14 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; at which time he came down himself to Jericho with his son, and Mattathias and Judas, in the hundred threescore and seventeenth year, in the eleventh month, called Sabat:

15 Where the son of Abusus receiving them deceitfully into a little hold called Docus, which he had built, made them a great banquet: howbeit he had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sons had drunk largely, Ptolemee and his men rose up, and took their weapons, and came upon Simon into the banqueting-place, and slew him, and his two sons, and put their hands upon certain of his servants:

17 In which doing he committed a great treachery, and recompensed evil for good.

18 Then Ptolemee wrote these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him a host to aid him, and he would deliver him the country and cities.

19 He sent others also to Gazara to kill John; and unto the tribunals he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them silver, and gold, and rewards.

20 And others he sent to take Jerusalem, and the mountains of the ten towns.

21 Now one had run afire to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were slain, and, quoth he, Ptolemee hath sent to slay thee also.

22 Hereof when he heard, he was sore astonished: so he laid hands on them that were come to destroy him, and slew them; for he knew that they sought to make him away.

3 Judas and John: several against the forces sent by Antiochus. 11 The captain of Jericho called Simon and two of his sons into his castle, and there two or three persons made with them. 19 John is sought for, and escapeth, and killeth those that sought for him.
24 As concerning the rest of the acts of John, and his wars, and worthy deeds which he did, and the building of the walls which he made, and his doings,

CHAPTER I.

1 A letter of the Jews from Jerusalem to them of Egypt, to thank God for the death of Antiochus, and the deliverance of the Jews from within and without Egypt, and for the peace and health of the whole world.

2 And the prayer of Neemias.

31 And be a friend to you, and to remember your covenant which he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants.

3 And give you all a heart to serve him, and to do his will, with a good courage and a willing mind.

4 And open your hearts in his hand and commandments, and send you peace.

5 And hear your prayers, and be at one with you, and never forsake you in time of trouble.

6 And now we be here praying for you.

7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews wrote unto you the Jews, as it was sent, of the troubles that came upon us in those years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and kingdom.

8 And burned the porch, and shed innocent blood; then we prayed unto the Lord, and were heard; we offered also sacrifices and fine flour, and lighted the lamps, and set forth the loaves.

9 And now see that ye keep the feast of tabernacles in the month Casdun.

10 In the hundred threescore and eighth year, the people that were at Jerusalem and in Judea, and the council, and Judas, sent greeting and health unto Aristobulus, King Ptolemeus' master, who was of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Jews that were in Egypt.

11 Inasmuch as God hath delivered us from great perils, we thank him highly, as having been in battle against a king.

12 For he cast them out that fought within the holy city.

13 For when the leader was come into Persia, and the army with him that seemed invincible, they were slain in the temple of Nanea by the deceit of Nanea's priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he would marry her, came into the place, and his friends that were with him, to receive money in name of a dowry.

15 Which when the priests of Nanea had set forth, and he was entered with a small company into the compass of the temple, they shut the temple as soon as Antiochus was come in.

16 And opening a privy door of the roof, they threw stones like thunderbolts, and struck down the captain, hewed them in pieces, smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without.

17 Blessed be our God in all things, who hath delivered up this city.

18 Therefore whereas we are now purposed to keep the purification of the temple upon the fifth day of the month Casdun, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that ye also might keep it, as the feast of the tabernacles, and of the fire, which was given us when Neemias offered sacrifice, after that he had built the temple and the altar.

19 For when our fathers were led into Persia, the priests that were then devot took the fire of the altar privately, and hid it in a hollow place of a pit without water, where they kept it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men.

20 Now after many years, when it pleased God, Neemias, being sent from the king of Persia, did send of the potters to find those sacrifices, and that had hid it, to the priests, to find it; but when they told us, we found no fire, but thick water.

21 And then commanded he them to draw it up, and to bring it; and when the sacrifices were laid on, Neemias commanded the priests to sprinkle the wood and the things laid thereupon with the water.

22 When this was done, and the sun shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that every man marvelled.

23 And the priests made a prayer, that the sacrifice was consumed.

24 And the prayer was after this manner: O Lord, Lord God, Creator of all things, who art fearful, and strong, and righteous, and merciful, and the only and gracious King.

25 The only giver of all things, the only just, almighty, and everlasting, thou that deliverest Israel from all trouble, and dost choose the fathers, and sanctify them;

26 Receive the sacrifice for thy whole people Israel, and preserve thine own portion, and sanctify it.

27 Gather those together that are scattered from us, deliver them that serve among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppress us, and with pride do us wrong.

29 Plead thy people again in thy holy place, as Moses hath spoken.

30 And the priests sung psalms of thanksgiving.

31 Now the sacrifice was consumed, Neemias commanded the water that was left to be poured on the great stones.

32 When this was done, there was kindled a flame; but it was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was known, it was told the king of Persia, that in the place where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared water, and that Neemias had purified the sacrifices therewith.

34 Then the king, enclosing the place, made it holy, after he had tried the matter.

35 And the king took many gifts, and bestowed thereof on those whom he would gratify.

36 And Neemias called this thing Naphath, which is as much as to say, A cleansing: but many men call it Noph.
they should not err in their minds, when they see images of silver and gold, with their ornaments.

3 And with other such speeches exhorted he them, that they should not depart from their hearts.

4 It was also contained in the same writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded the tabernacle and the ark to go with him, as he went forth into the mountain, where Moses climbed up, and saw the heritage of God.

5 And when Jeremias fainted, he found a hollow cave, wherein he laid the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the door.

6 And some of those that followed him came to mark the way, but they could not find it.

7 Which when Jeremias perceived, he blamed them, saying, As for that place, it shall be known until the time that God gather his people again together, and receive them unto mercy.

8 Then shall the Lord shew them these things, and the glory of the Lord shall appear, and the cloud also, as it was shewed unto Moses, and as when Solomon desired that the place might be honourably sanctified.

9 It was also declared, that he being wise offered the sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple.

10 And as when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the sacrifices; even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt-offerings.

11 And Moses said, Because the sin-offering was not to be eaten, it was consumed.

12 So Solomon kept those eight days,

13 The same things also were reported in the writings and commentaries of Neemias; and how he, founding a library gathered together the nets of the kings, and the prophets, and of David, and the epistles of the kings concerning the holy gifts.

14 In like manner also Judas gathered together all those things that were lost by reason of the war we had, and they remain with us.

15 Wherefore if ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, we have written unto you, and ye shall do well, if ye keep the same days.

17 We hope also, that the God that delivered all his people, and gave them all a heritage, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the sanctuary,

18 As he promised in the law, will shortly have mercy upon us, and gather us together out of every land under heaven. And the holy place, wherefore he delivered us out of great troubles, and hath purified the place;

19 Now as concerning Judas Maccabæus, and his brethren, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar,

20 And the wars against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his son,

21 And the manifest signs that came from heaven unto those that believed themselves manfully to their honour for Judæas: so that, being but a few, they overcame the whole country, and chased barbarous multitudes,

22 And recovered again the temple, renowned all the world over, and freed the city, and upheld the laws which were going down, the Lord being gracious unto them with all favour:

23 All these things are being declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we shall assay to abridge in one volume.

24 For considering the infinite number, and the difficulty which they find that desire to look into the narrations of the story, for the variety of the matter,

25 We have been careful, that they that will read might have delight, and that they that are desirous to commit to memory might have ease, and that all into whose hands it cometh might have profit.

26 Therefore to us, that have taken upon us this painful labour of abridging, it was not easy, but a matter of sweet and watching.

27 Even as it is no case unto him that prepares a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others: yet [for the pleasure of many we will undertake gladly this great pains;

28 Leaving to the author the exact handling of every particular, and labouring to follow the rules of an abridgment.

29 For as the master-builder of a new house must care for the whole building; but he that undertaketh to set it out, and paint it, must seek out fit things for the adorning thereof; even so I think it is with us.

30 To stand upon every point, and go over things at large, and to be curious in particulars, belongeth to the first author of the story:

31 But to use brevity, and avoid much labouring of the work, is to be granted to him that will make an abridgement.

32 Here then will we begin the story: only adding thus much to that which hath been said, that it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story itself.

CHAPTER III.

1 How when the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and his hatred of wickedness,

2 It came to pass that even the kings themselves did honor the place, and magnify the temple with their best gifts;

3 Insomuch that Seleucus king of Asia, of his own revenues, bore all the costs belonging to the service of the temple.

4 But one Simon, of the tribe of Benjamin, who was made governor of the temple, fell out with the high priest about disorder in the city.

5 And when he could not overcome Onias, he got him to Apollonius the son of Thrasaeus, who then was governor of Celosyria and Phenice.

6 And told him that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of infinite sums of money, so that the multitude of their riches, which did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, was immemorable, and that it was possible to bring all into the temple.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the king, and had showed him of the money whereof he was told, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandment to bring him the aforesaid money.

8 So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Celosyria and Phenice, but indeed to fulfill the king's purpose.

9 And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received of the high priest of the city, he told him what intelligence was given of the money, and declared wherefore he came, and asked if these things were so indeed.

10 Then the high priest told him that there was such money laid up for the relief of widows and fatherless children.

11 And that some of it belonged to Hircanus son of Tobias, a man of great dignity, and not as that wicked Simon had misinformed: the sum whereof in all was four hundred talents of silver, and two hundred of gold.

12 And that it was altogether impossible that such wrongs should be done unto them, that had committed it to the holiness of the place, and to the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honoured over all the world.

13 But Heliodorus, because of the king's commandment given him, said, That in any wise it must be brought into the king's treasury.

14 So at the day which he appointed he entered in to order this matter: wherefore there was no small agony throughout the whole city.
CHAPTER IV.

The Lord, and made great vows unto him that had saved his life, and saluted Onias, returned with his host to the king.

35 Then testified he to all men the works of the great God, which he had seen with his eyes.

36 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said, 37 I bid him hast any enemy or traitor, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is an especial power of God.

38 And he beheld the vehemency of heaven loath his eye on that place, and delivered it; and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury, fell out on this sort.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Simon slandereth Onias. 2 Jason, by converting the king, obtained the office of the high priest. 3 Menelaus getteth the same from Jason by the like corruption. 4 Andromak, traitor only murdered Onias. 5 The king being informed thereof, causeth Andromak to be put to death. 6 The wickedness of Synaesarchus, in the institution of Menelaus.

His Simon now, of whom we spake before, having been a bewrayer of the money, and of his country, slandered Onias, as if he had terrified Heliodorus, and had been the author of these evils.

2 Thus was he bold to call him a traitor, that had deserved well of the city, and tendered his own nation, and was so zealous of the laws.

3 But when their hatred went so far, that by one of Simon’s faction murders were committed.

4 Onias seeing the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as being the governor of Celysia and Pirie, did cause mischief, and therefore he did send to him, and so it was, that Apollonius was sent to him.

5 He went to the king, not to be an accuser of his countrymen, but seeking the good of all, both public and private;

6 For he saw that it was impossible that the state should continue quiet, and none leave his folly, unless the king did take the reins.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiaphnes, took the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias had an understanding to be high priest,

8 Promising to the king by intercession three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and of another revenue eighty talents;

9 Besides this, he promised to assign a hundred and fifty more, if he might have license to set up a place for exercising, and to increase the famous fust of youth in the fashions of the heathen, and to write them of Jerusalem by the name of Antiochians.

10 Which when the king had granted, and he had gotten into his hand the rule, he forthwith brought his own nation to the Greckish fashion.

11 And the royal privileges granted of special favour to the Jews by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went ambassador to Rome for unity and for the sake of the sacred gifts, he took away;

12 And the young men, who were according to the law, he brought up new customs against the law:

13 For he built gladly a place of exercise under the tower itself, and brought the chief young men under his subjection, and made the sacrifices, hastened to be partners of the unlawful allowance in the place of exercise, after the form of Phineas called them forth;

14 Not setting by the honours of their fathers, but liking the glory of the Grecians best of all.

16 By reason whereof a great calamity came upon them; for they had them to be their enemies and avengers, whose custom they followed so earnestly, and unto whom they desired to be like in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to do wickedly against the laws of God; but the time following shall declare these things.

18 Now when the game that was used every fifth year was kept at Tyre, the king being present, 19 This ungracious Jason sent special messengers from Jerusalem, who were Antiochus, to carry three hundred drachmas of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought fit not to be stow upon the sacrifice, because it was not convenient, but to be reserved for other charges.

20 This money then, in regard of the sender, was appointed to Hercules' sacrifice; but because of the bearers thereof, it was employed to the making of gallies.

21 Now when Apollonius the son of Menæchus was sent into Egypt by the incorporation of King Ptolemy Philometor, Antiochus, intending him not to be well affected to his affairs, provided for his own safety: when he came to Joppa, and from thence to Jerusalem;

22 Where he was honorably received of Jason, and of all the city; both with torch-light, and with great shoutings: and so afterward went with his host unto Phenice.

23 Three years afterward Jason sent Menæchus, the aforesaid Simon's brother, to bear the money unto the king, and purchase his necessity matters.

24 But he being brought to the presence of the king, when he had magnified him for the glorious appearance of his power, got the priesthood to himself, offering more than Jason by three hundred talents of silver.

25 So he exacted the king's money, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the fury of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast.

26 Then Jason, who had undermined his own brother, being undermined by another, was compelled to flee into the country of the Ammonites.

27 So Menæchus got the principality; but as for the money that he had promis'd unto the king, he took no good order for it, albeit Sosthenes the ruler of the castle required it:

28 For unto him appertain'd the gathering of the customs. Wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Now Menæchus left his brother Lysimachus in his stead in the priesthood; and Sosthenes left Crates, who was governor of the Cyriphes.

30 While those things were in doing, they of Tarso and Mallos made insurrection, because they were given to the king's concubine, called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in all haste to appease matters, leaving Andronicus, a man in authority, for his deputy.

32 Now Menæchus, supposing that he had gotten a convenient time, stole certain vessels of gold out of the temple, and gave some of them to Andronicus, and some he sold into Tyre and the cities round about.

33 Which when Onias knew of a surety, he reproved him, and with great indignation, were much grieved for the unjust murder of the man.

34 And when the king was come again from the places about Cilicia, the Jews that were in the city, and certain of the Greeks that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slain without cause.

35 Therefore Antiochus was heav'ly sorry, and moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and modest behaviour of him that was dead.

36 And being kindled with anger, forthwith he took away Andronicus his purple, and rent off his clothes, and led them through the city unto that very place, where he had committed impiety against Onias, there slew he the cursed murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserved.

37 Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by Lysimachus with the consent of Menæchus, and the fruit thereof was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, many vessels of gold being already carried away.

38 Whereupon the common people rising, and being armed with rafts, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began first to offer violence: one ||Amanus being the leader, a man far gone in years, and no less in folly.

39 They then seeing the attempt of Lysimachus, some of them caught stones, some clubs, others taking handfuls of dust, that was next at hand, cast them all together upon Lysimachus, and those that set upon them.

40 Thus many of them they wounded, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee: but as for the church-rober himself, they killed beside the treasury.

41 Of these matters therefore there was an accusation laid against Menæchus.

42 Now when the king came to Tyre, three men that were sent before him were to inform the king of the matters.

43 But Menæchus, being now convinced, promised Ptolemæus the son of Dorymenes, to give him much money, if he would pacify the king toward him.

44 Whereupon Ptolemæus taking the king aside into a certain place, it was to take the air, brought him to be of another mind:

45 Insomuch that he discharged Menæchus from the accusations, who notwithstanding was cause of all the mischief; and those poor men, who, if they had told their causes, before the Cyprians, should have been judged innocent, them he condemned to death.

46 Thus they that followed the matter for the city, and for the people, and for the holy vessels, did so much suffer unjust punishment.

47 Wherefore even they of Tyre, moved with hatred of that wicked deed, caused them to be honourably buried.

48 And, also, through the covetousness of them that were of power, Menæchus remained still in authority, increasingting in malice, and being a great traitor to the citizens.

CHAPTER V.

2 Of the signs and tokens seen in Jerusalem 6 Of the end and weakness of Jason 11 The present of Antiochus against the Jews 15 The spoiling of the temple 27 Macabees fleeth into the wilderness.

BOUT the same time Antiochus prepared his second voyage into Egypt:

2 And then it happened, that through all the city, for the space almost of forty days, there were seen horsemen running in the air, in cloth of gold, and armed with lances, like a band of soldiers.

3 And troops of horsemen in array, encountering and running one another, and carrying with them shields, and multitude of lances, and drawing of swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden ornaments, and harness of all sorts.

4 Wherefore every man prayed that that apparition might turn to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had been dead, Jason took at the least a thousand men, and suddenly made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the walls being put to flight, the city at length taken, Mc- cabus lieth into the castle:

6 But Jason slew his own citizens without mercy, not considering that to get the day of them of his own nation would be most unhappy for him; but thinking they had been his enemies, and not his countrymen, whom he conquered.

7 Howbeit, for all this he obtained not the principality, but at the last received shame for the reward
CHAPTER VI.

1. The Jews are compelled to leave the land of God. 14 The temple is destroyed. 15 Crowds upon the people and the women. 16 An exhortation to bear affliction in the example of the valiant courage of Eleazar, who is cruelly torned.

1. NOT long after this the king sent an old man of Athens to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God:

2. And to pollute also the temple in Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympus; and that in Garizim, of Jupiter the Defender of strangers, as they did desire that dwelt in the place.

3. The coming in of this mischief was sore and grievous to the people:

4. For the temple was filled with riot and revelling, and the Gentiles, who delivered harlotesses, and had to do with women in the circuit of the holy places, and besides that brought in things that were not lawful,

5. The altar also was filled with profane things, which the law forbade.

6. Neither was it lawful for a man to keep sabbath days or ancient feasts, or to profess himself at all to be a Jew.

7. And in the day of the king’s birth, every month they were brought by bitter constraint to cut of the sacrifices; and when the feast of Barczems was kept, the Jews were compelled to go in procession to Baclus, carrying hire.

8. Moreover, there went out a decree to the neighbouring cities of the heathen, by the suggestion of Porneus, against the Jews, that they should observe the same fashions, and be partakers of their sacrifices:

9. And whose would not conform themselves to the manners of the Gentiles should be put to death.

10. They might a man have seen the present misery.

11. For there were two women brought, who had circumcised their children, whom when they had openly led round about the city, the babes hanging at their breasts, they cast them down headlong from the wall.

12. And it was, that had cut together into caves near by, to keep the sabbath day, secretly, being discovered to Philip, were all burnt together, because they made conscience to help themselves for the honour of the most sacred day.

13. Now I beseech those that read this book, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they judge these punishments not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

14. For it is a token of his great goodness, when wicked doers are not suffered any long time, but forthwith punished.

15. For not as with other nations, whom the Lord patiently forbeareth to punish, till they come to the fulness of their sins, so doth he with us,

16. Last that, being the height of sin, afterward should take vengeance of us.

17. And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us: and though he punish with adversity, yet doth he never forsake his people.

18. But let this we have spoken be for a warning unto us. And now will we come to the declaring of the matter in few words.

19. Eleazar, one of the principal scribes, an aged man, and of a well-favoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to cut swine’s flesh.

20. But he, choosing rather to die gloriously, than to live stained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of his own accord to the torment.

21. As it behoved them to come, that are resolved

22. Thus came upon the city E. Jer. 19, 19, 1, 13; as they were.

23. The time of Joseph, see Joh. 18, 3. 24. As the testament was.

to stand out against such things as are not lawful for love of life to be tasted.
21. But they that had the charge of that wicked feast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his own provision, such as was lawful for him to use, and make us if he did eat of the flesh taken from the sacrifice commanded by the king's commandment.
22. That in so doing he might be delivered from death, and for the old friendship with them find favour.
23. But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient years, and the beauty of his gray head, whereunto he was come, and his most honest education from a child, or rather the holy law made and given by God; therefore he answered accordingly, and willed them straightways to send him to the grave.
24. For it becometh not our age, said he, in any wise to dissemble, whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar, being fourscore years old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion.
25. And so they through his hypocrisy, and desire to live a little time and a moment longer, should be deceived by me, and I get a stain to mine old age, and make it abominable.
26. For though for the present time I should be de-ivered from the punishment of men, yet should I not escape the hand of Almighty God, nor die a foul death.
27. Wherefore now, manfully changing this life, I will shew myself such a one as mine age requireth.
28. And leave a notable example to such as be young, to die willingly and courageously for the honorable and holy law. And when he had said these words, immediately he went to the torment.
29. They that led him changing the good-will they bare him a little before into hatred, because the aforesaid speeches proceeded, as they thought, from a desperate man.
30. But when he was ready to die with stripes, he gleaned, and said, It is manifest unto the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, that whereas I might have been delivered from death, I now endure some pains in body by being beaten; but in soul am well content to suffer these things, because I fear him.
31. And thus this man died, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memorial of virtue, not only unto young men, but unto all his nation.

CHAPTER VII.
The constancy and cruel death of seven brethren and their mother in day one, because they would not eat swine's flesh at the king's commandment.
3. I came to pass also, that seven brethren with their mother were taken, and compassed by the king against the law to make them to taste swine's flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.
4. But one of them that spake first said thus, What wouldst thou ask or learn of us? we are ready to die, rather than to transgress the laws of our fathers.
3. Then the king, being in a rage, commanded pans and caldrons to be made hot;
4. Which forthwith being heated, he commanded to cut out the tongues of those that spake first, and to cut off the utmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on.
5. Now when he was thus mauled in all his members, he commanded him, being yet alive, to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the pan: and as the vapour of the pan was for a good space dispersed, they exhorted another mother with the mother to die manfully, saying thus,
6. The Lord God looketh upon us, and in truth hath comfort in us, as Moses his son, which witnessed to their faces, declared, saying. And he shall be comforted in his servants.
7. So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the second to make him a mocking-stock:
and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thou be punished throughout every member of thy body?

120

B.C. or 168.
Cir. 167.
8. But as he answered in his own language, and said, also before he also received the next torment in order,
as the former did.
9. And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou like a fury takest us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise us up, who have died for his cause, unto everlasting life.
10. After him was the third made a mocking-stock:
and when he was required, he put out his tongue,
and that right soon, holding forth his hands manfully,
11. And said courageously, These I had from heaven; and for his laws I despise them; and from him hope to receive them again.
12. Inasmuch that the king, and they that were with him, marvelled at the young man's courage, for that he nothing regarded the pains.
13. Now when this man was dead also, they tormented and mangled the fourth in like manner.
14. So when he was ready to die, he said thus, It is good, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God to be raised up again by him: as for thee, thou shalt have no resurrection to life.
15. Afterward they brought the fifth also, and mangled him.
16. Then looked he unto the king, and said, Thou lastest power over men, thou art corruptible, thou dost what thou wilt; yet think not that our nation is forbidden or deposed.
17. But abide awhile, and behold his great power, how he will torment thee and thy seed.
18. After him also they brought the sixth, who, becoming ready to die, said, Be not deceived without cause: for we desire nothing things against God; therefore marvelous things are done unto us.
19. But think not thou, that taketh in hand to strive against God, that thou shalt escape unpunished.
20. But the mother was mangled also, being most wise, and worthy of honourable memory: for when she saw her seven sons slain within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.
21. Yea, she exorted every one of them in her own language, filled with courageous spirits; and stirring up her womanish thoughts with a manly stomach, she said unto them,
22. I cannot tell how ye came into my womb; for I neither know ye how ye lived nor how ye were born.
23. But the former of you was I that formed the members of every one of you; so that these 24. But doubtless the Creator of the world, who form-ced the generation of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his own mercy give you breath to live again, as ye now regard not your own selves for his sake, sake.
25. Now Antiochus, thinking himself despised, and suspecting it to be a reproachful speech, whilst the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with oaths, that he would make him both a rich and a happy man, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers; and that also he would take him for his friend, and trust him with affairs.
26. But when the young man would in no case hearken unto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted her that would counsel the young man to save his life.
27. And when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that she would counsel her son.
28. But she, bowing herself toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, spake in her country language on this manner; O my son, have pity upon me that bare thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee such three years, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age, and endured the troubles and education.
29. It is a thing strange, my son, to look upon the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them things that were not; and so was mankind made likewise.
30. Fear not this tormentor, but, being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that I may receive thee again in mercy with thy brethren.
young man said, Whom wait ye for? I will not obey the king's com-mmission: but I will obey the commandment of the law that was given unto our fathers by Moses.
31 And, thou, that hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, shalt not escape
the hands of God:
32 For we suffer because of our sins.
33 And though the living Lord be angry with us a little while for our chastening and correction, yet shall he be at one again with his servants.
34 But thou, O godless man, and of all other most wicked, be not lifted up without a cause, nor pulled up with uncertain hopes, lifting up thy hand against the servants of God:
35 For thou hast not yet escaped the judgment of Almighty God, who seeth all things.
36 For our brethren, who now have suffered a short pain, are dead under God's covenant of everlasting life; but thou, through the judgment of God, shalt receive just punishment for thy pride.
37 But I, as my brethren, offer up my body and life for the laws of our fathers, beseeching God that he would speedily be merciful unto our nation; and that thou by torments and plagues mayest confess that he alone is God:
38 And that in me and my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which is justly brought upon all our nation, may cease.
39 Then the king, being in a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, and took it grievously that he was mocked.
40 So this man died unfulfilled, and put his whole trust in the Lord.
41 Last of all, after the sons, the mother died.
42 Let this be enough now to have spoken concerning the Ishdron feasts, and the extreme tortures,
II. Maccabees.

10 So Nicander undertook to make so much money of the captive Jews as should defray the tribute of twenty thousand talents to the king, which was the charge of the Romans.

11 Wherefore immediately he sent to the cities upon the sea-coast, proclaiming a sale of the captive Jews, and promising that they should have fowlers and ten bowles for one talent; not expecting the vengeance that was to follow upon him from the Almighty God.

12 Now when word was brought unto Judas of Nicamer's coming, and he had imparted unto these that were with him that the army was at hand, 13 They that were fearful, and distrusted the justice of God, fled, and conveyed themselves away.

14 Others sold all that they had left, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them, being sold by the wicked Nicamer before they met together;

15 And if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants he had made with his fathers, and for his holy and glorious name's sake, by which they were called.

16 So Maccabees called his men together, unto the number of six thousand, and exhorted them not to be stricken with terror of the enemy; nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen, who came wrangfully against them; but to fight manfully.

17 And to set before their eyes the injury that they had unjustly done to the holy place, and the cruel handling of the city, whereof they made a mockery, and also the taking away of the government of their forefathers.

18 For they, said he, trust in their weapons and boldness; but our confidence is in the Almighty God, who at a beck can cast down both them that come against us, and also all the world.

19 Moreover, he reconciled unto them what helps their forefathers had found, and how they were delivered, when under Semacherib a hundred fourscore and five thousand perished.

20 And he told them of the battle that they had in Babylon with the Meditaenians, how they came but eight thousand in all to the business, with four thousand Macedonians, and that the Macedonians being perplexed, the eight thousand destroyed a hundred and twenty thousand, because of the help that they had from heaven, and so received a great joy.

21 Thus when he had made them bold with these words, and ready to die for the laws and the country, he divided his army into four parts;

22 And joined with himself his own brethren, leaders of each band, Zacchaeus and Jonathan, giving each one fifteen hundred men.

23 Also he appointed Eleazar to read the holy book:

24 And when he had given them this watchword, The help of God; himself leading the first band, he joined battle with Nicamer.

25 And by the help of the Almighty they slew above nineteen thousand of their enemies, and wounded and main'd the most part of Nicamer's host, and so put them to flight;

26 And took their money that came to buy them, and pursued them; but lacking time they returned:

27 For it was the day before the sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

28 So when they had gathered their armour together, and spoiled their enemies, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, and excelled one another to work to the Lord, who had preserved them unto that day, which was the beginning of mercy distilling upon them.

29 And after the sabbath, when they had given part of the spoils to the unjust, and the widows, and orphans, the rest they divided among themselves and their servants.

30 When this was done, and they had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord to be reconciled with his servants for ever.

31 Moreover, those that went with Timothæus and Zacchæus, who fought against them, they slew above twenty thousand, and very easily got high and strong folds, and divided among themselves many spoils more, and made the unjust, orphans, widows, priests, and the aged also, and all the other themselves.

32 And when they had gathered their armour together, they laid them up all carefully in convenient places, and the remnant of the spoil they brought to Jerusalem.
unto God, and that a man that is mortal should not proudly think of himself, as if he were God.

13 This wicked person vowed also unto the Lord, who now more holy mercy upon him) saying thus,

14 That the holy city (to which he was going in haste to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying-place) he would set at liberty;

15 And as touching the Jews, whom he had judged not worthy to be so much as buried, but to be cast out with their children to be devoured of the fowls and wild beasts, he would make them all equals with the citizens of Athens:

16 And the holy temple, which before he had spoiled, he would garnish with goodly gifts, and restore all the holy vessels with many more, and out of his own revenue defray the charges belonging to the sacrifices:

17 Yea, and that also he would become a Jew himself, and go throughout all the world that was inhabited, and declare the power of God.

18 But for all this his pains would not cease: for the just judgment of God was come upon him: therefore despairing of his health, he wrote unto the Jews the letters underwritten, containing the form of a supplication, after this manner:

19 Antiochus, king and governor, to the good Jews his citizens, wisheth much joy, health, and prosperity:

20 If ye and your children fare well, and your affaires be to your contentment, I give very great thanks to God, having my hope in heaven.

21 As for me, I was weak, or else I would have recommended kindly your honour and good-will, returning out of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common safety of all:

22 Not distressing my health, but having great hope to escape this sickness:

23 But considering that even my father, at what time he led an army into the high countries, appointed a successor,

24 To the end that, if any thing fell out contrary to expectation, or if any tidings were brought that were grievous, they of the land, knowing to whom the state was left, might not be troubled:

25 Again, considering how the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom supply for opportunities, and expect what shall be the event, I have appointed my son Antiochus king, whom I often commended and commended unto many of you, when I went up into the high provinces; to whom I have written as followeth:

26 Therefore I pray and request you to remember the benefits that I have done unto you generally, and in special, and that every man will be still faithful to me and my son:

27 For I am persuaded that he, understanding my mind, will favourably and graciously yield to your desires.

28 Thus the murderer and blasphemer having suffered most grievously, as he entreated other men, so did he a miserable death in a strange country in the mountains.

29 And Philip, that was brought up with him, carried away his body, who also, fearing the son of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemas Philometer.

CHAPTER X.

And offered a sacrifice after two years, and set forth incense, and lights, and show-bread.

1 When that was done, they fell flat down, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles; but if they shamed any more against him, that he himself would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not be delivered unto the blis phosphorous, and banarous nations.

2 Now upon the same day that the stranglers pro faned the temple, on the very same day it was cleansed again, even the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is Cades.

3 And they kept eight days with gladness, as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long before they had held the feast of the tabernacles, when as they wandered in the mountains and dens like beasts.

4 Therefore they have branches, and fair buildings, and palm palms unto him that had given them good success in cleansing his place.

5 They ordained also by a common statute and decree, That every year those days should be kept of the whole nation of the Jews.

6 And this was the end of Antiochus, called Epiphanes.

7 Now will we declare the acts of Antiochus Epiphanes, who was the son of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the wars.

8 So when he was come to the crown, he set one Lydias over the affairs of his realm, and appointed him chief governor of Celyceria and Phcenice.

9 For Phoenicenes, that was called Macedon, choosing rather to do justice unto the Jews for the wrongs that had been done unto them, endeavoured to continue peace with them.

10 Whereupon being accused of the king's friends before Epiphanes, and called traitor at every word, because he had left Cyprus, that Philomaces had committed unto him, and he parted unto Antiochus Epiphanes, and seeing that he was in no honourable place, he was so discouraged, that he poisoned himself and died.

11 But when Gorgias was governor of the girdles, he hired soldiers, and nourished war continually with the Jews.

12 And therewithal the Idumaeans, having gotten into their hands the most commodious holds, kept the Jews occupied; and receiving those that were banish ed from Jerusalem, they went about to nourish war.

13 Then they that were with Maccabeus made supplication, and besought God that he would be their helper; and so they ran with violence upon the strong holds of the Idumaeans.

14 And assaulting them strongly, they won the holds, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew all that fell into their hands, and killed no less than twenty thousand.

15 And because certain, who were no less than nine thousand, were left together into two very strong castles, having all manner of things convenient to sustain the siege.

16 Maccabeus left Simon and Joseph, and Zachaeus also, and those that were with him, who were enough to defend them, and departed himself unto those places which more needed his help.

17 Now they that were with Simon, being led with cavalierness, were persuaded for money through certain of the Jews that were in those castles, and took forty thousand drachmas, and let some of them escape.

18 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, he called the governors of the people together, and accused those men that had sold their brethren for money, and let their enemies free to fight against them.

19 So he slew those that were found traitors, and immediately took the two castles.

20 And having good success with his weapons in all things he took in hand, he slew in the two holds more than twenty thousand.
II. Maccabees

And as they were at Jerusalem, there appeared a great multitude of foreign forces, and horses out of Asia not yet come, as though he would take by force of arms.

But when he drew near, [they that were with Maccabees turned themselves to pray unto God, and sprinkled earth upon their heads, and girded their belts with sackcloth.

And fell down at the foot of the altar, and besought him to be merciful to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth.

So after the prayer, they took their weapons, and went on further from the city: and when they drew near to their enemies, they kept by themselves.

Now the sun being newly risen, they joined both together; the one part having together with their victors, their refuge also unto the Lord for a pledge of their success and victory; the other side making their rage leader of their battle.

But when the battle waxed strong, there appeared unto the enemies from heaven five cunning men upon horses, with briddles of gold, and two of them led the Jews.

And took Maccabees betwixt them, and covered him on every side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot arrows and lightnings against the enemies: so that being confounded with blindness, and full of trouble, they were killed.

And there were slain of footmen twenty thousand and five hundred, and six hundred horsesmen.

As for Timotheus himself, he fled into a very strong hold, called Gazzara, where Cereas was governor.

But they that were with Maccabees held siege against the fortress courageously four days.

And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and uttered wicked words.

Nevertheless, upon the fifth day early, twenty young men of Maccabees' company, inflamed with anger because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall manly, and with a fierce courage killed all that they met withal.

Others likewise ascending after them, while they were busied with them that were within, burned the towers, and kindling fires, burned the blasphemers alive; and others broke open the gates, and having received in the rest of the army, took the city.

And king Timotheus, that was in the certain pit, and Cereas his brother, with Apollonians.

When this was done, they praised the Lord with psalms and thanksgiving, who had done so great things for Israel, and given them the victory.

CHAPTER XI.

In like manner this, Lysias the king's protector and cousin, who also managed the affairs, took sore displeasure for the things that were done.

And when he had gathered about fourscore thousand with all the horsemen he could gather unto him, he, thinking to make the city a habitation of the Gentiles,

And to make a gain of the temple, as of the other chapels of the heathen, and to set the high priesthood to sale every year;

Not at all considering the power of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants.

So he came to Judea, and drew near to Bethsura, which was a strong town, but distant from Jerusalem about five furlongs; and he held sore siege unto it.

Now when they that were with Maccabees heard that he besieged the holds, they and all the people with lamentation and tears besought the Lord that he would send a good angel to deliver Israel.

Then Maccabees himself of all took weapons, exhorting the other that they would jeopard themselves together with him to help their brethren: so they went forth together with a willing mind.

121

24 Now Timotheus, whom the Jews had overcome before, when he had gathered a great multitude of foreign forces, and horses out of Asia not yet come, as though he would take by force of arms.

25 But when he drew near, [they that were with Maccabees turned themselves to pray unto God, and sprinkled earth upon their heads, and girded their belts with sackcloth.

26 And fell down at the foot of the altar, and besought him to be merciful to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth.

32 As for Timotheus himself, he fled into a very strong hold, called Gazzara, where Cereas was governor.

33 But they that were with Maccabees held siege against the fortress courageously four days.

37 And king Timotheus, that was in the certain pit, and Cereas his brother, with Apollonians.

38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with psalms and thanksgiving, who had done so great things for Israel, and given them the victory.

CHAPTER XI.

24 Lysias, thinking to get Jerusalem, set to fight. 25 The letters of Lysias to the Jews. 26 Of the king unto Lysias, and to the Jews. 31 Of the Romans to the Jews.

32 Long after this, Lysias the king's protector and cousin, who also managed the affairs, took sore displeasure for the things that were done.

33 And when he had gathered about fourscore thousand with all the horsemen he could gather unto him, he, thinking to make the city a habitation of the Gentiles,

CHAPTER XI.

1. The king's lieutenants vex the Jews. 3. They of Joppa draw two hundred Jews. 6. Judas is smitten upon them. 11. He maketh peace with them, and taketh Cyprus. 22. Timotheus's army overthrown.

When these covenants were made, Lysias went unto the king, and the Jews were about their husbandry.

2. But of the governors of several places, Timotheus, and Apollonius the son of Gennias, and Demophilus, and beside them Nicæus the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to be quiet, and live in peace.

3. The men of Joppa also did such an ungodly deed: they prayed the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had prepared, as though they had meant them no hurt.

4. Who accepted of it, according to the common decree of the city, as being desirous to live in peace, and suspecting nothing; but when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no less than two hundred of them.

5. When Judas heard of this cruelty done unto his countrymen, he commanded those that were with him to make them ready.

6. And calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against those murderers of his brethren, and burned the haven by night, and set the boats on fire, and those that fled thither he slew.

7. And when the town was shut up, he went backward, [as if he would return to root out all them of the city of Joppa.

8. But when he heard that the Ammonites were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that dwelt among them,

9. He came upon the Ammonites also by night, and set fire upon the town, compelling them to go out for safety, so that the light of the fire was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs off.

10. Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their journey toward Timotheus, no fewer than five thousand men on foot and five hundred horsemen of the Arabsians set upon him.

11. Whereupon there was a very sore battle: but Judas's side, by the help of God, got the victory; so that the Nomades of Arabia, being overcome, besought Judas for peace, promising to give him cattle, and to please him otherwise.

12. Then Judas, thinking indeed that they would be profitable in many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shook hands, and so they departed to their towns.

13. He went also about to make a bridge to a certain strong city, which was fenced about with walls, and inhabited by people of divers countries; and the name of it was Cypros.

14. But they that were within it put such trust in the strength of the walls and provision of victuals, that they behaved themselves rudely toward them that were with Judas, railing and blasphemying, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

15. Wherefore Judas with his company, calling upon the great Lord of the world, who without any rams or engines of war did cast down Jericho in the time of Joshua, gave a fierce assault against the walls.

16. And took the city by the will of God, and made unexceptionable slaughters, insomuch that a lake two furlongs broad near adjoining thence, being filled full, was so ten thousand.
that cursed man alive, a horseman of Thracia coming upon him [smote] off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled unto Mariss.

30 Now when they that were with Gorgias had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord, that he would shew himself to be their helper and leader of the battle.

31 And with that he began in his own language, and sung psalms with a loud voice, and surrounded unawares upon Gorgias's men, he put them to flight.

32 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the city of Oddilam. And when the seventh day came, they purified themselves, as the custom was, and kept the sabbath in the same place, and offered sacrifices to the holy men.

33 And upon the day following, [as] the use had been, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that were slain, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers' graves.

34 Now under the costs of every one that was slain they found things consecrated to the gods of the Janites, which is forbidden the Jews by the law. Then every man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slain.

41 All men therefore praising the Lord, the righteous Judge, who had opened the things that were hid. 42 Betook themselves unto prayer, and besought him that the sin committed might wholly be put out of remembrance. Besides, that noble Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sin, forsaking as they saw before their eyes the things that came to pass for the sins of those that were slain. 43 And when he had made a gathering throughout the company to the sum of two thousand drachmas of silver, he sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sin-offering, doing therein very well and honestly, in that he was mindful of the resurrection:

44 For if he had not hoped that they that were slain should have risen again, it had been superfluous and vain to pray for the dead. 45 And also in that he perceived that there was great favour laid up for those that died godly. (It was a holy and good thought.) Whereupon he made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be delivered from sin.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Emperors invade Judas. 15 Judas by night slays many. 18 Emperors' purpose is defeated. 21 He maketh peace with Judas.

N the hundred forty and ninth year it was told Judas that Antiochus Emperor was coming with a great power into Judæa.

2 And with him Lysias his protector, and ruler of his affairs, having either of them a Grecian power, of footmen a hundred and ten thousand, and horsemen five thousand and three hundred, and elephants two and twenty, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks.

3 Menechas also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the country, but because he thought to have been made governor.

4 But the King of kings moved Antiochus's mind against this wicked wretch, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the king commanded to bring him unto Beroa, and to put him to death, as the manner is in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had a round instrument, which on every side hanged down into the ashes.

6 And whosoever was condemned of sacrilege, or had committed any other grievous crime, there did all men thrust him unto death.

7 Such a death it happened that wicked man to die, not having so much as burial in the earth; and that most justly:

8 For insuch as he had committed many sins about the sitor, whose fire and ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

9 Now the king came with a barbarous and haughty mind to do far worse to the Jews, than had been done in his father's time.

10 Which things when Judas perceived, he commanded the multitude to call upon the Lord night and day; that if ever at any other time, he would now also help them, being at the point to be put from their law, from their country, and from the holy temple:

11 And that he would not suffer the people, that had even now been but a little refreshed, to be in so exceeding many abominations to the holy name:

12 So when they had all done this together, and besought the merciful Lord with weeping and fasting, and lying flat upon the ground three days long, Judas, having exhorted them, commanded they should be in a readiness.

13 And Judas, being apart with the elders, determined, before the king's host should enter into Judæa, and get the city, to go forth and try the matter in fight by the help of the Lord.

14 So when he had committed all to the Lord, he went with his soldiers to fight manfully, even unto death, for the laws, the temple, the city, the country, and the commonwealth, he came by Medin:

15 And having given the watchword to them that were about him, Victory is of God; with the most valiant and chiefe young men he went into the king's tent by night, and slew in the camp about four thousand men, and the chiefest of the elephants, with all that were upon him.

16 And at last they filled the camp with fear and tumult, and departed with good success.

17 This was done in the break of the day, because the protection of the Lord did help him.

18 Now when the king had taken a taste of the manliness of the Jews, he went about to take the hold of the commonwealth, by his policy.

19 And marched toward Bethsura, which was a strong hold of the Jews; but he was put to flight, failed, and lost of his men:

20 For Judas had conveyed unto them that were in it such things as were necessary.

21 But Rhodocus, who was in the Jews' host, disclosed the secrets to the enemies; therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 The King treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, fought with Judas, was overcome;

23 Heard that Philip, who was left over the affairs in Antioch, [was] desperately bent, confounded, outcasted the Jews, submitted himself, and swore to all equal conditions, agreed with them, and offered sacrifices, honoured the temple, and dealt kindly with the place,

24 And accepted well of Maccabeus, made him principal governor from Polemius unto the Gergennians:

25 Came to Polemius: the people there were grieved for the covenants; for they remembered, because they would make their covenants void:

26 Lysias went up to the judgment-seat, said as much as could be in defence of the cause, persuaded, pacified, made them well-affectted, returned to Antioch; that it went touching the king's coming and departing.

CHAPTER XIV.

6 Alcimus accuseth Judas. 18 Nicanor maketh peace with Judas. 20 He seeth to take Klades; who, to escape his hands, killeth himself.

After three years was Judas informed, that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having entered by the haven of Triapolis with a great power and navies.

2 Had taken the country, and killed Antiochus, and Lysias his protector.

3 Now one Alcimus, who had been high priest, and had defiled himself wilfully in the times of their min-plied with the Gentiles, seeing that by no means he could save himself, nor have any more access to the holy altar.

4. Came to King Demetrius in the hundred and one and fiftyth year, and being taken into his presence, and adorned with a crown of gold, and a palm, and also of the boughs which were placed solemnly in the temple: and so that day he held his peace.

5. Howbeit, having gotten opportunity to further his foolish enterprise, and being called into council by Demetrius, and all the Jews stood affected, and what they intended, he answered thereunto:

6. Those of the Jews that he called Assidians, whose captain is Judas Maccabees, nourish war, and are seditions, and will not let the realm be in peace.

Then therefore, having taken the captain's honour, I mean the high priesthood, I now come hither:

8. First, verify for the un guarded care I have of things pertaining to the king: and secondly, even for that I intend the good of mine own countrymen: for all our nation is in no small misery through the unvised dealing of them abroad.

9. Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, be careful for the country, and our nation, which is pressed on every side, according to the clemency of thy heart.

10. For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet.

11. This was no sooner spoken of him, but others of the king's friends, being maliciously set against Judas, did more increase Demetrius.

12. And forthwith calling Nicomer, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor over Judas, he sent him forth.

13. Commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Nicomer high priest of the great temple.

14. Then the heathen, that had fled out of Judas from Judas, came to Nicomer by fleeces, thinking the harm and calamities of the Jews to be their welfare.

15. Now when the Jews heard of Nicomer's coming, and that the heathen were against them, they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him that had established his people for ever, and who always helpeth his portion with manifestation of his presence.

16. So at the commandment of the captain they removed straightways from thence, and came near unto them at the town of Dossan.

17. Now Simon, Judas's brother, had joined battle with Nicomer, but was somewhat discomfited through the sudden sence of his enemies.

18. Nevertheless Nicomer, having the malignity of them that were with Judas, and the couragelessness that they had to fight for their country, durst not try the matter by the sword.

19. Wherefore he sent Pseudomius, and Theodorus, and Matthias, to make peace.

20. So when they had taken long advisement thereupon, and the captain had made the multitude acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of one mind, they consented to the covenant.

21. And appointed a day to meet together by themselves: and when the day came, and stools were set for either of them:

22. Judas placed armed men ready in convenient places, lest some treachery should be suddenly practised by the enemies: so they made a peaceable conference.

23. Now Nicomer abode in Jerusalem, and did not hurt, but sent away the people that came flocking unto him.

24. And he would not willingly have Judas out of his sight: for he loved the man from his heart.

25. He prayed him also to take a wife, and to begot children: so he married, was quiet, and took part of this life.

26. But Albinus, perceiving the love that was betwixt them, and considering the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicomer was not well affected toward the state: for that he had ordained Judas, a traitor to his realm, to be the king's successor.

27. Then the king being in a rage, and provoked with the accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Nicomasset, signifying that he was much displeased with the covenants, and commanding him that he should send Maccabees prisoner in all haste unto Antioch.

28. When this came to Nicomer's hearing, he was much confounded in himself: for it grievously amazed him that he should make void the articles which were agreed upon, the man being in no fault.

29. But because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to accomplish this thing by policy.

30. Notwithstanding, when Maconmacus saw that Nicomer began to be chirulous unto him, and that he entreated him more roughly than he was wont, perceiving that such sordid behaviour came not of good, he gathered together not a few of his men, and withdrew himself from Nicomer.

31. But the other, knowing that he was notably prevented by Judas's policy, came into the great and holy temple, and commanded the priests, that were offering their usual sacrifices, to deliver him the man.

32. And when they saw that they could not tell where the man was whom he sought,

33. He stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an oath in this manner: If ye will not deliver me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground.

34. After these words he departed. Then the priests lifted up their hands toward heaven, and besought him that was ever a defender of their nation, saying in this manner:

35. Thou, O Lord of all things, who hast need of nothing, wast pleased that the temple of thy habitation should be among us;

36. Therefore now, O holy Lord of all holiness, keep this house ever undefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop every unrighteous mouth.

37. Now was there accused unto Nicomer one Razis, one of the elders of Jerusalem, a lover of his countrymen, and a man of very good report, who for his kindness was called Bacchus.

38. For in the former times, when they mingled not themselves with the Gentiles, he had been accused of Judaism, and did boldly jeapard his body and life with all vileness for the religion of the Jews.

39. So Nicomer, willing to declare the hate that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred men of war to take him;

40. For he thought by taking him to do the Jews much mischief.

41. Now when the multitude would have taken the tower, and violently broken into the outer door, and bad that fire should be brought to burn it, he being ready to be taken on every side, fell upon his sword:

42. Choosing rather to die manfully, than to come into the hands of the wicked, to be abused otherwise than heesome his noble birth;

43. But missing his stroke through haste, the multitude also rushing within the doors, they ran boldly up to the wall, and cast himself down manfully among the thickest of them.

44. But they quickly giving back, and a space being made, he fell down into the midst of the void place.

45. Nevertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being inflamed with anger, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out like spouts of water, and his wounds were grievous, yet he ran through the midst of the throng; and standing up on a steep rock,

46. When as his blood was now quite gone, he plucked out his bowels, and taking them in both his hands, he cast them upon the throng, and calling upon the Lord of life and spirit to restore him those again, he thus died.

II. MACCABEES.

21 Maccabees seeing the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of the beasts, stretched out his hands toward heaven, and called upon the Lord that worketh wonders, knowing that victory cometh not by arms, but even as it seemed good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy:

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this manner: O Lord, thou didst send thine angel in the time of Ezekias king of Judea, and didst say in the host of Sennacherib a hundred fourscore and five thousand:

23 Wherefore now also, O Lord of heaven, send a good angel before us for a fear and dread unto them; and through the might of thine arm let those be stricken with terror that come against thy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him came forward with trumpets and songs:

30 But Judas and his company encountered the enemies with invocation and prayer.

27 So that fighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men: for through the appearance of God they were greatly cherished.

28 Now when the battle was done, returning again with joy, they knew that Nicanor lay dead in his harness.

29 Then they made a great shout and a noise, praising the Almighty in their own language.

30 And Judas, who was over the chief defender of the citizens both in body and mind, and who continued his love toward his countrymen all his life, commanded to strike off Nicanor's head, and his hand with his shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of the tower.

32 And shewed them, not Nicanor's head, and the hand of that blasphemer, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy temple of the Almighty.

33 And when he had cut the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces unto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple.

34 So every man praised toward the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanor's head upon the tower, an evident and manifest sign unto all of the help of the Lord.

36 And they ordained all with a common decree, in no case to let that day pass without solemnity, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which in the Syrian tongue is called Adar, the day before Mardiachea's day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor: and from that time forth the Hebrews had the city in their power. And here will I make an end.

38 And if I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired; but if slenderly and meekly, it is that which I could attain unto.

29 For as it is hurtful to drink wine or water alone; and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste; even so speech finely framed delighteth the ears of them that read the story. And here shall be an end.

\[\text{THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MATTHEW.}\]

CHAPTER 1.

1 The genealogy of Christ from Abraham to Joseph. 18 He was conceived by the Holy Ghost, and born of the Virgin Mary when she was espoused to Joseph. 19 The angel satished the modern thoughts of Joseph, and interpreted the names of Christ.

He book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2 Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren;

3 And Judas begat Phares and Zara of Thamar;

and Phares begat Esrom; and Esrom begat Aram;

4 And Aram begat Aminadab; and Aminadab begat Naasson; and Naasson begat Salmon;

5 And Salmon begat Booz of Rachab; and Booz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse;

6 And Jesse begat David the king; and David the king begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Urias;

7 And Solomon begat Roboam; and Roboam begat Abia; and Abia begat Asa;

8 And Asa begat Josaphat; and Josaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Ozias;

9 And Ozias begat Joatham; and Joatham begat Achaz; and Achaz begat Ezekias;

10 And Ezekias begat Manasses; and Manasses begat Amon; and Amon begat Josias;

11 And Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the time they were carried away to Babylon;

12 And after they were brought to Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel; and Salathiel begat Zorobabel;

13 And Zorobabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor;

14 And Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud;

15 And Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthew; and Matthew begat Jacob;

16 And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the car-saying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife; for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.

21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins.

22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us.

24 Then Joseph, being raised from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

25 And knew her not till she had brought forth her first-born son; and he called his name JESUS.

CHAPTER II.

1 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there were wise men from the east to Jerusalem,

2 Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judæa: for thus is it written by the prophet

6 And thou Bethléem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.

7 Then Herod, when he had privately called the wise men, inquireth of them diligently what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go, and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was;

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

12 And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

13 And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 And was there until the death of Herod; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my Son.

16 ¶ Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, 18 In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 ¶ But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt.

20 Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life.

21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.
22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Judea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee.

23 And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene.

CHAPTER III.

1 In those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea,
2 And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.
3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Isaiah, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.
4 And the same John had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was locusts and wild honey.

5 Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judaea, and all the region round about Jordan,

6 And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come!

8 Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance:

9 And think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

10 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

11 I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire:

12 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

13 Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him.

14 But John forbade him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?

15 And Jesus answering said unto him,
ST. MATTHEW.

Peter, Andrew, James, John, called.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Christ fasteth, and is tempted. 11 The angels minister unto him.
2 He dwelleth in Capernaum, 17 commenceth to preach, 18 calleth Peter, and Andrew, James, and John, 23 and becometh all the disease.

Then was Jesus led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.

2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungered.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple.

6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them;

9 And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

12 Now when Jesus had heard that John was cast into prison, he departed into Galilee:

13 And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the sea-coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthali:

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esajas the prophet, saying,

15 The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthali, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles;

16 The people which sit in darkness, saw great light; and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is sprung up.

17 "From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, "Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 "And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

19 And he saith unto them, Follow me, and 1 I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 And going on from thence, he saw another two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them;

22 And they immediately left the ship, and their father, and followed him.

23 "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.

25 "And there followed him great multitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

CHAPTER V.

1 Christ beginneth his sermon in the mount: 3 declaring who are blessed, 13 who are the salt of the earth, 14 the light of the world, the city on a hill, the candle: 17 that he came to fulfill the law. 21 What is it to kill, 27 to commit adultery, 33 to swear: 38 exhorteth to suffer wrong, 44 to love even our enemies, 49 and to labour after perfectness.

1 AND seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 "Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 "Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 "Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.
6 Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.
7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.
8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.
10 Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness’ sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
11 Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.
12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.
13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.
14 Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid.
15 Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick: and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.
16 Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.
17 Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.
18 For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.
19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do, and teach them, the same shall be called greatest in the kingdom of heaven.
20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.
21 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt not kill: and whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgment:
22 But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause, shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell-fire.
23 Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath offended against thee,
24 Leave thy gift before the altar,
43 1 Ye have heard that it hath been said,

1 "Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy:

44 But I say unto you, 2 Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitably use you, and persecute you;

45 That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

46 3 For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?

47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so!

48 4 Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise you have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

2 Therefore, when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do, in the synagogues, and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily, say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:

4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, himself shall reward thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily, I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 But when thou prayest, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before ye ask him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.
Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith!

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek;) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his rightousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.

34 Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Christ ending his sermon in the mount, reproved rash judgment, 6 forbade to cast holy things to dogs, 7 exhorted to prayer, 15 to enter in at the straight gate, 15 to beware of false prophets, 21 not to be hearers, but doers of the word: 21 like houses built on a rock, 26 and not on the sand.

JUDGE not, that ye be not judged. 2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again. 3 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and behold, a beam is in thy own eye!

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 "Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." 7 "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

8 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a serpent?

10 Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

11 If ye then be-ree know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him!

12 Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

13 "Enter ye in at the straight gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat;" 14 because, strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

15 "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. 16 Ye shall know them by their fruits: Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17 Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 "Every tree that bringing forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 20 Wherefore, by their fruits ye shall know them. 21 Not every one that saith unto me, 'Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. 22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thine name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works! 23 And then will I profess unto them, ye knew me not; depart from me, ye that work iniquity. 24 Therefore, whosoever shall hear these sayings of mine, and do them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock; 25 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: 27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

28 And it came to pass when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine: 29 For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.
WHEN he was come down from the mountaintop, great multitudes followed him.

2 ¶ And behold, there came a leper, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

5 ¶ And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

7 And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 When Jesus heard it, he marveled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, You have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

11 And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven:

12 But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way: and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour.

14 ¶ And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.

16 ¶ When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils; and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick;

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ¶ Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

19 ¶ And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

21 ¶ And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, see how many things we have followed thee.

22 But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead.

23 ¶ And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 ¶ And beholding, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?

28 ¶ And when he was come to the other side, into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

29 ¶ And behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 And there was a good way off from them a herd of many swine feeding.

31 So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 And they that kept them fled, and went and told every thing; and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils.

34 And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

CHAPTER IX.

2 Christ curing one sick of the palsy. 9 Edath. Matthew from the receipt of custom, 10 catch with publicans and sinners, 14 defends his disciples for not fasting, 20 enterth the bloody issue, 23 month from death James' daughter, 27 great sight to two blind men, 32 heals a 6 and man possessed of a devil, 36 and hath compassion of the unclean.
And he entered into a ship, and passed over, and came into his own city.

12 And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus, seeing their faith, said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.

13 And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

14 And Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

15 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.

16 And he arose, and departed to his house.

17 But when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

18 ¶ And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom; and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

19 ¶ And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples.

20 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?

21 But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

22 But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

23 ¶ Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, "Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not!"

24 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

25 No man putteth a piece of new cloth upon an old garment: for that which is put in to fill it up, taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

26 Neither do men put new wine into old bottles: else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

27 ¶ "While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.
CHRIST SENDETH OUT

ST. MATTHEW.

HIS TWELVE APOSTLES.

vest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

CHAPTER X.

1 Christ sendeth out his twelve apostles, enabling them with power to do miracles, to goeth them their charge, teacheth them, 10 commandeth them against persecutions: 10 and pronounceth a blessing to those that receive them.

2 And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness, and all manner of disease,

2 The names of the twelve apostles are these; The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;

3 Philip, and Bartholomew: Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alpheus, and Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddaeus:

4 Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not:

6 But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

7 And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

8 Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give.

9 Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses:

10 Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the worker is worthy of his meat.

11 And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, inquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence.

12 And when ye come into a house, salute it.

13 And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

14 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house, or city, shake off the dust of your feet.

15 Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah, in the day of judgment, than for that city.

16 Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves.

17 But beware of men; for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues:

18 And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles.
CHAPTER XL. CHRIST'S TESTIMONY CONCERNING JOHN.

19 "But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. 20 "For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you. 21 "And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child, and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death. 22 "And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. 23 "But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel till the Son of man be come. 24 "The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord. 25 "It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord: if they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household! 26 "Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. 27 "What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light; and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the house-tops. 28 "And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. 29 "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. 30 "But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. 31 "Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows. 32 "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. 33 "But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven. 34 "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. 35 "For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. 36 "And a man's foes shall be they of his own household. 37 "He that loveth father or mother more than me, is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me, is not worthy of me. 38 "And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me. 39 "He that findeth his life shall lose it; and he that loseth his life for my sake, shall find it. 40 "He that receiveth you, receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me. 41 "He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet, shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, shall receive a righteous man's reward. 42 "And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. 43

CHAPTER XI.

2 "John senteth his disciples to Christ. 3 Christ's testimony concerning John. 4 "The message of the people, both concerning John and Christ. 5 Christ upbraideth the unbelieffulness and unpenitence of Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum. 6 "And teaching his Father's wisdom in revealing the gospel to the simple. 7 "He calleth to him all such as feel the burden of their sins. 8 "And it came to pass when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities. 9 "Now when John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples. 10 And said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another? 11 "Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: 12 "The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them. 13 And blessed is he whomsoever shall not be offended in me. 14 "And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John: What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? 15 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment! Behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses. 16 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet. 17 For this is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.
11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women, there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven, is greater than he.

12 And from the days of John the Baptist until now, the kingdom of heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it by force.

13 Also all the prophesies and the law prophesied until John.

14 And if ye will receive it, this is Elias which was for to come.

15 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows, 17 And saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking; and they say, He hath a devil.

19 The Son of man came eating and drinking; and they say, Behold, a man gluttonous, and a wine-bibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But wisdom is justified of her children.

20 Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not.

21 Wo unto thee, Chorazin! wo unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment than for thee.

23 And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell; for if the mighty works which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day.

24 But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment than for thee.

25 At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.

26 Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight.

27 All things are delivered unto me of my Father; and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.

28 Come unto me, all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Christ reproved the blindness of the Pharisees concerning the breach of the sabbath; 3 by scriptures, 10 by reason, 12 and by a miracle.

2 He beareth the man possessed that was blind and dumb.

3 Blindness against the Holy Ghost shall never be forgiven.

6 Aramaic shall be made of idle words.

8 He rebuketh the unfaithful, who seek a sign: 9 and showneth who is his brother, sister, and mother.

7 That time Jesus went on the sabbath-day through the corn, and his disciples were a hungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.

6 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath-day.

7 But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did when he was a hungered, and they that were with him:

8 How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shew-bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests!

9 Or have ye not read in the law how that upon the sabbath-days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

10 But I say unto you, that in this place is one greater than the temple.

11 But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

12 For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath-day.

13 And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue.

14 And beheld, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-days? that they might accuse him.

15 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath-day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

16 How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath-days.

17 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

18 Then said the Pharisees, It becometh thee to do good always; and not to look for a day; as thou doest now.

19 And he withdrew himself from them: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all:

20 And charged them that they should not make him known:
That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,
18 'Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased; I will put my spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Gentiles,
19 He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets,
20 A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory,
21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

§ Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb; and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this the son of David?
24 'But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by bish Beelzebub the prince of the devils.
25 And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand.
26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?
27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.
28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.
29 'Or else, how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man, and then will he spoil his house.
30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.
31 Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.
32 And whoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, nor in the world to come.
33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good: or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.
34 O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh.
35 A good man, out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an evil man, out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things.
36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.
37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.
38 Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.
39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:
40 'For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.
41 'The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it; because they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, a greater than Jonas is here.
42 'The queen of the south shall rise up in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it; for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, a greater than Solomon is here.
43 'When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.
44 Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.
45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there; and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.
46 While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without desiring to speak with him.
47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without desiring to speak with thee.
48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?
49 And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother, and my brethren!
50 For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.
THE same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea-side.

2 And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, "Behold, a sower went forth to sow;

4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way-side, and the fowls came and devoured them up;

5 Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:

6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:

8 But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some a hundred-fold, some sixty-fold, some thirty-fold.

9 Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

11 He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 For whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not; and hearing, they hear not; neither do they understand.

14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive:

15 For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed: lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and be converted, and I should heal them.

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.

17 For verily I say unto you, That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 Hitherfore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way-side.
20 But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it;
21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.
22 And they also which had received seed among thorns are they, which hear the word: and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.
23 But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it: which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some a hundred-fold, some sixty, some thirty.
24 Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:
25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.
26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.
27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?
28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?
29 But he said, Nay: lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.
30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.
31 Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:
32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.
33 Another parable spake he unto them: The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.
34 All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them.
35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.
36 Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.
37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man:
38 The field is the world: the good seed are the children of the kingdom: but the tares are the children of the wicked one:
39 The enemy that sowed them is the devil:
40 The harvest is the end of the world: and the reapers are the angels.
41 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.
42 The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all \\ things \\ that offend, and them which do iniquity;
43 Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. \\ insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55 Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Judas? 56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things? 57 And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house. 58 And there did not many mighty works there, because of their unbelief.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Herod's opinion of Christ. 3 Wherefore John Baptist was beheaded. 13 Jesus departeth into a desert place: 15 where he feedeth six thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 22 He walketh on the sea to his disciples: 34 and landing at Gennesaret, healeth the sick by the touch of the hem of his garment.

11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother. 12 And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it: and went up
CHAPTER XV.

THE PHARISEES reproved.

13 ¶ When Jesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart; and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15 ¶ And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past: send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16 But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart: give ye them to eat.

17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

22 ¶ And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.

23 ¶ And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray: and when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear.

27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I: be not afraid.

28 And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.

30 But when he saw the wind, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me.

31 And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

32 And when they were come into the ship, the wind ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

34 ¶ And when they were gone over, they came into the land of Gennesaret.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased.

36 And besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment: and as many as touched were made perfectly whole.

CHAPTER XV.

3 Christ reproved the scribes and Pharisees for transgressing God's commandments through their own traditions: He taught how that which went into the mouth doth not defile a man. 4 He healed the daughter of the woman of Canaan, 5 and other great multitudes: 6 and with seven loaves and a few little fishes fedeth four thousand men, beside women and children.

16 ¶ And Jesus came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying,

2 ¶ Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, Honor thy father and mother; and, He that saith father or mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me:

5 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 ¶ Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying,

8 ¶ This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips: but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand:

11 ¶ Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man: but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered and said, ¶Every plant, which by my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall he rooted up.

14 Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.
15 "Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.
16 And Jesus said, "Are ye also yet without understanding?
17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?
18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man.
19 For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:
20 These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashed hands defileth not a man.
21 Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.
22 And behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord; thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.
23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us.
24 But he answered and said, "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.
25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.
26 But he answered and said, "It is not meet to take the children's bread and to cast it to dogs.
27 And she said, "Truth, Lord; yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.
28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.
29 And Jesus departed thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.
30 And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them:
31 Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.
32 Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.
33 And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude?
34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few fishes.
35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.
36 And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.
37 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full.
38 And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children.
39 And he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 The Pharisees require a sign. 6 Jesus worketh his disciples the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.
2 The people's opinion of Christ, 16 and Peter's confession of him. 21 Jesus foretelleth his death, 33 and commandeth him to it: 24 and admonisheth those that will follow him, to bear the cross.

6 HE "Pharisees also with the Sadducees came, and, tempting, desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven.
7 And he answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the sky is red.
8 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day: for the sky is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky: but can ye not discern the signs of the times?
9 A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas.
10 And he left them, and departed.
11 And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.
12 Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.
13 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.
14 Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?
15 Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?
16 Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?
17 How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees?
18 Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.
19 When Jesus came into the coasts of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I, the Son of man, am?

14 And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist; some, Elias; and others, Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But who say ye that I am?

16 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18 And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church: and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19 And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

20 Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

21 From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 *Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Flee it from thee, Lord; this shall not be unto thee.

23 *But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake, shall find it.

26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

27 For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father, with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works.

28 Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.
CHAPTER XVII.

1 The transfiguration of Christ. 11 He bealeth the brazen, 22 for-teleth his own passion, 24 and payeth tribute.

And after six days Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart.

And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him.

Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here; if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: hear ye him.

And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes, that Elias must first come?

And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things.

But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed: likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man kneeling down to him, and saying, Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is lunatic, and sore vexed, for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you! how long shall I suffer you? Bring him hither to me.

And Jesus rebuked the devil, and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 Howbeit, this kind goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

22 ¶ And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 ¶ And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute-money, came to Peter, and said, Dost not thy master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinketh thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up: and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 Christ warneth his disciples to be humble and harmless: 7 to avoid offences, and not to despise the little ones: 13 teacheth how we are to deal with our brethren, when they offend us: 21 and how oft to forgive them: 23 which he setteth forth by a parable of the king, that took account of his servants, 32 and punished him, who showed no mercy to his fellow.

1 And the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

2 And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them.

3 And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name, receiveth me.

Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning, made them male and female,
5 And said, 'For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh!'
6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.
7 They say unto him, 'Why did Moses command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away?'
8 He saith unto them, Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.
9 And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery; and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.
10 But his disciples say unto him, 'If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.'
11 But he said unto them, 'All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.'
12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.
13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands upon them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.
14 But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.
15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.
16 And behold, one came and said unto him, 'Good Master, what good thing shall I do that I may have eternal life?'
17 And he said unto him, 'Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.'
18 He saith unto him, 'Which?' Jesus said, 'Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 'Honor thy father and thy mother: and, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.'
20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?
21 Jesus saith unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.'

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.
23 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.
24 And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?
26 But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.
27 Then answered Peter, and said unto him, Behold, 'we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?
28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, 'ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.
29 And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive a hundred-fold, and shall inherit everlasting life.
30 But many that are first shall be last, and the last shall be first.'

CHAPTER XX.
1 Christ, by the similitude of the labourers in the vineyard, sheweth that God doth deign to use man: 17 forefeth by his passion: 20 by answering the mother of Zebedee's children, teacheth his disciples to be lowly: 30 and saith to two hired men their right.

OR the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.
2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.
3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace,
4 And said unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, I will give you. And they went their way.
5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.
6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?
7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.
8 So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.
9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.
10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more: and they likewise received every man a penny.
11 And they said unto them which received a penny, It is not right for us to receive our penny.
12 Saying, These last [have] wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.
13 But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst thou agree with me for a penny?
14 Take that thou hast, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee.
15 'Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? is thine eye evil because I am good?'

16 'So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.
17 ¶ And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,
18 'Behold, we go up to Jerusalem: and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,
19 'And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.
20 ¶ Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children, with her sons, worshiping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.
21 And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these two sons of mine may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom.
22 But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?
23 And he saith unto them, 'Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with; but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.'

24 ¶And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren. 25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them. 26 But ye shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; 27 And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant: 28 Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

29 And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him. 30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the wayside, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou son of David. 31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou son of David. 32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you? 33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened. 34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

CHAPTER XXI. 1 Christ deceived the buyers and sellers out of the temple, 17 cut down the fig-tree, 23 pitied the fig-tree, and rebuked them by the multitude of the two sons, 33 and the husbandmen, who slew such as were sent unto them. 2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. 3 And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. 4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, 5 'Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.' 6 And the disciples won, and did as Jesus commanded them, 7 And brought the ass and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon. 8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and streved them in the way. 9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, 'Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest.' 10 And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this? 11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee. 12 ¶ And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in it, and overthrew the tables of the 'money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves. 13 And said unto them, It is written, 'My house shall be called the house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves.' 14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them. 15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David; they were sore displeased. 16 And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, 'Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise.' 17 ¶ And he left them, and went out of the city into Bethany, and lodged there. 18 Now in the morning, as he returned into the city, he was hungered. 19 And when he saw a fig-tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig-tree withered away. 20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig-tree withered away! 21 Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig-tree, but also, if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done. 22 And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive. 23 ¶ And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? 24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things.
25 The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?
26 But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people: for all hold John as a prophet.
27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.
28 ¶ But what think ye? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to-day in my vineyard.
29 He answered and said, I will not; but afterward he repented, and went.
30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, Sir; and went not.
31 Whether of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.
32 For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not; but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.
33 ¶ Hear another parable: There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine-press in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country:
34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.
35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.
36 Again he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.
37 But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.
38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is his heir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.
39 ¶ And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.
40 When the lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?
41 ¶ They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.
42 Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord’s doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes!
43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.
44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.
45 And when the chief priests and Scribes had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.
46 But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The parable of the marriage of the king’s son. 2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.
3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding; and they would not come.
4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.
5 But they made light of it, and went on their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:
6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.
7 But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.
8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.
9 Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.
10 So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.
11 ¶ And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man ‘which had not on a wedding garment:
12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless.
13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness; there shall he weeping and gnashing of teeth.
14 ¶ For many are called, but few are chosen.
15 ¶ Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk.

16 And they sent out unto him their disciples, with the Herodians saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men.

17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute-money. And they brought unto him a penny.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image, and this superscription?

21 They say unto him, Caesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which are Cesar's; and unto God, the things that are God's.

22 When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ The same day came to him the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him, 24 Saying, Master, *Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased; and having no issue, left his wife unto his brother.

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, 32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

33 And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his doctrine.

34 ¶ But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.

35 Then one of them which was *a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,
Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

37 Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and great commandment.

39 And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

40 All the law and the prophets hang on these two commandments.

41 While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What thinkest thou of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David.

43 He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool;

45 If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?

46 And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man, from that day forth, ask him any more questions.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 Christ admonished the people to follow the good doctrine, not the evil example, of the scribes and Pharisees. 2 His disciples must beware of their ambition. 3 He denounceth the hypocrisy and blindness: 4 and prophaneth of the destruction of Jerusalem.

1 And spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2 Saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat; 3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do: but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not.

4 For they bind heavy burdens, and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

6 And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8 But he that called ye not Rabbi, for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren.

9 And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father which is in heaven.

10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.

11 But he that is greatest among you, shall be your servant.

12 And whosoever shall exalt himself, shall be abased: and he that shall humble himself, shall be exalted.
our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.
31 Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets.
32 Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers.
33 Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?
34 Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes; and some of them ye shall kill and crucify, and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:
35 That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.
36 Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.
37 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!
38 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.
39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER XXIV.
1 And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple; and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.
2 And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.
3 And as he sat upon the Mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of this world?
4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.
5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.
6 And ye shall hear of wars, and rumours of wars; see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.
7 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes in divers places.
8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.
9 Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall shew you to all nations for mine own name's sake.
10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.
11 And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.
12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.
13 But he that endureth unto the end, the same shall be saved.
14 And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.
15 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand),
16 Then let them which be in Judea flee into the mountains:
17 Let him which is on the house-top not come down to take any thing out of his house;
18 Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes.
19 And wo unto them that are with child, and to them that do suck!
20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath-day, 21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.
22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.
23 Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not.
24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.
25 Behold, I have told you before.
26 Wherefore, if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.
27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.
28 For wheresoe'er the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered together.
29 Immediately after the tribulation of those days, shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:
The Signs of Christ's Coming.

CHAPTER XXV.

The Parable of the Ten Virgins.

Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom.

2 And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were wise took their lamps, and took no oil with them:

4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5 While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil: for our lamps are gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so: lest there be not enough for us and for you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage; and the door was shut.

11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not.

13 Watch therefore: for ye know not the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.

14 For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.

15 And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one: 'to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

16 Then he that had received the five talents, went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that had received one, went and buried it.
digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

19 After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so he that had received five talents, came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou delivest unto me five talents: behold, I have gained besides them five talents more.

21 His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

22 He also that had received two talents came, and said, Lord, thou delivest unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents besides them.

23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent came, and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not stroved:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strewn:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not, shall be taken away even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 For I was a stranger, and ye took me in:
CHAPTER XXVI.

The rulers conspire against Christ.

1 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples,

2 Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, which was called Caiaphas.

4 And consulted that they might take Jesus by subtlety, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uproar among the people.

6 Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head as he sat at meat.

8 But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?
29 But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the Mount of Olives.

31 Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

32 But after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.

33 Peter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I not be offended.

34 Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Peter said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

37 And he took with him Peter, and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

38 Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.

39 And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What! could ye not watch with me one hour!

41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.

44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

47 And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him, gave them
CHAPTER XXVII.

JUDAS HANGETH HIMSELF.

Matthew 27:1-26

A.D. 30.

1. And it came to pass, when Peter was gone out into the porch, he saw a maid that said unto the by-laws, the chief priests, elders, and all the counsel, sought false witnesses against Jesus, to put him to death: And therefore, many false witnesses came, and said none: and the high priest said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days. And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answrest thou nothing? what is it which these witnesses accuse thee? But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, Adhere thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Son of God. Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless, I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy. What think ye? They answered and said, He is guilty of death. Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him; and others smote him with the palms of their hands,

68. Saying, Prophesy unto us, thou Christ, Who is he that smote thee?

69. Now Peter sat without in the palace; and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70. But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.

71. And when he was outside out unto the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

72. And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.

73. And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art one of them; for thy speech bewrayeth thee.

74. Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

75. And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crew, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

1. Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

2. Saying, I have sinned, in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that.

3. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself.

4. And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for us to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

5. And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter’s field, to bury strangers in.

6. Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day.

7. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying, And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value:

8. And gave them for the potter’s field, as the Lord appointed me.

9. And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, "Thou sayest.

12 And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then saith Pilate unto him, "Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?"

14 And he answered him to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.

15 Now at that feast, the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore, when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus, which is called Christ?

18 (For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.)

19 ¶ When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.

20 "But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 ¶ When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he "took water, and washed his hands, before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it."

25 Then answered all the people, and said, "His blood be on us, and on our children."

26 ¶ Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when the had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.

27 ¶ Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the public hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.

28 And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe.

29 ¶ And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!
30 And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.
31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him.
32 And as they came out, 'they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to bear his cross.
33 And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, A place of a skull,
34 They gave him vinegar to drink, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.
35 And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.
36 And sitting down, they watched him there:
37 And set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.
38 Then were there two thieves crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left.
39 And they that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads,
40 And saying, 'Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. 'If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.'
41 Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said,
42 'He saved others; himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.'
43 'He trusted in God; let him deliver now if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.'
44 'The thieves also which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.'
45 'Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour.'
46 And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lana sa-bachthani! that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias.
48 And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.
49 The rest said, Let he, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.
50 Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.
51 And behold, the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom:
and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent;
52 And the graves were opened, and many bodies of the saints which slept, arose.
53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.
54 And when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.
55 And many women were there (beholding afar off) which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him:
56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedee’s children.
57 And when even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus’ disciple:
58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.
59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock; and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.
60 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.
61 Now the next day that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, 62 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, ‘After three days I will rise again.
63 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead; so the last error shall be worse than the first.
64 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch; go your way, make it as sure as ye can.
65 So they went and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

CHAPTER XXVIII.
1 Christ’s resurrection is declared by an angel to the women. 9 He himself appeareth unto them. 11 The high priests give the soldiers money to say that he was stolen out of his sepulchre. 16 Christ appeareth to his disciples, 19 and sendeth them to baptize and teach all nations.

N the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre.
2 And behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.
3 And his countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:
4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.
5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.
6 He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.
7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples, that he is risen from the dead, and behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.
8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 ¶And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came, and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.
10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren, that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.
11 ¶Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.
12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers.
13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.
14 And if this come to the governor’s ears, we will persuade him, and secure you.
15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.
16 ¶Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them.
17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.
18 And Jesus came, and spoke unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.
19 ¶Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost;
20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.
The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God; 2 As it is written in the prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee; 3 'The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.' 4 And John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance, for the remission of sins. 5 And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins. 6 And John was clad with camel’s hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins: and he did eat locusts and wild honey; 7 And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the l党和国家 of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose. 8 I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost. 9 And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan. 10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens were opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him. 11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. 12 And immediately the Spirit drove him into the wilderness. 13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days tempted of Satan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him. 14 Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God. 15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel. 16 Now as he walked by the Sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.
35 And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.
36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him.
37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee.
38 And he said unto them, Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth.
39 And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.
40 And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.
41 And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean.
42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.
43 And he straitly charged him, and forwent him away:
44 And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.
45 But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAPTER XII.

1 And he entered again into Capernaum, after some days; and it was noised that he was in the house.
2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them.
3 And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.
4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.
5 When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.

6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,
7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sins but God only?
8 And immediately, when Jesus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?
9 Whether it is easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk!
10 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy, 11 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go into thine house.
12 And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all: insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.
13 And he went forth again by the seaside; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.
14 And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphes, sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me, And he arose, and followed him.
15 And it came to pass, that as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many, and they followed him.
16 And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?
17 When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance.
18 And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees used to fast: and they came, and said unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?
19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.
20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.
21 No man also seeweth a piece of clothnew cloth on an old garment; else the new piece that filled it up, taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles: else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.

23 And it came to pass, that he went through the cornfields on the sabbath-day: and his disciples began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath-day that which is not lawful?

25 And he said unto them, Have ye never read "what David did, when he was hungry, he and they that were with him:"

26 How he went into the house of God, in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the shew-bread, which is not lawful to eat, but for the priests, and gave also to them which were with him?

27 And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath:

28 Therefore, "the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath."

CHAPTER III.

1 And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath-day; that they might accuse him.

3 And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth.

4 And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath-days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

6 And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsel with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

7 But Jesus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judea.

8 And from Jerusalem, and from Idumaea, and from beyond Jordan; and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him.

9 And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him, because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many: insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.

12 And he strictly charged them, that they should not make him known.

13 And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him.

14 And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach,

15 And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils.

16 And Simon he surnamed Peter.

17 And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James, and he surnamed them Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder.

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Canaanite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went [into] a house.

20 And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

21 And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He is beside himself.

22 And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem, said, "He hath Beelzebub," and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.

23 And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

26 And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

27 No man can enter into a strong man’s house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.

28 Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme;

29 But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation:
30 Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.
31 ¶ There came then his brethren and his mother, and standing without, sent unto him, calling him.
32 And the multitude sat about him; and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.
33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?
34 And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold, my mother and my brethren!
35 For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAPTER IV.
1 The parable of the sower, 14 and the meaning thereof. 21 We must communicate the light of our knowledge to others. 26 The parable of the seed growing secretly, 30 and of the mustard seed.
35 Christ stilleth the tempest on the sea.

1 And he began again to teach by the sea-side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea; and the whole multitude was by the sea, on the land.
2 And he taught them many things by pa-ables, and said unto them in his doctrine,
3 Hearken; Behold, there went out a sower to sow:
4 And it came to pass as he sowed, some fell by the way-side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up.
5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth:
6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched;
and because it had no root, it withered away.
7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.
8 And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up, and increased, and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty,
and some a hundred.
9 And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.
10 ¶ And when he was alone, they that were about him, with the twelve, asked of him the parable.
11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables:
12 ¶ That seeing they may see, and not per-receive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins be forgiven them.

13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?
14 ¶ The sower soweth the word.
15 And these are they which are by the way-side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.
16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;
17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affli-tion or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.
18 And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word, 19 And the cares of this world, and the decievishness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.
20 And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirty-fold, some sixty, and some a hundred.
21 ¶ And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?
22 ¶ For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.
23 ¶ If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.
24 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: ¶ With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear, shall more be given.
25 ¶ For he that hath, to him shall be given:
and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.
26 ¶ And he said, 8o is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground;
27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.
28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of her-sel.f: first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.
29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately the puttheth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.
30 ¶ And he said, 'Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?
31 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth:
CHAPTER V.

32 But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

33 And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it.

34 But without a parable spake he not unto them; and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship, and there were also with him other little ships.

37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow; and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

40 And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith!

41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him!
8 (For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.)
9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.
10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.
11 Now there was nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.
12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.
13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand,) and were choked in the sea.
14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.
15 And they came to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.
16 And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.
17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.
18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.
19 Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.
20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.
21 And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him: and he began to teach them.
22 And beheld, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, named Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet.
23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.
24 And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.
25 And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years,
26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse.
27 When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment:
28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.
29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in herself that she was healed of that plague.
30 And Jesus, immediately knowing in himself that virtue had gone out of him, turned about in the press, and said, Who touched me?
31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?
32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.
33 But the woman, fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.
34 And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.
35 While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue’s house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further?
36 As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe.
37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.
38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.
39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.
40 And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.
41 And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha-cumi: which is, being interpreted, Damsel, (I say unto thee) arise.
42 And straightway the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.
43 And he charged them strictly that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

JOHN THE BAPTIST BEREAVED.

against him, and would have killed him; but she could not;

20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and a holy; and both observed him, and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birth-day made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Galilee;

22 And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod, and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23 And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom.

24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.

25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me by and by, in a charger, the head of John the Baptist.

26 And the king was exceeding sorry; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which stood with him, he would not reject her.

27 And immediately the king sent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison.

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30 And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while: for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.

32 And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

33 And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran after him thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.

34 And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things.

35 And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed:

36 Send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat.

37 And he answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?

38 He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes.

39 And he commanded them to make all sit down by companies upon the green grass.

40 And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties.

41 And when he had taken the five loaves, and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all.

42 And they did all eat, and were filled.

43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them toiling in rowing: for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out.

50 And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them in the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For they considered not the miracle of the loaves: for their heart was hardened.

53 And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gennesaret, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him.

55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch, if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him, were made whole.

CHAPTER VII.

1 The Pharisees also clave unto the disciples for eating with unwashed hands. 2 They brake the commandment of God by the traditions of men. 3 And he said unto them, Why do ye the traditions of men, reasoning the commandments of God after the tradition of men, and forgetteth the commandment of God after the tradition of men, saying, 4 For he taught the synagogue of the children of Simon, the son of Jonas, which is called by name Gades.

5 And no man eateth the flesh of a cow, or the hoofed animal, or he that divideth the sea, save these may eat of them: the camel, and he that divideth not the sea, and the heifer, and the goat.

6 These men also clave unto the disciples, saying, Why do ye the commandment of God after the tradition of men?

7 And Jesus answering said unto them, Every plant which my Father hath not planted shall be rooted up.

8 Why do ye seek to destroy me, seeing ye know neither the Scriptures, nor the power of God? 9 For the Scribes and Pharisees shewed unto them how they ought to go, and not to go; to baptize with water, and not to baptize with water.

10 And they came to Jerusalem: and in the temple he made such an answer as was before.

11 And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might put him to death: for they feared the people. 12 And when he was in Jericho, two blind men sitting by the wayside, when he passed by, they cried, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou Son of David.

13 And when he had stopped, he called them, and saith unto them, What will ye that I should do unto you? 14 They say unto him, Lord, that we shall see. 15 And Jesus saith unto them, Rejoice, ye blind men: for your sight shall be opened. 16 And Jesus sent away divers other multitudes with such answers as was before.
that entering into him, can defile him; but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.

16 *If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

17 *And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 *And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also! Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him;

19 *Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats!

20 *And he said, That which cometh out of the mouth of the man, that defileth the man.

21 *For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 *THEfts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness:

23 *All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

24 *And from thence he arose, and entered into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into a house, and would have no man know it: but he could not be hid.

25 *For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet:

26 (The woman was a Greek, a Syrophoenician by nation;) and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

27 *But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.

28 *And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord; yet the children under the table eat of the children's crumbs.

29 *And he said unto her, For this saying, go thy way: the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 *And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

31 *And, *“And again, departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the Sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.

32 *And they brought unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech: and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.

33 *And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spit, and touched his tongue:

34 *And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 *And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spoke plain.

36 *And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it:

37 *And they were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 *Christ feedeth the people manfully: 10 refresheth to give a sign to the Pharisees: 14 abolisheth his disciples to bewail the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of bread: 22 giveth a blind man his sight: 27 acknowledgeth that he is the Christ, who should suffer and be raised again: 34 and exhorteth to patience in persecution for the profession of the gospel.

1 In those days the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them,

2 *I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat;

3 *And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far.

4 *And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness?

5 *And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

6 *And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they did set them before the people.

7 *And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.

8 *So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left, seven baskets.

9 *And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

10 *And straightway he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 *And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him.

12 *And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a sign? Verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation.

13 *And he left them, and entering into the ship again, departed to the other side.

14 *Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.
15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.
16 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread.
17 And when Jesus knew it, he said unto them, Why reason ye because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened?
18 Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?
19 *When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? * They say unto him, Twelve.
20 And *when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? * And they said, Seven.
21 And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand?

22 And he came with them to Bethsaida; and they brought a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him.
23 And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town; and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he looked up; and when he saw, he saw.
24 And he looked up, and said, I see men as trees walking.
25 After that, he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.
26 And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.
27 And Jesus went out, and his disciples, and entered into the towns of Cesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Whom do men say that I am?
28 And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias; and others, One of the prophets.
29 And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answered, and saith unto him, Thou art the Christ.
30 *And he charged them that they should not tell no man of him.
31 And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.
32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.
33 But when he had turned about, and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.
34 *And when he had called the people unto him with his disciples also, he said unto them, Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.
35 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.
36 For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?
37 Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?
38 Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation; of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.

CHAPTER IX.

2 Jesus is transfigured. 31 He instructed his disciples concerning the coming of Elias: 11 casteth forth a dumb and deaf spirit: 29 foretelleth his death and resurrection: 20 exhorteth his disciples to humility: 30 holding them not to profane such as be not against them, not to give offence to any of the faithful.

ND he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.

2 *And after six days, Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves; and he was transfigured before them.
3 And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can whitew.
4 And there appeared unto them Elias, with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.
5 And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.
6 For he wist not what to say: for they were sore afraid.
7 And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son; hear him.
8 And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.
9 And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead.

10 And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.

11 ¶ And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes that Elias must first come?

12 And he answered and told them, Elias verily cometh first, and restores all things; and how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and be set at naught.

13 But I say unto you, That Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.

14 ¶ And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.

15 And straightaway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him, saluted him.

16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye with them?

17 And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit;

18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he heareth him; and he feareth and is distressed with his teeth, and spineth away; and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out, and they could not.

19 He answered them, and said, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? Bring him unto me.

20 And they brought him unto him; and he, seeing him, straightway the spirit left him; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed in foaming.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child.

22 And of times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him; but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.

23 Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.

24 And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.

25 When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him; and he was as one dead; insomuch that many said, He is dead.

27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up; and he arose.

28 ¶ And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could we not cast him out?

29 And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

30 ¶ And they departed thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it.

31 ¶ For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.

32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 ¶ And he came to Capernaum; and being in the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among yourselves by the way?

34 But they held their peace; for by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest.

35 And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all.

36 And he took a child, and set him in the midst of them; and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them, 37 Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38 ¶ And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and he followeth not us; and we forbade him, because he followeth not us.

39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not; for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me.

40 For he that is not against us is on our part.

41 ¶ For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.

42 ¶ And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 ¶ And if thine hand offend thee, cut it off; it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched.

44 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

45 And if thine foot offend thee, cut it off; it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched.

46 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out; it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell-fire.
48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.
49 For every one shall be salted with fire; and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.
50 Sal ammonicit, but if the salt have lost his saltiness, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and have peace one with another.

CHAPTER X.
2 Christ disputeth with the Pharisees touching divorce: 13 blesseth the children that are brought unto him: 17 rebuketh a rich man how he may inherit life everlasting: 22 testeth his disciples of the danger of riches: 28 promiseth rewards to them that braketh any thing for the gospel: 30 foretelleth his death and resurrection: 35 testeth the two most excellent virtues to think rather of suffering with him: 46 and restoreth to Bartimeus his sight.

And the arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judea, by the farther side of Jordan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 ¶ And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.
3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you?
4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.
5 And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart, he wrote you this precept:
6 But from the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female.
7 For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife;
8 And they twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.
9 What, therefore, God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.
10 And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter.
11 And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.
12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.
13 ¶ And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.
14 But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.
15 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall receive one of such little children in my name, he shall receive me.
16 And he took them up in his arms, and put his hands upon them, and blessed them.
17 ¶ And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and knelted to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?
18 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is God.
19 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.
20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.
21 Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, take up the cross, and follow me.
22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.
23 ¶ And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!
24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!
25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved?
27 And Jesus looking upon them, saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.
28 ¶ Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.
29 And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's.
30 But he shall receive a hundred-fold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come, eternal life.
31 But many that are first shall be last; and the last first.
32 ¶ And they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them; and they were amazed; and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him.
33 Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles:
34 And they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him; and shall kill him: and the third day he shall rise again.
And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we shall desire.

And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you?

They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask: can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?

And they said unto him, We can. And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized with:

But to sit on my right hand and on my left hand, is not mine to give; but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John.

But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that which ye which I have accounted to rule over the Gentiles, and to exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them.

But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister.

And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all.

For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples, and a great number of people, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the highway side begging.

And when he had heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me.

And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more; Thou son of David, have mercy on me.

And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: and they called the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise: he calleth thee.

And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight.
16 And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the temple.
17 And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, 'My house shall be called, [of all nations, the house of prayer! but ye have made it a den of thieves.
18 And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was astonished at his doctrine.
19 And when even was come, he went out of the city.
20 ¶ And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig-tree dried up from the roots.
21 And Peter calling to remembrance, saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig-tree which thou cursedst is withered away.
22 And Jesus answering, saith unto them, [Have faith in God.
23 For verily I say unto you, That whatsoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.
24 Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.
25 And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.
26 But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.
27 ¶ And they came again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there came to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders.
28 And say unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority to do these things?
29 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.
30 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me.
31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him?
32 But if we shall say, Of men; they feared the people: for all men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed.
33 And they answered and said unto Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering, saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.
ND he began to speak unto them by parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and dug a place for the wine-fat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant; that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some.

Having yet therefore one son, his well-beloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.

But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

And have ye not read this scripture; the stone which the builders reject is become the head of the corner: This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes! 'And they sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they let him, and went their way.

And they sent unto him certain of the Pharisees, and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words.

And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar, or not?

Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a penny, that I may see it.

And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cæsar's.
he taught in the temple. How say the scribes that Christ is the son of David? 36 For David himself said 'by the Holy Ghost, 'The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.' 37 David therefore himself called him Lord, and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly. 38 ¶ And he said unto them in his doctrine, 'Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and to have salutations in the market-places, and to sit in the synagogues, and in the uppermost places at feasts; instead of which they oppress widows and maim the hands of them that take up money into the treasury: and many such rich cast in much. 39 And there came a certain poor widow, and she cast in unto the treasury two mites, which make a farthing. 40 And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury. 44 For all they did cast in of their abundance: but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

CHAPTER XIII.
1 Christ foretelleth the destruction of the temple: 2 the presentments for the gospel: 10 that the gospel must be preached to all nations: 14 that great calamities shall happen to the Jews: 24 and the manner of his coming to judgment: 32 the hour wherein being known to none, every man is to watch and pray, that we be not found unprovided, when he cometh to each one particularly by death. 1 AND as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones, and what buildings are here! 2 And Jesus answering, said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? There shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. 3 And as he sat upon the Mount of Olives, over against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, asked him privately. 4 'Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled? 5 And Jesus answering them, began to say, 'Take heed lest any man deceive you: 6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. 7 And when ye shall hear of war, and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet. 8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines, and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows. 9 ¶ But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beat; and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, a testimony against them. 10 And the gospel must first be published among all nations. 11 ¶ But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. 12 Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death. 13 ¶ And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. 14 ¶ But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then 'let them that be in Judea flee to the mountains: 15 And let him that is on the house-top not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house: 16 And let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment. 17 ¶ But wo to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days! 18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter. 19 ¶ For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be. 20 And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved; but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days. 21 And then, if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or, lo, he is there; believe him not. 22 ¶ For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect. 23 But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.
CHAPTER XIV. JUDAS COVENANT TO BETRAY HIM.

10 ¶ And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

12 ¶ And the first day of unleavened bread, when they [killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the passover?

13 And he senteth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the good man of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

17 ¶ And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.

18 And as they sat, and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me.

19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve that dipps with me in the dish.

21 ¶ The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.
22 ¶ And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.
23 And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them; and they all drank of it.
24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.
25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.
26 ¶ And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the Mount of Olives.
27 ¶ And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.
28 But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.
29 ¶ But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.
30 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.
31 But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.
32 ¶ And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.
33 And he taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy;
34 And saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.
35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.
36 And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me; nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt.
37 And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldst thou not watch one hour?
38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.
39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.
40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) neither wist they what to answer him.
41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.
42 ¶ Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.
43 ¶ And immediately while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders.
44 And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely.
45 And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, Master; and kissed him.
46 ¶ And they laid their hands on him, and took him.
47 And one of them that stood by, drew a sword, and smote the ear of John the beloved disciple, which was of Jesus.
48 ¶ And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out against me, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me?
49 I was daily with you in the temple, teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled.
50 ¶ And they all forsook him and fled.
51 And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him.
52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.
53 ¶ And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests, and the elders, and the scribes.
54 And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest; and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.
55 ¶ And the chief priests, and all the counsel, sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none.
56 For many false witnesses against him, but their witness agreed not together.
57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,
58 We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.
59 But neither so did their witness agree together.
60 ¶ And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?
61 But the high priest answered, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?
62 And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.
CHAPTER XV.

CEREMONY OF CHRIST.

8 And the multitude crying aloud, began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them.
9 But Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews?
10 (For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envy.)
11 But the chief priests moved the people that he should rather release Barabbas unto them.
12 And Pilate answered, and said again unto them, What will ye that I do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews?
13 And they cried out again, Crucify him.
14 Then Pilate said unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucify him.
15 ¶ And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.
16 ¶ And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Praetorium; and they called together the whole band.
17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted him a crown of thorns, and put it about his head, 18 And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews!
19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees, worshipped him.
20 And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him.
21 ¶ And they compel one Simon a Cyrenian, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his cross.
22 ¶ And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull.
23 ¶ And they gave him to drink, wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not.
24 ¶ And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take.
25 ¶ And it was the third hour, and they crucified him.
26 ¶ And the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS.
27 ¶ And with him they crucify two thieves, the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.
28 ¶ And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, ¶ And he was numbered with the transgressors.
29 ¶ And they that passed by, railing on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days.
30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross.
31 Likewise also the chief priests mocking said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save.
32 Let Christ the King of Israel descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reviled him.
33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land, until the ninth hour.
34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, 'Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?' which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, Behold, Elias!
36 And one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone; let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.
37 And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.
38 And the vail of the temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom.
39 And when the centurion which stood over against him, saw that he did nothing but tremble, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God.

40 There were also women looking on afar off, among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less, and of Joses, and Mary Magdalene; who also, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministered unto him; and many other women which came up with him unto Jerusalem.

42 ¶ And now, when the even was come, (because it was the preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath,) 43 Joseph of Arimathea, an honourable counsellor, which also waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went boldly into Pilate, and craved the body of Jesus.
44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead.
45 And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph.
46 And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre.
47 And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses beheld where he was laid.
CHAPTER I.

ST. LUKE.

17 And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues:
18 They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.
20 And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

1 THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. LUKES.

CHAPTER I.

The prologue of Luke to his whole gospel.

The conception of John the Baptist, 36 and of Christ. 39 The prophecy of Elizabeth, and of Mary, concerning Christ. 57 The nativity and circumcision of John. 62 The prophecy of Zacharias, both of Christ, 76 and of John.

5. ORASMACCHUS as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us.
6. Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eye-witnesses, and ministers of the word;
7. It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,
8. That thou mightest know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast been instructed.

5. THERE was in the days of Herod the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia; and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.
6. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.
7. And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren; and they both were now well stricken in years.
8. And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course.
9. According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.
10. And the whole multitude of the people were praying without, at the time of incense.
11. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of incense.
25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.
26 And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.
28 And the angel came unto her, and said, 'Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.
29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.
30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God.
31 And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.
32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David.
33 And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.
34 Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man.
35 And the angel answered and said unto her, 'The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be called the Son of God.
36 And behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren:
37 For with God nothing shall be impossible.
38 And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.
39 And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill-country with haste, into a city of Juda, 40 And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth, 41 And it came to pass, that when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, her babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost.
42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, 'Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb, 43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?
44 For lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.
45 And blessed is she that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.
46 And Mary said, 'My soul doth magnify the Lord,
47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.
48 For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaid: for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.
49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name.
50 And his mercy is on them that fear him, from generation to generation.
51 He hath shewed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
52 He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.
53 He hath filled the hungry with good things, and the rich he hath sent empty away.
54 He hath holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of his mercy:
55 As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed, for ever.
56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.
57 Now Elisabeth's full time came that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son.
58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her; and they rejoiced with her.
59 And it came to pass, that 'on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.
60 And his mother answered and said, 'Not so; but he shall be called John.
61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.
62 And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.
63 And he asked for a writing-table, and wrote, saying, 'His name is John. And they marvelled all.
64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God.
65 And fear came on all that dwelt round about them; and all these sayings were noise abroad throughout all the hill-country of Juda.
66 And all they that heard them, 'laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be! And the hand of the Lord was with him.
67 And his father Zacharias 'was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying
CHAPTER II.

BIRTH AND CIRCUMCISION OF CHRIST.

1. Blessed be the Lord God of Israel: for he hath visited and redeemed his people,
2. and hath raised up a horn of salvation for us, in the house of his servant David:
3. As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began:
4. That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us:
5. To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant:
6. The oath which he sware to our father Abraham,
7. That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear,
8. In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.
9. And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest, for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways;
10. To give knowledge of salvation unto his people, by the remission of their sins,
11. Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the day-spring from on high hath visited us,
12. To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.
13. And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

CHAPTER II.

1. Augustus taxed all the Roman empire. 2. The nativity of Christ. 3. Our angel relateth it to the shepherds: 15 many an soul prays to God for it. 21 Christ is circumcised. 22 Mary purified. 28 Simon and Anne prophecy of Christ. 40 who increaseth in wisdom, 46 querneth in the temple with the doctors, 51 and is obedient to his parents.

ND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

1. And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.

3. And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

4. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)

5. To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

6. And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7. And she brought forth his first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling-clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8. And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9. And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

10. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11. For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12. And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling-clothes, lying in a manger.

13. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

15. And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16. And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18. And all they that heard it, wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21. And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcision of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22. And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord;

23. (As it is written in the law of the Lord, 'Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord':)

24. And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons.

25. And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, *waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him.

26 And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,

29 Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

30 For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

32 A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against:

35 (Yea, a sword shall pierce through thine own soul also:) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

36 And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity;

37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 And she coming in that instant, gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him.

41 Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover;

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it.

44 But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him.
And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou this dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?

And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

And Jesus increased in wisdom and understanding in favour of God and man.

CHAPTER III.

1 NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Ituraea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Ly-

Ablene,

2 Anna and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharia in the wilderness.

3 And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance, for the remission of sins;

4 As it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth;

6 And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7 Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

9 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

10 And the people asked him, saying, What shall we do? He answered and said unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him give to him who hath none.

11 Then came also publicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do? He answered and said unto them, Extort no more than that which is appointed to you.

12 And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, Do unto men that which is requisite, and be content with your wages.

13 And as the people were gathered in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ, or not;

14 John answered, saying, unto them all, He indeed baptized you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire:

17 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.

18 And many other things in his exhortation preached unto the people.

19 But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, 20 Added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

21 Now, when all the people were baptized, it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened,

22 And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

23 And Jesus himself began to be about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) the son of Joseph, which was the son of Helö.

24 Which was the son of Matthat, which was the son of Levi, which was the son of Melech, which was the son of Janna, which was the son of Joseph, 25 Which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Anos, which was the son of Nana, which was the son of Esli, which was the son of Naage.

29 Which was the son of Jose, which was the son of Eliezer, which was the son of Josim, which was the son of Matath, which was the son of Levi,
30 Which was the son of Simeon, which was the son of Juda, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Jonas, which was the son of Eliakim,
31 Which was the son of Melea, which was the son of Menan, which was the son of Mattatha, which was the son of Naatun, which was the son of David,
32 Which was the son of Jesse, which was the son of Obed, which was the son of Booz, which was the son of Salmon, which was the son of Naasson,
33 Which was the son of Aminadab, which was the son of Aram, which was the son of Esron, which was the son of Phares, which was the son of Juda,
34 Which was the son of Jacob, which was the son of Isaac, which was the son of Abraham, which was the son of Thara, which was the son of Nachor,
35 Which was the son of Saruch, which was the son of Ragua, which was the son of Phalec, which was the son of Heber, which was the son of Seha,
36 Which was the son of Cainan, which was the son of Arphaxad, which was the son of Sem, which was the son of Noe, which was the son of Lamech,
37 Which was the son of Mathusala, which was the son of Enoch, which was the son of Jared, which was the son of Maleled, which was the son of Canaan, 38 Which was the son of Enos, which was the son of Seth, which was the son of Adam, which was the son of God.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The temptation and fasting of Christ. 13 He overcometh the devil: 14 begins to preach. 16 The people of Nazareth admire his gracious words. 17 He cures one possessed of a devil, 18 Peter's mother-in-law, 19 and others sick persons. 1 The devil's acknowledge Christ, and are reproved for it. 43 He preacheth through the cities.

ND Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost, returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness,
2 Being forty days tempted of the devil. And in those days did eat nothing; and when they were ended, he afterward hungered.

3 And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.
4 And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.
5 And the devil, taking him up into a high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.
6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me, and to whomsoever I will, I give it.
7 If thou therefore wilt [to worship me, all shall be thine.
8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.
9 And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence.
10 For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee:
11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.
12 And Jesus answering, said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.
13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.
14 And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about.
15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and stood up for to read.
17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written,
18 The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,
19 To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.
20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.
21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.
22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Joseph's son?
23 And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country.
24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country.
25 But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land:
26 But unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta, a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.
27 And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Elias the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian.
28 And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath,
29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill, (whereon their city was built,) that they might cast him down headlong.
30 But he, passing through the midst of them, went his way, 31 And came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbath-days.
32 And they were astonished at his doctrine; for his word was with power.
33 ¶ And in the synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an unclean devil; and he cried out with a loud voice, 34 Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee whom thou art, the Holy One of God.
35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not.
36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power doth he command even the unclean spirits, and they come out.
37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.
38 ¶ And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her.
39 And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them.

CHAPTER V. THE MIRACULOUS DRAUGHT OF FISHES.

40 ¶ Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases, brought them unto him:
41 And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And he rebuking them, suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.
42 ¶ And when it was day, he departed, and went into a desert place; and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them.
43 And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also; for therefore am I sent.
44 ¶ And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.
10 And so was also James and John the sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not: from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsook all, and followed him.

12 "And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold, a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

13 And he put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 "And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according to Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 "And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judaea, and Jerusalem; and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 "And behold, men brought in a man which was taken with a palsy; and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the multitude, they went upon the house-top, and let him down through the tiling with his couch, into the midst before Jesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins be forgiven thee.

21 "And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? *Who can forgive sins but God alone ?

22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering, said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts ?

23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? 24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go unto thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

27 "And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom; and he said unto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 "And Levi made him a great feast in his own house; and there was a great company of publicans, and of others that sat down with them.

30 But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

31 And Jesus answering, said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.

32 "I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 "And they said unto him, *Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink?

34 And he said unto them, Can ye make the children of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them?

35 "But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

36 "And he spake also a parable unto them: No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old; if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new agreeth not with the old.

37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish.

38 But new wine must be put into new bottles, and both are preserved.

39 No man also having drunk old wine, straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ reproved the Pharisees' blindness about the observation of the sabbath, by scripture, reason, and miracle: 17 healeth the diseased: 20 preacheth to his disciples before the people of blessings and curses: 27 how we must love one another: 49 and join the obedience of good works to the hearing of the word: 50 last in the evil day of temptation we fall like a house built upon the face of the earth, without any foundation.

And it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn-fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath-days?

3 And Jesus answering them, said, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when he was a hungry, and they which were with him;

4 How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shew-bread, and gave also to them that were with him, which it is not lawful to eat for the priests alone!

5 And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

6 And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue, and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered:

7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath-day; that they might find an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose, and stood forth.

9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath-days to do good, or to do evil! to save life; or to destroy it!

10 And looking round about upon them all, he said unto him, Streth forth thy hand. And he did so; and his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madness; and commended one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, he called unto him his disciples: and of them he chose twelve, whom also he named apostles;

14 Simon (whom he also named Peter) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew, 15 Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelotes,

16 And Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitor,

17 And he came down with them, and stood in the plain; and the company of his disciples,* and a great multitude of people out of all Judea and Jerusalem, and from the sea-coast of Tyre and Sidon,* which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

18 And they that were vexed with unclean spirits; and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him; for there was virtue out of him, and healed them all.

20 And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God.

21 Blessed are ye: for the hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye: for the weep now: for ye shall laugh.

22 Blessed are ye: for when men shall hate you: and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man’s sake.

23 Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

24 But wo unto you: *who are rich! for ye have received your consolation.

25 Wo unto you: who are filled! for ye shall hunger. Wo unto you: that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.

26 Wo unto you: when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 But I say unto you: which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you, 28 Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you.

29 And unto him that smiteth thee on the one cheek, offer also the other; and him that taketh away thy cloak, forbid not to take thy coat also.

30 Give to every man that asketh thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods, ask them not again.

31 And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.

32 For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye! for sinners also love those that love them.

33 And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye! for sinners also do even the same.

34 And if ye lead to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye! for sinners also lead to sinners, to receive as much again.

35 But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.

36 Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

37 Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven:

38 Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete wiuial, it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake a parable unto them; Can the blind lead the blind! shall they not both fall into the ditch!

40 The disciple is not above his master: but every one [that is perfect, shall be as his master.

41 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother’s eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye!

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, castst thou first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.

43 "For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

44 For every tree is known by his own fruit: for of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble-bush gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 "And why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say!

47 "Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like.

48 He is like a man which built a house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock.

49 But he that heareth and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation buildeth a house upon the earth, against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great.

CHAPTER VII

1 Christ feeleth a greater faith in the centurion a Gentile, than in any of the Jews: 10 healeth his servant being absent: 11 raiseth from death the widow's son at Nain: 19 answereth John's messengers with the declaration of his miracles: 24 testifieth to the people what opinion he held of John: 30 inveigheth against the Jews, who with neither the manners of John nor of Jesus could be won: 36 and speaketh by occasion of Mary Magdalene, how he is a friend to sinners, not to minimise them in sins, but to forgive them their sins, upon their faith and repentance.

NOW, when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

4 And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instant-and did wipe them with the hair of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who, and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Jesus answering, said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on.

41 There was a certain creditor, which had two debtors; the one owed five hundred [pence, and the other fifty.

42 And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave both. Tell me therefore, of which of them will love him most?

43 Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet.

46 Mine head with oil thou didst not anoint; but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment.

47 Wherefore, I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much; but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.

48 And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.

49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sins also?

50 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee: go in peace.

CHAPTER VIII.

3 Women minister unto Christ of their substance. 4 Christ, after he had preached to the people, attended with his apostles, proceeded to the parable of the twelve, 16 and of the candle: 21 declared who are his mother, and brethren; 22 rebuked the winds: 26 casteth the legion of devils out of the man into the herd of swine: 37 in respect of the Gadarenes: 43 healed the woman of her bloody issue, 49 and raised from death Jairus' daughter.

ND it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and showing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him,

2 And certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, (of whom went seven devils, 3 And Joanna the wife of Chuza, Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto him of their substance.
4 ¶ And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable:

5 A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way-side; and it was trodden down, and the birds of the air devoured it.

6 And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit a hundred-fold. And when he had said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 ¶ And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be?

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.

11 ¶ Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

12 Those by the way-side are they that hear; and cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13 They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

14 And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares, riches, and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

15 But that on the good ground are they, which, in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 ¶ No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.

17 For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest: neither any thing hid, that shall not be known, and come abroad.

18 Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemed to have.

19 ¶ Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.

20 And it was told him by certain, which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.

21 And he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 ¶ Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 But as they sailed, he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind, and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they, being afraid, wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this? for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

26 ¶ And they arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city a certain man, which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs.

28 When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou son of God most high? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 (For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains, and in fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness.)

30 And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him.

31 And they besought him, that he would not command them to go out into the deep.

32 And there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.

35 Then they went out to see what was done; and came to Jesus, and found the man out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed.

37 ¶ Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about besought him to depart from them: for they CHAPTER IX. HE SENDETH HIS APOTHESES TO PREACH.

53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.
54 And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise.
55 And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat.
56 And her parents were astonished; but they charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAPTER IX.
1 Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.
2 And he sent them to the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.
3 And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece.
4 And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.
5 And whatsoever city or town ye enter into, say, Whence go ye? and say, The kingdom of heaven is nigh unto you.
6 And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.
7 And now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him; and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead;
8 And of some, that Elias had appeared; and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again.
9 And Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this of whom I hear such things? And he desired to see him.
10 And the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place, belonging to the city called Bethsaida.
11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.
12 And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.
13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people.
14 (For they were about five thousand men.) And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company.
15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.
16 Then he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.
17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.
18 ¶ And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him; and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?
19 They answering, said, "John the Baptist; but some say, Elias; and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again.
20 He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? ¶ Peter answering, said, The Christ of God.
21 ¶ And he strictly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing.
22 Saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of chief priests, and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.
23 ¶ And he said unto them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.
24 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it; but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.
25 ¶ For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?
26 ¶ For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels.
27 ¶ But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here which shall not taste of death till they see the kingdom of God.
28 ¶ ¶ And it came to pass, about an eight days after these sayings, he took Peter, and John, and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.
29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering.
30 And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias:
31 Who appeared in glory, and spake of his decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him, were heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.
33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said.
34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud.
35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, "This is my beloved Son; hear him.
36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone. ¶ And they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.
37 ¶ And it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.
38 And behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee look upon my son: for he is mine only child.
39 And lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him, and bruising him, hardly departeth from him.
40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they could not.
41 And Jesus answering, said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.
42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tore him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.
43 ¶ And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, 44 ¶ Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.
45 ¶ But they understood not this saying: and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not; and they feared to ask him of that saying.
46 ¶ Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.
47 And Jesus perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him,
48 And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name, receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be greatest.
49 ¶ And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us.
50 And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us.

51 And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem.

52 And sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him.

53 And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem.

54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did?

55 But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of.

56 For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.

57 And it came to pass, that as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

58 And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60 Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.

61 And another also said, Lord, I will follow thee; but let me first go bid them farewell which are at home at my house.

62 And Jesus said unto him, No man having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

CHAPTER X.

FTR these things, the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.

2 Therefore said he unto them, The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 Go your ways; behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.

4 Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and salute no man by the way.

5 And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall return to you.

7 And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you.

9 And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

10 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say, 11 Even the very dust of your city which receiveth us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

12 But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom than for that city.

13 Wo unto thee, Chorazin! wo unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment, than for you.

15 And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell.

16 He that heareth you heareth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me; and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me.

17 And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.

18 And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven.

19 Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

20 Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, but that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven.

21 ¶ In that hour Jesus rejoiced in the Spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

23 ¶ And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see.

24 For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see; and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

25 And behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?"
26 He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?
27 And he answering said, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.

28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

29 But he, willing to "justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour?"

30 And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

31 And by chance there came down a certain priest that way; and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was; and when he saw him, he had compassion on him.

34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 And on the morrow, when he departed, he took out two lepers, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman, named Mary, received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Martha; which also 'sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word.

40 But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 And Jesus an-
CHAPTER XI.

1 Christ teacheth to pray, and that instantly: 11 assuring that God will give us good things. 12 He, casting out a dumb devil, rebuketh the unbelieving Pharisees; 29 and showeth who are beneficent; 29 preacheth to the people, 37 and reprehendieth the outward show of holiness in the Pharisees, scribes, and lawyers.

1 And it came to pass, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples. 2 And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth. 3 Give us this day our daily bread. 4 And forgive us our debts; for we also forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil. 5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go up to him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves: 6 For a friend of mine is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him! 7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee. 8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. 9 And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. 10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened. 11 If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he refuse to give him a stone? or if he shall ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent? 12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him a scorpion? 13 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him! 14 *And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass when the of Jonas; and behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

33 No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.

34 The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.

35 Take heed therefore, that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light; as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.

37 ¶ And as he spake, a certain Pharisee besought him to dine with him: and he went in and sat down to meat.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

40 Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 But rather give alms [of such things as ye have; and behold, all things are clean unto you.

42 But wo unto you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint, and rue, and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43 Wo unto you, Pharisees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

45 Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying, thou reproachest us also.

46 And he said, Wo unto you also, ye lawyers! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Wo unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly ye bear witness, that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation;

51 From the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

52 Wo unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things;

54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Christ preacheth to his disciples to avoid hypocrisy, and fearfulness in publishing his doctrine: 13 warms the people to beware of covetousness, by the parallel of the rich man who set up greater barns. 22 We must not be over careful of earthly things, 31 but seek the kingdom of God, 23 give alms, 30 be truly at a knees to open to our Lord whenever he cometh. 41 Christ's amnesties are to be seen to their charge, 49 and look for persecution. 54 The people must take this time of grace, 58 because it is a fearful thing to die without reconciliation.

2 In the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

2 For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore, whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness, shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets, shall be proclaimed upon the house-tops.

4 And I say unto you, my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that, have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God.

9 But he that denieth me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.

11 And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say:
12 For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

13 ¶ And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me.
14 And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge, or a divider over you!

15 And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.
16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully:
17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no where to bestow my fruits?
18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.
19 And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years: take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry.

20 But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then shall those things which are stored up for thee be perishable.
21 So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

22 ¶ And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.
23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment. 24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse, nor barn; and God feedeth them. How much more are ye better than the fowls?
25 And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit!
26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?
27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, neither spin; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.
28 If then God so clotheth the grass, which is to-day in the field, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith!

29 And seeke not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; neither be ye of doubtful mind.
30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.
whom men have committed much of him they will ask the more.

49 If I come to send fire on the earth, and what will I, if it be already kindled!

50 But I have a baptism to be baptized with: and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!

51 Suppose ye that I come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division:

52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

54 And he said also to the people, When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it is.

55 And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat; and it cometh to pass.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky, and of the earth: but how is it that ye do not discern this time?

57 Yea, and why even of yourselves judge ye not what is right?

58 When thou goest with thine adversary unto the magistrate, as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him: lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.

59 I tell thee, thou shalt not depart hence, till thou hast paid the very last mithe.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Christ preacheth repentance upon the punishment of the Galileans, and others. The unfurled fig-tree may not stand. He healeth the crooked woman: He speaketh the powerful working of the word in the hearts of his chosen, by theparable of the grain of mustard seed, and of leaven: 21 exhorteth to enter in at the strait gate, 21 and reproveth Herod and Jerusalem.

THERE were present at that season some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answering, said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay; but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?

5 I tell you, Nay; but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 He spake also this parable: A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and find none: cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering, said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:

9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath-day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath-day.

15 The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo these eighteen years, he loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day?

17 And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it?

19 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree: and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it.

20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God?

21 It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

22 And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Jerusalem.

23 Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that he saved? And he said unto them, 24 "Strive to enter in at the strait gate; for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 "When once the Master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, "Lord, Lord, open unto us;' and he shall answer and say unto you, "I know you not whence ye are;
26 Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.
27 "But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; 'depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.'
28 "There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, 'when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob; and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out.
29 And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.
30 "And behold, there are last, which shall be first; and there are first, which shall be last.
31 "The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence; for Herod will kill thee.
32 And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and do cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected.
33 Nevertheless I must walk to-day and to-morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem.

34 "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not!
35 Behold, 'your house is left unto you desolate. And verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, 'Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.'

CHAPTER XIV.

2 Christ healeth the dropsy on the sabbath; 7 teacheth humility; 12 to feast the poor; 15 under the parable of the great supper, sheweth how worldly-minded men, who contain the word of God, shall be shut out of heaven. 22 Those who will be his disciples, to hear his cross must make their accounts abhorred, lost with shame, they revolt from him afterward. 34 and become altogether unpredicable, like salt that hath lost its savour.

And it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath-day, that they watched him.

And behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy.

3 And Jesus answering, spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, 'Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-day?'

4 And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go;

5 And answered them, saying, 'Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath-day?'

6 And they could not answer him again to these things.

7 And he put forth a parable to those which were sinn'd, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms; saying unto them,

8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room, lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him:

9 And he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room.

10 'But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room: that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee.

11 'For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.'

12 Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou mak'st a dinner or a supper, call not thy kinsmen, nor thy brethren, neither thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee.

13 But when thou mak'st a feast, call 'the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind;'

14 And thou shalt be blessed: for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompens'd at the resurrection of the just.

15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, 'Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.'

16 Then said he unto him, A certain man made a supper, and bade many:

17 And 'sent his servant at supper-time, to say to them that were bidden, Come, for all things are now ready.

18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.

19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.

20 And another said, I have married a wife; and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry, said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in both the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.
22 And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.
23 And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.
24 For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.
25 ¶ And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them,
26 If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.
27 And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.

28 For which of you intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it?
29 Lest haply after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him.
30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish.
31 Or what king going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?
32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an embassy, and desireth conditions of peace.
33 So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.
34 ¶ Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned?
35 It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill; but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

CHAPTER XV.
1 The parable of the lost sheep. 8 of the piece of silver: 11 of the prodigal son.

ST. LUKE. PARABLE OF THE LOST SHEEP, ETC.

3 ¶ And he spake this parable unto them, saying,
4 What man of you having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?
5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.
6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep, which was lost.
7 And I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons which need no repentance.
8 ¶ Either what woman having ten drachma pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it?
9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which I had lost.
10 Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.
11 ¶ And he said, A certain man had two sons:
12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living.
13 And not many days after, the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.
14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.
15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.
16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat; and no man gave unto him.
17 And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!
18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.
20 And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. 21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son. 22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet; 23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry; 24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. 25 Now his elder son was in the field; and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing. 26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant. 27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. 28 And he was angry, and would not go in; therefore came his father out, and entreated him. 29 And he answered him, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment; and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf. 31 And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me; and all that I have is thine. 32 It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad; for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 The parable of the unjust steward. 14 Christ reproved the hypocrites of the cursed Pharisees. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus the beggar.

ND he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods. 2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give me an account of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer steward. 3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed. 4 I am resolved what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. 5 So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? 6 And he said, A hundred measures of oil.
And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.
7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred \[measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write four-score.
8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely; for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light.
9 And I say unto you, \Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.
10 'He that is faithful in that which is least, is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least, is unjust also in much.
11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches!
12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own?
13 'No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.
14 And the Pharisees also, who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.
15 And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.
16 'The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.
17 'And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.
18 'Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery; and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.
19 'There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day:
20 'And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores.
21 'And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover, the dogs came and licked his sores.
22 'And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom. The rich man also died, and was buried:
23 And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Luzars in his bosom.

24 And he cried, and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivestst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things; but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you, cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:

28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.

31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 Then said he unto the disciples, It is impossible but that offences will come: but woe unto him by whom they come!

2 It was better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.

4 And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine-tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you.

7 But which of you having a servant ploughing, or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat?

8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, L.
Lot: they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded:
29 But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all:
30 Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed.
31 In that day, he which is upon the house-top, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.

32 Remember Lot’s wife.
33 Whosoever shall seek to save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life, shall preserve it.
34 I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.
35 Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left.
36 Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.
37 And they answered and said unto him, Where, Lord! And he said unto them, Wheresoever the body is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

CHAPTER XVIII.

3 Of the unprofitable widow. 9 Of the Pharisee and the publican.
15 Children brought to Christ. 18 A ruler that would follow Christ, but is hindered by his riches. 28 The reward of them that leave all for his sake.
31 He forsooketh his death, 33 and restores a blind man to his sight.

And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint:
2 Saying, There was a certain judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man.
3 And there was a widow in that city: and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.
4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man:
5 Yet, because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.
6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.
7 And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?
8 I tell you, that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?
9 And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves, that they were righteous, and despised others:
10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.
CHAPTER X.  CHRIST FORETELLETH HIS OWN DEATH.

11 The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, "God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.
12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithe of all that I possess.
13 And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.
14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one who exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.
15 And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.
16 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.
17 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, the same shall not enter therein.
18 And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?
19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is God.
20 Thou knowest the commandments, 'Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness,' Honour thy father and thy mother.
21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.
22 Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lacketh thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.
23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.
24 And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, 'How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!
25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
26 And they that heard it, said, Who then can be saved?
27 And he said, 'The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.'
28 'Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.
29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, 'There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, 30 'Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

31 'Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.
32 For 'he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and despised, and rejected of the people:
33 And they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again.
34 And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.
35 And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way-side begging;
36 And hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.
37 And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by.
38 And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me.
39 And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou son of David, have mercy on me.
40 And Jesus stood and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.
42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.
43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 Of Zacchaeus a publican. 11 The ten pieces of money. 28 Christ ridden into Jerusalem with triumph: 41 weareth over it: 45 driveth the buyers and sellers out of the temple: 47 teaching daily in it.

And Jesus entered and passed through Jericho.

2 And behold, there was a man named Zacchaeus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore-tree to see him; for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down: for to-day I must abide at thy house.
6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.
7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, 'That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.
8 And Zaccheus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him four-fold.
9 And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham.
10 'For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.
11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.
12 'He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.
13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.
14 'But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.
15 And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the pounds, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.
16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.
17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.
18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.
19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.
20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:
21 'For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man; thou takest up that thou laydest not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.
22 And he saith unto him, 'Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. 'Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow: 23 Wherefore then gavest thou not my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?
24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.
25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)
26 For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath, shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.
27 But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.
28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he went before, ascending up to Jerusalem.
29 ¶ And it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the Mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Go ye into the village over against you; in which the which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.
31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.
32 And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.
33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?
34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.
35 And they brought him to Jesus; and they cast his garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon.
36 ¶ And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.
37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works that they had seen;
38 Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: *Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.
39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.
40 And he answered and said unto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.
41 ¶ And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and wept over it.
42 Saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.
43 For the days shall come upon thee, that
And they children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another: because thou knowest not the time of thy visitation.

And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought.

Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.

And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests, and the scribes, and the chief of the people sought to destroy him.

And could not find what they might do: for all the people were very attentive to hear him.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Now it came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him, with the elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, by what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing: and answer me:

4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not?

6 But if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 Then began he to speak to the people this parable: A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent a third: and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner.

18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone, shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 *And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 *And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor.

21 And they asked him, saying, *Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God truly:

22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Cesar, or no?

23 But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cesar's.

25 And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which be Cesar's, and unto God the things which be God's.

26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 *Then came to him certain of the Sadducees, (which deny that there is any resurrection,) and they asked him, 28 *Saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29 There were therefore seven brethren; and the first took a wife, and died without children.
30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childless.
31 And the third took her; and in like manner the seven also: and they left no children, and died.
32 Last of all the woman died also.
33 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.
34 And Jesus answering, said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:
35 But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage:
36 Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.
37 Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.
38 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him.
39 ¶ Then certain of the scribes answering, said, Master, thou hast well said.
40 And after that, they durst not ask him any question at all.
41 And he said unto them, ¶ How say they that Christ is David's son?
42 ¶ And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, ¶ The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.
44 ¶ David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?
45 ¶ ¶ Then in the audience of all the people, he said unto his disciples.
46 ¶ Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in vainpered, and to love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts;
47 ¶ Which devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

CHAPTER XXI.
1 Christ commendeth the poor widow. 5 He foretelleth the destruction of the temple, and of the city Jerusalem: 12 the signs also which shall be before the last day. 24 He exhorteth them to be watchful.
1 And he looked up 2 and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.
2 And he saw also a certain poor widow, casting in thither two mites.
3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all.

4 For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God: but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.
5 ¶ And as any spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones, and gifts, he said,
6 As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which ¶ there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.
7 And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass?
8 ¶ And he said, ¶ Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; ¶ and the time draweth near: go ye not therefore after them.
9 But when ye shall hear of wars, and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not by and by.
10 ¶ Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom:
11 ¶ And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences: and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven.
12 ¶ But before all these they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and unto prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake.
13 And ¶ it shall turn to you for a testimony.
14 ¶ Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer.
15 For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, ¶ which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist.
16 ¶ And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolk, and friends; and ¶ some of you shall they cause to be put to death.
17 And ¶ ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.
18 ¶ But there shall not a hair of your head perish.
19 In your patience possess ye your souls.
20 ¶ And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.
21 Then let them which are in Judæa flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter therein.
22 ¶ For these be the days of vengeance, that ¶ all things which are written may be fulfilled.
23 ¶ But wo unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!
for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations; and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 ¶ And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;

26 Men’s hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

27 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud, with power and great glory.

28 And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads: for your redemption draweth nigh.

29 ¶ And he spake to them a parable; Hold the fig-tree, and all the trees;

30 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled.

33 ¶ Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

34 ¶ And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.

35 For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

37 ¶ And in the day-time he was teaching in the temple; and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the Mount of Olives.

38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The Jews were against Christ. 2 Satan prevaricating Judas to betray him. 7 The apostles prepare the passover. 10 Christ instituting him his supper. 21 covetously desiring of the treasure; 21 beholding the rest of his apostles from without. 31 as though Peter his faith should not fail. 34 and yet he should deny him three times. 39 He spake in the mount, and overcast blood. 47 is betrayed with a kiss. 50 he beheld Mahanaim’s ear, 34 he who desired Peter, 62 shamefully abused, 66 and confessed himself to be the Son of God.

OW ¶ the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover.

2 And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him: for they feared the people.

3 ¶ Then entered Satan into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them.

5 And they were glad, and were covenanted to give him money.

6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them.¶ in the absence of the multitude.

7 ¶ Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.

9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house where he entereth in.

11 And ye shall say unto the good man of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

12 And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished; there make ready.

13 And they went and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 ¶ And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.

15 And he said unto them, ¶With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer.

16 For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

17 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves.

18 For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

19 ¶ And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 ¶ But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.

22 ¶ And truly the Son of man goeth as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed!

23 ¶ And they began to inquire among themselves, of what it was that should do this thing.
24 ¶ And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.
25 And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors.
26 ¶ But ye shall not be so; but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger, and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.
27 ¶ For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth.
28 Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations;
29 And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me;
30 That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.
31 ¶ And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat;
32 But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.
33 And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee both into prison and to death.
34 ¶ And he said, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.
35 ¶ And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.
36 Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.
37 For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me; And he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me have an end.
38 And they said, Lord, behold here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.
39 ¶ And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the Mount of Olives; and his disciples also followed him.
40 ¶ And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter into temptation.
41 ¶ And he was withdrawn from them about a stone’s cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine, be done.
43 And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him.
44 ¶ And being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.
achers came together, and led him into their council.
67 'Saying, Art thou the Christ? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe.
68 And if I also ask you, ye will not answer me, nor let me go.
69 'Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.
70 Then they said all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, Ye say that I am.
71 'And they said, What need we any further witness? for we ourselves have heard of his own mouth.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 Jesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herod. And Herod mocked him. 2 Herod and Pilate are made friends. 3 Barabbas is desired of the people, and is loosed by Pilate, and Jesus is given to be crucified. 47 He telleth the women, that lament him, the destruction of Jerusalem. 44 proverbs for his remarks. 53 Two evidences are crucified with him. 46 His death. 50 His burial.

ND the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate. 2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cesar, saying, that he himself is Christ, a King.
3 And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it.
4 Then said Pilate to the chief priests, and to the people, I find no fault in this man.
5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.
7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself was also at Jerusalem at that time.
8 And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.
9 Then he questioned with him in many words: but he answered him nothing.
10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.
11 And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.
12 And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were at enmity between themselves.
13 And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests, and the rulers, and the people, 14 Said unto them, 'Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and behold, 'I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man, touching those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him; and lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him:
16 'I will therefore chastise him, and release him.
17 ' (For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.)
18 And 'they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas:
19 (Who, for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.)
20 Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them.
21 But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.
22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.
23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed.
24 And 'Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required.
25 And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will.
26 And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.
27 And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.
28 But Jesus turning unto them, said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.
29 'For behold, the days are coming, in which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.
30 'Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.
31 'For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry!
32 And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.
33 And when they were come to the place which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors; one on the right hand, and the other on the left.
34 Then said Jesus, Father, 'forgive them: for they know not what they do.
And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stood beholding. And the rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar.

37 And saying, If thou be the King of the Jews, save thyself.

38 And a superscription also was written over him, in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 And one of the soldiery, which were hangered, said, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

40 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.

41 And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.

42 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the land until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and the vail of the temple was rent in the midst.

46 And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

47 Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

50 And behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counsellor: and he was a good man, and a just:

51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them;) he was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews; who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52 This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.

54 And that day was the preparation, and the sabbath drew on.

55 And the women also, which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath-day, according to the commandment.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4 And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments.

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto him, Why seek ye the living among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen. Remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee.

7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 And they remembered his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12 Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre, and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

13 And behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that, while they communed together, and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?
18 And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering, said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?
19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God, and all the people:
20 And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.
21 But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemed Israel: and besides all this, to-day is the third day since these things were done.
22 Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre.
23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.
24 And certain of them which were with us, went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women said: but him they saw not.
25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken!
26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And beginning at Moses, and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.
28 And they drew nigh unto the village whither they went: and he made as though he would have gone further.
29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them.
30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.
31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight.
32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?
33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them.
34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and appeared to Simon.
35 And they told what things were done in
THE DIVINITY, HUMANITY, AND OFFICE OF CHRIST.

ST. JOHN.

1 THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. JOHN.

CHAPTER I.

1 The divinity, humanity, and office of Jesus Christ. 15 The testimony of John. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, &c.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. 2 The same was in the beginning with God. 3 All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.

4 In him was life; and the life was the light of men. 5 And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

6 There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. 7 The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe. 8 He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.

9 That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. 10 He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not. 12 But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:

13 Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. 14 And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

15 John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me, is preferred before me:

16 And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.
CHAPTER II.

THE CALLING OF ANDREW, PETER, ETC.

18. "No man hath seen God at any time: the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him."

19. ¶ And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem, to ask him, Who art thou?

20. ¶ And he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ.

22. ¶ Then said they unto him, Who art thou? That we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?

23. ¶ He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias.

24. And they which were sent of the Pharisees asked him, saying, Art thou a prophet?

25. ¶ And he said unto them, I am not a prophet: but I am sent as one that sheweth the things which must shortly be done.

26. ¶ And they asked him, What then? Art thou a teacher come to teach us? Every one that heareth the word, and doeth it, is like a wise man that buildeth his house upon a rock:

27. ¶ And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

28. ¶ And every one that heareth the word, and doeth not, is like a wise man that built his house upon the sand:

29. ¶ And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereon.

30. ¶ And the word that he spake was to this effect, as is written in the prophet Esaias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

31. ¶ And there went out unto him all the country of the Jordan, and unto all the region round about Jordan, to confess the baptism of John.

32. ¶ And John did many strange things in Israel, and made much talk.

33. ¶ And he had in his days John the Baptist sent unto him, saying, Art thou he that should come, or look we for another?

34. ¶ And John answered and said, He that cometh after me is mightier than I: for he is the craftsman of that house, and I am not.

35. ¶ He that hath two coats giveth to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

36. ¶ And John also himself was not baptized, save that he received John's baptism.

37. ¶  And it came to pass, when Jesus had received the baptism, that he came up straightway out of the Jordan, and saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him.

38. ¶ And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

39. ¶ And Peter answered and said unto him, Master, behold, my coat." And again another said, Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile!

40. And Jesus saith unto him, A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.

41. And he said unto them that followed him, Behold, my mother, and my brethren.

42. ¶ And a great multitude followed him, and he made twelve whom he named apostles;

43. ¶ And the names of the twelve apostles were these: The first, Simon, called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;

44. ¶ Philip, and Bartholomew; and Thomas, and Matthew the Levi; and James the son of Alphaeus, and Leb anon the son of Zebedee;

45. ¶ and Simon the Zealot; and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.

CHAPTER III.

THE CALLING OF ANDREW, PETER, ETC.

18. ¶ Thrice blessed is he that hath seen Jesus.

19. ¶ For he shall see the King in glory.

20. ¶ And he shall see him as he saw him that was upon the mountain.

21. ¶ And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there.

22. ¶ And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.

23. ¶ And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto them, They have but little wine.

24. ¶ Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

25. ¶ His mother saith unto the servants, whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.
6 And there were set there six water-pots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew,) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 After this went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples; and they continued there not many days.

13 And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem,

14 And found in the temple those that sold oxen, and sheep, and doves, and the changers of money, sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables:

16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence: make not my Father's house a house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, 'The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.'

18 Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, 'What sign showest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?'

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, 'Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.'

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?

21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them: and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast-day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24 But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, 25 And needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ teacheth Nicodemus the necessity of regeneration. 14 Of faith in his death. 16 The great love of God toward the world. 19 Confutation for unbelief. 23 The baptism, witness, and doctrine of John concerning Christ.

1 THERE was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews:

2 'The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.

3 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit, is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

8 'The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, 'How can these things be ?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up:

15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

16 'For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17 *For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved. To every one that doeth evil, his 20 judgment is come: *he that believeth on the Son of God hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son of God shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

CHAPTER IV.

1 CHAP.

1 Then therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John. 2 (Though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,) 3 He left Judea, and departed again into Galilee.

4 And he must needs go through Samaria. 5 Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. 6 Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the sixth hour.

7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. 8 (For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat,) 9 Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans.

10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldst have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. 11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hath thou that living water? 12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle? 13 Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:

14 But *whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

15 *The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Go call thy husband, and come hither. 17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands, and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.

19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.

22 Ye worship that which is of no value: we worship what is of value, for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and truth.

25 The woman saith unto him, I know that Messiah cometh, which is called Christ; when he is come, he will tell us all things.

26 Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he.

27 And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?
city believed on him "for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did.

40 So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days.

41 And many more believed, because of his own word:

42 And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

43 ¶ Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee.

44 For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast; and for they also went unto the feast.

46 So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son; for he was at the point of death.

48 Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.

49 The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

50 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way: thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house.

54 This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Jesus on the sabbath-day cured him that was diseased eight and thirty years. 2 The Jews therefore said, and persecute him for it. 3 He answereth for himself, and reproveth them, shewing by the testimony of his Father, 32 of John, 36 of his works, 29 and of the scriptures, who he is.

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whatsoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.

10 ¶ The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath-day: it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.

14 Afterward Jesus foundeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath-day.

17 ¶ But Jesus answered them, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews sought more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also, that God was his Father, 'making himself equal with God.

19 Then answered Jesus, and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.

20 For 'the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth;"
and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man; but he hath committed all judgment unto the Son:

23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself, so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

27 And he hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming in which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, 29 And shall come forth: they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 If I hear witness of myself, my witness is true.

32 And there is another that beareth witness of me, and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.

33 Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

36 But if I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father himself which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

39 Search the scriptures: for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.

40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

41 I receive not honour from men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Father’s name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 How can ye believe, which receive honour one another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?

45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 10 Thereupon the people would have made him king. 16 But withdrawing himself, he walked on the sea to his disciples: 26 reproved the people flocking after him, and all the fleshly hearers of his word: 32 declared himself to be the bread of life to believers. 06 Many disciples depart from him. 68 Peter confounded him. 70 Judas is a devil.

FETER *these things Jesus went over the Sea of Galilee, which is the Sea of Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 *And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat?

6 (And this he said to prove him: for he knew what he would do.)

7 Philip answered him, *Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him.

9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley-loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. (Now there was much grass in the place.) So the men sat down in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes, as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.
CHRIST WALKETH ON THE SEA.

CHAPTER VI.

CHRIST THE BREAD OF LIFE.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley-loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is a truth, that such a Prophet that should come into the world.

15 ¶ When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea, 17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking upon the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone:

23 (Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks:)

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not on that side, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 ¶ Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore unto him, What sign showest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 "Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me, shall never thirst.

36 But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 "All that the Father giveth me, shall come to me; and him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life; and will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I am the bread from heaven?

43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father which sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

46 Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48 "I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and were dead.

50 "This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.
52 The Jews therefore "strove among themselves, saying, 'How can this man give us his flesh to eat?"
53 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.
54 Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.
55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.
56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, 'dwelleth in me, and I in him.
57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.
58 "This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: 'but that eateth of this bread shall live ever for.
59 Those things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.
60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is a hard saying: who can hear it?
61 When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?
62 *What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?
63 *It is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.
64 But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.
65 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.
66 "From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.
67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.

68 And we believe, and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.
70 Jesus answered them, 'Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?"
71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER VII.
1 Jesus reproved the ambition and boldness of his kinsmen; 10 went up from Galilee to the feast of tabernacles: 14 teacheth in the temple, 46 Rivers opinions of him among the people. 52 The Pharisees are angry that their officers took him not, and elide with Nicodemus for taking his part.

AFTER these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, 'because the Jews sought to kill him.
2 *Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.
3 His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou dost.
4 For there is no man that doeth anything in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world.
5 (For neither did his brethren believe in him.)
6 Then Jesus said unto them, 'My time is not yet come; but your time is always ready.
7 *The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, 'because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.
8 Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast: 'for my time is not yet full come.
9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.
10 *But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.
11 Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?
12 And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him; for some said, He is a good man; others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people.
13 Howbeit, no man spake openly of him, 'for fear of the Jews.
14 ¶ Now about the midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple and taught.
15 *And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man 'letters, having never learned?
16 Jesus answered them, and said, 'My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.
17 *If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.
18 *He that speaketh of himself, seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, that is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.
19 *Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?
20 The people answered and said, 'Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?
21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.
CHRIST TEACHETH IN THE TEMPLE.

CHAPTER VIII. DIVERS OPINIONS CONCERNING HIM.

32. "Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers;) and ye on the sabbath-day circumcise a man.

23. If a man on the sabbath-day receive circumcision, [that the law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath-day?]

24. Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

25. Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they seek to kill?

26. But lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

27. "Howbeit, we know this man, whence he is; but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28. Then cried Jesus in the temple, as he taught, saying, 'Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am; and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.'

29. But "I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30. Then 'they sought to take him: but 'no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31. And "many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done!

32. The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him: and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33. Then said Jesus unto them, 'Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.'

34. Ye "shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35. Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto 'the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles!'

36. What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come!

37. 'In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, 'out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.'

39. ('But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive, for the Holy Ghost was not yet given, because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)

40. Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet.

41. Others said, 'This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?'

42. 'Hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?

43. So "there was a division among the people because of him:

44. And 'some of them would have taken him: but no man laid hands on him.

45. Then 'came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?'

46. The officers answered, 'Never man spake like this man."

47. Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?

48. 'Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him?'

49. But this people knoweth not the law are cursed.

50. Nicodemus saith unto them, (He that came "to Jesus by night, being one of them.)

51. 'Doth our law judge any man before it hear him, and know what he doeth?'

52. They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and *look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet."

53. And every man went unto his own house.

JESUS WENT UNTO THE MOUNT OF OLIVES:

2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery: and when they had set her in the midst, 4 They say unto him, Master, this women was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 'Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what saighest thou?'

6 This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, 'He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.'

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.
9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last; and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

12 Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself: thy record is not true.

14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye judge after the flesh, I judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true:
CHAPTER IX.

CHRIST'S AUTHORITY AND DIGNITY.

1. The man that was born blind restored to sight. 8 He is brought to the Pharisees. 13 They are offended at it, and excommunicate him: but he is received of Jesus, and confesseth him: 25 Who they are whom Christ enlighteneth.

1 AND as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on me.

7 He that is of God, heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.

8 Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil?

9 Jesus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

10 And I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

11 Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.

12 Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. 14 Abraham is dead, and the prophets are dead; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death.

13 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom maketh thou thyself?

14 Jesus answered, If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: it is my Father that honoureth me, of whom ye say, that he is your God.

15 Yet ye have not known him: but I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying.

16 Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he said, and he saw it, and was glad.

17 Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham?

18 Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

19 Then took they up stones to cast at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

20 And they asked him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, You do not know what I mean: but I know what I say.

21 Then did the Jews understand that he spake unto them by the Spirit of God. 22 And they answered him, Art thou a greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself?

23 Jesus answered, If I make a work, and ye believe not that I am he, how shall ye believe, when I shall tell you of greater works than these?

24 And ye do not believe, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

25 My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me:

26 And I will give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

27 My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.

28 I and my Father are one.

29 They came therefore out of the temple, and went unto him, saying, What sign shewest thou then, that we may see and believe thee? whatst thou workst?

30 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

31 Then the Pharisees said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, that we may see, and believe thee? whatst thou workst?

32 Jesus answered them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

33 Then the Jews said, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days?

34 But the temple of God is this body of mine.

35 Ye know neither the scriptures, nor the power of my Father.

36 And now ye seek to kill me, a man that sheweth you the truth:

37 But if I tell you of whence I have heard these things, and ye believe not my words, how shall ye believe if I tell you of him whom I have seen, and ye receive his testimony, that this is the man, whom I speak?"

the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay.

7 And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the sabbath-day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath-day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them.

17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet.

18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? How then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself.

22 These words spake his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him.

24 Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, *Give God the praise: we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see.
26 Then said they to him again. What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?
27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear; wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also he his disciples?
28 Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses’ disciples.
29 We know that God spake unto Moses; as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is.
30 The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.
31 Now we know that God heareth not sinners; but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth.
32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind, 33 If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.
34 They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? and they cast him out.
35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God?
36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him?
37 And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that spake with thee.
38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.
39 And Jesus said, For judgment I am come into this world; that they which see not might see, and that they which see might become blind.
40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also?
41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have no sin; but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

CHAPTER X.

4 Christ is the door, and the good shepherd. 12 Divers opinions of him. 21 He goeth by his works that he is Christ the Son of God; 39 escaped the Jews, 40 and went again beyond Jordan, where many believed on him.

ERILY, verily, I say unto you,
He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.
3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice; and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.
4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.
5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.
6 This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.
7 Then said Jesus unto them again. Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.
8 All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.
9 ‘I am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.
10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.
11 ‘I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.
12 But he that is a hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth; and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.
13 ‘The hireling fleeth, because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep.
14 ‘I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine.
15 ‘As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep.
16 ‘And other sheep have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice: and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.
17 ‘Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take it again.
18 ‘No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again.
‘This commandment have I received of my Father.
19 ‘ErilY, verily, I say unto you,
‘There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.
20 And many of them said, ‘He hath a devil, and is mad: why hear ye him?’
21 Others said, ‘These are not the words of him that hath a devil. ‘Can a devil open the eyes of the blind?’
22 ‘And it was at Jerusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter.
23 And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon’s porch.
24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly.

25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not; the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.

26 But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

27 ‘My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me:

28 And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

29 'My Father, whom gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.

30 ‘I and my Father are one.

31 Then 'the Jews took up stones again to stone him.

32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me?

33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not: but for blasphemy, and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God.

34 Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken;

36 Say ye of him whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God!

37 ‘If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

38 But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and believe that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 ‘Therefore they sought again to take him; but he escaped out of their hand, 40 And went away again beyond Jordan, into the place where John at first baptized; and there he abode.

41 And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle; but all things that John spake of this man were true.

42 ‘And many believed on him there.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Christ raised Lazarus, four days before, 45 Many Jews believe. 47 The high priests and Pharisees gather a counsel against Christ. 49 Caiphas prophesies. 54 Jesus hid himself. 55 At the passover they inquire after him, and say wait for him.

NOW a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of 'Mary and her sister Martha.

2 (‘It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.)

3 ‘Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.

4 When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judea again.

8 His disciples say unto him, Master, 'the Jews of late sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?

9 Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? 'If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he; and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth;

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.

13 Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.

14 Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless, let us go unto him.

16 Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already.

18 (Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off.)

19 And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.

20 Then Martha; as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house.

21 Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22 But I know that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Martha saith unto him, ‘I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection.
CHAPTER XI.

AFTER HE HAD BEEN DEAD FOUR DAYS.

JESUS RAISETH LAZARUS TO LIFE

16 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him!

17 And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?

18 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself, cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

19 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

20 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God?

21 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me:

22 And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by, I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

23 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

24 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

25 Then many of the Jews which came to.
Mary, 'and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him.

46 But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

47 ¶ Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, 'What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him alone, all men will believe on him; and the Romans shall come, and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them, named Caiphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, 'Ye know nothing at all,

50 'Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation:

52 And 'not for that nation only, 'but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

54 Jesus 'therefore walked no more openly among the Jews: but went hence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ 'And the Jews' passover was at hand; and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to purify themselves.

56 'Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, 'What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given an answer, that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it; that they might take him.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Jesus went out of the temple, and was walking by the treasury.
2 And there came to him a woman, having an ointment of spikenard, very costly, and poured on his head in the house of Simon the leper.
3 Then one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, which should betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein.

7 Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying shew she kept this.

8 For 'the poor alway have with you; but me ye have not always.

9 Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there; and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

10 ¶ But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death;

11 'Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

12 ¶ On the next day, much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, 'Hosanna: 'Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 'And Jesus, when he had found a young ass, sat thereon: as it is written, 15 'Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt.

16 These things 'understood not his disciples at the first: 'but when Jesus was glorified, 'then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record.

18 'For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, 'Perceivest thou how that thing which is spoken by them is fulfilled in him?

20 ¶ And there were certain Greeks among them, 'that came up to worship at the feast.

21 The same came therefore to Philip, 'which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, 'Sir, we would see Jesus.

22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and again, Andrew and Philip tell Jesus.

23 ¶ And Jesus answered them, saying, 'The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, 'Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keep it unto life eternal.

26 If any man serve me, let him follow me; and whithere I go, there also shall my servant be; if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.

27 Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour.

28 Father, glorify thy name. "Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered. Others said, An angel spake to him.

30 Jesus answered and said, 'This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.

33 (This he said, signifying what death he should die.)

34 The people answered him, 'We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of man?'

35 Then Jesus said unto them, 'Yet a little while is the light with you. 'Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and hid himself from them.

37 But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:

38 That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, 'Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?'

39 Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again,

40 He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them:

41 These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 Nevertheless, among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:

43 'For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.'

11 Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and Peter saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet? 7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest now; but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, 'If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.'

9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.
Christ pointeth out the traitor.

ST. JOHN.

He comforteth his disciples.

Jesus said, "Now is the Son of man glorified, and 'God is glorified in him."

32 'If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him."

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me; and, as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come, so now I say to you.

34 'A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 'By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 'Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterward.

37 Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake.

38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples with the hope of heaven: 6 professeth himself the way, the truth, and the life, and one with the Father: 13 as he saith in his name to be effectual; 15 requesteth love and obedience, 16 promiseth the Holy Ghost the Comforter.

1 And in my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

2 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also.

3 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7 'If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me, hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father!"
CHAPTER XV.

BETWEEN CHRIST AND HIS MEMBERS.

10 Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you, "I speak not of myself: but the Father, that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works sake.

12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he also do; and greater works than these shall he do: because I go unto my Father.

13 And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

15 If ye love me, keep my commandments:

16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever:

17 Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

18 I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also.

20 At that day ye shall know that I am in the Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he is it that loveth me: and he that loveth me, shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

22 Judas saith unto him, (not Iscariot,) Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?

23 Jesus answered and said unto him, "If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 He that loveth me not, keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father’s which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

26 But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

27 Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

28 Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, but I have called ye friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father, I have made known unto you.

16 "Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

17 "These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18 "If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 "If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 "Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. But if they persecute me, they will persecute you; and if they keep my saying, they will keep yours also.

21 "But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.

22 "If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloak for their sin.

23 "He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 "If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had had no sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.

25 "But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled in their mouth, They hated me without a cause.

26 "But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me.

27 "And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples against tribulation by the promise of the Holy Ghost, and by his resurrection and ascension; and assures their prayers made in his name to be acceptable to his Father. 33 Peace in Christ, and in the world affliction.

2 THESE things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.

3 "They shall put you out of the synagogues: yes, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you, will think that he doeth God service.

4 "And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

5 "But these things have I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.

6 But now I go my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

7 But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

8 Nevertheless, I tell you the truth: It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.

9 "Of sin, because they believe not on me:

10 "Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more:

11 "Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged.

12 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.

13 "Howbeit, when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself: but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

15 "All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

16 "A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me. because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 "Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 "A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 "And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

23 "And in that day ye shall ask me nothing
Christ intimateth his death, etc.

CHAPTER XVII.
He prayeth for his apostles.

1 THESE words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee.

2 As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him.

3 And this is life eternal, that they might know thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent.

4 I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

6 I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world; thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee;

8 For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

11 And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee, Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition: that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee, and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I have given them thy word: and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil.

16 They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

17 Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth.

18 As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

20 Neither pray I for these alone; but for them also which shall believe on me through their word:

21 That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one:

23 In them, and in me, in that they may be made perfect in one: and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me.

24 Father, I will that they also whom thou hast given me be with me where I am: that they may behold my glory which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me.
26 And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me, may be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 Judas betrayed Jesus. 6 The officers fell to the ground. 10 Peter smote off "Malchus' ear. 12 Jesus is taken, and led unto Annas and Caiaphas. 15 Peter's denial. 19 Jesus examined before Caiaphas. 28 His arraignment before Pilate. 36 His kingdom. 40 The Jews ask Barabbas to be let home.

1 Then Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.
2 And Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus oftentimes resorted thither with his disciples.
3 Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns, and torches, and weapons.
4 Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?
5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with them.
6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.
7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.
8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he. If therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:
9 That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, Of them whom thou gavest me, have I lost none.
10 Then Simon Peter, having a sword, drew it, and smeared the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.
11 Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?
12 Then the band, and the captain, and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him.
13 And led him away to Annas first, (for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, which was the high priest that same year.)*

14 Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 "And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. That disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus, into the palace of the high priest.
16 "But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.
17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.
18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals; (for it was cold,) and they warmed themselves; and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.
19 "The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.
20 Jesus answered him, I speak openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing.
21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.
22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?
23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if I have spoken the truth, why smitest thou me?
24 (Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.)
25 And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.
26 One of the servants of the high priest (being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off) saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?
27 Peter then denied again: and immediately the cock crew.
28 "Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the hall of judgment: and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment-hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover.
29 Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?
30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.
31 Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:
32 'That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.
33 Then Pilate entered into the judgment-hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?"
Jesus answered, "Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me?"

Pilate answered, "Am I a Jew? Thine own nation, and the chief priests, have delivered thee unto me. What hast thou done?"

Jesus answered, "My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth, heareth my voice.

Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, 'I find in him no fault at all.'

But ye have a custom that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. 'Now Barabbas was a robber.'

CHAPTER XIX.

Christ is scourged and mocked.

CHAPTER XIX. CRUCIFIXION OF CHRIST.

1 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.

2 And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe,

3 And said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they smote him with their hands.

4 Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him.

5 Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man!

6 When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Jews answered him, 'We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.'

8 When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid;

9 And went again into the judgment-hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? 'But Jesus gave him no answer.'

10 Then saith Pilate unto him, 'Speakest thou not unto me? Knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?'

11 Jesus answered, 'Thou couldst have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.'

12 And from henceforth Pilate sought to release him; but the Jews cried out, saying, 'If thou let this man go, thou art not Cesar's friend. 'Whosoever maketh himself a king, speaketh against Cesar.'

13 'When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment-seat, in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha.'

14 'And it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!'

15 But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cesar.

16 'Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away.'

17 And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two others with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

19 'And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS.'

20 This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.

21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, 'Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.'

22 Pilate answered, 'What I have written, I have written.'

23 'Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.

24 They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it where it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, 'They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots.' These things therefore the soldiers did.

25 'Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.'

26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son!

27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

28 After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, saith, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

29 Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it to his mouth.

30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

31 The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath-day, (for that sabbath-day was a high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32 Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs:

34 But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came thereout blood and water.

35 And he that saw it, bare record, and his record is true: and he kneweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

36 For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken.

37 And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 And after this, Joseph of Arimathaea (being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews) besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore and took the body of Jesus.

39 And there came also Nicodemus, (which at the first came to Jesus by night,) and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight.

40 Then took they the body of Jesus, and wounded it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

41 Now in the place where he was crucified, there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.

42 There laid they Jesus therefore, because of the Jews' preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Mary came even to the sepulchre, 2 and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

2 Then she ran, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying: yet went he not in.

6 Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie;

7 And the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

8 Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

10 Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping; and as she wept she stooped down and looked into the sepulchre, 12 And seeth two angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

13 And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14 And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.

15 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned
CHAPTER XXI.

1 After these things Jesus showed himself again to the disciples at the Sea of Tiberias; and on this wise he showed himself.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedeæ, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter saith unto them, I go fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore; but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus.

5 Then saith Jesus unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat about him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship (for they were not far from land, but as it was two hundred cubits) dragging the net with fishes.

9 As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.

11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Jesus showed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.

16 He saith to him again the second time,
Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. 'He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

17 He saith unto him the third time, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkest willyer thou wouldst: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldst not.

19 This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God.' And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

20 Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following: (which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?)

21 Peter seeing him, saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do?

22 Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die: but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24 This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true.

25 And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

CHAPTER I.

1 Christ, preparing his apostles to the beholding of his ascension, gathered them together into the Mount Olivet, commanded them to expect in Jerusalem the coming of the Holy Ghost, promised after a few days to send it: by virtue whereof they should be witnesses unto him, even to the uttermost parts of the earth.

2 After his ascension they were warned by two angels to depart, and to set their hands upon his second coming.

3 They accordingly return, and, gathering themselves together, choose Matthias in the place of Judas.

4 THE former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach.

5 Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:

6 To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion, by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

7 And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons which the Father hath put in his own power.

8 But ye shall receive power "after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you;" and ye shall be witnesses unto me, both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

9 And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up: and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10 And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel:

11 Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

12 Then returned they unto Jerusalem, from the mount called Olivet, which is from Jerusalem a sabbath-day's journey.

13 And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James.

14 These all continued in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

15 And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number of the names together were about a hundred and twenty.)

16 Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, which was guide to them that took Jesus.

17 For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.

18 Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, "Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and, "His bishopric let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, 22 Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen.

25 That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave forth their lots; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER II.

1 The apostles, filled with the Holy Ghost, and speaking divers languages, were amazed, and spared not to declare all the wondering things that were done.

2 When Peter discovered, saying, that the apostles were filled with the Holy Ghost, that he was taken from among them; therefore he spake, -

"The ascension of Christ"
ing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.
3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.
4 And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began 'to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.
5 And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.
6 Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.
7 And they were all amazed, and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak, Galileans?
8 And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born?
9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judea, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,
10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes, 11 Cretes and Arabians, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God, 12 And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?
13 Others mockmg, said, These men are full of new wine.
14 ¶ But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:
15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day.
16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel,
17 And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:
18 And on my servants, and on my handmaidens, I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy:
19 And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke.
20 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come 21 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord, shall be saved.
22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles, and wonders, and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:
23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain;
24 Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the bands of death; because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.
25 For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face; for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved;
26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also, my flesh shall rest in hope:
27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.
28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.
29 Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.
30 Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day, 31 He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.
32 This Jesus hath God raised up, whereby we are all witnesses.
33 Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.
34 For David is not ascended into heaven, but he saith himself, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.
36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.
37 ¶ Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?
38 Then Peter said unto them, ¶Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.
39 For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saving, 'Save yourselves from this untoward generation.'

41 And then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.

44 And all that believed were together, and had all things common;

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.

46 And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart.

47 Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

CHAPTER III.

1 Peter preaching to the people that came to see a lame man restored to his feet. 2 And it came to pass on the morrow, when the artillery was set in array, 3 That the people rose early before Peter and John, and said unto them, Ye men of Israel, why stand ye here looking eastward? Do ye not know that it is by this man whom ye crucified God hath raised up unto you? 4 And when they saw Peter and John, theylifted up their voice to them, saying, In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk.

7 And when he had received them, he went through all the town, giving testimony and great signs and wonders by the grace of God.

18 Ye children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with your fathers, saying unto Abraham, 'And in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.'
thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 "Unto you first, God having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The rulers of the Jews offended with Peter's sermon, 4 (though thousands of the people were converted that heard the word,) imprisoned him and John. 5 After, upon examination Peter boldly avouching the same man to be healed by the name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus only we must be eternally saved, 13 they commanded him and John to preach no more in that name, adding also threatening, 23 wherewith the church fled to prayer. 31 And God, by moving the place where they were assembled, testified that he heard their prayer: confirming the church with the gift of the Holy Ghost, and with natural love and charity.

And as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees came upon them.

2 Being grieved that they spake to the people, and preacheth through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now even-tide.

4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name have ye done this!

8 ¶Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 ¶This is the stone which was set at naught of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

13 ¶Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, 16 Saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

18 ¶And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all, nor teach in the name of Jesus.

19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

20 ¶For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.

21 So, when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people; for all men glorified God for that which was done.

22 For the man was above forty years old on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 ¶And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that is therein:

25 Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, "Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For "of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together, 28 "For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word, 30 By stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thine holy child Jesus.

31 ¶And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart, and of one soul; neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own: but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 And laid them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

36 And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus, 37 Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

CHAPTER V.

1 After that Ananias and Saphira his wife for their hypocrisy at Peter's rebuke had fallen down dead, 12 and that the rest of the apostles had wrought many miracles, 13 to the increase of the faith: 14 the apostles are again imprisoned, 19 but delivered by an angel

2 And kept back part of the price, (his wife also being privy to it,) and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3 But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 While it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5 And Ananias hearing these words, fell down, and gave up the ghost. And great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? beheld the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost. And the young men came in, and found her dead, and carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.
12 ¶ And 'by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.
13 And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: 2 but the people magnified them.
14 And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women;
15 Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.
16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits; and they were healed every one.
17 ¶ Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees,) and were filled with indignation, 18 ¶ And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.
19 But 'the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, 20 Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.
21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.
22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,
23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.
24 Now when the high priest, and the captain of the temple, and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereto this would grow.
25 Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.
26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: 'for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.
27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,
28 Saying, Did not we strictly command you, that ye should not teach in this name? and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, 'and intend to bring this man's blood upon us.
29 ¶ Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, 'We ought to obey God rather than men.
30 'The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree:
31 Him 'hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, 'for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.
32 And 'we are his witnesses of these things; and so 'is also the Holy Ghost, 'whom God hath given to them that obey him.
33 ¶ When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.
34 Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;
35 And said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men:
36 ¶'For before these days rose up Thengas, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves; who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to naught.
37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee, in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.
38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone; 'for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to naught:
39 ¶But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even 'to fight against God.
40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and 'beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.
41 ¶ And they departed from the presence of the council, 'rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.
42 And daily in the temple, and in every house, 'they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER VI.
1 The apostles, desirous to have the poor regarded for their bodily sustenance, as also careful themselves to dispense the word of God, the soul of the soul, 2 against the office of deaconship to seven chosen men. 5 Of whom Stephen, a man full of faith, and of the Holy Ghost, as one. 12 Who is taken of those, when he confounded in disputing, 13 and after falsely accused of blasphemy against the law and the temple.
ND in those days, *when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not right that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3 Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4 But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch, 6 Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased, and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.

10 And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council.

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law:

14 For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking steadfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.
CHAPTER VII.

1 Stephen, permitted to answer to the accusation of blasphemy; 2 sheweth that Abraham worshipped God rightly, and how God chose the fathers 22 before Moses was born, and before the tabernacle and temple were built; 37 that Moses himself witnessed of Christ: 44 and that all outward ceremonies were ordained according to the heavenly pattern, to last but for a time: 50 reprehending their rebellions, and murmuring at Christ, the Just One, whom the prophets foretold should come into the world. 51 Whichupon they stone him to death, who commendeth his soul to God, and humbly prays for them.

THEN said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, 'Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran.

3 And said unto him, 'Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then 'came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran. And from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: 4 yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 And God spake on this wise, 'That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and cut them evil four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God; and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place.

8 And he gave him the covenant of circumcision. And so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob, and Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt: but God was with him.

10 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt, and all his house.

11 Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction; and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 But when Joseph heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh.

14 Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to him, and told him of his kindred, and of all that he was doing in Egypt.

15 'So Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers,

16 And 'were carried over into Sychem, and laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a son of money of the sons of Emnor, the father of Sychem.

17 But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt.

18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil-entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children to the end they might not live.

20 In which time Moses was born, and was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds.

23 And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.

24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:

25 For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not.

26 And the next day heshowed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.

30 And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of Mount Sinai, an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him.

32 Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.

33 Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet; for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses, whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliver by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.
36 "He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red Sea, and in the wilderness forty years.
37 * This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, "A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear.
38 * This is he, that was in the church in the wilderness with * the angel which spake to him in the Mount Sinai, and with our fathers: * who received the lively oracles to give unto us:
39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt.
40 * Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.
41 * And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.
42 Then * God turned, and gave them up to worship * the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, * O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness.
43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Rephanum, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.
44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, * speaking unto Moses, * that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.
45 * Which also our fathers, * that came after, brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, * whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David;
46 * Who found favour before God, and * desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.
47 * But Solomon built him a house.
48 Howbeit, * the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet,
49 * Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?
50 Hath not my hand made all these things?
51 * Ye stiff-necked, and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.
52 * Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which spake before of the coming of the Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:
53 * Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.
54 When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.
55 But he, * being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God.
56 And said, Behold, * I see the heavens opened, and * the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.
57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord.
58 And * cast him out of the city, * and stoned him: and * the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.
59 And they stoned Stephen, * calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.
60 And he * kneeled down and cried with a loud voice, * Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

CHAPTER VIII.
1 By occasion of the persecution in Jerusalem, the church being planted in Samaria, 5 by Philip the deacon, who preached, did miracles, and baptized many, among the rest Simon the sorcerer, a great sinner of the people; 10 Peter and John came to confirm and enlarge the church: where, by prayer and imposition of hands giving the Holy Ghost, 16 he whom Simon would have bought the like power of, 30 Peter sharply reproving his hypocrisy, and contumaces, and exhorting him to repentance, together with John, preaching the word of the Lord, return to Jerusalem. 26 But the angel sendeth Philip to teach, and baptize the Ethiopian eunuch.

ND Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and * they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.
2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and * made great lamentation over him.
3 As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison.
4 Therefore * they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.
5 Then * Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.
6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.
7 * For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsy, and that were lame, were healed.
8 And there was great joy in that city.
9 But there was a certain man, called Simon, which before time in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one:
10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.
11 And to him they gave heed, because that for a long time he had wrought sorceries by their means.
12 But when they believed Philip, preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.
13 Then Simon himself believed also: and when he had received power through the Holy Ghost, he began to bewitch people, and to show signs and wonders, which were done by Philip.
14 But the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God; and they sent unto them Peter and John:
15 Who, when they were come down, prayed them that they might receive the Holy Ghost.
16 (For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.)
17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.
18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.
20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.
21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.
22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.
23 For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.
24 Then Simon Peter said, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me also, that none of these things which ye have spoken may come upon me.
25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.
that if he found any "of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.
And "as he journeyed, he came near Damascus; and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:
And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, "why persecutest thou me?
And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. "It is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.
And he trembling, and astonished, said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.
And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.
And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man; but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.
And he was there three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.
And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.
And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth.
And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias, coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.
And Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:
And here he hath authority from the chief priests, to bind all that call on thy name.
But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before "the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel:
For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.
And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house: and "putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord (even Jesus that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost,
And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.
And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. "Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, 'that he is the Son of God.

21 But all that heard him were amazed, and said, 'Is not this he which destroyed that which called on this name in Jerusalem, and came lither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?'
22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

23 ¶ And after that many days were fulfilled, 'the Jews took counsel to kill him.
24 ¶ But their laying wait was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night to kill him.
25 Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by a wall in a basket.
26 And 'when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciplcs: but they were all afraid of him, and believing not that he was a disciple.
27 'But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preachcd boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.
28 And 'he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem.
29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Gre-cious: 'but they went about to slay him.
30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cesarab, and sent him forth to Tarsus.
31 ¶Then had the churches rest throughout all Judea, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified: and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.
32 ¶ And it came to pass, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.
33 And there found a certain man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.
34 And Peter said unto him, Eneas, 'Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.
35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and SaRon saw him, and 'turned to the Lord.
36 ¶ Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and alms-deeds which she did.
37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her 'in an upper chamber.
38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, de-

CORNELIUS SENDETH FOR PETER.

journed, and drew nigh unto the city. Peter went up upon the house-top to pray, about the sixth hour:

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten; but while they made ready, he fell into a trance.

11 And saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill, and eat.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice; and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 Now, while Peter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made inquiry for Simon’s house, and stood before the gate.

18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 ¶ While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing; for I have sent them.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Peter went away with them, and certain brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

24 And the morrow after they entered into Cesarea. And Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

25 And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshiped him.

26 But Peter took him up, saying, Stand up: I myself also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said unto them, Ye know how
And they of the circumcision which believed, were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we? 48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Peter, being asked for going in to the Gentiles, 5 maketh his defence, 19 which is accepted. 19 The gospel being spread unto Phœnicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, Barnabas is sent to confirm them. 26 They the apostles and brethren that were in Judæa heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, 1 they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, 1 Then first they were no circumcised, and didst eat with them. 4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it 1by order unto them, saying,

5 1I was in the city of Joppa praying; and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me: 6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air. 7 And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Peter; shew, and eat. 8 But I said, Not so, Lord; for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth. 9 But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common. 10 And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven. 11 And behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea unto me. 12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover, these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house: 13 And he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto
 CHAPTER XII.

Peter's Miraculous Deliverer.

1 King Herod persecuted the Christians, killed James, and imprisoned Peter; whom an angel delivered up the prayers of the church. 2 In his pride taking to himself the honours due to God, he is stricken by an angel, and death miserably. 3 After his death, the word of God prevailed. And OW about that time, Herod the king stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church. 2 And he killed James the brother of John with the sword, 3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. Then were the days of unleavened bread. 4 And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people. 5 Peter therefore was kept in prison: but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him. 6 And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains; and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison; and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals; and so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. 9 And he went out, and followed him, and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought he saw a vision. 10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; 11 which opened to them of his own accord; and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forth with the angel departed from him.

12 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. 13 And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together, praying. 14 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda.

15 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.
15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, *It is his angel.
16 But Peter continued knocking. And when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.
17 But he, *beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.
18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.
19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Cesarea, and there abode.
20 ¶ And Herod || was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon. But they came with one accord to him, and having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace, because their country was nourished by the king's country.
21 And upon a set day, Herod arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.
22 And the people gave a shout, saying, *It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.
23 And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.
24 ¶ But the word of God grew and multiplied.
25 And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their || ministry, and took with them *John, whose surname was Mark.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas are chosen to go to the Gentiles. 7 Of Sergius Paulus, and Elymas the sorcerer. 11 Paul preacheth at Antioch, that Jesus is Christ. 42 The Gentiles believe: 45 but the Jews gannay and blaspheme 46 whereupon they turn to the Gentiles. As many as were ordained to life believed.

OW there were *in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as *Barnabas, and Simon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.
2 As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, *Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the work *whereunto I have called them.
3 And *when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

10 And said, O full of all subtlety, and all mischief, *the word that the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?
11 And now behold, *the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.
12 Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.
13 Now when Paul and his company loosed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and *John departing from them, returned to Jerusalem.
14 ¶ But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and *went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and sat down.
15 And *after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have *any word of exhortation for the people, say on.
16 Then Paul stood up, and *beckoning with his hand, said, Men of Israel, and ye *that fear God, give audience.
17 The God of this people of Israel *chose our fathers, and exalted the people *when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, *and with a high arm brought he them out of it.
18 And *about the time of forty years *suffered he their manners in the wilderness.
19 And when *he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Chanaan, he divided their land to them by lot.

And after that, he gave unto them judges, about the space of four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet.

And afterward they desired a king; and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years.

And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, 'I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfilling all my will.

Of this man's seed hath God, according to his promise, raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus:

When John had first preached, before his coming, the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.

And as John fulfilled his course, he said, 'Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.

Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you fear God, ye are the word of this salvation sent.

For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath-day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him.

And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain.

And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.

But God raised him from the dead:

And he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people.

And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers, God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, 'Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, 'I will give you the sure mercies of David.

Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, 'Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.
For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:

But he, whom God raised again, saw no corruption.

1 Ne 15, 11

And brethren, that through this man God preached unto us the forgiveness of sins;

And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.

But beware therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in the prophets;

Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them one next sabbath.

Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas; who speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

And the next sabbath-day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God.

But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you; but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles:

For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shalt be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life, believed.

And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.

And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER XIV.

Paul and Barnabas are persecuted from Iconium. At Lystra Paul healeth a cripple, whereupon they are reputed as gods. Paul is stoned. They pass through divers churches, confirming the disciples in faith and patience. Returning to Antioch, they report what God had done with them.

And it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude, both of the Jews, and also of the Greeks, believed.

But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil-affected against the brethren.

Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews, with their rulers, to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about:

And there they preached the gospel.

And theretofore sat a certain man at Lystra, an impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked.

The same heard Paul speak: who steadfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people.

Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and have brought unto you, that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein:

Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.

Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

19 And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, and having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch.

22 Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.

23 And when they had ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24 And after they had passed through Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down into Attalia;

26 And thence sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been recommended to the grace of God for the work which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

CHAPTER XV.

1 Great dissension arising touching circumcision. 6 The apostles counsel about it, 22 and send their determination by letters to the churches. 46 Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the brethren together, fall at strife, and depart amicably.

1 And certain men from Judea came down from Antioch unto Pisidia, and on the sabbath day they sat down together, and preached Jesus the Christ, and exhorting and persuading, when they had spoken, they commended the Lord, and gave exhortation with many words.

2 Now when they had set their hearts on Paul, proceeded Paul, and Bar- nabas, and laid their hands on them, and they were turned to the Lord.
LETTERS ARE SENT TO THE CHURCHES.

1. Gentiles; and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.
2. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.
3. But there arose certain of the sect of the Pharisees, which believed, saying, 'That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.'
4. And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.
5. And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up and said unto them, 'Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles, by my mouth, should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.'
6. And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us;
7. And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.
8. Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?
9. But we believe, that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, we shall be saved, even as they.
10. Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.
11. And after they had had their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me.
12. Simeon hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.
13. And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written, 14. After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:
15. That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doth all these things.
16. Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.
17. Wherefore 'my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God:
18. But that we write unto them that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.
19. For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath-day.
20. Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas surnamed Bar-sabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren;
21. And they wrote letters by them after this manner: The apostles, and elders, and brethren, send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia.
22. Forasmuch as we have heard, that certain which went out from us, have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law; to whom we gave no such commandment:
23. And it seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul;
24. Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.
25. We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.
26. For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;
27. That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.
28. So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle;
29. Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.
30. And Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.
31. And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.
32. Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there still.
33. Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.
34. And some days after, Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren, in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.
35. And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark.
36. But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Paphlugga, and went not with them to the work.
37. And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus.
38. And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.
41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Paul having circumcised Timothy, 7 and being called by the Spirit from one country to another, 14 converted Lydia, 16 casteth out a spirit of divination, 19 For which cause he and Silas are whipped and imprisoned. 26 The prison doors are opened. 31 The pillar is converted, 32 and they are delivered.

HEN came he to Derbe and Lystra: and beheld, a certain disciple was there, named Timotheus, the son of a certain woman which was a Jewess, and believed, but his father was a Greek;

2 Which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and took and circumcised him, because of the Jews which were in those quarters; for they knew all that his father was a Greek;

4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Jerusalem.

5 And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily,

6 Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia;

7 After they were come to Myasis, they assayed to go into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing by Myasis, came down to Troas.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.

10 And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavoured to go into Macedonia, assuredly gathering, that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis;

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony; and we were in that city abiding certain days.

13 And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.

14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us; whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

16 And it came to pass as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination, met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying;

17 The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.

18 And this did she many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And he came out the same hour.

19 And when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the marketplace unto the rulers, 20 And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city.

21 And teach customs which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans.

22 And the multitude rose up together against them; and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them.

23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailer to keep them safely;

24 Who having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

25 And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened, and every one's hands were loosed.

27 And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Silas;

30 And brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I do to be saved?

31 And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.
And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway.

And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.

And when it was day, the magistrates sent the sergeants, saying, Let those men go.

And the keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul. The magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore depart, and go in peace.

But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly uncondemned, being Romans, and have cast us into prison; and now do they thrust us out privily? nay verily; but let them come themselves and fetch us out.

And the sergeants told these words unto the magistrates: and they feared when they heard that they were Romans.

And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the city.

And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia: and when they had seen the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 Paul preacheth at Thessalonica, where some believe, and others persecute him. 10 He is sent to Berea, and preacheth there. 15 Being persecuted at Thessalonica, he goeth to Athens, and preacheth the living God to them unknown, whereby many are converted unto Christ.

Now when they had passed through Amphipolis, and Apolonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews.

And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath-days reasoned with them out of the scriptures, Opening and alleging, that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ.

And some of them believed, and consorted with Paul and Silas: and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.

But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

And when they found them not, they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned the world upside down, are come hither also;

Whom Jason hath received: and these all do contrary to the decrees of Cesar, saying, that there is another king, one Jesus.

And they troubled the people, and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

And when they had taken security of Jason and of the other, they let them go.

And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who coming thither, went into the synagogue of the Jews.

These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

Therefore many of them believed; also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men not a few.

But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul, to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

And they that conducted Paul brought him unto Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timotheus for to come to him with all speed, they departed.

Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry.

Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

Then certain philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoics, encountered him. And some said, What will this〈babbler say?〉 other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods; because he preacheth unto them Jesus, and the resurrection.

And they took him, and brought him unto Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is? For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.

(For all the Athenians and strangers which were there, spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to hear some new thing.)

Then Paul stood in the midst of the Mars-hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

For as I passed by, and beheld your altars with this inscription, TO THE UN KNOW GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.
24 *God that made the world, and all things therein, seeing that he is "Lord of heaven and earth," dwelleth not in temples made with hands;
25 Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;
26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation;
27 That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, "though he be not far from every one of us;"
28 For in him we live, and move, and have our being; *as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.
29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, *we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.
30 And that the times of ignorance God winked at; but *now commandeth all men every where to repent;
31 Because he hath appointed a day, in the which "he will judge the world in righteousness, by that man whom he hath ordained: whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.
32 *And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter.
33 So Paul departed from among them,
34 Howbeit, certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionsius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

3 Paul laboured with his hands, and preached at Corinth to the Gentiles. 9 The Lord encouraged him in a vision. 12 He was accused before Gallio the deputy, but is dismissed. 18 Afterward passing from city to city he strengthened the disciples. 24 Apollos, being more perfectly instructed by Aquila and Priscilla, 25 preacheth Christ with great efficacy.

FTER these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth;

2 And found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome,) and came unto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, 26 and wrought, (for by their occupation they were tent-makers.)

4 *And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

5 And *when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was "pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews, that Jesus was Christ.

6 And *when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, "he shook his raiment, and said unto them, *Your blood be upon your own heads: I am clean; *from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7 *And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house, named Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8 *And Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house: and many of the Corinthians hearing, believed, and were baptized.

9 Then *spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 *For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee, to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

11 And he continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 ¶ And when Gallio was the deputy of Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment-seat.

13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it: for I will be no judge of such matters.

16 And he drave them from the judgment-seat.

17 Then all the Greeks took *Sosiphenes, the chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment-seat. And Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 ¶ And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila: having shorn his head in 'Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer with them, he consented not:

21 But bade them farewell, saying, "I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you, if God will. And he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he had landed at Cesarea, and gone up and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there he departed and went over all the country of Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 ¶ And a certain Jew, named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue; whom, when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was disposed to pass into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him; who, when he was come, helped them much which had believed through grace.

28 For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures, that Jesus was Christ.

CHAPTER XIX.

6 The Holy Ghost is given by Paul's hands. 9 The Jews blaspheme his doctrine, which is confirmed by miracles. 13 The Jewish exorcists 16 are beaten by the devil. 19 Conquering tools are bound.

21 Demetrius, for love of gain, raiseth an uproar against Paul, 35 which is appeased by the town-cryers.

ND it came to pass, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts, came to Ephesus; and finding certain disciples,

2 He said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.

3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, Unto John's baptism.

4 Then said Paul, John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6 And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

8 And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

11 And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

12 So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs, or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13 ¶ Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was, leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 And many that believed came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19 Many of them also which used curious arts, brought their books together, and burned them before all men; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 ¶ So mightily grew the word of God, and prevailed.

21 ¶ After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome.

22 So he sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timotheus and Erastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small stir about that way.

24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain unto the craftsmen:

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth:

26 Moreover, ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying, that they be no gods which are made with hands.
27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at naught; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despaired, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion; and having caught Gallus and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered into the midst of the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and another: for the assembly was confused, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the town-clerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipping of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore, if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, let it be determined before the law; open let it be open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.

39 But if ye inquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

1 Paul goeth to Macedonia. 2 He celebrateth the Lord's supper, and preacheth. 3 Eutychus having fallen down dead, 10 is raised to life. 17 At Miletus he calleth the elders together, telleth them what shall befall to himself, 29 commeth God's flock to them, 39 warneth them of false teachers, 32 commeth them to God, 30 prayeth with them, and goeth his way.

ND after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and departed for to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece.

3 And there abide three months. And when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus.

5 These going before, tarried for us at Troas.

6 And we sailed away from Philippi, after the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days; where we abode seven days.

7 And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, (ready to depart on the morrow,) and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep; and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10 And Paul went down, and fell on him, saying, Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.

14 And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios; and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium; and the next day we came to Miletus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost.
17 ¶ And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church.
18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,
19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears and temptations, which betel me by the lying in wait of the Jews:
20 And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house,
21 Testifying both to the Greeks, and also to the Jews, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.
22 And now behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befal me there:
23 Save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying, that bonds and afflictions shall abide me.
24 But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.
25 And now behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.
26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men:
27 For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.
28 ¶ Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, whom he hath purchased with his own blood.
29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.
30 Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.
31 Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.
32 And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.
33 ¶ I have coveted no man’s silver, or gold, or apparel.
34 Yea, ye yourselves know, that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.
35 I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.
37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul’s neck, and kissed him.
38 Sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Paul will not by any means be disadoned from going to Jerusalem.
2 Philip’s daughter prophesees.
3 Paul cometh to Jerusalem:
27 where he is apprehended, and in great danger, 31 but by the chief captain is secured, and permitted to speak to the people.

And it came to pass, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto Coos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara:
2 And finding a ship sailing over unto Phnicia, we went aboard, and set forth.
3 Now when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unload her burden.
4 And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.
5 And when we had accomplished those days, we departed, and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city:
6 and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.
6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned home again.
7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.
8 And the next day we that were of Paul’s company departed, and came unto Cesarea; and we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, which was one of the seven; and abode with him.
9 And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy.
10 And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come unto us, he took Paul’s girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep, and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Cæsarea, and brought with them one Masane of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the elders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seeest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all zealous of the law:

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying, that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them;

24 Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may shave their heads: and all may know that those things whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which believe, we have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them, entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purificaiton, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him.

28 Crying out, Men of Israel, help. This is the man that teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place: and further, brought Greeks also into the temple; and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city, Trophimus, an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together; and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple. And forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar;

32 Who immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them. And when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chief captain came near and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains: and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was that he was borne of the soldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee? Who said, Caest thou speak Greek?

38 Art not thou that Egyptian which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?

39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee suffer me to speak unto the people.

40 And when he had given him license, Paul stood on the stairs, and beckoned with the hand unto the multitude. And when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 Paul declineth at large how he was converted to the faith, 17 and called to his apostleship. 22 At the very mention of the Gentiles, the people exclaim against him. 31 He should have been scourged; 36 but clashing the privilege of a Roman, he excepeth.
EN, brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence which I make now unto you.

2 (And when they heard that the spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he said,) 3 If am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city the feet of 4Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day,

4 And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: 6 from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them there which were there bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished.

6 And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.

7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus, and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there, 13 Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I took up my eyes.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers had chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard.

16 And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord.

17 And it came to pass, that, when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And I saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, they know that I am imprisoned, and 2beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee for hence unto the Gentiles.

22 And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not fit that he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air.

24 The chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be examined by scourging; that he might know wherefore they cried so against him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, 'Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?'

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Roman.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free-born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have [examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and set him down before them.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 As Paul pleaded his cause, 2Ananias commanded them to smite him. 3Dispersion among his accusers. 11 God encourage him. 14 The Jews' saying wait for Paul 20 is declared unto the chief captain. 27 He sendeth him to Felix the governor.

ND Paul, earnestly beholding the council, said, Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.

2 And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him, to smite him on the mouth.
3 Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou white wall; for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law!
4 And they that stood by, said, Revilest thou God's high priest?
5 Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, 'Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.'
6 But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.
7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees: and the multitude was divided.
8 So the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.
9 And there arose a great cry: and the Scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, 'We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, let us not fight against God.'
10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.
11 And the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.
12 And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying, that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.
13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.
14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.
15 Now therefore ye with the council signify to the chief captain, that he bring him down unto you to-morrow, as though ye would inquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.
16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.
17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him.
18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.
19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?
20 And he said, 'The Jews have agreed to desire thee, that thou wouldst bring down Paul to-morrow into the council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.
21 But do not thou yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.
22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, 'See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me."
23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night:
24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor.
25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:
26 Claudius Lysias, unto the most excellent governor Felix, salute.
27 'This man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then came I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Roman.
28 'And when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council:
29 Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death, or of bonds.
30 And when it was told me how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also, to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.
31 Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.
32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:
33 Who, when they came to Cesarea, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.
34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was.
And when he understood that he was of Cilicia;
35 I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also kept. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment-hall.

CHAPTER XXIV.
1 Paul being accused by Tertullus the same, 10 answereth for his life and doctrine. 24 He preacheth Christ to the governor and his wife. 26 The governor heareth for a while, but in vain. 27 At last, going out of his office, he leaveth Paul in prison.

And after five days, Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who accused the governor against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very deadly deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldst hear us of thy clemency a few words.

5 For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ring-leader of the sect of the Nazarenes:

6 Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have judged according to our law:

7 But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come unto thee; by examining of whom, thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying, That these things were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:

11 Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem for to worship.

12 And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and in the prophets:

15 And "have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, "that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16 And "herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.

17 Now, after many years, "I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.

18 Whereupon certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult:

19 "Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had ought against me.

20 Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil-doing in me, while I stood before the council.

21 Except it be for this one voice, that I cried, standing among them, "Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.

22 And when Felix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When "Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

23 And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister, or come unto him.

24 And after certain days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

27 But after two years Porcius Festus came into Felix' room: and Felix, "willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAPTER XXV.
2 The Jews accuse Paul before Festus. 8 He answereth for himself, and appeareth unto Cæsar. 14 Afterward Festus offered his master to King Agrippa, 23 and he is brought forth. 25 Festus cleareth him to have done nothing worthy of death.

OW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Cesarea to Jerusalem.

2 Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him.

3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, "laying wait in the way to kill him.
4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them more than ten days, he went down unto Cesarea; and the next day sitting on the judgment-seat, commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove;

8 While he answered for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar have I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus, willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesar's judgment-seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Cesar.

12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Cesar? unto Cesar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days, King Agrippa and Bernice came unto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had been there many days, Festus declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix:

15 About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have license to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore, when they were come hither, without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgment-seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth;

18 Against whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the judgment-seat, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to live any longer.

25 But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

CHAPTER XXVI.

2 Paul, in the presence of Agrippa, declared his life from his childhood, 12 and how unadvisedly he was convicted, and called to his apostleship, 21 Festus chargeth him to be mad, whereas he answereth modestly. 28 Agrippa is almost persuaded to be a Christian. 21 The whole company pronounce him innocent.

1 THEN Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself:

2 I think myself happy, King Agrippa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee, touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews:

3 Especially, because I know thee to be expert in all questions and causes which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.
4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews,
5 Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect of our religion, I lived a Pharisee.
6 And now I stand, and am judged for the hope of the promise made to God of our fathers:
7 Unto which promise 4our twelve tribes, instantly serving God 4day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, King Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews.
8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?
9 I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.
10 Which thing I also did in Jerusalem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them.
11 And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against me, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.
12 Whereupon, as I went to Damascus, with authority and commission from the chief priests, 13 At mid-day, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me, and them which journeyed with me.
14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.
15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.
16 But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, 4to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee;
17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, 4unto whom now I send thee,
18 4To open their eyes, and 4to turn them from darkness to light, and 4from the power of Satan unto God, 4that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and 4that inheritance among them which are 4sanctified by faith that is in me.
19 Whereupon, O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision:
20 But 4shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judea, and 4then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do 4works meet for repentance.

21 For these causes 4the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.
22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those 4which the prophets and 4Moses did say should come:
23 4That Christ should suffer, and 4that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and 4that he should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.
24 And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, 4thou art mad: much learning doth make thee mad.
25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus: but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.
26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely. For I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner.
27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.
28 Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.
29 And Paul said, 4I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.
30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them:
31 And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, 4This man doeth nothing worthy of death, or of bonds.
32 Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, 4if he had not appealed unto Cesar.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Paul shipping toward Rome, 4forty and fifth of the danger of the voyage, 4but is not believed. 4They are tossed to and fro with tempest, 411 and suffer shipwreck, 22, 23, 44 yet all come safe to land.

ND when it was determined, that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.

2 And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia, one Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.
3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius courteously received Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.
6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under Crete, over against Salmone:

8 And hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called, The Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasca.

9 Now, when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them,

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless, the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter; which is a haven of Crete, and lieth toward the south-west and north-west.

13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence, they sailed close by Crete.

14 But not long after there arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Cauda, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strike sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

19 And the third day we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship:

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer; for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

23 For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, 24 Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cæsar: and lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 Howbeit, we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country;

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest they should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship.

31 Paul said to the centurion, and to the soldiers. Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried, and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34 Wherefore I pray you to take some meat; for this is for your health: for there shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all; and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.

37 And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land; but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder-bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.

41 And falling into a place where two seas uct, "they ran the ship aground; and the forepart sunk fast, and remained unmoveable; but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.
42 And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out and escape.
43 But the centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that they which could swim, should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:
44 And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, "that they escaped all safe to land.

CHAPTER XXVIII.
1 And when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Mehetit.
2 And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness:
for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.
3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.
4 And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, thou, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengence suffereth not to live.
5 And he shook off the beast into the fire, and it felt no harm.
6 Howbeit, they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly:
but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.
7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius; who received us, and lodged us three days courteously.
8 And it came to pass, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever, and of a bloody flux:
to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and lay his hands on him, and healed him.
9 So when this was done, others also which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:
10 Who also honoured us with many honours;
and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.
11 And after three months we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Castor and Pollux.
12 And landing at Syracuse, we tarried there three days.
13 And from thence we fetched a compass, and came to Rhegium; and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli:
14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went toward Rome.
15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii forum, and The Three Taverns; whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.
16 And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himself, with a soldier that kept him.
17 And it came to pass, that after three days, Paul called the chief of the Jews together. And when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, though I have committed nothing against the people, or customs of our fathers, yet was I delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans:
18 Who when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.
19 But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Caesar; not that I had aught to accuse my nation of.
20 For this cause therefore have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you: because that for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.
21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters out of Judea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harm of thee.
22 But we desire to hear of thee, what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know that every where it is spoken against.
23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging: to whom he explained and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both of the law of Moses, and out of the prophets, from morning till evening.
24 And some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.
25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet unto our fathers,
26 Saying, 'Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand;' and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive.
27 For the heart of this people is waxed
CHAPTER 1.

GOD IS ANGRY WITH SIN.

Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.
30 And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all that came unto him.
31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

1 THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE ROMANS.

PAUL DECLARETH HIS APOSTLESHIP.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Paul commendeth his calling to the Romans, and his desire to come to them. (16 What his gospel is, and the righteousness which it sheweth. (28 God is angry with sin.

Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God.

Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh:

And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead:

And by whom we have received grace and apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations, for his name:

Among whom are ye also the called of Jesus Christ:

To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ:

First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world:

For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers:

Making request (if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God) to come unto you.

For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established;

12 That is, that I may be comforted together with you, by the mutual faith both of you and me.

13 Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (but was let hitherto) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

14 I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17 For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness.

19 Because that which may be known of God is manifest unto them; for God hath shewed it unto them.

20 For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse.

21 Because that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

22 Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools:

23 And changed the glory of God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and to beasts, and creeping things,
24 Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness, through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves:
25 Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.
26 For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections. For even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature:
27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was meet.
28 And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient:
29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; whisperers,
30 Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,
31 Without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:
32 Who, knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death; not only do the same, but also have pleasure in them that do them.

CHAPTER II.
1 They that are sinning, though they condemn them in others, cannot excuse themselves, and much less escape the judgment of God, 9 whereof they be Jews or Gentiles. 11 The Gentiles cannot escape, nor yet the Jews, 25 whose circumcision shall not profit, if they keep not the law.

WHEREFORE thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art, that judgest; 4 for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest, doest the same things.
2 But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth, against them which commit such things.
3 And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and dost the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?
4 Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness, and forbearance, and long-suffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?
5 But after thy hardiness and impenitent heart, treasur'st up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God;
6 Who will render to every man according to his deeds:
7 To them who by patient continuance in well-doing, seek for glory, honour, and immortality; eternal life:
8 But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness; indignation and wrath,
9 Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that worketh evil of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile;
10 But glory, and honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good; to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile;
11 For there is no respect of persons with God.
12 For as many as have sinned without law, shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned in the law, shall be judged by the law.
13 (For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.
14 For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these having not the law, are a law unto themselves:
15 Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another;) 16 In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel.

17 Behold, thou art called a Jew, and restest in the law, and makest thy boast of God,
18 And knowest his will, and approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law,
19 And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,
20 An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast not the form of knowledge, and of the truth in the law;
21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thinkest thou preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal?
22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege?
23 Thou that makest thy boast of the law, breaking through the law dishonourest thou God?
24 For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles, through you, as it is written.
25 For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou
CHAPTER III.

THE JEW'S PRELIMINARY.

CHAPTER III.

The Jews were the object of God's grace and mercy.

1. The Jews' preluminary: 3 which they have not lost; 9 howbeit the law concemeth them also of sin: 20 therefore no flesh is justified by the law, 28 but all, without difference, by faith only: 34 and yet the law is not abolished.

1 WHAT advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?

2 Much every way: chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God.

3 For what if 'some did not believe? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, 'That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.

5 But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man.)

6 God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?

7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

8 And not rather, (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say,) 'Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

9 What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that 'they are all under sin:

10 As it is written, 'There is none righteous, no, not one:

11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

13 Their throat is an open sepulchre: with their tongues they have used deceit: the poison of asps is under their lips:

14 'Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness,

15 Their feet are swift to shed blood,

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways:

17 And the way of peace have they not known.

18 'There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that 'every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become 'guilty before God.

20 Therefore 'by the deeds of the law, there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for 'by the law is the knowledge of sin.

21 But now 'the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, 'being witnessed by the law 'and the prophets:

22 Even the righteousness of God, which is 'by faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe; for 'there is no difference:

23 For 'all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;

24 Being justified freely 'by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

25 Whom God hath set forth 'to be a propitiation, through faith 'in his blood, to declare his righteousness 'for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;

26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the 'justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

27 'Where is boasting then? is it excluded. By what law? of works? Nay; but by the law of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude, 'that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

29 Is he the God of the Jews only? 'is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:

30 Seeing 'it is one God which shall justify 'the circumcision by faith, and unciemuniseation through faith.

31 Do we then make void the law through faith? 'God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

CHAPTER IV.

Abraham's faith was imputed to him for righteousness, 10 before he was circumcised. 13 By faith only he and his seed received the promise. 16 Abraham is the father of all that believe. 20 Our faith also shall be imputed to us for righteousness.

W HAT shall we then say that 'Abraham, our father as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?

2 For if Abraham were 'justified by works, he hath whereof to glory, but not before God.
3 For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

4 Now to him that worketh, is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works,

7 Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

9 Comeeth this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? For we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11 And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised, that righteousness might be imputed unto them also;

12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.

13 For the promise that he should be the heir of the world was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect.

15 Because the law worketh wrath: where no law is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed: not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,

17 (As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) of whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations; according to that which was spoken, so shall thy seed be.

19 And being not weak in faith, he considered not the deadness of Sarah's womb.

20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21 And being fully persuaded, that what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him:

24 But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised Jesus our Lord from the dead, 25 Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification.

CHAPTER V.

1 Being justified by faith, we have peace with God, and joy in our hope, that since we were reconciled by his blood, when we were enemies, we should be reconciled. As sin and death came by Adam, so much more righteousness and life by Jesus Christ. Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound.

HEREFORE being justified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ;

2 By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

3 And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also; knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

4 And patience, experience; and experience, hope;

5 And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.

6 For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly.

7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8 But God commendeth his love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9 Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10 For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son; much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

11 And not only so, but we also joy in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.

12 Wherefore as by one man sin entered into the world, and "death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, [for that all have sinned:"
13. (For until the law, sin was in the world; but sin is not imputed when there is no law.
14. Nevertheless, death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.
15. But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.
16. And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift. For the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.
17. For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.)
18. Therefore, as [by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation, even so [by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life.
19. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.
20. Moreover the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound:
21. That as sin by one man reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life, by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VI.
The likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:
6. Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.
7. For we that are dead are set free from sin.
8. Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:
9. Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.
10. For in that he died, he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.
11. Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.
12. Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.
13. Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God:
14. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.
15. What then? We shall sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace! God forbid.
16. Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants of sin, these ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?
17. But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin; but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you.
18. Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.
19. I speak after the manner of men, because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity, even so now yield your members servants to righteousness, unto holiness.
20. For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness.
21. What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.
22. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.
23. For the wages of sin is death: but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VII.
1. No law hath power over a man longer than he liveth. 4. But we are dead to the law. 7. Yet is not the law sin, 12 but holy, just, good. 18 As I acknowledge, who am accused because I cannot keep it.
NOW ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth?

2 For the woman which hath a husband, is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then, if while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law: so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ: that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in us, to bring forth fruit unto death:

6 But now we are delivered from the law, wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known sin, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet.

8 But sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law sin was dead.

9 For I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

10 And the commandment, which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

11 For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12 Wherefore the law is holy, and the commandment holy, just, and good.

13 Was then that which is good made death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin.

15 For that which I do, I allow not: for what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good, I find not.

19 For the good that I would, I do not; but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I delight in the law of God, after the inward man:

23 But I see another law in my members warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?

25 Who shall deliver me from the body of this death, I know not.

26 I am passing through人生 with the help of the Spirit, according to the law of God, which gives me life through the Spirit.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 They that are in Christ, and live according to the Spirit, are free from condemnation.

2 For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.

3 For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and with sin, condemned sin in the flesh:

4 That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the flesh, do mind the things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace:

7 Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now, if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raised up
Jesus from the dead dwell in you, the that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies || by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore, brethren, we are debtors not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die; but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

15 For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

16 The Spirit itself bears witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God:

17 And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, which may be also glorified together.

18 For I reckon, that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19 For the earnest expectation of the creation waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God.

20 For the creation was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but because of him who hath subjected the same in hope;

21 Because the creation itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that the whole creation groaneth, and travaileth in pain together until now:

23 And not only they, but ourselves, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope. But the hope that is seen, is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for, as we ought: but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

27 And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for us with groanings according to the will of God.

28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.

29 For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first-born among many brethren.

30 Moreover, whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified; and whom he justified, them he also glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?

32 He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth:

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ! shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

36 As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long: we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us.

38 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.
7 Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, In Isaac shall thy seed be called.

8 That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed.

9 For this is the word of promise, 'At this time will I come, and Sarah shall have a son.'

10 And not only this; but when Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac, it's double purpose was fulfilled, so that not of the will of man, but of the will of God, shall the prophecies come to pass.

11 (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God, according to election, might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth:) 12 It was said unto her, 'The elder shall serve the younger.' 13 As it is written, 'Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.' 14 What shall we say then? 'Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.' 15 For he saith to Moses, 'I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

17 For 'the scripture saith unto Pharoah, 'Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? for 'who hath resisted his will?'

20 Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

22 What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endureth with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction?

23 And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory.

24 Even us, whom he hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles.

25 As he saith also in Osee, 'I will call them my people, which were not my people; and her beloved, which was not beloved,' 26 And it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there shall they be called, The children of the living God.

27 Esaias also cried concernig Israel, 'Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved.' 28 For he will finish the work, and cut it short in righteousness: 'because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth.

29 And as Esaias said before, 'Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed, we had been as Sodoma, and been made like unto Gomorrah.'

30 What shall we say then? 'That the Gentiles which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith:'

31 But Israel, 'which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness.'

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For they stumbled at that stumbling-stone;

33 As it is written, 'Behold, I lay in Sion a stumbling-stone, and rock of offence: and he whom the Lord shall bruise shall be chief.'

CHAPTER X.

5 The scripture shall be fulfilled which saith, 'The righteousness of God is revealed through faith in Jesus Christ, to the Gentiles, and the preaching of the good news to every one that believeth.'

RETtREn, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

2 For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, not according to knowledge.

3 For they, being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.

4 For 'Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.'

5 For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, 'That the man which doeth those things shall live by them.'

6 But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, 'Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above:)

7 Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring Christ again from the dead.)

8 But what saith it? 'The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach: 9 That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.
10 For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth, confession is made unto salvation.
11 For the scripture saith, 'Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.'
12 For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all, is rich unto all that call upon him.
13 'For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.
14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?
15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, 'How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!'
16 But 'they have not all obeyed the gospel,' For Esaias saith, 'Lord, who hath believed our report?'
17 So then, faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.
18 But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, 'their sound went out unto all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.'
19 But I say, Did not Israel know? First, Moses saith, 'I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.'
20 But Esaias is very bold, and saith, 'I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.
21 But to Israel he saith, 'All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.'

CHAPTER XI

1 God hath not cast off all Israel. 2 Some were elected, though the rest were hardened. 10 There is hope of their conversion. 18 The Gentiles may not profit upon them: 26 for there is a promise of their salvation. 33 God's judgments are unsearchable.

SAY then, 'Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.
2 God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew: Wot ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying,
3 'Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seek my life.
4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? 'I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.

5 Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.
6 And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.
7 What then? 'Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were earthly, 8 (According as it is written, 'God hath given them the spirit of [b]sneak, [a]eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear:) unto this day.
9 And David saith, 'Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling-block, and a recompence unto them; 18 'Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back always.
11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.
12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the [a]diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness?
13 For I speak to you Gentiles, as much as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office; 14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and [b]might save some of them.
15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?
16 For if the first fruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.
17 And if some of the branches be broken off, 'and thou, being a wild olive-tree, wert grafted in between among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive-tree; 18 Be not ye therefore indignant against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.
19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, and I might be grafted in. 20 Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not high-minded, but fear:
21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.
22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the olive-tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive-tree; how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive-tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, (lest ye should be wise in your own conceits,) that blindness in part has happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, 'There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob':

27 'For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.'

28 As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes.

29 For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.

30 For as ye 'in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief;'

31 Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

32 For 'God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.'

33 O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and 'his ways past finding out!'

34 'For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?'

35 Or 'who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?'

36 'For of him, and through him, and to him are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER XII.

1 God's mercies must move us to please God. 2 No man must think too well of himself, but attend every one on that calling wherein he is placed. Love, and many other duties, are required of us. Revenge is specially forbidden.

1 BESEECH you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, 'that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.'

2 And 'he not conform to this world: but ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.'

3 For I say, 'through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think: but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.'

4 For 'as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office: '

5 So 'we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.'

6 'Having then gifts, differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophecy according to the proportion of faith;'

7 Or ministry, let us wait on our ministering: or 'he that teacheth, on teaching:'

8 Or 'he that exhorteth, on exhortation: 'he that 'giveth, let him do it with simplicity: he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.

9 'Let love be without dissimulation. 'Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10 'Be kindly affectioned one to another; 'with brotherly love; 'in honour preferring one another;

11 Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord;

12 'Rejoicing in hope: 'patient in tribulation; 'continuing instant in prayer;

13 'Distributing to the necessity of saints; 'given to hospitality;

14 'Bless them which persecute you; 'bless, and curse not.

15 'Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.

16 'Be of the same mind one toward another. 'Mind not high things, but 'condescend to men of low estate. 'Be not wise in your own conceits.

17 'Recompense to no man evil for evil. 'Provide things honest in the sight of all men.

18 If it be possible, as much as in you, 'live peaceably with all men.'

19 Deadly beloved, 'avengenot yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, 'Vengeance is mine; I will repay, said the Lord.'

20 'Therefore, if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if thine thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.'

162
Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Subjectum, and many other duties, we owe to the magistrates. 8 Law to the fulfilling of the law. 11 Charity and drunkenness, and the works of darkness, are out of season in the time of the gospel.

1 Every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, he is the minister of God to thee for evil.

5 Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake.

6 For this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9 For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not bear false witness. Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, "Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

11 And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time 1 to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12 The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light.

13 Let us walk honestly, as in the day: not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying.

14 But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Men may not continue nor condemn one the other for things indifferent: but take heed that they give no offence in them: for that the apostle proveth unadvisedly by many reasons.

2 For one believeth that he may eat all things; another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

3 Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4 Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth: yea, be he shall be held up; for God is able to make him stand.

5 One man estemeth one day above another: another estemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind.

6 He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it.

7 He that eateth eateth to the Lord, for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

8 For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

9 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

10 But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at naught thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, "As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12 So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling-block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.

14 I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walketh thou not 3dcharitably, Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.

16 "Let not then your good be evil spoken of;
17 For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.
18 For he that in these things serveth Christ, is acceptable to God, and approved of men.
19 Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.
20 For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure; but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.
21 It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumblieth, or is offended, or is made weak.
22 Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.
23 And he that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER XV.
1 The strong must bear with the weak. 2 We must not please ourselves, for Christ did not so; but receive one another, as Christ did us all, 8 both Jews and Gentiles. 15 Paul exhorteth his writing, 28 and promiseth to them, 30 and requesteth their prayers.
2 Let then that are strong ought bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.
3 Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification.
4 For even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, "The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.
5 For whatsoever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scripture might have hope.
6 Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be like-minded one toward another; according to Christ Jesus:
7 That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.
8 Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us, to the glory of God.
9 Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers:
10 And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, "For this cause will I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.
11 And again he saith, "Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.
12 And again Esaias saith, "There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust.
13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.
14 And "I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.
15 Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to me of God,
16 That I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.
17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ, in those things which pertain to God.
18 For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed.
19 "Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.
20 Yea, so have I striven to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation;
21 But as it is written, "To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.
22 For which cause also I have been much hindered from coming to you.
23 But now having no more place in these parts, and having a great desire these many years to come unto you;
24 Whencesoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your company.
25 But now I go unto Jerusalem to minister unto the saints.
26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.
27 It hath pleased them verily; and their debtors they are. For "if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.

164
Paul sendeth divers salutations.

CHAPTER XVI.

HE CONCLUDETH WITH PRAISE TO GOD.

23. When therefore I have performed this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

24. And I am sure that when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

25. Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ’s sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me;

26. That I may be delivered from them that do not believe in Judæa; and that my service which I have for Jerusalem, may be accepted of the saints;

27. That I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.

I COMMEND unto you Phœbe our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at Cenchrea:

2. That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you: for she hath been a succourer of many, and of myself also.

3. Greet Priscilla and Aquila, my helpers in Christ Jesus:

4. Who have for my life laid down their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles.

5. Likewise greet the church that is in their house. Salute my well-beloved Epenetus, who is the first-fruits of Achaia unto Christ.

6. Greet Mary, which bestowed much labour on us.

7. Salute Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen, and my fellow-prisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also were in Christ before me.

8. Greet Amplias my beloved in the Lord.

9. Salute Urbanæ, our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloved.

10. Salute Apelles approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus household.

11. Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them that be of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord.

12. Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, which laboured much in the Lord.

13. Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14. Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermæs, and the brethren which are with them.

15. Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints which are with them.

16. Salute one another with a holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you.

17. Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences, contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them.

18. For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly: and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.

19. For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you wise to that which is good, and simple concerning evil.

20. And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

21. Timotheus my work-fellow, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater, my kinsmen, salute you.

22. I Tertius, who wrote this epistle, salute you in the Lord.

23. Gaius mine host, and of the whole church, saluteth you. Erastus the chamberlain of the city saluteth you. Quartus a brother.

24. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

25. Now to him that is of power to establish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began,

26. But now is made manifest, and by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all nations for the obedience of faith:

27. To God only wise, be glory through Jesus Christ for ever. Amen.

0 Written to the Romans from Corinthus, and sent by Phœbe servant of the church at Cenchrea.
1 THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE CORINTHIANS.

CHAPTER I.

After his salutation and thanksgiving, to be exhorteth them to unity, and 12 reproacheth their divisions. 13 God destroyeth the wisdom of the wise, 21 by the foolishness of preaching, and 26 calleth not the wise, mighty, and noble, but 27, 28 the foolish, weak, and mean of no account.

1 PAUL, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and brother, 2 Unto the church which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours;

3 Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ;

5 That in every thing ye be enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge;

6 Even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you:

7 So that ye come behind in no gift, waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ;

8 Who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you: but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind, and in the same judgment.

11 For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ.

13 Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gaius;

15 Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name.

16 And I baptized also the household of Stephanas; besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel; with wisdom of words, but unto us which are saved, it is the power of God.

19 For it is written, 'I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

22 For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom.

23 But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumbling-block, and unto the Greeks foolishness;

24 But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, nor many noble are called:

27 But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty;

28 And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to naught things that are:

29 That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and rightousness, and sanctification, and redemption:

31 That, according as it is written, 'He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.
1 AND I, brethren, when I came to you, I came not with excellency of speech, or of wisdom, declaring unto you 'the testimony of God.

2 For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 And I was with you 'in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4 And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit, and of power:

5 That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but 'in the power of God.

6 Howbeit, we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not 'the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, 'that come to naught:

7 But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, 'even the hidden wisdom 'which God ordained before the world unto our glory;

8 'Which none of the princes of this world knew: for 'had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 But as it is written, 'Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

10 But 'God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? 'even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but 'the Spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

13 'Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 'But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: 'for they are foolishness unto him: 'neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 'But he that is spiritual 'judgeth all things, yet he himself is 'judged of no man.

16 'For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? 'But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAPTER III.

Christ the only foundation.

1 AND I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Christ.

2 I have fed you with milk, and not with meat: 'for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet carnal: for 'whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk 'as men!

4 For while one saith, 'I am of Paul; and another, 'I am of Apollos; are ye not carnal?

5 Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers by whom ye believed, 'even as the Lord gave to every man?

6 I have planted, 'Apollos watered: 'but God gave the increase.

7 So then, 'neither is he that planteth anything, nor he that watereth: 'but God that giveth the increase.

8 Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: and every man shall receive his own reward, according to his own labour.

9 For 'we are labourers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.

10 'According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise master-builder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. 'But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11 For other foundation can no man lay than 'that is laid, 'which is Jesus Christ.

12 Now if any man build upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;

13 'Every man's work shall be made manifest: 'for the day shall declare it, because 'it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work, of what sort it is.

14 'If any man's work abide which he hath builded thereupon, 'he shall receive a reward.

15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss; but he himself shall be 'saved: yet so as by fire.

16 'Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy: 'for the temple of God is holy, which 'temple ye are.

18 'Let no man deceive himself. 'If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.
19 For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.
20 And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.
21 Therefore let no man glory in men: for all things are yours;
22 Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours;
23 And ye are Christ's: and Christ is God's.

CHAPTER IV.
1 In what account the ministers ought to be hold. 2 We have no thing which we have not received. 3 The apostles spectacle to the world, angels, and men, 13 the fifth and off-scouring of the world; 14 yet our fathers in Christ, 15 whom we ought to follow.

ET a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, 2 and stewards of the mysteries of God.
2 Moreover, it is required in stewards that a man be found faithful.
3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self.
4 For I know nothing by myself; yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.
5 Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, 1 who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and then shall every man have praise of God.
6 And these things, brethren, 4 I have in a figure transferred to myself, and to Apollos, for your sakes: 7 that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.
8 For who maketh thee to differ from another? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?
9 Now ye are full, full ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you.
10 For I think that God hath set forth us apostles last, 4 as it were appointed to death: 1 for we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.
11 2 We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; 2 we are weak, but ye are strong; 3 ye are honorable, but we are despised.
12 4 Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and 5 are naked, and 6 are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place;
13 7 And labour, working with our own hands. 8 Being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it;
14 Being defamed, we entreat: 9 we are made as the filth of the world, and are the off-scouring of all things unto this day.
15 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sons I warn you.
16 For though ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel.
17 Wherefore, I beseech you, be ye followers of me.
18 For this cause have I sent unto you Timotheus, 1 who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my ways which I have in Christ, as I teach every where in every church.
19 Now some are puffed up, as though I would not come to you.
20 But I will come to you shortly, 7 if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.
21 For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.
22 What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER V.
1 The incestuous person is a cause rather of shame unto them, than of reproving. 2 The old leaven is to be purged out. 3 Heinous offenders are to be shamed and avoided.
2 It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.
3 And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.
4 For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have judged already as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed.
5 In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, 7 with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,
6 To deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.
7 Your glorying is not good. Know ye not, that a little leaven leaveth the whole lump?
 Against Going to Law.

CHAPTER VI.

1. The Corinthians must not vex their brethren, in going to law with them; for especially under the law. 2. The unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God. 3. Our bodies are the members of Christ, and temples of the Holy Ghost. 4. They must not therefore be defiled.

Are any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints? 2. Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world, and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? 3. Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more, things that pertain to this life! 4. If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church. 5. I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you, no, not one that be able to judge between his brethren?

6. But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers. 7. Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to low one with another. 4. Why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?

8. Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren.

9. Ye know not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor abusers of themselves with mankind.

10. Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11. And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12. All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient; all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13. Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and for the Lord is the body one spirit.

14. And God hath both raised up the Lord, and also the fornicators, unto a harlot; and God forbid.

15. What! know ye not that he which is joined to a harlot is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

16. But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.

17. And if this world be not enough to judge the flesh, yet shall I withdraw, and they that have judgment of this world, shall judge your flesh: how much more that which is in another spirit?

Against Fornication.

CHAPTER VII.

1. He that receiveth her, receiveth not sin; but he that sends her forth committeth fornication. 2. Every sin that a man doth, is without the body; but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his own body.

3. What! know ye not that he which is joined to a harlot is not the Lord? 4. For ye are bought with a price. Therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: 5. It is good for a man not to touch a woman. 6. Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

7. Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

8. The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5 'Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that 'Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6 But I speak this by permission, 'and not of commandment.

7 For I would that all men were even as I myself. But every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, 'It is good for them if they abide even as I.

9 But 'if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

10 And unto the married I command, 'yet not I, but the Lord, 'Let not the wife depart from her husband;

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband; and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, 'not the Lord, If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath a husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else 'were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases; but God hath called us 'unto peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt 'save thy husband? or 'how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt 'save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And so ordain I in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19 'Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but 'the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a servant? care not for it; but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is 'the Lord's *freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is 'Christ's servant.

23 'Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, 'let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins, 'I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment as one 'that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present distress; I say, 'that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless, such shall have trouble in the flesh; but I spare you.

29 But 'this I say, brethren, The time is short. It remaineth, that both they that have wives, be as though they had none;

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

31 And they that use this world, as not abusing it. For 'the fashion of this world passeth away.

32 But I would have you without carefulness. 'He that is unmarried, careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord;

33 But he that is married, careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself unworthily toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sineth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless, he that standeth steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.

38 'So then he that giveth her in marriage doeth well; but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.
CHAPTER VIII.

1 To abstain from meats offered to idols. 8, 9 We must not abuse our Christian liberty, to the offense of our brethren; 11 but must bridle our knowledge with charity.

1 NOW, as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge.

2 Knowledges pull eth up, but charity edifieth.

3 But if any man love God, the same is known of him.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many.)

6 But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 Howbeit, there is not in every man that knowledge: for some with conscience of the idol unto this hour eat it as a thing offered unto an idol: and their conscience, being weak, is defiled.

8 But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither if we eat care we the better; neither if we eat not, care we the worse.

9 But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling-block to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee, which hast knowledge, sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak be embazoned to eat those things which are offered to idols?

11 And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

12 But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13 Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAPTER IX.

1 He sheweth his liberty, and that the minister ought to live by the gospel: 15 yet that himself hath of his own accord abstained 18 to be either chargeable unto them, 22 or offensive unto any, in matters indifferent. 21 Our life is like unto a race.
dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.
13 What is my reward then? Verily that, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not my power in the gospel.
14 For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more.
15 And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law;
16 To them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law.
17 To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some.
18 And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.
19 Know ye not, that they which run in a race, run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain.
20 And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now do they it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible.
21 Therefore run, not as uncertainly; but so as they who run to obtain a prize.
22 But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means when I have preached to others, I myself should be a cast-away.

CHAPTER X.

1 The sacraments of the Jews are types of ours, 7 and their punishments, 11 examples for us. 11 We must fly from idolatry. 21 We must not make the Lord's table the table of devils. 24 and all things indifferent we must have regard of our brethren.

OREOVER, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea;
2 And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea;
3 And did all eat the same spiritual meat;
4 And did all drink the same spiritual drink: (for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ.)
5 But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness.
6 Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.
7 Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them: as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.
8 Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand.
9 Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.
10 Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

11 Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for us: 12 upon whom the ends of the world are come.
13 Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall.
14 There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.
15 Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry.
16 I speak as to wise men; judge ye what I say.
17 The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?
18 For we are many one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.
19 Behold Israel after the flesh: are not they which eat of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar?
20 But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.
21 Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.
22 Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than he?
23 All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not.
24 Let no man seek his own, every man another's wealth.
25 Whosoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no questions for conscience sake:
26 For the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof.
27 If any of them that believe not bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to go: whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say unto you, This is offered in sacrifice unto idols, eat not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake; for the earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof:

29 Conscience, I say, not thine own, but of the other; for why is my liberty judged of another man's conscience?

30 For if I by grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of for that for which I give thanks!

31 Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32 Give none offense, neither to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God:

33 Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAPTER XI

He reproved them, because in holy assemblies they caused persons with their heads covered, and women with their heads uncovered, and therefore their meetings were not for the better. For many in the church have a liberty of eating and drinking, as they please. Lastly, he calls them to the first institution thereof.

1 Followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.

2 Now I praise you, brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and keep the ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

3 But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man; and the head of Christ is God.

4 Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered, dishonoureth her head: for that is even all one as if she were shaven.

6 For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it be a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

7 For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God; but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

9 Neither was the man created for the woman, but the woman for the man.

10 For this cause ought the woman to have power on her head, because of the angels.

11 Nevertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, even so is the man also by the woman; but all things of God.

13 Judge in yourselves: Is it comely that a woman pray to God uncovered?

14 Dost not even nature itself teach you, that if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?

15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her; for her hair is given her for a covering.

16 But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.

17 Now in this that I declare unto you, I praise you not, that ye came together not for the better, but for the worse.

18 For first of all, when ye came together in the church, I hear that there be divisions among you; and I partly believe it.

19 For there must be also hierarchies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper.

21 For in eating every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 What! have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or desir ye the church of God, and shame ye them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For I have received of the Lord, that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread:

24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

27 Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

30 For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.
31 For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

32 But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.

34 And if any man hunger, let him eat at home; that ye come not together unto condemnation. And the rest "will I set in order when I come.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Spiritual gifts are four are divers, 7 yet all to profit withal. 8 And to that end are diversely bestowed: 12 that by the like proportion, as the members of a natural body tend all to the 16 mutual decency, 32 service, and 36 success of the same body; 27 so we should do one for another, to make up the mystical body of Christ.

Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant:

2 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these "dumb idols, even as ye were led.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, 4 that no man speaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Jesus "accursed; and 4 that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost. 4 Now 4 there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

5 4 And there are differences of 6 administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all.

7 4 But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

8 For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another, the word of knowledge by the same Spirit;

9 to another, faith by the same Spirit; to another, the gifts of healing by the same Spirit;

10 to another, the working of miracles; to another, prophecy; to another, discerning of spirits; to another, divers kinds of tongues; to another, the interpretation of tongues.

11 But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ.

13 For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or whether we be Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God set the members every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are many members, yet one body.

21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

22 Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary:

23 And those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.

24 For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

25 That there should be no 12 schism in the body: but that the members should have the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

27 Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.

28 And 4 God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles? 30 Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But covet earnestly the best gifts.

And yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 All gifts, 3 how excellent soever, are nothing without charity. 4 The grace thereof, and 13 prelusion before hope and faith.

Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.
THE PREFERENCE OF CHARITY.

CHAPTER XIV.

OF PROPHECY, AND OF TONGUES.

3 And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

5 Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;

6 Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth;

7 Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 For now we see through a glass, dimly: but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Prophecy is commended, 2, 3, 4 and preferred after speaking with tongues, 6 by a companion drawn from musical instruments. 12 Both must be referred to edification, 22 as to their true and proper end. 36 The true use of each is taught, 27 and the abuse taxed. 34 Women are forbidden to speak in the church.

FOLLOW after charity, and desire spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy.

2 For he that speaketh in an unknown tongue, speaketh not unto men, but unto God; for no man understandeth him; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied; for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

6 Now, brethren, if I come unto you speak-
23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad?
24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all:
25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so falling down on his face, he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth.
26 How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done edifying.
27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret.
28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.
29 Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge.
30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.
31 For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.
32 And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.
33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.
34 Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as saith the law.
35 And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.
36 What? came the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only?
37 If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritistical, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord.
38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.
39 Wherefore, brethren, covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.
40 Let all things be done decently, and in order.

CHAPTER XV.

3 By Christ's resurrection, 12 he proveth the necessity of our resurrection, against all such as deny the resurrection of the body, 21. The fruit, 35 and manner thereof, 51, and of the changing of them, that shall be found alive at the last day.

MOREOVER, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand;
2 By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain.

3 For I delivered unto you first of all, that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures;
4 And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures:

5 And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve:
6 After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.
7 After that, he was seen of James; then of all the apostles.
8 And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time.
9 For I am the least of all the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.
10 But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me, was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.
11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believe.
12 Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?
13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen:
14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.
15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we have testified of God that he raised up Christ; whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.
16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised:
17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain: ye are yet in your sins.
18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished.
19 If in this life only, we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.
20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept.
21 For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.
22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.
23 But every man in his own order: Christ the first-fruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming.
Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father: when he shall have put down all rule, and all authority, and power.

For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.

For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.

And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subjected unto that he put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

Else what shall they do, which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?

And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?

I protest by the rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, even so die daily.

If I am 'the manner of men, I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantage had I if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink: for to-morrow we die.

Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.

Awake to righteousness, and sin not: for some have not the knowledge of God. I speak this to your shame.

But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?

Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened except it die:

And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain; it may change of wheat, or of some other grain:

But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.

All flesh is not the same flesh; but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.

There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.

So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruption:

It is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power:

It is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; and the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.

Howbeit, that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and after that which is spiritual.

The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.

As is the earthy, such are we also. And as is the heavenly, such are we also that are heavenly.

And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither corruption inherit incorruption.

Behold, I shew you a mystery: We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,

In a moment, in the twinkle of an eye, at the last trump: For the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.

O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?

The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.

But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory, through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.

Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.

And if it be he that I go also, they shall go with me.
5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.

6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.

7 For I will not see you now by the way: but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.

8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.

9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries. 10 Now if Timothy come, see that he may be with you, without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

14 Let all your things be done with charity.

5 I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first-fruits of Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to the ministry of the saints.)

6 That ye submit yourselves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us, and laboureth.

17 I am glad of the coming of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part, they have supplied.

18 For they have refreshed my spirit and yours: therefore acknowledge ye them that are such.

19 The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house.

20 All the brethren greet you. Greet ye one another with a holy kiss.

21 The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand.

22 If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema, Maranatha.

23 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

24 My love be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

The second epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi, by Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timothy.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE CORINTHIANS.

CHAPTER I.

3 The apostle encourages them against troubles, by the comfort and deliverances which God had given them, as in all his afflictions, 8 so particularly in his late danger in Asia. 12 And calling both his own conscience and theirs to witness of his sincere manner of preaching the immutable truth of the gospel, 15 he exhorteth his not coming to them, as proceeding not of lightness, but of his intent toward them.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which [is] effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 And our hope of you is steadfast, knowing, that as ye be partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, have ye ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Paul asserteth his sincerity.

CHAPTER II.

THE INCESTUOUS PERSON FORGIVEN.

But I determined this with myself, "that I would not come again to you in heaviness.

2 For if I make you sorry, who is he that maketh me glad, but that same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote the same unto you, lest when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; as not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

6 Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.

7 So that contrariwise, ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

8 Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him.

9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes I forgave it in the person of Christ;

11 Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord, 13 "I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia.

14 Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15 For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish:

16 'To the one we are the savour of death unto death: and to the other the savour of life unto life.

17 For we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God; but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we [in Christ.

CHAPTER III.

1 Last their false teachers should charge him with vanity, he showeth the faith and graces of the Corinthians to be a sufficient commendation of his ministry. 2 Whereupon entering a comparison between the ministers of the law and of the gospel, 12 he proves that his ministry is so far the more excellent, as the gospel of life and liberty is more glorious than the law of condemnation.

1 DO we begin again to commend ourselves! or need we, as some others, epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2 Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men:

3 Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the heart.

4 And such trust have we through Christ to God-ward:

5 Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God;

6 Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit; for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.

7 But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away:

8 How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious!

9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory.

10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech:

13 And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not steadfastly look to the end of that which is abolished:

14 But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Christ.

15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.

16 Nevertheless, when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.

17 Now the Lord is that Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18 But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He declareth how he hath used all sincerity and faithful diligence in preaching the gospel, and how the troubles and persecutions which he only endured for the same did redound to the praise of God's power, 12 to the benefit of the Church, 16 and to the apostle's own eternal glory.

1 Herefore, seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not;

2 But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty; not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but, by manifestation of the truth, commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.

3 But if our gospel be hid, 'tis hid to them that are lost:

4 In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

5 For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves our servants for Jesus' sake.

6 For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

8 We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair;

9 Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

10 Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.

11 For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12 So then death worketh in us, but life in you.

13 We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, 'I believed, and therefore have I spoken;' we also believe, and therefore
CHAPTER V.
1 That in his assured hope of immortal glory, 9 and in expectation of it, and of the general judgment, he laboured to keep a good conscience, 12 not that he might heap burnt-offering, but as one who, having received life from Christ, endeavoured to live as a new creature to Christ only, 13 and by his ministry of reconciliation to reconcile others also in Christ to God.
11 For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.
12 For in this we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:
13 If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked.
14 For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.
15 Now he that hath wrought us for the self-same thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.
16 Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord:
17 (For we walk by faith, not by sight:)
18 We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.
19 Wherefore we labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.
20 For we must all appear before the judgment-seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.
21 Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.
22 For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.
23 That therefore we may be trusted also in the things so concerning you, 24 For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that one died for all, then were all died:
25 And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.
26 Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yet, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.
27 Therefore, if any man be in Christ, 28 he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.
28 And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;
29 To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.
30 Now are we ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.
31 For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

CHAPTER VI.
1 That he hath appeared to himself a faithful minister of Christ, both by his revelations, and by the glory of life, and by patient enduring all kinds of affliction and discouragements for the gospel.
10 Of which he speaketh the more boldly amongst them, because his heart was open to them, 13 and he expected the like affection from them again. 14 Exhorting to live the society and pollutions of polluters, as being themselves temples of the living God.
15 E then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.
2 For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.
3 Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:
4 But in all things approving ourselves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,
5 In stripes, in imprisonments, in toils, in labours, in watchings, in fasting:
151
6 By pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned.
7 "By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left.
8 By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and yet true;
9 As unknown, and yet well known; "as dying, and behold, we live; "as chastened, and not killed:
10 As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.
11 O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged.
12 Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your own bowels.
13 Now for a recompense in the same, (as I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.
14 "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?
15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?
16 And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, "I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.
17 "Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you;
18 "And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

HAVING therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.
3 I speak not this to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with Christ.
4 "Great is my boldness of speech toward you, "great is my glojoy, and their deep poverty, abounded unto the riches of their liberality.

3 For to their power, I hear record, yea, and beyond their power, they were willing of themselves:

4 Praying us with much importunity, that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God:

6 Insomuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

7 Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also.

8 I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 And herein I give my advice; for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago.

11 Now therefore perform the doing of it; that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have.

12 For if there be a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 For I mean not that other men be eased, and you burdened:

14 But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want: that there may be equality:

15 As it is written, "He that hath gathered much had nothing over; and he that had gathered little had no lack."

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

17 For indeed he accepted the exhortation; but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches;

19 And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with this grace, which is administered by us "to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind:

20 Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us;

21 Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which I have in you.

23 Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellow-helper concerning you: or our brethren be inquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of your boasting on your behalf.

CHAPTER IX.

1 He yieldeth the reason why, though he knew their forwardness, yet he sent Titus and his brethren beforehand. And he proceedeth in stirring them up to a bountiful almsgiving, as being but a kind of sowing of seed, which shall return a great increase to them, 13 and occasion a great service of thanksgivings unto God.

2 Or, as touching the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you:

3 Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf; that, as I said, ye may be ready:

4 Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your bounty; wherein ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

6 But this I say, He which soweth sparingly, shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully, shall reap also bountifully.

7 Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give: not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver.

8 And God is able to make all grace abound toward you: that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work:
9 (As it is written, 'He hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor; his righteousness remaineth for ever.

10 Now he that ministereth seed to the sower, both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness ;

11 Being enriched in every thing to all plenty of fullness, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12 For the administration of this service not only supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God;

13 While by the experiment of this ministery they glorify God for your professed subjection unto the gospel of Christ, and for your liberal distribution unto them, and unto all men;

14 And by their prayer for you, which long after you, for the exceeding grace of God in you.

15 Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift.

CHAPTER X.

1 Against the false apostles, who disgrace the weakness of his person and bodily presence, he setteth out the spiritual might and authority, with which he is arrayed against all adversary powers, assuring them that at his coming he will be found as mighty in word, as he is now in writing being absent, and will dispatch them for reaching out themselves beyond their compass, and touching themselves into other men's labours.

1 NOW I Paul myself beseech you, by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who is in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you;

2 But I beseech you, that ye may not be bold when I am present with this confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which I think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds ;)

5 Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ ;

6 And having in readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Do ye look on things after the outward appearance? * If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Christ's, even so are we Christ's.

8 For though I should boast somewhat in knowledge; but we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

7 Have I committed an offence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied; and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.

10 As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achia.

11 Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.

14 And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.
countrymen, "in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren; 27 In weariness and painfulness, "in watchings often, "in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness. 28 Besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, "the care of all the churches. 29 "Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burn not? 30 If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities. 31 "The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, "which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not. 32 "In Damascus the governor under Aretas the king kept the city of the Damascenes with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me:

33 And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAPTER XII. 1 For commending of his apostleship, though he might glory of his wonderful revelations, yet he rather chooseth to glory of his infirmities, 11 blaming them for forcing him to the vain boasting. 12 He reasoneth to come to them again: but yet altogether in the affection of a father, 29 although he speaketh to his grief that many offenders, and public disquiets there. 33 It is not expedient for me doubtless to glory, "I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord. 2 I knew a man "in Christ about fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth,) such a one "caught up to the third heaven. 3 And I knew such a man, "whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth. 4 How that he was caught up into paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. 5 Of such a one will I glory, "yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities. 6 For "though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool; for I will say the truth; but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me. 7 And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a "thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure. 8 "For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me. 9 And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore "will I rather glory in my infirmities, "that the power of Christ may rest upon me. 10 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: "for when I am weak, then am I strong. 11 I am become a fool in glorying; ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for "in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though I be nothing. 12 Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds. 13 For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other churches, except it be that I myself was not burdensome to you? forgive me "this wrong. 14 "Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you: for "I seek not yours, but you. 15 For the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. 16 And "I will very gladly spend and be spent for your profit; "though "the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved. 17 But be it so, "I did not burden you: nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you with guile. 18 "Did I make a gain of you by any of whom I sent unto you? 19 I "desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother. Did Titus make a gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit?

CHAPTER XIII. 1 I charge you that ye break not my work, and labour in vain. 2 For my power is the strength of God, and the power of Christ shall rest upon me. 3 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: "for when I am weak, then am I strong. 4 "Behold, the third time I am coming to you: "in the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established. 5 "I told you before, and foretold you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent now I write to the churches, which are in Galatia, and Asiana, and Phrygian, and Asia, and Bithynia.
PAUL THREATENETH

CHAPTER I.

UNRECLAIMED OFFENDERS.

A.D. 58.

1 A.D. 58.

6 A.D. 58.

6 He wondred that they Should have so soon left him and the gospel, and accused those that preached any other gospel than he did. 11 He learned the gospel not of men, but of God, 11 and shewed what he was before his calling, 17 and what he did presently after it.

PAUL, an apostle, (not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father,) who raised him from the dead:

2 And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia:

3 Grace be to you, and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ.

4 Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ, unto another gospel:

7 Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

ye should do that which is honest, though we be as reprobates.

8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad, when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, even your perfection.

10 Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present I should use sharpness, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

12 Greet one another with a holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

1 The second epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippa, a city of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE GALATIANS.

CHAPTER I.

6 As we said before, so say I now again; If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

10 For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11 But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man:

12 For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it;

14 And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,

16 To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood:

17 But of the grace of God unto me as a minister of Jesus Christ among the Gentiles, to open them that are ignorant, unto glorying in the patience of God; and to reveal unto such the mystery of Christ, which before time was not made known unto the sons of men, as 1 Peter 1:10.
Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

18 Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to Peter, and abode with him fifteen years. 19 But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother. 20 Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.

21 Afterward I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia; 22 And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judea which were in Christ: 23 But they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past, now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed. 24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAPTER II.

1 He revealeth when he went up again to Jerusalem, and for what purpose: 3 and that Titus was not circumcised: 11 and that he resigned Peter, and told him the reason, 14 why he and other, being Jews, do believe in Christ to be justified by faith, and not by works: 20 and that they live not in sin, who are so justified.

Then fourteen years after I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took Titus with me also.

2 And I went up by revelation, and communicating unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run, in vain.

3 But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of false brethren unbawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage:

5 To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But of those, who seemed to be somewhat, whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person: for they who seemed to be somewhat, in conference added nothing to me:

7 But contrariwise, when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter;

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me toward the Gentiles;) 9 And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles; but when they were come, he withdrew, and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

15 "We who are Jews by nature, and not "sinners of the Gentiles,

16 Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but 'by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for 'by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found 'sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things which I have destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

19 For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God.

20 I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless, I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 I do not frustrate the grace of God: for 'if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

CHAPTER III.

1 He asketh what moved them to leave the sheep, and lay upon the law? 6 They that believe are justificat, 9 and blessed with Abraham. 10 And this he sheweth by many reasons.

FOOLISH Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?
2. This only I would learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

3. Are ye so foolish? Having began in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh?

4. Have ye suffered so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.

5. He therefore that ministred to the Spirit, and wrought miracles among you, doth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

6. Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.

7. Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8. And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, “In thee shall all nations be blessed.”

9. So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithfull Abraham.

10. For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse: for it is written, “Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.”

11. But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, “The just shall live by faith.”

12. And the law is not of faith: but, The man that doeth them shall live in them.

13. Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, “Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree.”

14. That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15. Brethren, I speak after the manner of men: though it be but a man’s covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth or addeth thereto.

16. Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ.

17. And this I say, That the covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18. For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

19. Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made: and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

20. Now a mediator is not a mediator of one: but God is one.

21. Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

22. But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23. But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterward be revealed.

24. Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

25. But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster.

26. For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

27. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ.

28. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

29. And if ye be Christ’s, then are ye Abraham’s seed, and heirs according to the promise.

CHAPTER IV.

1. We were therefore under the law till Christ came, as the heir is under his guardian till he be of age. But Christ freed us from the law, that we should be made heirs of the promise of the Spirit through faith.

2. But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law.

3. That the promise might be sure, which is given by a law, and that he might redeem them which were under the law, to shew forth them that were to inherit the adoption of sons.

4. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son: and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

5. Howbeit then, how can ye say, that the inheritance of the promise is not mine, when ye read not the promise made to Abraham, saying, "To thy seed will I give this land." For he saith to Abraham, "In thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed. And in thee and thy seed will I give this land." That is, Not only to thy seed, but also to thy seed's seed. He is not far from thee all the days of thy life; to find rest, and to fear the Lord. And the Lord shewed him a sign, saying, "Lo, a seed shall come of thee, who is thy son, who is thy heir, to inherit the promise."
GALATIANS. THE LIBERTY OF THE GOSPEL.

or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

9 For ye observe days, and months, and times, and years.

10 I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

11 Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are: ye have not injured me at all.

12 Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you at the first.

13 And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected: but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.

14 Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that, if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

15 Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

16 They zealously affect you, but well; yea, they would exclude you: but that ye might affect them.

17 But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you.

18 My little children, of whom I travail in birth again, until Christ be formed in you, 19 I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I stand in doubt of you.

20 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

21 For it is written, that Abraham had two sons; the one by a bondmaid, the other by a freewoman.

22 But he who was of the bondwoman was born after the flesh; but he of the freewoman was by promise.

23 Which things are an allegory: for these are the two covenants; the one from the Mount Sion, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar.

24 But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all.

25 For this Agar is Mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.

26 But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all.

27 For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath a husband.

28 Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.

29 But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now.

30 Nevertheless, what saith the scripture? Cast out the bondwoman and her son: for the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman.

31 So then, brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free.

CHAPTER V.

1 For he speaketh, I have made thee free, and ye have become subjects to whoever will make you his bondmen.

2 But I say, as a persuasion, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

4 Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law: ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.

6 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision; but faith which worketh by love.

7 Ye did run well; wherefore did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth?

8 This persuasion cometh not of him that calleth you.

9 A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.

10 I have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but that the truth may be magnified in your judgment, whosoever he be.

11 And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? then is the offence of the cross ceased.

12 And would they were even cut off which trouble you.

13 For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.

14 For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

15 But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.

17 For the flesh hath war against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.
CHAPTER VI.

But if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variances, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,

21 Envys, murders, drunkenness, revelings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, 23 Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.

24 And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh, with the affections and lusts.

25 If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26 Let us not be desirous of vain-glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER VI.

1 He moveth them to deal mildly with a brother that hath slipped, 2 and to bear one another's burdens: 6 to be liberal to their teachers, 9 and not weary of well-doing. 12 He showeth what they intend that preach circumcision. 14 He glueth in nothing, save in the cross of Christ.

RETHREN, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such a one in the spirit of meekness: considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

2 Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.

3 For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4 But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another.

5 For every man shall bear his own burden.

6 "Let him that is taught in the word, communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.

7 "Be not deceived: for God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 "For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption: but he that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

9 And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

10 As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised: only lest they should suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.

13 For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

14 But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

15 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.

16 And as many as walk according to this commandment, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man trouble me: for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

EPHESIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1. After the salvation, 3 and thanksgiving for the Ephesians, 4 he

1. The time of our election, and adoption by grace, 11 which is the true and proper foundation of man's salvation. 13 And because the brightness of this mystery cannot easily be attained unto, 16 he preaches that they may come to the full knowledge and 30 possession thereof in Christ.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ

by the will of God, 2 to the saints which are at Ephesus, 3 and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:

2. Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly 2 places in Christ:

4. According as he hath chosen us in him, before the foundation of the world, that we should he holy and without blame before him in love:

5. Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will,

6. To the praise of the glory of his grace, 2 wherein he hath made us accepted in him the Beloved:

7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace;

8. Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence;

9. Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure, 2 which he hath purposed in himself:

10. That in the dispensation of the fulness of times 3 he might gather together in one 2 all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth; even in him:

11. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, 2 being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:

12. That we should be to the praise of his glory, 2 who first 3 trusted in Christ.

13. In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also, after that ye believed, 4 ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise,

14. Which is the earnest of our inheritance 2 until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.

15. Wherefore I also, 2 after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints, CHAPTER III. SALVATION OF THE GENTILES REVEALED.

5 The hidden mystery, 6 that the Gentiles should be saved, 7 was made known to Paul by revelation: 8 and to him was that grace given, 9 that he should preach it. 10 Deverted them not to hunt for his tribulation, 11 and prayed 12 that they may perceive the great love of Christ toward them.

17 And came 18 and preached peace to you which were afar off, and 19 to them that were nigh.

18 For through him we both have access 20 by one Spirit unto the Father.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God;

20 And are built 21 upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone;

21 22 In whom all the building fitly framed together, growth unto a holy temple in the Lord;

22 In whom also ye are built together, for a habitation of God through the Spirit.

OR this cause, I Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus for you Gentiles,

2 I have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God which is given me to you-ward;

3 How that by revelation he made known unto me the mystery, 4 as I wrote in few words;

4 Whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ,

5 Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, 6 as it is now revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit:

6 That the Gentiles should be fellow-heirs, 7 of the same body, and 8 partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel;

7 Whereof I was made a minister, 8 according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power.

8 Unto me, 9 who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, 10 that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ;

9 And to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, 10 which from the beginning of the world was hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ:

10 To the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God,

11 According to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord;

12 In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him.

13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, 15 Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named,

16 That he would grant you, 17 according to the riches of his glory, 18 to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in 19 the inner man;

17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, 18 being rooted and grounded in love,

18 May be able to comprehend with all saints 19 what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height:

19 And to know the love of Christ, which is 20 even as Christ loved us.
EPHESIANS.

I. He exhorteth to unity; 7 and declarest that God therefore giveth divers gifts unto men, that his church might be 13 edified, and 16 grown up in Christ. 16 He calleth them from the impurity of the Gentiles, 24 to put on the new man, 25 to cast off lying, and 29 corrupt communication.

THEREFORE, the prisoner || of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,

2 With all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love,

3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

4 There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling;

5 One Lord, one faith, one baptism,

6 One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.

7 But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the grace of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, When he ascended on high, he led || captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9 Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?

10 That he descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.

11 And he gave some apostles; and some, prophets; and some, || evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;

12 For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ:

13 Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ:

14 That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive:

15 But || speaking the truth in love, may grow up in him in all things, which is the head, even Christ:

16 From whom the whole body is joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind,

18 Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the || blindness of their heart:

19 Who, being past feeling, have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

20 But ye have not so learned Christ;

21 If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus:

22 That ye put off concerning || the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts;

23 And || be renewed in the spirit of your mind:

24 And that ye || put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and || true holiness.

25 Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath:

27 Neither give place to the devil.

28 Let him that stealeth, steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give || to him that needeth.

29 Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.

30 And || grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of || redemption.

31 || Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil-speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:

32 And || be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

CHAPTER V.

After general exhortations, to love, to fly fornication, and all uncleanness, 7 not to converse with the wicked, 15 to walk worthy, and to be 18 filled with the Spirit, he descendeth to the particular duties, how wives ought to obey their husbands, 22 and husbands love to love their wives, 22 even as Christ doth his church.

1 After all exhortations, to love, 2 to fly fornication, and all uncleanness, 7 not to converse with the wicked, 15 to walk worthy, and to be 18 filled with the Spirit, 22 he descendeth to the particular duties, how wives ought to obey their husbands, 22 and husbands love to love their wives, 22 even as Christ doth his church.

2 After general exhortations, to love, 2 to fly fornication, and all uncleanness, 7 not to converse with the wicked, 15 to walk worthy, and to be 18 filled with the Spirit, 22 he descendeth to the particular duties, how wives ought to obey their husbands, 22 and husbands love to love their wives, 22 even as Christ doth his church.
Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands "in every thing."

25 "Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it;"

26 That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by word, 27 "That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing;" but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives, as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourished and cherished it, even as the Lord the church:

30 For "we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones."

31 For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystery; but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

33 Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself: and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The duty of children toward their parents, 5 of servants toward their masters. 10 Our life is a warfare, 12 not only against flesh and blood, but also spiritual enemies. 16 The complete armour of a Christian, 18 and how it ought to be used. 22 Tycheus is commanded.

1 CHILDREN, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.

2 Honour thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise.)

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but hare them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 "Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ:

6 "Not with eye-service, as men-pleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart:

7 With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men:

THE CHRISTIAN WARFARE.

S. Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.

9 And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening: knowing that your Master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him.

10 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11 Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12 For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

13 Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

14 Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breast-plate of righteousness;

15 And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace;

16 Above all, taking the shield of faith, with which ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

17 And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:

18 Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;

19 And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel, 20 For which I am an ambassador in bonds; that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tychicus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things:

22 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know my affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.

23 Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.

Written from Rome unto the Ephesians by Tychicus.

d. The Epistle of Paul, the Apostle, to the PHILIPPIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 He thanketh his thankfulness to God, and his love toward them, for the fruits of their faith, and fellowship in his sufferings, and daily praying to him for their increase in grace: 2 he sheweth what good the faith of Christ had received by his troubles at Rome, 3 and how truly he is to glorify Christ either by his life or death, 4 and for the good of his soul, in the firmness of his spirit.

AUL and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons:

2 Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I thank my God upon every remembrance of you,

4 Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,

5 For your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now;

6 Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you, will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ;

7 Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart; inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace.

8 For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the bonds of Jesus Christ.

9 And this I pray, that your love may abound more and more in knowledge and in all judgment;

10 That ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offence unto all the day of Christ;

11 Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand,
Exhortation

13 So that my bonds [in Christ are manifest all] the place, and [in all other places];
14 And all the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.
15 Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some of good will.
16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:
17 But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.
18 What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.
19 For I know that this shall turn to my salvation through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,
20 According to my earnest expectation, and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also, Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.
21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.
22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.
23 For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart and to be with Christ; which is far better:
24 Nevertheless, to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.
25 And having this confidence, I know that I abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith;
26 That your rejoicing may be more abundant in Jesus Christ for me by my coming to you again.
27 Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ; that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel;
28 And in nothing terrified by your adversaries; which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God.
29 For unto you it is given in behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake:
30 Having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

Chapter II.

1 For he exhorteth them to unity, and to all blemishes of mind, by the example of Christ's humility and exaluation: 2 and to a careful proceeding in the way of salvation, that they be as lights to the work eu world, 16 and conduct them into their apostle, who is now ready to be delivered up to God. 16 Be hospitably received unto them, whom he greatly commendeth, 25 as Ephaphroditus also, whom he presently sendeth to them.
may be of good comfort, when I know your state. 20 For I have no man like-minded, who will naturally care for your state. 21 For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's. 22 But ye know the proof of him, that as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel. 23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me. 24 But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall shortly come. 25 Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellow-soldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants. 26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick. 27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow. 28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. 29 Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation: 30 Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, "to supply your lack of service toward me."

CHAPTER III.

1. He warneth them to beware of the false teachers of the circumcision, 4 showing that himself hath greater cause than they to trust in the righteousness of the law: 7 which notwithstanding he counteth as dung and loss, to gain Christ and his righteousness, 12 therein acknowledging his own imperfection. 13 He exhorteth them to be thus minded, 17 and to imitate him, 18 and to decline the ways of carnal Christians.

FINALLY, my brethren, "rejoice in the Lord." To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievances, but for you it is safe.

2. "Beware of dogs, beware of evil-workers, beware of the concision. 3 For we are the circumcision, who worship God in the spirit, and "rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh. 4 Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more: 5 Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, a Pharisee: 6 Concerning zeal, persecuting the church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.

7. But "what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ. 8 Ye doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ, 9 And be found in him, not having "mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith: 10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and "the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death: 11 If by any means I might "attain unto the resurrection of the dead. 12 Not as though I had already attained, either were already "perfect: but I follow after, that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus. 13 Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but "this one thing I do, "forgetting the things which are behind, and "reaching forth unto those things which are before.

14. "I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. 15 Let us therefore, as many as be "perfect, "be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.

16 Nevertheless, wherefore we have already attained, let us walk "by the same rule, "let us mind the same thing.

17 Brethren, "be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an example.

18 For (many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are "the enemies of the cross of Christ: 19 "Whose end is destruction, "whose God is their belly, and "whose glory is in their shame, "who mind earthly things.)

20 For our conversation is "in heaven: from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

21. Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, "according to the working whereby he is able "even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAPTER IV.

1. From particular admonitions 4 he proceedeth to general exhortations, 10 showing how he rejoiced at their liberality toward him, lying in prison, not so much for the supply of his own wants, as for the grace of God in them. 19 And so he concluded with prayer and supplications.

EXHORTATION TO ALL GOODNESS.

CHAPTER I.

THE LIBERALITY OF THE PHILIPPIANS.

1 WHEREFORTH, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

2 I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

3 And I entreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellowlabourers, whose names are in the book of life.

4 Rejoice in the Lord always: and again I say, Rejoice.

5 Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

6 Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

7 And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

9 Those things which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me; do: and the God of peace shall be with you.

10 But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last ye are able to walk in the will of God from henceforth.

11 Not that I speak in respect of want; but I know how to be abased, and I know how to abound: everywhere and in all things I am provided, both being full and being hungry, both abound and to suffer need.

12 I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

13 Notwithstanding, ye have done that which ye did communicate with my affliction.

14 Now, ye Philippians, know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

15 For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my necessity.

16 Not because I desire a gift: but I desire fruit that may abound to your account.

17 But I have all, and abound: I am full, having received of Epaphroditus the things which ye sent from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God.

18 But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

19 Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

20 Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. The brethren which are with me greet you.

21 All the saints salute you, especially they that are of Cesar's household.

22 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

1 It was written to the Philippians from Rome by Epaphroditus.

2 THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE COLOSSIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 AUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,

2 To the saints which are at Colosse; Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints.

5 For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereby ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel:

199
6 Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world; and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard it, and knew the grace of God in truth:
7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellow-servant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ;
8 Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.
9 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding;
10 That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;
11 Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and long-suffering, with joyfulness;
12 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light:
13 Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son:
14 In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:
15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature;
16 For in him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether he be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him, and for him:
17 And he is before all things, and by him all things consist.
18 And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence.
19 For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell:
20 And, having made peace through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.
21 And you, that were sometime alienated and enemies [in your mind] by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled,
22 In the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy, and unblamable, and unreproveable, in his sight:
23 If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven; 'whereof I Paul am made a minister;
24 'Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church:
25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given unto me, to fulfill the word of God:
26 Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages, and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints:
27 To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ ; in you, 'the hope of glory:
28 Whom we preach, 'warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom;' that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus;
29 'Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER II.
1 He still exhorted them to be constant in Christ, 8 to beware of philosophy, and vain traditions, 18 worshipping of angels, 20 and legal ceremonies, which are ended in Christ.
1 FOR I would that ye knew what great conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;
2 'That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;
3 'In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.
4 And this I say,lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.
5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, rejoicing and being comforted by your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.
6 'As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him:
7 'Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.
8 'Beware lest any man spoil ye through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.
For sin in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.
10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power;
11 In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ;
12Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.
13And you, being dead in your sins and in the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;
14 Blotting out the hand-writing of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;
15And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.
16Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbathdays:
17 Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.
18Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind,
19And not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.
20Wherefore, if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances, 21(Touch not; taste not; handle not;
22Which all are to perish with the using;) after the commandments and doctrines of men?
23 Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will-worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body: nay in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

CHAPTER III.
1 He sheweth where we should seek Christ. 5 Exhorteth to meditation, 10 to put off the old man, and to put on Christ, 13 exhorting to charity, humility, and other several duties.
2 Ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.
Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.
3 For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.
4 When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.
5 Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth: fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry:
6 For which things’ sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience;
7 In the which ye also walked some time, when ye lived in them.
8 But now ye also put off all these: anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.
9Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds;
10 And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him:
11 Wherefore there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.
12 Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humility, meekness, long-suffering;
13 Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.
14 And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness.
15 And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body: and be ye thankful.
16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.
17 And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.
18 Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as it is fit in the Lord.
19 Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.
20 Children, obey your parents in all things: this is well-pleasing unto the Lord.
21 Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.
22 Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh: not with eyeservice, but as得罪 unto the Lord, in the heart: and rendering service, as to the Lord, and not to men;
23 Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward.
24 Ye therefore that ye are not ignorant, what manner of persons ye ought to be; who by reason of former time have renounced the ungodly ways of men.
25 For when ye were babes, ye esteemed the pleasure of flesh more than the knowledge of Christ;
26 But now that ye are come to years, confirm yourselves in the grace wherein ye have been established, that ye be not brought back again unto the baseness of infancy.
27 And he that hath corrupted the image of God in you, shall wither away.
28 Wherefore ye come to this: but ye must not judge, neither reproach; for all things are clean unto you.
29 But if there be some that esteem one to be above another in the church, let every one of them reason with that man.
service, as men-pleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:
23 "And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;
24 "Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance; for ye serve the Lord Christ.
25 But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done; and there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER IV.
1 He exhorteth them to be fervent in prayer, 5 to walk wisely toward them that are not yet come to the true knowledge of Christ.
2 He saitheth unto them, and wisheth all prosperity.

ASTERS, give unto your servants which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 "Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving;
3 "Withal praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds:
4 That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.
5 "Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time.
6 Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.
7 "All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellow-servant in the Lord;
8 "Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts;
9 With Onesimus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.

† THE FIRST EPISODE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHAPTER I.
1 The Thessalonians are given to understand both how mindful of them Saul Paul was at all times in thanksgiving, and prayer: 5 and also how well he was persuaded of the truth and sincerity of their faith, and conversion to God.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ:
Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 We give thanks to God always for you, making mention of you in our prayers;

3 Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;
4 Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.
5 For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.
6 And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost;
7 So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.
8 For from you sounded the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to Godward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.
9 For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God;
10 And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER II.

1 In what manner the gospel was brought and preached to the Thessalonians, and in what sort also they received it. A reason is rendered both why Saint Paul was so long absent from them, and also why he was so desirous to see them.

2 Or yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:
3 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were hold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.
4 For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile;
5 But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.
6 For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; God is witness;
7 Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.
8 But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:
9 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.
10 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.
11 As ye know how we exhorted, and comforted, and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children, 12 That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.
13 For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.
14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews:
15 Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and his own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men:
16 Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they might be saved, to fill up their sins always: for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.
17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.
18 Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but Satan hindered us.
19 For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?
20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAPTER III.

1 Saint Paul testifieth his great love to the Thessalonians, partly by sending Timothy unto them to strengthen and comfort them: part: by praying in their behalf: 10 and partly by praying for them, and desiring a safe coming among them.

WHEREFORE, when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left at Athens alone;
2 And sent Timothy, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow-labourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:
3 That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto.
4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.
5 For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter tempted you, and your labour be in vain.
6 But now, when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you;

7 Therefore, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;

10 Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith!

11 Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way unto you.

12 And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:

13 To the end he may establish your hearts unblamable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints.

CHAPTER IV.

1 And I exhort thee, that thou shouldst keep thy hold of the things which I also deliver unto thee, after that have been for the word of God, and with the testimony of humility, and of modesty:

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

3 For ye know how that our prerequisite was of that which we commanded you by the word of our Lord Jesus Christ;

4 That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;

5 Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God;

6 That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter; because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7 For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.

8 He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his Holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.

10 And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more;

11 And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you:

12 That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.

13 But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope.

14 For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so they also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

15 For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16 For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first:

17 Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore, comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER V.

1 He proceedseth in the former description of Christ’s coming to judgment, 16 and giveth divers precepts, 24 and so concludes the epistle.

2 For yourselves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then shall the sudden destruction come upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6 Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.

7 For they that sleep, sleep in the night; and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober; putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation.

9 For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ.

10 Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11 Wherefore, comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And be at peace among yourselves.

14 Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.

15 See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.

16 Rejoice evermore.

17 Pray without ceasing.

18 In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

19 Quench not the Spirit.

20 Despise not prophesying.

21 Prove all things; hold fast that which is good.

22 Abstain from all appearance of evil.

23 And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit, and soul, and body, be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

25 Brethren, pray for us.

26 Greet all the brethren with a holy kiss.

27 I charge you by the Lord that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

28 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.
this calling, and fulfill all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power:
12 "That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER II.
1 He will edify them to continue steadfast in the truth, received, 3 seeing that there shall be a departure from the faith, 9 and a discovery of anti-Christ, before the day of the Lord come. 15 And therefore, repeated his former exhortation, and prayeth for them.

1 NOW we beseech you, brethren, 'by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him, 2 "That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

3 "Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;
4 Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he, as God, sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.
5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?
6 And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.
7 For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way.
8 And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:
9 Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan, with all power, and signs, and lying wonders.
10 And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.
11 And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:
12 That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.
13 But ye are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth:
14 Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.
15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.
16 "Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, 'which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and establish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER III.
1 He earnestly recommendeth their prayers for himself, 2 testifying what confidence he hath in them, 5 maketh request to God in their behalf, 6 gives them divers precepts, especially to shun idleness, and ill company, 16 and last of all concludes with prayer and salutation.

1STLY, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you.
2 And 'that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith.
3 But 'the Lord is faithful, who shall establish you, and keep you from evil.
4 And 'we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye do both and will do the things which we command you.
5 And 'the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ.
6 Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, 'that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.
7 For yourselves know 'how ye ought to follow us: for 'we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;
8 Neither did we eat any man's bread for naught: 'but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:
9 'Not because we have no power, but to make 'ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.
10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, 'that if any would not work, neither should he eat, 11 For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies.
12 'Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, 'that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.
13 But ye, brethren, 'be not weary in well-doing.
14 And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

15 Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.

17 The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.

18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

I. THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO TIMOTHY.

CHAPTER I.

1 Timothy is put in mind of the charge which was given unto him by Paul at his going to Macedonia. 2 Of the right use and end of the law. 3 Of Saint Paul's calling to be an apostle, 20 and of Hymeneus and Alexander.

Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the commandment of God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, which is our hope;

2 Unto Timothy, my own son in the faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine.

4 Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith; so do.

5 Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

6 From which some having swerved, have turned aside unto vain jangling;

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law; understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully:

9 Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the unrighteous and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unclean and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10 For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for men-stealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine,
I. TIMOTHY.

I. T. O F BISHOPS AND DEACONS.

quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.
3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour;
4 Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.
5 For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;
6 Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time.
7 Whereunto I am ordained a preacher and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not,) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.
8 I will therefore that men pray everywhere, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.
9 In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with ornamented hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;
10 But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works, 11 Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.
12 But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.

CHAPTER III.

13 For Adam was first formed, then Eve.
14 And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression.
15 Notwithstanding, she shall be saved in child-bearing, if they continue in faith, and charity, and holiness, with sobriety.

1 THIS is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work.
2 A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;
3 Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;
4 One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity;
5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil.
7 Moreover, he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.
8 Likewise must the deacons be grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;
9 Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.
10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.
11 Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.
12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.
13 For they that have used the office of a deacon well, purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.
14 These things write, I charge thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly;
15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.
16 And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He therefore that in the latter times shall be a departure from the faith. And to the end that Timothy might not be cast down by his charge, he foretold him with divers wise saying and doctrine.

NOW the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils;
2 Speaking lies in hypocrisy, having their conscience seared with a hot iron;
3 Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.
4 For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:
5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.
6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.
7 But refuse profane and old wives' fables; and sound words;
8 That thou mayest understand, unto whom thou hast learnedthem in the presence of the Lord, whether in private or public assembly;
9 With all subjection suffering wrong:
10 Notwithstanding, the outward man suffereth, yet the inward man is made strong by God.
blesses, and "exercise thyself rather unto godliness.
8. For "bodily exercise profiteth little: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.
9. "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation.
10. For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we "trust in the living God who is the Saviour of all men, especially of those that believe.
11. "These things command and teach.
12. "Let no man despise thy youth; but be then an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.
13. Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.
14. "Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, "with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.
15. Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all.
16. "Take heed unto thyself and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both 'save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAPTER V.
1. Rules to be observed in reproving.
3. Of widows.
22. A precept for Timothy's health.
23. Some men's sins go before unto judgment, and some men's do follow after.
1. REBUKE not an elder, but curate him as a father; and the younger men as brethren:
2. The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters,
with all purity.
3. Honour widows that are widows indeed.
4. But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew piety at home, and to requite their parents: "for that is good and acceptable before God.
5. "Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and "continueth in supplications and prayers "night and day.
6. e But she that liveth "in pleasure, is dead while she liveth.
7. And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.
8. But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he has denied the faith, "and is worse than an idol.
9. Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, "having been the wife of one man.
10. Well reported of for good works: if she have brought up children, if she have "lodged strangers, if she have "washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.
11. But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry.
12. Having damnable, because they have cast off their first faith.
13. "And withal they learn to be idle, wan dering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also, and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.
14. I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully.
15. For some are already turned aside after Satan.
16. If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may reprove 'them that are widows indeed.
17. "Let the elders that rule well, be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.
18. For the scripture saith, "Thou shalt do not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, "The labourer is worthy of his reward.
19. Against an elder receive not an accusation, but "before two or three witnesses, 20. "Then that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.
21. "If charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things "without prefer-ing one before another, doing nothing by partiality.
22. Lay hands suddenly on no man, "neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.
23. Drink no longer water, but use a little wine "for thy stomach's sake, and thine often infirmities.
24. Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after.
25. Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand; and that they are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAPTER VI.
1. Of the duty of servants.
2. Not to have fellowship with new-fang-gled teachers.
6. Godliness is great gain, 10 and love of money
the root of all evil.
7. What Timothy is to do, and what to follow,
17 and whereunto to abash the flesh.
20. To keep the purity of true doctrine, and to avoid profane prevailings.
II. TIMOTHY.

A CHARGE TO THE RICH.

12 "Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 "I thee charge in the sight of God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession;

14 "That thou keep this commandment without spot, unblamable, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:

15 "Which in his times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords;

16 "Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

17 "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy;

18 "That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to communicate;

19 "Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.

20 "O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called;

21 "Which some professing, have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee, amen.

1 The first to Timothy was written from Laodicea, which is the chiefest city of Phrygia Pacatiana.

The second Epistle of Paul, the Apostle, to TIMOTHY.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul's love to Timothy, and the unfeigned faith which was in Timothy himself, his mother, and grandmother. 6 He is exhorted to stir up the gift of God which was in him, 8 to be steadfast, and patient in persecution, 13 and to persist in the form and truth of that doctrine which he had learned of him. 15 Phrygia and Hierosolyma, and such like, are noted, and O encouragements are highly commended.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,

2 "To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 "I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;

4 "Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;
CHAPTER II.

CONSTANCY AND PERSEVERANCE.

5 When I call to remembrance, the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance, that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner; but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God.

9 Who hath saved us, and called us, as with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began;

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:

11 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.

13 Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

14 That good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord give mercy unto Onesiphorus; for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain.

17 But, when he was in Rome, he sought out me very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day; and in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.
and of earth; 'and some to honour, and some to dishonour.
21 "If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified.
and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work.
22 Flee also youthful lusts: but 'follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord 'out of a pure heart.
23 But foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.
24 And 'the servant of the Lord must not strive: but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient;
25 'In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; 'if God peradventure will give them repentance 'to the acknowledging of the truth.
26 And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are 'taken captive by him at his will.

CHAPTER III.

I. He exhorteth him of the times to come, 6 describeth the enemies of the truth, 10 inviteth unto him his own example, 16 commendeth the holy scriptures.

2 This also know also, that 'in the last days perilous times shall come.
2 For men shall be 'lovers of their own selves, 'covetous, 'boasters, 'proud, 'blasphemers, 'disobedient to parents, 'unthankful, 'mournful, 3 'Without natural affection, 'truce-breakers, 'false accusers, 'inconstant, fierce, dispersers of those that are good.
4 'Trusters, heady, high-minded, 'lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God;
5 Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: 'from such turn away.
6 For 'of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts;
7 Ever learning and never able 'to come to the knowledge of the truth.
8 'Now as James and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: 'men of corrupt minds, 'prophane concerning the faith.
9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, 'as theirs also was.
10 'But 'thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, long-suffering, charity, patience.
11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me 'at Antioch, 'at Iconium, 'at Lystra: what persecutions I endured; but 'out of them all the Lord delivered me.
12 Yea, and 'all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.
13 'But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.
14 'But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them;

15 And that from a child thou hast known 'the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through which is Jesus Christ.
16 All scripture is given by inspiration of God, 'and is profitable for doctrine, reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:
17 'That the man of God may be perfect,
'thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

CHAPTER IV.

1 I exhort thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ,
2 who shalt judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom;
3 For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine;
4 but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears;
5 And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and 'shall be turned unto fables.
6 But watch thou in all things, 'endure afflictions, 'do the work of an evangelist, 'make full proof of thy ministry.
7 'For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.
8 Henceforth there is laid up for me 'a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me 'at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.
9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:
10 'For Demas hath forsaken me, 'having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thessalonica: Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia.
11 'Only Luke is with me. 'Take 'Mark, and bring him with thee: 'for he is profitable to me for the ministry.
12 And 'Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.
13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, 'but especially the parchments.
14 Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: do the Lord reward him according to his works: 15 Of whom be thou wary; for his works are false, and false also are his words. 16 At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me: but the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me; that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. 17 And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. 18 The salutation of Prisca and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS.

CHAPTER 1.

1 For what cause left I Crete, that I might come unto you, and because I was urgent by the word of God to be with you to make you mind towardSmooth.
2 AUL, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and of the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness; 2 In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began; 3 But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me, according to the commandment of God our Saviour; 4 To Titus, mine own son after the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting, and ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee: 6 If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children, not accused of riot, or unruly; 7 For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre; 8 But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate; 9 Holding fast that faithful word as he hath taught thee, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers. 10 For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, especially they of the circumcision; 11 Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake. 12 One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies. 13 This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith; 14 Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men that turn from the truth. 15 Unto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure: but even their mind and conscience is defiled. 16 They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.
CHAPTER II.

1 Directions given unto Titus both for his doctrine and life. 9 Of the duty of servants, and in general of all Christians.

UT speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:
2 That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate; sound in faith, in charity, in patience;
3 The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness; not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;
4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children;
5 To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.
6 Young men likewise exert to be sober-minded.
7 In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works; in doctrine shewing incorruptness, gravity, sincerity,
8 Sound speech that cannot be condemned;
9 That he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.
10 Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again;
11 Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of our Saviour in all things.
12 Teaching us, that denying ungodliness, and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world;
13 Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ;
14 Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.
15 These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAPTER III.

1 Titus is yet further directed by Paul, both concerning the things he should teach, and not teach. 10 He is walked also to reject obstinate heretics: 12 which done, he appointed him both time and place, wherein he should come unto him, and so concluded.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON.

4 He repents of hear the faith and love of Philemon, and desirous to forgive his servant Onesimus, and longingly to receive him again.

1. Paul, a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellow-labourer,

2. And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the church in thy house:

3. Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4. I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers.

5. Hearing of thy faith and love, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints;

6. That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7. For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

8. Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ to exhort thee that which is convenient,

9. Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10. I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds:

11. Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me:

12. Whom I have sent again; thou therefore receive him, that is, mine own bowels:

13. Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel:

14. But without thy mind would I do nothing; that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15. For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldst receive him for ever;

16. Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, especially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord!

17. If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as myself.

18. If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee anything, put that on mine account;

19. I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20. Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21. Having confidence in thy obedience I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22. But withal prepare me also a lodging; for I trust that through thy prayers I shall be given unto you.

23. There salute thee Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus;

25. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

1 Written from Rome to Philemon by Onesimus a servant.

1 THE EPISTLE OF PAUL, THE APOSTLE, TO THE HEBREWS.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Christ in these last times coming to us from the Father, is prefered above the angels, both in person and office.

1. GOD, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high;

4 Being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?

6 And again, when he bringeth in the first begotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son, he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom;

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands.

11 They shall perish: but thou remainest: and they are all laid up as doth a garment; 12 And as a vestment shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

13 But to which of the angels saith he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them which shall be heirs of salvation?

CHAPTER II.

1 We ought to be obedient to Christ Jesus, and that because he vouchsafed to take our nature upon him, if it was necessary.

2 For it the word spoken by angels was steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward;

3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him:

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will.

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come whereof we speak.

6 But one in a certain place testified, saying, What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands; 8 Thy hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him:

9 But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels; crowned with glory and honour; that by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

11 For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified, are all one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren.

12 Saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.

13 And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, I, and the children which God hath given me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil;

15 And deliver them, who, through fear of death, were all their life-time subject to bondage.

16 For verily the took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren; that he might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

18 For in that he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ is more worthy than Moses: therefore if we believe not in him, we shall be more worthy punishment than hard-hearted
HEREFORE, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus:

2 Who was faithful unto him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath built the house, hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man; but the builder of all things is God.

5 And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after:

6 But Christ as a Son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence, and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

7 Wherefore, as the Holy Ghost saith, To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

8 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do always err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

9 So I sware in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.

10 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

11 But exhort one another daily, while it is called To-day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

12 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end:

13 While it is said, To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

14 For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

15 But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?

16 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not:

17 So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER IV.

THE CHRISTIAN'S REST.

1 The rest of Christians is attained by faith. 2 The power of God's word. 3 By our High Priest Jesus the Son of God, subject to infirmities, but not sin, we must and may go boldly to the throne of grace.

ET us therefore fear lest a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2 For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, being mingled with faith in them that heard it.

3 For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest; although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7 (Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To-day, after so long a time; as it is said, To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.

11 Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief.

12 For the word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and open unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Seeing then that we have a great High Priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

15 For he have not a high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities:
but "was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.
16 Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER V.

1 The authority and honour of our Saviour's priesthood. 2 Negligence in the knowledge thereof is reproved.

For every high priest taken from among men, is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2 Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity.

3 And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4 And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron:

5 So also Christ glorified not himself to be made a high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in those things that he feared;

8 Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered;

9 And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

10 Called of God a high priest 'after the order of Melchisedec.

11 Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have necessity that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13 For every one that useth milk, is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAPTER VI.

1 He exhorted not to fall back from the faith, but to be steadfast, 12 diligent, and patient to wait upon God, 13 because God is most sure in his promise.
have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us:
19 Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and which entereth into that within the veil:
20 Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made a high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAPTER VII.
1 Christ Jesus is a priest after the order of Melchisedec, II and on, far more excellent than the priests of Aaron's order.

1 FOR this Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him:
2 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all: first being by interpretation King of righteousness, and after that also King of Salem, which is, King of peace;
3 Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but made like unto the Son of God; abideth a priest continually.
4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth part of all.
5 And verily they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham:
6 But he whose descent is not counted from them received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.
7 And without an contradiction the less is blessed of the better.
8 And here men that die receive tithes; and there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.
9 And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham.
10 For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.
11 IF therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?
12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made necessity a change also of the law.
13 For of whom these things are spoken pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

A.D. 41.

14 For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.
15 And it is yet far more evident; for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest, 16 Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.
17 For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.
18 For there is verily a disanulling of the commandment going before, for that which was made perfect.
19 For the law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did; by the which we draw nigh unto God.
20 And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest:
21 (For those priests were made without an oath; but this with an oath, by him that said unto him, The Lord sware, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.)
22 By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament.
23 And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death:
24 But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood.
25 Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.
26 For such a high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens;
27 Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's; for this he did once, when he offered himself.
28 For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

CHAPTER VIII.
1 By the eternal priesthood of Christ the Levitical priesthood of Aaron is abolished.
2 A minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.
3 For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that this man have somewhat also to offer.
4 For if he were on earth, he should not... be a priest, seeing that || there are priests that offer gifts according to the law:
5 Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle ; for, See (saith he) that thou make all things according to the pattern showed to thee in the mount.
6 But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises.
7 For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.
8 For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:
9 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt ; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.
10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts ; and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:
11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord : for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.
12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.
13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old, is ready to vanish away.

CHAPTER IX.

1 The description of the rites and bloody sacrifices of the law, 11 far inferior to the dignity and perfection of the blood and sacrifice of Christ.

HEN verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.
2 For there was a tabernacle made : the first wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shew-bread ; which is called the sanctuary.
3 And after the second vail, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all:
4 Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron’s rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant ;
5 And over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercy-seat ; of which we cannot now speak particularly.
6 Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God:
7 But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the sins of the people.
8 vThe Holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing : 9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience :
10 Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation.
11 But Christ being come a high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building ;
12 Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood, he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.
13 For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh :
14 How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God!
15 And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.
16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator.
17 For a testament is of force after men are dead ; otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.
18 Whereupon neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.
19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book and all the people.
20 Saying, This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.
CHAPTER X.

EXHORTATION TO STEADFAST FAITH.

21 Moreover, he sprinkled likewise with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.
22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.
23 It is true therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these: but the heavenly themselves with better sacrifices than these.
24 For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true: but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us;
25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;
26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.
27 And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment:
28 So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

CHAPTER X.

1 The weakness of the law sacrifices. 19 The sacrifice of Christ's body once offered, for ever hath taken away sins. 19 An exhortation to hold fast the faith, with patience and thanksgiving.

For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually, make the comers thereunto perfect.

2 For then we, when we were in the flesh, the lusts of the flesh, the lusts of the eyes, and the pride of life, we walked in those things:

3 But those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

5 Wherefore, when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering and burnt-offerings, thou wouldst not, but a body hast thou prepared me.

6 In burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast not had any pleasure.

7 Then I said, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above, when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt-offerings, and offering for sin thou wouldst not, neither hast pleasure therein; which are offered by the law:

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 By which the will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all,

11 And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:

12 But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, for ever sat down on the right hand of God:

13 From henceforth expecting "till his enemies he made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

17 And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now, where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest of the house of God,

20 By a new and living way, which he hath prepared for us, through the vail, that is to say, his flesh;

21 And having a high priest over the house of God;

22 Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; for he is faithful that promised;

24 And let us consider one another, to provoke unto love, and to good works;

25 Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, 27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.

28 He that despised Moses' law, died without mercy under two or three witnesses;

29 Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, whereby he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace!
30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, while ye were made a gazing-stock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, while ye became companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing therein that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompense of reward.

36 For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

37 For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition: but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER XI.

1 What faith is. 6 Without faith we cannot please God. 7 The worthy fruits thereof in the fathers of old time.

OW faith is the ictus of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen:

2 For by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead spake of a better thing.

5 By faith Enoch was translated, that he should not see death: and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

7 By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also Sarah herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

12 Therefore sprang there even one, and he as good as dead, so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea-shore innumerable.

13 These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things ict them plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly, if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have re- entered into it.
CHAPTER XII.
THE BENEFIT OF GOD'S CHASTISEMENTS.

1 An exhortation to constant faith, patience, and boldness. 2 A comparison of the new testament above the old.

IIHERFORE, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,

2 Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who, for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be weary and faint in your minds.

4 Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; nor f(CL. 17, 10)

6 For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

9 Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure: but he for our profit, that we be partakers of his holiness.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees;

13 And make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way: but let it rather be healed.

14 Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.

15 Looking diligently, lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up, trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

16 Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright.

17 For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.
18 For ye are not come unto 'the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,
19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard, entreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:
20 (For they could not endure that which was commanded, And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart;)
21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:}

22 But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels,
23 To the general assembly and church of the first-born which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect,
24 And to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.

25 See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall we escape if we turn from away from him that speaketh from heaven:
26 Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.
28 Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear:

29 For 'our God is a consuming fire.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Divers admonitions, as to charity, 4 to honest life, 5 to avoid covetousness, 7 to regard God's precepts, 10 to take heed of strange doctrines, 12 to confess our sins, 15 to obey governors, 16 to pray for the apostle. 20 The conclusion.

1 LET brotherly love continue.
2 Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.
3 Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.
4 Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.

5 Let your conversation be without covetousness: and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.
6 So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.
7 Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation:
8 Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.
9 Be not carried about with divers and strange ordinances: for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.
10 We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.
11 For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.
12 Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.
13 Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing his reproach.
14 For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.
15 By him therefore let us offer "the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to his name.
16 But to do good, and to communicate, forget not: for 'such sacrifices God is well pleased.
17 Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for 'they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: that for is unprofitable for you.
18 Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.
19 But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.
20 Now the God of peace, 'that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant,
21 Make you perfect in every good work, to do his will, 'working in you which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; 22 to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the ADVICE TO THE POOR AND TO THE RICH.

CHAPTER 1.

GOD IS THE AUTHOR OF ALL GOOD.

1. We are to rejoice under the cross, 2 to ask patience of God, 3 and in our trials not to impute our weakness, or sin, unto him, 4 but rather to hearken to the word, to meditate on it, and to do thereon. 5 Otherwise men may seem, but never be truly religious.

JAMES, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, 6 to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2. My brethren, count all joy, 7 when ye fall into divers temptations:

3. Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4. But let patience have its perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5. If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; 8 and it shall be given him.

6. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. 9 For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

7. For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8. A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways.

9. Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted:

10. But let the rich, in that he is made low: because “as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.”

11. For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12. “Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

13. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

14. But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15. Then, when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16. Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18. Of his own will he begat us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures.

19. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, 20 slow to speak, 21 slow to wrath:

20. For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21. Wherefore lay apart all filthiness, and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the ingrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

22. But ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, departing your own selves,

23. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24. For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25. But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

26. If any man among you seem to be religious, and brideth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man’s religion is vain.

27. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.
1 It is not agreeable to Christian profession to regard the rich, and to despise the poor brethren: 13 rather we are to be long-suffering, and merciful; 14 and not to boast of faith where no deeds are, 17 which is not a dead faith, 19 the faith of devils, 21 and not of Abraham, 23 and Rahab.

2 For if there come unto your assembly, a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment; 3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

4 Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts!

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen of this poor world "rich in faith, and heirs of [the] kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him? 6 But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment-seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, "Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

10 For whatsoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

11 For he that said, 'Do not commit adultery: said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by "the law of liberty. 13 For 'he shall have judgment without mercy that hath shewed no mercy; and 'mercy shall follow judgment.

14 'What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?

15 If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And 'one of you say unto him, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God; thou dost well: 'the devils also believe, and tremble. 20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead? 21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar? 22 || Seest thou 'how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled, which said, 'Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called 'the Friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.
CHAPTER IV.

1. We are to strive against covetousness, intemperance, pride, detraction, and rash judgment of others. 13 and not to be confident in the good success of worldly business, but mindful ever of the uncertainty of this life, to commit ourselves and all our affairs to God's providence.

FROM whence come wars and Struggles among you? 1 And not of your lusts that war in your members? 2 Ye lust and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3. Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.

4. Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God! 13 Whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

5. Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, 13 The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy? 2 But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, 13 God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7. Submit yourselves therefore to God, resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

8. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. 13 Cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purify your hearts, ye double-minded.

CHAPTER V.

9. Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10. Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11. Speak not evil one of another, brethren. If he speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12. There is one lawgiver, who is able to save, and to destroy: 13 Who art thou that judgest another?

13. Go to now, ye that say, To-day or to-morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy, and sell, and get gain:

14. Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. 13 It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15. For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.

16. But now ye rejoice in your possessions: 13 all such rejoicing is evil.

17. Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAPTER V.

1. Wicked rich men are to fear God's vengeance. 2 We ought to be patient in afflictions, after the example of the prophets, and Job. 7 To bear hardness, 8 to pray in adversity, to sing in prosperity: 9 to acknowledge mutually our several faults, to pray one for another, 10 and to reduce a straying brother to the truth.

2. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten.

3. Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. 4 Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

4. Behold, the hire of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth; and the cry of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth.

5. Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton: ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6. Ye have condemned and killed the just: and he doth not resist you.

7. Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the Exhortation to Patience, Etc.

I. Peter

The Epaphcy of Prayer.

A. D. c.e. 60.

1. Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia.

2. Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied.

3. Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

4. To an inheriutce incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you,

5. Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time.

6. Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season (if need be) ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

7. That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise, and honour, and glory, at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

8. Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable, and full of glory:

9. Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10. Of which salvation the prophets have inquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11. Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the

15. And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

16. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

17. Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.

18. And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19. Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him:

20. Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins.

Chapter 11.

Christ the Chief Corner-Stone.

Therefore, having purged our souls from dead works to serve the living God, are we ready to marry, in all things to please him, being fruitful in every good work, and growing in the knowledge of God.

For this cause we also, as unto the new born babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious:

To whom coming as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious.

Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner-stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

Unto you therefore which believe, he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner, whereunto also they were appointed.

Which in time past were not a people, but now are the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

Dearly beloved, I beseech you, as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul.

Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, though they speak against you as evil-doers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;

Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil-doers, and for the praise of them that do well.

For so is the will of God, that with well-doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.

17 Therefore honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

18 Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.
19 For this is "thank-worthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.
20 For "what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, shall ye take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is "acceptable with God.
21 For "even heretofore ye were called: because 'Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:
22 "Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:
23 "Who, when he was reviled, reviled not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously:
24 "Who is his own self bare his sins in his own body on the tree, "that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness:
b) by whose stripes ye were healed.
25 For ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

CHAPTER III.
1 He teacheth the duty of wives and husbands to each other, exhorting all men to marry and lose. 14 and to suffer persecution.

LIKEWISE, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives;
2 While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.
3 "Whose adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;
4 But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.
5 For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:
6 Even as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose 'daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.
7 Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, 'as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; 'that your prayers be not hindered.
8 Finally, 'be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another; 'love as brethren, 'be pitiful, be courteous.
9 'Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise, blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.
10 For 'be ye that will love life, and see good days, 'let them refrain their tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:
11 Let 'bechew evil, and do good; 'let them seek peace, and ensue it.
12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and 'his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord 'is against them that do evil.
13 'And who 'is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?
14 'But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye; and 'be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;
15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and 'be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, with meekness and 'fear:
16 'Having a good conscience; 'that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evil-doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.
17 For 'it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil-doing.
18 For Christ also hath 'once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, 'that he might bring us to God, being put to death 'in the flesh, but 'quickened by the Spirit;
19 By which also he went and 'preached unto the spirits in prison;
20 Which sometime were disobedient, 'when once the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while 'the ark was a preparing, 'wherein few, that is, eight souls, were saved by water.
21 'The like figure whereunto, even baptism, doth also now save us, (not the putting away of the flesh of the flesh, 'but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) 'by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:
22 Who is gone into heaven, and 'is on the right hand of God: 'angels, and authorities, and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAPTER IV.
1 He exhorteth them to cease from sin by the example of Christ, and the consideration of the general end that now approacheth: 22 and conduceth them against generation.

1 FORASMUCH then 'as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for 'he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin:
19. Wherefore, let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit the keeping of their souls to him in well-doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

CHAPTER V.

1. The elders which are among you I exhort, who are also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

2. Feed the flock of God |which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;

3. Neither as ||being lords over b God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.

4. And when he chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away,

5. Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility; for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

6. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7. Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.

8. Be sober, be vigilant: because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour,

9. Whom resist steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10. But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, set you free,

11. To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12. By Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have written briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.

13. The church that is at Babylon, elected together with you, saluteth you, and so doth Marcellus my son.

14. Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity. Peace be with you all that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.
THE SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

CHAPTER I.

1 Confirming them in hope of the inheritance of God’s grace, he exhorted them, by faith, and good works, to make their calling sure: wherefore he is careful to remember them, knowing that his death is at hand: 16 and warneth them to be constant in the faith of Christ, who is the true Son of God, by the eye-witnesses of the apostles beholding his majesty, and by the testimony of the Father, and the prophets.

2 ION] Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to whom that have obtained a like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:

2 Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, *through the knowledge of him that hath called us ||to glory and virtue:

4 Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises; that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 And besides this, giving all diligence, add to your faith, virtue; and to virtue, knowledge;

6 And to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, god-liness;

7 And to godliness, brotherly kindness; and
  ||to brotherly kindness, charity.

8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be "Harren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 But that he lacketh these things *is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was *purged from his old sins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give di-ligece *to make your calling and election sure:
  for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore ||I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, *though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, *as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance;
sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;
5 And spared not the old world, but saved "Noah the eighth person," a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;
6 And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemned them with an overthrow, "making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;"
7 And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:
8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds:)
9 "The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished;
10 But chiefly they that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government. "Presumptuous are they, self-willed: they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.
11 Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.
12 But these, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption;
13 And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that counted it pleasure to riot in the day-time, "Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while they feast with you;
14 Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: a heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:
15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;
16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass, speaking with man's voice, forbad the madness of the prophet.
17 "These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.
18 For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error.
19 While they promise them liberty, they themselves are "the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.
20 For "it after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.
21 For "it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.
22 But it is happened unto them according to the true prophecy, 'The dog is turned to his own vomit again: and, the sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER III.

They are"He assured them of the certainty of Christ's coming to judgment, against those scorners who despise against it: 8 warning the godly, for the long patience of God, to having their repentance. 10 He denounces also the manner how the world shall be destroyed, 11 exhorting them, from the expectation thereof, to all holiness of life. 13 and again, to think of the patience of God to their salvation, as Paul wrote to them in his epistles.

This second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:
2 That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:
3 "Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,
4 And saying, 'Where is the promise of his coming?' for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.
5 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:
6 Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished;
7 But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.
8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.
9 "The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness: but is long-suffering toward us, lest any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.
10 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be, in all holy conversation and godliness, 12 Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat!

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

15 And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you;

16 As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their destruction.

17 Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness.

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISODE OF JOHN.

CHAPTER I.

1 He describes the person of Christ, in whom we have eternal life, by a communion with God: which is to testify the truth of that our communion and profession of faith, and also to assure us of the forgiveness of our sins by Christ's death.

2 Which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life;

3 That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4 And these things we write unto you, that your joy may be full.

5 This is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that "God is light, and in him is no darkness at all."

6 If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:

7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER II.

1 He comforteth them against the sins of infirmity. 3 Rightly to know God is to keep his commandments, 9 to love our brethren, 15 and not to love the world. 18 We must beware of seducers: 20 from whom decrees the godly are safe, preserved by perseverance in faith, and holiness of life.

2 And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But whosoever keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby we know that we are in him.
of loving the brethren.

CHAPTER III.

GOD’S SINGULAR LOVE TOWARD US.

1 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

2 Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

3 Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: but he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.

4 Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

5 And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

6 These things have I written unto you concerning them that seduce you.

7 But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in [him].

8 And now, little children, abide in him; that when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and be not ashamed before him at his coming.

9 If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAPTER III.

1 He declareth the singular love of God toward us, in making us his sons: I who therefore ought obediently to keep his commandments, as also brotherly to love one another.

2 Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and [it doth not yet appear what we shall be]: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law; for sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

8 He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.
9. Whosoever is born of God doeth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10. In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whomsoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

11. For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.

12. Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherewith might he slay him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13. Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

14. We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.

15. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16. Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he lay down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17. But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?

18. My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth.

19. And hereby we know that we are the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.

20. For if our heart condemn us, we are greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence toward God.

22. And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23. And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us to do.

CHAPTER IV.

1. He that keepeth his commandments, dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

I. JOHN.

BELOVED, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God:

3. And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: And this is the Spirit of antichrist, wherof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

4. Ye are of God, little children, and have overcometh them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

5. They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6. We are of God. He that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7. Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

8. He that loveth not, knoweth not God; for God is love.

9. In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only-begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

10. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

11. Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12. No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.

13. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14. And we have seen and do testify, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15. Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16. And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love: and he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17. Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.

18. There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth, is not made perfect in love.

19 We love him, because he first loved us.

20 If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar. For he that loveth not his brother, whom he hath seen, how can he love God, whom he hath not seen?

21 And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God, love his brother also.

CHAPTER V.

1 He that loveth God loveth his children, and keepeth his commandments: 2 which is the beginning of our love. 3 We love him, because he first loved us.

4 By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

5 For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.

6 For whatsoever is born of God, overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

7 Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

8 This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ: not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

9 If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God which he hath testified of his Son.

10 He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God, hath made him a liar, because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

11 And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life: and this life is in his Son.

12 He that hath the Son hath life: and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.

13 These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us.

15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. "There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it.

17 All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not unto death.

18 We know that whosoever is born of God, sinneth not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.

20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true; and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life.

21 Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.
THE SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN

1 He exhorted a certain honoured matron, with her children, to persevere in Christian love and belief; and they love the reward of their former profession: 10 and to have nothing to do with these seducers that bring not the true doctrine of Christ Jesus.

1 THE elder unto the elect lady, and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth;

2 For the truth's sake which dwell in thee, and shall be with us for ever.

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 I rejoiced greatly, that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another.

6 And this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That, as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.

7 For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver, and an antichrist.

8 Look to yourselves, that ye lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

9 Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If there come any unto you, bringing not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed:

11 For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his evil deeds.

12 Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full.

13 The children of thy elect sister greet thee. Amen.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN

He commendeth Gains for his privity, and hospitality: 7 to true preachers; 9 complaining of the unkind dealing of animadvertent Diotrephes on the contrary side, 11 whose evil example is not to be followed: 12 and giveth special testimony to the good report of Demetrius.

1 THE elder unto the well-beloved Gains, whom I love in truth.

2 Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3 For I rejoiced greatly, when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.

4 I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth.

5 Beloved, thou dost faithfully whatsoever thou dost to the brethren, and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7 Because that for his name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellow-helperers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the pre-eminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddest them that would, and casteth them out of the church.

11 Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God; but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself; yea, and we also bear record; and ye know that our record is true.

13 I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee:

14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

1 THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF J U D E.

He exhorted them to be in the profession of the faith. False teachers are set to seduce them: for whom damnable heresies have gott, whom he also交付 God, that they may receive due reward of their error. We must not only be faithful in our profession of faith, but must also be watchful for the correction of others, that they may not be seduced from the truth.

J U D E, the servant of Jesus Christ, and of the brethren, and of the apostles, and of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ, and called:

2 Mercy unto you, and peace, be multiplied.

3 Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

4 For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not that he believed that.

6 And he kept not his first estate, but left their own habitation, the hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day.

7 Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

8 Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities.

9 Yet Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil, he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

10 But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11 Wo unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.

12 These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds: trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots:

13 Raging waves of the sea, fetching out their own shame: wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.

14 And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints, 15 To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts: and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage.

17 But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ:

18 How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.

19 These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit.
CHAPTER I.

1 John writeth his revelation to the seven churches of Asia, signified by the seven golden candlesticks. 1 The evening of Christ. "The glorious power and majesty of the Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John: 2 Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw. 3 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand. 4 O N H X to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne: 5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful Witness, and the First-begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood, 6 And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father: to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen. 7 Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen.

8 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty. 9 I John, who also am thy brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet, 11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea. 12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks; 13 And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle. 14 His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire; 15 And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters. 16 And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength. 17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last: 18 I am he that liveth, and was dead; and behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death. 19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter:
CHAP. II.

What is commanded to be written to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Ephesus, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Smyrna, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Pergamos, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Thyatira, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Sardis, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Philadelphia, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Laodicea, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Colosse, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Philippi, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Thessalonica, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Corinth, and to the angel that is the overseer of the church at Rome.

TO THE ANGEL OF THE CHURCH IN EPHESUS.

1. I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou hast suffered persecution, and art not weary in the work of our Lord. 2. And I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 3. And hast known, and hast reformed, and hast done well; yet have I a few things against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 4. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. 5. And hast known, and hast reformed, and hast done well; yet have I a few things against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 6. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. 7. And so hast thou, and hast known, and hast reformed, and hast done well; yet have I a few things against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 8. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. 9. And hast known, and hast reformed, and hast done well; yet have I a few things against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 10. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. 11. And hast known, and hast reformed, and hast done well; yet have I a few things against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 12. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. 13. And hast known, and hast reformed, and hast done well; yet have I a few things against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 14. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. 15. And hast known, and hast reformed, and hast done well; yet have I a few things against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 16. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. 17. And hast known, and hast reformed, and hast done well; yet have I a few things against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 18. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. 19. And hast known, and hast reformed, and hast done well; yet have I a few things against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. 20. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.
CHAP. III.

1 And unto the angel of the church in Sardis; These things say he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars: I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

2 Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come upon thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4 Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things say he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth:

8 I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie: behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11 Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

12 Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

13 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14 And unto the angel of the church in Laodicea write; These things say the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God:

15 I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then, because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spew thee out of my mouth.

17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing: and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked:

18 I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness doth not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

19 As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

20 Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

22 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER IV.

2 John seeth the throne of God in heaven: 4 The four and twenty elders. 6 The four beasts fall full of eyes before and behind. 10 The elders lay down their crowns, and worship him that sat on the throne.

4 Fter this I looked, and behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me: which said, 6 Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.

2 And immediately I was in the Spirit: and behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.

3 And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne in sight like unto an emerald.

4 And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment; and they had on their heads crowns of gold.
And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thunderings, and voices. And there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are "the seven Spirits of God.

And before the throne there was a sea of glass like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts full of eyes before and behind.

And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within: and they rest not day and night, saying, "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

And when those beasts give glory, and honour, and thanks to him that sitteth on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever.

And the four and twenty elders fell down before him that sitteth on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying, "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the back side, sealed with seven seals.

And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.

And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open the book, and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them *harps, and golden vials full of fragours, which are the prayers of saints.

And they sung a new song, saying, "Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation:

And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign upon the earth.

And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne, and the beasts, and the elders: and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands:

Saying with a loud voice, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, "Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, be unto him, that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb, for ever and ever.

And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

The opening of the seals in order, and what followed thereupon, containing a prophecy to the end of the world. Exod. 14.

And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts saying, "Come and see.

And I saw, and behold, a white horse: and he that sat on him had a bow: and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, "Come and see.

And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, "Come and see. And I beheld, and lo, a black horse: and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.
6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, 111 A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 "And I looked, and behold, a pale horse; and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him. And power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, "How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?"

11 And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow-servants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo, there was a great earthquake: and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood:

13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig-tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.

14 And the heaven departed as a roll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bond-man, and every free-man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains:

16 And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that siteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

CHAPTER VII.

3 An angel saith the servants of God in their foreheads. 4 The number of them that were sealed; of the tribes of Israel a certain number. 9 Of all other nations an innumerable multitude, which stand before the throne, clad in white robes, and palms in their hands. 14 Then robes were washed in the blood of the Lamb.
ND after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, "holding the four winds of the earth, "that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God; and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, "Hurt not the earth, nor the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads."

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed a hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Judah were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Naphtali were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands;

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, "Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb."

11 And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God.

12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them.

16 "They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more: neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

17 For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters; and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 At the opening of the seventh seal, seven angels had seven trumpets given them. 2 Four of them sound their trumpets, and great thunders follow. 3 Another angel poptgroup incense to the prayers of the saints on the golden altar.

4 And when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; and to them were given seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth; and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and it was a great mountain burning with fire cast into the sea; and the third part of the sea became blood

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters:
11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shine not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Wo, wo, wo, to the inhabitants of the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound!

CHAPTER IX.

1 At the sound of the fifth angel, a star fell from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit; and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke Locusts upon the earth; and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

4 And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months; and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6 And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 And the shapes of the Locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold; and their faces were as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of lions.

9 And they had breast-plates, as it were breast-plates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails; and their power was to hurt men five months.

11 And they had a king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name Apollyon.

12 One wo is past; and behold, there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God.

14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared three hours before the great day of God to smite the earth.

16 And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand; and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and they are prepared unto battle:

18 And the four and twenty elders fell on their faces before the living creatures, and worshiped.

19 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

20 Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER X.

1 A mighty strong angel appeared with a book open in his hand.

2 He was clothed with a cloud; and there was a rainbow upon his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire:

3 And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot upon the earth.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, ‘Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea, and upon the earth, lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 And said unto him that lifeth for ever and ever, ‘Who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer:

7 But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God shall be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

8 And the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, ‘Go, and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea, and upon the earth.’

9 And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, ‘Give me the little book.’ And he said unto me, ‘Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.’

10 And I took the little book out of the angel’s hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, ‘Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.’

CHAPTER XI.

3 The two witnesses prophesy. 4 They have power to shut heaven, that it rain not. 5 The beast shall fight against them, and kill them. 8 They be unharmed, and after three days and a half rise again. 11 The second woe is past. 13 The seventh trumpet sounds.

15 And the seventh angel sounded: and there were great voices in heaven, saying, ‘The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever.’

16 And the fourth and twenty elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God.

17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, who art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldst destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

CHAPTER XII.

And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she, being with child, cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold, a great red dragon having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5 And she brought forth a man-child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron:

6 And her child was caught up into God, and to his throne.

7 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them;

14 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man-child.

15 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she was nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

16 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood, after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

17 And the earth helped the woman; and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

18 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rising up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.

2 And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him power, and his seat, and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed; and all the world wondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

9 If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: and he that killeth with the sword, must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth, and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven upon the earth in the sight of men.

14 And deceiveth them that dwell upon the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell upon the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live.

15 And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 The Lamb stood on Mount Sion with his companions. 6 An angel preacheth the gospel. 12 Christ declared on Mount Sion. 13 The harvest of the world; and putting on of the sickle. 20 The vintage and wine-press of the wrath of God.

13 And I looked, and lo, a Lamb stood on the Mount Sion, and with him a hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father’s name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder; and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps:

3 And they sang as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts.
and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women: \( ^b \) for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These \( ^b \) were redeemed from among men, being the first-fruits unto God and to the Lamb.

5 And \( ^a \) in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel flying in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, \( ^a \) and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voice, \( \text{"Fear God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.} \) And there followed another angel, saying, \( \text{"Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.} \) And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, \( \text{"If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,} \) The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 And \( \text{"the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.} \) Here is the patience of the saints: \( \text{"there are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.} \) And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, \( \text{"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord} \) from henceforth. Yea, saith the Spirit, \( \text{that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.} \)

14 And I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat \( ^a \) like unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, \( \text{"Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest of the earth is ripe.} \)

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, and he also having a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, \( \text{"which had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying,} \) "Thrust in thy sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into \( ^a \) the great wine-press of the wrath of God.

20 And \( \text{"the wine-press was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the wine-press,} \) even unto the horse-bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The seven angels with the seven last plagues. 2 The song of them that overcome the beast. 7 The seven vials full of the wrath of God.

ND \( \text{I saw another sign in heaven,} \) great and marvellous, \( \text{seven angels having the seven last plagues:} \) for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were \( \text{"a sea of} \) glass mingled with fire; and they that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

3 And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, \( \text{"Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty;} \) just and true are thy ways, thou King of \( \text{\"faith.} \)

4 \( \text{Who shall not fear thee, O Lord,} \) and glorify thy name? for \( \text{\"thou only art holy:} \) for \( \text{\"all nations shall come and worship before thee;} \) for thy judgments are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and behold, \( \text{the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:} \) And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, \( \text{clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.} \) And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, \( \text{\"who liveth for ever and ever.} \)

8 And \( \text{\"the temple was filled with smoke} \)
CHAPTER XVI.

And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying, "And the seven angels which had the seven vials came forth, and poured the seven plagues of God upon the earth."

And I saw the angel open the cistern, and pour out the water of the earth; and there fell a grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea; and it became as the blood of a dead man; and every living soul died in the sea.

And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters; and they became blood.

And I heard the angel of the waters say, "Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus."

For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink: for they are worthy.

And I heard another out of the altar say, "Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments."

And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun; and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, who had power over these plagues: and they repented not that they had built the city of God.

And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast; and his kingdom was full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain.

And he blasphemed the name of God, because of their pains and sores, and repented not of their deeds.

And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates; and there was dried up the water thereof, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.

And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, "It is done.

And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell; and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the fierceness of his wrath.

And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent; and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAPTER XVII.

And there came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither: I will shew unto thee the judgment of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters.

And with whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication.

And upon her forehead was a name...
written, 'MYSTERY, BABYLON *THE GREAT, *THE MOTHER OF ||HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw *the woman drunken *with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of *the martyrs of Jesus; and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8 The beast that thou sawest, was, and is not; and *shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and *go into perdition: and they that dwelt on the earth *shall wonder, (whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world,) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And *here is the mind which hath wisdom. *The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and *the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12 And *the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet: but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14 *These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them; *for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings; and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, *The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, *are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, *these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and *burn her with fire.

17 *For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, *until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest is that great city, *which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 And after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was troubled with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, *Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and *is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and *a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3 For all nations *have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, *and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, *Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5 For her sins have reached unto heaven, and *God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 *Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: *in the cup which she hath filled, *fill to her double.

7 How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, *I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and *she shall be utterly burned with fire: *for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.

9 And *the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, *shall bewail her, and lament for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning.

10 Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, *Alas, alas! that great city Babylon, that mighty city! *for in one hour is thy judgment come.

11 And *the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more:

12 *The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble, 13 And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and...

sheep, and horses, and chariots, and \|slaves, and \|souls of men.
  14 And the fruits that thy soul lusted after are departed from thee, and all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at all.
  15 "The merchants of these things which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off, for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing.
  16 And saying, Alas, alas! that great city, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!
  17 "For in one hour so great riches is come to naught. And every ship-master, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off.
  18 "And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, 'What city is like unto this great city!'
  19 And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas! that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate.
  20 "Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for God hath avenged you on her.
  21 And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great mill-stone, and cast it into the sea, saying, "Thus with violence shall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all.
  22 "And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a mill-stone shall be heard no more at all in thee;
  23 "And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee; for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.
  24 And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 God is praised in heaven for avenging the great whore, and avenging the blood of his saints. 7 The marriage of the Lamb. 10 The angel will not be worshiped. 17 The bowls called to the great slaughter.

ND after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia: Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:
  2 For true and righteous are his judgments; for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and "hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.
3 And again they said, Alleluia. And "her smoke rose up for ever and ever.
4 And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, "Amen; Alleluia.
5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, "Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.
6 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.
7 Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for "the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.
8 And "to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for "the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.
9 And he saith unto me, Write, "Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, "These are the true sayings of God.
10 And "I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, "See that do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.
11 "And I saw heaven opened, and behold, "a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called "Faithful and True, and "in righteousness he doth judge and make war.
12 "His eyes were as a flame of fire, and "on his head were many crowns: and "he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself.
13 "And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called "The Word of God.
14 "And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.
15 And "out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and "he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and "he treadeth the wine-press of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.
16 And "he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, "KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.
17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying "to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, "Come, and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God;
18 "That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.
19 "And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.
20 "And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and "them that worshipped his image. "These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.
21 And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which "were proceeded out of his mouth: "and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

CHAPTER XX.

2 Satan bound for a thousand years. 6 The first resurrection: they blessed that have part therein. 7 Satan let loose again. 8 God and his angels. 9 And Magog. 10 The devil cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 12 The last and general resurrection.

1 AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, "having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.
2 And he laid hold on "the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years.
3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and "set a seal upon him, "that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.
4 And I saw "thrones, and they sat upon them, and "judgment was given unto them: and "I saw "the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and "which had not worshipped the beast, "neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands: and they lived, and "reigned with Christ a thousand years.
5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This "is the first resurrection.
6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such "the second death hath no power, but they shall be "priests of God and of Christ, "and shall reign with him a thousand years.
7 And when the thousand years are expired, "Satan shall be loosed out of his prison.
8 And shall go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth,
CHAPTER XXI.

1 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: and the former heaven and the former earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And he that was seated throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 And the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came unto me one of the seven angels, which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife.

10 And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God.

11 Having the glory of God; and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper-stone, clear as crystal.

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel.

13 On the east, three gates; on the north, three gates; on the south, three gates; and on the west, three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, a hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx: the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolyte: the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacint; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl; and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 'And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.

23 'And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 'And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 'And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 'And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 'And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie; but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The river of the water of life. 2 The tree of life. 5 The light of the city of God is itself. 9 The angel will not be worshipped.

19 Nothing may be added to the word of God, nor taken from it.

And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2 In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

3 And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him:

4 And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 'And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun, for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, 'These sayings are faithful and true. And the Lord God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 'Behold, I come quickly: blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.

9 Then saith he unto me, 'See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 'And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.

11 'He that is unrighteous, let him be unrighteous still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 'And behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.

13 'I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 'Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For 'without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 'I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. 'I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.

17 And the Spirit and 'the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. 'And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, 'If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, 'God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of 'the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these sayings saith, 'Surely I come quickly: 'Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

21 'The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. 'Amen.

PERIOD VII

FROM THE BEGINNING OF THE BABYLONISH CAPTIVITY TO THE BIRTH OF CHRIST, 587 B.C.

The Babylonian Captivity.

The Captivity begins 586 B.C. and ends 520 B.C.

The Babylonian Captivity was a period of 67 years. In that time many important events took place. The most notable was the fall of Babylon, the center of the world's dominion.

The Captivity was a time of great suffering and oppression. The Jews were held captive in Babylon for many years. But in the meantime, they were able to hold on to their faith and to continue their religious observances.

The Captivity ended with the return of the Jews to their homeland, after 70 years of captivity. This event is known as the Return from the Captivity.

The Captivity is an important period in the history of the Jews, as it marked the end of the Old Testament period and the beginning of the New Testament period.

This table provides a chronological index to the events described in the document.
The text contains a historical chronology, listing events and dates in a narrative form, possibly from a historical text. The text is too fragmented and contains various dates, names, and events that are typical of historical chronicles. Due to the nature of the text, it is challenging to transcribe accurately without context from adjacent pages or a full view of the document. It would require a careful reading and understanding of the historical context to provide a coherent representation of the text.
